Shamrocks Scored Eight Runs In Ninth Innings

Defeated Stratheonas by 11 Runs to 2--Both Pitchers Did Excellent Work—Fair Sized Audience Witness the Contest--Athletics Could Not Get a Team Together.

Before a fair-sized holiday crowd at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon the Shamrocks easily defeated the Strathconas by 11 runs to 2. The game was a good exhibition of ball, barring the sixth and ninth innings, when the red and white aggregation took a balloon ascension and the Irishmen netted eight of their eleven runs.

The Shamrocks were to have played the Athletics for the city championship, but the latter team, after agreeing to play had to back down as they could not get a team together, so, rather than disappoint the public the Shamrocks got part of the Strathcona team and a few outsiders together, and played a game.

Joseph Picard, who handled the indicator is a worthy successor to "Silk" O'Loughlin. Joe made his debut as an arbitrator and he made a hit with the crowd.

No Intermediate Rugby Team

Many of Last Year's Team Will Not be Able to Play.

The junior rugbyists held their initial practise on Saturday afternoon on Riverside Park and had a fair workout. Many of the old points of the game have not yet been forgotten and with a few more practises they will be in pretty good shape.

It looks as if many of the prominent members of last year's Intermediate team will not don uniform this season. A number of them watched the workout on Saturday from the side lines and upon enquiry why they were not in the game the Examiner was informed and those who worked in Canadian General were not allowed to trade their work this year. If they did so, it would be under penalty of losing their jobs.

With the loss of the players who work there Peterborough would be entirely unable to put a senior or even an intermediate team in the field. It therefore appears that a junior team is the best the city can provide for 1906.

Deer Was Seen At Stony Lake

Evidently Had Been Chased Into The Water.

A deer is a very unusual visitor at Stony Lake in the summer, but the spectacle of one swimming across the lake near Young's Bay last Friday naturally caused some excitement. Dogs were heard running in the woods, and presently a large buck was seen to emerge from the trees a few hundred yards from Mr. R. J. Winch's cottage, on the Burleigh shore, and plunge into the lake, across which he swam to the Dummer shore.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that it's position does not exactly correspond with the other.

How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches and require Glasses, that your Glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 ROGERS BROS. TRADE MARK

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, September 4.—Developments over the holiday were not of great importance outside of the sale of the Penna., Baltimore & Ohio, and Norfolk & Western, but the second-named stock was the feature of the market, and it was reported that new and favourable developments in this connection might be expected. The market was irregular after opening high, with St. Paul the feature on the near approach of the Harriman-St. Paul deal announcement, as profit-taking was said to be quite general, and the dealings were much mixed. The public is trading in and out of the market, while the professionals on and off the floor are inclined to sell short for a turn. Call money ran up to 30 per cent. in the last hour and the market sold off with Smelters in the lead on the down grade. The close was very active, and quite weak near the low of the day.

OBITUARY NOTICE.

EDGAR JAMES BROWN.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Park street, will extend to them sincere sympathy in the death of their infant son, Edgar James Brown, who died on Sunday, aged three months. The funeral took place yesterday to the Little Lake cemetery.

FRANK HAROLD PATON.

One of Lindsay's most respected young men passed away last Friday evening in the person of Frank Harold Paton. The late Mr. Paton had many friends in Peterborough as well as a number of relatives, being a nephew of Mr. Peter Glover, East City. Among the Peterborough people who were present at the funeral yesterday were Miss Mona Cavanah and Mr. W. J. Green and Mr. R. M. Glover.

The Lindsay Post in referring to the deceased says:—

The angel of death has again visited our midst—this time to summon one of Lindsay's most popular and highly respected young men.

In the month of October last Mr. Frank Harold Paton, third son of Mr. A. M. Paton, uptown agent of the G. T. R., left to seek his fortune in the Canadian West, and took up his occupation with the National Trusts Company in Winnipeg. In this position he proved successful, but later on for health considerations, he decided to take up work with a construction gang on the new G.T.P. This he did in May last. After six weeks spent woith the G.T.P. people Frank found it necessary to return to Winnipeg, and about two weeks ago he returned to Lindsay with health badly shattered by an attack of typhoid fever. He did not rally despite the best of care and expired last evening at 6.05 o'clock at the family residence, Mill street, southward. The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 3 p.m. to Riverside Cemetery.

As a young Lindsay citizen Frank Paton was widely known among old and young, and was a universal favourite—in school and out, in business or in social circles he was well thought of. Many Lindsay boys came to know Frank through his association with musical organizations—he was always a willing volunteer and his voice lent strength in the Lindsay Minstrels and other entertainments. He was a member of the Presbyterian church choir in this town, and also of the St. Andrew's church choir in Winnipeg.

In their sad bereavement the parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Paton, the two sisters and five brothers of the deceased, have the sincerest sympathy of a host of Lindsay citizens.

Dr. Johnston's Horses Both Win

Harry Direct and Hazel Belle the Best in Their Classes At Ottawa.

Dr. Johnston's both horses won out at Ottawa yesterday and were the admiration of the big crowd which gathered to see the races. The doctor returned home this morning and spending the day at the capital looking after his team.

Hazel Belle won the 2.35 pace in straight heats in a hot field of good horses while Harry Direct, the good little pony won the 2.17 class in straight heats. The track was heavy as it rained all the night before and the time was good at that, around 2.20 every heat. Hazel Belle was the admiration of the day as such mon as McLaren and other good judges were heard to say that she was a Grand Circuit Mare as she paced the first 1-8 in the first mile in 151-2 seconds from sixth position, capturing the pole at that distance and then refused to give it up until she had captured the race. There was great applause then for Dr. Johnston and his winning horse.

CHINA'S EVOLUTION.

Present Antiquated Laws Keeping Country Always In Trouble.

Pekin, Sept. 4.—The Emperor has issued an edict promising a constitutional government when the people are fitted for it. The edict says:

"Since the beginning of our dynasty there have been wise emperors who have made laws suited to the times. Now that China has intercourse with all nations our laws and political system have become antiquated and our country is always in trouble. Therefore it is necessary for us to gather more knowledge and draw up a new code of laws, otherwise we shall be unworthy of the trust of our forefathers and the people."

The edict cites the fact that traveling commissioners report that the cause of Chinese weakness is antagonism between the rulers and the ruled, and promises administrative and financial reforms. When these are accomplished and the people have been educated to understand their relations to the Government a constitution will be framed.

Yuanshikai, viceroy of the Province of Chili, and commander-in-chief of the forces, has been here for several days, participating in a conference regarding a constitution.

BONUS FROM MEXICO.

Monthly Passenger Service With Canada Now Assured.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 4.—Capt. Worsnop, who was sent by J. H. Green & Co. to Mexico to arrange if possible a Mexican subsidy for a direct monthly passenger and freight steamship service between Mexico and British Columbia ports on the Pacific, returned yesterday, reporting complete success in his negotiations with the Mexican Government.

Mexico has agreed to grant an even larger bonus than that proposed by Canada, and the new line will be inaugurated, with two 15-knot steamships, within 90 days.

Canada has passed a $100,000 per annum subsidy, conditional upon equally liberal encouragement by Mexico.

CONSERVATIVE PICNIC.

Mr. R. L. Borden Addresses Meeting At Sydney Mines, C. B.

Halifax, Sept. 4.—At the Conservative picnic and sports at Sydney Mines yesterday about four thousand persons were present. Less than twelve hundred listened to the speeches. Mr. R. L. Borden spoke for over an hour, making attacks on the alleged Arctic scandal and criticizing generally the maintenance of ice-breaking steamers and Government cruisers. He also spoke at some length on the alleged election frauds, and alluded in passing to the unseating of Mr. Fielding in Queen's-Shelburne.

Owing to the rain Mr. C. E. Tanner's speech and those of the local party leaders were but brief, most of the audience leaving the grounds before the program was finished.

For Revenge on Half-Brother.

Port Hope, Sept. 4.—Revenge taken on a half-brother for a wrong—real or fancied—of twenty-five years ago, has placed William Lee of Hope Township in the county jail here on a charge of arson—the result of a two days' enquiry into the circumstances surrounding the burning of the two barns of Alfred Harness of Clarke Township. In the early morning of Aug. 19, one of the barns was destroyed, and three nights later another, which was on a portion of the farm which Harness has leased to another farmer. The total damage done was about $3,000.

Banker Fugitive Captured.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A special cablegram to The Tribune announces that Paul C. Stensland, president of the Milwaukee avenue State Bank, was captured yesterday in Tangier. Stensland was arrested at 3 o'clock yesterday morning in the English postoffice at Tangier. He agreed to return peaceably. Stensland is traveling under the alias of P. Olsen of Norway. Stensland fled from Chicago July 13, went direct to New York and sailed on the White Star steamer for Liverpool two days later. From Liverpool he took the P. & O. boat for Tangier.

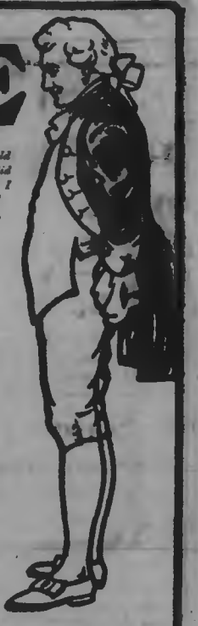
RED ROSE TEA

"What would the world do without tea? How did it exist? I am glad I was not born before tea."
—Sydney Smith.



"IS GOOD TEA"

I wish you could pay a visit to the Red Rose Tea warehouse—the largest in Canada—and see for yourself the great skill and care that is given to the blending and packing of this famous Tea. The testing room and the packing room (where automatic electric machines, which seem almost human, are used) would interest you greatly.

If you ever visit St. John, it will be a pleasure to show you through; and after you see the care and cleanliness with which it is prepared, Red Rose Tea will taste even better than before.

The Blue Label is especially recommended.

The Quaker Excursion A Delight Of Labour Day

Over Two Hundred Accompanied the Team to Gore's Landing—Dinner and Sports at Jubilee Point—Quakers Won Their Game by 5 Goals to 1—Some Incidents of the Voyage.

The Quaker football team appear to be on just as friendly terms with the weather king as with the man who did the counting of the scores for them this season. Favoured with ideal atmospheric conditions after a day and night of cloud and rain, their excursion to the beautiful southern summer resorts yesterday was one of the most successful of the year. This coupled with the facts that they won their game and caused everyone on board to enjoy the outing made it trebly an agreeable one.

The steamer Water Lily carried the excursionists down the river making a record trip. She left the locks bridge at 9 o'clock and arrived in port at Jubilee Point at 11.30. Captain White and his amiable crew received many compliments for their kindness to the passengers on board and they certainly fulfilled their part of the arrangements excellently.

Dancing on board the palace scow which accompanied the steamer formed an important employment for a great many of the company both on the downward and upward voyage. The music provided was in charge of Mr. Kane, violinist and for dancing could not be improved on.

At Jubilee Point a few hours were spent where many had the pleasure of the hospitality of Mr. Gilman and also of testing the quality of his excellent larder. Here also a brief preliminary football practice was held and the sports ran off.

Result of Sports.

Boys' race, 12 and under—1, Willie Davidson; 2, Percy Dunford.

The Football Game.

The sports concluded, the boat sailed for Gore's Landing where the chief attraction was the football game. Unfortunately the Plainville team which was to have been present did not arrive and through the kindness of Mr. McCullough an exhibition match was arranged between the Quaker eleven and fifteen players from Rice Lake and neighbourhood. Although the religious men of Midland league fame, have not had a game since they trimmed Bridgenorth at Lakefield they got off some hot stunts which bewildered their more numerous opponents and won the match by 5 goals to one. It was a foregone conclusion they would win, and generously allowed their opponents the favourable wind throughout. There is no doubt, however, that if the Plainville aggregation had been there the score would certainly have been lower. McFadden was in his old spot in goal and didn't have a great deal to do. The one that got through was a long shot from Buttery, upon which the strong wind had a big effect. Parnell and Donaldson at back rested most of the time, but the halves and forwards were not allowed very much of a breathing space. The whole defence put up a good exhibition of football and one that would have made Cincinnati look like 30 cents again. On the forward line the wings had a combination so fine that it was almost impossible to intercept. Boycott scored one goal, Armstrong and Crough each one and Huston two of the five. Passes from Baker were responsible for a couple. Captain Fitzgerald, Best and Archibald played phenomenal games and gave the forwards all they could attend to. "Jack" Sullivan the secretary of the Midland League refereed the game so that no disputes arose. (The Quaker football team wish to thank Mr. McCullough for the use of his football.)

The homeward voyage in the moonlight was perhaps the most enjoyable part of a day filled with many enjoyments which went to make the Quaker excursion of 1906 another on the list of the successful ones.

Great Tennis Day At The Nicholls Oval

St. John's A. Y. P. A. Club in Tournament--Gentleman's Championship Won by Mr. Chas Reid--Mixed Doubles Captured by Miss Maude Roberts and Mr. Charles Reid--A Very Successful Event.

Yesterday at Nicholls Oval a most successful tennis tournament and tea was held by the members of St. John's A.Y.P.A. Tennis Club. It had been announced that three competitions would be run off, comprising gentlemen's singles, mixed doubles, and ladies' singles and there was considerable speculation as to the outcome as nearly all the members were playing their first year at tennis and were apparently pretty evenly matched.

There was an awkward high wind all day but other conditions were favourable and the courts were in good condition, and at 10.30 a. m. the first draw was made for the gentlemen's singles with five entries. The conditions were best two sets out of three, and Mr. R. J. Devey drew against Matt. Drysdale and C. H. Reid paired with Beverley Ducett, John Hogan getting the bye.

The players started in with plenty of snap and for a while there was lively playing. Reid succeeded in winning the first two sets from Ducett by the scores of 6-3, 6-3, though he was given a good chase for the both sets, the games invariable standing at duece.

Devey and Drysdale had a much closer contest, however, the first going to Drysdale by 6-3, and the second to Devey by 6-1. Drysdale then brushed up and broke away with a run of several games and before his opponent could steady down to good tennis the play went to Drysdale by 6-2.

Reid and Drysdale began immediately on the second round and both players seemed to be in good form, but Drysdale's heavy game with Devey was beginning to tell and Reid got away with the first two sets by 6-1 and 6-3.

The players then went to luncheon and immediately after dinner Hogan and Reid played off in two short sets, both going to Reid. Scores were 6-1, 6-0.

Mixed Doubles.

The draw for the mixed doubles took place just after dinner and at precisely three o'clock the first round began and waged strenuously all afternoon, only to be finally decided after tea. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Devey were matched to play Matt. Drysdale and Miss Lottie Whitcroft; Mr. B. Ducett and Miss P. Smith were paired with John Hogan and Miss L. Wallace. Chas. Reid and Miss Maude Roberts drew a bye on this round.

Mr. and Mrs. Devey won from their opponents by 9-7 and 6-2, while Ducett and Miss Smith got away with the first two sets like this:—6-0, 6-1.

Mr. and Mrs. Devey were granted the bye in the semi-finals and Ducett and Smith were pitted against Reid and Miss Roberts. The play was good throughout, but the first two sets were won by Reid and Miss Roberts by placing, Scores 6-1, 6-4.

Immediately the final was begun with Mr. and Mrs. Devey freshened up after a good rest during the bye and which counted in the first set against Reid and Miss Roberts, the score being 6-2. With a change of sides and the wind gone down the four contestants began again after a brief intermission for tea. The next set went to Reid and his partner by 6-3.

With one set each they began again only to bring the score to games all after several deuce games. Interest was increasing and everybody playing a good finish. Vantage game went to Reid on his own serve and with Mrs. Devey serving and the score at deuce Reid succeeded in drawing down a sky-scraper which could not be returned, thus scoring vantage out. Serving from the right court and Reid striking out Mrs. Devey lammed one to the net and the championship rested on one stroke. With a strong sweep the ball was placed in the proper place but was lifted by Reid to Devey, who, after a series of hot, short passes with Reid and all players well in to the net, played the ball to Miss Roberts who by a masterly and clever stroke succeeded in placing the ball in the extreme outer court, thus winning the point, game, set and championship of the mixed doubles. Scorte 7-5.

Ladies' Singles.

The draw for the ladies' singles took place immediately after tea and was played in sudden death sets. There were eight entries and the most interesting and exciting games were played between Miss Florence Drury and Miss P. Smith, resulting eventually in a win for Miss Smith by 10-8. Mrs. Devey and Miss Roberts were again to face each other and after some clever play on both sides resulted in a win for Mrs. Devey by 7-5. Miss Ruth Dawson won from Miss L. Wallace by 7-5 and Miss B. Dawson from Miss L. Whitcroft by 6-4.

In the second round Miss B. Dawson defaulted to Mrs. Devey after losing the first two games. Miss P. Smith soon won from Miss R. Dawson by 6-0. Darkness put a stop to what was unanimously voted a most phenomenally successful day's games.

The final will be played between Mrs. Devey and Miss Smith at such time as shall be mutually agreed between the two contestants and shall be best two sets out of three.

The Tea.

The ladies had brought their baskets with them and during a brief cessation of play at about 6.30 a pleasant time was spent by the players, the defeated ones joining with true sportsmanlike good fellowship, together with a number of spectators who had gathered to see the games.

Possibly no other city in the world has two such opposite nicknames as Edinburgh. By some it is called the "Modern Athens," by others "Auld Reekie."

Dysentery

IS a form of diarrhœa, and consists of copious and frequent liquid discharges from the bowels, accompanied by painful straining sensations. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a specific for diarrhœa, dysentery, and all summer complaints, and has been a well-known remedy for 60 years. You are not taking a new and untried remedy when you use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

MRS. M. A. SUMMERFIELD, Canboro, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in my family for years, and have always found it a wonderful remedy for Diarrhœa and Dysentery. I know of a great many others who have used it with the most satisfactory results."

Children Face Many Dangers

The Work and Worry and Close Confinement of Their School Days and How They Can Be Safe-guarded

To thousands of boys and girls the confinement of the schoolroom and the duties imposed by their studies are a strain, a very serious strain. Many become broken in health by this strain and are physically weakened for life.

Give your boys and girls good, healthful, pure, strengthening food and you go far toward removing all dangers.

Malta-Vita, the crisp, delicious, whole wheat food, contains every food element necessary to the maintenance and upbuilding of the human body and mind—especially beneficial for children.

"Malta-Vita" is no meaningless coined word. It stands for its literal translation from the Latin and means exactly what it says, "Malt Life." The original phrase "For the blood is the life" is the starting point and final winning post of Malta-Vita, on account of its large percentage of maltose, or malt sugar, a natural sweetening agent, easily digestible and readily assimilated by the human economy, forming rich, healthy blood.

Malta-Vita is so good to eat—not at all like the tasteless variety of breakfast foods—that the whole family welcome its appearance on the table. And it's always ready to eat.

Anniversary Of Sunday School Celebrated

At Park Street Baptist Church Yesterday--Pastor Preached to Parents and Children--Two Young Men Leave to Enter Baptist Ministry--Were Presented With a Purse and Address.

The nineteenth anniversary of the Park Street Baptist Sunday School was celebrated on Sunday last, combined with flower Sunday. The pulpit and platform were tastefully decorated and the tables were loaded with bouquets. Rev. A. H. Brace preached to parents and children in the morning from the text "The young children asked bread and no man breaketh unto them."—Sam. 4:4.

1.—It was a serious state described and

2.—The responsibility located. No man breaketh unto them.

The children's need is a serious one because they were helpless and because the mind was an impression-blank waiting for ideas and thirdly because dependent on you for succor

Then the children's cry was peculiar:

Plaintive because there are little ones glancing about in my path in want of a friend and a guide. There are dear little eyes looking up into mine whose tears may be easily dried.

2.—It's an urgent cry.—Give them bread now or the opportunity is lost.

3.—It's the young children's cry, with an emphasis on the young.

The afternoon session was a very full programme. The services opened with an address to the pastor back from his vacation, from the deaconate on behalf of the church and school, and referred to the happy relations of pastor and people, and breathing an earnest spirit for united and aggressive work during fall and winter. The pastor made a suitable acknowledgement.

Miss M. Mann followed with a most interesting historical account of the school, which will appear in to-morrow's issue.

The most pleasing feature of the afternoon was an address and presentation to two young men who were to leave on the morning train for Woodstock College, to enter the Baptist ministry. Mr. A. Haddow and Mr. Roy Jackson were called to the platform when Deacon Gillespie read the following address and Miss Maud Everson presented a purse of $22:

Dear Brethren,

The time has arrived in the providence of God when we, as teachers and fellow labourers in the Master's vineyard, are called upon to say "good-bye" to you prior to your departure from our midst, as president and vice-president of our Baptist Young People's Union, teachers in our Sunday School and all departments of church work. You have endeavoured faithfully to perform the duties devolving upon you in the spirit of your Master.

Not only your time but your substance have been freely given to help the extend the Kingdom of your Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. We shall miss you and regret your departure from among us. Nevertheless, we rejoice as a church and Sunday school in the knowledge that henceforth your life is to be consecrated wholly to Him, who loved you and gave Himself for you. Our prayers will be that our Heavenly Father may richly bless you and keep you in the midst of your new surroundings, and after you are fully equipped for the calling you have chosen may the Holy Spirit use you in gathering many sheaves into the Master's granary. Then when life is ended here, the Master will say, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord. And now, dear brethren, as a slight token of our appreciation of the faithful service rendered, we ask you to accept this purse, not for its intrinsic value, but as a token of the esteem in which you are held by your many friends in the Park Street Baptist Church, Peterborough.

T. G. GILLESPIE.

Mr. Haddow, in responding, said that when he came to Toronto three years ago he had not a friend between Glasgow, Scotland, and Winnipeg, but he found some in the Park Street Baptist Church, and it was here that he received his first inspiration to enter into the work to the Lord.

Mr. Jackson followed, and said he had only been two years in the fellowship of the church, but the warm Christian atmosphere and the spiritual teaching had so influenced him that he was constrained to offer himself for larger work.

Miss Maud Everson here prayed most tenderly for God to bless the boys. There were many moist eyes from this point to the close of the hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Master Wilton Tranter sang a very sweet solo, and Mrs. J. Rome and Miss Edith Gillespie rendered a duet during the afternoon. The offerings were devoted to the Building Fund.

Terms of Lease on Which Northumberland Company Captured the Lease—Brighton Ratepayers Afraid They May Not Get Power.

The Globe.

The deputation from Brighton, which waited on the Hydro-Electric Power Commission a few days ago, with a request for electric power for Brighton, were indignant because the Northumberland-Durham Power Company, Limited, had been granted a lease of Healey Falls. The Brighton people seemed to think that the municipality's chances of procuring the wished-for power were not very bright, in view of the terms of the lease given to the Northumberland-Durham Power Company, and it is understood that they expressed themselves pretty strongly to the commissioners on the subject. They were told by Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the commission, to put in a formal application for power, and to try to get other municipalities in that section to join with them in applying.

In view of this visit of Brighton representatives it is interesting to note the terms on which the Northumberland Power Company has obtained the lease from the Government. The price to be charged by the company is not stated, but is left to be ultimately fixed by the Government, if the price cannot be agreed upon. The lease was given on July 13, 1905, for a term of twenty years, with an opportunity for a further lease of ten years, and a possibility of still further extension at the expiration of the thirty years. The lease is for three parcels of land, and land under water in the Trent River, in the township of Seymour, Northumberland county. Parcel No. 1, is part of lot 16, in the 11th concession of Seymour, and contains sixteen acres. Parcel No. 2 is land under the Trent River, and contains thirty-seven acres. Parcel No. 3, is a portion of lot 16, and contains five acres.

The lessees are to make yearly payment in advance, and are to pay $10 for each of the first two years and thereafter at the rate of 75c. per annum per horse-power developed by the company, but the rental for any year shall not be less than $2,250. If the lease is renewed for a further term of ten years, after twenty years the rental is to be equal to one dollar per annum per horse power; the rental any one year not to be less than $3,000. If the lessees fulfil the terms of the lease they may obtain a further renewal thereof for twenty years at terms to be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

The conditions and stipulations of the lease in brief, are as follows: The company shall develop and utilize and the water privileges for the generating of electricity to an extent not less than 3,000 horse power within ten years from the date of the granting of the lease, and shall begin the work necessary for the development in a substantial, bona-fide manner within four months.

The lessees shall use the power in operation of machinery, or some other commercial, mechanical or industrial purpose, or if such power so developed, shall not be required for such purpose by the lessees, they shall furnish to any person or persons or body corporate requiring such power, up to the amount of power hereby required to be developed, or such lesser quantity as shall be actually required or in demand, or if a greater quantity, and up to the amount of power developed, should it be shown to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council, that the water privilege is not developed and utilized to the full extent of its capacity by the lessees, and that a bona fide demand exists for power in the neighbourhood in excess of the quantity of power developed and utilized by the lessees, which might, in whole or in part, be supplied from the water privileges aforesaid, then the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may require the lessees to develop and render available for use the additional quantity of power shown to be undeveloped and capable of development by the construction of the necessary works within a period of time to be named by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. In default of compliance with the terms the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may order the lease cancelled.

If the lessees fail to agree on the rate or price to be paid for the same, or the terms and conditions on which it is to be supplied, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, on application made to him, shall have power to fix and determine the same, and any order in Council fixing such rate shall be final and conclusive and binding on all parties concerned.

The lessees may be required to produce their books, accounts, etc., for the purpose of ascertaining and fixing the price. For the purpose of ascertaining the quantity of power actually developed and capable of development a representative of the Government will have authority to enter on the lands and make an inspection and measurements, and the rents shall thereafter be paid at the rate of 75 cents per horse power per annum for the quantity of power developed, as determined by the calculations, and at the rate of $1 per horse power per annum, during the second period of ten years, and during any such subsequent term, at such rents as may be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ROBERT GRAHAM.

Widespread interest will be taken, and very general regret expressed at, the announcement of the death, at Lakefield, on Monday, September 3rd, of Jessie Menzies Graham, wife of Mr. Robert Graham, of Lakefield. The deceased has been ill only about a week. She was a native of Comrie, Perthshire, Scotland, where she was born in September, 1830. At the age of twenty-five she was united in marriage with Mr. Graham in 1855. The golden anniversary was celebrated in September, 1905, and immediately after Mrs. Graham went west to pay a visit to her daughter, in Carberry, Mrs. Huckle. Two years after their marriage they came to Canada, settling first at Keene, where they remained six months. Their next place of residence was the former village of Ashburnham, where they remained seven years. From there they removed to Lakefield, where they have spent 42 years. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Graham was blessed with five sons and two daughters. One of the sons is dead, and the surviving are Messrs. W. M., Robert and Charles, Lakefield; and James, superintendent of schools, at Pasadena, Cal. The daughter is Mrs. Huckle, of Carberry, Manitoba. All the surviving children, except James, were present at the bedside of Mrs. Graham. Mrs. Huckle arrived only two hours before her mother's death. The latter, however, was conscious and able to recognize and greet her daughter. The deceased lady also left a husband, and a brother, Mr. Thomas Menzies, of Oklahoma, formerly of Peterborough, and also a wide circle of relatives in Otonabee, and she will be held in loving remembrance by a large number of friends, whom her many excellent qualities of character had attracted during her half century's residence in this county. She was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church, and concerned herself actively with the promotion of its interests, being at the time of her death, president of the Woman's Missionary Society. Last year she was president of the Woman's branch of the Farmers' Institute.

The funeral takes place on Wednesday next from the family residence to the Lakefield cemetery. The service at the house will be at 1.30.

Brigade Sick Benefit Fund Has Been Formed

Mr. Lasalle's Efforts Result in $108. for the Brigade—Committee Appointed to Look After the Fund.

At a meeting of the Peterborough Fire Brigade held last night with Assistant Chief Jos. Metheral in the chair, Mr. C. B. Lasalle, who has been getting out a fire chart, gave a report of his work, and presented the brigade with $108 as the nucleus of a sick benefit fund. This was the result of his efforts after the expenses of printing and commission had been paid.

It was moved by Chief Rutherford seconded by A. Ringer, that the Peterborough Fire Brigade form a Firemen's Sick Relief Association in connection with the department, and that all funds received from Mr. Lasalle and from other parties who may favour us for this fund, shall be devoted to the fund alone and that the following officers be a committee to govern this fund :—The Assistant Chief and Secretary and Treasurer, with two elected members of the Brigade.—Carried.

It twas then moved by Chief Rutherford, seconded by W. B. Adamson, that the Brigade tender a vote of thanks to Mr. Lasalle for the work he has done for this Brigade.

Houdrey Sons Want To Retain Buildings

Asked City Council to Allow Them One Year to Dispose of Buildings on Dalhousie Street and Ten Years for Those on Water Street—Board of Works Will Solve the Problem.

At the last regular meeting of the City Council a bylaw was authorized to be prepared to have Dalhousie street extended east to the river and also to have Water street opened from Sherbrooke to Dalhousie within three months. In carrying out these changes it will be necessary that a large portion of Houdrey & Son's peastorage building be removed and an effort is being made to have the time extended for the opening of the above streets.

Last night at the council meeting Mr. O'Connell was present in the interests of the Company to place before the Aldermen the Company's requests.

Water street, Mr. O'Connell said, was given to the Bridge Works Company some time ago providing they utilized it for the purpose of manufacturing. At the time Houdrey & Son purchased the building they were given to understand their buildings would not be interfered with. A building worth about $10,000, half of which is on Dalhousie street, would have to be removed if the proposals are carried out. If Water street should be extended in accordance with the bylaw it would pass through their buildings and would result in a great pecuniary loss to these people. There could be no useful purpose served, he said, in opening Water street from Dalhousie to Sherbrooke. Those people do, in the neighbourhood of some $10,000 yearly ; they spend a great deal of money in the city and are doing a great deal of business with the neighbouring country.

He asked that their buildings be not removed on Water street for at least a period of ten years and that Dalhousie street be not opened for one year to give them an opportunity of removing their buildings there.

Ald. Hicks said the Board of Works had considered the matter upon receipt of a petition from property owners on Dalhousie street to have that street opened. Three months had been mentioned but he did not think the board would absolutely adhere to that limit of time.

"Ben Butler was a terror and torment to the judges. On one occasion Judge Sanger, having been bullied and badgered out of all patience, petulantly asked, 'What does the counsel suppose I am on this bench for?'

"Scratching his head a minute, Butler replied, 'Well, I confess your honour's got me there.'"

Robert Hill Was Awarded Damages

Was Farm Sold to Defeat the Ends of Justice?

Examiner Special.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The Hill tragedy of Dummer Township was recalled at Osgoode Hall yesterday, when Robt. Hill, father of the murdered boy, took action to set aside the sale of Gow's farm to his father, on the ground that it was put through to defeat the ends of justice. He was awarded $650 damages, which have not been paid. The master-in-chambers gave judgment, allowing the plaintiff to revive the action and proceed to trial at the Peterborough sittings in October.

Milk Inspection For Peterborough

The city council is at last taking action with regard to the purity of the milk sold by milk vendors in the city. Ald. McIntyre was the first to bring the problem of milk inspection before the council last night, and as a result a bylaw will be prepared in the near future restricting the milkman's liberties so that this universal food will be sold 100 per cent. strong in Peterborough.

Ald McIntyre last night moved, that the Solicitor be instructed to prepare a bylaw to license and regulate milk vendors disposing of milk in the city.

Ald. McWilliams suggested that the question be left in the hands of a committee consisting of Ald. McIntyre, Ball, Wilson, Johnston and Elliott, to deal with, and that the Solicitor be then authorized to prepare a bylaw embodying their resolutions. The suggestion was put in the form of a motion by Ald. McIntyre and McWilliams, and carried.

It has been truly said that the crowning glory of our race is a luxuriant head of hair.

It used to be thought that this was one of the blessings which the gods bestow capriciously, and it is only recently that scientists have discovered that its beauty is dependent upon the absence of a minute germ which flourishes in the hair follicles, where it destroys the life of the hair.

To restore this life and kill the germs which cause the mischief is the mission of Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide surely kills the germs, and is the best hair dressing on the market.

It contains no grease or oil, neither will it stain or dye.

Especially For Women

As a mild and gentle laxative—as a positive and speedy cure for Constipation and Biliousness—as the only cure for weak and irritated kidneys and especially for "that pain in the back"—as a positive cure for headaches—and as a general tonic to build up and invigorate the whole system — FRUIT-A-TIVES stand supreme.

In cases of irritated Ovaries, Ovarian Pains, Vaginal Catarrh, Excessive and Scanty Menstruation, Ulcerations, Bearing Down Pains—and all those troubles peculiar to women—have the most remarkable effect.

Fruit-a-tives

Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of Female Troubles are due to neglect. Bowels become constipated — kidneys irregular — skin neglected — and the poisons of the body, which should be carried off by these important organs, are taken up by the blood carried to the female organs and poison them, thus starting up a train of female troubles.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are made from fruits and by their remarkable action on bowels, kidneys and skin, rid the system of poisons, purify the blood, and restore the delicate organs of generation to new vigor and health.

No woman, who suffers, should ever be without them. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50, at your druggist's or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED - OTTAWA.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 5, 1906.

A BAD BLUNDER.

The following article from the Brantford Expositor sets forth the inconsistency of the Government in its attitude to the supply of electricity to municipalities. It appears that the Ross Government which made no blatant boasts of the great things it proposed to do in the way of provincial development of electricity in the interests of municipalities and the public made arrangements by which half of 125,000 of additional horse power to be developed by the Electrical Development Company at Niagara Falls was to be reserved for the use of municipalities. But the Whitney Government cancelled this when it came into power, and in this way, and to this extent, the prospects of municipalities in the west getting power were diminished, as they were diminished by the Government overriding the Power Commission and leasing the Healey Falls power to a private company without providing for a guarantee of power to municipalities. The Brantford Courier, (Conservative) publishes the following letter from "Voter":—

Sir,—I was interested in reading in The Globe a short time ago, an an editorial on the Niagara Falls Power franchises, and in view of the present session of the Association of Ontario Municipalities, think the public should have brought before them a fact that in the recent discussion has been apparently overlooked by many, namely the clause provided for in the second franchise which was to have been granted the Electrical Development Company, and which I quote herewith:—

"Clause 5—It is hereby expressly provided that one half the power to be generated hereunder shall from time to time be available for the use of any municipality or municipalities within the Province of Ontario, for the purpose of operating a municipal system of lighting, heating, or other public utilities, then owned or which may hereafter be owned by such municipality or municipalities, to be delivered at or taken from any of the company's transformer houses at the works of the company at Niagara Falls. And whenever the additional electrical, pneumatic or other horse power or any part thereof to be generated under this agreement shall be available for use then the company shall supply to such municipalities as shall make application thereof, one-half of the said power. The price to be paid by such municipalities for said power may be fixed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council who may also fix the price every fifteen years thereafter during the continuance of this agreement or any renewal thereof; and in determining the said price the lieutenant-governor-in-council may inquire as to the price paid for power by other consumers receiving electrical energy from the said company in Ontario, the price paid by private consumers in the case of electrical energy produced by steam power or water power in Ontario, and the various conditions which in the opinion of the said lieutenant-governor-in-council might be necessary to determine the matter in issue.

"And it is further provided that the quantities to be supplied to each applicant, municipality, the priority or use to be enjoyed by such applicant municipality, the periods of using the same and the fixing of a reasonable period where such municipality having temporarily waived or declined to use power its right may be revived to be in accordance with any general legislation by the Legislature of Ontario or if no such general legislation then as the lieutenant-governor-in-council may determine."

It seems to me that in view of the above clause which gives to the municipalities of Ontario the privilege of using electric power generated by this company at a price to be fixed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council, thus taking this matter entirely out of the hands of the Development Company altogether, and as the matter of price is the mainstay of the entire municipal campaign, the people of Ontario have in my opinion lost a very great benefit by this agreement not being carried through. VOTER.

August 30, 1906.

In commenting upon this letter the Brantford Expositor says:—"Voter" is right in stating that the section of the second agreement between the Niagara Parks commissioners and the Electrical Development Company which he quotes has not received the attention it properly deserves.

This company obtained from the late government the right to develop an additional 125,000 horsepower which would otherwise go to waste, and the government agreed to the proposal, provided among other things the company agreed to reserve one-half the 125,000 horsepower for the municipalities at prices to be fixed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

After the change of government this agreement was cancelled by the Whitney government, which thereby destroyed the most effective agency it could have employed to secure cheap power for the municipalities, and rendered necessary arbitrary measures which it has since called into being.

Hon. Mr. Borden Fires A Blank Cartridge

R. L. Borden, Addressing Conservative Labour Day Gathering at Sydney, C. B., Deplores Decision of Electors, but Announces No New Policy on Economic Questions.

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 3.—(pSecial.)—Graham Fraser, the steel magnate, threw open his grounds to-day and several thousand Conservatives, men, women and children, roamed at will over the vast estate. The forenoon was devoted to sports of various kinds, and from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 5 there were political speeches by R. L. Borden, M.P.; C. E. Tanner, M.L.A., and other prominent leaders of the Conservative party. Mayor McCormick, of Sydney Mines, presided.

Mr. Borden spoke from the broad verandah which encircles the Fraser residence. Some seven hundred Conservative voters stood before him, eager to hear and quick to applaud the speech. Beyond, and within sight of the speaker, was a patch of the sea.

Mr. Borden spoke with his usual grace and vigour, but the effort, through its omissions, proved a sore disappointment. There was an impression that this meeting was to recall the famous Sydney meeting of 1878, when Sir Charles Tupper announced a forward line of march respecting the national policy.

To-day being Labour Day, and the audience being largely made up of labouring men, it was hoped that the speech might deal with economic questions and commit the Conservative party to the cause of the people, as against the great corporations.—Toronto World.

SENSIBLE.

Sir William Mulock made a most sensible speech at the opening of the National Exhibition, Toronto. Though it was no ambitious attempt at oratory, its sentiments are ringing round the Empire. The British journals are speaking approvingly of the portion of the speech glorying in the fact that Canada is not staggering under the burden of a war debt, bequeathed by a former generation. This is a matter of congratulation, showing the positive benefits derived from peace, and emphasing the evils of war. Apart from the suffering from the attendant slaughter, misery, bereavement, loss of population, and loss of property, war leaves a legacy of debt that weighs as a mighty brake upon the wheels of progress. The rotten meat scandals of Chicago, are a result of the burden of debt resulting from the war of secession in the United States. It gave warrant for an exaggerated tariff, which not only taxed the people of the United States to the hilt, but made the odious system of trusts possible, with all the train of resulting evils — the development of national greed, for money-making, especially. Millions upon millions, have been spent to cover the expenses of the war which might have been spent in promoting material interests, by the construction of public works, and other objects of a kindred character. France and Germany — to deal only with modern history — have for a third of a century, had the taxable resources of the people tried to the utmost to compensate for the ravages of the Franco-Prussian war. Is it not true that Canada has been, and will be, better employed in spending millions in building canals, railways and public works, to develop the resources of the country, than in spending these same millions in killing their neighbours, and pauperizing the tax-payer with a war debt. Although the British navy is necessary as a measure of precaution and protection, chiefly valuable as a preventive of war, yet it is also a better policy for Canada, instead of building battleships, to busy herself in extending her area of agricultural production, so that while the navy is, so to speak, standing guard, Canada can be supplying bread for the Home, and other members of the imperial family. In so doing, Canada is conferring an inestimable benefit upon the Empire.

Thinks Peterborough Should be Like Other Cities.

Omemee, September 3. — The weather is very fine for threshing. Oats are a fine sample and are already being marketed.

Mr. Mather has again opened up business here as a grain buyer and his man is giving out bags for the large amount of peas bought.

Rev. Mr. Whitelaw and Mr. J. D. Thornton attended the funeral of the latee J. Crowe, Cavan.

Large numbers of our citizens are attending th Toronto exhibition.

As yet there have not been any of the Peterborough exhibition bills exhibited here. Ther is no good reason why the city should not have a good county exhibition this year. Peterborough should have radial lines to the outside villages, where there is no railway connection.

Mr. Harry Mulhuan, a former citizen, now of Rochester, N.Y., is now spending a few days under the parental roof. He is now employed on a large contract with the New York Central Railway to utilize electric instead of steam power between Rochester and New York. He is trying to secure some good electricians.

Reports say that the Georgian Bay branch of the C. P. R. will be surveyed north of here. The scheme has been abandoned for the present.

Dr. Alex. Nugent, a former Omemee high school boy after seven years experience as a medical missionary in India, will address the W.M.P.S. of this place during the last week of September. His wife and daughter are with him.

The Omemee high and public schools have opened up with a greater attendance than ever.

—That authoritive publication, "The United States Dispensatory," says that tea, being peculiarly susceptible to extraneous influences, great care should be taken to preserve its virtues uncontaminated, and its strength unimpaired, and this is well done by the Salada Tea Company, which packs all its teas in sealed lead packages.

When the last cable tramway-car was run in Chicago recently it was mobbed by an excited crowd, which nearly destroyed the car in an effort to secure souvenirs.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Sept. 5.—The stock market was subjected to the ordeal of further high money to-day, and prices were forced lower early. An oversold condition was found as soon as gold imports were announced, and a rally occurred. The selling seemed to be chiefly for short account. The buying on the scale down was good, but most of the inside buying is on that method at present.

We are told by C. B. McDonald, of Harriman & Co., that Amal. Copper is good for 20 points, and advise its purchase on any recession. It was very strong to-day, advancing over three points to a new high level, holding the advance to the close.

Money touched 40 per cent. in the afternoon, but the market advanced nevertheless, and closed strong at the best of the day.

A WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MAN AND AN OLD RESIDENT OF AYLMER GIVES HIS EXPERIENCE WITH THE USE OF PE-RU-NA AS A CURATIVE AND PREVENTIVE OF LA GRIPPE AND COLDS.

Mr. T. Barnecott, West Aylmer, Ontario, Can., writes:

"Last winter I was ill with pneumonia after having la grippe. I took Peruna for two months, when I became quite well, and I can say that any one can be cured by it in a reasonable time and at little expense. Every time I take a cold, I take some Peruna, which makes me well again.

"I also advised it for my daughter who was so ill with prostration that she could not follow her trade of dressmaking. A bottle of Peruna made such a change in her that she has been able to follow her business ever since.

"I also induced a young lady, who was all rundown and confined to the house, to take Peruna, and after taking Peruna for three months she is able to follow her trade of tailoring.

"I can recommend Peruna for all such who are ill and require a tonic."

Every year, during the inclement weather of winter, there is an epidemic of catarrh. The disease is really catarrhal in nature, but from the form it assumes, has been commonly termed the 'grip.'

It is very tenacious when it once gets a firm hold upon the system and, in addition to a thorough, systemic catarrh remedy, a great deal of patience and persistence in the treatment are required to eradicate the disease.

Peruna, an internal catarrh remedy, is one of the best medicines ever devised to meet the exigencies of these cases. The large number of commendatory letters received by Dr. Hartman, the inventor of Peruna, in behalf of his remedy is proof sufficient of its value as a reliable medicine for the 'grip.'

426 GEORGE STREET,

Mayor Refuses To Allow Sewer Pipes To Be Laid Where No Street Exists

Strikes Out Clause in Committee of the Whole Report—His Action Termed "High Handed" by Ald. Adams—Some Important Bylaws—Communications and Reports Read—Regular Meeting of the City Council.

At half past twelve o'clock the City Fathers filed out of the Council Chambers this morning after attending to business for some four hours. Many matters of more or less importance were discussed, and a few warm conversations between the mayor and some of the aldermen kept up the interest during the meeting. The mayor objected to a certain clause in one of the reports dealing with the sewer to the new South Ward School. His action in crossing out the clause was referred to by Ald. Adams as high-handed and one done without any authority. The mayor also strongly opposed the reference of one of the clauses of the bylaw in regard to the Steel Rolling Mills, to the City Solicitor alone. He was voted down on this question.

Milk purity was also another subject for discussion, and a subject upon which some definite action will be taken in the near future. Ald. McIntyre introduced this problem to the Council.

Others present were T. H. Larmonth, Alex. Elliott, D. O'Connell, W. S. Davidson, Mr. Spence, Martin Connors, G. Hay, Wm. Rudkins, and Adam Hall.

Communications.

The following communications were received:

From the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, stating that the company have secured a portion of the cattle shipping yard of the C.P.R., with the intention of constructing a brick warehouse, and asking that Rink street be levelled up in front of this building. — Board of Works.

From Fred O. Allison and Albert Hanna, and 36 other ratepayers, asking for the opening up of Edinburgh street, from George to Water streets. —Board of Works.

From property owners on Aylmer street, asking that a sewer be constructed on Aylmer street, from Edinburgh street to the westerly limits of lot No. 4.—Board of Works.

From property owners on Douro street, asking for a sewer on that street from Mark street to Concession street.—Board of Works.

From property owners on Stewart street, asking for a granolithic walk on the west side of that street from Dalhousie street to Townsend street. —Board of Works.

From property owners on the south side of Cricket place, asking for a granolithic walk from Driscoll terrace to the end of the street.—Board of Works.

From T. Kinnear & Co., asking for a granolithic sidewalk and crossing in front of their new warehouse on George street, and also asking that the surface water drain in front of their building be enlarged to prevent the flooding of their cellar. —Board of Works

From Pennington Alexander, applying for the position of inspector of electric wiring and lighting. — Fire, Water and Light.

From D. Hughes Charles, president of the Peterborough Industrial Fair, thanking the Council for their donation of $400 for the Fall Fair, and asking that the City Treasurer be instructed to forward a cheque for same.

From A. W. Butler, general secretary of the National Prison Association, asking the Council to appoint delegates to the annual meeting at Albany, from September 15th to the 21st.—Received.

From S. R. Armstrong, secretary of the Water Commissioners, notifying Council that they received an application for a water service for the new Public School in Ward 1, but are unable to act until advised by the Council as to the location of the new street to be opened. — Received.

From M. W. Matchett, secretary of the Grand Lodge Committee I.O. O.F., thanking the Council for their kindness at placing the street cars at the disposal of the visitors at the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge here.—Received.

From the secretary of the San Francisco Relief Committee, Vancouver, thanking the Council for their donation of Quaker Oats.—Received.

From G. W. Hatton, notifying the Council on behalf of Mr. James Bogue, that unless the amount of the contract claimed by Mr. Bogue together with extras, be paid to him within a few days, he will take legal action to collect the amount due him.—Board of Works.

From M. K. Cowan, assistant solicitor of the Grand Trunk Railway, in connection with the siding to the Fuel and Cartage Co.'s yard.—Board of Works, with power to act.

From D. O'Connel, on behalf of Mr. Pappas, asking for a refund of his $200 license fee paid for cigarette license, as the bylaw governing same had been quashed.—Referred to the solicitor, and giving the City Treasurer power to refund the amount considered to be proper.

From property owners on Douro street, asking for a sewer from Mark street to Driscoll terrace.—Board of Works.

Ald. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, read the following report of the committee:

John Kittaid	15 15

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted.

The Board of Works report was adopted.

The Mayor Objects.

Ald. McIntyre read the report of the Committee of the Whole, and moved its adoption, but the mayor objected to clause No. 2, which read as follows:

We recommend that the Board of Works be instructed to proceed at the earliest possible date with the construction of a sewer from the new South Ward School, down Aylmer street to the south boundary of lot 3, and thence easterly along Princess street to the main sewer on Lock street.

The mayor took his pen and struck out this clause, stating that it could not be adopted with clause No. 2 as part of the report. He would not consent to the construction of the proposed sewer until an engineer took levels in the different places, and found out which is the best point of discharge. There were no streets, he pointed out, where the sewer was proposed to be laid.

Ald. Adams said that the resolution was made while the mayor was present at the meeting, and he considered it a high-handed action for him to cross it out.

The mayor, however, refused to recant, and called for the reference of the disputed clause back to the Committee of the Whole.

Moved by Ald. Ball and Duncan that the whole report be referred back to the committee.

Yeas—Ald. Ball and Duncan.

Nays—Remainder of the aldermen present.

Moved by Ald. Elliott and Mason that the report be adopted, less clause two, and that this clause be referred back to the Committee of the Whole.—Carried.

By-laws.

Bylaw No. 1247 was given its first and second readings referring to the Peterborough Steel Rolling Mills Company.

The mayor opposed the clause in the bylaw referring to the security to the people by the company. He wanted to refer this clause to the Council and solicitor to deal with, but Ald. McWilliams strongly objected, stating that it was only a matter of form in the wording, and, like all other cases of the same nature, should be left in the hands of the solicitor. The discussion subsequently waxed warm, and ended in the carrying of a motion by Ald McWilliams that the solicitor deal with the matter and that the clause be adopted.

Ald Hicks thought that the company's locating here and receiving fixed assessment should not block any local improvements, and moved that a clause embodying this provision be inserted in the bylaw. Ald. Graham seconded the motion, which carried.

Bylaw No. 1248, referring to the Rapid Tool Company, of Peterborough, received its first and second readings.

Moved by Ald McWilliams and Adams, that the bylaw be advertised in The Morning Times.

Ald Ball thought that the bylaw should be advertised in all the local newspapers so that every citizen might have an opportunity of seeing it, and moved an amendment to that effect.

The original motion carried.

Bylaw No. 1249, to authorize the construction of a sewer on Douro street as a local improvement, received its first and second readings.

Bylaw No 1250, to authorize a grant of $550 to the Peterborough Horticultural Society, and $400 to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, received its various readings and passed the Council.

OBITUARY.

J. B. FAIRBAIN.

The following refers to a gentleman well-known in Peterborough. He was a brother of the late T. M. Fairbairn, at one time representative of Peterborough, and was connected, by marriage, to the Waltons of this city and vicinity. He was also the father of Miss Maud Fairbairn, the talented violinist, well known to many in Peterborough. He died on September 1, after an operation performed in the Toronto General Hospital. He was the son of Robert Fairbairn, who was appointed postmaster of Darlington, the name by which Bowmanville was then known, in 1828. This was in the ninth year of the reign of King George IV. James B Fairbairn went into his father's office in 1845 as an assistant, and had practically been in charge of the postoffice here ever since. He was appointed on the 28th of January, 1857, Hon Robt. Spencer being Postmaster-General at the time. For about 78 years the Bowmanville postoffice had been under the management of father and son, the latter having been in charge over 50 years. James B Fairbairn was a great lover of nature and children, a gifted public speaker, a racy and clever writer, a devoted father and a true friend. He will be deeply mourned by the whole community, and thousands of people all over Canada. He was an elder in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and one of its most liberal and loyal supporters. Though taking no part whatever in politics, his sympathies were decidedly Liberal. He was three times married, but had been a widower several years. His family consists of Miss Fairbairn, who presides over the household, Mrs. H. M. Patterson, Montreal; Mrs. J. Shirley Denison, Toronto; Mrs. W. C. Cubitt, Mimico; Mrs. Rhys D. Fairbairn, Toronto, and Mr. Thomas M. Fairbairn, Mexico.

MRS. RIDDELL.

Cobourg, Sept. 4.— The funeral of Mrs. Riddell, widow of the late Walter Riddell, of this town, a well-known citizen and the historian of Hamilton Township, took place yesterday. Deceased was the mother of Mr. W. R. Riddell, K.C., Toronto, and had reached the age of 88 years. A son of Mrs. Riddell, Mr. James L. Riddell, of Calgary, passed away suddenly at his home in the West on Monday of this week. Her husband who was an eminent authority on agricultural matters and the early history of the county, predeceased her in March, 1904. A few years previous, Mr. and Mrs. Riddell celebrated the diamond jubilee of their marriage.

Had Skin Disease For Two Years

Was Confined to His Bed But Zam-Buck Has Cured Him. Ontario Man's Interesting Testimony.

The Brantford Expositor recently reported an incident which reflects great credit on the well-known balm Zam-Buk. Mr. Chas. Hill, a moulder, living on Main street, Brantford, was the subject of an interview, and he said:

"For nearly two years I had been suffering with a skin disease on my legs which became so irritable at times that I was confined to my bed and unable to apply bandages of any kind or even to let anything touch my legs. I had tried nearly every ointment that was advertised, and had taken many medicines internally, but without any good result. Recently, in response to an advertisement, I sent for a sample box of Zam-Buk, and with the first application I got immediate relief of the irritation. I have used not quite two boxes, and my cure has been complete, the sores having entirely disappeared from my limbs. Since then I have been able to go about my work with perfect comfort, something I have not done for nearly two years. Zam-Buk has certainly worked wonders for me."

Zam-Buk is made from vegetable essences and contains no trace of any animal fat or any mineral colouring matter. It cures cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, pimples, running sores, spreading scabs, scalp diseases, poisoned wounds, festering sores, piles, ulcers, bad legs, sore feet, abscesses, boils, ringworms, erysipelas, scrofula, barber's rash, insect stings, stiffness, rheumatism, and all injured, diseased or inflamed conditions of the skin.

Of all druggists at 50c a box, or direct from the Zam-Buk Co., Colborne street, Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

According to an admiralty statement yesterday the aggregate tonnage of British war-vessels of every class is 2,041,113 tons; the aggregate for France, Germany, Russia, and Italy is 2,708,461 tons. Of eighty-five torpedo-boats, fifty-five are upwards of fifteen years old.

Prisoners Box At Police Court Again Overcrowded

Seven Called Upon to Answer to Their Misconduct—An Aged Man on Crutches One of the Septette—Numerous Drunks.

The police officers are keeping their eyes open on their various beats these nights, and, as a result, the prisoner's box is frequently too small to accommodate all the unruly. This morning seven accused were arraigned before Acting Magistrate Armstrong, and many had melancholy tales to tell.

Promised to Go.

Thomas Rogers, an old, gray-haired man on crutches, with only one leg, was the last to climb the narrow stairway, and the first to answer to the roll call. He was charged with having no visible means of support and no place of abode. He stated that he came to the city yesterday from below Campbellford, and admitted that he did ask for a bite to eat, but promised to retrace his steps if he were allowed to go—and he was allowed.

Paradise Drunk.

"I guess I'm guilty," answered Joseph Paradise, in scarcely English accents, to the query from the Magistrate if he were drunk yesterday. He was fined $2, to be paid in five days, or 10 days in jail.

An Aged Drunk.

Jonathan Ferguson, of Cavendish, the oldest of the prisoners, was next called upon. He believed he was drunk, he said, but was sorry for it. He knew he was old enough to know better, and promised to be good if allowed to go on "expended" sentence. He was given this permission, and was thankful for it.

His First Visit.

William Warburton was also charged with being drunk. He pleaded guilty, but promised to reform.

"It is the first time I ever was in the police court," he sorrowfully remarked, but nevertheless, he had a strong inclination to get out again. He was allowed to go on condition that he made no more disturbances coming home late at night.

Young Italian Vagrant.

Leo Lango, of Italian nationality, appeared on a charge of having no visible means of support. He was found lodging in a barn.

"Why don't you stay at home?" asked the Magistrate.

"They don't use one right there," he said. "I have to work from 7 in the morning till 9 at night, and only get time to go to church on Sundays."

His brother explained that his work was easy, but that he wouldn't stay at home. However, he decided to go back rather than be locked up.

Pleaded not Guilty.

Two East City boys were accused of using insulting language to a little girl about part of her features. They pleaded not guilty, and as there was no evidence except that of the little girl they were allowed to go with a warning.

Fife Cemetery Company Met

One of the Prettiest of Rural Cemeteries—Business Done.

A meeting of the Trustee Board of the Fife Cemetery Company was held in the schoolroom of the Methodist church here this evening, and the business of the company dealt with. The members of the board are justly proud of the appearance of the burial ground, it being agreed by all visitors that a prettier and better-kept rural cemetery can nowhere be found. Among the trustees, mutual congratulations were extended, and their efficient and painstaking superintendent, Mr. John H. Fife, received well-merited appreciation. Messrs. Thos. Esson and Albert Nelson were appointed to audit the books and accounts of the treasurer, Mr. John H. Fife, and they reported that their task was rendered very easy by the clear and businesslike system of bookkeeping followed by the treasurer, that the books were perfectly correct in every particular, and that the accounts in connection with the building of the new fence around the grounds, which were placed before them, were also correct, as shown by the vouchers. The regular public meeting of the company, to which all interested are cordially invited, is held on the first Monday in December of each year.

Pretty House Wedding; Johns--Cox Nuptials

Society in Peterborough has been on the qui vive for some time over what has proven to be the most elaborate and prettiest house wedding in Peterborough for many a long day. This afternoon at 1.40 o'clock, Margaret Gertrude, second daughter of the late Aaron A. Cox, was united in marriage, at "Hill Crest," the handsome family residence, which closes the vista of Simcoe street on the west, to William Moxon Johns, President of the Cleveland Lithograph Company, Cleveland, Ohio. The ceremony was performed in the spacious south drawing room, which had been profusely and tastefully decorated for the interesting occasion. An elaborate canopy of greenery consisting of smilax and the feathery foliage of the asparagus fern adorned the southern end of the room. Behind a double prie-Dieu, for the use of bride and groom, upholstered in white satin and underneath the canopy the fireplace was banked with an elegant arrangement of greenery picked out with clusters of white aster blooms.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Professor Wallace, of Victoria University. At the appointed hour the groom and his man, Mr. Frank Cox, of Cleveland, entering by the south door of the drawing room, took their places. Then the four shepherdesses entered, two on each side of the drawing room entrance arch. They were provided with white enamelled shepherd's crooks and carried fans formed of real lilies of the valley, and one of each pair advanced to the altar the others remaining at the entrance on either side, the broad white ribbons connecting the shepherd's staves forming an aisle for the passage of the bridal procession, headed by the little flower girl, Miss Emma Cox, the bride's sister, followed by the maid of honour, Miss Edna Johns, sister of the groom, and the bride, escorted by Hon. Senator Cox, her uncle, who stood in "loco parentis" and gave the bride to be married. While the procession was advancing Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Mrs. Harry Thompson, and with its closing strains, the four shepherdesses joined the bridal party in front of the officiating minister and the ceremony was celebrated in the presence of about forty-five guests.

The bride was attired in a beautiful princesse robe, en train, of white pointe de plique with touches of lace of silver and an underskirt of white chiffon made over taffeta, and veil, her sole ornament being a brooch, heart shaped in sapphires and pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid or maid of honour, carrying an armful of unbound white aster flowers, wore a princesse lingerie robe of white batiste with insertions of eyelet embroidery. The little flower girl was charmingly pretty in a Parisian dress of white organdy with insertion of baby Irish lace worn over the palest pink silk. She carried a basket of white asters. The four shepherdesses, Misses Ethel Ames, Toronto, cousin of the bride; Louise Stanley, of Rochester; Minnie Pearce, niece, and Lillian Cox sister, of the bride, all brunettes, were dressed uniformly, in pale pink chiffon voile, with trimmings of pink ribbon over pink silk slips, and with hats, gloves and shoes of pink to match. The bride's mother wore black lace over black satin and the groom's mother, black lace over black silk.

The groom's gift to the bride was a heart-shaped brooch outlined with sapphires and pearls.

The wedding favours were — the bridesmaid's, a necklet of baroque pearls, and the flower girl's and shepherdesses', marguerite pins flower shaped in baroque pearls.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and after Miss Trebilcock, of Toronto, had sung "I Promise Me," the wedding breakfast was served to about forty-five guests, by Cole, caterer, of Toronto. This was followed by a reception at which about two hundred guests were welcomed. Music for this occasion was furnished by the Opera House Orchestra. The spacious east verandah was closed in as an open air parlour, by a tapestry of flags, among which the Stars and Stripes, in compliment to the groom's nationality, was displayed.

There was a large number of wedding guests from outside the city. Among these were: Mr. and Mrs. Johns, Mr. Frank Johns, Mr. Harley Smith and Mrs. Graham, Cleveland; Mrs. Ford, Shrieveport, Louisiana; Mrs. R. Towns, Phillip, Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Davis, Mr. and Mrs A. E. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. and the Misses Irone and Amy Stirling, Mr. Clayton Coleman and Mr. Alf. Morrow, Toronto; Mrs. Holby, of Cuba, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley, of Rochester.

A splendid array of bridal presents was in evidence which included the gift of Senator Cox to the bride, a magnificent Chickering baby grand pianoforte.

The bride's travelling costume consisted of a dress of fawn coloured chiffon broadcloth, the skirt trimmed with large buttons and applique of velvet of the same shade, an Eton coat trimmed with baby Irish lace with touches of blue and a toque-coloured hat trimmed with a rich blue ostrich plume shading to fawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Johns leave on the evening C.P.R. express, on the special car attached to the train, in which Senator Cox and party came down and returned, for a two month's wedding journey. Mrs. Johns will be at home after November 1st, at "Somerset," Billings avenue, Cleveland, her future home, where her many friends in Peterborough and elsewhere hope that she may enjoy a prosperous and happy wedded life.

WEDDING BELLS

MILLER--STANGER.

A pretty wedding took place at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, at 311 Stewart street, when Miss Edna May Stanger, eldest daughter of Mr. John Stanger, was united in marriage to Mr. John Hepburn Miller, of the firm of Alexander & Miller, and son of Colonel J. W. Miller.

The ceremony, which was witnessed by about thirty-five guests, intimate friends of the contracting parties, was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Stella, and looked pretty in a beautifully designed costume of point d'esprit over white taffeta and Brussels net, made in princesse effect and trimmed with Valenciennes lace and rows of insertion. She wore the customary veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was attired in a costume of white silk mull, with picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Norman Miller. The wedding march was efficiently rendered by Miss Mildred Brightman.

At the conclusion of the service a dainty wedding repast was served, the catering being done by Mr. H. Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for Toronto, Hamilton and Brantford, where a two weeks' honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will reside at 360 Brock street.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Miss Emily Clark of Hamilton, and Miss McMillan of Victoria.

DOXSEE--LILICO.

The marriage took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Cannington, Mariposa County, of Miss Jennie Lilico to Mr. Douglas Doxsee, son of J. Wesley Doxsee, 259 Perry street. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Methodist Minister of Cannington in the presence of a large number of guests, friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Miss Lilico, sister of the bride, performed the duties of bridesmaid, while Mr. Wm. Dodge, of Lakefield, assisted the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Doxsee will leave Cannington this evening for Peterborough and will reside on Perry street, where a reception will be tendered them this evening and where a large number of handsome gifts await their arrival.

TURCOTTE--O'BRIEN.

In St. Peter's Cathedral this morning the nuptials were solemnized of Mr. Albert Turcotte and Miss Mary V. O'Brien, both of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Dr. O'Brien. Miss Mary McDonald, of Norwood, was bridesmaid, and the groomsman was Mr. F. W. Whaley, of Peterborough. At the conclusion of the ceremony a delightful wedding dejeuner was served at the residence of the groom's brother, Mr. Thomas Turcotte, Cross street, at which some forty guests were present. Many beautiful presents were received, including a purse of gold from the groom's fellow employees in the Peterborough Lock Works.

Mr. and Mrs. Turcotte left on the 11.45 G. T. R. train on a wedding trip to Toronto and Buffalo. On their return they will take up residence on Elm street.

WEATHERSTONE--MULLEN.

A pretty church wedding was that solemnized at St. Paul's church this afternoon at two o'clock, when Miss Olive May Mullen, daughter of the late David Mullen, was united in marriage to Mr. William J. Weatherstone, son of Mr. Wm. Weatherstone, city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, in the presence of a number of friends. Miss Agnes Weatherstone, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, while the groomsman was assisted by Mr. Roscoe Kendry. Little Miss Loraine McQuinn made a very pretty flower girl.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, a sumptuous wedding dejeuner was served at the home of the bride's mother, 1033 Water street. Mr. and Mrs. Weatherstone left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train on a wedding trip to Galt, and other western points. On their return they will reside on Water street.

The young couple have many friends in Peterborough, as was evidenced by the large number of beautiful presents received.

The Platform Of The Farmers Association

Laid Down By Their Association In Annual Meeting.

SUBJECTS TAKE WIDE SCOPE

Would Stop All Bonuses and Reserve the Public Domain to Actual Settlers —The Railway Commission Should Equalize and Regulate Express Rates — Royalty on Mineral Output is Recommended.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The Farmers' Association of Ontario met in Victoria Hall here yesterday. J. Lockie Wilson presided and delivered his annual presidential address. There was little discussion on the resolutions passed, as there was apparently little difference of opinion in the meeting.

Resolutions Passed.

That we ask the railway commission to equalize and regulate express rates upon an equitable basis without waiting for any formal complaints.

That we endorse the federal ownership of long-distance telephone and telegraph lines, and regard the transmission of messages by these means as logically belonging to the federal postal system.

That we favor the enforcement by federal legislation of a two-cent-a-mile passenger rate whenever the passenger earnings shall exceed $3,000 a mile.

That we commend the Federal Government for putting express rates under the control of the railway commission, and the Provincial Government for its power act, its municipal telephone act, and its reservation of the Gillies limit in the interests of the general public.

That, recognizing the right of ownership, that the people of Ontario have in the mineral wealth of this province, we ask the Provincial Government to levy a progressive royalty upon all mineral output for the benefit of the general public.

That no Cabinet Minister should be connected with any corporations seeking or likely to seek, legislative favors.

That we are opposed absolutely to the policy of granting bonuses and bounties, either in money or in public lands, to private corporations, and that the public domain should be reserved for the actual settlers.

That we affirm our belief in the justice of the main principle of the Pettypiece bill, and regard the recent railway taxation act to the Provincial Government as both unjust to the average taxpayer and as discriminating unfairly between the railways themselves. We demand that the assessment and taxation of corporate property be similar to those of farm and other private property. We shall be satisfied with nothing less than the equalization of taxation.

That we are emphatically opposed to the increase of expenditure for military purposes as being both unnecessary and demoralizing, as diverting our national resources into unprofitable channels, and as tending to lower those ideals which should inspire the rising generation.

The association will meet again at 9 this morning. Prof. Goldwin Smith will speak at 10.30 a. m.

Healey Falls Water Power Lease.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines, handed out an official statement of the Healey Falls water power lease to the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., in which he denied emphatically that the Government had ever over-ridden or ever proposed to over-ride the powers vested in the Hydro-Electric Commission. The statement also contained the details of the lease, which, Mr. Cochrane said, he was at any time prepared to justify and defend.

Cheap Gas For Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—The Sovereign Light & Power Co. has made an offer to the city to supply gas to citizens at 85 cents per thousand cubic feet, and electric light at present rates, less 33 1-3 per cent. discount. The present price of gas is $1 for heating, and $1.20 per thousand for lighting.

Medal For Life-Saver.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Yesterday the city solicitor of Ottawa received a bronze medal from the Royal Canadian Humane Society, with instructions to present it to Charles Fleming, 13 years old, who saved Rev. Hugh and Mrs. Pedley from drowning.

Two Train Fatalities.

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Shippey, aged 75, was killed at West Lorne by a special Michigan Central Railway express train yesterday morning, as she was crossing the track. Her body was thrown a rod and a half.

The eight-year-old daughter of A. T. Cromp, Wabash agent at Nelles' Corners, was struck by No. 8 Wabash express, while she was playing on the track with a kitten, and both she and the animal were killed.

Live Stock Day.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Crisp addresses, appreciative of the progress being made by Canada in the live stock industry, were made at the directors' luncheon of the Canadian National Exhibition, when the guests of honor were William Duthie of Aberdeen, Scotland, and Sir William Mulock.

Three Brothers Suicide.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Three brothers in the Kenney family have committed suicide. This fact was brought out in evidence at the police court last night when Coroner McCallum conducted an enquiry into the death of Mauson Kenney, the 20-year-old youth, who took carbolic acid. The jury only took a few minutes to reach their verdict of suicide while insane.

Murder at a Prize Fight.

Examination Of The Monarch Life Now In Progress

T. Marshal Ostrom Tells How He Promoted the Company.

HE HAD A GREAT CONTRACT

Which Caused Commissioner Kent to Ask If He Could Be Dismissed For Anything Short of Murder—Income of the Company and What It Cost It to Do Business—What Mr. Ostrom Got Out of Business.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The Monarch Life Insurance Co. and its managing director, T. Marshal Ostrom, were before the Royal Insurance Commission all yesterday. The examination of Mr. Ostrom will be continued to-day, and it is probable that the president, D. A. Gordon, M. P., will also be called.

To the commissioners yesterday Mr. Ostrom stated he was the promoter (since 1904) of the company, which was licensed on July 19 last. Associates in the incorporation were Hon. James Cochrane, W. Scott, Dr. Gordon, M. P., Dr. Livingston and J. H. Graham.

For his copyrights, witness was to receive $49,000 worth of stock and $1,000 cash from the new company. This was made up of 1,400 shares of stock fully paid up to date, $14,000 10 per cent. call on $140,000 of capital stock, and $35,000 at the 25 per cent. premium.

Later on, there was an understanding that the provisional directors should divide $25,000 worth of stock.

Subscriptions had been obtained by Mr. Ostrom previous to the plans of incorporation on the 28th July, 1904, for which he received commissions later.

Took Two Years to Sell Stock.

Mr. Tilley wanted the reason why it took two years from incorporation on July 18, 1904, until the charter was obtained, on July 19, 1906. Witness answered that he was seling the required stock.

The prospectus of the company was taken up by Mr. Tilley, who could find no trace of the arrangements giving witness $49,000 worth of stock in the company. This was never put in any prospectus.

For the year previous to last April, witness had not sold stock in Ontario. He had operated mostly in Manitoba. Sale agents received $5 and $6 per share. A man named Stevenson was employed as stock salesman at a commission of $4.90 per share on contract. This contract was made with the petitioners for the charter. Stevenson was to pay his own expenses. He did not sell a share, however. Witness sold all the stock prior to incorporation, and received $3.50 per share. Stevenson got the balance, $1.40, under the terms of his contract. Stevenson got $4.90 on what his sub-agents sold. Witness also received $3,000.

Salary and Commission.

After incorporation witness was given $150 per month salary and $5 per share commission on all subscriptions. This lasted until March 21, 1906, when he was given a five years' contract. Besides $5,000 a year he was to receive $1 per $1,000 new insurance obtained. This was to be paid at the end of the second year. After his engagement with the company is terminated, on all premiums of insurance secured during the period of his management he is to receive $1 per $1,000, also commissions on new business.

This contract was signed by the president and the vice-president, on the advice of Mr. Ostrom's solicitor, Senator Kerr.

Mr. Tilley was anxious to know what course the company would have to pursue to get rid of Mr. Ostrom as manager. The contract read that anything against him must be "proved in open court."

Commissioner Kent: Could you be dismissed for anything short of murder?

Witness (laughingly): Oh, yes; if I started to drink they could dismiss me.

Got Half of Cash Receipts.

Mr. Ostrom is promoter of the Monarch Bank. A man is selling the stock and witness is getting a commission on all stock sold. Stock in the Monarch Life Insurance Co. was issued at 25 cents premium. Several of the permanent directors were not qualified to act under the charter. Dr. A. H. Perfect of Toronto Junction had paid nothing on his stock, nor had Andrew Carruthers, another director. Up to May 31 the total cash receipts of the Monarch were $162,114.85. To get this money it cost $60,000. Of this $60,000 witness admitted that he received $30,303.87.

Witness held 2,000 shares of stock. He paid up $10,000; $6,000 for stock and $4,000 for premium. He owes nearly $11,000 for premiums on 60 shares. The remaining 1,400 shares were handed over for the copyrights.

Witness had received transfers for these shares in a peculiar way: These transfers were scattered all over two transfer books.

Could Not Produce Transfer.

"No bookkeeper would write transfers in that manner without instruction," said Mr. Tilley, but witness denied knowing anything about that. When asked for the transfers he could not produce them, although the Commissioner had ordered him to bring them.

Mr. Tilley pointed out that the stock certificates produced by the witness were not complete, and Mr. Ostrom promised to produce the rest, which, he admitted, were not completely signed.

The certificates produced were signed by Vice-President T. H. Graham, not by President Gordon. There were blank certificates signed by the latter, but these were not used, as they were wanted for other people. Mr. Ostrom intimated that he did not want these ready-made ones; he wished the signer to know what he was signing.

In the books, the allotment of 1,400 shares to Ostrom by his copyright was cancelled by a pen stroke, re-entered later, and again similarly cancelled. He said it was probably the bookkeeper's error. He knew no other reason.

Certificates In Winnipeg.

At the afternoon session Mr. Tilley went into the permanent copyright. These were at Ottawa and stood in Mr. Ostrom's name. The agreement March 9, 1906, was referred to.

"What has been done to put the copyright in the hands of the company?" asked Mr. Tilley.

"Everything," answered witness. "The company are using those policies to-day."

Mr. Tilley wanted to know the value of these copyrights and witness explained that value could not be put on them. The first month the business of the Monarch Life amounted to $180,000, at a cost of 50 per cent.

The issue of the $140,000 of stock referred to in the morning was put back on the books about April 12.

Some of the stock certificates were produced by witness and examined. Witness said that he had left many certificates in the vault at the C. P. R. Hotel in Winnipeg.

Mr. Tilley asked if they were signed by President Gordon. Witness answered in the negative.

Directors Were Ignorant.

Counsel spent over an hour reading the reports of directors' meetings, revealing the fact that the shareholders and directors were ignorant of the way witness had obtained the transfers.

At a meeting of the directors in Winnipeg President Gordon stated that not a share of stock had been given witness, who admitted that he sat through the meeting and did not contradict that fact although the transfers, one signed by President Gordon for 50 shares (presumably for a man named Denham) and several signed by Vice-President Graham, and four which the president had signed and cancelled, were in his pocket.

Witness had nothing to say about these transactions. He would not say that Mr. Gordon's statements were incorrect. More evidence will be taken to-morrow on the transfer stunt.

Mr. Tilley took up briefly the journal and notebook. Pages were stripped for no reason whatever, which led Commissioner Kent to remark that the bookkeeping was in terrible shape, and that he wished the auditors to be placed on the stand.

Before adjournment the fact that directors and witness had given notes to the company and when the interest came due it was cancelled. Witness could not explain why this was done.

The examination will be continued to-morrow.

C.P.R. Race Against Time Enters Upon Home Stretch

Two Laps of Hemispheric Course Completed Ahead of Schedule Time—Passengers Dined in Liverpool Last Friday—Breakfast in Vancouver Yesterday—Half 'Round the World in 30 Days Will Be Made—Eleven Days From Liverpool to the Pacific—6,070 Miles.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 4. — Punctual o the very minute, the Overseas Mail steamed into the Vancouver station this morning precisely when due, 3,070 miles from Quebec, by the route it traversed, and an hour later the steamer Empress of China, flying the Red and White House Flag of the C.P.R. fleet, cast off, and with a favouring breeze, started out on the voyage across the Pacific. The Oriental mails, having completed the first two laps in the race half way around the globe, are now swinging into the home stretch, with every prospect of beating the time Lieut. T. L. Running scheduled by land and seas between Liverpool and Vancouver. The time table was, generally speaking, pretty closely adhered to, and when time has been lost through uncontrollable circumstances, it has been quickly regained, and so it is that those amongst the Empress of Ireland's passengers coming thus far west, who dined in Liverpool a week ago last Friday, are breakfasting this Tuesday morning in Vancouver, on the C. P.. R. steamship, that is bearing them to the Far East. Under the protecting care of the C. P. R. they have crossed the Atlantic ocean and the North American continent, and the officers of the Empress of China declare that they will be landed in Kong Kong, within the Oriental mails within the 39 days. While a little less than half of the entire distance between the home country and the little British possession at the southern part of the China Sea, it is true, has only been covered, there is small room for doubt that the great feat before this Empress of the Pacific will be accomplished. From Liverpool to Quebec, via Belle Isle, is 2,638 knots, approximately 3,000 land miles. As the Empress of Ireland is the first of the Canadian Pacific fleet to use this route on the new mail schedule, no comparison can be drawn, as all the best previous passages have been made between Liverpool or Moville and Rimouski. It is 4,268 knots from Vancouver to Yokohama, or in land language 4,895 miles and from Yokohama to Hong Kong, via the ports of Katsura, Nagasaki and Shanghai, at which the C. P. R. steamers call, 1,988 knots, or, say, 2,275 miles. The Empress of China has therefore to cover the distance between Vancouver and Hong Kong, 6,271 knots, or 7,160 miles, in eighteen and a half days, and as this long run has already been made by a sister ship, the Empress of Japan, within that time, the confidence of the China's officers go easy of comprehension.

But to the land journey. The morning sun was shining brightly when the Overseas Mail pulled out from Calgary at six o'clock, and, speeding through the foothills, reached Laggan, Alberta, at the bottom of the Big Hill, in 8 hours and 20 minutes. The run up the valley of the Bow, past beautiful Banff, with its merry throng of summer guests, and the huge mountains that hem the valley on either side, was a delightful experience in the warm genial sunshine. Then came the slow climb to the Divide, 720 feet of a raise in six miles, and the run down the western slope of the Canadian Rockies. Racing with the rapid Kicking Horse River, the Overseas Mail thundered down into the valley which lies between the Rockies and the Selkirks, and, without waiting a moment, speeded up the Selkirk Range, through the Rogers' Pass, at the summit past the great Illecillewat glacier, and down the marvellous Top, and by the wonderful caves of Cheops, through grim and amongst high erecting hills to the valleys separating the Selkirks and the Gold Ranges, where the Columbia River flows southerrly to the sea. Revelstoke was left at 4.20 p.m., the run across the two mountain ranges, whose peaks pierce the clouds, and whose grandeur and sublimity are the unapproachable marvel of nature, having been made in eight hours, a record of 18 miles an hour, and a faster run than many may imagine when it is understood that on some steep grades trains can only crawl along at the rate of about four miles an hour, and that "safety" is the watchword to be regarded all along the line. Beyond Revelstoke the Gold Range was penetrated, and during the darkness of the night there was another race race with the furious Fraser River whose seething waters gave up the unique contest when Yale was reached, and the Overseas Mail came steaming into the Terminal City, with loud triumphant whistles, whose shrill shrieks reverberated amongst the mountains of the coast, at six o'clock exactly, four hours from Calgary, 642 miles to the east, between which lay three mountain ranges, and connecting the ancient and picturesque capital on the St. Lawrence, with this lusty young giant of the West.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 4. — Empress of China, carrying Oriental mails, arrived here at 12. 10 this afternoon, having made the run from Vancouver at the rate of over 17 knots an hour, and for the latter part of the trip, against a strong tidec. Large numbers of passengers embarked here, including members of the diplomatic corps of several nations, naval officers and commercial men. The total number of the China's passengers as 101 first, 14 second and 201 steerage. Captain Archibald is confident that the Empress will land the European mails at Hong Kong within the specified time.

Ottawa Races On Labour Day

The Ottawa Citizen says:—

A crowd of about 5,000 filled the main portion of the grand stand at the park, and promptly at 2.30 the horses were called for the first heat of the 2.35 trot. Five entries faced starter Chris. Wright in this event and although Hazel Belle, the fast Peterborough horse, took first in each of the three heats, the contests were close and exciting in every case. The time made was very good considering that a stiff wind and a somewhat slow but dry track told against the drivers.

In the 2.18 race a most exciting struggle was witnessed and again a Peterborough horse was in front, Harry Direct taking the race in straight heats, although Pauline, C. H. Putman's speedy trotter, gave Direct a busy time in the last two. The hackmen's race furnished lots of fun for the crowd and when the record-breakers trotted out hitched to the high wheeled sulkies of the pre-pneuma[illegible] ers could be heard in Hull. Black Jack, a bunch of speed owned by P. Foubert, won the last two heats, the first going to Maple Leaf, a patriotic pacer handled by A. Bisson. Summary:—

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. Duck Shooting At Rice Lake

One Aspirant Over-slept and Let the Morning Pass By.

The first of September has come, and gone, and the anticipations of the numerous duck hunters have been realized, or—well, never mind. Rice Lake is noted as a duck hunting ground, affording, as it does, splendid feeding grounds for the black and teal ducks at this time of the year. It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that there was not one hundred square yards of the vast rice beds, or flooded lands, that was not occupied by a hunter on Saturday morning. Beginning at thee mouth of the Ouse, and coming up to Foley Bay, Keene Bay, Prickley Bay, across the big rice beds at Ashburn's Point, Shearer's Bay, the duck hunters began to paddle in about 1.30 Saturday morning, to lie in the cold and wait till daybreak. It was very cold and the mosquitoes were forced from the scene. Occasionally from Plum Point would come a lusty shout, for they were in good humour, and were afraid to go to sleep lest they sleep too long. By the way one young hunter selected a fine spot the day before, and decided to take it at once before some one get there before him. He installed himself in the fine rushes quite concealed from the duck, and from any person. He tried and tried to stay awake but finally fell asleep. Another hunter, failing to get a good location, and paddling along about an hour before daybreak, saw this spot and pulled up a few yards from hunter No. 1—and by the way had some very fine shooting while No. 1 slept. An hour after sunrise the shooting ceased and No. 1 woke to find the morning of the first, past and gone.

Ducks generally were scarce. Some old hunters affirm that the ducks carry a calendar and a three foot rule. However this may be the week before the first, there were thousands, and on the first they were "rare birds," and kept a safe distance. Alfie Crowe and Marsh got 26 birds, Bonnycastle Dale, 11, and from several others good returns were reported. Al. Young and Gou and Sterling Wedlock got good shooting. Harwood creek is the private property of Messrs. Dickson and Crusoe and is always well stocked with duck.

New Street Lamp Has Not Yet Been Selected

Many of the Aldermen Prefer the Present Arc System--Fire Water and Light Committee Will Deal With the Problem Again--Peterborough is Illuminated Well Enough, Says Ald. Ball.

The selection of the style of lamp for street lighting purposes still remains an unsettled matter. A deputation from the city council visited Cobourg, Toronto Junction and Toronto, with a view of inspecting the enclosed lamps, and the amount of light they distributed, but most of them were in favour of the present arc system.

A communication was read last night at the council meeting, from the Peterborough Light and Power Company, asking permission to go on with the work of installing the new lamps, but the question was again referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee, which has not yet made a report owing to the absence of a number of the members at the last meeting.

The Mayor in referring to the lamps inspected at Toronto, thought those they drove under were not equal to the old arc lamps. He considered it better to refer the matter to the Fire, Water and Light Committee to report.

Ald. Duncan said that the lights at the Junction he considered were not equal to those already in operation here, and thought that if the rates were not lowered it would be better to retain the present lights. He also thought the matter should be further investigated by the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The chairman of the committee said that Mr. Larmonth had informed him there were no other lamps in the province of the same kind the city proposed to instal. There were none with such a large capacity, so that it would be impossible to inspect any in use elsewhere.

Ald. Mason was favourably impressed with those he saw in Toronto. They did not cast such a strong shadow but seemed to spread the light more evenly. If the power company would carry out the suggestion of placing the lights further out on the streets they would be much better. The mayor of North Toronto thought that the lights they had were much better than the arc lamps.

Ald. McIntyre was also present with the deputation. He thought that if Peterborough could not get a stronger light than they have there it would be better to retain the lamps we have in the city at present.

It was here moved by Ald. Duncan and McIntyre, that the question of the alteration of the class of lamps be left in the hands of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Ald. Adams saidd the result to be attained would be better if the lamps were placed in the centre of the streets, and the proposal was to have a better result from the same number of lights. It was therefore for the council to say what kind should be used.

Ald. Elliott had asked Mr. Aikens, the expert, who was here on the lighting system, regarding the proposed new lamps, and he had highly approved of them.

By Practical Demonstration.

Ald. McWilliams did not see that they would be very much farther ahead if the matter were referred back to the Fire, Water and Light Committee. The difficulty could not be settled with a practical demonstration, which could not be had, as the same light was not being used in any part of the province, the only thing to do was to make a trial of the new system on one circuit, and see how it worked. The future operations could thus be guided by that demonstration.

Enclosed Lamp Superior.

Mr. Larmonth stated that there were lamps in Toronto, the same as are used here now, but there were not any similar to those proposed for Peterborough. He thought the opinion of Mr. Fisher of North Toronto was valuable. He had stated that he would not agree to go back to the old style. Mr. Larmonth said that he would not agree to put up a circuit as the company might be called upon to change it in a year or so.

The mayor claimed that the arc lamp would throw light farther than the enclosed one.

Ald. Ball didn't think the people of Peterborough wanted a change in the street lighting. He had not seen a better illuminated city than Peterborough, and he moved that the matter of the change in the street lighting be thrown out altogether.

Ald. Duncan's motion was carried.

Historical Report Of The Park Street Sunday School

The School Has Now Entered Upon Its 19th Year—Progress Has Been Very Great—Late Rev. Alex. Grant Responsible for the Erection of the Church.

The following historical sketch of the Park Street Baptist Church Sunday School was read on Sunday afternoon by Miss Mann. The following is the report:—

The Park Street Baptist Sunday School which was formerly called the "South Ward Baptist Mission Sunday School", has entered upon its nineteenth year. On the second Sunday of August, 1888, this school was organized. Some time previous to this date, the late Rev. Alex. Grant, who was then superintendent of Home Missions, was taking a walk in the south end of the town, along with the then pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church, Rev P. C. Parker. Mr. Grant said, "Here is a good place for a mission". Shortly after this Mr. Parker and those interested, met in the building known as the Mission building, on Dalhousie street. Mr. R. J. Kidd was elected superintendent, Mr. W. E. Mann, secretary-treasurer, with the following teachers:—Mr. W. Stock, Miss M. Mann, Miss Minore, Mr. and Mrs. Cuckoo and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

The attendance on the first Sunday was 20. There was a gradual and steady increase week by week. The school from the first was self-sustaining. On the 24th of January, 1890, the first social and concert was held, the receipts for the year were $127.00. In March, 1890, the secretary-treasurer, W. E. Mann, resigned to go to Victoria, B. C. In November of the same year Rev. P. C. Parker resigned the pastorate of Murray Street Church and removed to Toronto. In the following year, 1901, the attendance was 80. The librarian reported 278 volumes in the library. During the year the school came into possession of a legacy bequeathed by the late Mrs. Charlotte J. Nicholls, amounting to $600.00.

About this time Mr. Kidd resigned the superintendency and Mr. Grundy was elected in his place.

Rev. J. E. Potter was then pastor of Murray Street Church. The sum of $170.00 of the Nicholls bequest was expended a tthis time on the lot we are at present located on, and during the summer of 1892, a building was erected which forms the main part of our present edifice.

This began a new era in the school's history, increased accomodation and a more favourable locality gave a decided impetus to the work. In January 1893, Mr. Grundy resigned his position as superintendent and Miss M. Mann was elected to take charge during the year, the highest attendance was 116. Mr. J. J. Reeves became student pastor for the summer months. A very great advance was made in 1894, when Bro. W. J. Pudy, of McMaster University was called to labour in the field. His services in the Sunday School were greatly blessed, the attendance was then 142; 10 scholars were converted and added to the church by Baptism. In the two years following the school increased, its attendance being 204. 28 from the school were added to the church. Mr. J. Chapman, also of McMaster University, spent the summer following on the field. His assistance in the school was of great benefit and blessing.

In the spring of 1897 Rev. O. C. Elliot became pastor. Under his pastorate the school grew and prospered. Many of the scholars gave themselves to the Lord Jesus Christ.

We can truly say "The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad." Since the organization of the church three years ago, 54 have been baptized, of this number 45 were from the school. Many from this school have gone forth to carry blessing to other localities and other climes. The great North West, British Columbia, the Western States, and far away California, hold to-day many who in this school were brought to Jesus or were drafted into Christian service, and they are labouring as preachers, superintendants and teachers "To Him above belongs all the praise." During the year 1898 the presence and power of the Holy Spirit has been manifested. Of those members of our school who gave evidence of having passed from death unto life, 7 were Baptized and added to the church. The membership of the school at this time was 242. In June 1899, the school lost one of its most efficient and faithful members, namely, Mr. Gruver. His place remains yet to be filled. One of the encouraging features of the year was the number of scholars converted and added to the church. Owing to a number leaving town the attendance in 1900 was less than the proceeding year. In June our pastor, Rev. O. C. Elliott, removed to Belleville. During his pastorate our two Bible classes reached their highest membership. Pastor Elliot's class of men numbered 35, while the ladies' class, with Mr. T. G. Gillespie as teacher, numbered 19. These adult classes proved to be a great benefit to the school. Mr. J. H. Hanna immediately followed Pastor Elliot. Shortly after coming to the church he was ordained to the Gospel Ministry. Through his earnestness and clear views in teaching God's word, the Bible class and school were benefited.

On the 15th of March, 1903, Pastor Hanna resigned. The church and school were two months and a half without an under shepherd. The hearts of all rejoice that God heard our prayers and sent Rev. A. H. Brace, one of His chosen ones, to be our pastor. On the second of August, 1903, the 15th Anniversary of the organization of the school was celebrated in an appropriate manner. The services of the day were of a special character, conducted by pastor Brace. The interior of the church was tastefully decorated with flowers, the work being done by the young ladies of Miss Annie Brace's class. The pastor gave a short address in which he spoke of the need of a new church building. At the close of the service subscriptions and promises to the amount of about $50.00, were given to be the commencement of a building fund. On March 17th, 1904, the Annual Festival was held. From the Sec's report we read, "It has indeed been a time of encouragement and progress. There are 140 scholars on the roll, 19 from the intermediate department have united with the church. We rejoice in what has been accomplished and pray that more zealous work and earnest prayer for blessing upon all departments of our schol. A very pleasing event of the evening was the presentation by the school to the trustees, the sum of $165.00 toward purchasing the adjoining lot. In August, 1904, the school reached the age of "sweet sixteen". The event was of more than usual interest. In the morning the pastor preached from the text "Consider the Lillies of the field." In the afternoon the church was again filled. The pastor presiding and Rev. J. E. Trotter, of Port Hope, on the platform. Mr. Trotter gave an address of congratulation to the officers and teachers upon the signal success, which had attended their efforts, and upon the present prosperous condition of the school. The interest of the scholars in the new building was manifested in the neat little sum of $67.00 to add to the building fund. On March 3rd, 1905, the annual festival was held, which was a great success. The treasurer reported total receipts for the year $248.96. Through the special effort and untiring zeal of the Sunday School the sum of $124.00 was again added to the building fund. The events of one year ago are fresh in the memory of almost all present. Again we rejoice that many more have found the Pearl of great Price. The Sunday School entertainment in March, 1906, exceeded the highest expectations; it broke the record of previous years in attendance and enthusiasm. The following short address was read on behalf of the scholars and teachers:—To the Trustees of the Park Street Baptist Church:—

We rejoice with the church and congregation on the recent burning of the mortgage, the purchase of the adjoining lot and the removal of all burden from the present building. Some time ago the school pledged themselves to stand by the trustees in their effort to oput up a new church. We wish you to accept the sum of $80.00 as the 5th donation from the school.

The past three years, since the pastor's coming, have brought great blessing. Many here to-day can witness to the saving power of Jesus. 40 from the membership of the school have been added to the church during that time. "What of the future?" It is kindly veiled and yet we have our Father's promise "Lo I am with you always." May the future be brighter and more gloriously filled with consecrated service for the Master.

Why Wear Glasses?

Just why do your Neighbors—or You—wear Glasses? To see clearly and easily—whether reading, sewing, writing, conversing or walking along the street. Perfect vision, without strain or discomfort, is possible only with perfectly formed eyes. An imperfect eye may see perfectly by exerting great effort. If then you are conscious that you are not seeing easily your eyes are at fault—and, if you are already wearing glasses, they, too, are at fault.

Valuable Silver Vein Discovered In Haliburton

Important Find Made by American Prospector—Mr. McDuff Now Owns a Treasure Land Containing 200 Acres—Ore Tested High in Toronto—To be on Exhibition in Peterborough.

Beneath a few inches of surface soil Mr. McDuff, of Haliburton County, has discovered a treasure which in the opinion of a prospector has changed the owner from a hard working farm labourer to a rich and independent man. Mr. McDuff has already been offered a sum of money equal to many times the value of his property for farming purposes, but he has stoutly refused to sell.

Rich in Silver.

He was in the city on Tuesday on his way home from Toronto where he had taken a quantity of the rock found on his farm for experimental purposes and found that it contained a large percentage of silver. While there he was offered a good many shekels for his land, but would not accept——at least not until further investigations have been made. While in Peterborough Mr. McDuff called upon Mr. Thos. Patterson of Patterson & Co., Simcoe street, and while looking over some samples of rich Cobalt silver ore told the story of his phenomenal find of hte concealed treasure not more than 70 miles north of the city.

Purchased 200 Acres.

Some 20 years ago he purchased a farm containing 200 acres in Haliburton, from the Government at a nominal price for farming purposes. This land lies just north of the northern boundary of Peterborough County and has been scarcely profitable enough to secure for the owner a living.

Last week an American prospector who has been in that district on the lookout for valuable ore, came across Mr. McDuff's property and informed him that he might cease his strenuous labours as he was a rich man. The latter followed his benefactor a short distance and dug a hole in the surface soil finding the rock containing silver and graphite.

A Valuable Farm.

Not only does the small area cleared away by the shovel contain the valuable rock but Mr. McDuff has reason to believe that it is spread over the most of his farm. Investigations which he intends making immediately will reveal the truth of this conjecture.

In a couple of weeks time he will have samples of the ore sent to Mr. Mr. Patterson's office where they will be on exhibition to any who wish to see them.

Should this mine bear out the opinions of the experts who have tested the mineral there is every reason to believe that there will be a Cobalt rush of miners and prospectors to that new found treasure land in the near future.

Mr. McDuff lives near Gooderham, Haliburton County, which place is already greatly excited over the bright prospects in view for its advancement.

Bowmanville Loses Important Industry

Durham Rubber Co's Factory Burned—Loss Will be $40,000—New Company Was to Have Located in the Premises.

Bowmanville, September 5. — The Durham Rubber Company's Works here were almost totally destroyed by fire this morning. The fire brigade could not get to work, as the horses owned by the town were sold last spring, and there was delay in finding another team. By the time the engine was installed at the big tank on King street east, the buildings were beyond salvation. Efforts were confined to saving the business office and surrounding property, in which the firemen did excellent work.

The total loss is estimated to reach $35,000 or $40,000. The buildings were valued at $15,000, the two boilers, presses, washer and other machinery, not yet removed to the new premises on Queen street, at $7,000, and goods, raw material and other things stored in the building at about $15,000.

The fire will not cause much interruption to the operations of the company, as they were pretty well installed in their new buildings on Queen street. The cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion in the compounding room. When William Keyes, the nightwatchman, discovered the smell of smoke, he opened the door and found the place all in a blaze, so that he could not close the door. By the time he had given the alarm the fire had spread to the other rooms.

It will be a serious loss to the town as another manufacturing establishment was negotiating for the property.

The company's loss is pretty well covered by insurance.

This was the first big fire since the burning of the John Mackay, Limited, barley mills, on November 29, 1904.

JACKSON PARK CONTINUES POPULAR

Although the summer is over, there is little indication of it at Jackson Park. Last night the crowd was as large as ever, and the programme was enjoyable. The weather conditions were delightful. The band rendered some tuneful music, and the new pictures were wonderfully realistic and humorous.

How to Get Service.

Toronto News.

A MAN who travels a good deal and who recently visited San Francisco, confides to The Chronicle of that city his method of obtaining the utmost service from waiters.

"Usually when I arrive at a hotel," he said, "I take a $2 and tear it in half. One half I give to the waiter and the other I keep.

"'Now, John,' I say, 'if everything comes along all right, the other half is yours; if not, you don't get it.'

"Usually I get the best of service and the most marked attention. The waiter always has his eye on the other half.

"I find this method to be the best I ever tried."

Two Bears Seen In Otonabee

Examiner Special

Keene, Sept. 6.—Keene sportsmen have been greatly excited the last few days over the appearance of two representatives of the bruin family which were discovered on the farm of Mr. Andrew Nelson a few miles east of here. A number of the sports are taking daily trips to the neighbourhood of their supposed dwelling place, but up to the present their majesties "The Bears" have not been surveyed.

Bears are scarce animals in this district and if the present unfruitful crusade against them continues they will be just as plentiful.

Hear the Quaker Lecture on the Market Square, to-night.

Devil Fish From The Otonabee

Toronto Man Captured a Strange Looking Monster.

A party of Toronto gentlemen spent Tuesday night at the Snowden House after an outing down the Otonabee River at Wedlock's. The party consisted of Messrs. G. N. Fulton, J. O. Goodsell, A. W. Seagram, John J. Rose and B. H. Bennett.

Mr. Rose while fishing caught a member of the finny tribe which has previously been unknown to exist in local or any other waters and took the prize back to Toronto as a curio. It had two ugly, lengthy horns protruding from its head and a peculiar head which gave it somewhat of the appearance of a devil fish. Neither Mr. Wedlock or any of the party had ever seen the genus before and are unable to discover the name.

The party had excellent luck at fishing and duck shooting, and were greatly pleased with the scenery of the Otonabee.

Body Of Missing Boy Was Found In The Lindsay Lock

Garfield Barjarow Who Disappeared From Home on Saturday Found Drowned—Supposed to Have Fallen Off the Steps.

LOST—A little boy, 7 years old, answering to the name of Garfield Barjarow. He had a blue blouse with white anchor spot on it, buttoned up the right hand side, dark pants, boots and stockings, no hat; missing since Saturday night at 5 o'clock. Information of the whereabouts of the child will be thankfully received. Frank Barjarow, Lindsay street north.—dtf.

The lad's parents were very anxious concerning the boy's whereabouts, and the supposition was advanced by many that the lad must have fallen into the river. He was last seen standing at the wharf Saturday evening just as the Esturion was pulling out for Sturgeon Point. Another rumour had it that he was seen last at the Grand Trunk depot, but not much faith was put in the latter story.

This morning about 10 o'clock, as Ald. Rea was passing his launch, the Neptune, through the lock on Lindsay street, he noticed a body in the water, and, with Mr. Cullon's aid, it was raised by means of a rope.

The face of the victim was badly bruised in several places, and it is thought that the blows were received in bumping against the locks, the force of the rushing water near the outlets being sufficient. Many think that the lad fell in off the steps on the west side of the bridge.

Coroner Blanchard, on investigation, decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Barjarow, the parents of the deceased, formerly resided in Lindsay, but now live at Victoria Road, and young Barjarow lived with his sister, Mrs. Andrew Miller. Mrs. Barjarow was a frequent visitor to town and visited her daughter last week.

Mr. F. D. Mackay Is Vice-President

Of the Independent Telephone Association Which Met Yesterday.

At the first annual convention of the Canadian Independent Telephone Association in Toronto yesterday Mr. F. D. MacKay, the local manager of the Machine Telephone Company was elected Vice-President.

It was also decided at this meeting that the Canadian and American Associations be affiliated.

Hon. Colin Campbell, of Manitoba, who was in the city last night looking at the Machine 'Phone, was present at the meeting and believed that it would not be long before Governments would find it in their interest to become directly concerned in the needs of independent lines. The Manitoba Government was now ready to extend aid to these lines, and had taken up the independent movement, but the Dominion authorities had not accorded them the support which they should extend. It was not a political movement, and he wanted it to go on.

Mr. Campbell stated that long-distance lines should be owned by the Government, and as far as possible, municipalities should own the local exchanges. Next December the Manitoba municipalities would be asked to vote on the question.

A CRITICAL PERIOD

INTELLIGENT WOMEN PREPARE

Dangers and Pain of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason?

If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dread of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Madame Louis Bellegu of 17 Ramsay St., Quebec, Que., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound assisted me to pass the change of life with but very little sickness and pain, and I am pleased to give it my endorsement, for I feel that it is the medicine which every woman should take. I am the mother of three children, and when I reached the age of fifty, naturally my health was none too good, and I feel sure that if I had not taken your Vegetable Compound I should not have passed the climax safely. I took it off and on for two years and now find that I am in splendid health and strength and feel younger and better than I did ten years ago. Much praise to your medicine, and may all suffering women learn of its value."

For special advice regarding this important period, women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. She is a daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful to ailing women.

MILK INSPECTION.

It is something of a novelty to have Belleville surpassing Peterborough, in enterprise, but a notable circumstance is that the City of the Bay, as it poetically describes itself, has gained a lap upon our own usually alert Board of Health, and City Council. Belleville has decided upon an Isolation Hospital, and selected a site, and in that respect is not in advance of Peterborough, but in looking after the city's milk supply, it is in advance. In Belleville, new laboratories and offices have been established for the Medical Health Officer, who, reports state, tests all milk supplied to that city. But Belleville, thanks to Alderman McIntyre, if his initative is properly and promptly supported, will not be much ahead of us, in one of the most important matters that can engage the attention of a Board of Health. At this season of the year, infant mortality is greatest, as the little mounds being shaped so numerously in the Little Lake cemetery, day after day, testify. That a pure supply of milk is necessary for the healthy nurture of infants, needs no asserting. Without rigid inspection, which argues license to bring milk dealers under control, our city supply of milk cannot be of known satisfactory quality. Milk dealers are neither more dishonest, nor, it may be safely said, more honest, than any other class of dealers in food supplies, and the necessity of inspection is always present. That is not possible; some dealers are not licensed, inspection is not practicable. The action of Alderman McIntyre is timely, and one that the Examiner has been advocating in the public interests for a long time. If the milkmen supplying the city are licensed, then they are brought under the jurisdiction of the health authorities, and steps can be legally taken to procure tests, and examination of the source of milk supply. As remarked frequently, our milk dealers may be all honest, and, again, there may be some among them who are careless in the matter of cleanliness of utensils, stables, etc., and there is the additional risk that some of them may use chemical preservatives to keep milk sweet, as far as acidity is concerned, but which may, as has been the case in Brantford, and other places, consist of the embalming fluid, such as undertakers use to preserve corpses. Honest milk dealers, which may, for all that is known, include all of them in Peterborough, need fear nothing from the most rigid scrutiny of their milk, but the possible dishonest dealer will be exposed by a proper system of inspection and test.

The recent revelations of rottenness, in the preparation of meats, by the Chicago packers, gives one a shuddering idea of the possibilities of impurity that may be imported into our milk, and other food supplies. It is to be hoped that Alderman McIntyre will press his action, and that his fellow-members of the city council will promptly co-operate with him in providing for licensing milk dealers, and thus bringing them directly under the surveillance of the local Board of Health, which, it is hoped, will, in turn, take equally prompt and effective measures, to ensure the purity of our supply of milk, which, of all articles of food, is the most susceptible of deterioration by the use of improper methods and a neglect of cleanliness. Short measure and dilution with water, are trifling matters, compared with noxious bacterial or chemical pollution

SITES AND SITES.

The site of the Normal School has been selected by the Education department and another burning question has been quenched. While the Examiner is not called upon to question the wisdom of the selection made, it may be mentioned that so far as the site in the abstract is concerned, it is admirable—high, dry, secluded and permitting of fine grounds—with splendid tree growth—such as a building of its character should have surrounding it. It may however, be also mentioned that the School Board and Government in regard to accessibility to school population—in the matter of site for the South Smith and North Monaghan Normal School and South Ward Public School, respectively—seem to be in brisk competition with honours about even. At least, that is the way the matter is regarded by many with a large and lively interest in the educational welfare of the city. The fact that the site selected will involve a large expenditure to fit the North Ward School, for its required relation to the Normal School, will stand some consideration, especially in view of the fact that the present Collegiate Institute building is seriously crowded, in fact, overcrowded, in some departments, and in view of the further fact that others of our public school buildings demand improvements for the accommodation of the normally tributary school population. In some respects the site for the Normal School could not be improved; in other respects it might be more desirably located. But we must accept the situation—and the site, and now that that matter is disposed of, give our best attention to other urgent demands upon our activity in promoting the interests of popular education.

Whitney Government's Astonishing Action

Toronto Star.

Cobalt, Ont., Sept. 1.—The news was given out last night that a local syndicate had leased from the Ontario Government the Hound Chute The Notch, both water powers on the Montreal River. The Notch is one of the best water powers in the whole of New Ontario, and is only 24 miles from Cobalt, while The Hound Chute lease is only four miles away. The Chute lease is through the Municipality of Haileybury, and the syndicate have made an agreement with that town, which was previously granted this power. Very great surprise is expressed locally that syndicate lease of these powers, in view of the frequent assertions made in the Legislature that the powers were to be reserved.

We had a great deal of horn-blowing over the patriotic determination of the Whitney Government to take a decided stand in regard to protecting the public interest. They were to give Government exploitation of Provincial utilities, develop mines and water powers. This promise, instead of being kept, or instead of an attempt to keep it, has been set aside by graft concessions, such as the Murphy syndicate deal, the Healey Falls power lease, and now The Notch power on the Montreal River, mentioned above.

The Government should have given a

Otonabee Pioneer Has Passed Away

Wm. Conrie, a Resident of 72 Years, Died at Keene.

Examiner Special.

Keene, Sept. 6.—One of Peterborough County's pioneer residents passed away this morning in the person of Wm. Comrie, of Keene, at the ripe old age of 87 years. The deceased whose death was due to his advanced years was born in Comrie, Scotland, the same year as the late Queen. He came out to Canada 72 years ago in company with the late well known gentlemen, Duncan Drummond, Peter MacGregor, James and John Miller, who settled in Otonabee and who were all survived by the late Mr. Comrie. He was probably one of the best known residents of, not only Otonabee, but of the County and was a man highly respected by all acquaintances.

His wife predeceased him some 12 years ago. A family of eight survive him, three sons and five daughters. They are, William, on the Otonabee homestead; John, of Toronto; Alexander, of Keene; Mrs. R. Byram, Lang; Mrs. F. Redpath, Otonabee; Mrs. Hugh Gillespie and Mrs. Easson, of Peterborough, and Miss Nellie, at home.

The exact date of the funeral has not yet been learned, but it is probable it will be held on Saturday afternoon to the Keene Cemetery.

Food For The Growing Child

Whole-Grain Preparations Declared of Greatest Value In Development of Body and Mind.

"The growing child especially needs those elements that are found in whole grain preparations," says the writer of a recent magazine article on 'The Best Foods for Growing Children.'

Malta-Vita is the perfect whole wheat food, rich in every nutritive element demanded by the body of the child and just as healthful and strengthening for the child's parents and older sisters and brothers. Being a pure grain product,—simply the whole of the best white wheat and a little salt, mixed with pure barley malt extract—Malta-Vita supplies the body with all those food elements which make bone, blood, muscle and brain and bring perfect health.

The malt extract is added after the wheat has been thoroughly cooked and steamed and converts the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar, which is highly nutritious and easily assimilated even by very weak stomachs. Physicians recommend maltose for its strength-giving qualities and Malta-Vita is rich in it. After being treated with the malt extract, the wheat, rolled into little wafer flakes, goes to the ovens, where it is baked crisp and brown, delicious beyond description. All grocers, now 10 cents.

IRON MAKES NEW BLOOD

There is more or less mystery and doubt as to the specific action of many drugs, but it is positively and definitely known that iron forms new red corpuscles in the blood, or, in other words, makes the blood rich and nourishing.

But iron alone cannot be taken into a delicate stomach. The great secret of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is in the way iron is combined with certain other restoratives so as to make a preparation that can be used with the greatest benefit by even the most weak and delicate person.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is also slightly laxative as well as tonic in influence, and while building up the system, insures the regular and healthful action of the digestive, filtering and excretory systems.

If you would enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves and replace weakness and disease with health and vigour, use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food; 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.—L.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Sept. 6.—The market responded to-day to the news of Government relief for money by extension of facilities for gold imports. This should prevent a stringency. Amal. Copper was very strong advancing over a point while Union Pac., Reading, Atchison, and the Steels were heavily bought at advancing prices.

The market was a big, active affair and advanced without interruption from the opening to the close. Money was high early but at the close had dropped to six percent. It looks now, with the money situation relieved that stocks will be held and put higher and we advise purchases of Copper and the Steels on any recession. The close was at the best of the day.

Kinmount Fair Held Next Week

Two Strange, Armed Cattle—Buyers Pass Through Galway.

Examiner Special.

Galway, September 3rd. — The public school of Galway, has re-opened for the fall term.

The farmers of Galway had great difficulty in cutting their grain this season on account of the severe storms, but the majority finished last week.

The C. O. F. held an at home ball at Kinmount last Friday night, and a large number attended from here and report having had a good time.

The barns of Mr. Hickey and Mr. Morgan, which were blown down by the hurricane about a month ago, have been temporarily repaired to protect this years crops.

Mr. Maurice Hickey is visiting his father, in Lakefield, this week.

Mr. Michael Pearson returned home from North Bay a week ago Saturday.

The sheds of the Galway Catholic church, which were partly destroyed by the storm, are being torn down, and the grounds being made level. New fences will be erected. The work was commenced this morning and it is thought that it will be completed by Saturday next.

The fall fair of Kinmount will be held next Monday and Tuesday, when the bushrangers generally gather and have a day with their friends before they depart for the woods.

Mrs. B. Craig of Grand Rapids, Mich., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. Dalton.

Mrs. R. Burns of Grand Rapids, Mich., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. Allen, sr.

The western wheat fields take a large number of the sturdy men of Galway. Among those lately gone west are Messrs. Michael Collins and James Dalton, who have taken up land south of Edmonton.

Two very strange cattle buyers passed through the settlement this week. They were armed, and usually pass the night in an open air camp by the roadside. The farmers in whose vicinity they are would do well to keep a sharp eye on them.

The local sheep buyer reports the lambs of Galway to be very small this year caused, it is thought, by the damp weather we have had.

Miss E. Doherty of Galway is in Toronto this week.

ANOTHER TORY BUBBLE BURST

Toronto Globe.

Another Tory bubble has burst. Curiously enough, the pin-prick that caused it to vanish was given by one of Mr. Whitney's colleagues, who does not yet seem to understand that he is flying in the face of the declared policy of his chief. It will be remembered that during the election campaign Mr. Whitney, in terms befitting the Boanerges of politics, denounced the Government's policy of leasing water power. Explicitly he declared that the white coal of Niagara must be "free as air." That and the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission last session were taken to mean that hereafter the commission would develop and operate water powers for the public benefit, and would eliminate the profits of the middleman, the private power companies controlling public water powers and selling electric energy at monopoly prices. The World only yesterday voiced the belief of this element in the Tory party when it said:

"We actually have in office in Ontario to-day a Government that is pledged to keep this white coal for the people."

The World admits that the "white coal barons," most of whom, by the way, are good Tories, are sitting up at nights to try and prevent public operation of water powers. It expresses some doubts as to the Government's position in view of Hon. Frank Cochrane's action in leasing Healey's Falls, one of the most important sources of power on the Trent system, to a private corporation for a long term of years, instead of turning the falls over to the Hydro-Electric Commission to be developed by and for the various municipalities interested, but awaits an explanation.

Regulation not Operation.

The explanation followed fast on the heels of the request. Mr. Cochrane, whose words will be found further on, says in effect that Healey's Falls were turned over to a private corporation because it had the money in hand for immediate development. He sees no reason for the taking over of water powers for direct public operation so long as the Government, either directly or through the commission, reserves the control of rates. In a word, Mr. Cochrane waives aside the swing of the party standing for direct operation, makes faces at the white coal baron cry, and plants himself on a platform of "regulation, not operation."

No wonder Mr. Whitney is hastening back from Europe. One can almost hear the whirr of the grindstone on the premises of the Man with the Knife.

Other Foes to Meet.

If, however, Mr. Cochrane thinks that he has only The Globe and The World to reckon with, as he appears to believe, he is mightily mistaken. The following letter of protest was received by The Globe yesterday from Brighton. It is signed by John Gunyo, Reeve; Robert Wade and Dr. A. W. Stinson, Councillors, constituting a special committee of Brighton Council on power supply. They say:

"In an article which appeared in your issue on September 1, and also on September 3, it is stated that the deputation from Brighton which waited on the Hydro-Electric Power Commission a few days ago with a request for electric power for Brighton, were indignant because the Northumberland - Durham Power Company had been granted a lease of Healey's Falls. We confess that we do not quite understand why a lease was granted at such a recent date to a joint stock company in direct opposition to the declared purpose of the Government. We were given to understand through the public press, the report of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, and by the addresses made on the floor of the House, that it was the intention of the Government to develop Healey's Falls and other auxiliary powers, and transmit electrical power to all the lake towns from Whitby to Kingston, inclusive, at the lowest possible cost.

They Regret to Learn.

"We regret to learn that a lease has been granted to a joint stock company for the purpose of developing the above named power to the advantage and profit of the N. D. P. Co., without any consideration of the rights of the people to receive cheap electrical power. This seems unfortunate, inasmuch as the commission acknowledge in their report that experience shows that where distribution of power is controlled by private corporations, the distribution area remains restricted, and that the tendency of private corporations has been not to compete for business, and thus keep down prices, but to amalgamate or otherwise destroy competition and keep up the price of electrical power.

"Your correspondent from Cobourg in your issue of September 1st, expresses surprise that there should be any dissatisfaction among the members of the Brighton council, inasmuch as the president of the N. D. P. Co., Mr. Samuel Nesbitt, is a native of Brighton. We have only to say that we have no quarrel with the president or any other member of the company, but we wish to state that Mr. Nesbitt does not represent the interests of the municipality in any manner, and that the council had the question of cheap electrical power under consideration, and had a committee appointed to make a formal application to the Hydro-Electric Company before the N. D. P. Co. was formed.

Quote the Promises of Spring.

"In clause eight of the act to provide for the transmission of electrical power to municipalities, it is stated that after the execution of such contract, and its approval by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, the commission may proceed to transmit and deliver to the municipal corporation electrical power or energy to the extent mentioned in such contract, and the municipal corporation may receive, use, supply and distribute such electrical power or energy upon such terms and subject to such conditions as to rates and otherwise as the commission may from time to time prescribe.

"Are we given now to understand that this power is taken out of the hands of the commission and given to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council or, as the Globe put it, the Ministry of the day, thus making it more difficult to procure the advantages proposed by the Government? We have only to add that we as a committee of the Brighton Council, are opposed to a lease being granted, and that it is our purpose to communicate with and do now extend an invitation to all municipalities from Kingston to Whitby to co-operate with us in carrying out the original intention of the Government, and not allow any joint stock company, to infringe upon our rights."

The Minister's Answer.

Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines, was shown the letter from the representatives of the Brighton Council. He took exception to two or three things in the letter, which, he claimed, were based on a wrong conception or a misunderstanding of the act. The Government never promised to develop power at Healey's Falls, or any other place. So far as Hon. Mr. Cochrane was concerned, the act was being followed as closely as possible and any criticism of the lease given to the Northumberland-Durham Power Company, was based on a misunderstanding of the act.

Go to the Company.

"Why don't the Brighton council apply to the Northumberland-Durham Company for power?" the Minister asked. "Then if they cannot arrange matters satisfactorily let them apply to the commission." Hon. Mr. Cochrane said that many Brighton citizens had expressed themselves as pleased at the lease being given to the company.

High Praise For Machine Telephone Company System

Attorney-General Campbell, of Manitoba, Says it is the Best He Has Ever Seen—Talks of Municipal Ownership Issue in Manitoba.

Hon. C. H. Campbell, Winnipeg, Attorney General of Manitoba, accompanied by Dr. Hicks, M. P. P., for Lansdowne, Man., and Mr. F. Dagger the well known telephone expert employed by the Manitoba Government, were in the city last night inspecting the Canadian Machine Telephone system. They were shown the details of the mechanism by Mr. F. D. McKay, the General Manager of the Company, and were delighted with the system.

Mr. Campbell when interviewed by an Examiner reporter stated that he had seen several systems but that the one in operation here was superior to all others. In it the defects that were met in machine 'phones were eliminated and in simplicity of operation and clearness, the Canadian Machine 'Phone was in advance of all that he had seen anywhere. He was very much impressed with the machine.

Mr. Campbell has been attending the convention of the Independent Telephone Companies at Toronto at which Mr. F. D. McKay was also present, and was willing to discuss the municipal ownership of telephones, which is a live issue in the West just now. The question will be submitted to the people on the second Tuesday in December as to whether they are in favour of municipal ownership and operation of telephones or not. Every municipality will vote on the question. The Government propose to give a trunk line service connecting the municipalities, the local service being conducted by the municipalities themselves. All the municipal conventions, according to the Attorney General, have expressed themselves as being in favour of the scheme, but the feeling of the electors in the matter remains to be seen.

Speaking of municipal ownership in general, Mr. Campbell said, that wherever it had been tried in the West either in connection with telephone, electric light or water works it had proved most successful.

Mr. Campbell and party left this morning for Toronto.

An Old Proverb With a New Application.

The woods are full of "so-called" remedies for baldness.

You may call anything in creation a remedy, but to use them is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen.

Baldness and dandruff are caused by a germ—if you don't kill the germ the germ will kill the hair.

Scientists have laboured with the problem of a preventative for baldness for many years.

Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure dandruff and prevent baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.

Herpicide is a valuable hair dressing and scalp disinfectant, as well as a cure for dandruff.

Wheel Barrow A Patrol Waggon

Workmen and Police Officer Find It Useful for Both Offices.

The new East City "patrol waggon" was used for the first time the other night when one of the police officers was called upon to gather in a drunken man who could or would not walk to the police station. When the employees of Messrs. King and Sherwood, contractors, who are building stone work on Burnham street, began looking for their mortar wheelbarrow the next morning it seems to have suddenly evaporated and disappeared among the ethereal bodies.

Inquiry led to the fact that it was at the police station, but that no information had yet been sworn out against it.

The barrow had been utilized as a patrol cart.

New Directors Of The Star Of The East Mine

Mr. R. J. Munro, of Peterborough, is One of the Nine—637,991 Votes Were Taken—Treasurer's Report of Development Received—Large Amount Subscribed to Take up Bonus and Bond Stock.

An important gathering of gentlemen interested in the Star of the East Gold Mine was held yesterday morning and afternoon in the Sons of England Hall, at which the new directors of the Company were elected. This was a meeting of the shareholders of the Company who besides electing directors, considered many other questions of importance. As an indication of the extent of the business of the Star of the East Mine it is stated that 637,991 shareholders voted yesterday either in person or by proxy.

Local Man a Director.

Peterborough is honoured by the election of Mr. Robt. J. Munro as one of the new directors, the remainder of whom are J. K. Dale, and I. H. Dale, of Franklin, Pa.; J. R. Steele, C. M. Conad and Warren O. Innis, of Oil City, Pa.; Geo. F. Smith, Thos. Houlette and Henry Lookey, Pittsburg.

The report of the Secretary-Treasurer was read by Mr. Steele of the expenditures since a year ago.

Large Quantity of Ore.

The treasurer informed the Examiner last night that there is fully ten times as much ore in sight now in their mines as there was when the new company took hold of the mines and also intimated that the company was determined to make them profitable. Some changes in the process of manufacturing were contemplated, he said, which when carried out would be conducive to a smaller expenditure.

Another important matter decided yesterday at the meeting was the subscription of $6,000 by several members of the company to take up the bonus and bond stock.

Mr. Steele predicted a great future for the Star of the East Mine and stated that the men from Pennsylvania were going to learn everything about mining as well as all about oil manufacturing.

Among others present were Wm. Leahy, Lakefield, and B. H. Miller of Oil City.

Police Court Again Has Many Law-Breakers

Five Faced the Magistrate This Morning — Treasury Enriched by $10—John Mulhall Remanded on Assault Charge—Garden Thieves Nipped in the Act.

The cells at the police station were again almost all occupied last night, and the Magistrate was called upon to inquire into the misconduct of a quintette of visitors. Convictions were made in every case but one, which will be heard to-morrow morning by Magistrate Dumble. The city treasury was fattened by $10 being eight more than yesterday.

Became a Nuisance.

Willis, a young American, employed in one of the city factories, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in a street car. He had struck one of the occupants in the car and made himself a general nuisance while there. He pleaded guilty, and the Magistrate imposed a fine of $2, to be paid forthwith. The fine was paid.

Resisted Arrest.

Another occupant of one of the cells was John Mulhall, who was gathered in, drunk and disorderly, by P. C's Meharry and Newhall. Mulhall resisted arrest and gave the officers a lively time in rounding him up. He assaulted P. C. Newhall, and had to answer to this as well as the other charge this morning. He pleaded guilty to the drunk charge, and for this was assessed $2, to be paid forthwith. Magistrate Armstrong remanded him until to-morrow morning on the assault charge.

Robbed a Tomato Garden.

Three young lads, none over 17 years of age, were arraigned before the Magistrate for the theft of tomatoes from the garden of Ernest Saunders, North Monaghan. P. C. Newhall was responsible for the arrest, having followed the boys up and caught two of them, — Thomas Mundon and Clifford Pitchford— in the act. Herbert Bellegbom ran away, but the officer aroused him from his feathery bed this morning at 1 o'clock, and he appeared with his pals. All pleaded guilty, and were fined $2 each, to be paid forthwith, or 10 days in jail. The fines were paid.

Harvest Home Festival Of The Salvation Army

An important feature, in connection with the annual Harvest Home Festival of the city Salvation Army corps, which will take place on Sept. 22nd to Sept. 25th, inclusive, will be the welcome to the newly appointed Brigadier for this district, Brigadier Hargraves. The welcome will be given at the barracks on Saturday evening, September 22nd, and on the following Sunday the Brigadier will conduct the special Harvest Festival services. The barracks will be profusely decorated with trophies of field, garden and orchard fruits, and the entire series of services will be of special interest and profit. Particulars will be given in these columns from time to time.

Membership Tickets For Peterborough Industrial

Public Will be Asked to Buy Them—Notes of the Big Fair Dog Races a New Feature—Mr. Yelland's Generosity.

A meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair was held last night in the Bank of Commerce Chambers, when further arrangements were made for the big show on September 25-26. Committees were appointed to wait upon the public generally, for the purpose of selling membership tickets. These will be sold at $1, and will admit the holder to the grounds and grandstand on both days. It is to be hoped that the public will liberally respond to this appeal, as it will do much to make the fair a success.

Mr. Wm. Yelland has offered three prizes of $3, $2 and $1 each for a novel and interesting speeding contest, nothing less than a race between dogs, driven by their boy owners. It's up to the boys now to get the canines in shape for this event, which will certainly cause a lot of excitement and interest.

The King's Daughters of St. John's Church have arranged to have a refreshment tent on the grounds, so that the public may be assured of getting an appetizing meal at any time during the two days.

From present indications the Peterborough Industrial should be the most successful in years. Inquiries as to prize lists are pouring in. In fact, never before has there been such a demand for prize lists. This is considered a favourable sign by the directors.

Board Of Health To Take Up The Pure Milk Question

Will Have Peterborough Milk Supply Tested — Matter of Vital Importance—Inspection of Bakeries Will Also Be Considered.

The Board of Health will take up the question of the inspection of Peterborough's milk supply, the first step being an analysis of samples of the milk that is being furnished to consumers in this city.

The Public Health Act gives the Medical Health Officer authority to do this, and it is likely that it will be carried out at once. A meeting of the Board was called for this morning, but, as usual, there was not a quorum present, and no business was transacted. The members present were Mr. William Eyres, chairman, and Dr. Burnham.

The question of milk supply was discussed, and it was pointed out that an inspection was needed, for the sake of the public generally, and of the little ones in particular. The question of having pure milk for little children is one of vital importance and the Board is going to make use of the authority conferred upon them by the Health Act to see that the milk shall be as pure as possible.

The inspection of bakeries was also discussed and it is probable that a resolution covering this will be introduced at the next meeting of the Board to be held on Monday next.

Special Prizes At The Exhibition

Proprietors of Gradicator Offer $100 For Best Foals.

The proprietors of the stallion, Gradicator, have offered special prizes at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition for the best foal of 1906, sired by Gradicator. One hundred dollars in all is offered, the prizes being divided as follows:

First prize, $60.
Second prize, $25.
Third prize, $15.

There is a good chance for the farmers of the district, and there will likely be a large entry in this class.

All Fall Fair Grafters Cut Out

Cane Rack and Knife Board Men Only Allowed On Grounds.

A large number of requests are being received by the Department of Agriculture from parties who would like to operate games of chance of one kind and another, at the fall exhibitions. These people seem anxious to find what games are against the law and what lines are permissible. It is stated by Superintendent H. B. Cowan that, according to the new act governing agricultural societies, no mention is made of knife or cane stands, but all form of drawing numbers from envelopes, games which have been very popular at many exhibitions lately, are against the law. The Department intends to be very strict this year in prosecuting violations of the act relating to games of chance at exhibitions. It is felt that sufficient warning has been given to these characters during the past two years, to have taught them a lesson, and therefore, any parties arrested this year will be prosecuted as severely as possible.

DELIGHTS OF THE INDOOR SEASON

The summer outing season is over and has given place, or is giving place, to indoor enjoyments. Among these, music, rationally employed, is the most delightful and refreshing. Last night at a city residence a delightful evening, which may serve as a sample of what the indoor season may be made to mean, was spent by a few guests. Mr. John Ball, of Buffalo, a most capable vocalist, and Miss Emmeline Miller, of Toronto, an accomplished pianiste, chanced to be present, and, as both are good musicians, there was no inane hesitancy in providing a splendid informal programme of good music, splendidly presented. Mr. Ball in arias from grand opera, and songs by standard composers, sung with skill, spirit and sympathy, and Miss Miller in compositions of Chopin, Liszt, Wagner, Rubenstein, etc., who played with fine execution, tone and finish, furnished an hour of rare enjoyment. Both are musicians of exceptional ability, and this, coupled with the character of the music presented, gave some idea of the delights of music attuned to the conceptions of the greatest genius, and interpreted by capable and sympathetic musicians. A soiree, thus spent, is to be the more appreciated from the fact that we have in Peterborough no suitable hall available, without restriction, for musical entertainments. The opera house cannot be surpassed as a concert hall, but it was not built for that purpose, and, as a matter of legitimate business, the claims of dramatic performances must have precedence over purely musical entertainments.

Protectionism Recognized To Be Prolific Source

Of Political Corruption and Moral Degradation.

FARMERS SCORE PROTECTION

Dr. Goldwin Smith Addresses the Association—Farmers Not Yet Satisfied With the Action of Parliament Regarding Salary Increase — Co-operation of Labor Bodies of Canada Asked For—Officers.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—The last sitting of the Ontario Farmers' Association was held yesterday morning at Victoria Hall.

The following resolutions were submitted and carried:

Condemn Indemnity Act.

"That this association reiterate its previous emphatic condemnation of the indemnity and pension legislation of 1905, and call upon the Federal Government to rescind the whole act."

"That we heartily approve of the position taken by the executive committee of this association before the Tariff Commission last November, and that recognizing protectionism to be a prolific source of political corruption and moral degradation of our national life, as well as unjust to the great masses of the Canadian people. We strongly re-affirm our belief that the tariff should be revised in a downward direction with a view to eliminate wholly the protective principle."

"That the resolutions passed by this association be formally conveyed to the Labor Congress, to be held at Victoria, B. C., and that the congress be requested to co-operate with the Farmers' Association in presenting the tariff question to the Federal Government."

Dr. Goldwin Smith.

Dr. Goldwin Smith addressed the convention, and in the course of his speech mentioned that a member of the United States House of Representatives had recently called upon him and enquired as to the feeling of the people of this country with reference to trade relations with the United States. He had replied that any reasonable proposition would be fairly considered by the farmers of the country. He expected a proposition would be made to Canada at no distant date, and he hoped the farmers would consider it favorably.

The Officers.

The following were the officers elected for the ensuing year: President, Jas. McEwing, Wellington; vice-president, J. W. Wyatt, Prince Edward; secretary-treasurer, W. L. Smith; directors, W. C. Good, Brant; J. W. Kennedy, Glengarry.

Wait on the Government.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the association waited upon the Ontario Government, which was represented by Hon. Mr. Hanna, Hon. Mr. Monteith and Hon. Mr. Cochrane. The visitors, headed by President McEwing, were about 35 strong and very much in earnest, both in approving some legislative acts and in expressing disapprobation of others.

Mr. McEwing, introducing the deputation said that while some of the Government measures were approved, others were thought wrong and should be righted.

J. W. Hyatt, Prince Edward, was called on to explain the attitude of the visitors on railway taxation.

"Taxation, we believe, should be on agricultural lines," declared Mr. Hyatt, who spoke of large grants made by the Government and the country for a railway line. The people believed there should be one basis of taxation for all land.

Hull, Que., Sept. 6.—Maniwaki was terribly shocked Tuesday by the accidental shooting of Arthur, the 16-year-old son of Dr. T. D. S. Fontaine of that place.

The gun that did the deed was in the hands of a man named Charlebois, whose assistance the unfortunate victim had invoked when the shell-ejector of the little 22-calibre squirrel rifle refused to work. Charlie Lougue, aged 15, who was hunting with young Fontaine, stood beside Mr. Charlebois and Arthur stood in front.

When the refractory mechanism was righted young Lougue thrust a new cartridge in and the weapon was discharged, the bullet entering the boy's abdomen. He died fifteen minutes afterwards.

Startling Are The Stories of Monarch Life

TELEPHONE RESOLUTIONS

Loose Methods of Management Revealed by Witnesses to Dominion Insurance Commission—Vice-President Signed Stock Certificates of Manager on the Morning of the Investigation—Hon. R. Rogers.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Some odd occurrences in connection with the management of the Monarch Life came to light at yesterday's session of the Insurance Commission. Mr. Ostrom, Hon. Robert Rogers of Winnipeg and a vice-president, and T. H. Graham, another vice-president, were witnesses. President Gordon will be a witness to-day.

Mr. Rogers declared that he did not see how the company could now be doing business at Toronto, as an adjourned meeting of the shareholders, to be held in Winnipeg, had never been held.

Mr. Tilley told of a directors' meeting held Aug. 9. This Mr. Rogers did not attend, being notified only on the same day. There was another meeting called by some of the directors for Aug. 10. On Aug. 9 the head office was transferred to Toronto, but this was never mentioned on Aug. 10.

Mr. Rogers said that names of directors elected March 21 were omitted and other names substituted. The shareholders on March 21 postponed the sanctioning of the transfer of 1,400 shares to Manager Ostrom, pending consideration by the directors. The executive was to meet with Mr. Rogers to discuss the matter, but never did so. In April they confirmed the transfer, in a resolution setting forth that the shareholders had already passed favorably upon it, which was not the case.

Mysterious 'Phone Orders.

Vice-President Graham admitted in the box that he had signed the stock certificates transferred instead of the president, because he was "in the habit" of signing; he also admitted that he had done so without authority of the shareholders, but said he thought it was Mr. Ostrom's right to have them. He further admitted that he did not sign the certificates until 9.30 a. m., Tuesday, just before the Commission sat. They were sent to his office, and he received a 'phone order to sign them; he swore he could not say from whom. He told of Mr. Ostrom, the manager, taking him out of the court room yesterday morning and sounding him as to what his evidence would be, suggesting that he had signed the certificates "since coming from Winnipeg." The witness told Ostrom that he would tell exactly when he affixed the signatures.

Mr. Graham also told of having been called up over the telephone to confirm minutes which were not all read to him. Indeed, he was down in them as moving and seconding resolutions of which he knew nothing.

Mr. Graham and Mr. Rogers did not agree as to who is first and who second vice-presidents. Mr. Wilson, the secretary, says that in his draft minutes the Winnipeg man had the honor; the typewritten minutes give it to the other.

Ostrom's Certificate.

Mr. Ostrom was recalled at the morning session. Referring to the transfers of the fourteen shares, witness said that President Gordon signed some of them at the Toronto office. The remainder he took to Winnipeg. These were blank certificates. He was going to get them signed there. The only certificate for one hundred shares signed by President Gordon he had forgotten to bring.

Hon. Robt. Rogers of Winnipeg was the next witness. He was one of the original permanent board of directors of the Monarch Life, and had attended but one meeting last March. He did not know prior to the shareholders' meeting where Ostrom got off at. A couple of days prior to the meeting, however, he received a notice that the matter of transfer of 1,400 shares would be one of the items of business. A directors' meeting was held immediately after the shareholders' meeting. The first step was to change the head office from Toronto to Winnipeg.

To Mr. Tilley witness said: "If it were necessary to have my consent to the transfer to Ostrom for his copyrights, that consent was never given by me."

The meeting of the eastern directors on the 9th of August passed a resolution to remove the head office back to Toronto. Witness did not know this. He attended a meeting called by the western directors on the 10th of August. This was a long meeting. The directorate was an important item of business. Two names, Messrs. Burns and Lane of Winnipeg were left off. Two names, Messrs. Alfred Brunet and Gonzolve Desaillmiers on the list of directors, were not elected at all.

Mr. Rogers volunteered the information that stock was subscribed for Monarch Life shares on the distinct understanding that the head office was to be in Winnipeg.

Signed Without Knowing.

Witness told of the bringing up of the purchase of the copyrights and the handing over of 1,400 shares to Ostrom for same. The president made a positive statement that these transfers had not been issued. He had signed one transfer for 90 shares, not knowing that it was part of the 1,400 shares. This transfer was not in effect. Ostrom and Vice-President Graham were present and did not contradict this. He was unaware that the stock had been issued, signed partly by Mr. Gordon and Mr. Graham. Mr. Ostrom's contract for remuneration was not fully decided on as far as witness knew.

The active operations of the company were to be commenced in Winnipeg. Witness did not see how the company could have commenced business issuing policies when at the March meeting the matter was left in abeyance until the 10th of August, when a meeting of the directors would be held to place all matters in shape before the ball started rolling.

T. H. Graham, L. D. S. of Toronto, vice-president of the company, was called. He had signed several stock certificates, some in Ostrom's name and some in blank. These were signed in witness' office. He was unaware that the president had left some blank certificates signed in case Ostrom was away. He had also signed certain agreements with Ostrom. He could not tell exactly when these were signed. The agreements were signed sometime during the last two weeks. The transfers were signed at different times.

Certificates Signed Tuesday.

Witness signed all of these certificates Tuesday morning at 9.30. He did not have any talk with Ostrom about the matter at all. Ostrom had tried to get them signed before witness went to Winnipeg, but he was too busy to sign them.

"You knew that the shareholders did not want him to get these certificates?"

"I believe so," answered witness. "I knew that I was doing something yesterday morning they did not want done."

"On what authority did you sign these certificates?"

"I was in the habit of signing certificates."

"What did Mr. Ostrom say to you when he took you out of the court-room."

"He said to tell I signed certificates after I came back from Winnipeg. I said that I would tell I signed them yesterday. He said very well. When I signed the agreements I did not read them. I don't know why I signed them."

John I. Sutcliffe was put in the box next. He was the auditor of the Monarch Life since March. He helped prepare the statement for obtaining the Dominion license. Up to March he was supervisor of the bookkeepers. Since that he was auditor, but had not been asked for more than a general statement.

Mr. Vansickle, the bookkeeper since May 18 last, was the first witness at the afternoon session. To his knowledge, the company had never taken out a license for Ontario. He had prepared a statement last May, which he thought was correct.

MISS CONNOR'S DEATH.

Want to Toronto to See Exhibition and Was Asphyxiated by Gas.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—A particularly sad case of accidental asphyxiation was revealed yesterday when Miss Mary Connor of Marmora, Hastings County, was found dead in her room by Frank Cook, a young man whom she was soon to marry.

Miss Connor was only 22 years of age. Frank Cook was also of Marmora and the two had known each other from childhood. They were to have been married in a few weeks.

The couple came to Toronto for the purpose of seeing the fair. On Monday evening they returned to their boarding-house at 4 Soho street, intending to visit the fair again yesterday.

Miss Connor went up to her room early in the evening, and asked her friend to call her early.

The girl was tired and evidently turned the gas jet on accidentally after turning out the light. The jet was not full on, but just enough to allow the fumes to escape.

When Cook knocked at the door about 7.15 a. m. he received no answer. He knocked again and called. No response came and then he opened the door. Miss Connor was lifeless, and from the position of her body the indications were that she made a desperate effort to get out of the room. There will be no inquest.

Liberal Party Are Hopeful For The Future

Hon. Geo. W. Ross Sanguine of Provincial Outlook.

LEADERS AND THE PEOPLE

Suggestion That They Should More Frequently Meet Each Other—Speeches by Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and Hon. C. S. Hyman — Old-Timers In Party Fights Present and Very Enthusiastic.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Much hopefulness and a future more bright than for months has been thought possible were revealed in speeches of the Liberal leaders at the annual meeting yesterday of the General Reform Association for Ontario.

A significant feature of the speeches was the suggestion that the political leaders should more frequently address the people.

Effect of the Meeting.

It was the second annual meeting of the association, but the attendance of veterans who have fought the battles of the party and rendered great service to their country for a generation, together with young men full of enthusiasm even after the darkest hour in their party's history in the Province, mark the meeting as one which will have undoubted effect in the party's fortunes in future campaigns.

Members Present.

The members present included Hon. George W. Ross, Opposition leader in the Province; Hon. C. S. Hyman, Minister of Public Works; Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, and such old-timers in the party fights as Senator McMullen of Mount Forest, Senator J. K. Kerr, Senator Robert Jaffray, Hon. Richard Harcourt and Hon. G. P. Graham. There were besides scores of members of Parliament and of the Legislature, besides Liberals who had been defeated in the last elections, and many of the rank and file.

Leaders' Speeches Strong.

The speeches of Hon. Mr. Ross, Mr. Aylesworth and Mr. Hyman were strong, though brief reviews of the political situation, and they were received with every evidence of satisfaction. That the Conservative Government in Ontario will have warm days before it in its next session was the promise of the Provincial leaders.

Officers Were Re-elected.

The officers were re-elected as follows:

President—H. M. Mowat, K.C.

Vice-Presidents—Hon. N. A. Belcourt for the East; Dr. M. A. James, for the North; Mr. W. S. Calvert, for the West.

Treasurer—P. C. Larkin.

Executive Committee—Messrs. C. M. Bowman, M.P.P., J. Chisholm of Hamilton; G. P. Graham, M.P.P. Brockville; D. J. McDougall, M.P.P., and Lt.-Col. Thompson, Ottawa.

Hon. Mr. Ross' Address.

All business transacted, Chairman Mowat called on Hon. Mr. Hyman, who made way for Mr. Ross. The ex-Premier was enthusiastically received. His voice was strong and clear, and his manner vigorous. He was glad to be present, he said, and he looked it. "This association is a live body," Mr. Ross went on. "I feel its pulsations, enthusiasm, and determination Like the late Ontario Government, too, it has a surplus."

Mr. Ross agreed with Mr. Mowat that Cabinet Ministers should come into closer contact with the electorate. "Let them be seen, known, and heard. The press is not enough. We need the voice, the kindling eye, the burning enthusiasm."

Mr. Ross did not consider the present the proper time to outline the policy in the Local Legislature. In fact, policy was largely a matter of evolution, helped materially by the blunders of one's opponents.

"The people of Ontario," said Mr. Ross, "in their wisdom prescribed what is known as the rest cure, which some of us needed in more ways than one. This rest cure is a process of recuperation, and we are retired for a short time only. We Liberals are as vigorous and as loyal to Liberal principles as ever. Few though we may be, we never desert, we are never recreant, and we shall always be heard emphatically in the discussion of public issues.

Will Watch Public Opinion.

"Don't be afraid, gentlemen. We will watch public opinion, and we will not fail to make use of it. It took the Dominion Liberals eighteen years to destroy the Conservative party, and the Conservatives thirty odd years to upset the late Ontario Government. We promise you that it will not take as long to eject the present Ontario Government, which will not long reflect public opinion. The Ontario Government of to-day has a large majority, but large majorities crumble before the burning light of public opinion. British practice has been ignored in a way at once wanton and cruel in the interest of the spoilsmen. Why were 6,000 magistrates dismissed? Why were the license commissioners and inspectors removed? We were told that the license system was to be free from partizanship. When Mowat came in, no officer was dismissed. Let the Province be roused, as it is being roused, and the salutary effect of public opinion will be felt."

Expenditure Increases.

Mr. Ross referred to the Whitney Government's financial methods.

"They have been in power only 18 months, yet their expenditure has increased 30 per cent. Where will this province be in five or ten years, if the present Administration is still in power? Not a single bawbee will be left of our surplus. Col. Matheson floated bonds in England at 96. Wanting further funds, he asked 100 in Ontario. Why that reckless financing in London?"

Mr. Ross emphasized the inconsistencies of the Whitney Niagara Power policy. After confirming Liberal charters at Niagara, Mr. Whitney had first cancelled identically the same franchise, and then had granted one at Trent.

"Judicious Reorganization."

"Don't lose heart," concluded Mr. Ross, "though I don't need to say that to a Liberal in a good cause. We have the record of good government. Look at the smiling farms. Look at the philanthropic aspect of our administration, at our asylums, hospitals, etc. With judicious reorganization, there is no reason why we should not soon effect the overthrow of the present Government in Ontario."

Hyman and Aylesworth.

Hon. Mr. Hyman conveyed personal greetings from Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. William Paterson. Mr. Paterson was too busy with the tariff to attend, much to his regret.

Mr. Hyman urged on the convention the necessity of closer relations between the general association and the smaller ones of township and ward. Organization to be effective must come from union and sympathy between the general body and its branches. The country would see two great struggles, Provincial and Federal, in the next two years or so, and Liberals should be ready.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth received a prolonged ovation, and another when he said, "I have launched my frail skiff on the troubled sea of politics for weal or woe."

After an eloquent tribute to Premier Laurier, in which Sir Wilfrid's ability and personal magnetism were mentioned, Mr. Aylesworth referred to Sir William Mulock as "the best Postmaster-General Canada has ever had." Mr. Aylesworth, as Sir William's successor, had felt impelled to show a surplus, though some had objected. "It takes a good many 2-cent stamps to make a million-dollar surplus," said Mr. Aylesworth. "What my own successor's policy shall be I do not know."

Mr. Aylesworth alluded to the campaign of slander against the Ross Administration in Ontario, and intimated that the same tactics were in vogue at Ottawa. He instanced the absurd attack in connection with the fall of the tower at Ottawa. Like other assaults, it had no sound foundation.

INDEPENDENT 'PHONES.

Over 12,000 of Them Now Used in the Dominion of Canada.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—The first annual convention of the Canadian Independent Telephone Association opened at the City Hall yesterday morning.

There was a good attendance of representatives from the various independent telephone companies in Canada.

Hon. Colin Campbell, Attorney-General of Manitoba, described the situation in that province and outlined the policy laid down by the Government.

Business is Growing.

The report of the secretary was received with enthusiasm. It contained the following interesting statistics:

Number of absolutely independent or non-Bell companies or private systems, 73; number of shareholders, 3,248; number of subscribers, 1906, 12,073; increase in one year, 5,646; capital invested, $850,000.

The annual report of the Bell Co. of Canada shows that on the 31st of December, 1905, it had 78,195 subscribers, and an increase in 1905 of 12,035.

Railways and Long Distance.

Resolutions were passed to secure, under the railway board, access to railway stations, etc., so that all telephone companies should be placed on level and equitable footing, and that long-distance lines should be owned by independent companies, the province or the Government according to the conditions prevailing.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Farmers' Day supplied the biggest list of guests that have yet sat down at the exhibition directors' luncheon. Of the farmers themselves, William Duthie, who owns the greatest shorthorn herd in the world and who is at home at Tarves, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, was the most eminent.

Hon. Frank Cochrane, Hon. Nelson Monteith, Cecil B. Smith and Hon. Robert Jaffray, were also among the speakers of the day, all praising the progress of the science of agriculture.

Earl Grey in B. C.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 6.—Lord and Lady Grey and party are guests of the City of Nelson, where elaborate ceremonials have been arranged in their honor. The vice-regal party will visit the mines of the Boundary district today and return to spend Saturday and Sunday in Nelson. They will reach here Sept. 14.

Deserter Sentenced.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—John Bishop, a deserter from the Allan steamship Victorian, who was caught in Toronto, was yesterday given the maximum penalty of 12 weeks in jail.

Tim Alert Made A New Record For Himself

Paced a Mile in 2.13 1-4 in Pontiac, Michigan—Challenge For Orillia Belle—Does King Dodds Still Think Mare Was Pulled at Dufferin Park?

Peterborough is becoming noted for the number of fast horses it is turning out. The latest to win fame for the city is Tim Alert, Mr. Charles Martin's fast horse, which last week made the fastest time of any horse at the Pontiac, Mich., meeting of the Michigan circuit. Tim Alert won the 2.19 race on the last day of the meeting from a big field, stepping the second heat in the remarkably fast time of 2.13 1-4. The horse has come on remarkably fast this summer. When purchased by Mr. Martin he could not step a mile in 2.20. This week at Detroit he went a trial mile in 2.07 1-2—the last quarter in 30 seconds, a two minute clip.

Tim Alert	3	1	2	1	1
Willard M.	1	9	1	3	5
David K.	4	2	3	2	9
Exeum Mead	5	3	4	4	2
Star P.	7	6	8	5	4
Hagan S.	2	5	6	8	dis
Belle Prince	10	4	9	7	dis
Alice Carr	8	7	5	6	dis
Allen E.	6	8	7	9	dis
R. H. Kerner	9	dis

Time, 2.17 1-4; 2.13 1-4; 2.14 1-4; 2.15; 2.16.

King Dodds' Attack.

Tim Alert is the horse about which King Dodds had so much to say in the Canadian Sportsman, when he accused George Powell of Orillia, with pulling Orillia Belle in the 2.20 pace at Dufferin Park, to allow Tim Alert to win. After the horse's remarkably fast work on the other side, it does not look as if much pulling was done. Orillia Belle never stepped in anywhere near .13 class, and yet Tim Alert after three days travel on a train, followed by an accident at Bay City, Mich., went out and beat a big field of fast ones at that speed.

Here is what the Sportsman had to say of the recent race at Dufferin Park:

"Another piece of rascality was in the 2.20 pace, which was won by Tim Alert driven by James Powell, and Orillia Belle, driven by his father, George Powell, finishing second. The latter could easily have won the race, but he pulled the mare almost to a standstill to let the horse beat her. This daring exhibit was even too much for the judges, and George Powell was called to the stand, and instead of being fined $100, and set down, he was let off with a paltry fine of $10, although information was easily forthcoming if the judges had wanted it that George Powell and his friends were banking Tim Alert in the pool-box, and it was this piece of work that so thoroughly disgusted every horseman present that on the last day of the meeting there was only a crowd of about 150 people present."

Challenge for Orillia Belle.

To-day Mr. Charles Martin, the owner of Tim Alert, deposited $100.00 with the Examiner as a forfeit. He has challenged George Powell, owner of Orillia Belle, to a matched race, to take place within two weeks, the track and judges to be mutually agreed upon. If King Dodds thinks that Orillia Belle is the faster animal, and wants to express that opinion in money, he can be accommodated at any amount from $100 to $1000.

W. H. Gocher, secretary of the National Association, has written to Mr. Arthur Rountree asking as to the ownership of Tim Alert. The Examiner has learned upon investigating the matter that the horse is the property of Mr. Charles Martin alone, and that no one else has anything to do with the animal.

Mr. Martin arrived home from Michigan last night, bringing Tim Alert with him. This fast pacer will be heard from again in a few days.

Crescent Rugby Club Organized

Will Have a Strong Team in the Field This Season.

The annual meeting of the Crescent Rugby Club was held last night at the Y.M.C.A. parlours to re-organize the club, and intend to place a strong team on the field this season. Many of the old players are on hand, besides a number of new men. The boys displayed great interest, which augurs well for the success of the club this season.

The officers for the year were elected as follows:

Hon. President, A. H. Stratton,
Secretary-Treasurer, D. Stone.
Executive—D. Stone, C. Ray, H. Theobald.

The first practice of the season will be held on Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval, at 2.30. The following players are requested to be on hand: Cummings, Ray, Mowry, Theobald, White, Wilson, Flowers, Haskill, Stone, Smith, Lotellier, J. Patterson, Brown, Wood, Seymour, Hillier, Reid, Cook, A. Patterson, McCabe, Latimer, Cameron, Abbott, Picard, Gibson, Logan, Williams, Hayes and Elliott.

The boys wish to thank Mr. Williamson for his kindness in allowing them to use the Y. M. C. A. parlours.

Offered $25,000 To Lose The Fight

Statement Made by Gans After The Battle.

The most remarkable bit of aftermath of the big fight is the statement made by Gans that he was offered $25,000 to let Nelson win. He refused to say who made the offer.

Siler and other experts agree in the opinion that if Gans had not broken his right hand in the twenty-seventh round he would have finished Nelson inside of thirty rounds. All these experts agree also in the opinion that Nelson fouled Gans deliberately and several intimate that his action was due to suggestion from Nolan that this was the only way in which he could cheat Gans out of a knockout. Siler's refereeing was praised by every one.

Gans said: "Nelson deliberately fouled me. I would have finished the fight surely had I not broken my hand in the twenty-seventh round. I fought a great fight, licking Nelson and can do it again. I give Nelson credit for being a strong, hard fellow and a game one."

Nelson, as usual, objected to the decision. He said: "I think I was not fairly treated when Gans got the decision on a foul. The negro quit. He claimed before the fight he did not want it on a foul and took the first opportunity he had to claim one. I was strong at the finish and could have gone forty rounds more. I can lick Gans and will demonstrate this fact to the fighting public before I quit the game."

Good Ball Game For Next Saturday

Shamrocks Will Play a Picked Team.

A good ball game may be expected at the Riverside Park on Saturday, when the Shamrocks will stack up against a picked team. The Shamrocks have defeated the Athletics and the Strathconas this season, but will have a harder proposition to meet on Saturday.

Quinlan will be in the box for the Irishmen and will be supported by the strongest team the Shamrocks have put in the field this year.

The make up of the Selects is not known yet, but they will be a well-balanced team.

Free Concert commencing tonight at 8 o'clock on Market Square.

The Star Of The East Elect Their Officers

Mr. Geo. F. Smith, of Pittsburg, is New President—Secretary-Treasurer Selected—Committee Appointed to Obtain a New Process of Development.

The directors of the Star of the East Gold Mining Company met last night at the Munro House parlours and elected their officers for the coming year. The new President is Geo. F. Smith, of Pittsburg, the former official head being J. K. Dale, of Oil City, who declined to accept the position another year. The following is a complete list of the new oficers:—

President—Geo. F. Smith, Pittsburg.
Vice-President—W. O. Innis, Oil City.
Secretary-Treasurer—J. R. Steele, Oil City.

At their meeting last night they also appointed a committee to investigate the best process of getting out the gold at the company's mines. The chairman of the committee is Mr. Innis, an old miner of considerable experience and with the problem in his hands the directors have every assurance of a profitable enterprise. The chief question now lies in the obtaining of a new process and the contract will be given to any satisfactory tenderer who will guarantee what the company demands. Their mines, they believe, are certainly rich in ores and all that is necessary is a good method of getting them out.

Last night's meeting closed the business of the directors, a number of whom left on the noon train for a visit to the mines, which are situated in Barrie township, Frontenac.

City Sewer Figures Criticised and Corrected

The Cost of Water Street Sewer, it is Claimed, is Understated—The Probable Cost Given.

Peterborough,
September 6th, 1906.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—From time to time this year there has appeared in our daily papers and in large letters "Sewers by Day "Labour much cheaper than by contract", etc. Now I have before me the cost of Water street sewer, itemized as follows, with a total cost of 1,041-2 cents per foot as per printed items:—

10 manholes,
19 short connections,
5 long connections.

COST.

Pipes, junctions, etc.	$ 580 75
Wages, including foreman	1,346 45
Brick	86 10
Cast Iron	100 00
Cement	15 20
Pay list No. 32	63 20
1-3 cost of lumber	43 33
1-3 cost of tools	15 00
Manhole pans	17 50
Sundry small accounts	7 50
Total	$2,265 03

Cost per foot—$1,041-2.

19 short connections at $6.25 each—$118.75.

5 long connections at $16.75 each—$83.75.

Total for connections, $202.50.

Total cost of sewer, $2,467.53.

Now I will only take two items, pipe and cement. I am buying quite a few pipe this year from The Canadian Sewer Pipe Company, who supply 4-5th of the pipe used in Canada, and for the above amount of 12 inch pipe, I pay $870.56 and not $580.75. According to the engineer's specifications for 2168 feet there will be 144 junctions at $1.35 each, or a total of $194.40; for 1880 feet straight pipe at 30 cents per foot $564.00. This is on board cars at factory.

2168 feet of 12 inch pipe will weigh 195,120 pounds at 33-4 cents per 100 pounds freight; or a total of $870.56.

I understand the city got their pipe from a new company, The Dominion Pipe Company. They must have struck a bargain day.

Now take the item of cement, $15.20.

There are 10 manholes with an average depth of 10 feet. Now if any contractor can build any one of those manholes with less than 31-2 barrels, I would like to hear from him. For making the joints alone of 2168 feet of 12 inch pipe, it must have at least taken one barrel to every 200 feet, making 10 barrels or a total of 45 barrels at $2.10 per barrel, $94.50 and not $15.20.

Of course the city is buying its cement in large quantities and the carter might easily make a mistake and haul a few loads to the sqwer in place of the sidewalk, and in that case the item $12.30 for cement would be all right.

Yours,
R. SHEEHY.

Fall Suit Remarks

The Suits of the Season suggest stateliness rather than baggy fullness.

Take the coat for instance; though the shoulders are broad, the lines concave toward the waist, then flare out into long skirts, forming what is called the French Back.

Some of these suits have centre vents with creased side seams. The New Big Lapels tend to give the impression of a broad chest.

A noticeable feature of this long coat is the fact that in lends itself equally well to short or tall men.

Why Wear Glasses?

Just why do your Neighbors—or You—wear Glasses? To see clearly and easily—whether reading, sewing, writing, conversing or walking along the street. Perfect vision, without strain or discomfort, is possible only with perfectly formed eyes. An imperfect eye may see perfectly by exerting great effort. If then you are conscious that you are not seeing easily your eyes are at fault—and, if you are already wearing glasses, they, too, are at fault.

Husband Agrees To Pay Alimony For One Month

Will Live Apart From His Wife For That Length of Time —Domestic Case in Police Court To-day—Wife Charged Husband With Non-Support — Case Heard Behind Closed Doors.

A peculiar case of domestic infelicity was ventilated at the Police Court this morning, and a case, the hearing of which was closed to the non-interested public. The charge was laid by a young wife living scarcely a year of wedded life, against her husband for wilfully neglecting the maintenance of her and family, he being perfectly able to do so. Her husband, who, before the marriage last September, was a widower with two children, is a harness maker in the city, and an employee of Mr. Chas. Gunsolus, of Hunter street.

His wife first went into the box and told a melancholy tale of how she had been refused maintenance, and of how she had been indecently and at times inhumanly treated by her husband. She testified that she had married him last September, but the happiness of th econnubial state had been short-lived. She had lived with him since that time, with the exception of a number of periods, when he had sent her to her mother in Barrie, who had more than she could do without her.

Not One Stitch.

She stated that her husband had not given her one stitch of clothing since they were married, neither had she received money with which to buy any. The pair of boots on her feet had not been paid for, and last winter she was compelled to go without flannels. The dress and hat she was wearing, she stated, had been given her by her mother. What clothing she had owned was torn from her by her husband. When she asked for money the time was always postponed from the present to some future date, but that date would never come.

Four days before her baby was born on the 24th of July, he had sent her to her home in Barrie with his two children. While there she was compelled to telegraph for some money, and she received $6 to pay all expenses, including the doctor's bill.

Out Into the Snow.

Some very pathetic incidents were here related by the lady of how one night last winter she had been forced to go out into the snow with nothing save her night clothes for protection from the cold. Repeatedly, she stated, he had come home at night, and pulled her from her bed, while she slept, and tore her clothes from her back.

In a Gypsy Mix-up.

At the time the gypsies were here a few weeks ago her husband had been driving with a Mrs. ——, one of their company, and had brought her hat and grip home. This necessitated a visit from the above lady and excitement reigned for a few minutes in the home. Mrs. —— had grabbed her two weeks old baby from her arms when the little infant was seriously ill, and she herself had to have medical aid afterwards. All this was blamed upon her husband.

Would Go in a Box.

She also stated that she had never a 25 cent piece of his money on her person since they were married, and that he had recently threatened that, if she did not go out of the city by Friday—to-day—she would go out in a box.

The Husband's Story.

The husband next gave his evidence, stating that his wife very often takes cranky spells and wants quarrel with him, particularly when he came home a little drunk. He denied her statement about giving her no money, and said that on an average of $8 out of his $11 or $13 weekly wages went to her to pay the rent and food every week. For a fortnight he had not had five cents for himself. He denied asking her mother to keep her or anybody else. In reference to the gypsy episode he said that he was driving the rig for another party.

Her Own Fault.

If she had been pulled out of bed at night it was her own fault, he declared. She had quarreled with him and called him vile names, which were repeated in court. She had often struck him in the face at meal times without provocation. He was quite agreeable, he said, to any arrangements which might be made and left the problem in his wife's hands.

Will Pay Alimony.

In summing up the case the magistrate spoke of the unchristian-like conduct of the couple towards each other, and gave them some good advice as a guide for the future.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams was present on behalf of the lady, and finally a settlement was made, the gentleman agreeing to pay the lady $3 per week for one month. The Magistrate decided to defer sentence until October 8th, and if a reconciliation can be effected by that time between the parties the affair will be dropped.

Lively Runaway On Brock Street

Delivery Waggon Smashed and Fruit Scattered.

Fruit, groceries and delivery waggon were the sufferers in a runaway this morning about 11 o'clock on Brock street. The horse was attached to the delivery waggon of Mr. E. F. Mason, grover, and was tied to a weight at a residence while the driver was delivering his goods.

The animal made a wild dash for liberty, carrying the weight with him and was only stopped by running against an iron post on Brock street. The waggon was badly broken and the fruit scattered in various directions.

Thieves Gather In The Clothing

A Couple of Lines Have Been Touched This Week.

Clothes line thieves secured a large quantity of clothing from the yard of Mr. Killingbeck, Sherbrooke street the other night. A number of dress goods together with some socks and other articles. The robbers also visited Mr. Vannato's residence this week taking a couple of bath towels.

Another Head For The Whitney Axe

That of David Robertson, Division Court Clerk Wooler, Falls Into the Basket.

Special to The Examiner

(Hastings, Ont., September 7. —Mr. David Robertson, clerk of the Division Court at Warkworth, today received a letter, stating that his "resignation" of his office had been accepted, and that Mr. H. J. Walker, president up to last June of the East Northumberland Conservative Association, had been appointed clerk in his stead.

Mr. Robertson had not sent in any "resignation," but, judging from what has taken place in Northumberland in the recent past, he knows very well what the curt notification of his "resignation" means, though neither he nor anyone else in this riding knows any reason, either in regard to lack of capacity for his work, or to failure in fidelity to his duties, that justifies his summary dismissal. The only known reason is that the Government wanted his place for Mr. Walker, who has been a member of the faithful, and, as President of the Conservative Association up to last June, has done work for his party, that demanded a reward.

Mr. Robertson cannot justifiably be accused of being a partizan, for he has been a respected teacher in the district for twenty-five years, and for the past five years, at least, has studiously avoided taking any interest in politics. It seems to be another case like the dismissal of Bailiff Luke Berry some time ago, and of Col. Brown, Registrar—the voice is the voice of Whitney, but the hand is the hand of Esau. The Whitney axe is evidently in good working order. Mr. Robertson's dismissal has aroused great local indignation.

Local Men Visit Peat Manufacturing Plant Yesterday

Yesterday morning Messrs. John Nugent, D. H. Moore and G. M. Roger paid a visit to the Victoria Road Peat Manufacturing Works and returned again last night to the city. These three gentlemen are all shareholders in this concern and the Examiner, to-day, in conversation with Mick Nugent, learned some interesting facts about the factory.

The company's works are situated about 24 miles north of Lindsay on the Victoria Road and are under the management of Mr. Ernest Moore, son of Mr. D. H. Moore. Mr Nugent was much interested in the success of the work being done there being now about 400 tons of dry peat in the storehouse all cured. He saw the plant in operation equipped with the latest machinery, for winding up any roots or other obstructions in the soil and for expelling the air by mixing processes.

The plant is situated on the Trent Valley Canal so that it has an important access by water. It will close down for the winter in a short time as the advent of the frost prevents the manufacture.

The peat industry is becoming an important one in Canada and the product is rapidly becoming much more extensively used than in the past. Peterborough is one of the best markets for its size in the province and every year large quantities of the fuel is brought here.

Port Perry Man Choked To Death

Port Perry, Sept. 6.—William Trevor choked to death here last night on a piece of meat. He was well known, having followed his trade of painter and paperhanger for many years. It appears he had been loafing around for several days, doing more or less drinking, and last evening went to get some supper. Those who were there say that he took a very large piece of meat in his mouth and followed it up immediately with a dry soda biscuit. He began to choke and a doctor was telephoned for. He was quickly at the dying man's side, but could not save him, and he died in a very few minutes. The coroner decided that death was accidental.

Cold on the Lungs.

"We have seven children and have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for every one of them, and with good results. We get four bottles at a time and find it a good remedy to break up colds on the lungs."—Mrs. R. D. Turner, Broadview, N.W.T.

Entertained Class Down the River

Mr. Switzer Gives Pleasant Outing to His Bible Class.

Mr. Switzer very pleasantly entertained his Bible Class of George Street Sunday School to a sail and supper down at Harwood yesterday afternoon. Tea was awaiting as soon as the crowd landed after which the time was spent walking around the village where the apples appeared to be plentiful in many places. The boat left Harwood about 6.30 and as they were nearing home it was moved by Mrs. Devins seconded by Mrs. Walton that they all should heartily thank Mr. Switzer for the most pleasant outing, which was done in the usual manner.

Capt. White, the genial captain of the Water Lily, made a speech followed by Mr. Switzer and just before they landed they gave three cheers for Mrs. Switzer, the captain, and the ladies.

YOU SAY "BECAUSE."

And If There is Any Cause Your Money Will be Returned.

Trained cutters, so many of them are they that you would be surprised, cut out each individual garment ready suit. The size and physique type of the pattern are carefully chosen. These are prepared by the chief designer, and his assistants. When the garment is being made it is examined by inspectors at eleven different stages, and when the chief inspector has finally passed upon the workmanship, style and quality, the Semi-ready trademark, and the selling price is sewn on the inside each pocket. The treatment means "We guarantee your money will be returned to you for any cause." The head office in Montreal gives the guarantee. A. W. Cressman, agent for Peterborough.

Zutoo

Regarding your Zutoo Tablets I beg to say: I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market, till warned by my physician to discontinue their use on account of their bad effects on the heart. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never fail to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost.

INEXORABLE LAW.

A friend of labour who is to be given credit for, at least, good intentions, proposes legislation to fix the rate of wages in the interests of the working man. While the man who works, the class which forms the foundation of national wealth and progress, is entitled to the best protection that can be given, yet it does not seem advisable that the economic laws that govern supply and demand should be supplanted by an arbitrary law fixing the price of labour. The price of labour, like the price of butter, eggs and other commodities, changes from time to time, according to circumstances and conditions, quite beyond legislative control. The law of the land is regarded as supreme, but the law of supply and demand comes first. Some labourers are not as good as others, cannot do as much work, nor earn as high a wage, as one sample of goods of the same kind is superior to another, and will command a higher price. Interference by legislation or otherwise with the inexorable law of supply and demand, and the laws that govern the course of trade, cannot, as a rule, be justified.

A PRACTICAL MINISTER.

The visit of Hon. H. R. Emmerson and his deputy to Peterborough to-morrow is another evidence of the practical interest the Minister takes in the work of his Department. An up-to-date Minister will be content to administer his trust from his office in the Parliament Buildings. But Hon. Mr. Emmerson will be satisfied with no perfunctory discharge of his duties. He insists on seeing things for himself, and he can therefore do the work of his Department intelligently, and of necessity, effectually, as he has done and is doing it. He is on his way west, after an inspection of the eastern systems of canals. Much of the success of Mr. Emmerson's administration is due to the fact that he knows what he is doing, and how to do it. He carries into practice the spirit of the sound old motto: "If you want your business done, do it—if not—send." While he is assisted by a most capable deputy, whose reports might be implicitly relied upon, both chief and assistant are men of practical minds, and insist on getting their information at first hand and on the spot.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Labour Unions of London and Hamilton are demanding the dismissal of the new Ontario railway commission, which has made a dismal failure of the only case it has had, that of the street railway strike at London. This is a bad beginning, but not a surprise. The only member of the commission who has had any experience in regard to labour complications is Mr. Ingram, a former employee of the Michigan Central Railway. Of the other members, one is a lawyer and the other a grocer. Had the experienced official of the Bureau of Labour, Ottawa, been employed, in the affair, the result would probably have been satisfactory.

A SORRY CONTRAST.

Brantford Expositor.

Under the above caption, The Halifax Chronicle contrasts the generous treatment which the Liberal party meted out to Mr. R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, with the unfair treatment now being accorded by the Conservative party to Mr. Fielding.

It points out that when Mr. Borden, then, as now, the leader of the Opposition, was defeated by a thumping majority in Halifax, and his party in Nova Scotia, "swept out of existence," as the organ of the "whole Conservative party of Nova Scotia," graphically phrased it, the Liberals did not, as they might well have done, offer strenuous opposition to Mr. Borden's return to Parliament. On the contrary, they afforded every facility in their power for his election. Not only did they permit him to be returned by acclamation, but Sir Wilfred Laurier de-

HEALEY FALLS POWER LEASE AND HYDRAULIC COMMISSION

Toronto Star.

The Ontario Government have granted to the Northumberland-Durham Power Company a lease of the power at Healey's Falls, on the Lower Trent River. The power is the largest in that section, and is one of five which the Hydro-Electric Power Commission describe as worthy of being developed for long-distance transmission. It has a total head of sixty feet, and power at low water of eight thousand horsepower, or nearly a third of the total power of the five specified. This total power, 25,600, is said to be more than sufficient to supply, for the present at least, all industrial demands of the Lake Ontario towns. "This district," says the commissioners, "would appear to be one in which united management with one set of transmission lines to the various towns would be far more economical than would be the case if several companies were to take up the various water powers and develop and transmit the power independently."

The Healy's Falls power is an essential part of the scheme of the commissioners. They declare that an immediate market for at least 10,000 horsepower of electric power can be obtained within a reasonable radius of Healey's, Middle, or Ranney's Falls of the Treat River, and that this demand would be increased to 15,000 within five years. They add: "Experience shows that where the distribution is controlled by private corporations the distribution area remains restricted, and from the information obtained by your commissioners they are able to say that the trend of affairs with private corporations has been not to compete for business and thus keep down prices to consumers, but to amalgamate or otherwise destroy competition, and then to fix the prices according to the slight saving which they may be able to induce particular customers to make."

Again, the commissioners say:—"It would appear advisable that a unified development should take place in this district, which would simplify matters and cheapen the cost of power provided such is carried out on the basis of a return upon the cost of operating. If, however, development takes place on behalf of various interests and distribution is carried out by these interests, it can be confidently predicted that not only will the cost of power be greater but the consumption of electrical power be very much restricted in area and quantity, so that the consumer will not receive any appreciable benefits therefrom."

The commissioners are, therefore, strongly opposed to grants to private corporations, and they also favour concerted action in this particular district. "Concerted action appears to be vital to the success of any undertaking aiming at the development of these water-powers and the supplying of the electrical energy generated to the industrial centres requiring it. The water-powers are held, as already mentioned, by varied interests, but should several development and distribution systems, each of smaller size, be undertaken, the total cost will be increased, and the larger unified transmission scheme outlined by your commissioners will be rendered more expensive and possibly prevent it ever being carried into effect."

In view of this report, we do not see how Mr. Cochrane can characterize as absurd the charge that the Hydro-Electric Power Commission has been ignored. The report of the commissioners, bearing the signature of the Hon. Adam Beck as chairman, warns the Government against handing the powers of the Lower Trent over to private corporations. The largest power in the Lower Trent district is handed over to a private corporation. The commissioners say that there should be unified development and concerted action in regard to the Lower Trent powers. The Government renders unified development and concerted action impossible by robbing the scheme of its largest power and handing it over to private control. The Government deliberately destroys the commission's plans and then calmly says that it is absurd to charge that the commission has been ignored.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Severe Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. George Lawson, Consecon, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured me of constipation, rheumatism, stomach troubles and a very severe kidney trouble, after years of suffering. I am now 68 years of age, and very grateful for what Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have done for me."

On motion of T. E. Jory and F. Leahy, Maurice Hynes was appointed a commissioner to expend the sum of $100 on Tippett's hill, in front of lot 16, between concessions 6 and 7, and that the same be paid on the order of T. E. Jory.—Carried.

Wm. Crowe, $2.03, for meat.

Mrs. Richard Dwyer, $5.13, for milk and butter.

Mary Hayes, $10, for attendance.

On motion of F. Leahy and W. Quinlan, the resolution passed on November 15, appointing Bat. Leahy commissioner to put in culvert on line of road between concessions 11 and 12, in front of lot 2, was rescinded, and Wm. Quinlan was appointed commissonier.—Carried.

On motion of T. E. Jory and F. Leahy, the Council adjourned to meet at a call from the reeve.

New Navigation Company Formed

Young Boat Owners Go Into Business on Otonabee.

The youngest navigation company to be floated in Peterborough, both in the time it has been in existence, and in the age of its directors, is that formed by Harold Meldrum and Kenneth Crane. The fleet is composed of but one boat, the speedy gasoline launch, The Viking, and the sailing operations are confined to cruising between the Wolfe street wharf and the Lift Lock.

In other words, the boys are prepared to take small parties over the Lift Lock on Saturday afternoons. There will be a short cruise up the canal with each trip over the Lift Lock. The Viking is a comfortable and speedy boat, and the youthful sailors' enterprise will likely reap a bountiful harvest.

LONDON'S PARKS.

$228,000 Expended Annually In Looking After the Big City's Parks and Gardens—Showy Effects.

The lungs of London are controlled in part by the County Council and in part by the Office of Works. In the last official year Spring Gardens was responsible for 103 open spaces, having a total extent of nearly 5,000 acres, and a permanent outdoor staff of 900 men. Upon this department the annual expenditure has reached about £128,000, and since the County Council was formed, fifteen years ago, it has spent rather more than a million sterling upon this public service. In addition to this there is the city's contribution of £100,000 a year towards the maintenance of Epping Forest, Burnham Beeches, and elsewhere. It will thus be seen that the maintenance of London's open spaces means an aggregate expense every year of at least a quarter of a million, while employment is given to nearly three thousand men.

Some of the showiest effects are produced at a trifling cost. Thus the London County Council spends £500 on bulbs, and for this sum obtains no fewer than 320,000 spring flowers. The bulbs are delivered by the contractors at the end of September, and the task of planting them is at once proceeded with. They represent 155 varieties, of which one-half comprise hyacinths, tulips, and crocuses. The most popular sorts in the three classes respectively are King of the Blues, Keizer's Kroon, and the Large Yellow crocus. The total number of bulbs of all kinds planted in Battersea Park alone exceeds 40,000.

At the end of the summer the annuals are removed from the ground, cuttings are taken from them where they admit of this treatment, and the surplus plants are distributed to schools and poor citizens for window and backyard cultivation. For both the municipal and the royal parks there are large propagating grounds, where the seedlings and cuttings are carefully tended during the winter months, in readiness for bedding out in the spring.

The days when the geranium and the calceolaria represented the extent of the imagination of the public gardeners are over, and an enormous variety of plants is now raised, with the result that London's gardens may compare with any in Europe. For many a year the wonderful show seen along Park Lane and round the Serpentine has been raised to a large extent under the shadow of Kensington Palace, in the greenhouses, of which the chief was planned out by Sir Christopher Wren. But Lord Windsor is now spending £12,000 upon new frame grounds near the Magazine, where the coaching clubs meet in the season.

An interesting feature of the Kensington frame-ground is the hospital. In the early winter this is crowded with bananas, plantains, palmettas, fan palms, and other sub-tropical plants, which, in the early summer, are brought out into the open and give distinction to certain corners of Hyde Park, or to the forecourt of the National Gallery.

Another important department consists of the conveniences for boating. Since the beginning of the century the London County Council have taken over this section from the contractors, and have made an additional profit of £500 a year, although they have reduced the hourly charge to the nimble sixpence, and have put a couple of motor boats into commission, with a charge of a penny for each voyage. That much work has to be undertaken in repairing and re-painting the row-boats will be understood when it is added that in Finsbury Park and Victoria Park alone more than £200 is spent upon this service during the winter.

The care of the waterfowl also occupies the attention of special keepers told off for that duty. The breeding-grounds have to be made ready, the due proportion of widgeon and cormorants, swans, and crested grebe, is maintained by a system of exchange and purchase, and the ducklings receive special attention during frosty weeks, the result being that the lake life of the parks is brought up to a pitch of perfection.

Many scores of attendants devote themselves to the task of preparing the cricket pitches, which naturally require a good deal of attention after the hard work of the football season. This is another story; suffice it to say that Spring Gardens provides more than 800 reserved pitches, upon which 14,000 matches are played during the summer.

Still another branch of activity comprises the arrangements for the bands of music, which cost the London Council upwards of £10,000 every season. The first duty of the musical director as the spring comes round is to listen to the bands who offer themselves to emulate the work of the Council's own bands. The selected ones must submit their repertories, to his experienced judgment, and the program for each of the 1,200 performers has to pass the scrutiny of the authorities before it is printed.

A Bit of Spiritualism.

Archdeacon Colley, speaking at the Spiritualists' Convention at Southplace, told some strange stories of a guardian spirit which had many times befriended his son, an army officer. The spirit occasionally materialized itself in the shape of a white dove. On one occasion the officer found himself "levitated" in an hour of special need over a wall 6 feet high. Recently, the archdeacon added, he received a letter from his son, now in India, in which he said that on a certain Sunday he had "a strange sensation of the number 237. I wonder if you preached that sermon." The archdeacon searched his catalogue of sermons, and found that on that particular Sunday he preached sermon "No. 237: Wings like a dove."

Only Four Unwed.

Of Queen Victoria's 21 granddaughters only four now remain unmarried. These are Princess Victoria of England, Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg, Princess Patricia of Connaught and Princess Victoria of Slesswick-Holstein.

"Isn't it awful," remarked Growells, looking over his gas bill for the last quarter; "isn't it surprising how gas bills run up?"

"Not so surprising," replied Kidder, "considering how many thousand feet they have."

His Wealth.

Peterborough Industrial Will Be Better Than Ever

In Point of Number Entries and of Attendance—Fair Promises to be a Record Breaker.

The Peterborough Industrial Fair this year promises to be the most successful in years, and there are reasons to expect a record attendance, and also a record list of entries. Three thousand dollars is offered in prizes this year which should ensure a very large number of entries. In other years, although the prize money offered has been large the entries have not been as numerous as might have been expected. The directors are endeavouring to make the exhibition this year a record-breaker along all lines. There will be plenty of accommodation for exhibits and all entries should be sent to Mr. F. J. A. Hall, secretary of the Peterborough Industrial Fair, Peterborough P.O.

A prominent attraction of the second day of the Fair will be the trials of speed. There are three races, the prizes amounting to $400, and the races should attract a large crowd.

Boat's Gearing Was Not Injured

Operator of Rochester, Jr., Refers to Wrong Impressions.

The following letter received by The Examiner last night corrects a mistake made some time ago in some Stony Lake correspondence, regarding the race of the Majestic v. Rochester, Jr. The letter speaks for itself.

Toronto, Sept. 5th, 1906.

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I was somewhat surprised on looking over yur paper of the 31st ult., to read an account, on page 4, of the amusement furnished some Boschink residents by the defeat of my boat, Rochester Jr., by the Majestic, and of the destruction of my boat's gearing.

The first part I admit. The Majestic, with her full capacity of steam, beat us by about 40 feet in 3 1-2 miles. So close was it that when she turned we caught and passed her. But the destruction of the gearing is something I cannot overlook.

As I was "demonstrating" for the Rochester Gas Engine Co., a statement like that may do me considerable harm, and, if you will pardon the suggestion, I think that it would right a wrong if you will kindly correct that, per your columns.

If I broke my gearings, it is rather funny to think how quickly they were replaced, so that my boat was never idle a day, and that on Thursday we left for Petreborough, and on our run from Port Hope to Toronto we ran the entire distance taking almost six hours without the engine being stopped at all.

At the time of our race with the Majestic, it is true we were not in the best of shape, as owing to lack of oil on our way back from Chemong we had injured a bearing, but this was easily tightened on the day after the race, and off Thursday, the day we left Stony Lake, the crew of the Majestic were no so anxious for a race as they are now.

Hoping you will correct the error, and thanking you for same, I am,

Yours very sincerely,

JNO. G. ROBINSON.

WEDDING BELLS

DOXSEE—LILICO.

On a very artistically decorated lawn, an interesting and pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. Wm. Lillico, Mariposa, at 3 p.m., on Wednesday, September 5, when Miss Jennie C., second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lillico, was married to Mr. Douglas Doxsee, of Peterborough. The impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Craig, of Manilla, and a very pretty wedding march was rendered by Miss Wilma Fee, of Cannington.

The bride looked extremely graceful and handsome in a lovely wedding gown of white ivory henrietta, with taffeta and silk trimmings. She wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bride's eldest sister, Edith, was maid of honour, wearing a beautiful cream silk gown and carrying a shower bouquet of pink roses, with long silk streamers. The best man was Mr. G. A. Doidge, of Lakefield. But the beauty of the wedding was shown in the part of the two little flower girls, Gracey and Hilda Lillico.

After the ceremony a 5 o'clock tea was served in the sweetly decorated dining-hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Doxsee left on the 7.30 train for the East, and will make their home in Peterborough.

A few of those present, were Rev. and Mrs. Craig, Miss Edith Doxsee, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. M. Mitchell, Peterborough; Mr. J. Bert Lillico, Belleville; Miss Wilma Fee, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fee and Mr. and Mrs. Squires, Cannington.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—It was my pleasure to attend at the Grand Opera last evening to hear and see the presentation of "Dolly Varden", and though I was well pleased with the music and performance, I must complain of being robbed of considerable pleasure by the inexcusable ignorance displayed by a few of the younger boys in the top gallery, who continued throughout the evening, a series of chirping, mocking etc., which, at times completely demoralized the spirit and sympathy attached to the selections rendered. Only those who are so unfortunate as to be entirely ignorant of the beauties of music do these things. If they were otherwise they could not be so conspicuously rude.

The least price of admission and a seat among the gods do not necessarily license anybody to destroy the pleasure of those in other parts of the house, and the management of the Grand would do well to see to it that this unmannerly and disgraceful disturbance is nipped in the bud at the beginning of the season and not allowed to grow as time passes. I have known actors, who, upon being disturbed in this way, to subject the audience to severe censure, even to the extent of pointing out the guilty ones. This, it seems to me, would be a good means of stopping the annoyance. Let the management so instruct each troup of performers and the trouble will soon cease.

Yours truly,

FIRST BALCONY.

Motored Here From Pittsburg

American Visitor Saw Lift Lock This Morning.

An automobile party who have travelled over many miles of widely different country and whose travels are not yet over, spent the night in the city. The party is composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Arthurs and Mr. J. R. Porter, of Pittsburg, Pa. They have motored all the way from Pittsburg, arriving here last evening from Toronto, and registered at the Oriental Hotel. This morning before their departure the party visited the lift lock. They left shortly before noon for Kingston.

A PROTEST IN THE INTERESTS OF HEALTH

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—A matter that the citizens of Peterborough are vitally interested in, and which is a case of "what is everybody's business is nobody's business" is the filling in of the riverbed, immediately east of Water street between Simcoe and Charlotte streets. The contractor on the works may have his orders as to how the filling shall be done, if so, he is not to blame; but the manner in which the work is actually being done in regard to the health of the citizens of the city calls for condemnation. If our Board of Health officials were interested enough, they would find that the filling being done is creating a menace to the health of the citizens, not only those residing in the vicinity, but also those whose business calling requires them to locate daily in the business district from weeks end to week's end.

Mr. Editor, as a resident of fifty years on the banks of the Otonabee river (and please remember that where the filling is going on is the original bed of the river) there never was a case of fever, but if you hear of anything in that line any day now, you will have a good idea where it emenates from.

To prove to you and your readers, I might mention the fact that the manner in which the filling is being done is proving a disease breeder, and that the mosquito family has discovered that this spot is very favourably located for the propogation of their species, and are taking advantage of the opportunity to let the people know that they are still up-to-date and can appreciate this favourable layout to make their "mark" in the world.

Now, Mr. Editor, it stands to reason that with a body of water like that lying between the C. P. R. spur and the west bank of the river, with the current shut off, must prove a disease breeder, and, judging by the length of time taken to do what little filling that has already been done, that if an opening is not made at the west end of Simcoe street and a channel left to keep the water circulating and fresh, we may certainly look for disease.

This is a matter of vital importance to the citizens in general and is a duty that the local "Board of Health" should look after and not wait until the Provincial Board of Health is requested to take a stand in the matter.

Yours respectfully,

HEALTH

Was Fined $10 For Assault

Offender Pays the Penalty For Assaulting Officer.

Ten dollars, to be paid forthwith, or fifteen days in jail, was the sentence passed upon a man this morning by Magistrate Dumble for assaulting P. C. Newhall. The case came up yesterday, but the prisoner was remanded until this morning, by Acting Magistrate Armstrong.

Accused elected to be tried summarily, and in answer to the charge, remarked that he didn't think he struck the officer, but might have done so, being under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

P. C. Newhall gave evidence that after midnight on Wednesday he was assisting P. C. Meharry, who had taken him into custody, in bringing the prisoner to the station. Prisoner kicked him in the leg and on the side, resisting all the way to the station, also using grossly scandalous language.

After imposing the fine, the Magistrate added that all offences against the carrying out of the law by the police would be heavily punished.

A few weeks ago Mr. Jos. Wortley, of Clonmacate, Portadown, Ireland, dug up a potato which weighed 2 lbs 1 oz., measured 12 in. in circumference, and was 7 1-2 in. long.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Sept. 7. — Specialty movements were the feature of today's market. Opening prices were generally higher than last night, but there was a large amount of profit-taking in stocks which have had good advances during the week and this checked the upward move temporarily. Republic Steel, which we have have been advising our friends to buy, was the feature, rising nearly four points to a new high mark while Steel common, ex-dividend, also made a new high.

Copper was active, with a strong undertone, and has all the earmarks of a good advance again early next week. Call money eased off to four per cent. in the afternoon and this helped sentiment. The high prices of the day were made in the early trading, but the market was inclined to rally in the late trading and closed firm.

STORM SCATTERED MILLER'S LOGS

Mr. Geo. J. Brumwell, mill-owner, suffered a serious loss last Monday as a consequence of the extremely high wind on Sturgeon Lake. His setamer was engaged in towing a crib of logs up the lake, and when opposite Sturgeon Point on the south shore the logs were tossed about so roughly by the big rollers that the crib went to pieces. Mr. Brumwell and men are still busily at work gathering up the scattered timber.—Lindsay Post.

Rev. S. S. Burns Inducted Into Lakefield Pastorate

By the Peterborough Presbytery Yesterday — Toronto Charge Wants Rev. J. M. Whitelaw, of Omemee.

The induction of the Rev. S. S. Burns, late of Stirling, into the pastoral charge at Lakefield took place yesterday afternoon in the Lakefield Presbyterian Church. The Peterborough Presbytery met for that purpose at 2.30 o'clock, and there was a large congregation present, although many were kept away because of a funeral.

Rev. B. A. McKenzie, of Centreville, conducted public worship. Then Rev. A. E. Camp, B.A., of Havelock, who presided at the service, called upon the Rev. J. G. Potter, of Peterborough, Interim Moderator, to narrate the steps leading up to the induction service. This done, the usual questions of such an occasion were required of Rev. Mr. Burns, after which, by solemn prayer, he was inducted into the pastorate. The right hand of fellowship of the Presbytery was then extended. The newly installed minister was addressed in suitable terms by Rev. J. G. Potter, after which the Rev. A. C. Reeves, of Campbellford, a former pastor at Lakefield, addressed the congregation, exhorting them to constancy, loyalty and devotion.

Before closing, Rev. Mr. Potter referred in feeling terms to the death of Mrs. Robert Graham, who had looked forward eagerly to the service, and stated that on account of her death, the reception to have been given Mr. Burns would be postponed.

At the conclusion of the service an opportunity was given the congregation to meet and welcome their new pastor.

The Presbytery, on assembling, dealt with several important matters. Authority was given the Mill Street Church, Port Hope, to negotiate in connection with the disposal of their property.

The Presbytery having been notified of a call from Fairbank and Fisherville, in Toronto Presbytery, in favour of the Rev. J. M. Whitelaw, of Omemee, authority was given the clerk of the Presbytery to cite the Omemee congregation to appear for their interests at the regular meeting of the Presbytery, to be held in Hastings on Tuesday, October 2.

Ministers present were: Rev. A. E. Camp, B.A., Havelock; Rev. D. A. Thompson, Hastings, Clerk of the Presbytery; Rev. B. A. McKenzie, Centreville; Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. J. G. Potter, Peterborough; Rev. A. C. Reeves, Cam, bellford; Rev. W. L. Atkinson, Warsaw.

It is expected a large crowd of Peterborough Oddfellows will go to Toronto on that date.

Injuries In Fall From A Waggon

Dummer Man Severly Hurt by Striking a Rock.

Last Monday night Mr. Ed. Martin, of Dummer, met with an accident while returning home from Norwood. When about three miles out the waggon run over a boulder which caused the vehicle to pitch suddenly to one side throwing him out onto the road. He received several nasty bruises and a severe shaking up, which has caused him since to be confined to the house. We are pleased to learn that he is improving and will be able to be around in a few days.—Norwood Register.

CANADA FLAKES AT CANADA NATIONAL

The splendid exhibit of "Canada Flakes," at the Canadian National Exposition, Toronto, arranged by, and in charge of Mr. H. B. Collier, the Toronto agent, is attracting a great deal of attention to the product of one of Peterborough's premier industries.

The Canada Flakes booth at the exhibition is the centre of interest. Thousands see it, and admire it every day, and carry away as souvenirs, the Jumbo cartoons, and at the other booths a receptacle for samples and advertising matter, are distributed. Those who notice say that nothing at the big show is being more thoroughly advertised than the Canada Flakes, and this fact in connection with the superior merits of the cereal, will result in a demand that will make the Peterborough Cereal Mills the busiest industry in the city, and cover the country with a shower of Canada Flakes.

Whooping Cough.

"My three youngest boys had the whooping cough last winter, and we could get nothing to help them until I sent for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It arrested the coughs at once and they kept right on improving until they were cured at the cost of one dollar. That was not a large bill for so distressing and dangerous an ilment." —Mrs. William Ball, Bracebridge, Ont.

Grand Opera House Was Opened For The Season

Dolly Varden, Stange and Edwards' Sparkling Operatic Comedy Success Presented to Large and Appreciative Crowd—Splendid Performance Was the Verdict.

With the presentation of the comic opera success, "Dolly Varden," by the Aborn Company, the Grand Opera House, was opened for the season of 1906-7 last night, with proper eclat. The crowd that attended the opening was one fitting the occasion, and there were few vacant seats in the house when the curtain rang up on the first chorus.

Manager Bradburn made no mistake in securing for the initial attraction, the company which played here last night. The audience was thoroughly satisfied with the performance, and well they might have been, as the play was bright and sparkling throughout, with a chorus that could sing, as well as look pretty, and with the principal roles in the hands of versatile and clever artists.

It was the first presentation of "Dolly Varden" in this city, and the play made a hit with the audience. The book and lyrics are by Stanislaus Strange, and the music by Julian Edwards. Both author and composer are widely known in the kingdom of comic opera, and "Dolly Varden," both from the point of view, and from the success achieved, is their best effort.

The scene of the action is laid in London during the reign of King George the first, which gives an opportunity of employing the beautiful and quaint costumes of the olden days, as well as the graceful court dances and minuets. For two hours and a half the audience lived in the realm of swords and powdered wigs. The stage settings were of course magnificent, and with the gorgeous apparel of the performers, opportunity was given, and fully taken advantage of to present some very effective ensemble pictures.

The plot, as is usually the case with comic operas, is slight. "Dolly Varden" is not, however, merely the usual musical pot-pouri, by any means. The play centres around Dolly Varden, a country heiress, whose fortune is sought by her guardian, Jack Fairfax. This worthy wishes to marry her, and endeavours to keep her from meeting any man who would be likely to prove an obstacle to his scheme. An intruder appears in Capt. Bellville, an English officer, who wins the love of the fair Dolly, and finally marries her by means of strategem, in spite of her guardian. Another pretty love affair is interwoven between Letitia Fairfax, a London belle, and Captain Horace Harcourt, a gallant captain of the navy.

Lilian Spencer, the sprightly comedienne, won the audience upon her first appearance. As the wilful, witty, impecuous Dolly, she was decidedly effective. It was a role that called for versatility and ability, and Miss Spencer demonstrated that it was in good hands. Martin Chessman, as Lord Gayspark, a London exquisite, was responsible for much of the laughter. His love affair with Letitia, "his bride that was to have been," furnished plenty of amusement. To him fell some of the most witty epigrams, of which the following are samples:

"The man that marries for money, earns it."

"Some of us give in marriage, others take in marriage, but most of us are taken in."

"He fights to marry; I marry to fight."

"Society is divided into two classes: those who have money, and those who want to take it from them."

J. A. Wallerstedt, as Capt. Richard, and W. H. May, as Jack Fairfax, showed themselves fully capable of handling the roles.

The singing of the entire company was a feature that was thoroughly pleasing. The plays abounds in tuneful music, and principals and chorus alike rendered it most effectively. W. H. May, as Jack Fairfax, displayed a magnificent bass, of wonderful range and power, his work in the lower registers being especially noticeable. His two numbers, "Lovers' Lane," and "The Song of the Sword," were two of the choicest bits of the evening. In the latter he was assisted by a strong male chorus. John O'Donnell, as Richard Harcourt, had several numbers, which he sang with pleasing effect. He has a big, rich baritone, which was displayed to best advantage, probably, in the solo, "If the Girl You Love, Loves You." Another tuneful selection that fell to his lot was was, "My Ship's the Girl for Me," sung in the first act. Miss Spencer, in the title role, had several catchy selections, her biggest hit being "The Tale of the Mocking Bird and the Jay," in which her bird imitations "caught on" with the "boys in the gallery."

J. A. Walderstedt, as Capt. Richards, also showed himself a soloist of great ability. His hit was the solo, "Dainty Dolly Varden," which is being whistled everywhere to-day, and was the most catchy selection of the programme.

Klara Farm, who was with Lulu Glasser, in the original production, has a splendid soprano, which the composer gave her many opportunities to display. Her best was probably, "I Love the Navy." Other hits of the production were "What Love Means," "All is Love," "When a Maid and a Man are Alone," and "For the Benefit of Man." The singing of the chorus was away above the average, the finales being rendered with pleasing effect.

The Grand Opera House is now open for what promises to be by far the best theatrical season ever experienced in Peterborough. Manager Bradburn has secured many premier attractions for this season, and the public will be given an opportunity of seeing the best shows on the road. Among the attractions booked are "Red Feather," "The Ginger Bread Man," and Roselle Knott, in "The Duchess of Devonshire." The opening of the house will be hailed with delight by the amusement loving people of Peterborough.

Manager—R. H. Bradburn.
Treasurer—J. W. Richards.
Stage Manager—H. Pearson.
Musical Director—A. C. Greig.
Head Usher—Jas. E. Johnston.

To-night at the Grand the Shepard Moving Picture Company will offer an entirely new bill of large proportions, as sweeping as it is varied, in a wealth of magnificent subjects of equal merit. Pictures of great dramatic work, splendidly acted by an imposing cast of merit, wherein expressive action of clear intent will interest, while the climaxes that are perfectly graded will hold the audience spell-bound. A daring rescue, and a tremendous climax of sterling power. The comedy pictures are those only that are new, original and real laugh producers and are divertisments alternating with subects that touch and hold the interest of all whether in travel, the drama, history, daily events, sports or in the realism of science, literature and art.

Burglars Stole Fowl and Butter

Entered Cellar Window During Stillness of the Night.

On Monday night, burglars entered through a cellar window of a house on the west side of King street and stole an uncooked chicken and two pounds of butter. They did not attempt to obtain access to the upper part of the house. The lady of the house heard men talking during the early part of the evening, but paid little attention. Nothing but the chicken and butter was taken, although the cellar contained a large supply of preserves and other comestibles. — Port Hope Times.

Insurgents In Command Of General Guzman

Rout Cuban Government Force After Desperate Encounter.

MANY KILLED OR WOUNDED

Great Excitement at Cienfuegos Over the Victory Gained by the Insurgents —Another Exchange of Martial Compliments at St. Jose de las Ladas—Gen. Menocal, Who is Striving to Establish Peace.

Cienfuegos, Sept. 7.—A detachment of 50 Government troops from this city yesterday encountered a band of Gen. Guzman's insurgents near Camarones.

In the fight which ensued the Government force was routed, many being killed or wounded.

There is great excitement in Cienfuegos.

Another Fight.

Havana, Sept. 7.—A body of volunteers and rural guards, numbering 200 men, exchanged shots with Col. Asbert's insurgents Wednesday night near San Jose de las Lajas, Province of Havana.

One rural guard was killed and three insurgents were wounded.

A report that Gen. Menocal, who is using his influence to establish peace between the Government and the insurgents, has an eye on the Presidency, is vigorously denied by the leader of the Cuban veterans. Menocal adds that he desires solely to see the republic at peace.

FLOODS AT VANCOUVER.

One Life Lost by Upsetting of Canoe In Swollen River.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 7.—Heavy rains are causing floods on Vancouver Island.

The down-pour was unprecedented, and at least one life was lost, while several others had narrow escapes.

At Otter Point, the fatality occurred, while two men were attempting to cross the swollen Gordon River. Their canoe overturned on the bar, and Charles Kellum was drowned. Constance Charlton, the other occupant of the canoe, was washed on to the trap of the B. C. Packers' Association, and managed to reach the capping, where he lashed himself, and for five hours remained exposed to the bombardment of the elements.

He was rescued by caretakers of the Malcolm Canning Companies' trap.

WE'RE ALL IMPERIALISTS.

Hon. Frank Oliver Interviewed in London—Comments.

London, Sept. 7.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. Frank Oliver, Canadian Minister of the Interior, interviewed by The Express, said:

"We are all imperialists in Canada. Canadians are very glad that the preference they have been enabled to show Britain is looked on satisfactorily, but if in her own interests Canada should find it necessary in the future to make other arrangements, then Mother England will not be displeased."

Commenting on the interview, The Express says there is no reason to fear because Canadians prefer not to emphasize the sentimental nature of the bond between the mother country and Canada, that they lack affection and reverence. What was wanted now was that the magic of empire shall be replaced by practical work.

SEGAL AND HIPPLE CONSPIRED.

District Attorney Says Looting Amounts to $5,000,000.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—The hearing in the Real Estate Trust Co. cases of Adolph Segal, the promoter; Treasurer William P. North and M. S. Collingwood, the assistant treasurer, was held yesterday. They were held for trial. Segal claims that he will prove his innocence; that he has property valued at $10,000,000 and that all his debts will be paid.

District Attorney Bell said he would prove that the accused men, with Hipple, were engaged in a gigantic conspiracy to defraud the trust company, and that more than $5,000,000 had been abstracted from the institution and embezzled for the use of one man—Adolph Segal.

Hippie's Confession.

F. Wharton Hipple, the son of the suicide president of the trust company, identified the handwriting on the paper containing the confession as his father's. The confession is as follows:

"To the state trust commissioner: No one is to blame but myself. Segal got all the money. I was fooled in lending it to him, thinking his business good."

OTTAWA RIVER VERY LOW.

Lumbermen Are Heavy Sufferers—Mills Shut Down.

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—Owing to the very low water in the Ottawa, the lumbering interests are suffering much.

The water is unprecedently low and at Hawkesbury the mills are completely shut down, 600 men being out of work.

Eddy's have had to shut down at night, and J. R. Booth has reduced his night shift. The steamers are also finding navigation more difficult.

Chatham Barber Raided.

Chatham, Sept. 7.—Nine bottles of choice liquor, five packs of cards and a gaming table were captured in a raid made at a room over the King street barber shop of Tom Smith at 10.30 yesterday morning. Smith is charged with keeping a common gambling house, and probably selling liquor without a license, and seven well known men of the city are being summoned as frequenters of the place.

AT THE AGE OF 60.

Trades Union Congress Favors Pensions For Everybody.

Liverpool, Sept. 7.—Pensions for everybody at the age of 60 was among the proposals adopted at yesterday's session of the Trades Union Congress. The advocates of the resolution contended that the money necessary for the pensions could easily be raised from among the wealthy by taxing land values.

The President Cancelled 90 Monarch Shares

INQUIRY INTO HOME LIFE

Merging of the Home Life and the People's Life Companies and How It Was Done—Mr. McCutcheon Paid $80,000 and $25 Per Share For 1,164 Shares to Manager and President of the Home Life.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—The examination of the Monarch Life Insurance Co. was concluded yesterday morning. D. A. Gordon, M. P. of Wallaceburg, was the last witness called. David A. McCutcheon, manager of the Home Life, was put in the box to give an account of the merger of the People's Life, with the Home Life one year ago. J. R. Stratton of the Home Life was present, and J. McLaughlin of Lindsay appeared for the company.

President D. A. Gordon of the Monarch was examined briefly by Mr. Tilley. Mr. Gordon succeeded Hon. James Cochrane as head of the Monarch Life. He was acquainted with the transaction prepared by Manager Ostrom in reference to the transfer of 1,400 shares, but gave no instructions that stock certificates should be issued to Ostrom nor was any agreement specified. Prior to leaving for Winnipeg Ostrom wished to sell one hundred shares, and witness took every precaution to ask him if these were his own, and Ostrom assured him they were. He signed two certificates for fifty shares each, and four for twenty and one for ten before he found out these were part of the 1,400 shares. In accordance with his promise to the directors at Winnipeg witness cancelled the 90 shares that he explained to them were signed by mistake.

The meeting on the 9th of August was called with the president's approval. A bylaw was passed moving the head office to Toronto. On Aug. 31 witness wired Ostrom to have meeting called immediately to rescind that bylaw. Mr. Gordon wanted the bylaw repealed and understood it would be repealed.

Witness was unaware that the 1,400 shares had been issued to Ostrom until the evidence came out.

Mr. Ostrom Recalled.

Manager Ostrom was recalled.

"Did you bring the stock certificates?" asked Mr. Tilley.

"No, I did not have time to think about them," replied witness.

"Is the seal of the company here?"

"Yes."

"Have you made any search for the draft form of the agreement with yourself?"

"Yes and I have not been able to lay my hands on it since."

"Has it been destroyed?"

"Not on my part."

Mr. Ostrom wished to ask questions, but Mr. Tilley told him he could make a statement. He wanted to know why other companies longer in the field had not been examined. The newspapers had made many statements that were not true.

"Probably others have also," said Mr. Tilley.

"Not on my part and not on the part of any member of our company has anything that is not true been said intentionally," was Mr. Ostrom's retort.

Commissioner Kent asked witness if he would have sold one share of stock if he had put in his prospectus that he (Ostrom) was to receive $50,000.

Mr. Ostrom assured him that every single shareholder knew he was to get $49,000 of paid up stock and $1,000 in cash.

The Home Life.

Mr. McCutcheon of the Home Life took the stand at 11.30. He has been manager since Oct. 12, 1905, the date of the merger of the People's Life and the Home Life. Prior to that date witness was manager of the People's Life, for four or five months, coming from the Federal of Hamilton, where he was superintendent of agencies. Mr. McCutcheon left the Federal to assume the management of the People's Life, by preferment, at the instance of the president, Hon. Mr. Stratton.

Mr. McCutcheon received $5,000 per annum and commission of five per cent., of the increased interest per annum from the Peoples' Life.

To show the condition of People's at that time, Mr. Tilley read a statement. This showed that the improvement from the beginning of the company was great. In 1904 it was $221,000. The result was very disappointing to people connected with the company, and it was this feature that brought on the amalgamation. Hence the witness' suggestion that the business be reinsured, was carried out. Witness did not carry out the negotiations, however. J. J. Warren, solicitor for People's, put the deal through.

Where the Money Came From.

Witness had paid $80,000 cash and $25 per share for 1,164 shares to Messrs. W. J. Patteson and J. Firstbrook, the cash payment representing the value of their contract as manager and permanent president of the Home Life.

"Where did you raise the money to pay for these shares?" asked Mr. Tilley.

"From the People's Life."

Mr. Tilley read a statement prepared by Mr. McLaughlin, showing the disposition of the shares.

"You were not acting in trust for any particular individual?"

"No."

On being cross-examined witness admitted he bought them for Mr. Stratton.

Judge McTavish: Who owns the stock now?

Witness said the People's Life owned it, although it was in his name. If there was a loss he would have to stand the loss.

"Who paid the $80,000?" asked counsel.

"Where did the money come from?"

"Mr. Stratton guaranteed the money."

"Did the People's Life advance to the buyers of the stock anything to pay for their shares?"

"Yes. To Messrs. Karn, Kleopfer and Warren."

"The question of the propriety of such a transaction was not discussed by yourself and Stratton?"

"No."

"Had they any power under charter to lend on life insurance stock?"

"Our solicitor thought so. I didn't know."

"Was this 1,164 shares stock upon which 20 per cent. call and 25 per cent. premium had been paid?"

"Yes."

"What could this stock be bought at? Were the Home Life shares being purchased by Patteson? Was the stock on the market for less than 25?"

"I don't know."

"What would Patteson have to pay for his shares that he sold you?"

"125."

"Was the $80,000 loaned to you or to you through Mr. Stratton by the People's Life?"

"I don't know."

"Were you any party to the discussion with Patteson when $80,000 was agreed as the price?"

"No."

Price of the Stock.

"What did he first ask?"

"In the neighborhood of $100,000."

"Was Firstbrook a partner in the deal?"

"I don't know."

"What was offered by you at first?"

"I don't know."

Every director of the Home life had resigned and was reappointed or not reappointed. Witness did not know whether the directors received any part of the $80,000.

"Did the directors of the Home Life appreciate that the five per cent. of the annual premiums up to $11,000 were to provide security for the $80,000?"

"Yes."

Reverting to the responsibility for the $80,000 to the People's Life by Mr. McCutcheon, witness said that he had assigned these to Mr. Stratton. The document will be furnished.

Mr. McCutcheon stated that the Citizens' Life had also been taken over by the Home Life. The price paid by the Home Life for the business of the People's Life was the amount of one year's premium or 100 per cent. Mr. Tilley dissected the transfer carefully.

A Difference.

Mr. Tilley read a telegram from witness to the Insurance Department to the effect that on Dec. 31, 1905, the People's Life had 1,547 policies in force and a total business of $763,479. The transfer, however, was put in as $2,672,000. Mr. Tilley wanted to know where the $900,000 had disappeared to.

Mr. Kelley, the secretary, said that it was lapsed policies for 1905 that had not been written off.

Counsel used up considerable time in tracing certain cheques which were put through by the People's Life at the end of the year, one for $9,701 and the other $16,964, as an asset, but not paid until the middle of January. They were explained by the secretary, who said that they were treated as an asset in the annual statement, although not really paid for three weeks.

Commissioner Kent referred to this mode as a fiction of bookkeeping. The whole action was a mere matter of form.

St. Catharines, Sept. 7.—J. P. Ames, the Wellandport school teacher, was committed for trial on the charge of aggravated assault upon Dean Horton, one of his pupils.

The boy is still in bed as the result of the assault and the magistrate had to take his evidence at his home.

Two physicians, Dr. Oliver of Wellandport and Dr. Birdsay of Fenwick, gave evidence as to the wounds upon the boy and swore that as a consequence of the assault he was nervous and weak.

Ames was admitted to bail till the December sessions of the peace.

Liberals Across The Sea Considered As Being Friendly

VIA HAMAR GREENWOOD, M.P

Who Was Tendered a Large Banquet by the Canadian National Exhibition —Splendid Compliment to a Young Canadian Who Is Winning His Way In Britain—Good Points of His Speech—Empire Boom.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—It was eminently fitting that "American Day" at Canadian National Exhibition should be chosen by the directors to banquet Hamar Greenwood, M. P. for York, England, but, as Sir William Mulock put it, "Canadian bred."

Though it was a great function, it was held in the evening and was over by 10 o'clock last night.

W. K. McNaught, M. P. P., made a perfect chairman, and in introducing the guest of the occasion said that Mr. Greenwood had been of very great assistance to the directors of the fair in many matters of importance in England during the year, and this in itself made it appropriate to entertain him at the fair. But they were proud to welcome him for what he was and what he had done for Canada and the Empire.

The toast of "The King," was duly honored and the National Anthem sung.

Growth of Empire.

Hon. J. W. St. John, in proposing the toast of "The Empire," stated that it had increased during last century at the rate of two acres a second. He was glad to say that in this mighty Empire the champion of liberty and civilization, the sons and daughters of Canada took foremost place. In statesmanship this was evident from the list of Canadians in the Imperial Parliament, of whom he mentioned Hon. Edward Blake, Sir Gilbert Parker, Bonar Law, Charles D. Evelyn, Dr. Macnamara, C. D. Rose, Allen Baker, Foster Boulton and last, but not least, Hamar Greenwood.

Sir William Mulock, in responding, complimented the gifted first commoner of Ontario, who proposed the toast. Were he to treat the subject in the light of the storied past he would venture the assertion that the Empire owed its position among the present day nations to the fact that British institutions stood for liberty and justice.

What were to be the future relations of Canada with the Empire, was a question often asked. He did not share the view that a new bond was needed. In his judgment the imperial sentiment was not a sordid one, and did not depend on tariffs, custom walls, preferences or free trade, but on a higher, holier foundation. Britain was the cradle of civil and religious liberty, and this was the great heritage Canada enjoyed, from the mother of nations. Sentiment was the true bond, and mercenary considerations would have no place in determining the union, which would continue from age to age between Britain and Canada.

He had to congratulate Britain on the importation of Hamar Greenwood. Canadian-bred. His success would stimulate many young Canadians to dedicate as he had done his great gifts to the mother country.

Mayor Coatsworth was pleased to note that those conditions which had brought about the disintegration of earlier empires were wanting in the British. He joined in congratulating Britain in acquiring some young Canadian blood such as had been supplied by Mr. Greenwood.

The Toast of the Evening.

A. H. N. Colquhoun proposed the toast of the evening. Mr. Greenwood was one of that republic of letters in which those who belonged to it were careful of their common interests. Mr Greenwood had distinguished himself in many ways, but it was to his own talent and pluck that Mr. Greenwood owed his present position. He represented in the British Parliament a party which was peculiarly close to the democratic forces of the time. They recognized the British Empire as a power for good, and they saw in him one with whom they had common ground in the service of the Empire. His own idea of imperialism was of the quality of the King's subjects in every part of the Empire, and Mr. Greenwood's success had done much to establish that.

Mr. Greenwood's Reply.

After graceful personal references to those who honored him and thanks for that honor, Mr Greenwood said he considered Canada to be the most progressive and most important colony of the Empire. The people had a sense of political and religious equality which was still wanting in Britain. The more Canadians there were in the House of Commons the more would imperial matters be considered and local matters relegated to the proper quarters for settlement. They had now nine thoroughbred Canadians and one or two New Zealanders and Australians in the House. This would prevent the Home Government landing in a morass, as they have done on some occasions, and would prevent the signing of an Ashburton or any subsequent treaty of that kind.

Keen For the Colonies.

He was sure the present English administration, with all of whom he had discussed Canada, were as keen champions of colonial development as any of those present. He would not for a moment attempt to interfere in Canadian affairs He was in the small but considerable majority of those who never gave advice to his native country. But when a British Cabinet took office they were always actuated with respect, sympathy and loyalty towards the colonies. There was no such thing as partisanship in a British Cabinet. Whether a squatter in Australia or a 160-acre man in the Northwest, it was the sentiment of the great men in England that the Empire stood behind their distant brethren Their great hearts beat in England as warmly for Canada as Canadians' own

A Hard Country to Forget.

He hoped that from generation to generation they would find England an increasingly hard country to forget. He believed they were growing closer and closer on account of causes of the heart, over which no party politicians, he thanked God, had any control.

At this point he read a letter to himself from Winston Churchill, M. P., in which the Colonial Under Secretary said that the change of Government, "great and far-reaching though it has been, does not imply any weakening in the affection of the British people towards their kith and kin across the sea," and he commissioned Mr. Greenwood to convince the people of Canada of that fact.

Concluding Mr. Greenwood said: "During a life which I hope will be long, and which I know will be difficult, I hope that I will never do anything that will bring shame to any Canadian, or ever speak a word that would reflect other than credit to the land of my birth." If he sought a higher position it would be to make it possible for him more worthily to represent Canada and more usefully to serve the great Empire.

Chairman McNaught thought Winston Churchill's letter would give a great feeling of relief to many who feared the result of the accession to power of the Liberal party in England.

American Day.

Yesterday the Stars and Stripes floated over the Administration Building at the Fair. At the directors' luncheon toasts were drunk after the royal health had been honored, to the President of the United States and to W. K. McNaught, M.P.P., "the honorary but active president of the association," whose 62nd birthday it was.

Chairman W. K. George spoke of the good terms existing between the two great American nations.

Prof. Carlyle and A. R. Minard, secretary of the Boston Canadian Club, spoke up for the president and the United States.

Hon. A. B. Morine of Newfoundland and G. C. Creelman also contributed to the speech making.

Two Farmers Are Burned Out.

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—Near Black Rapids, Nepean Township, Wednesday afternoon, a steam thresher working at the farm of Thomas Boyce, councillor of Nepean, ignited the straw in a mow, and the fire destroyed barns, outbuildings and the season's crops, and a brick house and contents.

The flames leaped to an adjoining farm and did similar destruction on the farm of William Ready. Both lost all. Mr. Boyce's loss will exceed $5,000, while Mr. Ready's is over $4,000.

The threshing separator was also destroyed, and one of the horses.

Russian Bourse.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—The firm note struck by Premier Stolypin in the official communication embodying the whole Government program, published Wednesday night, with warning to terrorists and revolutionists on one hand, that crime must and will be suppressed at any cost, and to the reactionists, on the other hand, that reforms can neither be abandoned nor deferred, met with a prompt response on the bourse yesterday, where prices were not merely firm, but were very strong, without any symptoms of artificial support.

Earl Grey In B. C.

Nelson, B. C., Sept. 7.—His Excellency Lord Grey is suffering from a rather severe cold, and with Lady Grey remained here yesterday, visiting Greenwood to-day. Rossland to-morrow and then the whole party will go up the Columbia River en route to the coast on Sunday evening.

Annual Meeting Of The Peterborough Rugby Club

Will Be Held To-night in the City Council Chamber—Senior Rugby is Being Talked Of—Propects Are Bright.

To-night the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club will be held in the City Council Chambers at 8 o'clock. Indications point to the most enthusiastic and largely attended meeting ever held by the club. Rugby has taken a firm hold in Peterborough and the splendid record made by the team last year in winning the intermediate honours has given a splendid impetus to the game. Senior rugby is the slogan heard everywhere and to-night's meeting will no doubt decide as to what series the team will be found in this year. There is plenty of material and a winning team seems more than a probability. It is up to every lover of the game, supporters as well as players to be on hand to-night to give the team an early satrt; the good start is always half the battle, and the team that gets into the game early is the team that is going to be heard from when championship honours are being distributed. Remember, to-night, at 8 o'clock, in the city Council Chamber, not in the Y.M.C.A., as previously announced.

Oshawa Won Deciding Game From Port Hope

Defeated Surphlis' Aggregation in Bowmanville Wednesday—Score Was 10-6 in Their Favour.

The Port Hope Guide says the third game between Port Hope and Oshawa took place at Bowmanville yesterday and drew a large crowd. Oshawa was strengthened by Phalen, Walsh and O'Hearn, of Toronto, while the locals had a weak line up, a couple of their men disappointing them at the last minute Wilcox, Martin and Jones, of Bowmanville, filled three vacancies, and their assistance was much appreciated. Wilcox put up the star game of the three, and his two-bagger was responsible for two runs. But the all-important part of every game, the score was 10-6 in favour of Oshawa. The first innings Oshawa didn't have a look in and in the second the first two fell victims to Surphles' delivery. The next hitter placed a slow one down to second, and, terrible to relate, Walters lost it, and the ascension followed and ere they had settled away Oshawa had trotted five men across the plate and won the game. This is where we lost, actually giving them five runs. We didn't want any person to think for one moment that we are endeavouring to rub it into Walters, for such is not the case. The best players in the world will make mistakes, and, unfortunately He's turn came at this time, but then he did his best and a man who will get out and play his best is worth a hundred of these fellows that you have to be coaxing all the time and we have a lot of that class in Port Hope, not only in baseball but in every game.

And then it was George Weeks, of Bowmanville, who did the umpiring. He gave us many things we were not entitled to and he took many away from us that we were entitled to, and he did exactly the same with Oshawa. Any person who is acquainted with Weeks knows that he is as honest a boy as there is in Bowmanville, but he can't umpire. He lacks confidence in himself and consequently he loses control of the teams.

Harry Khelan did the twirling for Oshawa and as you know he comes from the city. Ball players in this part of the country don't know very much in his estimation. Phelan takes every opportunity possible to raise a kick and the result is he spoils nearly every game he takes part in.

Surphlis was on the slab for the locals and he is head and shoulders over any other pitcher we have yet seen in the Midland League. His work all season has been of the gilt edge variety and had he received any kind of support his list of victories would be much larger. Yesterday against the strongest bunch of hitters of the season he only allowed six hits and struck out thirteen men. Port Hope secured nine hits from Phelan and six of them fanned the air. It is really too bad that after the hard work that Surphlis indulges in, in every game that he should be thrown down by repeated errors by the other members of the team. Henry, however, takes it good naturedly and his parting words last night were "remember my address and if, boys, you want me next year I'll be there."

This game closes the season of 1906 and probably if the presidency goes to Cobourg next year, the Midland League will be re-organized and everything will work smoothly once more.

BOWLING

The following bowlers left this morning for Port Hope, where they will play an exhibition game:—

Good Ball Game For To-morrow

Shamrocks Will Meet a Picked Team.

A good ball game may be expected to-morrow afternoon at the Riverside Park, when the Shamrocks will play a picked team. One of the fastest contests of the season may be looked for. The Shamrocks will have a very strong line-up, and their opponents will also be strong.

GOLF

The first round of the club championship, Peterborough Golf and Country Club, is to be finished by Saturday, September 15th. The draw:—

W. H. Blanchette versus C. Moore.
W. H. Bradburn versus D. Walker.
T. F. Matthews versus S. T. Medd.
H. S. Laidlaw versus Dr. McFall.
H. D. Bunnett versus A. H. Stratton.
A. E. Coulthart versus S. Ray.
C. Hill versus F. Merrell.
E. H. D. Hall versus T. D. Mulholland.
Dr. Eastwood versus A. Pole.
W. H. Denham versus R. Neill.
R. M. Dennistoun versus H. Ritchie.

The club's professional, Willie Bell, is proving a most capable coach. That he plays golf is shown by the fact that yesterday he beat all previous records on the links, with a score of 35. His services are proving very satisfactory and his list is fast filling.

Fall Suit Remarks

The Suits of the Season suggest stateliness rather than baggy fullness.

Take the coat for instance; though the shoulders are broad, the lines concave toward the waist, then flare out into long skirts, forming what is called the French Back.

Some of these suits have centre vents with creased side seams. The New Big Lapels tend to give the impression of a broad chest.

A noticeable feature of this long coat is the fact that in lends itself equally well to short or tall men.

Swallows Hair Tonic In Mistake

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 8. — To relieve an attack of cramps, William Shiley, 42 years of age, drank a quantity of hair tonic in mistake for whisky. He died within 15 minutes. Shiley was awakened from sleep by sharp pains. His wife recommended that he take some whisky from a bottle on a nearby shelf. Shiley reached for it in the dark and had taken a dose before discovering his error. With his wife, he ran to the residence of Dr. H. W. North, who administered antidotes, but without avail.

Prisoner, Jailer And Janitor Is He

Brown County Man Carries the Key and Lets Himself Out At Pleasure.

Indianapolis, Sept. 8.—The log jail at Nashville, Brown County, now has only one occupant—Emmet Turpin, of Nashville. He is the only prisoner who has been confined in the jail since last fall.

Turpin was arrested and fined for violations of the liquor laws. He had no money to pay his fine. He figured that the equivalent would be 250 days in jail, and he determined to serve it. There was no one to let him in, so he got the key and unlocked the door and went in himself.

Turpin is now prisoner, jailor and janitor. He keeps the key, and when he wishes anything he unlocks the door and goes after it. When he comes back he locks himself in again.

Turpin now thinks he should be paid for the janitor work he is doing, and he threatens to sue the county for wages. With pay for this work he figures that the fine would now be liquidated.

Over a year ago a man was confined in the big jail for sheep stealing. He, too, went out and came back at his pleasure. Saturday night he went home regularly and spent Sunday several miles down the country. He landed in the penitentiary finally for a few months, and the warden gave him $5 when he had served his time. He returned and gave it to the man from whom he had stolen the sheep.

Crazed By Love She Runs Amuck

Girl Slashes a Trolley Conductor in Washington City.

Washington, Sept. 8.—With the streets and trolley cars thronged with pleasure-seekers last night at the intersection of two of Washington's business thoroughfares, Viola Strahan, not out of her teens, made an attempt on the life of Thomas Stallings, a trolley car conductor, and a stranger to his assailant.

Miss Strahan is the daughter of a well-known sporting man, the superintendent of Bennings race-track. Last March, while still attending school, she drank poison in a waiting-room of the street car company. She said then, "I want to die; I cannot live without him."

Family and friends said an unfortunate love affair had upset the young girl's mind.

Miss Strahan last night entered the waiting car at Fifteenth street and New York avenue. Stalling's back was turned toward her. Reaching in the folds of her dress, she drew a sharp knife, and, saying, "I told you I would be revenged," made a vicious lunge at Stallings. The blade penetrated his clothing and sank into his shoulder.

The motorman rushed to the conductor's rescue. The girl was arrested.

Burglar Weds Widow Only To Get Her Fortune

Parisian Man Finds Romantic Woman Silly Enough to Trust Him With Here Whole Fortune—He is Not Back Yet.

Paris, Sept. 7.—There are pleasanter ways of getting wealth than by means of a "jimmy" and a chunk of dynamite. So thought Raoul Bachitlle, a well known Parisian burglar, nicknamed the "Red Prince" by the police because of his auburn hair and his dashing ways with women.

Madam Rosa Cotillon is a romantic widow of uncertain age. Her husband, a university professor, left her a little fortune of some $20,000 in gold securities. Madam advertised for a position as governess in an aristocratic family. In answer there came to her flat a handsome and well-dressed young man who proceeded to make many inquiries. He said he represented others and would give favourable reports of her. The young man came again, but this time made love to the widow. She asked him anxiously about the post of governess and then he said he would confess. He did not seek a governess, but a wife. He was a wealthy Roumanian with a princely estate and a castle for which he desired a bride. His father and mother were old and desired to leave all affairs to him as soon as he married. They had come with him to Paris to choose a bride for him, and had answered madam's advertisement to see if she perchance would suit him. And she did, for he fell in love with her at first sight.

The widow made many protests, but the young man seemed loving, and always had an argument for all her protestation. Finally when he asked her to call on the morrow on his father and mother she agreed to do so and decide whether she would accept him afterwards. Next day she called at the address in the Rue de Bellefond and entered a most luxurious room, where she was introduced to an old and seemingly worthy couple, who were very fashionably dressed. They embraced her and said she would make an ideal mistress of the castle. So it was settled. The romantic widow accepted the ardent lover. The marriage was to take place in Roumania, and the bride-to-be started to get her trousseau.

The lover would allow no delay. Within the week they must start. And so the widow packed her trunks. The day before the date of departure the lover suggested that the widow change her securities into Roumanian money in Paris, for he said she would get much more for them here than in Roumania. The widow agreed, and as she was fearfully busy with dressmakers, suggested that her lover attend to the matter for her. He agreed and there was a fond embrace and the lover then started off with the securities. He is not back yet.

Fatal Morphine Poison Still Dry On His Lips

Had Taken An Ounce of the Powder and Body Lay Undiscovered for 18 Hours.

Examiner Special.

Detroit, Sept. 8.—Cold and stiff as he had been left by death 18 hours before, James Knapp, aged 37 years, 36 South Division street, Grand Rapids, was found in his bed at the Hotel Crystal, 104 Gratiot avenue, Detroit early Saturday night by Night Clerk Percy Jacobs. He had taken an ounce of morphine powder, and the drug was scattered over the dresser and floor and drying on his lips. Strangely enough, Knapp's room was No. 13.

Knapp retired about 10.30 Friday night and his room was not opened until 6 p. m. Saturday. Then it was discovered that the man had been dead probably all day. There is no clue to a motive for the suicide, except several bottles of medicine in the dead man's grip, which might indicate that he had been ill.

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon Knapp registered as coming from Detroit and was shown to his room. Later he left the building and did not return until after supper. When he did come back about 9 o'clock he lounged about the office for a time and then retired. He seemed to be in the best of spirits, clerk and guests noticing nothing out of the ordinary.

About 7 o'clock Saturday morning Bessie Squires, chambermaid at the hotel, looked into room 13, the door being open about two inches. She saw him lying there apparently asleep and was about to enter and wake him when the laundryman arrived and she was called to other work. She forgot about the fateful chamber until evening when the night clerk went on duty.

"Oh, there was a man up in 13 whom I forgot to wake this morning," said the chambermaid about 6 o'clock, suddenly remembering the neglected room. Jacobs went up immediately and found Knapp lying stretched on the bed. A vigorous shaking failed to wake him and then Jacobs realized that he was dead. Coroner Parker was notified at once and after an examination ordered the body removed to the county morgue.

Knapp's possessions, aside from his wearing apparel, consisted on an insurance policy for $300 in the National Protective Legion, of New York. It was from these papers that his name and address were ascertained. Several bottles of medicine, seemingly liniment, were found in his grip. There was no letter or message, not a scrap of writing to otell why the deed was committed. The first thought, that the medicine and morphine might have been confused afte: Knapp had turned out the light, is dispelled by the fact that the medicines are all in liquid form, while the morphine is in powder and in a much smaller vial.

OLD WORLD MAIL NEWS

Interesting Items From Across the Sea.

ENGLAND

A revolting story of cruelty to a child and its incarceration in a subterranean chamber at Pendennis Castle, was unfolded at the Falmouth Police Court recently. Pendennis Castle, built by Henry VIII., crowns a headland overlooking Falmouth Bay, and in the Civil War was besieged by the Parliamentary forces for some six months. Its secret rooms afforded shelter to Queen Henrietta Maria and Prince Charles in their flight to the Continent, and in its subterranean dungeons have been incarcerated many a high personage who had incurred royal displeasure. Now the castle affords quarters for the 105th Company of the Royal Garrison Artillery, and its underground chambers are not supposed to be used for punitive purposes. An army pensioner and his wife, named Emery, have been living at the castle. Some time ago they adopted a child, a pretty, dark-eyed little fellow, now aged three and a half years, who soon became a general favourite with the soldiers. The child, it was noticed, became thin, and had an unhappy appearance, and then disappeared altogether. The suspicions of a soldier's wife were aroused, and her inquiries resulted in the child being discovered in an old room 15 feet below the surface of the ground. The child did not seem to have strength to run, and presented a sickening sight, being simply skin and bone. In addition to being afflicted with rickets and vermin, the child had a bruise extending from the left temple to the back of the head, another 2 1-2 inches by 2 inches square, on the right shoulder, one much larger on the left shoulder, one 2 inches by 2 inches on the chest, one 1 1-2 inches by 2 inches on the right elbow, one severe one on the right hip, and, on the back, 21 elongated bruises. The army pensioner's wife was sent to prison.

A sailor named Joseph Burbage, of H.M.S. Nelson, went mad in Petersfield, Hampshire, a few days ago, and ran through the streets firing a rifle. He had been at musketry practice at a range near Portsmouth, and shortly after reaching the town, began to discharge the weapon in all directions. He frequently aimed deliberately at people, and discharged the rifle about a dozen times near the railway station. He shot a married woman named Treble. She fell mortally wounded in the thigh. The sailor passed through the town causing the greatest consternation, people fleeing before him, and several having very narrow escapes. He came within two yards of a man named Gard, a builder, and told him to stand back as he was too near. Gard remained firm, and fixed his eyes on the sailor, who then turned away. Mr. Aldridge, Liberal agent for East Hants, who was passing on a bicycle, had a bullet through the knee of his trousers, and a soldier named White, of the 2nd Lancashire Regiment, who was also cycling, had his machine struck with a bullet. The maniac was pursued for about a mile on the Winchester road, and was then disabled by a couple of shots from a shot gun, fired by Mr. Goldsmith, auctioneer.

An outrage, which appears to be the result of acute anti-ritualistic feeling, recently occurred at Link Church, Malvern, Worcestershier. The verger found the doors barricaded, and when he gained an entrance he found the place completely disordered. The doors were barricaded with heavy church furniture, pictures which had adorned the walls were re-

Falls In Death Amid Applause

Dramatic End of Cornetist in New York.

New York, Sept. 8.—More than 1,000 persons crowded around the band stand in McComb's Dam Park, the Bronx, this afternoon, to hear Friedjen's band give its concert. The feature of the programme was Joseph Alessio's cornet solo. Alessio bowed to the multitude applauded, and then resumed his seat at the rear of the stand. The sheering started again, and the director motioned to him to give an encore. He did not respond, and the other musicians furnished the air. This did not satisfy the audience, however, and the band leader again motioned to Alessio.

Alessio pitched forward and fell to the floor. It was thought he had fainted and a physician was summoned, but the soloist was dead.

Claims Camera Insulted Him

New York, Sept. 8.—Justification was the plea offered by Gesset Tenant, a French sailor, when arraigned before Magistrate Cornell in Harlem court, charged with annihilating a camera which, the Frenchman averred, had "insulted" him. The magistrate didn't view it that way at first, and assessed Tenant $10.

This done, and as Tenant was about to pay the fine, Court Interpreter Dumas said to the magistrate: "He said the picture was awful, your honour, and that it was really an insult."

Then the magistrate insisted upon viewing the picture, whereupon he remitted the fine and accepted the Frenchman's plea of justification. The magistrate said the picture was the most horrible failure to produce a near-likeness he had ever seen.

Tenant is attached to the steamer L'Etoile, which is anchored in the North River. Having a day off, he went to Ft. George. A young woman, he said, invited him into a tin-type gallery to have his picture "took", and he yielded to the temptation. When handed a tin-type, he glanced at it and promptly fell to the floor with a groan. Patrolman Merritt rushed in and doused him with cold water, which caused the sailor to revive.

Buried Week In Mud, Is Rescued

Went to Sleep Under a Cotton Compress.

Examiner Special.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 8.—Half buried in muck, John Donovan, an aged man, was found alive and conscious after a week's fight with death under a cotton compress. Donovan crawled under the building seven days ago to get out of the rain. He fell asleep, and when he awoke found himself imbedded in mud. He was too weak to extricate himself. His plight was discovered by a watchman. Policemen called to his assistance had to use shovels to dig him out. He is expected to recover.

"Well, what of that?" David asked, impatiently. "For all I know, the case might have come from Walen's. I said it came from a friend who must needs be nameless for services equally nameless. I am not going to deny that Walen was right."

"I have not quite finished," Marley said, quietly. "Pressed as to when the case had been sold, Mr. Walen, without hesitation, said: 'Yesterday, for £72 10s.' The purchaser was a stranger, whom Mr. Walen is prepared to identify. Asked if a formal receipt had been given, Walen said that it had. And now I come to the gist of the whole matter. You saw Dr. Cross hand me a mass of papers, etc., taken from the person of the gentleman who was nearly killed in your house?"

David nodded. His breath was coming a little faster. His quick mind had run on ahead; he saw the gulf looming before him.

"Go on," said he, hoarsely, "go on. You mean to say that——"

"That amongst the papers found in the pocket of the unfortunate stranger was a receipted bill for the very cigar-case that lies here on the table before you!"

CHAPTER VI.

Steel dropped into a chair and gazed at Inspector Marley with mild surprise. At the same time he was not in the least alarmed. Not that he failed to recognize the gravity of the situation, only it appealed in the first instance to the professional side of his character.

"Walen is quite sure?" he said. "No possible doubt about that, eh?"

"Not in the least. You see, he recognized his private mark, at once, and Brighton is not so prosperous a place that a man could sell a £70 cigar-case and forget all about it—that is, a second case, I mean. It's most extraordinary."

"Rather! Make a magnificent story, Marley."

"Very," Marley responded, drily. "It would take all your well-known ingenuity to get your hero out of this trouble."

Steel nodded gravely. This personal twist brought him to the earth again. He could clearly see the trap into which he had placed himself. There before him lay the cigar-case which he had positively identified as his own; inside, his initials bore testimony to the fact. And yet the same case had been identified beyond question as one sold by a highly respectable local tradesman to the mysterious individual now lying in the Sussex County Hospital.

"May I smoke a cigarette?" David asked.

"You may smoke a score if they will be of any assistance to you, sir," Marley replied. "I don't want to ask you any questions and I don't want you—well, to commit yourself. But really, sir, you must admit——"

The inspector paused significantly. David nodded again.

"Pray proceed," he said: "speak from the brief you have before you."

"Well, you see it's this way," Marley said, not without hesitation. "You call us up to your house, saying that a murder has been committed there; we find a stranger almost at his last gasp in your conservatory with every signs of a struggle having taken place. You tell us that the injured man is a stranger to you; you go on to say that he must have found his way into your house during a nocturnal ramble of yours. Well, that sounds like common sense on the face of it. The criminal has studied your habits and has taken advantage of them. Then I ask if you are in the habit of taking these midnight strolls, and with some signs of hesitation you say that you have never done such a thing before. Charles Dickens was very fond of that kind of thing, and I naturally imagined that you had the same fancy. But you had never done it before. And, the only [illegible] is nearly murdered in your house."

"Perfectly correct," David murmured. "Sherlock Holmes could not have put it better. Then might have been a pupil of my remarkable acquaintance Hatherly Bell."

"I am a pupil of Mr. Bell's," Marley said, quietly. "Seven years ago he induced me to leave the Huddersfield police to go into his office, where I stayed until Mr. Bell gave up business, when I applied for and gained my present position. Curious you should mention Mr. Bell's name, seeing that he was here so recently as this afternoon."

"Staying in Brighton?" Steel asked eagerly. "What is his address?"

"No. 219, Brunswick Square."

It took all the nerve that David possessed to crush the cry that rose to his lips. It was more than strange that the man he most desired to see at this juncture should be staying in the very house where the novelist had his great adventure. And in the mere fact might be the key to the problem of the cigar-case.

"I'll certainly see Bell," he muttered. "Go on, Marley."

"Yes, sir. We now proceed to the cigar-case that lies before you. It was also lying on the floor of your conservatory on the night in question. I suggested that here we might have found a clue, taking the precaution at the same time to ask if the article in question was your property. You looked at the case as one does who examines an object for the first time, and proceeded to declare that it was not yours. I am quite prepared to admit that you instantly corrected yourself. But I ask, is it a usual thing for a man to forget the ownership of a £70 cigar-case?"

"A nice point, and I congratulate you upon it," David said.

"Then we will take the matter a little farther. A day or two ago you were in dire need of something like £1,000. Temporarily, at any rate, you were practically at the end of your resources. If this money were not forthcoming in a few hours you were a ruined man. In vulgar parlance, you would have been sold up. Mossa and Mack had you in their grip, and they were determined to make all they could out of you. The morning following the outrage at your house you call upon Mr. Mossa and produce the cigar-case lying on the table before you. From that case you produce notes sufficient to discharge your debt—Bank of England notes, the number of which, I need hardly say, are in my possession. The money is produced from the case yonder, which case we know was sold to the injured man by Mr. Walen."

Marley made a long and significant pause. Steel nodded.

"There seems to be no way out of it," he said.

"I can see one," Marley suggested. "Of course, it would simplify matters enormously if you merely told me in confidence whence came these notes. You see, as I have the numbers, I could verify your statement beyond question, and——"

Marley paused again and shrugged his shoulders. Despite his cold, official manner, he was obviously prompted by a desire to serve his companion. And yet, simple as the suggestion seemed, it was the very last thing with which Steel could comply.

The novelist turned the matter over rapidly in his mind. His quick perceptions flashed along the whole logical line instantaneously. He was like a man who suddenly sees a midnight landscape by the glare of a dazzling flash of lightning.

"I am sorry," he said, slowly, "very sorry to disappoint you. Were our situations reversed, I should take up your position exactly. But it so happens that I cannot, dare not, tell you where I got those notes from. So far as I am concerned they came honestly into my hands in payment for special services rendered. It was part of my contract that I should reveal the secret to nobody. If I told you the story you would decline to believe it; you would say that it was a brilliant effort of a novelist's imagination to get out of dangerous position."

"I don't know that I should," Marley replied. "I have long since ceased to wonder at anything that happens in or connected with Brighton."

"All the same I can't tell you, Marley," Steel said, as he rose. "My lips are absolutely sealed. The point is: what are you going to do?"

"For the present, nothing," Marley replied. "So long as the man in the hospital remains unconscious I can do no more than pursue what Beaconsfield called 'a policy of masterly inactivity.' I have told you a good deal more than I had any right to do, but I did so in the hope that you could assist me. Perhaps in a day or two you will think better of it. Meanwhile——"

"Meanwhile I am in a tight place. Yes, I see that perfectly well. It is just possible that I may scheme some way out of the difficulty, and if so I shall be only too pleased to let you know. Good-night, Marley, and many thanks to you."

But with all his ingenuity and fertility of imagination David could see no way out of the trouble. He sat up far into the night scheming; there was no flavor in his tobacco; his pictures and flowers, his silver and china, jarred upon him. He wished with all his heart now that he had let everything go. It need only have been a temporary matter, and there were other Cellini tankards, and intaglios, and line engravings in the world for the man with money in his purse.

He could see no way out of it at all. Was it not possible that the whole thing had been deliberately planned so as to land him and his brains into the hands of some clever gang of swindlers? Had he been tricked and fooled so that he might become the tool of others? It seemed hard to think so when he recalled the sweet voice in the darkness and its passionate plea for help. And yet the very cigar-case that he had been told was the one he admired at Lockhart's had proved beyond question to be one purchased from Walen's!

If he decided to violate his promise and tell the whole story nobody would believe him. The thing was altogether too wild and improbable for that. And yet, he reflected, things almost as impossible happen in Brighton every day. And what proof had he to offer?

Well, there was one thing certain. At least three-quarters of those bank-notes—the portion he had collected at the house with the crimson blind—could not possibly be traced to the injured man. And, again, it was no fault of Steel's that Marley had obtained possession of the numbers of the notes. If the detective chose to ferret out facts for himself no blame could attach to Steel. If those people had only chosen to leave out of the question that confounded cigar-case!

David's train of thought was broken as an idea came to him. It was not so long since he had a facsimile cigar-case in his hand at Lockhart's, in North Street. Somebody connected with the mystery must have seen him admiring it and reluctantly declining the purchase, because the voice from the telephone told him that the case was present and that it had come from the famous North Street establishment.

"By Jove!" David cried. "I'll go to Lockhart's to-morrow and see if the case is still there. If so, I may be able to trace it."

Exactly the next morning David was in North Street. For the time being he had put his work aside altogether. He could not have written a dozen consecutive lines to save the situation. The mere effort to preserve a cheerful face before his mother was a torture. And at any time he might find himself forced to meet criminal charge

The gentlemanly assistant at Lockhart's remembered Steel and the cigar-case perfectly well, but he was afraid that the article had been sold. No doubt it would be possible to obtain a facsimile in the course of a few days.

"Only I required that particular one," Steel said. "Can you tell me when it was sold and who purchased it?"

A junior partner did, and could give some kind of information. Several people had admired the case, and it had been on the point of sale several times. Finally, it had passed into the hands of an American gentleman staying at the Metropole.

"Can you tell me his name?" David asked, "or describe him?"

"Well, I can't, sir," the junior partner said, frankly. "I haven't the slightest recollection of the gentleman. He wrote from the Metropole on the hotel paper describing the case and its price and inclosed the full amount in ten-dollar notes and asked to have the case sent by post to the hotel. When we ascertained that the notes were all right, we naturally posted the case as desired, and there, so far as we are concerned, was an end of the matter."

"You don't recollect his name?"

"Oh, yes. The name was John Smith. If there is anything wrong——"

David hastily gave the desired assurance. He wanted to arouse no suspicion. All the same, he left Lockhart's with a plethora of suspicions of his own. Doubtless the jewellers would be well and fairly satisfied so long as the case had been paid for, but from the standpoint of David's superior knowledge the whole transaction fairly bristled with suspicion.

Not for one moment did Steel believe in the American at the Metropole. Somebody stayed there doubtless under the name of John Smith, and that said somebody had paid for the cigar-case in dollar notes the tracing of which might prove a task of years. Nor was it the slightest use to inquire at the Metropole, where practically everybody is identified by a number, and where scores come and go every day. John Smith would only have to ask for his letters and then drop quietly into a sea of oblivion.

Well, David had got his information, and a lot of use it was likely to prove to him. As he walked thoughtfully homewards he was debating in his mind whether or not he might venture to call at or write to 219, Brunswick Square, and lay his difficulties before the people there. At any rate, he reflected, with grim bitterness, they would know that he was not romancing. If nothing turned up in the meantime he would certainly visit Brunswick Square.

He sat in his own room puzzling the matter out till his head ached and the flowers before him reeled in a dazzling whirl of color. He looked round for inspiration, now desperately, as he frequently did when the warp of his delicate fancy tangled. The smallest thing sometimes fed the machine again—a patch of sunshine, the chip on a plate, the damaged edge of a frame. Then his eye fell on the telephone and he jumped to his feet.

"What a fool I am!" he exclaimed. "If I had been plotting this business out as a story, I should have thought of that long ago. . . . No, I don't want any number, at least, not in that way. Two nights ago I was called up by somebody from London who held the line for fully half an hour or so. I've—I've forgotten the address of my correspondent, but if you can ascertain the number. . . yes, I shall be here if you will ring me up when you have got it. . . . Thanks."

Half an hour passed before the bell trilled again. David listened eagerly. At any rate, now he was going to know the number whence the mysterious message came—0017, Kensington, was the number. David muttered his thanks and flew to his big telephone directory. Yes, there it was—"0017, 446, Prince's Gate, Gilead Gates."

The big volume dropped with a crash on the floor. David looked down at the crumpled volume with dim, misty amazement.

"Gilead Gates," he murmured. "Quaker, millionaire, and philanthropist. One of the most highly-esteemed and popular men in England. And from his house came the message which has been the source of all the mischief. And yet there are critics who say the plots of my novels are too fantastic!"

CHAPTER VII.

The emotion of surprise seemed to have left Steel altogether. After the last discovery he was prepared to believe anything. Had anybody told him that the whole Bench of Bishops was at the bottom of the mystery he would have responded that the suggestion was highly probable.

"Still, it's what the inimitable Dick Swiveller would call a staggerer," he muttered. "Gates, the millionaire, the one great capitalist who has the profound respect of the labor world. No, a man with a record like that couldn't have anything to do with it. Still, it must have been from his house that the mysterious message came. The post-office people working the telephone trunk line would know that—a fact which probably escaped the party who called me up. . . . I'll go to Brunswick Square and see that woman. Money or no money, I'll not lie under an imputation like this."

There was one thing to be done beforehand, and that was to see Dr. Cross. From the latter's manner he evidently knew nothing of the charge hanging over Steel's head. Marley was evidently keeping that close to himself and speaking to nobody.

"Oh, the man is better," Cross said, cheerfully. "He hasn't been identified yet, though the Press has given us every assistance. I fancy the poor fellow is going to recover, though I am afraid it will be a long job."

"He hasn't recovered consciousness, then?"

"No, and neither will he for some time to come. There seems to be a certain pressure on the brain which we are unable to locate, and we dare not try the Rontgen rays yet. So on the whole you are likely to escape with a charge of aggravated assault."

David smiled grimly as he went his way. He walked the whole distance to Hove along North Street and the Western Road, finally turning down Brunswick Square instead of up it, as he done on the night of the great adventure. He wondered vaguely why he had been specially instructed to approach the house that way.

Here it was at last, 219, Brunswick Square—220 above and, of course, 218 below the house. It looked pretty well the same in the daylight, the same door, the same knocker, and the same crimson blind in the centre of the big bay window. David knocked at the door with a vague feeling of uncertainty as to what he was going to do next. A very staid, old-fashioned footman answered his ring and inquired his business.

"Can—can I see your mistress?" David stammered.

The staid footman became, if possible, a little more reserved. If the gentleman would send in his card he would see if Miss Ruth was disengaged. David found himself vaguely wondering what Miss Ruth's surname might be. The old Biblical name was a great favorite of his.

"I'm afraid I haven't a card," he said. "Will you say that Mr. Steel would like to see—er—Miss Ruth for a few minutes? My business is exceedingly pressing."

The staid footman led the way into the dining-room. Evidently this was no frivolous house, where giddy butterflies came and went; such gaudy insects would have been chilled by the solemn decorum of the place. David followed into the dining-room in a dreamy kind of way, and with the feeling that comes to us all at times, the sensation of having done and seen the same thing before.

Nothing had been altered. The same plain, handsome, expensive furniture was here, the same mahogany and engravings, the same dull red walls, with the same light stain over the fireplace—a dull, prosperous, square-toed-looking place. The electric fittings looked a little different, but that might have been fancy. It was the identical room. David had run his quarry to earth, and he began to feel his spirits rising. Doubtless he could scheme some way out of the difficulty and spare his phantom friends at the same time.

"You wanted to see me, sir? Will you be so good as to state your business?"

David turned with a start. He saw before him a slight, graceful figure, and a lovely, refined face in a frame of the most beautiful hair that he had ever seen. The grey eyes were demure, with just a suggestion of mirth in them; the lips were made for laughter. It was as if some dainty little actress were masquerading in Salvation garb, only the dress was all priceless lace that touched David's artistic perception. He could imagine the girl as deeply in earnest as going through fire and water for her convictions. Also he could imagine her as Puck or Ariel—there was rippling laughter in every note of that voice of hers.

"I—I, eh, yes," Steel stammered. "You see, I—if I only knew whom I had the pleasure of addressing?"

"I am Miss Ruth Gates, at your service. Still, you asked for me by name."

David made no reply for a moment. He was tripping over surprises again. What a fool he had been not to look out the name of the occupant of 219 in the directory. It was pretty evident that Gilead Gates had a house in Brighton as well as one in town. Not only had that telephone message emanated from the millionaire's residence, but it had brought Steel to the philanthropist's abode in Brighton. If Mr. Gates himself had strolled into the room singing a comic song David would have expressed no emotion.

"Daughter of the famous Gilead Gates?" David asked, feebly.

"No, niece, and housekeeper. This is not my uncle's own house, he has merely taken this for a time. But, Mr. Steel——"

"Mr. David Steel—is my name familiar to you?"

David asked the question somewhat eagerly. As yet he was only feeling his way and keenly on the look-out for anything in the way of a clue. He saw the face of the girl grow white as the table-cover, he saw the lurking laughter die in her eyes, and the purple black terror dilating the pupils.

"I—I know you quite well by reputation," the girl gasped. Her little hands were pressed to her left side as if to check some deadly pain there. "Indeed, I may say I have read most of your stories. I—I hope that there is nothing wrong."

Her self-possession and courage were coming back to her now. But the spasm of fear that had shaken her to the soul was not lost upon Steel.

"I trust not," he said, gravely. "Did you know that I was here two nights ago?"

"Here!" the girl cried. "Impossible! In the house! The night before last! Why, we were all in bed long before midnight."

"I am not aware that I said anything about midnight," David responded coldly.

An angry flush came sweeping over the face of the girl, annoyance at her own folly, David thought. She added quickly that she and her uncle had only been down in Brighton for three days.

"Nevertheless, I was in this room two nights ago," David replied. "If you know all about it, I pray you to give me certain information of vital importance to me; if not, I shall be compelled to keep my extraordinary story to myself, for otherwise you would never believe it. Do you or do you not know of my visit here?"

The girl bent her head till Steel could see nothing but the glorious amber of her hair. He could see, too, the fine old lace round her throat was tossing like a cork on a stream.

"I can tell you nothing," she said. "Nothing, nothing, nothing."

It was the voice of one who would have spoken had she dared. With anybody else Steel would have been furiously angry. In the present case he could only admire the deep, almost pathetic, loyalty to somebody who stood behind.

"Are you sure you were in this house?" the girl asked, at length.

"Certain!" David exclaimed. "The walls, the pictures, the furniture—all the same. I could swear to the place anywhere. Miss Gates, if I cannot prove that I was here at the time I name, it is likely to go very hard with me."

"You mean that a certain inconvenience——"

There was scarcely a minute, day or night, that I was free of pain, and when I attempted to pass urine, the pain was almost unbearable. A friend of mine in Portage la Prairie, who was similarly afflicted, strongly advised me to try Gin Pills, as they had cured him. I bought a box of Gin Pills, and in less than a week, to my great delight, found myself without pain. I have had to go as often as every 20 minutes to urinate and several times during the night. Since taking Gin Pills, I sleep through the entire night and am not more than ordinarily inconvenienced during the day. I can earnestly recommend Gin Pills to anyone suffering from pain in the back, kidneys or bladder.

inconvenience! Do you call a charge of murder, or manslaughter at best, inconvenient? Have you not seen the local papers? Don't you know that two nights ago, during my absence from home, a strange man was practically done to death in my conservatory? And during the time of the outrage, as sure as Heaven is above us, I was in this room."

"I am sorry, but I am sure that you were not."

"Ah, you are going to disappoint me? And yet you know something. You might have been the guiltiest of creatures yourself when I disclosed my identity. No prisoner detected in some shameful crime ever looked more guilty than you."

The girl stood there, saying nothing. Had she rang the bell and ordered the footman to put him out of the house, Steel would have had no cause for complaint. But she did nothing of the kind. She stood there torn by conflicting emotions.

"I can give you no information," she said, presently. "But I am as positive one way as you are another that you have never been in this house before. I may surmise things, but as I hope to be judged fairly I can give you no information. I am only a poor, unhappy girl, who is doing what she deems to be the best for all parties concerned. And I can tell you nothing, nothing. Oh, won't you believe that I would do anything to serve you if I were only free?"

She held out her hand with an imploring gesture, the red lips were quivering, and her eyes were full of tears. David's warm heart went out to her; he forgot all his own troubles and dangers in his sympathy for the lovely creature in distress.

"Pray say no more about it," he cried. He caught the outstretched hand in his and carried it to his lips. "I don't wish to hurry you; in fact, haste is dangerous. And there is ample time. Nor am I going to press you. Still, before long you may find some way to give me a clue without sacrificing a jot of your fine loyalty to—well, others. I would not distress you for the world, Miss Gates. Don't you think that this has been the most extraordinary interview?"

The tears trembled like diamonds on the girl's long lashes and a smile flashed over her face. The sudden transformation was wonderfully fascinating.

"What you might call an impossible interview," she laughed. "And all the more impossible because it was quite impossible that you could ever have been here before."

"When I was in this room two nights ago," David protested," I saw——"

"Did you see me, for instance? If not, you couldn't have been here."

A small, misshapen figure, with the face of a Byron—Apollo on the bust of a Satyr—came in from behind the folding doors at the back of the dining-room carrying some letters in his hand. The stranger's dark, piercing were fixed inquiringly upon Steel.

"Bell," the latter cried; "Hatherly Bell! you have been listening!"

The little man with the godlike head admitted the fact, coolly. He had been writing letters in the back room and escape had been impossible for him.

"Funny enough, I was going to look you up to-day," he said. "You did me a great service once, and I am longing to repay you. I came down here to give my friend Gates the benefit of my advice and assistance over a large philanthropic scheme he has just evolved. And, writing letters yonder on that subject, I heard your extraordinary conversation. Can I help you, Steel?"

"My dear fellow," David cried, "if you offered me every intellect in Europe I should not choose one of them so gladly as yours."

"Then let us shake hands on the bargain. And now I am going to stagger you; I heard you state positively that two nights ago you were in this very room."

"I am prepared to testify the fact on oath anywhere, my dear Bell."

"Very well; will you be good enough to state the hour?"

"Certainly. I was here from one o'clock—say between one and two."

"And I was here also. From eleven o'clock till two I was in this very room working out some calculations at this very table by the aid of my reading-lamp, no other light being in the room, or even in the house, as far as I know. It is one of my fads—as fools call them—to work in a large, dark room with one brilliant light only. Therefore you could not possibly have been in the house, to say nothing of this room, on the night in question."

David nodded feebly. There was no combating Bell's statement.

"I presume that this is No. 219?" he asked.

"Certainly it is," Miss Gates replied. "We are all agreed about that."

"Because I read the number over the fanlight," Steel went on. "And I came here by arrangement. And there was everything as I see it now. Bell, you must either cure me of this delusion, or you must prove logically to me that I have made a mistake. So far as I am concerned, I am like a child struggling with the alphabet."

"We'll start now," said Bell. "Come along."

Steel rose none too willingly. He would fain have lingered with Ruth. She held out her hand; there was a warm, glad smile on her face.

"May you be successful," she whispered. "Come and see me again, because I shall be very, very anxious to know. And I am not without guilt. . . . If you only knew!"

"And I may come again?" David said, eagerly.

A further smile and a warm pressure of the hand were the only reply. Presently Steel was standing outside in the road with Bell. The latter was glancing at the house on either side of 219. The higher house was let; the one nearest the sea—218—was empty. A bill in the window gave the information that the property was in the hands of Messrs. Wallace and Brown, Station Quadrant, where keys could be obtained.

"We'll make a start straightaway," said Bell. "Come along."

"Where are you going to at that pace?" Steel asked.

"Going to interview Messrs. Wallace and Brown. At the present moment I am a gentleman who is in search of a house of residence, and I have a weakness for Brunswick Square in particular, especially for No. 218. Unless I am greatly mistaken I am going to show you something that will startle even the most callous novelist."

CHAPTER VIII.

The queer, misshapen figure striding along by Steel's side would have attracted attention anywhere; indeed, Hatherly Bell had been an attractive personality from his schooldays. A strange mixture of vanity and brilliant mental qualities, Bell had almost as many enemies as friends. He was morbidly miserable over the score of his personal appearance despite the extraordinary beauty of his face—to be pitied or even sympathized with almost maddened him. Yet there were many women who would gladly have shared the lot of Hatherly Bell.

For there was strength in the perfectly moulded face, as well as beauty. It was the face of a man possessed of marvellous intellectual powers, and none the less attractive because, while the skin was as fair as a woman's and the eyes as clear as a child's, the wavy hair was absolutely white. The face of a man who had suffered fiercely and long. A face hiding a great sorrow.

Time was when Bell had promised to stand in the front rank of operative physicians. In brain troubles and mental disorders he had distinguished himself. He had a marvellous faculty for psychological research; indeed, he had gone so far as to declare that insanity was merely a disease and capable of cure the same as any ordinary malady. "If Bell goes on as he has started," a great German specialist once declared, "he will inevitably prove to be the greatest benefactor to mankind since the beginning of the world." Bell was to be the man of his time.

And then suddenly he had faded out as a star drops from the zenith. There had been dark rumors of a terrible scandal, a prosecution burked by strong personal influence, mysterious paragraphs in the papers, and the disappearance of the name of Hatherly Bell from the rank of great medical jurists. Nobody seemed to know anything about it, but Bell was ignored by all except a few old friends, and henceforth he devoted his attention to criminology and the evolution of crime. It was Bell's boast that he could take a dozen men at haphazard and give you their vices and virtues point-blank. He had a marvellous gift that way.

A few people stuck to him, Gilead Gates amongst the number. The millionaire philanthropist had need of someone to pick the sheep from the goats, and Bell made no mistakes. David Steel had been able to do the specialist some slight service a year or two before, and Bell had been pleased to magnify this into a great favor.

"You are a fast walker," David said, presently.

"That's because I am thinking fast," Bell replied. "Steel, you are in great trouble?"

"It needs no brilliant effort on your part to see that," David said, bitterly. "Besides, you heard a great deal just now when you—you——"

"Listened," Bell said, coolly. "Of course I had no intention of playing eavesdropper; and I had no idea who the Mr. Steel was who wanted to see Miss Gates. They come day by day, my dear fellow, garbed in the garb of Pall Mall or Petticoat Lane as the case may be, but they all come for money. Sometimes it is a shilling, sometimes £100. But I did not gather from your chat with Miss Gates what your trouble was."

Bell patted his companion, approvingly.

"It is a pleasure to help a lucid-minded man like yourself," he said. "You go straight to the root of the sore and cut all the superfluous matter away. I was deeply interested in the conversation which I overheard just now. You are in great trouble, and that trouble is connected with 219, Brunswick Square—a house where you have never been before."

"My dear chap, I was in that dining-room two nights ago. Nothing will convince me to the——"

"There you are wrong, because I am going to convince you to the contrary. You may smile and shake your head, but before an hour has passed I am going to convince you beyond all question that you were never inside No. 219."

"Brave words," David muttered. "Still, an hour is not a long time to wait."

"No. But you must enlighten me if I am to assist you. I am profoundly interested. You come to the house of my friend on a desperate errand. Miss Gates is a perfect stranger to you, and yet the mere discovery of your identity fills her with the most painful agitation. Therefore, though you have never been in 219 before, you are pretty certain, and I am pretty certain, that Ruth Gates knows a deal about the thing that is touching you. On the contrary, I know nothing on that head. Won't you let me into the secret?"

"I'll tell you part," Steel replied. "And I'll put it pithily. For mere argument we assume that I am selected to assist a damsel in distress who lives at No. 219, Brunswick Square. We will assume that the conversation leading up to the flattering selection took place over the telephone. As a matter of fact, it did take place over the telephone. The thing was involved with so much secrecy that I naturally hesitated. I was offered £1,000 for my services; also I was reminded by my unseen messenger that I was in dire need of that money."

"And were you?"

"My dear fellow, I don't fancy that I should have hesitated at burglary to get it. And all I had to do was to meet a lady secretly in the dead of night at No. 219 and tell her how to get out of a certain difficulty. It all resolved itself round the synopsis of a proposed new story of mine. But I had better go into details."

David proceeded to do so. Bell, with his arm crooked through that of his companion, followed the story with an intelligent and flattering interest.

"Very strange and very fascinating," he said, presently. "I'll think it out presently. Nobody could possibly think of anything but their toes in Western Road. Go on."

"Now I am coming to the point. I had the money, I had that lovely cigar-case, and subsequently I had that battered and bleeding specimen of humanity dumped down in the most amazing manner in my conservatory. The cigar-case lay on the conservatory floor, remember—swept off the table when I clutched for the telephone bell to call for the police. When Marley came he asked if the cigar-case was mine. At first I said no, because, you see——"

"I see quite plainly. Pray go on."

"Well, I lost that cigar-case; I leave it in the offices of Mossa, to whom I pay nearly £1,000. Mossa, to spite me, takes or sends the case to the police, who advertise it not knowing that it is mine. You will see why they advertise it presently——"

"Because it belonged to the injured man, eh?"

"How on earth——" he gasped. "Do you mean to say that you know——"

"Nothing at present, I assure you," Bell said, coolly. "Call it intuition, if you like. I prefer to call it the result of logical mental process. I'm right, of course?"

"Of course you are. I'd claimed that case for my own. I had cut my initials inside, as I showed Marley when I went to the police-station. And then Marley tells me how I paid Mossa nearly £1,900; how the money must have come into my hands in the nick of time. That was pretty bad when I couldn't for the life of me give a lucid reason for the possession of those notes; but there was worse to come. In the pocket of the injured man was a receipt for a diamond-studded gun-metal cigar-case, purchased the day of the outrage. And Walen, the jeweller, proved beyond a doubt that the case I claimed was purchased at his shop."

Bell nodded gravely.

"Which places you in an exceedingly awkward position," he said.

"A mild way of putting it," David replied. "If that fellow dies the police have enough evidence to hang me. And what is my defence? The story of my visit to No. 219. And who would believe that cock-and-bull story? Fancy a drama like that being played out in the house of such a pillar of respectability as Gilead Gates."

"It isn't his house," said Bell. "He only takes it furnished."

"In anybody else your remark would be puerile," David said, irritably.

"It's a deeper remark than you are aware of a present," Bell replied. "I quite see your position. Nobody would believe you, of course. But why not go to the post-office and ask the number of the telephone that called you up from London?"

The question seemed to amuse David slightly. Then his lips were drawn humorously.

"When my logical formula came back I thought of that," he said. "On inquiring as to who it was rang me up on that fateful occasion I learnt that the number was 0017 Kensington and that——"

"It does, indeed," David said, grimly. "It is Wilkie Collins gone mad. Gaboriau in extremis, Du Boisgobey suffering from delirium tremens. I go to Gates's house here, and am solemnly told in the midst of surroundings that I can swear to that I have never been there before; the whole mad expedition is launched by the turning of the handle of a telephone in the house of a distinguished, trusted, if prosaic, citizen. Somebody gets hold of the synopsis of a story of mine, Heaven knows how——"

"That is fairly easy. The synopsis was short, I suppose?"

"Only a few lines, say 1,000 words, a sheet of paper. My writing is very small. It was tucked into a halfpenny open envelope—a magazine office envelope, marked, 'Proof, urgent.' There were the proofs of a short story in the buff envelope."

"Which reached its destination in due course?"

"So I hear this morning. But how on earth——"

"Easily enough. The whole thing gets slipped into a larger open envelope, the kind of big-mouthed affair that enterprising firms send out circulars and patterns with. This falls into the hands of the woman who is at the bottom of this and every other case, and she reads the synopsis from sheer curiosity. The case fits her case, and there you are. Mind you, I don't say that this is how the thing actually happened, but how it might have done so. When did you post the letter?"

"And there would be no hurry for a reply," Bell said, thoughtfully. "And you had no cause for worry on that head. Nor need the woman who found it have kept the envelope beyond the delay of a single post, which is only a matter of an hour or so in London. If you go a little farther we find that money is no object, hence the £1,000 offer and the careful, and doubtless expensive, inquiry into your position. Steel, I am going to enjoy this case."

"You're welcome to all the fun you can get out of it," David said, grimly. "So far as I am concerned, I fail to see the humor. Isn't this the office you are after?"

Bell nodded and disappeared, presently to return with two exceedingly rusty keys tied together with a drab piece of tape. He jingled them on his long, slender forefinger with an air of positive enjoyment.

"Now come along," he said. "I feel like a boy who has marked down something rare in the way of a bird's nest. We will go back to Brunswick Square exactly the same way as you approached it on the night of the great adventure."

CHAPTER IX.

"Any particular object in that course?" David asked.

"There ought to be an object in everything that even an irrational man says or does," Bell replied. "I have achieved some marvellous results by following up a single sentence uttered by a patient. Besides, on the evening in question you were particularly told to approach the house from the sea front."

"Somebody might have been on the look-out near the Western Road entrance," Steel suggested.

"Possibly. I have another theory. . . . Here we are. The figures over the fanlights from 187 upwards, gradually getting to 219 as you breast the slope. At one o'clock in the morning every house would be in darkness. Did you find that to be so?"

"I didn't notice a light anywhere till I reached 219."

"Good again. And you could only find 219 by the light over the door. Naturally you were not interested in and would not have noticed any other number. Well, here is 218, where I propose to enter, and for which purpose I have the keys. Come along."

David followed wonderingly. The houses in Brunswick Square are somewhat irregular in point of architecture, and Nos. 218 and 219 were the only matched pair thereabouts. Signs were not wanting, as Bell pointed out, that at one time the houses had been occupied as one residence. The two entrance-halls were back to back, so to speak, and what had obviously been a doorway leading from one to the other had been plastered up within comparatively recent memory.

The grim and dusty desolation of an empty house seemed to be supplemented here by a deeper desolation. Not that there was any dust on the ground floor, which seemed a singular thing seeing that elsewhere the boards were powdered with it, and festoons of brown cobwebs hung everywhere. Bell smiled approvingly as David Steel pointed the fact out to him.

"Do you note another singular point?" the former asked.

"No," David said, thoughtfully; "I—stop! The two side-shutters in the bay-windows are closed, and there is the same vivid crimson blind in the centre window. And the self color of the walls is exactly the same. The faint discoloration by the fireplace is a perfect facsimile."

"In fact, this is the room you were in the other night," Bell said, quietly.

"Impossible!" Steel cried. "The blind may be an accident, so might the fading of the distemper. But the furniture, the engravings, the fittings generally——"

"Are all capable of an explanation which we shall arrive at with patience."

"Can we arrive at the number over the door with patience?"

"Exactly what I was coming to. I noticed an old pair of steps in the back sitting-room. Would you mind placing them against the fanlight for me?"

David complied readily enough. He was growing credulous and interested in spite of himself. At Bell's instigation he placed the steps before the fanlight and mounted them. Over his head were the figures 218 in elongated shape and formed in white porcelain.

"Now then," Bell said, slowly. "Take this pocket-knife, apply the blade to the right-hand lower half of the bottom of the 8—to half the small o, in fact—and I shall be extremely surprised if the quarter section doesn't come away from the glass of the fanlight, leaving the rest of the figure intact. Very gently, please. I want you to convince yourself that the piece comes away because it is broken, and not because the pressure has cracked it. Now then."

The point of the knife was hardly under the edge of the porcelain before the segment of the lower circle dropped into Steel's hand. He could feel the edges of the cement sticking to his fingers. As yet the full force of the discovery was not apparent to him.

David complied eagerly. A sharp cry of surprise escaped him as he looked up. The change was apparent. Instead of the figures 218 he could read now the change to 219—a fairly indifferent 9, but one that would have passed muster without criticism by ninety-nine people out of a hundred. With a strong light behind the figures the clumsy 9 would never have been noticed at all. The very simplicity and ingeniousness of the scheme was its safeguard.

"I should like to have the address of the man who thought that out," David said, drily.

"Yes, I fancy that you are dealing with quite clever people," Bell replied. "And now I have shown you how utterly you have been deceived over the number we will go a little farther. For the present, the way in which the furniture trick was worked must remain a mystery. But there has been furniture here, or this room and the hall would not have been so carefully swept and garnished while the rest of the house remains in so dirty a condition. If my eyes don't deceive me I can see two fresh nails driven into the archway leading to the back hall. On those nails hung the curtain that prevented you seeing more than was necessary. Are you still incredulous as to the house where you had your remarkable adventure?"

"I confess that my faith has been seriously shaken," David admitted. "But about the furniture? And about my telephone call from Mr. Gates's town house? And about my adventure taking place in the very next house to the one taken by him at Brighton? And about Miss Gates's agitation when she learnt my identity? Do you call them coincidences?"

"No, I don't," Bell said, promptly. "They are merely evidences of clever folks taking advantage of an excellent strategic position. I said just now that it was an important point that Mr. Gates had merely taken the next door furnished. But we shall come to that side of the theory in due course. Have you any other objection to urge?"

"One more, and I have finished for the present. When I came here the other night—provided of course that I did come here—immediately upon my entering the dining-room the place was brilliantly illuminated. Now, directly the place was void the supply of electric current would be cut off at the meter. So far as I can judge, some two or three units must have been consumed during my visit. There could not be many less than ten lights burning for an hour. Now, those units must show on the meter. Can you read an electric meter?"

"My dear fellow, there is nothing easier."

"Then let us go down into the basement and settle the matter. There is pretty sure to be a card on the meter made up to the day when the last tenant went out. See, the supply is cut off now."

As Steel spoke he snapped down the hall switch and no result came. Down in the basement by the area door stood the meter. Both switches were turned off, but on Bell pressing them down Steel was enabled to light the passage.

"There's the card," Bell exclaimed. "Made up to 25th June, 1895; since when the house has been void. Just a minute whilst I read the meter. Yes, that's right. According to this the card in your hand, provided that the light has not been used since the index was taken, should read at 1521. What do you make of the card?"

"1532," David cried. "Which means eleven units since the meter was last taken. Or, if you like to put it from your point of view, eleven units used the night that I came here. You are right, Bell. You have practically convinced me that I have been inside the real 219 for the first time to-day. And yet the more one probes the mystery the more astounding does it become. . . . . What do you propose to do next?"

"Find out the name of the last tenant or owner," Bell suggested. "Discover what the two houses were used for when they were occupied by one person. Also ascertain why on earth the owners are willing to let a house this size and in this situation for a sum like £30 per annum. Let us go and take the keys back to the agents."

Steel was nothing loth to find himself in the fresh air again. Some progress had been made like the opening of a chess-match between masters, and yet the more Steel thought of it the more muddled and bewildered did he become. No complicated tangle in the way of a plot had ever been anything like the skein this was.

"I'm like a child in your hands," he said. "I'm a blind man on the end of a string; a man dazed with wine in a labyrinth. And if ever I help a woman again——"

He paused as he caught sight of Ruth Gates's lovely face through the window of No. 219. Her features were tinged with melancholy; there was a look of deepest sympathy and feeling and compassion in her glorious eyes. She slipped back as Steel bowed, and the rest of his speech was lost in a sigh.

CHAPTER X.

A bell tolled mournfully with a slow, swinging cadence like a passing bell. On winter nights folks, passing the House of the Silent Sorrow, compared the doleful clanging to the boom that carries the criminal from the cell to the scaffold. Every night all the year round the little valley of Longdean echoed to that mournful clang. Perhaps it was for this reason that a wandering poet christened the place as the House of the Silent Sorrow.

For seven years this had been going on now, until nobody but strangers noticed it. From half-past seven till eight o'clock that hideous bell rang its swinging, melancholy note. Why it was nobody could possibly tell. Nobody in the village had ever been beyond the great rusty gates leading to a dark drive of Scotch firs, though one small boy bolder than the rest had once climbed the lichen-strewn stone wall and penetrated the thick undergrowth beyond. Hence he had returned, with white face and staring eyes, with the information that great wild dogs dwelt in the thickets. Subsequently the village poacher confirmed this information. He was not exactly loquacious on the subject, but merely hinted that the grounds of Longdean Grange were not salubrious for naturalists with a predatory disposition.

Indeed, on moonlight nights those apocryphal hounds were heard to bay and whimper. A shepherd up late one spring night averred that he had seen two of them fighting. But nobody could say anything about them for certain; also it was equally certain that nobody knew anything about the people at Longdean Grange. The place had been shut up for thirty years, being understood to be in Chancery, when the announcement went forth that a distant relative of the family had arranged to live there in future.

Will be continued next Saturday.

When the Liver is out of Order calomel, cascara, salts, strong liver pills and purging mineral waters won't do any permanent good.

When a person is bilious, the liver is not giving up enough bile to move the bowels regularly—and some of the bile is being absorbed by the blood. In other words, the liver is in a weakened, unhealthy condition.

Now, purgatives don't act on the liver at all. They merely irritate the bowels, and afford only temporary relief. But FRUIT-A-TIVES are the one true LIVER TONIC. They act directly on the liver—strengthen and invigorate this vital organ—and put it in a normal, healthy condition.

FRUIT-A-TIVES also stimulate the glands of the skin—and regulate the kidneys and sweeten the stomach. When skin, liver and kidneys are normally healthy, there can be no biliousness, no constipation, no kidney trouble, no impure blood, no headaches.

No other medicine known to science is so reliable and so effective in curing Biliousness as these fruit liver tablets.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are fruit juices with tonics added—and are free from alcohol and dangerous drugs.

A Naval Duel Of 1812
Shannon And Chesapeke

The Story Truthfully Told—The Real Story of the Fierce Fight Between Anglo-Saxon Foes.

(By Captain Frank H. Shaw, F.R.A.S.)

The British-American war of 1812 brought little of glory or renown to Great Britain; instead, it taught some wholesome lessons. But when it is remembered that Britain's naval strength was almost all demanded to secure the effective blockade of the French ports at that time, in order that the power of Napoleon might be the more efficiently crushed, it will be seen that the Royal Navy of that day hardly had a fair chance. The majority of the actions of this war were fought under unequal conditions; for the Yankee ships were, gun for gun, and man for man, numerically stronger than the British.

But there was one action fought during that struggle which went to increase the scroll of Britain's fame, and it is well that this fight should be brought to memory at certain times; especially when the custom has grown, of steering all the poor show made by our fleet against the American.

It was in May, 1812, that Captain James Lawrence, U.S.N., was promoted from the command of the Hornet—a ship that had already inflicted several crushing defeats on the British—to the command of Chesapeke—a 38-gun frigate, with a crew of 380 men. She was at this time fitting out at Boston, Mass. The new commander was a man of great courage and resource, but the material he had to handle was not of the best. The majority of his men were raw and untrained; he set to work to drill them into efficient fighters. Under these conditions it behoved Captain Lawrence to await the passage of time before venturing to put his ship against an enemy. But his previous victories had bred in him an arrogant confidence, and belief in his own supremacy, and he considered that the British ships had only to be met to be overcome. He was ripe for a wholesome lesson, and the lesson was forthcoming.

The British frigate, Shannon, 38 guns, was cruising across the mouth of Boston Bay, from Minot's Ledge to Cape Ann, and her commander was recognized as one of the ablest men in the British Navy. By sheer hard work he had drilled his men into such a perfection of discipline and ability in the somewhat neglected art of gunnery, that, as an historian tells us, "The crew of the Shannon was as pleasant to command as they were dangerous to meet." No matter what the state of the weather might be, the men of the Shannon were daily exercised at the guns and small arms, and Captain Broke was in the habit of offering tempting rewards to those gunners who succeeded in making the greatest number of hits.

The weariness of his fruitless cruising to and fro grew upon Captain Broke, and he sent in a courteously-worded challenge to the captain of the Chesapeke, offering to fight him in any latitude or on any terms he might appoint. This challenge was not received, but the American ship stood out of port on the 1st of June—a day of ill-omen for Britain's premier—at noon. It was Lawrence's intention to engage his adversary, and he had every confidence of success.

The two ships were almost evenly matched, though there was a trifling superiority on the side of the Yankee.

The guns were practically even, but the Chesapeke had fifty more men than the Shannon, and if it came to a question of boarding, this advantage was worthy of note.

Under a pigsky press of sail the Chesapeke stood out of harbour, and rounded the lighthouse. The Shannon hauled her wind, and stood waiting for the beginning of the duel. As the breeze freshened, the American ship shortened sail, but still came up at a great rate, heading for the Shannon's starboard quarter. Captain Broke feared lest he should be raked fore and aft by the fire from the enemy's guns, but when within fifty yards the Chesapeke sounded on her heel, and took up a position almost yardarm to yardarm. At 5.50 p.m. the first gun of the action was fired by the Britisher. It was followed by every gun on that side, and was replied to by a tremendous broadside from the Chesapeke. The action now became general. At such close range the damage done was frightful; though the Chesapeke's guns created fearful havoc aboard her adversary, she herself suffered still more severely.

It is on record that the crowding splinters of wreck flew so fast and thickly across the deck of the latter ship that the men in the Shannon's tops could not see what was happening below them. And considering that the distance between the two ships was seldom more than fifty yards, it may be imagined that the Chesapeke's decks were not absolutely healthy. Time after time was the man at the wheel killed, but so fast as one man fell another took his place, and the ship was always under control. Many of the officers fell in that awful blast of death; but the plucky Yankee abated her fire not a jot. After six minutes of this work, the Chesapeke's forecard came down with a run, and the ship ran into the wind; presenting her stern as a fair target to the Shannon. The British fire made the American's quarter a mass of splintered ruins, and the after guns were entirely disabled. Then a deftly-thrown handgrenade fell into a small-arms chest on the Chesapeke's deck, and exploded the ammunition therein. Dense smoke hid everything from sight for a moment, but under the filmy curtain dire death was holding a ghastly revel.

When the smoke cleared, it was seen that the Yankee had fallen aboard the Britisher, the Chesapeke's quarter being jammed hard against the Shannon's main-chains. The Duke of the latter's anchor caught in one of her adversary's ports, and so the two ships were tightly locked in a death-grip.

All this time the Shannon's crew had been suffering severely, and her decks literally ran crimson with blood. It made not the slightest impression on those grim, well-disciplined fellows, who served the guns as coolly and resolutely as though at target practice without an enemy within a hundred miles.

As the two ships locked, Captain Broke ran to the forward end of his ship, and saw that the Americans were not able to stand up against the steady, continuous fire that was being poured in upon them. Their decks were like a shambles, and they could no longer endure the iron hail. Broke ordered the guns to cease fire—he was chivalrous even in this moment of intense excitement—commanded that the two ships be lashed securely together to prevent them breaking away from that impact; and called for the boarders to board.

The boatswain of the Shannon sprang forward to obey the command to lash the ships together. Under a hail of fire he completed his work; but as he made fast the last knot, an American sailor hacked off his arm with his cutlass. The boatswain bound up the wound himself, and refused to go below.

Men were falling like ripe corn on both sides now. The first lieutenant of the Chesapeke was shot dead, and the captain himself—rendered conspicuous, like Nelson at Trafalgar, by his decorations—was mortally wounded as the vessels closed. His dying words have become as famed in America as Nelson's famous signal in England. "Don't give up the ship, boys!" he cried, as they carried him below, and these were his last words.

The few remaining officers—mere boys—seemed to lose their heads as their seniors fell. The crowding series of disasters demoralized them; they lost their grip on their men. When the confusion was greatest, the captain of the Shannon, followed by a compact little party of boarders, climbed boldly aboard the battered American, and the seamen seeing them come, unaware of their insignificant numbers, deserted their quarters. At this critical moment their courage failed them, and they scurried below like rabbits, led by the boatswain, who should have been the first to offer a resistance. The British followed with his stentorian British cheer that has caused the blood of many a foeman to run cold; but were checked by the last man who would have been supposed capable of offering a resistance. This was the Chesapeke's chaplain, who had abandoned spiritual weapons for the more murderous weapons of death. He fired a pistol point-blank at Captain Broke, but the shot went wide. In an instant his sacred calling hidden by the confusion, the gallant chaplain, was cut down by the British captain, and the boarders pressed on.

Meanwhile the men in the Yankee's tops were not idle. Seeing the British board their ship they opened a heavy fire on them, killing and wounding many; but one of the Shannon's long guns was brought to bear on the top and the fire was stopped instantly. At the same time a heavy fire of musketry was opened on the Chesapeak's main top, and this point of danger was at once cleared of its occupants, and then, for the first time, the Americans on the lower deck became aware that the ship had been boarded. One of the surviving officers called fro boarders, but the call was only responded to in a half-hearted manner. A few veterans flung themselves at their leader's call, upon the British, and gave them a momentary check, but the tide of luck was with the British arms and these gallant few were speedily overcome.

But even then the stubborn foe refused to acknowledge themselves beaten. One of the officers, who had been mortally wounded, struggled to the deck, calling on a few survivors, for a desperate rally. This brave officer threw himself upon the cutlasses of his opponents, and although dying when he began the fight, went on fighting until he was literally hewn in pieces.

The resistless charge of the British carried everything before it. With inconceivable rapidity they won their way along the frigate's won their, way along the frigate's decks the brave captain still gallantly maintaining the lead. On the forecastle a few men turned at bay. Capt. Broke attacked the first, and cut him down, turning to repeat the dose on another enemy, he was himself cut down. He fell, and his adversary lifted his cutlass for the coup de grace. But a British seaman who had fought all along at his commander's side, interposed his own blade, and the wounded captain sprang again to his feet. The sailor had killed this latter antagonist; but the resistance was still stubborn in the extreme. Indeed so fierce was this last struggle of the doomed Americans, that the British were compelled to give back for a moment, but a word from their leader rallied them, and closing in a compact body, they swept onward, and exterminated the remnant to a man.

They were resting from their labours when a volley was fired amongst them from the fore hatchway. It was replied to with a will and the affair was done. In fifteen minutes from the firing of the first shot, the Chesapeak's colours came flaunting down from aloft, and the flag of England replaced it on the shot-riddled mast.

The casualties were frightful. On the Chesapeak, sixty-one were killed outright, while close on to ninety were wounded. It had been a duel to the death. The Shannon had also suffered severely. Her total list of casualties was 83 killed and wounded, including the first lieutenant and several other officers. But the victory had been won. No more would the Americans be able to boast that they were invulnerable. They had faced an almost equal force in a ship of equal size, and though they fought like heroes all they were beaten at all points. Both in gunnery and actual hand-to-hand fighting, the men of the Chesapeke were hopelessly outclassed; and it was shown conclusively in this drastic action, that, given a fair field and no favour, the British seasman was as ready to carry the flag to victory as ever were the men who fell at Nelson's side.

And the victory was necessary to relieve the hopeless monotony of previous defeats. Since war had been declared Britain had not won a single battle; is it any wonder then that a grateful country showered honours upon the victors? But the brave captain of the Shannon had fought his last fight. He recovered from his wound only to be invalided from the service, and left it to his fellow-countrymen to carry on the work which had been begun so well.

And so ended the memorable duel between the Shannon and the Chesapeake. Coming as it did on the heels of constant defeat, it showed the world what has since been most magnificently proven: that the Briton never fights better than when he should consider himself beaten; and the Americans received a blow to their own self-esteem, which did them good.

moved and torn to shreds, candles and altar cloths had been removed from the table and destroyed, the eagle lectern thrown down, and the Bible placed on the altar. The vestry also had been entered, and the vestments completely destroyed. A valuable cope, worth £150, had been cut up. In all, damage, estimated at over £200, was done. From the fact that only articles regarded by anti-ritualists as unnecessary in worship have been destroyed, and that nothing has been stolen, the outrage appears to have been committed by anti-ritualists.

A man of many misfortunes was before the Southampton magistrates recently in the person of Brand Kaye Brandon, an Australian actor, who was charged with being a stowaway on the Union Castle liner Briton. Early in February, Brandon went to San Francisco with a theatrical company, and lost everything in the earthquake disaster. He then came to England, but was unable to get an engagement. He sold everything he possessed and walked from London to Southampton with the object, if possible, of getting a passage as a stoker, or some position of the kind. He had friends in South Africa. A letter was put in which, it was stated, had been written by a member of the Cape Legislative Assembly, in which the writer intimated that if a small fine were inflicted he would pay it.

Considerable excitement was recently caused at Newbury, Berkshire, by the rumour that a portion of an infant's foot had been found in a tin of meat. A workingman's wife purchased some brawn for supper, and her husband was startled to see what looked uncommonly like the five toes of a baby's foot. He ate no more, and the portion was shown to the neighbours, who declared that it was human. The opinion of two doctors was asked, but, while they would not commit themselves to any definite statement without proper examination, they said there was a possibility of the flesh being human. The portion was preserved in spirits of wine, and forwarded to the Local Government Board in order that an expert examination might be made.

A party of six Eurasian (India) boys who are to undergo training on H. M. S. Southampton, the Humber training ship, arrived at Hull recently. The boys were sent by the Marine Association of India, with a view of their being educated and made fit to enter the navy at the end of their three years' training. In addition, the boys will be taught some suitable trade for which they have an aptitude or preference. The boys come from St. Andrew's Colonial Homes at Kalimpuy, at the foot of the Himalayas, and are all baptized Christians. The experiment is arousing a great deal of interest, both at Hull and in India, and already negotiations are in progress to send a further batch of six boys almost immediately.

A strange specimen of humanity, which astonished even the officials at a London police station, was placed beside the dock charged with drunkenness in the streets. She was a short, stooping woman of about 45, and, though suggesting a savage origin, gave the name of Elizabeth Sullivan. Her long, thick, wild masses of tousled hair reached out in stiff lengths, and nearly hid the wan, drink-sodden face and bleary eyes. With one tattooed hand the strange creature grasped the dock rail, and the other held up the fragments of a woollen shawl and bedraggled skirt. The woman appeared to understand nothing, and made only incoherent replies. Nothing was known of her history.

A building which permits of extensive railway traffic on the first floor has just been constructed by the North-Eastern Railway Company at Newcastle-on-Tyne. The structure is built entirely in Hennebique ferro-concrete, and contains low and high-level goods stations, as well as great warehouse accommodation. The high-level goods station occupies the whole of the first floor, and measures 430 feet by 120 feet. It is provided with tracks for six goods trains, eight massive turntables, numerous capstans, heavy travelling and other cranes, and in addition the floor has to carry a load of more than 12,000 tons, making a total dead and live load not far short of 20,000 tons.

The dock labourer in London is being ousted by electricity. The steamship Huntsman, of the Harrison Line, laden with tea, is the first vessel to be unloaded by electricity in the Port of London. The number of chests broken in unloading has hitherto been the despair of the contractors. The new system does away with all breakages, and reduces the number of men employed. By it the chests are placed on a system of continuous rollers, worked by electricity, and carried from the ship's hold into the storage shed, without intervention by men or the hydraulic machinery on the quay.

The great hall of St. James' Palace, London, is temporarily transformed into a workshop in which half a dozen painters are hard at work duplicating Sir. Luke Fildes' unsatisfactory portrait of the Queen. No fewer than 40 copies are to be made of this "State portrait," and unfortunately all of them are to go abroad to the British embassies in foreign countries and the Colonial Houses of Parliament. It is, indeed, fortunate that British art is sufficiently well represented in foreign galleries to counteract the effect that cannot fail to be produced by this official failure.

The holiday season of the cotton operatives of Lancashire, which is now closing with the Oldham "wakes," has been remarkable for the huge sums which have been spent on pleasure. A few days ago Blackburn, Bury, Preston and seven other towns were on holiday, and the going-away clubs, which are a sort of savings bank for the annual holiday, shared out over £220,000, £100,000 being divided in Blackburn alone. These sums, however, pale into insignificance before Oldham. It is computed this year that £200,000 is an under-estimate of what that town's operatives will carry away to the seaside.

A miser's secret hoard was the subject of a curious action in Shoreditch (London) County Court recently. The miser was an aged greengrocer and bookmaker named J. W. Green, who pretended to be in very poor circumstances, but who died worth nearly £6,000, greatly to the astonishment of his relatives. In order to support his pretence of poverty, he used to borrow small sums of a licensed victualler who lived opposite—10s. to pay a grocer's bill, £6. 10s. to pay for coals supplied for retailing, £5 for paying out a losing day on his betting book, and so on.

SCOTLAND

The curious spectacle of a railway fruit van in hot pursuit of a passenger train was seen recently on the Caledonian Railway, near Uddingston. The late Lanark to Glasgow train stopped at Holytown, where a fruit van was put off, and then proceeded on its journey to Glasgow. To the consternation of the officials the fruit van began to move and followed hard down the incline after the disappearing Glasgow train. A telegram was hastily despatched to Uddingston, where the driver of the train was signalled to go straight on. By this time, however, the driver was in the act of slowing down, while several of the passengers were on their feet and preparing to leave the train. At last, seeing everybody frantically waving their arms, the driver put on steam again and took the train past the station for fully 200 yards. Thinking that something had gone wrong in the front of the train the guard applied his breaks and brought the train to a standstill. A few moments later the runaway fruit van dashed down the steep incline from Bellshill, having run a distance of four or five miles, and crashed into the rear of the passenger train. The fruit van was smashed and derailed, but the two trucks attached to the rear of the passenger train remained on the line, although they, too, were damaged. None of the passengers sustained serious injury.

A fisherman named Alexander Forbes, belonging to Torry, Aberdeenshire, recently came into a fortune under somewhat romantic circumstances. In 1882 Forbes was on an emigrant ship bound for America, when the son of a wealthy gentleman, named Macintosh, fell overboard. Forbes was instrumental in rescuing him, and for his gallant act the boy's father several years afterwards bequeathed to him £700. About the same time Forbes inherited £100 from a brother in Montreal, and this sum, along with the £700, he entrusted to young macintush, who promised to invest it to the best advantage. Some five years ago Forbes returned to Aberdeenshire, and since then he has followed the vocation of a fisherman in one of the smacks fishing from that port. A few days ago, however, in reply to a communication which appeared in the local newspapers, he communicated with a legal firm in Glasgow and learned that, by the will of the gentleman whose life he saved when a boy, in 1882, he has become the happy possessor of a magnificent steam yacht and a sum of £1,800.

"It is said that at sea we are only billygoats, but on land there are a great many cripples." This quaintly epigrammatic sentence began a message found enclosed in a black glass bottle which floated ashore a few days ago at Aberdeen. The language was Spanish, the writing was that of an illiterate man, the paper was damaged, and the sentence succeeding the words translated, was illegible. But the message ran on, grimly now:

"Strong and able-bodied, 14.
"Dead, 15.
"Wounded, 20.
"In the hospital, 12.
"In the sea, 120.
"400 floated from the ship.
"Ship of 18,000 tons.
"Seamen supposed to be 609, men-of-war, first-class."

The illiterate Spanish mariner, if mariner he be, then elaborates his details thus: "She was lost on 20th April, 1905. We saved two injured children, whom we transported and fed. The account writ by Joseph Graina, and the first machinist, J. Maria Orino." Several words are wanting in the script at important point, but the message appears to relate to a vessel lost off the coast of Japan.

Something big in the way of sea serpents has been seen several times in Lochbroom during the past few days. Its gambols have been witnessed by Scottish fishermen, who have no surplus of imagination to lead them astray, and they have supplied the following bald, matter-of-fact particulars. The monster of the deep is estimated to be 90 feet in length, and to haunt caverns above which fathoms of ocean surge. Three fishermen from Corgeach reported its presence, and two Excise officials next saw it. It rose about 800 yards from them, and came straight at them at a speed of 660 miles an hour. A rifle shot struck it, and the monster dived down to the gloom of the caves below the waves. The monster was next reported under different conditions. A yacht of 100 tons, while navigating its way into Ullapool, came full tilt against it. The vessel was raised several feet out of the water, and the contact was so severe that the keel was damaged.

Smelting steel by electricity, hitherto unknown in the United Kingdom, is to be tried in Scotland. A wealthy syndicate of London and Glasgow financiers is promoting a scheme to utilize the waters of Loch Awe, in the Scottish Highlands, to secure electric powetr to provide energy for the electric furnaces for steel smelting. The promoters, who will apply to Parliament for powers, propose to convey the water to a power station some miles off, from whence the electric power would be conveyed by overhead cables to the works which are to be laid down on the western seaboard.

IRELAND

A vigorous battle was fought a few mornings ago on the hills around Ballingeary, near Macroom Co., Cork. Before the dawn a large force of Irish constabulary marched into the town to arrest the ringleaders of some men who had resisted the sheriff at a recent eviction. They found that the Ballingearyites had heard of their determination, and with the exception of a few old women and decrepit men the town was deserted. The police sent out scouts and they found the villagers entrenched in force on the hills. A council of war was held, and then the police, splitting into two portions, moved to the attack. One body made a frontal attack, while the other and stronger crept around the hill to the back with the object of taking the enemy in the rear. Ten minutes afterwards the police fled down the hill. They had been ambuscaded by the young men of the village, who armed with spades, reaping hooks and furze cutters, had taken up a position half way up the hill and laid there in the darkness. A second council of war was just being held, when with loud and triumphant cries the villagers concentrating on the hill top, prepared to attack in turn. It was a tactical error. The police rushed the hill and, after a short fight captured the leaders of the rebellion.

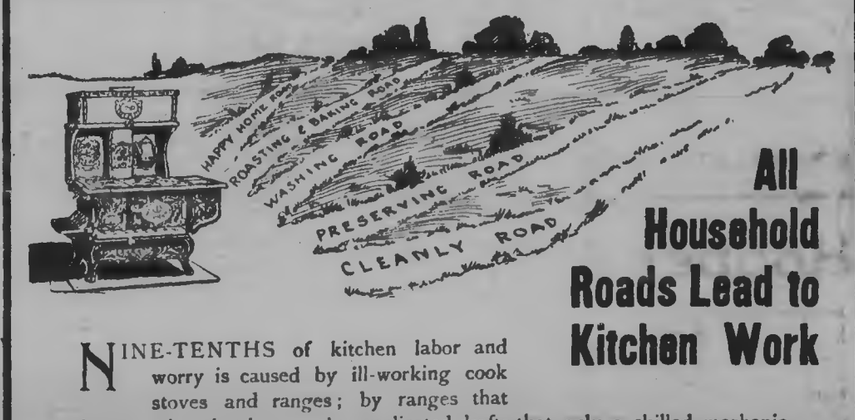
John Allen, a man who makes bogus confessions with the object of enjoying prison life, had his wish granted at Dublin. Charged with loitering he was sent to prison. He told the policeman that if he could not go to jail by fair means he would become desperate and break into a jeweller's shop. Allen was recently charged on his own carefully prepared statement with being concerned in the burglary at the shops of two London jewellers some years ago when property valued at over 3,000 pounds was stolen. His statements however were proved to be false, and he left the dock a disappointed man. On another occasion he was sentenced to four months for stealing, as he maintained, four pounds from his employer, but was released after a month by order of the Lord Lieutenant.

The guardians of the Michelstown County Cork, have received the following application for the position of trained nurse in the workhouse infirmary: "I am fully trained and have had varied experience. I nursed in South Africa for Lord Wolseley, and at St. Petersburg under the Czar. I am told that there are ructions in your union between officials and I'll settle all that. I met a nurse coming from Michelstown a few weeks since, and she told me that they were all made down there, and not to mind applying. I said I had some training in a lunatic asylum, and would show the guardians how to finally deal with the crazy ones. I will attend church and chapel."

A man who was identified as drowned and whose supposed body was buried by his relatives, appeared recently in a Belfast court. The man was Thomas Weston, and on august 1st, his wife and his brother identified a body found in the Lough as that of Weston. Some time after to the consternation of his friends who were wearing mourning for him, Weston appeared. He had some difficulty in convincing his relatives that he was alive. The brother admitted that he had been mistaken in the previous identification.

A fish merchant of Cork recently swallowed one ounce of oxalic acid, and is still alive. The doctor said that one ounce of oxalic acid than had ever before been taken by a would be suicide who had survived. The fish merchant undoubtedly owed his life to the promptitude of his sister in administering emetics. He hovered between life and death for days being only kept alive by injections of stimulants, as his throat was closed.

A memorial to [illegible] Sheehan, who lost his life in attempting to rescue from the main sewer two men who were overcome by sewer-gas, was unveiled in Dublin by the lord mayor.



All Household Roads Lead to Kitchen Work

NINE-TENTHS of kitchen labor and worry is caused by ill-working cook stoves and ranges; by ranges that draw poorly; that have such complicated drafts that only a skilled mechanic can manage them; whose grates are so constructed that it is a strong man's work to shake them down; ranges which work well when the wind is in a certain direction, but act like a fiend at other times; ranges whose work is so unreliable that the housekeeper is in a constant nerve-racking worry lest the meals be late or the baking spoiled.

The Pandora range is built to make work easy, a child can shake it down; its drafts are so simple that one learns them in a minute; its heat is kept in the range so effectively that you can do a big baking and hardly know there is a fire in it two feet away; it keeps the kitchen cool; it saves you worry; it saves you time and money; it saves you backaches and headaches, because it is so easy to manage and so reliable.

The Pandora makes kitchen work easy.

NEWFOUNDLAND AND THE DOMINION

IMPORTANCE OF EARL GREY'S VISIT TO THE LESSER COLONY.

Interesting Information About Terra Nova and Its Possible Entrance to the Canadian Confederation—Sir William MacGregor, Governor of Newfoundland, and the Work He Has Been Doing.

The visit of Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, and his suite, from July 25 to August 5, marks the opening of a new era in the relations between the greater colony and the lesser, writes P. T. McGrath of St. John's, Newfoundland, in The Toronto Globe. It is the first time that ever a Viceroy of Canada has set foot on our soil, or almost, indeed, the first time that any Canadian official of first rank has come amongst us. Although Newfoundland was represented in the first conference which dealt with the federating of the British North American colonies by Mr Frederic Carter, afterwards knighted and for twenty years our Chief Justice, and by Mr. Ambrose Shea, also knighted subsequently, and in 1886 appointed Governor of the Bahamas, the people of the colony never took kindly to the idea of union, but in 1869, when it was submitted to them at the polls defeated the Carter-Shea Ministry, and elected in anti-confederate Government by 23 to 7. One of the ballads most popular then among the fisherfolk was an appeal to them to "Remember the day

When Carter and Shea
Crossed over the 'say'
To barter away
The rights of Terra Nova."

Another effective argument at the time was whether the people would "sell their country for the price of a sheepskin," four shillings being the value of that article in the colony, and likewise the per capita allowance to the colony under the proposed Federal pact. The then recent invasion of Canada by the Fenians gave point to the warning that "your people will be dragged away to perish on the desert sands of Canada, and your children will be made gunwads for Canadian cannon," while the direct taxation imposed by the Provinces was held to mean that everything would be taxed, even the number of panes of glass in the windows of a fisherman's habitation, and every domestic animal he possessed.

So signal and overwhelming was the defeat of the union movement then that no attempt was made to revive the question until 1888, when Lord Stanley, then Governor-General of Canada, invited our Government to send delegates to Ottawa to discuss terms. But popular feeling was so intense against the movement that it had to be abandoned. In the month of December, 1894, however, a financial cataclysm overwhelmed the colony, bringing down many of the large fish-trading concerns and threatening the solvent existence of the State itself. The Administration of the day, regarding federation as preferable to the loss of our constitution, which would follow upon bankruptcy, decided to seek terms of union, and sent as delegates to Ottawa in April, 1895, the present Sir Robert Bond, Premier and Colonial Secretary; Sir Edward Morris, Attorney-General; Sir William Horwood, Chief Justice, and Hon. George Emerson, senior puisne Judge, the latter two having since been elevated to the Bench. Canada's delegates were: Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Premier; Sir Adolphe Caron, Postmaster-General; Hon. G. E. Foster, Finance Minister, and Hon. John Haggart, Minister of Railways. The conference proved fruitless, owing to the unwillingness of the Canadian confreres to agree to advance a sum of $50,000 a year more, and the grand opportunity of rounding out the Dominion was lost.

Newfoundland's embarrassment was only temporary, and her recovery has been remarkable. A loan was raised in England which tided her over the worst, drastic retrenchment was effected at home, and to-day she is stronger and more prosperous than ever. With the return of good times the question of federation is relegated to the background and, though several of our public men are known to believe in it personally, none will risk their political existence by advocating it as a policy at the polls.

The action of the Canadian Government in 1890 in blocking our Bond-Blaine convention of nanery reciprocity with the United States proved one of the most potent factors in bringing about an unfriendly feeling, we resenting it, in the early 'nineties, by enforcing repressive regulations against Canadian fisherfolk, while granting Americans the most favorable terms. Gradually, though, this difficulty was got over, and of late years a much more friendly feeling has been growing between the two peoples. This has been due very largely to the fact of the completion of our cross-country railway in 1898, connecting, by the steamer Bruce of the Reid Newfoundland Co., with the Intercolonial Railway at Sydney three times a week, and towards the enlarging of which service the Canadian Parliament has just voted $20,000 a year. This regular and efficient railway communication has greatly promoted trade and personal intercourse between our colony and Canada, a condition aided by the establishment of the big steel works at Sydney, Nova Scotia, which are fed with Newfoundland iron ore, while Newfoundland, on her part, obtains virtually all [illegible] supplies from Cape Breton.

From the foregoing it will be seen that our imports from and exports to Canada have doubled in seven years, Canada far outstripping her chief competitors from whom we purchase, Great Britain and the United States. Our exports are chiefly fish and fishery products, and these go mainly to Europe and Brazil, our shipments to Canada and the United States being mainly ores and the like. So important is the growth of our trade regarded by Canada latterly that she has just stationed a commercial agent here, and the good feeling certain to be promoted by Earl Grey's visit will doubtless be felt in this as well as in other respects.

The coming of the Governor-General is mainly due to the efforts of our own Governor, Sir William MacGregor, who, in addition to being a distinguished medical man and a renowned explorer in New Guinea and Fiji, is a tactful and far-seeing administrator, whose services in this connection have won him deserved recognition by the Imperial authorities. Last year he succeeded in inducing the Governor of St. Pierre-Miquelon, M. Angoulvant, to visit St. John's, the first time a French Governor had come here, save with warlike intent, for two hundred years. Sir Wm. MacGregor returning this visit subsequently, this interchange of amenities being highly esteemed by the British and French Ministries, and tending to give tangible expression to the Anglo-Gallic entente recently effected, while it is also contributing materially in promoting trade between Newfoundland and Miquelon, and dissipating the unpleasant feelings of previous years.

In securing a visit from Earl Grey this year, Sir William MacGregor is achieveing a still more noteworthy diplomatic triumph, for whatever may be the political relations subsisting between the two countries it is undeniable that our social and commercial relations with Canada should be of the best. Most of the old prejudices regarding the Dominion are being dispelled by the intercourse between our people and those of Nova Scotia, which is due to the former visiting Cape Breton to work in the mining and smelters, while many of the latter come among us for lumbering work and the tri-weekly trains are constantly carrying them to and fro, the shipments of freight growing concurrently.

A Cutting Rebuke.

In some parts of Scotland it is customary for a bride to bring a dower to her husband, no matter how little. One couple who had experienced the strife of wedded bliss for some years were having the usual row, when the husband taunted the lady with the paucity of worldly goods with which she had endowed him.

"Awa!" said he. "When ye marrit me a' ye brought was a cask o' whisky an' the auld Bible."

"Weel, Jock," was the response, "gin ye had paid as muckle attention to the book as ye did tae the whisky, ye would hae been a meenister o' the gospel the noo."

There is no building material so durable as well made bricks. In the British museum are bricks taken from the buildings in Nineveh and Babylon which show no signs of decay or disintegration, although the ancients did not burn or bake them, but dried them in the sun. A MODERN SAVONAROLA

PREACHING SERMONS AGAINST ENGLAND'S SOCIAL SINS.

Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, the Terror of England's Smart Set—Lays Girls' Ruin to Bridge Whist—English Maids Lose Honor At the Gaming Table—Bishop Declares Priest Has Told the Truth.

The terror of the smart set, the Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, again is creating widespread indignation in London by his denunciation of the increasing wickedness of English society, dwelling more particularly on "man eating tigresses" and traps set for the ruin of girls.

Some women of the set to which he referred, he declared, seemed to combine the savagery of an animal with the cunning of a devil. Smart, dainty ladies though they were, once they had pledged themselves to the wine-cup of pleasure they became worse than savages and far more cruel and cunning, he said.

But, he continued, there was a worse crime than the rooking of young men and that was the ruining through the gaming table of young women. What a piteous series of pictures he could paint depicting the fall of innocent, beautiful English girls over the card table. Many debutantes had been drawn into that vortex, in some instances by the hostess herself, and had been sucked down to the lowest depths to which woman could descend.

What could a girl with the gambling curse upon her do? Her debts must be paid. Where was she to find the money? In her shame she dare not go to father or mother. Then it was that the devil in human shape, who laid the trap, made a bargain by which her debt was paid, "but, O, my God!" said Father Vaughan, "the poor girl becomes so horrified at what has befallen her that she can never be the same again. And this is going on every day."

Father Vaughan said he knew well what he was talking about. He had his evidence. Not long ago he was sent for by a frail, beautiful girl, lying on her deathbed, broken with misery. Passion's victim rather than passion's slave, she had sent for him to let him see to what a loathsome thing man might bring woman.

"You are right to speak out as you do. For God's sake raise up your voice. If you save but one girl from the state in which I am you have done much, for I am in misery and the agony of hell. Father Vaughan said she told him. "It was the cursed gambling, which is the millstone around society's neck."

Perhaps Father Vaughan's denunciation would not have attracted so much attention had it not been that it was followed by the publication in a London newspaper of a remarkable letter from "Colonial," who recently returned to England after ten years' absence, and declared himself startled by the change which he had observed in the old country regarding the growing luxury and widespread gambling, increased strain, of the broadened gap between rich and poor, ferocious competition, and extraordinary disregard of religion.

It is notorious that in London there are not enough churches to seat one-tenth of the population. Yet in many churches only about one-twentieth of the seats are occupied. Sunday, which used to be a day of rest, now is become one of strenuous pleasure for some, of laborious toil for others.

Then the writer goes on to describe a scene on the Thames on a fine Sunday—crowds of pleasure boats waiting hours to get through locks—and also how "I've journeyed thirty or forty miles in the country, and throughout the journey have been enveloped in a continuous cloud of dust raised by thousands of automobilists, cyclists, and carriageloads of excursionists rushing pell mell after pleasure. Conversing with people on religion, I've found almost complete indifference to religious observance, and positive hostility to anything like a religious creed."

Naturally, there are some correspondents who are indignant at the sweeping attack on the morals of English society, declaring that high play at bridge is not indulged in, and that young girls are not allowed to engage in gambling, but clergymen of the Church of England who have followed Vaughan and "Colonial" into the arena generally deplore what Bishop Wilkinson defines as "the terrible moral and social decline of the English nation," which he attributes to "wealth and prosperity selfishly and badly used, which already has proved disastrous to France, Austria, America, and elsewhere."

After quoting instances in support of his argument that a decline in religious observances is marked by a decline of a nation's prosperity, Bishop Wilkinson dwells on increasing gambling, fraud, intemperance, and immorality of the nation, and adds that Father Vaughan's denunciations have not been one whit too strong. The Rev. Webb Peploe, prebendiary of St. Paul's cathedral, joining in the lament, writes:

"We older men of the clergy could never have believed ten or twenty years ago that now what is patent to us all would ever have been seen in England."

ANIMALS' ILLUSIONS.

The Horse a Prey to the Terrors of Imagination, But Brave In the Face of Dangers It Can Understand.

Birds are perhaps more commonly the victims of illusions than other animals, their stupidity about their eggs being quite remarkable. On one occasion, for instance, a hen got into the pavilion of a ladies' golf club and began to sit on a golf ball in a corner, for which it made a nest with a couple of pocket handkerchiefs. But many quadrupeds are not only deceived for the moment by reflections, shadows and such unrealities, but often seem victims to illusions largely developed by the imagination.

The horse, for instance, is one of the bravest of animals when face to face with dangers which it can understand, such as the charge of an elephant or a wild boar at bay. Yet the courageous and devoted horse, so steadfast against the dangers he knows, is a prey to a hundred terrors of the imagination due to illusions, mainly those of sight, for shying, the minor effect of these illusions, and "bolting," in which panic gains complete possession of his soul, are caused, as a rule, by mistakes as to what the horse sees and not by misinterpretation of what he hears. It is noticed, for instance, that many horses which shy usually start away from objects on one side more frequently than from objects on the other. This is probably due to defects in the vision of one or other eye.

In nearly all cases of shying the horse takes fright at some unfamiliar object, though this is commonly quite harmless, such as a wheel-barrow upside down, a freshly felled log or a piece of paper rolling before the wind. This instantly becomes an illusion, is interpreted as something else, and it is a curious question in equine neuropathy to know what it is that the horse figures these harmless objects to be. When Russian ponies first began to be shipped to England they usually objected to pass near a donkey. This reluctance was explained on the hypothesis that the ponies seldom saw donkeys in Russia and mistook them for bears.—London Spectator.

Canadian Prima Donna Married.

Mme. Pauline Donalda, the Canadian prima donna, was married on the 23rd July, in the Bloomsbury (London) registry office to M. Paul Seveilhac, the French baritone. Lord Strathcona's daughter and her husband, Dr. Howard, were two of the four who witnessed the ceremony. Mme. Donalda took her usual part in Don Giovanni at the Covent Garden the same night.

Mme. Donalda was Miss Pauline Lightstone, of Montreal, daughter of Michael Lightstone, a Polish Jew who came out to Canada in 1872. Heard for the first time in a quartette at a church bazaar, Miss Lightstone was advised by Mrs. De Sola, wife of the clergyman, to study singing, and her voice was cultivated at the Royal Victoria College, Montreal, founded by Lord Strathcona. Her association with the college led Miss Lightstone to adopt the professional name of Donalda, as the students in Montreal are familiarly known as "Donaldas," the appellation being chosen in compliment to Lord Strathcona, whose first name is Donald. From Montreal, after a short term of study, the young artist went to Paris to continue her musical education. She there met Salignac and Dufriche, and studied for two years under Duvernoy. Soon after, at Nice, followed her first professional engagement, when she was associated with Monsieur Salignac, and sang in opera for a season. Meanwhile, Mons. Messager, who had heard Mlle. Donalda in Paris, asked her to come to London to sing in grand opera, and thus promptly the young artiste stepped into the very front rank, and attained the goal to which so many aspire.

Mme. Donalda is undoubtedly one of the greatest operatic singers Canada has produced. At the very outset of her career she has been engaged for three season at Covent Garden, ranging alongside the great Melba herself. Upon two occasions last year she sang before the King and Queen, and before the Khedive of Egypt with the London Symphony Orchestra.

Pranks of the Types.

Tom Moore wrote the line, "Had taken up in heaven his position," but the printer made it read, "Had taken up to heaven his physician." In a weekly story paper a love story contained no less than twenty ridiculous errors. Instead of falling into a reverie the young lady fell into the river; "bull pup" appeared for "pull up," "nasal" for "natal" and "trombone" for "trembling." The fair heroine was awfully "hungry" instead of "angry." Her heart was filled with "et ceteras" and not "ecstasies," and when she meant to say "thine" the types made her say, "I am thin, I am wholly thin." A newspaper in telling of a cow cut into halves by a railway train said the cow was cut into calves.

Hairs Breadth Escape From An Elephant's Foot

Story of a Hunt in Africa---Was Troubled with Night-Elephants for a Month After.

Toward the end of the summer of 1850, William Cotton Oswell was on an ivory-hunt in Africa, and nearly lost his life. In his biography his own description of the adventure is given. An elephant was close to him. There was no time to wait if the hunter was to get a shot. The beast was on the move, and the dust flew from his side as the heavy ball struck him.

Screaming angrily, he turned full front in the direction of the tree by which I stood, motionless. For a moment we confronted one another, and then the rumbling note of alarm uttered by his companions decided him on joining them. I regained the path, and rode along the line of their retreat, which, as shown by the yielding bush, was parallel to it. After a time the thorns thinned out, and I caught sight of the wounded elephant, holding a course of his own a little to the left of his fellows; and when he entered the tropical forest beyond I was in his wake, and very soon compelled to follow where he broke a way.

A little extra noise from the pursuers caused the pursued to stop; and while clinging like Gilpin to the horse and peering at the broad stern of the rhinoceros, I saw him suddenly put his head where his tail ought to have been. The trunk was tightly coiled. Forward flapped the huge ears, up went the tail, and down he came like a gigantic battering-ram on feet across.

Pinned above and on each side, by dismounting I could hope neither to escape nor to kill my opponent. I thrust the jagged end of my unfortunate animal's head, and urged him along. The obstacles which we were obliged to go round and in fifty yards we were fast in a [illegible], and he within fifteen feet of me.

As a last chance I tried to get off, but in rolling round in my saddle my spur galled the pony's flank, and the elephant screaming over him at the same moment, he made a convulsive effort and freed himself. That deposited me in a sitting position immediately in front of the uplifted fore-foot of the charging bull.

So near was it that I mechanically opened my knees to allow him to put it down, and throwing myself back, crossed my hands upon my chest, and obstinately puffed myself out with the idea of trying to resist the giant tread. I saw the burly brute from chest to tail as he passed directly over me lengthways, one foot between my knees and one fourteen inches beyond my head, and not a grazed! Five tons at least.

Out of all my narrow escapes this is the only one that remained with me in recollection for any time. One hears of nightmares. Well, for a month or more I had nightelephants.

Dies From Joy On Seeing Son

Return of Prodical Causes Death of Aged Father.

Denver, Col., Sept. 8th.—George E. Corbin, for years a controlling factor in Colorado politics and leader of the Republican party in this city, died almost suddenly from joyous emotion over the unlooked-for return of his eldest son.

Clarence Corbin, who is now forty years of age, ran off from his home in this city twenty years ago and his family never heard from him. Last Thursday the son stepped up beside his father as the old man sat on the front porch gazing wistfully out on the familiar scenes surrounding the homestead.

A sudden flash of memory and father and son were in each other's arms. "My boy, my darling baby boy!" cried the father, while the son rocked him to and fro in his arms like a child. The shock was too much for the old man.

"I'm glad you came home to me, my son, and now I'm going home. Good-bye!" said the father, and soon expired. Among some of the senior Corbin's relatives are Gen. Henry C. Corbin, of Washington, D. C.; the late Austin Corbin, multi-millionaire of New York and New Hampshire; and Lady Louise Lonsdale, wife of Lord Lonsdale.

Register General's Report Of The Vital Statistics

Fear of Race Suicide in Ontario Apparently Unfounded —Interesting Statistics From City and County of Peterborough.

The annual report of the registrar general for the Province of Ontario for 1904, gives some interesting figures regarding the births, deaths and marriages for that year.

Births

During the year 1904 there were registered 50,265 births, which represents a birth rate of 22.3 per 1,000 of the population, which is an increase of 0.7 per thousand over the preceding year and 1.1 per thousand over the registration of the year 1899. Although this birth rate is not as high as that of the Province of Quebec, yet must be considered satisfactory owing to the fact that a constant drain is taking place of young men of a marriagable age to the western provinces of the Dominion, where ultimately they settle down and marry thus materially reducing the numbers of that class of the population upon which an increase is dependent. The older couples; those who have passed the child-bearing period of life being left in Ontario, and considering farther that it is not "the fashion" of the present day to have a family of more than one or two, the returns for 1904 must be looked upon as comparatively satisfactory, and we may feel thankful that the desire for the comforts and pleasures of a married life free from all "encumbrances" apparently is not making rapid headway in the community, and there are those in our midst possessed with a due sense of their responsibility to the state and the benefits to be derived from a course of non interference with the laws of nature.

It is interesting to note that the County of Peterborough is one of nine counties whose birth rate increase is over one hundred, the birth-rate for this county being 103. The report shows that the birth rate in towns of over 3,000 population is 25.1 of the population. The report adds:—

The abnormal rate of some of these towns can be accounted for by an increase in population over that estimated, particularly in the case of the towns of Fort William, Peterborough and Port Arthur, where the growth has been abnormal.

The most marked increases in marriages were Lindsay, with an increase of 41 and Peterborough, with an increase of 51.

Marriages

Fashion as well possibly as convenience still makes the leafy month of June dominant as that in which most marriages occur, indeed judging by the returns it is more popular than ever, while May still maintains the position at the foot of the list.

In grouping the returns by quarters it will be noticed that no change has occurred, and a preponderence of marriages take place in the last quarter of the year.

A comparison with the returns for the year 1903, will show that no change has taken place in the order of precedence of the Religious Denominations as regards the number of persons of each sect married during 1904. The order being Methodists, Presbyterians Church of England and Roman Catholic.

The Mortality List

Speaking of the death statistics the report says:—

The total number of deaths registered from all causes for the province was 30,920, divided as follows among the groups of municipalities:—

Cities	8,742
Towns over 3,00 populations	3,364
Townships, including smaller incorporated towns and villages...	19,234

The death rate for the province was 14.1 per thousand of the population, an increase of 0.7 per thousand over the rate for the year 1903.

The counties with a higher mortality rate than the average are, Carleton, Frontenac, Leeds and Greenville, Lincoln, Middlesex, Nipissing, Norfolk, Oxford, Perth, Peterborough Prescott, and Russell, Thunder Bay, Welland Wentworth and •York.

Population, 36,393; births. 891, an increase of 103; marriages, 337, an increase of 7; deaths, 552, an increase of 1[illegible]. The rates to 1,000 of the population are therefore:—Births, 24.4; marriages, 9.3; deaths, 15.1.

The statistics for the town of Peterborough for the year 1904:—Births, 253, increase [illegible]; marriages, [illegible] increase 51; deaths, 247, an increase of 17 which gives the rates to 1,000 of population as follows:—Births, 30.0; marriages, 16.0; deaths, 21.

Our Farther North Nor-west Wheat Lands

Something About the Prolific Peace River District—Beats Manitoba for Early Wheat.

Edmonton, August 21. — Nowhere in the whole North American continent, can there be found a better farming, stock-raising and mineral country than that which lies between Peace River Landing westward as far as the great valleys of the northern interior of British Columbia, and northward and southward from the Peace River for hundreds of miles. In support of this contention, one has only to take the crop yields at various points throughout this vast territory, to say nothing of the unique climate, which enables crops to mature at least three weeks ahead of those in Manitoba. Forty or fifty bushels per acre of the finest wheat the world produces is the average yield throughout this fertile area, but the prosperity of the whole country is retarded for lack of railways to open up these rich natural resources. This is the opinion of Mr. G. Lloyd Faulkner, of Toronto, who has made extensive investigations in the territory mentioned.

The country eastward from the Pine River Pass is similar to the Calgary district, because of the Chinook which covers the locality for miles on miles on either side. For stock-raising there is no other spot on the contient to beat it, says Mr. Faulkner, and, judging by the way the Alberta ranchers are being crowded out of southern Alberta, and gradually being driven back by the settlers, it is possible that this part will be thickly settled by ranchers from that section. In Ponoabee Prairie—named after an Indian chief whose tribe used to inhabit it — there is absolutely no frost. To the west of this point between the mountain ranges in the northern interiorr of British Colomb'a fruit will probably be raised extensively in the near future.

A Mighty Waterway.

Throughout the Peace River country flows the mighty Peace River, a portion of a waterway navigable for three thousand miles. The river ranks as one of the mightiest in the world, and has tributaries running for hundreds of miles throughout the country. This will act as an excellent means of transportation, not only on account of its great length, but because of its capacity for steamers of deep draught, and will be the means of opening up for settlement rich tracts of country to the north.

There arre immense deposits of coal throughout the whole country, and to the west the mountains contain untold wealth. Half breeds are said to be making as much as $5 to $10 per day mining with "grizzlies," and the ice boxes on the lower Peace River.

In the Peace River country there is only one land company which has been fortunate enough to acquire land. About ten years ago they obtained from the Dominion Government between the Forks of the Smoky River, about twenty-four square miles of territory, guaranteeing to settle a limited number of settlers within a long period of years. They called themselves the Peace River Colonization Company, and were headed by Montreal capitalists. A short time ago they applied for an extension of time in settling their land and also an extension of their area to thirty-one miles. However, they were refused.

Route to the Pacific.

Dealing with the most suitable route to the Pacific Mr. Faulkner believes that there can be no better pass to take than that of the Pine River on account of its accessibilty, and because of it being the dryest and richest route for a railway to take for freight to Kaien Island or Port Simpson. As to the Grand Trunk Pacific terminus, he says without a doubt Port Simpson offers the best harbour along the coast, by reason of its deep water and great protection. Sir H. Francis Fleming, in his report of the soundings of the coast taken in 1899, says that Port Simpson as a harbour is one of the best in the world. The British Columbia Government offered the Grand Trunk Pacific 50,000 acres of land on Kaien Island if they would start building docks, and wharfs, by June 1, of the present year, but this work has not even been started.

Public sentiment at the present time in regard to this new north-ewestia that the situation is too far north. This is not the case, however, for Hudson Bay postmen are now demonstrating the fact that as far north as 750 miles, at Fort Vermillion, on the Peace River, wheat is being grown very extensively, and averaging 40 to 50 bushels per acre. There are two flour mills owned and operated at this point. Flour sells at $10 per hundred and oats at $2.50 per bushel. The Hudson Bay Company are paying these fictitious figures at the present time. The country for hundreds of miles around million is similar to Manitoba, and these conditions prevail throughout the country lying north and south of the Peace River. There are occasional slight frosts such as one gets far north, but as soon as settlement begins this drawback will eventually disappear, as in Manitoba thirty years ago.

Climate all Right.

The country gets its Chinook wind from the Japan current at Port Simpson. These winds are blown through the Pine River Pass, immediately west of the Grand Prairie and cover the country north on either side, taking away all snow from the ground. The amount of sunlight, too, lasting at times till late hours in the night, is also a reason for the crops maturing earlier than in Manitoba. These facts should disabuse the public mind regarding the climate of the district which will some day open the eyes of the world with its rich resources and the flourishing cities which will spring up.

The Government is now building ferries at Athabasca Landing, Dunwegan on the Peace River, and are rapidly constructing a road from the Athabasca Landing to the Peace River Landing. The portion between Athabasca Landing and Moose Portage on Lesser Slave Lake, was completed a short time ago as a wagon road.

Nothing Finer Than Horse Meat

For Diet, Says Prof. W. H Brewer, of York

New Haven, Sept. 8.—At the recent banquet of American Veterinarians Prof. W. H. Brower, of York, who was one of the speakers, said, "There is absolutely no objection to the horse as an article of food except that which has been raised on account of religious prejudice. Horse meat should be eaten and called for at the table.

"For religious reasons also the introduction of the horse as a source of food in this country has been stopped," he said. "There is no better meat than horse meat, and none more fit to eat. In all the countries of Europe, except England, horse flesh is used as food. In Europe horses are fattened for the market like other animals, and the meat is wholesome and good.

"I have eaten horse flesh in several of the Paris restaurants, and, know whereof I speak. Restaurants in Paris which sell only horse meat are obliged by law to advertise the fact. The custom could be introduced in this country. If the public can stand such meat as it is asserted they have eaten, they could certainly eat horse meat. It would be an easy matter to have horses examined by an inspector before being killed."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

FATE OF THE SCENERY WHEN THE SHOW RUNS OUT

What do producers of costly plays do with their scenery when their "runs come to an end?

If the plays have proved a success and are likely to be revived, the scenery is carefully stowed away in some place conveniently situated and easily accessible at amoment's notice. If, on the other hand, a play has exhausted its popularity and "drawing" power in town, it is sent "on tour" through the provinces, and the scenery is cut down and otherwise adapted for the stages of country theatres. P Provincial theatrical managers may buy second-hand scenery, or, tragedy of tragedies, it may be acquired by sign painters, who turn out huge posters by the yard. More curious still, the canvas finds much favour with the specialists who produce the huge signs which adorn public houses.

The scenery of all Sir Henry Irving's productions found refuge for many years in a series of arches beneath the London & South-Western railway near Vauxhall, while the late Mr. Wilson Barrett's was stored under the London, Brighton & South Coast railway at Battersea.

It is the general custom when plays of to-day or of the Stuart or Tudor periods are concerned to hire the furniture from dealers who make a specialty of this sort of thing, and who undertake all risks of fire and warenousing, and who, in return from an advertisement of their names on the programme ,are prepared to supply all that is necessary at a reasonable rate, taking it back, of course, when the plays in which it is used come to an end.

It naturally follows that scenery, however carefully it may be kept, deteriorates after a certain periuod, and has either to be renewed or got rid of. Especially is this the case with scenery which is taken "on tour," and which receives a vast amount of knocking about on its journeys from town to town, by rail or road. In these cases periodical sales by auction are held, when landscapes and seascapes, rustic cottages, baronial castles and modern "interiors" are knocked down to the highest bidders.

The principal customers in such cases are scenic artists, travelling showmen, and the proprietors of "fit-ups" or portable theatres, which are erected on any waste piece of ground that may offer, usually for "one-night stands"; in other words, for one performance before moving on to next "pitch" or town. Builders and boat builders also turn up on these occasions, for the canvas used is invariably of excellent quality, and is found of great use for such purposes as covering ceilings, canoes and other craft, or for caulking joints and decorating cabins.

ANOTHER WONDEREUL CASE

Here is Something that will be Welcome News to Many a Discouraged One.

WILLIAM H. REED.

"For several years I have been troubled with gas around my heart, shortness of breath. In fact, if I walked my usual gait my breath would get so short I would be compelled to make several stops during my walk.

"Of late my food did not digest properly It turned sour in my stomach, causing me great distress; often, too, I had disagreeable attacks of belching gas and heartburn

"I was bothered with servere pains across the small of my back and the least bending or turning would cause me to almost cry out

"I was induced to try Dr Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, and from the very first found relief

"For the last three months I have had no recurrence of my former complaints, so I am bound to say 'Anti-Pill has indeed cured me"

That is the voluntary statement of Wm H. Reed, of 165 Queen street, Kingston, Ont

Don't let your condition grow worse. Check the decline of vital force before it is too late! The one sure remedy is Ferrozone—not a temporary stimulant—but an uplifting nutritive tonic that contains the kind of building material a weak body requires.

Etherington, a well known merchant's wife, of Troy, writes: "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone, believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence, and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last Spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, felt tired and completely worn out. No doubt it is quite a common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Ferrozone, and took it for several weeks. It made me quite strong, and, in fact, I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

Hatpins Match the Hair Combs—New Ideas in Stocks—Artistic Bangles.

A new idea in regard to hatpins is to have them match the combs worn in the hair. These are of polished tortoise shell or amber, or, at any rate, of much lighter color than has been worn for some time. A pear shaped hatpin of amber with amber combs produces a very pretty effect, whether the hair is dark or light.

A smart stock has a long slot buttonhole horizontally across the lower edge in front. Through this is drawn a short strip with kite shaped ends, practically forming the "tabs" which are sewn on most stocks. The advantage is that it can be slipped either one way or the other and knotted or pinned down as one likes in front.

Collars with rounded corners embroidered in dots and figures all over the collar are very new. The long four-in-hands worn with them are in strong Scotch plaids or small black and white checks or in black. Many of these are narrow, though the newest are about two inches wide.

Blue and violet linen turn back collars and cuffs simply stitched are to be worn with linen suits.

The latest variation of the sun plaited skirt is very pretty and graceful. It is circular in shape and falls in ample folds and fullness from a plain yoke.

The embroidered linen hat, with a bow of ribbon for its only trimming, is used with the linen jacket for street wear, but with more elaborate gowns of muslin or organdie a hat of sheer material in shadow work with flowers and ribbons should be donned.

Since the coming of the short sleeves and the return of the bracelet the neck chain and the chatelaine bag have taken a back seat. My lady now spends her money and her time looking for artistic bangle bracelets.

The frock in the cut is of white foulard with pin dots of black. The skirt is cut in two pieces, each ruffle trimmed with a bowknot design effected with German val lace insertion. The bolero jacket is similarly adorned and tied just above the waist line with a green velvet bow. A line of the same velvet edges the V shaped neck.

The Reason Why?

If you are not well there is a reason. If you do not get well there is a reason. The reason is probably the same in both instances, namely, that your system is so run down, that it is in no shape to either resist or throw-off disease.

The remedy is obvious:—Build up the constitution and nature will do the rest. As a system builder

QUICK HOT BREAD.

Some Well Tried Recipes That Are Easy to Use.

How often does it happen, even to the best of housekeepers, that one's maid appears, a few minutes before lunchtime, with her hands demurely folded and an expression of hopelessness on her countenance as she announces, "Please, ma'am, there's no bread for lunch." Or perhaps a sudden influx of callers on a cold afternoon brings a desire for a cup of tea—with its attending biscuit—and the store closet reveals nothing but empty boxes Here are some recipes to tide over such a chasm:

Plain Gems.—Sift together one pint of sifted pastry flour, one level teaspoonful of salt and five level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Pour over this one cupful of milk, stir just enough to make a smooth batter, no longer. Drop from the spoon into gem pans, and bake in a quick oven from fifteen to eighteen minutes. Bread flour may be used in making them, but one-third cupful more of milk will be required.

Corn Muffins.—One cupful of cornmeal (the fine kind, not the granulated); one cupful of flour, half a cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of salt. Into these rub one generous tablespoonful of butter. (If you are in a great hurry, the butter may be softened near the fire.) Add the yolks of two eggs and a cupful of milk—sour milk with a little soda is best—and last of all the beaten whites. Stir it all up as quickly as possible and pour into gem pans. Bake about twenty minutes.

Wheat Puffs.—Two cupfuls of milk, two eggs, two cupfuls of flour. Beat hard and very smooth and bake.

Lemon Tea Cakes.—These hardly come under the heading "quick" as compared with the others, but the recipe is so useful to have in an emergency that it is added.) One egg, one cupful of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of milk, juice and rind of two small lemons, one teaspoonful of baking powder, flour enough to roll out.—Delineator.

For the Dressmaker.

To strengthen shirt buttonholes stitch them around with cotton after they are finished. They will then last much longer and will not tear away from the material.

In sewing a piece of material on the bias to a straight piece the former is apt to become stretched. To avoid this the bias should be placed underneath, and it will then be sewn in evenly.

It is often difficult to prevent the pile of velvet from being crushed in stitching it, and a good plan is to place a piece of the same material face downward on it. The fingers, resting on this, will not flatten the pile.

When altering a blouse it is a mistake to move the shoulder seam to the front. A better plan is to let it drop backward instead of forward.

A Homemade Cabinet.

A cabinet for the keeping of household books, accounts, etc., will prove a boon to all who love a tidy and well appointed house. It is of simple construction—an old box serves the purpose admirably. A shelf should be inserted as shown, and a hinged door might be affixed. At the top, which is pointed, a hole should be bored for the reception of a strong nail wherewith to hang up the cabinet.

Information For Amateur Laundress.

With the numberless stocks, collars, cuffs, bits of lace, white gloves and belts, to say nothing of dainty lingerie and silk waists now being worn, where is the woman, unless she is able to keep a personal maid, who does not do more or less laundry work for herself?

A recent invention for making such work easy, therefore, should be of general interest. The new washer is a simple arrangement, consisting of a fluted roller pierced by many holes. For use with it there comes a little washboard that has slight projections over the surface, although an ordinary washboard will answer the purpose just as well.

These rollers come in all sizes, from the tiny ones like a child's toy—just the thing to wash out stocks, handkerchiefs and stockings in a basin or stationary washstand—to those for a full family wash.

The process is very simple. Soak the clothes overnight, then put a piece at a time, folded in several thicknesses, on the board. Soap it well and run the roller over it in short, quick strokes, as if making pastry. The dirt is quickly removed without half the wear and tear of the ordinary rubbing.

No boiling is necessary. Merely rinse through several waters, the final slightly blued, and the clothes are ready for the line.

Torchon Lace on Summer Frocks. New Corsets—Plaid Dimities.

Torchon lace is used on a number of the summer gowns. When embroidery is the principal feature of ornamentation on a dress valenciennes is the only lace associated with it, or perhaps cluny is chosen.

The new corsets are high in the bust, long on the hips and have gracefully curved waist lines. The directoire styles are pushing the bust up higher and converting the waist into the hourglass size.

Plaid dimities are used for shirt waists and dresses. There is great variety in this material, the largest plaid being something less than two inches square and the smallest of cords set as close together as possible. Between these sizes are plaidings of every width, some made by single cords crossing others of a dozen cords to form a band. The plain spaces seem sheer in contrast.

The very simplicity of the coat illustrated is its charm. It is cut on the lines of a very full sack, which fits over the shoulders down to the figure line with perfect precision; from this point it falls with increasing fullness till the hem is reached. Shantung silk is the material used, trimmed with insertion appliques.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

How to Be Popular.

The secret of getting along with everybody and having a good time wherever you go is to like people and to take an interest in their lives. It does not matter whether it is a princess or a serving maid, a statesman or a farmer whom you are thrown with for a few minutes or a few hours, find out the main interest of the life you have met and talk about that and you will interest yourself and your hearer too. This human nature lover is a separate and distinct individual from the man who calls himself a student of human nature. This student looks at his neighbors usually through a quizzing glass and continually takes inventory of their vices, defects and weaknesses. The other person comes to his or her fellows with love in the heart and in her mind the one thought, "We are brothers and sisters, what can I do for you?" She cares only and looks only for the grand human sentiments in the heart of each man or woman she meets. And somehow she finds them. Be the quantity great or infinitesimally small, she calls it out. She has friends everywhere. People love her, believe and confide in her. Why? Because she loves, believes in and takes an interest in everybody.

How to Wash a Sweater.

Like all garments made of wool, the sweater will very probably shrink unless great care is taken in washing it. Few laundresses can be depended on for this necessary care, so that it is a good thing if one knows how to wash it at home. To do this satisfactorily fill a small tub half full of soft water that is tepid. Dissolve half a bar of good white soap in a quart of boiling water and add enough to make good suds.

Turn the sweater wrong side out and shake it well, then put into the suds and let it soak for fifteen minutes. Gently dip it up and down and work between the hands to remove the dirt without spoiling the shape of the garment. Pour off the water and rinse in two or three clear waters, making sure that they are of the same temperature.

Do not wring the sweater, but squeeze out as much water as possible and hang it up until thoroughly dry. No ironing is necessary.

In case the sweater is unusually dirty, prepare another tubful of suds and wash the second time before putting into the rinsing water.

The main point to be remembered is that the soap should not be rubbed on the garment, but dissolved in the water.

One housekeeper has won a name for herself by canning pineapple and sweet apples together. The pineapples were canned early in the season and added to a very rich sirup with halves or quarters of sweet apples cooked tender. They are a great improvement over quinces and sweet apples.

THE OVAL TABLE.

An Amusing Incident Told by an Old Lady.

The incident was an amusing one, but the old lady's advice was good, and it was accepted. She was not talking without her book, as the old saying has it.

"Don't buy that square table for the dining room, young people!" she observed pleasantly, addressing the couple who were evidently preparing for the great event of their lives. The salesman of the furniture warehouse looked on with just a flicker of a smile hovering about his lips. "They call them 'square,' but they are usually oblong, you know!" she added, with a sagacious nod.

"Why not buy a square table?" ventured the future bridegroom, entering into the spirit of the thing.

"I'll tell you!" resumed the old lady decidedly. "Of course, you are beginning in a small way— Oh, don't be ashamed of that! We commenced in a small way, but we worked steadily, and we are in a large way now, as I hope you will be one day! Well, in a small house you have small rooms. You find that you cannot have a big table. If you have a square one, you find it awkward when you have more than two visitors. There are two sides and two ends to your square table, and so that's all right for four people; but if there are three or four visitors, what then?"

She paused, almost in triumph; the young people waited for her to answer her own question.

"You get two people on each of the two sides, and you feel crowded at the side while those at the end have really more room than they require. It's inconvenient. Then, again, the corners seem to divide you into groups, so to say. Chimney corners may be social enough, but table corners are not. If you are in a big place, with a big table, it is quite different, but in your little house you will find it just as I say.

"Therefore buy an oval table. There are no corners and you all sit side by side, you have more space and you are not parted. You may think that you lose space by rounding the corners; so you do, but the space lost is in the middle of the table, for the outer edge, where people sit, is increased. You have a little less space for placing dishes, but you can easily have those on a side table. You can't seat a guest at a side table when you are only a small party.

"A round table would be better? No! Round tables are usually not so firm on the legs, and to get a good sized table requires more width than you are likely to get in your small house. Take my advice!"

They did.

SUFFERING WOMEN

Need Just the Rich Red Blood Dr Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

From girlhood to middle life the health and happiness of every woman depends upon her blood. If her blood is poor and watery she becomes weak, languid, pale and nervous. If her blood supply is irregular she suffers from head aches and back aches, and other unspeakable distress which only women know. At every stage of woman's life Dr. Williams Pink Pills are her best friend, because they actually make the rich, red blood which gives help and strength and tone to every organ of the body. They help a woman just when nature makes the greatest demand upon her blood supply. Mrs. H. Gagnon, who for twenty years has been one of the best known residents of St. Rochs, Que., says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a blessing to me. I was weak, worn out and scarcely able to drag myself about. I suffered from headaches and dizziness, my appetite was poor, and to attempt housework left me utterly worn out. I slept badly at night, and what sleep I got did not refresh me. For nearly three years I was in this condition, and was constantly taking medicine, but found no benefit from it. One of my neighbours, who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with much benefit, advised me to try them. I did so, and the whole story is told in the words 'I am well again.' There are times yet when I take the pills for they seem to me a guarantee against the troubles from which so many women suffer."

Dr Williams' Pink Pills don't act on the bowels. They contain just the elements that actually make new blood and strengthen the nerves That's why they cure anæmia, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, headaches, backaches and heart palpitation, and skin diseases like pimples and eczema. That is why they are the greatest help in the world for growing girls who need new blood and for women who are troubled with irregular health. FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

Gowns and Wraps For the Summer Wardrobe—Band Trimmings Smart.

One of the latest ideas is the combination of taffeta in the shape of a loose, short bolero or cape bodice, worn with embroidered linen and lawn skirts.

Striped materials are very smart this season. A charming gown of the striped class is of faint gray and white etamine trimmed with pipings of pale blue taffeta. At the neck of the jacket is an embroidered lawn collar, and under it is tied a pale blue silk scarf.

Very natty are the striped blue and white and black and white flannel suits. The short skirts are plaited, and the pony coats have dark velvet collars.

It is easy to assume that the milliners hold no superstition with regard to the peacock feather, for it waves its baneful influence over much of the new millinery.

There are two varieties of skirts in conspicuous evidence—the corselet skirt and the skirt that is cut on the cross, which, when cleverly handled, is extremely graceful and becoming.

Bands trim many of the newest skirts and are to be seen as well on the jackets. Sometimes entire sleeves are formed of layers, one might say, of these trimmings. The bands are either quite deep or are cut on the bias, measuring about two inches wide and stitched on the edges only. On skirts a hem is put under the folds, which gives weight and steadiness to the foot line.

Sapphire blue has come into favor again, and the mohairs show lovely plaids in a variation of this color.

The hat illustrated is a sailor shape covered with embroidered linen. The brim is faced with panama straw. A black velvet band and a bow finish this smartly simple creation.

Helps to Health.

Hold the body erect if standing, sitting or walking. Fill the lungs full of breath at constant intervals, which improves the circulation. Masticate all food thoroughly and slowly.

When you are tired you are apt to shrink from the very exercise you need. A warm bath will do much to restore wearied muscles. A tired girl is not a tired out girl. It will not hurt you to get tired, but do not trespass further on your vitality.

A very simple remedy for the purpose of removing tan and freckles is prepared from two gallons of strong soapsuds, to which are added one pint of spirits of wine and a quarter of a pound of rosemary. Apply this mixture with a linen rag and allow it to dry on the face.

Auto-Bus Case in Division Court Was Interesting

Reeve Killen's Suit to Recover $40 Damages From the Company Heard Yesterday.

Judgement Was Reserved—Did the Car Stop When Signalled is the Question at Issue?

That Peterborough is becoming more metropolitan every day, is evident, and the latest indication of this fact is that a real live automobile case, was heard yesterday afternoon in the Division Court.

A law suit, with a motor car as the central figure, is as modern as the spelling reform, and this was the kind of a case that His Honour Judge Weller, had to deal with yesterday. It was a suit entered by Reeve S. Killen of Ennismore, to recover $60 damages from the Peterborough and Chemong Auto-Bus Company, for damages alleged to have been caused by negligence on the part of the company, by which Mr. and Mrs. Killen were injured, and damage done to the vehicle which they were using.

The Circumstances.

The circumstances of case are well known. On July 28th, when Mr and Mrs. Killen were returning from Peterborough in the evening, they met the auto-bus on its trip from Chemong. As to what happened then stories differ. This much is certain, however, that the horse went into the ditch, and Mrs. Killen on to the road, sustaining injuries to her side and neck.

As might be expected the case attracted a large gallery of farmers who travel the Chemong road. Their love for the Red Demon is not very intense, and they naturally followed the case with interest.

The evidence was conflicting. Mr. and Mrs. Killen for the plaintiffs, both swore that the auto-bus did not stop when Mr. Killen signalled to the chauffeur, but kept coming on towards the frightened horse. On the other hand A. G. Morse, the chauffeur, and Bruce Lee, who was acting as conductor, on that day, stated the car was stopped almost instantly after Mrs. Killen raised her hand, and fully 25 or 30 yards away from the horse.

Judgment was reserved.

Mr. Killen's Story.

The plaintiff was the first witness. His evidence was to the effect that when driving from Peterborough they had met the auto-bus coming from Chemong. Witness got out and held the horse's head. Mrs. Killen had signalled to the chauffeur to stop the car, but it came on, and when about ten feet away the horse went into the ditch and Mrs. Killen was thrown out.

To Mr. Dennistoun, who appeared for the defendants, witness said that the car was moving at about as fast a rate as a man could walk.

Mrs. Killen corroborated the evidence given by her husband.

The Chauffeur's Story.

The first witness for the defendants, was A. G. Morse, the driver of the car, who said that he had had five years experience as chauffeur. He said that he saw Killen get out of the rig and hold the horse's head. When Mrs. Killen raised her hand he had stopped the auto-bus as quickly as possible auto-bus as quickly as possible, even pulling out the plug to stop the motor to shut off all noise. The car was thirty yards away from the horse at the time. According to Morse the horse passed the car, and not vice versa as stated by the plaintiff.

Mr. McWilliams, who appeared for the plaintiff, asked the witness several questions as to the character of his driving. He enquired if Morse knew of complaints being made, and he was informed by the chauffeur that he had been instructed to run the machine more slowly.

"Didn't the car run into a fence?" asked Mr. McWilliams.

"Not when I was in it, it didn't," was the reply of the witness.

Bruce Lee stated that he was acting as conductor on the auto-bus on the day in question. His story was practically the same as that of the chauffeur.

In answer to a question from Mr. McWilliams, he would not say whether or not the complaints made of negligence on the part of Morse had anything to do with his being taken off the car.

An Eye-Witness' Story.

Mr. Crough of Smith was called by the plaintiff. He stated that he was sitting on his verandah and that he saw the rig and auto-bus approach one another, and saw some one fall out of the rig, as the horse went into the ditch. According to him the car passed the rig before coming to a stop.

To Mr. Dennistoun witness admitted that he might have been about 400 yards away from the accident.

Reeve Scott of Smith, in answer to a question from Mr. McWilliams said that he had heard complaints about reckless driving of the car.

Mr. Dennistoun objected to his answering the question, but His Honour allowed the witness to answer.

Another witness named Kennedy, stated that on one occasion when he was driving a somewhat wild horse the car did not stop when he signalled but went past him at the rate of fifteen miles an hour.

Judgment Reserved.

This concluded the evidence, and Mr. McWilliams claimed that the defendants were responsible in two ways. They had not stopped when asked to do so, and did not take proper precautions to prevent an accident.

His Honour reserved judgment in the case until Monday.

WOMAN HELPLESS AND PARALYTIC DEVOURED BY RATS

(Associated Press Despatch.)

New York, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Elizabeth Vanhart, a paralytic, sixty years of age, was killed by rats in her home in Elizabeth, N. J., to-day. Mrs. Vanhart lived alone. Her daughter-in-law called early to-day and found her dead. Rats had attacked the helpless old woman as she sat in a chair, possibly asleep, and severed an artery in one of her feet that caused her to bleed to death. The flesh of both feet was much torn by the rodents.

Mongraw's Case Not Sustained

Sought to Recover $30 From John Kelleher.

In the Division Court yesterday an interesting case was the suit entered by Mr. J. Mongraw against John Kelleher for $30. It will be remembered that an Englishman named Appleby bought a cow from Kelleher giving in payment a forged cheque for $30. Appleby then sold the cow to Mongraw, getting $2, and then folding his tent like the Arab, he fled from the city, $32 to the good.

Kelleher wanted Mongraw to give back the cow, and when the latter refused he secured a replevin and got his bovine back.

His Honour Judge Weller ruled in favour of the defendant, ordering him to pay Mongraw however the sum of $2. He held that the case was similar to that of buying stolen property.

Mr. A. P. Poussette appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun for the defendant.

The First Come First Served

The line of action to be taken in the construction of sidewalks was a problem that occupied the attention of the Board of Works last night for a considerable time. This has been a question touched upon several times by the committee, a number being in favour of doing the work in the order in which it was petitioned for while others believe it to be cheaper to work by sections and thus save unnecessary long movements of the cement mixer and other apparatus.

The general opinion of the Board last night was that the first come, first served, maxim should overrule to a certain extent their action in lying sidewalks.

Ald. Graham thought that those who petitioned first ought to be first served. Ald. Wilson differed from this and considered that the cheapness of the work ought to be considered and that each section ought to be completed before the mixer leaves.

Ald. Adams was also in favour of building those sidewalks which had been asked for long ago.

Ald. Johnston thought that one gang of men was insufficient to look after the sidewalks which are needed, and proposed getting another gang. Mr. Evans did not think he could man the other mixer however. The engineer also referred to the erection of Charlotte street bridge in the near future which work would be the most important of all and would have to have the men as soon as the frame work arrived.

Moved by Ald. Adams and McIntyre, that Jackson avenue, Lake street and Perry street, be constructed first and after that the three sidewalks in East City and then in the north.

Ald. Johnston maintained that if the mixer left the northern section of the city where it was now, it would not get there again this year. He thought that the other mixer should be manned and put a good man in charge of it. "There has got to be a beginning in this matter," he said, "and it may as well be done now."

Mr. Evans declared that he would not consent to man both the mixers as he was short of men already.

Mr. Adams' motion carried.

Another motion by Ald. Johnston and Graham, that the other mixer be manned if at all possible, and set to work, also carried.

Was Not Paid For Her Clothes

Division Court Case in Favour of Defendant.

At the Division Court yesterday the case of Mr. Waters v. James Allen, late of the C. P. R. Hotel, to recover $18, the value of some dress goods from the defendant, was tried before His Honour Judge Weller, and decided in favour of the defendant. When Mrs. Waters left the hotel on July 18, she stated, some of her clothing had been left behind. On returning she was unable to secure it.

The judge ruled that defendant was not responsible for her property, as she was an employee of the hotel.

Chief Rossel returned last night from Toronto, where he attended the various sessions of the Convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada. The Association met on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, three sessions being held that day and two the next. Addresses were given by prominent members of the Association from the various Provinces on police work.

On the last day the officers were elected for the next year, and the place of the next meeting chosen — Montreal being selected.

Col. Grassett, Toronto, is the new president.

Thursday morning, the members present were the guests of the Police Athletic Association and the Police Commissioners of Toronto, and visited Niagara Falls, going by one of the Niagara Navigation Company's steamers.

The Chief had a pleasant time during his visit, and has nothing but praise for the generosity of the men who entertained the visitors so well.

Mr. Bogue Personally Asks For The Extras

Waited on the Board of Works Last Night and Presented His Claims for Extras in Constructing Outfall Sewer —City Engineer's Figures Were Different—Question to be Left With an Arbitrator.

The problem of what the expenses for extras in the construction of the East City outfall sewer will be occupied the attention of the Board of Works last night and still remains unsettled. It will be remembered that some time ago Mr. Jas. Bogue sent in an account for extras to the amount of several hundred dollars, but the engineer in looking over the work could only see that he was entitled to a few, not extending past the tenets.

Mr. Bogue was present at the meeting and asked what was going to be done regarding the settlement of his claim for the money he was entitled to in the erection of the outfall sewer.

The Chairman stated that the Engineer had been advised by the Committee to settle with him according to what he considered a proper amount.

In connection with the castings for use at the sedimentation tank Mr. Bogue said the pipes did not come till the 25th Oct., and delayed the completion of the walls of the tank as these had to be built into them. The castings and pipes, he stated, did not come when they were needed. The engineer in his report said that while there was some delay in the erection of the tank other work was awaiting completion which might have been done.

Mr. Bogue said that the frost at that time necessitated fires to be burning continually to keep out the frost.

The Chairman then went minutely into Mr. Bogue's account comparing it with the engineer's report.

The plans of construction were materially changed from Mr. Chipman's and Mr. Bogue contended that he had to dig deeper under the new plans and this occasioned a greater expense to him. The engineer's report showed that in some cases the levels were lower but that at other places they were higher and in the whole the contractor got the benefit.

The Chairman suggested that Mr. Chipman be brought here and have him go over the work comparing it with the two plans and have him arbitrate the matter so that it might be settled amicably. He could not do other than accept the engineer's report, it some such thing was not done.

Mr. Bogue remarked that he would not have come before the council if he had not had good reason to do so in the past he had many contracts with the city and had always been treated fairly in them, but he considered he had not on this occasion.

Ald. Wilson agreed with the chairman's idea of referring the question to a third party. He could easily understand that the deviation in the grade if there was one would raise the cost to the contractor.

Mr. Bogue's extras came to something over $600 in his account but Mr. Hay only figured them at some $16.

The engineer said he was handicapped in connection with the work. He had not been informed that he had anything to do with it until two months after the contract was let. When he went to look over it then he found no stakes. Mr. Chipman came down from Toronto at the time and Mr. Hay had then stated to him that if the plans were altered there would certainly be disputes with the contractor.

The question now rested with Mr. Bogue whether he would consent to Mr. Chipman as an arbitrator.

Mr. Bogue was certain that if the engineer looked over the two plans there could be no mistake of him not getting his extras. All he asked was what was fair and right, and said he would be satisfied to have Mr. Henderson examine the work.

The matter was left over until the next meeting and in the meantime the chairman and Mr. Bogue will consider the question and decide upon an arbitrator.

Saturday Prices At The Market

Products of the Garden Are Becoming Cheaper.

The market this morning was scarcely as large as a week ago. Garden products, apples and plums were the prominent features on the square. Apples were worth from 60 to 75 cents per bag, and potatoes in the neighbourhood of 75 cents. Tomatoes, which are plentiful this year, but in good demand, ranged around 80 cents per bushel, and the specimens for sale on the market could not very well be improved upon.

Lombard plums sold at 10 cents per quart, and Greengages two quarts for 25 cents. Corn was worth 10 cents per dozen, and the customary cut in taking a quarter's worth. Pumpkins sold at 10 cents, and squash at from five to ten cents each.

Butter still ranges around 25 cents per pound, and eggs at 18 and 19 cents per dozen.

ENRAGED LION BURIES HIS TEETH IN TRAINER'S BACK AT WATERTOWN

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Captain Richard Bass, a lion trainer, had a narrow escape from being torn to pieces at the Jefferson County Fair grounds late this afternoon. Bass was in a cage making three lions perform in the presence of a crowd of several hundred persons, when one of the beasts leaped upon him from behind and buried its teeth in his back. The trainer managed to keep his feet and beat the animal off, escaping with a painful laceration and a few scratches. He was taken to a hospital.

How The City's Progress Has Altered Water Front

Many Changes Have Taken Place There During the Last Fifty Years.

Mr. Ed. Green's Interesting Reminiscences of the Conditions That Once Existed.

The growth and development of every place is naturally attended by sweeping changes, and this is true of Peterborough as well as of any other city. No more striking example of this fact can be found than the changes that the last fifty years have seen made in the west waterfront of the Otonabee River, between Charlotte and Simcoe streets. The portion between the C. P. R. spur line and the west bank, now being filled in, was, a half century ago, a channel, in which floated the boats which brought all the merchandise of Peterborough from "the front," by way of Rice Lake and the Otonabee. Here, too, glided the large timber cribs, each with its load of quaintly-attired French lumbermen, whose merry, rollicking chansons were heard at all hours of the day as they piloted their huge charges down the Otonabee.

Few, if any, residents of Peterborough are able to speak with more authority on this subject than Mr. Edward Green, 336 Water street, who has lived in Peterborough for fifty-seven years, and nearly all of that in the immediate neighbourhood of the section referred to. An Examiner reporter called upon Mr. Green yesterday, and found him quite willing to talk of the olden days, and of the changes that have come about. Intensely interesting, too, were his reminiscences.

A Veteran's Version.

Mr. Green told of the days when the merchandise of Peterborough, then but a small town, was brought up the river in house-boats. The landing place in high water in the spring was always at the foot of Charlotte street, just south of where Mr. Green's residence is situated. In low water, when it was impossible to navigate the Otonabee as far up as that, the landing place was where the Matthews factory stands now.

According to Mr. Green, where the C. P. R. line to the Quaker Oats Co.'s factory now runs, was a beautiful island, where, in the early days, the Indians from Rice Lake would come and camp for a few days while they bartered and traded with their pale face brethren. When the lumber cribs began to come down the Otonabee in numbers, however, the trees on the island were destroyed by the rafts banging against them, and thus the redman's favourite camping ground was spoiled forever.

The Lumbermen.

In the summer the river was alive with lumbermen who could be seen riding on the cribs down the river. They generally chose the channel nearest the west bank, and inside the island referred to. Their cribs down, away they would drive, back to Lakefield, for another descent of the river. One custom was never forgotten, however. Before leaving Peterborough, the foreman would always lead his men into the tavern upon the site of which the National Hotel now stands. It was the rule that the foreman should treat. The process was repeated every time they came to town. According to Mr. Green, the lumbermen, who were nearly all French, were always singing.

Boating Enjoyments.

In later years, the portion now being filled in was an ideal spot for boating, and Mr. Green took great pride in his waterfront. A beautiful garden with splendid willows lined the bank at the rear of Mr. Green's house, and as the foreground to the picture, was the stretch of clear water. In more modern times the character of the stream changed. Weeds became so thick that canoeing was almost impossible. Mr. Green is, therefore, glad to see the place being filled in, though in earlier years he would not have heard of the suggestion.

Great Mutations.

Great changes have certainly been seen since Mr. Green's coming to Peterborough. (Engines shriek, and freight cars bump and crash over the island where, fifty years ago, the red men pitched their tents while trading with the people of Peterborough. Huge timber cribs no longer glide down the Otonabee. No longer is heard the gay chansons of the debonnaire lumberman in his gaudily-decorated costume. True, we still have logs and lumbermen. The logs also, are but small now, and the lumbermen of nowadays have none of the picturesqueness that distinguished their predecessors of a half century ago. Where the big, clumsy river boats floated with their loads of merchandise, will stand in a few years, probably biz factories. When that day comes, the metamorphosis will be complete, and no record but memory of such residents as Mr. Green will be left to tell the tale of what has gone before.

The Secret Of A Lengthened Life

The Nineteen Commandments to be Kept If Life is to be Long.

Sir James Sawyer, a noted physician of Birmingham, England, has been talking recently to an audience in that town on longevity. His secret he thinks lies in keeping the nineteen commandments following:

Eight hours sleep.
Sleep on your right side.
Keep your bedroom windows open all night.
Do not have your bedstead against the wall.
No cold bath in the morning, but a bath at the temperature of the body.
Exercise before breakfast.
Eat little meat, and see that it is well cooked.
For adults: Drink no milk.
Eat plenty of fat to feed the cells which destroy the disease germs.
Avoid intoxicants, which destroy those cells.
Daily exercise in the open air.
Allow no pet animals in your living rooms; they are likely to carry about disease germs.
Live in the country if you can.
Watch the three d's: drinking water, damp and drains.
Have changes of occupation.
Take frequent and short holidays.
Limit your ambition.
Keep your temper.

FISH AND GAME PROTECTION

Fish and game in Ontario can well be regarded as of the greatest importance, from an economic, and utilitiarian stand-point, and quite apart from the popular view chiefly associated with the idea of sport. It may be of information to some to know that since Confederation, the value of the yield of the fisheries of the Dominion, has amounted to the tremendous total of about five hundred million dollars, the value in 1903 having been recorded as $23,101,878. The value of the product of the fisheries of Ontario, in 1903, was $1,553,144. Of course these were fresh water fisheries, but with the opening up of the route to James Bay, the value of our sea fisheries will be added before many years. In view of the economic as well as game importance of our fish, the mission, so to speak, of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association, becomes a matter of live interest. The aims and objects of this association, have been crystalized into a sort of creed of five articles, which will be found spread upon the first page of this issue. To these articles there should be universal readiness to subscribe. The first and second are self-evidently commendable, and the third needs to be the subject of far more popular education than is possessed to-day. To arouse and enlist the interest of the masses, in the protection of our game, and insectivorous birds, the knowledge of their indispensable utility should be spread broadcast. The farmer who permits his boys to wantonly slaughter our common birds, is contributing to the failure of his field and orchard crops. It is a fact, which would be sadly verified by experience, that if our bird-life, by some calamity, more portentious than an earthquake were to be completely destroyed, the starvation of the race would ensue. With all the stiff fighting we put up against the multiform insect pests, which destroy our crops of various kinds, we should fail to hold our ground, if it were not for the co-operation of our busy little allies, the insect-destroying birds. The robin may steal a few cherries, but by the noxious worms and grubs he destroys, he more than pays for the luxury. Even the despised, and hunted, and even hated, sparrow, is a benefactor, through the destruction of pestiferous insect and worm life which he performs. The last article in the creed of the Association — complete divorce from political affiliations— represents the removal of a danger, which at one time threatened to impair the usefulness of the Association. No one will deny that there is a large and wanton destruction of our fish and game and insectivorous birds, and it is so manifestly in the interests of the people that they should be preserved, for legitimate purposes — the enjoyment and benefit of our people — that there should be universal and practical public co-operation with the work of the Association.

BULLYING LAWYERS.

In attending courts of law, in function, one is often astounded at the practice followed and permitted, of the bullying of witnesses, with the effect, if not intention, of practically suborning to perjury — inciting to breach of the law instead of its observance—and in this respect, instead of making our courts of law conduce to the interests of the state and society, making them contributory to the commission of crime and the defeat of the ends of justice. At the recent convention of the High Constables' Association of Toronto, Deputy Chief Stark, in a paper read, said in reference to the practice of some lawyers in conducting certain cases—"Every police officer has experienced difficulty in securing information regarding commission of crime from disinterested persons, owing to the dread of the witness box." Chief Stark said that the brutal treatment of respectable witnesses, by a certain class of lawyers, had become a public scandal. Witnesses who would not tell a deliberate untruth under any circumstances, are by bullying lawyers brow-beaten, abused and insulted, called liars and purjurers, because they won't commit perjury by swearing to what the counsel wishes to have proven. Instead of aiming at extracting the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, all the ingenuity of the lawyer of the class under consideration, is directed to making the witness commit perjury and his triumph is great if he succeeds in so confusing, intimidating and harassing an honest witness, that the latter will, in some trifling particular, contradict himself. Who has not seen witnesses, of unimpeachable honesty, respected and even revered members of society, subjected by some coarse, ill-bred lawyer to insulting treatment, which, unprotected by the privilege of the court, and practised out of court, would bring physical chastisement? Nothing can be more cowardly, or as cowardly, except a man taking advantage of the privilege of parliament to speak of a man outside of parliament in a way that would otherwise constitute pernicious and punishable slander. Society for its protection and well-being, demands the detection and punishment of crime; and that lawyer, who, as Chief Stark points out, is guilty of practicing, as an examining counsel, the brutality to witnesses, which deters honest citizens from revealing knowledge that would assist in the punishment of crime, is an enemy to society and guilty, himself, of contributory criminality; and the judge on the bench who tolerates and abets such a lawyer in the practices mentioned, is an accessory. But all lawyers are not of this class; all witnesses are not honest and a lawyer with his certain knowledge that a witness is deliberately perjuring his self, is under strong temptation, but if he is a gentleman he will act accordingly and will not practice a survival of the spirit and custom of an age when the "boot," the rack and the thumb-screw were favoured methods of examination for discovery. It is better to let such a witness escape than unworthily abuse and insult an honest and honourable witness and assist in making contempt of court a venial offence.

Girl Walks On Water As Though On Land

Miss Laura Montie, Only 15 Years Old, is Quite at Home on Ecorse Bay in Her Ingenious Marine Shoes.

Walking on the water is about as easy a trik for Miss Laura Monte, the 15-year-old daughter of Elijah Montie of Ecorse, as walking on terra firma, and it is as common to see her walking about Ecorse bay as it is to see pleasure craft speeding up and down that vicinity, where everybody takes to hte water.

To accomplish this feat the daring woman, who is an expert swimmer and who has at different times astonished the residents of the village by her water tricks, wears a pair of heavy galvanized iron water shoes, the principal of which was worked out by her father. In fact, he had originally intended the shoes for himself, but found that they would not sustain his weight.

Last summer the daughter, seeing that the shoes had been thrown aside, volunteered to try her luck in navigating with them. The father jokingly consented, expecting her to back out of the bargain.

Instead, she boldly made her way into the bay and walked a distance of 300 feet, turned about and returned to the starting point without a single mishap. Since then she has been walking in them very often, and the only time that she tipped over was during the second attempt.

While the father as up north 3 years ago he conceived the idea of building a pair of water shoes, just to pass away the time. The first pair was not successful, but led to the makin gof the pair that the daughter now uses.

The shoes are three feet six inches long, seven inches deep and eight inches wide and are built of galvanized iron. They are patterned after a flat boat, and on the bottom of each are four galvanized flaps, four by six inches. As one foot moves ahead these flaps close, while on the other shoe they are held open against little braces, sustaining the weight of the body. The feet are placed in holes in the shoes, and this materially aids the user in keeping an equilibrium. There are no braces of any kind attached to the limbs.

Miss Montie experiences no difficulty in turning around when the bay is smooth, but in case of a choppy sea she sometimes employes a paddle to assist her.

The father is now at work on plans of two lighter pairs of shoes that he will have constructed of cedar for himself and for his daughter. These will be built on the plan of a whaleback steamer.

Elijah Montie is well known among yachtsmen and canoeists, having been a member of the famous Montie brothers four, who won the world's four-oared championship several years ago in the races off Belle Isle.

Buries Brother's Limb As A Dying Request

Mrs. William Beach, Wife of Galien's President, Carries It In Her Lap to Repose in Family Burial Plot.

Galien, Mich., Sept. 8.—One of the strangest of burials at which there were no pall bearers, mourners, undertaker, or even a body, was to-day, when the leg of Peter B. Klasner, of Michigan City, Ind., was interred in his family lot in the Galien cemetery.

Mr. Klasner was injured at Chrisman, Ind., Friday forenoon. A freight car badly mangled his left leg and broke his left arm between the elbow and wrist. The flesh was torn from the bone near the elbow. The shock was so great to his system that it was feared that he would be unable to survive an operation, but as he rallied in the afternoon the left leg was amputated above the left knee, and it was supposed that he would recover. Then he wished to have his leg buried in his family lot at this place.

Undertaker Earle, of Michigan City, prepared the limb for burial, and Mr. Klasner's sister, Mrs. William Beach, wife of Galien's village president, carried it in her lap from Michigan City here. Upon arrival Elmer Buck, also of this village, buried the limb according to the unfortunate man's wishes.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Klasner died. He was 44 years old and survived by a widow and two sons, his mother, several brothers and other relatives. He was born here, and for many years made this his home, later going to Michigan City to engage in railroad work. He had been employed on the Michigan Central about 20 years, and at the time of his death was conductor on a local freight running between Chicago and Michigan City, and at the time of the accident was running as an extra passenger conductor.

Many Disasters Are Predicted

London, Sept. 8. — The Old Moore Almanac for 1907, has just appeared, and, so far as prophecies go, it is as black as it can be. January is to be marked by terrible earthquakes in Southern Europe, by serious disorders among the unemployed in London and by riots in Italy. February will register a great mining disaster in Cornwall and March will see serious discontent among the Army of Great Britain, and mutinies. April will bring to the Court of St. James a mysterious letter from St. Petersburg which will give the sign of renewed activity in the English arsenals.

Terrible news will be received from Spain in June and in July of 1907 there will be a great drought, which will ruin the crops of Europe. August will see France and Germany getting ready for war, and October will bring some further complications in the affairs of Morocco. The Russian revolution is to continue all next year and even China will have a liberal revolution.

Whooping Cough.

"My three youngest boys had the whooping cough last winter, and we could get nothing to help them until I sent for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It arrested the coughs at once and they kept right on improving until they were cured at the cost of one dollar. That was not a large bill for so distressing and dangerous an ilment" —Mrs. William Ball, Bracebridge, ont.

ELOPEMENTS GROW FROM SCHOOL FRATERNITIES

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 8. — High school fraternities and sororities are conductive to matrimony. At least this opinion is held by some people as a result of the recent elopement in Kalamazoo high school circles.

Within the last three or four years, there have been half a dozen elopements in the Kalamazoo high school, and in most instances the adventuresome contractants have been members of high school societies which have associated together more or less intimately. There are two fraternities, the Mu Delta Sigmas and the Kappa Iota Gammas, and two corresponding sororities in the Kalamazoo high school. By "corresponding" is meant that the sisters of one sorority fraternize with the brothers of one "frat," and there is a sort of rivalry between these two groups.

Established as these fraternities are in school life, their practices have led to secret frolics; and sometimes to more serious consequences, and in the course of the various "stunts" accompnaying the rite of initiation, the candidates have been required to do some queer things. One young woman, for instance, stopped a passer-by on a busy street and asked him: "Do you love me truly," and the man who was asked the question was puzzled at the question of the pretty 17-year-old miss, until he heard the laughter of her companions, from a nearby store dorrway. Then he realized that he unwittingly furnished an initiation joke.

In a similar way, it is said, a young man was directed to call on a young woman he did not know and make ardent love to her. It is reported that it was from some of these "doings" that the elopements have resulted.

About a year ago Phil Glass, a high school athlete, and a handsome broad-shouldered young fellow, son of a prominent business man, eloped with Miss Hazel Hanselman, daughter of George Hanselman, a wealthy wholesale candy manufacturer. The marriage was soon discovered and the parents on both sides quickly forgave. Young Glass's father erected for him a handsome home and there the young couple are living as happy as two turtle doves. Glass is barely 21 years old, and his bride is only 18 years old.

In the latest instance, Arthur Van Bochove and his bride are each 19 years old. It is reported that Van Bochove's father also will do the handsome thing, taking him into partnership in the grocery business.

The high school brides are said to be well qualified to keep houses, as they have had thorough manual training in cooking, dress making, etc., in the Kalamazoo manual training school, the work which is thorough as well as compulsory. Both brides, above referred to, were members of the Eta Phi sorority.

Midland Branch of G.T.R. Is to be Double Tracked

Improvements to be Made All Along the Line from Belleville to Midland—Large Addition of Rolling Stock.

Montreal, Sept. 6. — The Grand Trunk Railway is coming right back at the C.P.R. for its invasion of the Province of Ontario and the official announcement was made to-day to The Toronto Star that arrangements are being completed for the double tracking of the entire branch from Midland to Belleville.

The company intends to make this line the chief one for handling all business from western points, and, in addition to the double-tracking, will build additional elevators both at Midland and at Tiffin. With the latter object in view, negotiations with the Government with a view of having the latter dredge the lake about the wharves at Midland are in progress.

The double-tracking of this line will be followed by large additions to rolling stock, enabling the company to meet the needs of the Ontario millers as well as the through business.

Copper Thieves Allowed To Go On Suspended Sentence

Pleaded Guilty This Morning to the Charge—Advised by Magistrate to Reform.

The copper thieves who were arrested almost two weeks ago by P. C. Meharry, were araigned before Police Magistrate Dumble this morning to answer to the charge. It will be remembered by Examiner readers that the goods were stolen from the Sylvester Bros.' Manufacturing establishment of Lindsay, and brought to Peterborough where they were disposed of to Low, Eisenberg & Co., junk dealers, for $13.80. A check was given them, and cashed by the proprietor of the Greek restaurant, but unhonoured by the bank which had been informed of the conspicuous character of the disposers of the metal.

The arrest was eventually made and the prisoners pleaded not guilty. They spent the intervening time on the bill where a little reflection caused them to change their plea this morning.

The magistrate advised the young hoodlers to abandon the reckless life they appeared to have chosen, and to go home and settle down diligently to work. He allowed them to go on suspended sentence which, he said, meant they had been found guilty and told them that the sentence held good throughout the Dominion.

Is Concrete The Coming Building Material?

Its Wide Adaptability and Its Ease of Manufacture Promises to Revolutionize Building Operations.

Winnipeg Free Press.

The use of concrete as building material is rapidly increasing. In its many varieties and adaptations it is now being used alike in the least expensive and mostly costly buildings.

The materials from which concrete is made are abundant almost everywhere. Cement, water, sand, and gravel or broken rock are all that are required. When honestly mixed in proper proportions and tamped into the moulds, they offer architects and builders the material to erect structures in every sense desirable.

Concrete buildings can be as beautiful as any built of stone. The plastic nature of the material does away with the cost of duplicating after the initial mould has been made, whereas, in a stone structure, each individual ornament has to be carved, no matter how often it is repeated. The Union Bank in Winnipeg, and the branches of the Bank of Commerce at Brandon and other points, are fine examples of the artistic possibilities of concrete in capable hands.

Absolutely Fireproof.

Another advantage of the new building material is that it is absolutely fireproof. The fire risk on a well built concrete structure should be insignificant. As to its durability, no further facts are necessary to a conclusion than that the Romans two thousand years ago did some work with slaked lime, volcanic dust, sand and broken stone that even yet remains impervious to the tooth of time. In the case of wood construction, certain parts of a building have to be replaced three or four times in a man's lifetime. When concrete structures are properly built they are there the crack of doom.

Not the least of the reasons why concrete is increasing in favour is the fact that skilled labour is not necessary for a building of this material to nearly the sam eextent as in the case of buildings erected of stone, brick or wood. It is for this reason that it is becoming more and more popular for farm buildings. Farmers can now be their own builders. The farmer can mix his concrete, shape it into something useful, and feel when the job is finished not only that it will serve him, but those who come after him. With balk concrete and with the newer hollow concrete bricks he can put up structures that would cost him much more if erected of the usual materials. With reinforced concrete construction—of which the C. P. R. subway is an example, and which is now being used in the new Aikins and Rample buildings on portage avenue—the necessary tensile strength is imparted to concrete. This is done by embedding in the material steel wire or rods, and enables the building to take lateral and oblique or superimposed strains, the concrete thus reinforced being then almost as strong as when under compression.

Anti-bacterial.

In the modern sanitary cow barns where thorough washing is absolutely necessary, and where simply by cleanliness the bacteria have been reduced from a million in a drop to a hundred in a teaspoonful the proper sanitary conditions are out of the question with wood construction. Concrete chicken houses are built to keep out the cold, and concrete icehouses to keep out the heat. Sidewalks, and even fences, water troughs, cisterns, cesspools, gutters, floors of all kinds, piggeries, barns, bridge abutments, culverts, dams, foundations of all kinds, silos—these do not begin to exhaust the multifarious uses to be made of the material. One of the farming papers recently had an account of a farmer in the East who had even built his stoves of concrete and others have their fence posts buil tof it. There seems to be no question but that its use will continue enormously to increase, in view of its durability, its cleanliness, its attractive appearance, its little need off painting or repair, and its low cost when these considerations are taken into account.

Mental Limitations.

"Your honor," said the arrested chauffeur, "I tried to warn the man, but the horn would not work."

"Then why did you not slacken speed rather than run him down?"

A light seemed to dawn upon the prisoner.

"Gee!" he said. "That's one on me. I never thought of that."—Houston Post.

Officials Will Be Here On Monday

Were Expected To-day But Did Not Arrive.

It was expected that the Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, accompanied by his Deputy, Mr. M. J. Butler would be in the city to-day on a tour of inspection of the waterways, etc. However, word has been received that they will not be here until Monday.

Officer Makes A Lively Scatter

School Boy in Apple Tree Fled With His Books.

A school bag, filled with books, awaits an owner at the police station. The story of its seizure is an interesting one, it having been secured by P. C. McGinty yesterday afternoon, in an apple tree, where it was placed for the purpose of stowing away the luscious fruit. The officer sighted the young robbers in the tree, who, of course, vanished at his approach, but not before the bag had been loosened. P. C. McGinty brought the books and bag to the station, with the name of the owner in several places.

A BRITISH COMMISSIONER.

Old Land Wakes Up to Importance of Canada's Trade.

The complaint has often been made, by Canadians as well as Old Country people, that while the United States and other foreign countries have been represented in the Dominion by Consuls and commercial agents, Great Britain has had no official trade representative in this country. The consequence has, undoubtedly, been that much business which otherwise might have gone to the Mother Land has been diverted to American and German firms. But John Bull has at last awakened to the fact that, if he wants to preserve the trade he has, or if he wants to secure additional business, he must be as up-to-date as his competitors. It is officially announced that the British Board of Trade (which is a Government department, and not a combination of business men as are our Boards of Trade), has, through its advisory committee on commercial intelligence, decided to send a commissioner to Canada to investigate and report upon trade possibilities. Other commissioners have been previously sent to South Africa, Australasia, South America, Siberia and Persia, and their labors have been rewarded with considerable success.

The gentleman selected for the Canadian mission is Mr. Richard Grigg, of Wingfield, Stoke, Devonport, who is apparently well qualified for the position. For many years Mr. Grigg resided in Canada, and since leaving it he has maintained a close connection with the Dominion. He has also been actively associated with important manufacturing concerns in the north of England. Mr. Grigg is thus qualified both by his commercial experience and knowledge of the Dominion for the task he has undertaken. His primary duty will be to inquire into the present position and future prospects of British trade in Canada. His mission will consequently be a wide and comprehensive one, and it is understood that the commissioner will have a free hand to pursue his inquiries in every field of investigation likely to yield useful information for the betterment of the trade between the two countries. Mr. Grigg is leaving England immediately to take up his appointment, and will probably be absent until the spring or summer of next year. In this tour through the Dominion he will cross the entire continent, and visit every place of commercial importance from Halifax to Vancouver.

In pursuance of the new policy of the Board of Trade, correspondents will be appointed in the principal commercial and industrial centres of the Dominion. It will be their duty to keep the Board of Trade informed of the movements of trade in Canada, and to advise British merchants and manufacturers of the changing requirements of the Canadian market, and it may be assumed that the correspondents will be gentlemen specially qualified by knowledge and experience to give expert advice to British traders.

DIAMONDS
For Every Home.

Diamonds for every Canadian home are not the gems which the wealthy alone can purchase; they are those invaluable gems known as DIAMOND DYES which have been for twenty-five years true money savers for the women of Canada.

DIAMOND DYES wherever used, have proved their superiority over all other package dyes in richness, fullness and durability of colours.

Certain speculators, jealous of the popularity of DIAMOND DYES, are putting up adulterated and crude dyes to imitate the DIAMOND DYES. These common and cheaply prepared dyes produce blotchy and muddy colours and ruin good materials.

When you have dresses, skirts, blouses, jackets, capes, stockings and other articles of wearing apparel to recolour, use the DIAMOND DYES only and you will have results which will fill your heart with joy. DIAMOND DYES make old things look like new.

Always ask your dealer for the DIAMOND DYES and refuse any other make that may be offered to you. The common dyes are sold by merchants simply for the sake of big profits. New Diamond Dye Direction Book, Diamond Dye Cook Book and Illustrated Booklet, entitled "Diamond Dye Long Johns' Winter and Summer Sports" sent FREE to any lady who sends her address to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal.

TIRED ALL DAY, EVERY DAY.

Thousands of Women Write Dr. Hartman to Complain That They Never Feel Wholly Rested, That They Are Always Tired.

MRS. T. TRENER, Albion Place, Notch Road, Paterson, N. J., writes:

"I suffered five years with my spine and pains in my back.

"I consulted you, fortunately, and in fourteen weeks was cured by the use of Peruna and following your advice.

"I can now do my own work. I cannot thank you enough. I cannot tell you how happy I am. No family should be without Peruna."

Suffered Years With Pain.

Mrs. Ida Germain, 531 Manhattan Ave., New York City, writes:

"For many years I suffered with pains in the pelvic organs. I was unable to find relief, as no doctor could help me.

"I read of your wonderful Peruna and decided to give it a trial. I took it for some time and obtained much relief.

Strong Again.

"Now I am strong again and have a good appetite. Peruna has relieved me of a chronic ailment, and I therefore recommend it to all women."

Always Tired and Weak.

Mrs. E. A. Connolly, 3227 Garner St., Kansas City, Mo., writes:

"I have suffered for years with stomach trouble, so that I could eat hardly anything. I was tired and weak all the time.

"This was caused by indigestion and female trouble. I suffered agonies and was afraid to be left alone.

Completely Exhausted.

"At times I was afraid to stand on my feet and to attempt to do any housework was out of the question.

"One day I read an advertisement of Peruna and its wonderful cures and I decided to try it.

New Life and Vigor.

"My husband brought home one bottle and before that bottle was half gone I felt new life and new vigor.

"That tired, hopeless feeling left me, I began to eat and my food nourished me. I could walk and do my work without fainting.

Peruna's Wonderful Work.

"I took several bottles during the summer and fall and cannot praise it enough for the wonderful work it did for me.

"When I feel tired or nervous from any cause, a few doses of Peruna cure me. I hope every man and woman who suffers will give Peruna a trial and be as grateful as my husband and myself."

Doctored a Year.

"Miss Anna McGinn, 161 Plain St., Providence, R. I., writes:

"I wish to let you know of the good your medicine has done for me. I had what the doctors called heart trouble. I had been doctoring for a year before I tried your Peruna. I suffered the most with pain in my head.

A Friend Advised Peruna.

"One day a friend of mine told me of your Peruna, so I got a bottle. After a week's use of it I began to feel better.

"At first I could not eat, sleep or work, but I have at last found that the medicine that would cure me was your Peruna.

A New Woman.

"My face has a good color now. I am a new woman, I thank you very much."

Followed Dr. Hartman's Advice.

Mrs. Viola Marshall, 420 West Mason street, Springfield, Ill., writes:

"Two months ago when I sought your advice, I had gotten so weak that I had to lie down most of the time.

Praising Peruna.

"I began taking your Peruna and now I feel like a new woman.

"I shall never cease praising Peruna, nor thanking Dr. Hartman for his kind advice."

PELVIC CATARRH CAUSES MANY AILMENTS.

There are so many women who are tired all the time. They get up in the morning tired and drag themselves around wearily all day.

They have pain in the back and dragging sensations which seem to weigh them down as though carrying a burden.

Many women are undoubtedly suffering with systemic catarrh. The proper remedy for them to take is Peruna.

The catarrh has invaded the whole abdominal and pelvic organs. Through mucous discharges they are losing vitality every moment.

The food they eat and the sleep they get is hardly sufficient to keep up with the incessant drain on their vitality.

The only hope for betterment in their cases is the complete removal of the catarrh.

For this Peruna is recommended by Dr. Hartman. It relieves catarrh wherever located in the human body—in the thorax, abdomen or pelvis.

THE FRENCH-CANADIAN.

His Economy Is Not Miserly and His Courtesy Delightful.

The "habitant" has to be frugal, for his means of supporting his family—usually no small family—are somewhat meagre. Nor is frugality unknown amongst those who are in what are called easy circumstances; no bad thing either, seeing that this virtue is the opposite of the vices, wastefulness and extravagance. But though frugal, the French-Canadian is not miserly; he may be impecunious, but he is not parsimonious. Fortunately, too, his domestic wants, though many, are simple and easily satisfied. It is said that a Scotchman could live where an Englishman would starve; but a French-Canadian could live where a Scotchman would find it difficult to supply himself with the simple but nourishing water brose. In this respect he reminds us of those two delightful characters, Dr. Riccabocca and his servant Giacoma, depicted with such consummate skill by the inimitable Lytton.

In the keen competition and maddening hurry and heartless strife of the present day, the peaceful and contented French-Canadian of this generation, especially if he belong to the humbler classes, may not be well adapted to play a leading part. His natural inclination not to be grasping, his quiet life, his domestic disposition, his conservative tendency, all predispose him against wildly struggling in that mad rush for worldly self which is so distinctive of this plutocratic age. Long ago he learned the salutary lesson—indeed, he seems never to have learned it, but always to have known it intuitively—"Having food and raiment, let us be therewith content." Is he any worse for it? Is he not all the better? Is it really a hindrance to his true and permanent success in life? And is it altogether to us, restless and dissatisfied Anglo-Saxons as we are, to have as our neighbors a race of people, who, by their comparative indifference to Mammon, are constantly reminding us that this life, with its many false ambitions, evanescent honors and ephemeral glories, is not everything? Yes, the "habitant" is frugal, and his domestic economy is one of charming simplicity; but in spite of this—or is it not because of this?—one would have to travel a long way before coming across a people among whom domestic happiness prevailed more generally.

But it is his courtesy which strikes the tourist more than his frugality, for it is more easily seen. One must be somewhat acquainted with his household arrangements, with his actual home life, to appreciate the latter; one has only to meet him in ordinary intercourse to notice the former. He evidently belongs to the same race as those old French guards, who, when they had come face to face with their British opponents in deadly warfare, politely removed their helmets, and, bowing to their saddlebows, begged the gentlemen of the English guards to do them the honor to fire the first round, and to do the English justice, they refused to take advantage of the Frenchmen's excessive politeness; and so commenced firing at the same time. Whether you are visiting in the mansions of the seigniours, the descendants of the old noblesse of the old regime, or in the comfortable dwellings of the skilled artisans; whether you find yourself in one of the great centres of trade and commerce, where "men most do congregate," or amongst the picturesque cottages of the humble "habitants," "far from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife," the universal courtesy of the people is what first strikes the visitor from any of the sister provinces. But it should, perhaps, be called politeness rather than courtesy, and it has not of necessity anything to do with what is known as etiquette—though, of course, from no people does this last receive more punctilious attention than from the French or those who are of French extraction. The courtesy which has been spoken of proceeds not so much from any anxiety to avoid making a faux pas in social intercourse as from the wish to please others—or, as we say, to make them feel at home—even, at the cost of some sacrifice of one's own convenience or comfort. This makes your intercourse with the French-Canadian, however transient it may be or of how little importance, a pleasant remembrance; and so obliging do you find him, and withal so unobtrusive, that when you are forced to bid him good-bye you regret that it is not merely au revior—Byron Nicholson, in The French-Canadian.

Sir Aemilius Irving.

The Dean of the Bar of Ontario was Knighted in the King's Birthday. Sir Aemilius is an old man, but he carries his eighty-three years remarkably well. He has been a barrister of Upper Canada since 1849, and as Treasurer of the Law Society has seen two generations pass through Osgoode Hall. For many years Mr. Irving had a place among the counsel in all the big provincial cases, and his services in the matter of accounts in dispute between the Dominion and Ontario have been invaluable. He sat for Hamilton in the Commons from 1874 to 1878 as a LIberal. His connection with the Liberal party was by birth as well as inclination. His father, the Hon. Jacob Aemilius Irving, served as an officer of dragoons during the Napoleonic wars, and was present at Waterloo. He came to Canada in 1834, and after the union of 1840 sat in the Legislative Council. He was a friend and ally of Baldwin and Lafontaine, and it was in the atmosphere of Reform that Aemilius Irving grew up.

Found Wealth In Scriptures.

The Huron County News says: Recently Mr. Ad. Disher of Dungannon while perusing his Bible was surprised to find in it what may prove to be of considerable value in this world's market at least. It is a well-preserved 25-shilling note of the Upper Canada Agricultural Bank, Montreal, dated 1st December, and signed by George Truscott, John Cleveland Green Co., per J. L. Green. Ad. was surprised, for he is very sure he has turned all those leaves often enough in the last few years to know of any such earthly hidden treasure. He would like some one to explain why he never found it before, and would be glad also to hear from anyone regarding its actual present value. There are other Bibles that should be more thoroughly searched.

Higher Salaries In North West

This Condition Attracts Many of Ontario's Pedagogues.

Dr. John Seath, Superintendent of Education, speaking of the scarcity of school teachers, said the chief cause was the insufficient financial inducements offered to public school teachers, many of whom were not paid any higher salaries than unskilled labour obtained for work in cities. Consequently a good many teachers had gone to the west, where better salaries were paid. The average trustee of a rural school section was not willing to pay a salary commensurate with the qualifications and abilities of the teacher, but the recent change in the law would have the effect ultimately of bringing trustees of this kind to a realization of the necessity of paying teachers suitable salaries. In many school sections in Ontario fairly good salaries were paid, and in some sections the trustees paid the teachers more than they could really afford, but in the majority of the rural school sections the teachers' pay was entirely inadequate. This was the case in wealthy municipalities, where there was no excuse for it.

The Government had shown that they were anxious to advance the educational interests of the province, but the Government could not do it all. Owing to the seriousness of the situation the department had decided that if competent teachers could not be procurred the best that could be obtained would have to be engaged. However, no school board would be allowed to employ teachers not fully qualified unless the board were paying salaries up to the limits of their ability. Dr. Seath was pleased to state that some high school boards had advanced teachers' salaries from 10 to 25 per cent. Other boards take a similar course next year.

AN OLD SAYING.

Showing How Cause and Effect Are Never Far Removed.

It is an old saying, "Where there's honey there's bees" — not less true is one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's dandruff there's germs" — and — to push the inference still further we may truly say, "Where there's dandruff cured, Newbro's Herpicide has been at work."

The reason of Herpicide's isolation as a genuine cure for dandruff lies in the fact that it attacks and destroys the root of the whole trouble—a parasitic germ which feeds upon the material which nourishes the hair follicle.

Other so-called remedies are not directed at this true cause of the disease.

Accept no substitute. There is none.

Priest Has New Aid To Piety

Invents a Buckle to Prevent Swearing.

Baltimore, Sept. 8.—Dr. M. Barabasz, pastor of Holy Rosary Catholic Church, has just received from the French academy for the encouragement of science, art and industry, a gold medal and diploma for his invention of a detachable buckle. Dr. Barabasz says his device is not only a necessity but a promoter of piety. He said to-day: "I noticed that many persons while manipulating a buckle on their garments were often either tempted to swear or actually cursed, for the reason that the buckle sometimes would not work according to their wishes. To obviate the bad habit of cursing, I have spent many days work in that direction and I am confident I have attained that end."

Gained 25 Pounds.

"I was very much run down in health, could not sleep, was very nervous, and so weak that I could hardly get around. Some months ago I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and to-day I am pleased to say that I am completely restore to health. I have gained over 25 pounds in weight, sleep well, and feel strong and quite healthy." — Miss Annie Evans, 39 Gottingen street, Halifax, N. S.

The Brinton Carpet Factory In Operation Next Week

Looms Will Then Weave Their First Web—A Description of the Big Concern—Brussels, Wilton and Axminister Carpets to be Manufactured—A Worthy Industry in a Worthy City.

The Brinton Carpet factory will be in a position next week to weave its first web. The building which has been in the course of erection for the past five months is now nearing completion and a walk through its extensive compartments commands immediate attention. Few citizens of Peterborough ever dreamed when the Brinton Company decided to locate their Canadian Branch here that their factories would be the size and quality which their erection have proved them to be. An Examiner representative paid a visit to the building yesterday and was amazed at its extensiveness, its machinery and the rapidity with which it has been erected. There is little doubt that when the Brinton carpet factory commences manufacturing here in full swing, giving employment to some 150 skilled men, that it will be one of Peterborough's most important hives of industry, and will be looked upon as a worthy building in a worthy city.

The Building Described.

The main structure—380 x 110 feet—covers an area little less than an acre which is constructed of purely concrete walls, a smooth concrete floor and a roof of steel sheeting, alternate with corrugated glass with wire netting on the inside. The building is practically fire proof and as substantial a one as can be found in the city. A large partition of concrete separates the two spacious manufacturing rooms 250 x 60 — in which the looms are, or will be situated. On the east side of the north section will be situated the storage department for the raw material; it is a room 60 x 27 feet. At the extreme corner the machine shop is located. This will be equipped with modern machinery of the very latest type and is the same size, 60 x 30 feet, as the dye house department, where the raw material will be coloured, on the south east corner. A starching house, of large dimensions is another of the important compartments located on the north side immediately west of the raw material storage room. In a wing protruding from the northern wall is a heating and ventilating plant—for heating in winter and cooling in summer—consisting of fans and blowers.

The offices, finishing department, and stock rooms are located on the western end, the entire width of the factory with a cellar storage room if needed. Shipping platforms on the north at either ends extend to the Grand Trunk siding which has been constructed to the factory.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company have already supplied power to the building which will operate the numerous motors for the various machines.

In the course of two months time a boiler house 50 x 30 feet will be finished to contain two 200-horse-power boilers.

Brussells and Wiltons.

In the southern manufacturing department 25 looms have been stationed, with 8 more to be erected. These will be utilized in making the Brussels and Wilton carpets of world-fame. The first line of shaft went round on Thursday afternoon, when one of the machines, just installed, was tested on a trial run. It was run by a motor temporarily adjusted for the occasion, and went quite as well, as Mr. Preen, the manager, anticipated.

Axminster Carpet.

In the other section of the big manufacturing department will be located the machines for the manufacture of the Axminster carpets. A number of the looms are already on their way across the ocean, and many are being built in England, and will be shipped in a couple of weeks.

The Power Used.

Altogether there will be five motors for the operation of the machines, each with the capacity of 20 h. p., besides several smaller motors for the running of machines in other departments. The management has now a small machine shop constructed, with a driller, and a magnificent lathe installed. The motor which is at present temporarily set up, will be placed later in the centre of the manufacturing department for the more equal distribution of power.

Actual carpet manufacturing has not yet started but it is expected the looms will be weaving their first samples by the middle of next week. The manufacture of carpets in Peterborough will be a revelation to the majority of the citizens here, who have seen little more than the homespun variety turned out by the local weavers.

Skilled Workmen

As stated above the employees will be chiefly experienced and skilled workmen, and they will therefore be principally be imported from the Old Country to begin the operations.

The Manager

The rapidity with which the factory was erected was directly due to the enterprising energy of the manager, Mr. G. P. Preen, who has superintended the work from the beginning. Mr. Preen has applied his whole attention to the interests of the company, and although he is yet quite a young man he has performed his duties successfully and well, as a glimpse through the spacious building will immediately demonstrate. He has made many journeys to New York city and other American and Canadian points in the interests of the business with which he is thoroughly conversant.

Factory Site

The company's factory site consists of eight acres purchased from the Cox property in the southern part of the city, and besides being connected with the Grand Trunk Railway line is situated on the banks of the Trent Valley Canel, so that for commercial facilities it can scarcely be surpassed. Peterborough is undoubtedly becoming one of Ontario's prominent manufacturing cities, which assertion the decision of the Brinton Carpet Company to locate their Canadian branch here, will easily bear out.

Perfect Pre-payment Electric Meter "Made In Peterboro"

Factory of Prepayment Meter Company, of Peterborough, Now Turning Out Prepayment Meters—A Perfect Instrument, Simple and Accurate. Wide Demand Sprung Up—Other Electrical Appliances to be Manufactured—An Important Industry.

Among our industries there is one which, though unobtrusive and modest in its operations, so far as amount of space for its operation is concerned, is a most important one. The industry referred to is that of the Prepayment Electric Meter Company, Limited, of Peterborough, manufacturers of the Prepayment Electrical Watt-Meter, now in process of manufacture in the company's premises, Hunter street. The factory has been in operation for some time, largely employed in the work of development of this beautiful meter, to bring it to the nearest possible point of perfection. This has now been accomplished, and the company is now manufacturing and placing on the market, not only the most compact, most reliable, but the only electric self-payment meter manufactured on the continent.

Fruit of Five Years' Work.

This perfected meter is the result of five years' experimental work. The inventor and other mechanical and electrical experts, spent this time upon it in order to make it the perfect recording instrument it is today.

It measures and registers the electric energy passing through with a degree of precision never, perhaps, before attained in an instrument of its character. Its prepayment feature is simply perfect.

Stands Highest Test.

This is attested by the fact that it has stood the severe critical tests made by the Government in the Electrical Standard Laboratories at Ottawa, with hitherto unequalled results. The government will authorize the use of an electric meter having a variation from absolute accuracy of three per cent., above or below. But the Peterborough prepayment meter showed a variation, under rigid government test, of less than one-half of one per cent., on all "loads," from ten per cent. of its capacity to 100 per cent. "overload."

This meter can be furnished for either alternating or direct current, and for any voltage up to 500 volts. The alternating instrument will operate on any frequency of alternation, and on any "load," as a power factor.

Simple and Perfect.

As has been before stated in these columns, the prepayment device is very simple. A silver coin (25 cents) is placed in the coin slot, on one side of the meter, and when the mechanism releases it, its weight does the work of payment, and continues the current supply. As many as six quarters can, if desired, be placed in the coin slot at one time, and each, in turn, deals with its equivalent of current, permitting its passage.

Records as Well as Pays.

The recording dial registers accurately the current supplied to the value, and also indicates the fractional part of the 25 cents' worth unconsumed. The meter in a few moments can be adjusted to work on any rate at which electricity is supplied, and its construction prevents the possibility of tampering with it in any way, and it is absolutely dust proof and hence of long life.

Now Being Made.

The meter is now in process of manufacture. Samples have been forwarded to important population centres, and that there will be a large demand is shown by the fact that enquiries from the trade are pouring in from all parts of the Dominion, and yesterday an order was received from British Columbia by a dealer requesting an instrument to be forwarded at once—no doubt the fore-runner of large orders. The meter is so complete in accuracy, so perfect in operation, so little liable to get out of order and so necessary that it must command a wide use.

Other Electric Apparatus.

It is a rather hackneyed, but true, statement that electricity is only in its infancy so far as its range of usefulness and application to industrial and domestic purpose is concerned. It has "arrived" as the French say in the matter of lighting and power production; its application to domestic heating and cooking purposes is becoming more commercially feasable every day, and it will not be long before thousands of houses within reach of electricity, can, and will, be lighted by electric lamps, the ironing done by electric flat irons, the cooking done by electric ovens, electric boilers and the heating through electric radiators.

The Company's Aim.

It is the aim and intention of the Peterborough Prepayment Meter Company to manufacture most of these appliances or all, and others, as fast as the necessary machinery can be installed; and by the beginning of the year the Company will be turning out at its factory not only meters but electric flat irons, heaters, boilers, etc., and with the use of the prepayment meter there will be no complication in making payment for the various uses—fix the rate, the meter does the rest, and the consumer can, by a glance at his meter, know to a cent what his lighting and heating are costing him per day or hour.

A Promising Future.

The Company has a very promising future of business. With the best and the only electric prepayment meter on the continent, as a starting point, the opening for the sale of this and the allied devices they are equipped to manufacture, should develop a most important industry.

Having perfected their meter the company is now prepared to manufacture a supply for the large market that opens up. Mr. W. H. Collier, an experienced electrician, has been appointed resident manager and his knowledge of the subject and his business and professional connections will no doubt result in the prosperous and profitable business, which the Examiner wishes the company may secure and will secure, if the best thing of its kind on this continent is only half appreciated.

Postal Delivery Petition Ready For Circulation

The Result of Aldermanic Efforts for Free Delivery—Petition Will be Circulated Among the Various Factories Immediately—Peterborough Ready For the New Proposition.

Probably the most prominent problem before the majority of the citizens of Peterborough at present is the question of free postal delivery. Some weeks ago the matter was brought before the City Council. At a subsequent committee meeting, to which it was referred, it was decided to ask the Dominion Government for the free delivery, and a resolution was passed to the effect that petitions would be constructed to be sent around the city for signatures.

There has been prepared a petition, a copy of which appears below, which will be distributed among the various manufacturing centres of the city, so that the people will be given an opportunity of adding their strength to the force of the argument in favour of the proposition—a proposition which the city of Peterborough is at present well ready to accept.

The following is the petition:

To the Honourable the Postmaster-General of Canada.

1. That the postal facilities now afforded in this city are altogether inadequate to the needs of the community. The present postoffice was built in 1887, since which time the population and business of the city have more than doubled, and continue to increase at a rapid rate. No enlargement of the postoffice has been made, except a small change in 1905, which proved a help, but utterly inadequate to the need.

2. The large increase in the population has made it impossible for the staff of the postoffice to have any adequate knowledge of the people, and in consequence there have been constant mistakes in delivery, and complaints. We believe that no improvement short of a house delivery will remedy the present difficulties or establish a satisfactory service.

3. This city is now the largest city in Canada which has not a delivery, and is larger than other places were when given a delivery. The revenue derived from this postoffice exceeds $30,000 per annum, while the cost of operation is only $6,000.

For the above and many other reasons your petitioners would respectfully urge that a postal delivery has become a necessity in this city, and your petitioners pray that such service may be established at the earliest possible date.

Great Forward Strides Of Bell Telephone Company

Facts and Figures Relative to the Steadily Increasing Business of Bell Telephone Company of Canada—One of the Most Useful Public Service Corporations in Canada.

A staff correspondent of the Mercantile and Financial Times of New York, contributes an article setting forth the great forward strides the Bell Telephone Company is taking in Canada, the cradle of this great enterprise. The following article graphically tells the story of development and growth:

The city of Montreal proper has a population of about 350,000, to which must be added a population of about 75,000 residing in the suburbs of Greater Montreal. This in itself would constitute a most desirable field for telephonic service and development; but when to Montreal we add the numerous large municipalities throughout the Dominion, the subject assumes an aspect of even greater magnitude and importance. The people of Canada are in no wise lacking in their appreciation of modern improvements, and as elsewhere they look upon the telephone as one of the agents of progress and one of the most important factors in the development of business and commerce.

Apropos of these thoughts it will be of interest to note the fact that the Bell Telephone Company of Canada is generally recognized as being one of the most prosperous and useful pulic serbvice corporations in the entire Dominion, and a significant evidence of its continued success and prosperity is evidenced by the fact that its capital has recently been increased from $9,000,000 to $10,000,000, with the object of providing additional cash for the immediate and systematic development of its system and development of its service. The new issue of stock is being offered to present shareholders at $125 its par value being $100, and at this figure it is an investment of such great promise as to assure a speedy purchase of the entire issue by those who are fortunate enough to be present shareholders of the company. The stock is now quoted on 'change at $152 per share, hence it will be seen that the interests of the 1,200 or more stockholders of the company have been widely considered by the management in offering the new stock to them at a figure so much below the market price. The dividend on the stock is at the rate of eight per cent per annum, and has been so for twenty years past.

The Dominion Government has recently empowered the Bell Telephone Company of Canada to increase its capital stock from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000, so that the company may issue additional stock from time to time as conditions may make such action necessary for the extension of its system. This is the parent Bell Company of Canada, and has been in successful operation since 1880. The territory covered includes the provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, and the entire Canadian Northwest, in which the company now have about 100,000 stations, the number of which is being increased daily. The company also have about 1500 offices, 550 of which are telephone exchanges, as well as 40,000 miles of long distance wire, and about 9,000 poles. The wires of all the larger exchanges and in all of the most important cities, are underground, and modern ideas prevail and characterize all of the details incident to the work of extension and betterment.

The company have their own spacious and well-equipped office and exchange buildings in all important points in their territory, and here in Montreal, besides the imposing office building fronting Notre Dame, Hospital, and St. John streets, also have two large exchange buildings at other points in the city. They also manufacture their own instruments, cables and wires, and nowhere in the world is there to be found a better equipped or more capably managed plant than that of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada. The company now give employment to an average force of more than 5,500 persons engaged on both inside and outside work, and every year since it began business more than a quarter of a century ago has been marked by a substantial increase in the number of subscribers and stations in use. It is expected that 1906 will show greater gains than any previous year in the company's history, which significant fact attests a wide-spread and growing appreciation of its superior and satisfactory service in the newly-settled districts, as well as the principal towns and cities throughout the Dominion.

The company's executive and official staff is to be commended for its strength, ability and high character. The president, Mr. C. F. Sise, held the office of vice-president from the company's organization until 1890, when he was elevated to his present important and responsible position. Mr. C. P. Sclater has been secretary and treasurer since the organization in 1880, while Mr. L. B. McFarlane, who has been connected with the company for the past 26 years, formerly held the position of general superintendent, but was promoted to be general manager a few months ago. All of these gentlemen are widely and favourably known for practical experience and intimate knowledge of the details of telephonic management, and the great forward strides made by the company may be attributed in no little measure to their intelligent and well-applied efforts.

Regarding the new issue of $1,000,000 of capital stock, it may be noted that each stockholder on record August 31, 1906, will be entitled to take at $125 per share, an allotment of new stock in the proportion of one shares for every nine shares now held, but the right to subscribe will expire at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of September 15. It is not to be doubted that the present stockholders will speedily avail themselves of the opportunity to increase their holdings of this desirable dividend-paying stock.

In conclusion, it may be said that able and conservative management has been an important factor in the continued success and prosperity of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, and there is every reason to believe that the coming years will but add to the company's possibilities of usefulness and influence. The stockholders have abundant reason to felicitate themselves upon the capable and intelligent manner in which their interests have been advanced and promoted, and they must naturally feel great gratification at the many evidences of the company's continued success and prosperity.

Was Fined $5 For Being Drunk

Louise Howell Promises To Leave the City.

Louise Howell was again before the Magistrate this morning for her usual offence, drunk and disorderly. She pleaded not guilty through her counsel, Mr. O'Connel, to being disorderly in a public place, Mr. F. J. Mitchell stated that she had behaved anything but becomingly in his store on Saturday last, the day she was arrested.

Mr. O'Connel stated that she intended to leave the city as soon as she could dispose of her property. Property. She had not been disorderly on the street, he said, so that, considering she had spent a week on the hill, he asked to have the sentence confined to a fine, if there was to be any. She was fined $5, which was paid, and given a warning.

Sewer Constructions Will Be Done By Day Labour

City Engineer's Report as to Cost of Water Street Sewer Maintained to be Almost Correct — $1.06¼ Per Foot Would be the Maximum Limit—Board Decides to Purchase Land According to Valuator's Report for Aylmer Street Extension.

The Board of Works Committee again sat down last night before a lengthy bill-of-fare, consisting of many matters calling for their "immediate" attention. The customary petitions were received asking for sewers and sidewalks, and for repairs on various sections of the city. The City Engineer still maintains that his figuring of the cost of the Water street sewer is correct with the exception of one point, which would raise the cost per foot a couple of cents on his previous calculations, but still leave it much below Mr. Sheehy's figures. In consideration of this, the Board decided to construct a number of sewers by day labour instead of by contract, under the supervision of Mr. White.

Those present at the meeting were Chairman Hicks, Ald. Elliott, Adams, Graham, McIntyre, Wilson, Johnston, the City Solicitor, City Engineer and Mr. McKee.

A letter was received from Mr. R. E. Wood on behalf of Margaret A. Rogers, asking that the filling in of the channel at the end and towards the south of King street be ceased, as this filling up prevented the flow of water from her property, thus damaging it. The committee considered that it was the duty of the Government, and not of the city, to attend to the matter, and left the question with the Government before they take any action.

Application for Poles.

The chairman brought the question before the committee of the application of the Otonabee Power Co. re erecting poles, reading the letter from the City Engineer, who reported where the poles might and ought not to be placed. It was moved by Ald. Mason and Johnston that the request of erecting the poles be granted, according to the Engineer's report.—Carried.

A letter was received from Ald. Tovey, asking for a sidewalk on the east side of Park street, west end of Dalhousie street. It was moved by Ald. Johnston and Adams that this be referred to the Engineer with power to act.—Carried.

Street Extension.

Mr. McKee made a verbal report of the George and Aylmer street extensions, giving the options on the lots which will be utilized for the latter street.

Ald. Hicks suggested that the Lalonde lot be paid for, and that $500 be paid on Mrs. Reid's lot, and the balance, $1,100, on May 1, according to Mr. McKee's valuation. A motion by Ald. Adams and Johnston to this effect carried.

No action was taken on the George street extension last night.

Ald. Wilson brought the attention of the committee to the necessity of fixing a piece of sidewalk on Rubidge street, between Dublin and Edinburgh streets.

Surplus Water.

The T. Kinnear Company asked for a sidewalk in front of their building and the enlargement of the drain in front to carry away the surplus water, which now runs into their cellar.

Mr. Hay said that the sewer pipes running south are of sufficient capacity to carry away the water, but the trouble was due to an insufficient fall to carry away this extra water in times of freshets. There would have to be another outlet provided, he thought. The Engineer was asked to investigate the matter, and to report at the next meeting of the Board.

Sewer Petitions.

A petition was received for a sewer on Douro street, from Mark street to Driscoll Terrace. It was sufficiently signed, and will be granted. A sewer on Aylmer street, from Edinburgh street, north, was granted.

Mr. Adams, at this juncture, asked the Engineer if his report on the cost of the construction on Water street was correct, as opposed to Mr. Sheehy's report in the evening papers. Mr. Hay stated that his own report was correct, with the exception of the cost of some cement, which he had overlooked. This would probably bring the cost up two cents per foot, thereby making it $1.06 1-4 per foot.

In consideration of this, it was moved by Ald. Johnston and Adams, that the above sewers be constructed by day labour under the supervision of Mr. White.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

Water Street Walk To Be Built At Earliest Opportunity

Grading Also to be Accomplished—Engineer Reports on Cost of Grading and Edinburgh Street Extension.

The request of property owners on Water street between Dublin and Antrim for a new granolithic sidewalk where now stands the high board one has been granted. This was agreed upon last night by the Board of Works who were unanimous that the walk was necessary, but of course, also agreed that it would have to wait its turn. With regard to opening up Edinburgh street no action was taken last night.

The subject was introduced to the Board by the reading of the following letter, read by the chairman, being the report of the City Engineer on the cost of filling up the hole in there and the extension of the street:—

Ald. Hicks, Chairman Board of Works:

Dear Sir,—As requested I have laid out line of sidewalk on west side of Water street between Dublin and Antrim and have also struck the grade for Water street. I find that it will require 850 cu. yds. of filling to bring the street to a proper grade and will cost $382.50 for gravel from pit. The man holes on the sewer will have to be raised which will cost about $60—$442.50 altogether.

Regarding the opening of Edinburgh street between George and Water street, as requested by property owners, it will require 550 cu. yds. of filling and will cost $247.50. This material might be procured from cellars but would take much longer to complete than it would if hauled from the pit.

T. A. S. HAY,
City Engineer.

The committee generally expressed the opinion that the sidewalk ought to be there and also that the deep hole should be filled in, but the question of time was more difficult to settle.

Ald. Johnston thought that there was so much work on hand the walk could not be constructed this year so that approaches to the property ought to be made to the sidewalk. Ald. Wilson concurred in this opinion.

The engineer considered that the filling was sufficiently solid to build the sidewalk. If the people filled in the hole west of the sidewalk the walk could be gone on with at present.

The conclusion of the discussion was reached when Ald. Adams moved that the grading and building of the sidewalk be done as soon as the work underway is completed. The motion was seconded and carried.

Tea was early recognized by the English, the greatest tea-drinkers among Western peoples, as an efficient aid to fancy and literary invention, and its capacity for maintaining serenity of spirits and temper is also admitted, but the article must be the best of its kind, and to get the best you have to purchase it in the sealed lead packages of the 'SALADA' Tea Company.

It is suspected that he took his own life, but from what cause it is not known yet. Another theory is that he went to the wharf and accidentally fell into the water, as he was subject to fainting spells.

REVIEW DAY AT THE EX.

Greatest Attendance Ever Registered For a Last Friday—The Prize-Winning Animals Parade.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Society and Review Day was marked by the greatest attendance ever registered for the last Friday. All day long the crowds, estimated at over 40,000, wandered about the grounds taking last looks, encoring the band in the determination to get the best possible. Before the grand stand the great procession of prize-winning animals made one of the finest spectacles ever seen.

The great cattle headed the line, shorthorns beyond belief in bulk and beefness, then followed grade cattle, fat cattle, Herefords with pendant briskets, Polled Angus and Galloways with the buffalo of Europe shagging their coats, Ayrshires sleek as silk, and Holsteins as shining and glossy, Durhams and Jerseys, a herd for a Rosa Bonheur. Followed then the huge horses from England, among them the four months' orphan concealing its stolid grief in coltish fashion; thoroughbreds, standardbreds, Hackneys, ponies and Clydesdales in striking contrast, heavy draughts, coach horses and riding mounts, racers and drivers, a comely array. And once again the variety show with its laughter and suspended breath.

Several presentations marked the imminence of the end yesterday. Dr. A. W. Bell, the new manager of the Western Canada Exposition, who has made himself a general favorite as live stock superintendent and assistant manager of the fair, was handed a bunch of money by Wm. McNeil, president of the Ontario Poultrymens' Association. H. B. Donovan of The Canadian Kennell Gazette watched the proceeding on behalf of the dog men. The gift amounted to $450.

A similar amount was presented to C. B. McNaught superintendent of industries.

A token of regard and esteem which will be joined in by thousands was the gold watch presented to Lieut. Hall conductor of the 2nd Life Guards Band. Under his leadership the music has been one of the very foremost features of the fair.

Hon. Colin Campbell, Winnipeg; Hamar Greenwood, M.P., York, and Col. Belcher, mayor of Southampton, were the speakers at the fair yesterday.

CONDITIONS ARE BAD.

Ernest Terry's Report On the Salvation Army Immigrants.

London, Sept. 8.—(C. A. P.)—Ernest Terry, a member of Leeds distress committee, who recently visited Canada to enquire into the condition and prospects of emigrants sent out by the distress committee through the agency of the Salvation Army, says in his report that the conditions under which third-class emigrants were carried on the boats were not satisfactory.

The steerage forecastle was greatly overcrowded, sleeping and dining accommodation wretched, lavatory accommodation primitive. The inadequate quarters smelt disagreeably, and could only be described as bad. The food was good in quality, plentiful, but badly cooked and always roughly served.

Describing conditions prevailing in Canada, Terry remarks that the glowing account given by various immigration agents, Government and private, must be largely discounted.

Room For Improvement.

The Canadian Associated Press in the course of a very brief interview yesterday with Hon. Frank Oliver, referred to the remarks of Ernest Terry regarding emigrants on steamers. Mr. Oliver remarked there was much to be said on that subject, as there is room for much improvement in the accommodation provided for emigrants.

Mr. Oliver left last night for Cardiff, then visits Belfast, Dublin, and sails for Canada on the fourteenth.

Overtures For Peace Blocked By Rebel Leader

Guerra's Forces Are Augmented From Government Troops.

ANSWER TO ARMISTICE TALK

Blows Up Two of the Bridges of An English Railway Company, and 500 of His Men Prevent Their Repair —Two Machine Guns Have Been Despatched to the Rescue— Cuban Revolt Is Growing.

Havana, Sept. 8.—All peace overtures are blocked by the refusal of Pino Guerra, the insurgent leader in Pinar del Rio Province, to enter into any arrangement for an armistice.

Guerra's answer to the Government's announcement of its readiness to grant a ten days' armistice, is the blowing up of two bridges on the Western Railway and an attack on San Juan de Martinez.

All regard the blowing up of an English company's railroad bridge as a serious matter, and likely to invite international action by Great Britain, or at least an interrogation of the Government at Washington by Great Britain, as to whether the former intends to intervene to end the war conditions in Cuba.

Think Palma Unable.

The attitude of the Liberals, the increasing strength of the insurgents and the questionable loyalty of many of the Government recruits have caused the managers of some of the large business interests to cable to the foreign heads of their companies their belief that the Government of President Palma will be unable to cope with the insurrection.

Bridges Blown Up.

Two bridges on the Western Railway, between Pinar Del Rio and San Luis, south of that city, were blown up with dynamite yesterday morning.

A force of men sent to repair the bridges, which were built of concrete and steel, was stopped by a body of rebels, numbering at least 500 men.

Gen. Avales, commander of the Government forces in the Province of Pinar Del Rio, has asked the authorities to send three rapid-fire guns to the scene of the bridge destruction on the Western Railway, in order to enable him to protect the workmen sent to rebuild the bridges.

With proper protection the railroad company officials think they can repair the bridges in five days.

Guerra's Force Active.

Pino Guerra's force, however, is becoming increasingly numerous in that part of the country. The people there do not think that the Government can suppress the insurrection.

The insurgent forces commanded by Pino Guerra are moving nearer to the City of Pinar Del Rio. Gen. Menocal, it is stated, will probably visit Guerra personally and confer with him regarding peace terms.

Gen. Loynez Castallo has been seriously wounded on the forehead by an insurgent subaltern, who struck him with the flat of his sword.

Machine Guns to Rescue.

Lieut.-Col. Clews, with 18 men and two machine guns, started yesterday afternoon for the City of Pinar Del Rio by special train.

A despatch from Cienfuegos, Province of Santa Clara, yesterday says that in the engagement between Government troops and insurgents near Palmira Thursday the former lost two men killed and had 14 men wounded, while the insurgents had six men killed 20 wounded.

Four Years For David Hobbs.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—David Hobbs, the ex-Canadian Pacific Railway customs agent, was yesterday brought before Judge Choquet in private and was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. Hobbs fled from Montreal about a year ago, after stealing about $60,000 from the Canadian customs. He was finally run down in New York.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—On the Ottawa Cheese and Butter Board to-day, 1163 boxes of cheese were boarded, 594 being white and the remainder colored. The ruling price was 12¾c, at which there were sold on the board 368 white and 220 colored.

Perth, Sept. 7.—There were 1875 boxes of cheese boarded here to-day—1300 white and 575 colored. No prices were offered, but all sold subject to Brockville prices. There were four buyers present.

Napanee, Sept. 7.—At the cheese board here there were boarded 500 white and 1245 colored; 12¾c bid; all colored sold; 12 5-16c bid for white; all sold.

Iroquois, Sept. 7.—At the cheese board to-day there were offered for sale 900 colored cheese. The price bid on the board was 12¾c, but none sold there. Later, it all sold on the street at price bid on the board.

Listowel, Sept. 7.—At the cheese fair held here to-day, 13 factories boarded 1646 boxes of cheese; 12c was the best bid on the board; afterwards a few lots of September were sold at 12¾c, and one or two at a slightly higher figure; the last half of August had been sold in the country before this fair, mostly at 12½c.

Farmers Lose by Fire.

Brockville, Sept. 8.—A disastrous fire took place on the farm of G. W. Shepherd, near Lowville, when his barns were totally destroyed. Thirty-five cows were burned, also 200 tons of hay, sixty loads of grain, carriages, harness and farming implements.

An adjoining dwelling, the property of David Wetmore, was also burned.

Mr. Shepherd places his loss at $5,000, with $3,500 insurance. Wetmore carried an insurance of $950 on his dwelling and contents. His loss is $2,000.

Steamer Montreal Aground.

Kingston, Sept. 8.—At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the steamer City of Montreal, from Montreal to Toronto, avoiding the steamer Picton coming into Swift's wharf, backed out too far and ran upon the harbor shoal. Part of her cargo will be taken off before she can be released by the Galvin Co. working at her. It is not thought she is damaged.

Fugitive Gives Up.

Kingston, Sept. 8.—Tired of fleeing from the officers of the law, Jacob Jebreiski, who was sentenced to the penitentiary from Chatham for stealing furs, and who jumped from a train to liberty, gave himself up Thursday night.

FULL WARSHIP INQUIRY.

Fishery Question on French Shore of Newfoundland Up Again.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 8.—The French shore question has been revived under a new aspect.

A French vessel fishing within territorial waters on the northeast coast, having complained that people on the coast destroyed her nets, British and French warships investigated and the Imperial Government invited the colony also to investigate and punish its subjects if found to be in the wrong. The colonial cruiser Fiona, with officials, has been despatched to the scene to hold a full inquiry.

The incident is likely to lead to the adoption of Anglo-French regulations for conducting the fisheries on the French shore.

SUNDAY TRADING.

Markets and Fairs In Churchyards In Early England.

It may safely be asserted that from the time of the Conqueror (1066-1087) Sunday trading received much attention. In early ages markets and fairs were held on Sundays and frequently in the churchyards.

In 1305 the inhabitants of Cockermouth presented a petition to parliament, as their market was fast declining through the inhabitants of Crosthwaite dealing in corn, flour, beans, flesh, fish, at their church on Sundays and that thereby they were unable to pay their tolls to the king (Edward I.). An order was issued for closing the church market at Crosthwaite.

At Bradford, Yorkshire, during the same reign the market was held on a Sunday, doubtless in the churchyard. The toll yielded £3 per annum.

In 1285 a statute was passed enacting that henceforth neither fairs nor markets be held in churchyards, for the honor of the church.

In 1312 a market was granted to the town of Sedgefield, Durham, to be held on a Friday, but was soon changed to Sunday.

In 1367 the archbishops of Canterbury and York delivered charges directing, among other things, that "we firmly forbid any one to keep a market in the churches, the porches and the cemeteries thereunto belonging or other holy places on the Lord's day or other holy festivals." — Notes and Queries.

By the Aid of Science.

The fair amateur palmist looked at the left hand of the sweet young girl long and earnestly.

Breathlessly she waited for the palmist's next words.

"Ah, I see by your hand that you are engaged to be married!" said the palmist.

"How wonderful!" exclaimed the bride to be.

"And," continued the reader of the future and the past in a more cutting tone, "I see that you are engaged to Mr. Loony."

"Oh, it's perfectly extraordinary!" burst out the blushing girl. "How could you know that?"

"By my long study of the science," was the reply.

"But surely the lines in my hand cannot tell you the na"—

"Who said anything about lines?" replied the prophetic one, with withering scorn. "You are wearing the engagement ring I returned him three weeks ago!"—Answers.

When You Owe a Bill In China.

A Chinese statute enacts that debts which are not settled on New Year's eve cannot subsequently be recovered: but, according to recognized usage, a creditor who has vainly pursued a debtor all through the night may still follow him after daybreak, provided he continues to carry his lighted lantern, as if he believed it was still night. This, however, is the creditor's last chance.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Sept. 8.—The stock market opened dull and somewhat heavy but became firm and gradually advanced but was a waiting market throughout the morning, due to fear of deficit in the bank statement. Further heavy gold engagements in London and expectation of more, helped brace the market.

After the statement appeared there was little pressure and when shorts tried to cover a rally took place, and the market closed firm with the rally in progress.

Senior Series For Locals
Annual Meeting Last Night

Rugby Team Will Go After Higher Honours This Year—Mr. A. A. Hollingshead Was Re-elected President—Prospects Are of the Brightest.

At one of the most enthusiastic meetings in the history of the game in Peterborough, the Peterborough rugby cluub, intermediate champions of the O.R.F.U. was re-organized for the season last night. The meeting was held in the council chamber with President Hollingshead in the chair and there was a large attendance of players and supporters. Great enthusiasm was displayed and from present indications rugby will boom as never before in Peterborough. The meeting practically decided that the team should enter the senior series of the O. R. F. U. This is an important step. One that should do much to give an impetus to the great fall game. With such strong teams as the Hamilton Tigers playing here great interest is sure to be taken in the game, and crowds may be expected. Capt. Hurtubise will be at the helm again this year and he has plenty of material from which to select a team that will be heard from in the race for championship honours. Among those present last night were noticed the following:—A. A. Hollingshead, president; Horace Walkey, Secretary-Treasurer; Eugene Hurtubise, captain; W. Crowley, A. M. Regan, R. F. McWilliams, Ernie Ford, J. E. Crough, Ed. Dillon, A. Gillespie A. Quinlan, Hendry, Chas. Sisson T. W. McDonough, J. Clarke, R. Hall. Ross Cameron, J. Downing, G. McFadden, R. Tunner.

C. G. GRAHAM

After the meeting had been called to order, secretary-treasurer, Horace Walkey, presented his report for last year. It showed that the Peterborough club had played seven games, winning six and tieing one. Their total score was 116 against 33, made by their opponents. The gratitude of the club was extended to Mr. Fred. A. Clarke, for his donation of playing caps and to Hal Burnham for the assistance he offered the club. Credit was given Capt. Hurtubise for his energetic efforts on behalf of the club. The financial statement showed that the club will start in the year with a balance of about $20 on the right side of the ledger. The report was on motion, adopted as read

Before going on with the re-organization of the club, the meeting discussed what series it would be advisable for the club to enter and the unanimous opinion seemed to be that Peterborough would make no mistake in entering senior ranks. President Hollingshead said there was no doubt that the O.R.F.U. would force Peterborough into the senior series this year.

Mr. Crowley remarked that the team was tired winning the intermediate championship and might as well try for the senior honours. It was moved by Mr. McWilliams, that the matter of Peterborough entering the senior series be left in the hands of a committee composed of Messrs. Hollingshead, Hurtubise and Crowley. On motion of the latter Mr. McWilliams name was added to the committee and the motion was carried.

The election of officers then took place resulting as follows:—The selection in most cases was unanimous and much applause followed the re-election of Mr. Hollingshead as president.

Patrons and Patronesses—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morrow; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hall; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McWilliams.

Hon. President—Dr. Wightman.
President—A. A. Hollingshead.
1st Vice President—C. G. Graham.
2nd Vice President—Ross Cameron.
Secretary-Treasurer—T. W. McDonough.

Executive Committee—W. Crowley, E Ford, C. M. Regan, A. Gillespie, and R F. McWilliams.

Team Committee—E. Hurtubise, A. A. Hollingshead, W. Crowley R. F. McWilliams and Ross Craig.

The meeting discussed the advisability of forming a City League in connection with the club and the general feeling seemed to be strongly in favour of such a project. It was pointed out that it would be of great assistance in developing material as young players would be far more apt to turn out for practice when they knew that they would have some chance of playing. On motion of Mr. McWilliams the matter was left in the hands of the executive and it is altogether likely the club will go ahead with the organization of a league.

It was decided to issue tickets which will admit holders to all league games. These will be sold at $1.50 each and it is to be hoped for the sake of the grand autumn game, that there will be a liberal and ready response when these are offered for sale.

The prospects before the club are of the brightest, with nearly all of last year's team and a wealth of new material to pick from, the new-comers into the senior O.R.F.U ranks should be able to more than hold their own. If the enthusiasm displayed last nigh: is any guarantee, there will be a great revival in rugby here this year and with anything like a winning team the people would go rugby mad.

Many Entries Promised For Examiner Road Race

Thanksgiving Day Event Promises to be a Battle Royal —Who Will Carry Off the Examine Cup?

Many local runners are now in training for the Examiner road race, to be held on Thanksgiving Day, October 18th, and a great deal of interest is being manifested in the event. An interesting competition seems assured as there will be a big field of runners, not only from Peterborough, but from other places in the county as well. The race is open to every amateur runner who has been a resident of the county for two months previous to the race. This will mean that out-of-city runners will likely take part in the struggle.

It is the Examiner's desire to see the race as largely filled as possible as it is with the intention of boosting road racing and long distance running that the cup is offered. Hamilton would never have had a Marathon runner if it had not first had the Herald and while Peterborough may not turn out another such fame-bringer as Shearing, yet there is no doubt that the proposed competition will do much to give an impetus to running in this district.

The course already announced will be from Lakefield to Peterborough on Thanksgiving Day and the winner will hold the Examiner cup for one year, and will also receive a gold ring. The second prize-winner gets a splendid gold stick pin.

Some of the best runners in the city have signified their intention of entering the contest and the race will be a battle royal all the way. The finish will be in front of the Examiner office.

Jilted Lover Unmasks Woman Who Refused Him

Directs Detective to Her Moonshine in West Virginia—Illicit Still Situated in Cave Below the Cellar of Her Mansion.

Hinton, W. Va., September 8. — Mrs. Elvira Kincaid, whose wealth is estimated at $50,000, has been arrested in Buck, a small town in the lower end of this county, for alleged violation of the internal revenue laws. Mrs. Kincaid has resided near Buck practically all her life, her home, a commodious frame structure, standing on the mountain side, overlooking the valley. She belonged to the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, in which she was an active member, and to which she contributed freely. For fifteen years she has been a respected member of the community. Then came the denouement that startled the entire countryside. The government learnd that liquor was being sold somewhere in that vicinity. One day Mrs. Kincaid did an unwise thing. She had an employee who, it is alleged, looked after her still and assisted in disposing of the liquor. She had apparently caused him to become enamoured of her, but he declares his infatuation of late was repulsed.

Albert Colson was the employee, and he proved a bitter enemy. Last week when Deputy United States Marshall W. C. Saunders appeared in that section to arrest W. B. Carsons for alleged unlawful retailing, Colson, seeking revenge, revealed the whole story to him and assisted him in securing evidence against Mrs. Kincaid. The officer was guided to the Kincaid home and let in by a cellar door after midnight, and his search revealed that the big Kincaid home had been erected over a natural cave with an outlet over half a mile away on a brush covered hillside. A small cave sent a stream of water through the cave and by way of the hillside outlet into a mountain stream. This carried off the refuse of her still, and enabled Mrs. Kincaid to keep every suspicious action hidden from the public. In this cave she had constructed, it is charged, a still with a ten gallon capacity, and with the aid of Colson, had grown rich from moon-shining, while posing as an influential member of the church and society. Mrs. Kincaid was given a hearing before Commissioner Champs and was held for the federal court,

BLUE PAPER.

The Process of Making It Discovered by an Accident.

"A woman," said a paper maker, "invented blue paper. It was by accident that she did it though. Before her time all paper was white.

"She was the wife of William Eastes, one of the leading paper makers of England in the eighteenth century. In passing through the paper plant one day she dropped a big blue bag into a vat of pulp. Eastes was a stern chap, and so, since no one had seen the accident, Mrs. Eastes decided to say nothing about it.

"The paper in the vat, which should have been white, came out blue. The workmen were mystified, Eastes enraged. Mrs. Eastes kept quiet. The upshot was that the paper was sent to London, marked 'damaged,' to be sold for whatever it would bring.

"But the selling agent in London was shrewd. He saw that this blue tinted paper was attractive. He declared it to be a wonderful new invention, and he sold it off like hot cakes at double the white paper's price.

"Eastes soon received an order for more of the blue paper—an order that he and his men wasted several days in trying to vainly fill.

"Then Mrs. Eastes came forward and told the story of the blue cloth bag. There was no difficulty after that in making the blue paper. This paper's price remained very high, the Eastes having a monopoly in it."

CHRISTIAN UNITY.

The following is a copy of an open letter addressed to the Lord Bishop of Huron, by Rev. Dr Symonds, formerly of Peterborough, now rector of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, on the subject of "Christian Unity."

The Montreal Herald has interviewed several ministers of Montreal of all denominations, but they were non-committel, prefering to waive their conclusion till they have considered the subject in all its phases. The following is the open letter:—

My Dear Lord Bishop:

I venture, as one who has been for many yuears interested in the subject of Christian Unity, to take the liberty of addressing to you a few lines on this great subject, firmly believing that the evident movement of men's minds in this direction is in accord with the Divine will for our own times.

I am moved to this by a sense of deep thankfulness for your action in personally visiting the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, recently assembled in your city, and for the noble words which on that occasion fell from your lips. I can assure you that here in the city of Montreal they produced a no less marked and favourable impression than in your own Diocese, or in the Province of Ontario.

For my own part, when I read the the report of your Lordship's address and of the enthusiasm with which it was received by the Assembly, I felt that a new milestone on the road to the much desired gaol of Unity had been erected. For it was not only the clerical, but, perhaps even more markedly, the lay mind that was impressed by your words. Delegations of clergy and laity have often conveyed greetings from the Synod or Conference of one Church to that of another, but the visit of a Bishop in person to the representative body of another Church is so rare an event as to create the impression that here was something passing the bounds of the ordinary exchange of courtesies, and into minds thus prepared to read and weigh what was said, your words fell like good seed into well tilled soil.

The impression thus produced ought not to be allowed to pass away without yielding some tangible results.

I.

1. And first, I think it worth while to note that it is quite possible to be an ardent supporter of Christian Unity without condemning the divisions of the past. "God fulfils Himself in many ways" and it is not difficult for an intelligent reader of history, however he may deplore the divisions of the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries, to perceive that under the circumstances they were inevitable. Whilst no doubt many of the three hundred or more sects of Christendom have been the offspring of a sectarian, narrow, bigoted, or vain spirit, this is not true of the four or five great Churches which practically include Protestantism. To take two examples; Luther did not desire to create a schism, or to build up a new Church when he began his reforming career, but the logic of events was too strong for him; and the same thing was the case with a very different man, in very different times, who yet became the originator of a new branch of the Christian Church—John Wesley. So strong a High Churchman as Bishop Gore, even goes so far as to say: "If you dwell upon the rise and progress of Nonconformity there can be no question at all that it was due in the past, not to any spirit of schism, but, at least in the great majority of instances, to the fact that the Church of England was not behaving as the true mother of the people."

2 To-day, however, the trend of both sentiment and thought is away from division and towards unity. It is not that men are indifferent to Truth,—was there ever an age so ardent in its pursuit as our own!—but that they are aware of its vastness and its manysidedness. We are, too, better acquainted with ourselves, and just as the philosopher Kant has taught us that the form which the external world assumes to our eyes is due to the constitution of the mind that sees it; so to-day we understand how largely the personal factors of heredity, circumstance and temperament bulk in our apprehension of theological and ecclesiastical doctrine.

3. In consequence of these things we are coming to see that differences off Doctrine (within certain limits,) or differences in Forms of Worship, or even differences about Church Polity need not prevent "Godly union and concord." The problem of Church Unity has therefore considerably changed its form even within my own recollection. It is no longer, the problem of creating a public sentiment in its favour, but it is the more practical and at the same time more difficult one of accomplishing what almost all have come to agree is to be desired.

4. Hence it is not necessary to set forth in order the various arguments in favour of unity. Nevertheless, there is one consideration, my Lord, which, I venture to think, has not been sufficiently weighed in connection with this topic, and upon which I desire to say a word or two.

Sir Oliver Lodge, a man who perhaps in larger measure than any other writer of our day, combines the scientific with the religious temperament, has recently written these words: "The old familiar problems which group themselves around the fundamental ideas of God, Freedom and Immortality, are far more interesting and weighty, than questions concerning Sacerdotal Authority and Apostolical Succession, which have always been responsible for divergence between Church and Dissent; and it is these root ideas that are being attacked, it is from living apprehension of these that the Nation is in danger of drifting away, unless religious organizations are able to amend some of their ways of procedure."

This testimony to the special danger of our times by no means stands alone. One can hardly pick up a magazine without finding some corroboration of it, and from widely differing points o view. The recent census of church goers in London, brings to the support of general observation that of actual figures, which show that in a space of time during which the population of London increased by 500,000, the number of worshippers in Anglican Churches had actually diminished, and the falling off is especially noticeable among men.

And, my Lord, practically all of who observe and regret this lamentable condition of things, are agreed that one of its causes is that division of Christians, which we are all agreed to-day in describing as "unhappy." Is it too much to hope that here in our young country full of the vigorous vitality which is the promise of a splendid maturity, we should so yield ourselves to the Holy Spirit of Unity as to avoid evils which are obvious in all the countries of the old World, whether Roman Catholic or Protestant?

II.

And this brings me to the practical side of the subject, which I propose to treat mainly, though not exclusively, with reference to our own Communion.

1. There can be no doubt that the stumbling block in the way of a rapprochement between the Anglican and other Communions is the Doctrine of Apostolic Succession. It is important to remember that this term, although not equivalent to "Historic Episcopate," is often confused with it. The latter term means that as a historical fact, we hold that the Episcopate in some form or another, can be traced back to Apostolic times. It does not convey the inference that Episcopacy is essential to the being of a Church. It simply states a fact. The term "Apostolic Succession," on the other hand, implies that Episcopacy is an essential and unchangeable part of the constitution of the Church. Without Bishops there can be (it is held) no Church, no Clergy, no Sacrement. Such is the doctrine of Apostolic Succession, held in all sincerity by a large number of Anglican clergymen and taught in countless books, sermons, essays, tracts, and lectures.

2. Now, if this doctrine be true, then of course it stands at the very portals of the Temple of Unity. We cannot take a single step forward until our separated brethren accept it. But they firmly reject it. Hence arises a deadlock.

This is not the occasion for a treatise on the subject of Apostolic Succession. But I may point out one or two important facts, viz.: (a) That this Doctrine is not a Doctrine of the Church of England, which allows its members absolute freedom of opinion on the subject. Thousands of Anglican Clergymen and the vast majority of the laity do not hold it. Yet not even the Highest Churchman, so far as I am aware, seeks to bring these clergy to trial, or even denies their right to promulgate their views. To assert, under such circumstances, that Apostolic Succession is an Anglican Doctrine, is to scutify the Church. (b) This Doctrine was revived in England, in its most stringent form by the leaders of the famous Oxford movement—a movement which was powerful for good in many ways. But since the days of the "Tracts for the Times," the records of the early days of Christianity have been subjected to a scrutiny of the most rigidly scientific character, not only by German but also by English scholars of unimpeachable loyalty to Christianity and to their Church. The result is significant. If any Anglican, High, Low or Broad, were asked the question: "Who were the greatest New Testament scholars in Great Britain during the 19th century," he would immediately reply "Lightfoot, Westcott and Hort." And not one of these men—great not only for their scholarship but also for their splendid faith and devotion—held the Doctrine of Apostolic Succession.

3. It would be easy to multiply names, and some of equal rank with those of the great Cambridge divines. But since these things are so, is it not a reasonable suggestion to make that Anglicans should reconsider in the light of modern scholarship this momentous Doctrine which exalts as the ultimate test of a Church, a Clergy and the Sacraments an external rite, and which makes of none effect our Lord's own test; "By their fruits ye shall know them?" To facilitate such a reconsideration, I would suggest a conference of Anglicans at which this particular subject should be fully and frankly discussed.

4. The General Synod of the Anglican Church has a committee on Christian Unity. May I suggest that your Lordship should actively interest yourself in the assembling of that Committee.

5. I would venture further to suggest that you should use that influence, which, by your spirit of Christian love, you have gained with that body, to appeal to the Presbyterian Church to take the initiative with which they were entrusted some twenty years ago, to call another conference of all the Christian Communions of this Dominion.

6. The question will probably be asked of me, "What proposition looking towards the establishment of closer relations between Anglican and other Communions have you to make?"

My answer is as follows: We Anglicans highly value the Historic Episcopate. We do not think it can be shown to have outlived its usefulness. We believe that it is capable of adaptation to the circumstances of a great Federated Church. We hold that the principle of community is of great value, and that the preservation of the Historic Episcopate in a United Reformed Church might be the means of a Reform in the Church of Rome and of a yet wider Unity. And, therefore, we ask that it be continued in a United or Federated Church.

But we will not affirm the Doctrine of Apostolic Succession, nor deny the validity of Presbyterian or Congregational ministers, nor will we ask that those who, at the time of the accomplishment of Unity are ministers at their own Communions, should submit to re-ordination; but for the sake of the preservation of the Historic Episcopate, we ask that all who shall afterwards become ministers be Episcopally ordained.

Such a proposition seems to me perfectly fair towards all parties, and at least two eminent theologians of non-Episcopal Communions may be quoted in its favour. Dr. Andrews (a Baptist, I believe) formerly president of Brown University, says: "A great many clergymen in these bodies" (Presbyterian, Congregational and Baptist are cited), "stand ready, for the sake of promoting Church Unity, to take Bishop's orders, so soon as any Bishops are ready to ordain them, with the understanding that their original ordination is not abjured;" and Principal Grant, whilst protesting against compulsory re-ordination and the Doctrine of Apostolic Succession, yet admits that "Anglicans have a strong position when they argue that it would be unwise to depart from a system of government which obtained early and general acceptance."

My Lord, the eyes of many are directed to you. We are full of hope that you will continue to pursue the pathway to a closer union and fellowship of Anglicans with those great Communions, who, tried by the Saviour's test, sometimes put us to shame. You occupy an eminent position. Your words are reported throughout the length and breadth of the land. You are blessed with comparative youth and far more than the average of human energy. May we not look to you to lead us in the noble cause of what has been well described as "a concurrence of effort for the amelioration and spiritualization of human life, in the light of a common Gospel and a common hope?"

With all respect,
I am, my Lord,
Most faithfully yours,
HERBERT SYMONDS.

An experiment in high tram fares has convinced the Lowestoft corporation, England, that they do not pay. The fares were increased 50 per cent. a few weeks ago. During the period 20,000 fewer passengers have been carried than formerly, and the receipts fell by $1,650.

Fall Suit Remarks

The Suits of the Season suggest stateliness rather than baggy fullness.

Take the coat for instance; though the shoulders are broad, the lines concave toward the waist, then flare out into long skirts, forming what is called the French Back.

Some of these suits have centre vents with creased side seams. The New Big Lapels tend to give the impression of a broad chest.

A noticeable feature of this long coat is the fact that in lends itself equally well to short or tall men.

Canada Able To Rubber The Empire

May Clothe the Feet of the Empire and Shed Imperial Rain as well as be the Empire's Granary.

The invention is reported in the English papers of a new substitute for rubber, which ought to be of interest to this part of the world. The inventor is William Thredfall Carr, of Wembley, England, who has patented an artificial rubber made from cereals. It is stated that a syndicate of capitalists interested in the manufacture of tires have been so convinced of its commercial value that they have offered the inventor $1,000,000 for his patent rights. The invention of artificial rubber was prophesied at the recent meeting of the British Association, and the industrial world has been eager for it ever since the motor-car and bicycle trades threatened to exhaust the supply of the natural article.

The proposed substitute for rubber is obtained, it is stated, by treating any cereal with phyalin, a chemical substance which acts in solution as a ferment, turning the starchy matter in grain into dextrose. Another chemical is used in the process to check fermentation at any desired stage. This makes it possible to produce the artificial rubber in several different strengths.

The inventor proposes to make the substance in six grades, from a liquid solution suitable for waterproofing to a hardness suitable for golf balls. In other grades it will be suitable for tires, tubes, linoleum, and slabs or sheets for block pavements. When the inventor was asked if the manufacture of rubber from wheat would not have the effect of increasing the price of bread stuffs he is reported to have jauntily declared: "There is no danger. The new linoleum will be a reserve food supply. In the event of a famine it can be boiled and reconverted into food."

Thus a hungry family might take up the kitchen floor covering and boil it for dinner, and an army on the march might utilize its baggage waggons to make up for a shortage in the commissariat department. Mr. Carr is evidently a humorist, as well as an inventor. However, if his syndicate seriously intend entering upon the manufacture of rubber from cereals Winnipeg is where they should locate their industry.

Minister Of Railways And Canals Visits Peterborough

Was Accompanied by Other Government Officals—On Tour of Inspection Along Trent Valley Canal Waters—Lift Lock Satisfactory—Itinerary of the Party.

Everything was found satisfactory at the lift lock this morning by the Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, who was here on his tour of inspection of the locks, dams and other works along the route of the Trent Valley Canal.

Besides the Honourable Minister, the party who drove over to the lock this morning consisted of Mr. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, Mr. Murphy Electrical Engineer of the same department, Mr. Samuel Stewart, New Brunswick; Mr.

HON. H. R. EMMERSON
Minister of Railways and Canals; Here on Waterway Inspection To-day.

Chris. B. Robinson, private secretary to the Minister; Mr. Fred McCourt, private secretary to the Deputy Minister, and Mr. Grant, Superintending Engineer of the Canal.

The party spent Saturday in Campbellford where they visited the Healey Falls. The Minister was tendered a luncheon there over which Mayor Doxsee presided. In reference to the power there the Minister remarked to the Examiner this morning that there were great possibilities in store for its utilization in the future.

The Minister was seen by the reporter just as he was leaving the lift lock for Lakefield. Although there were no boats going over at the time, the pontoons were reversed showing the perfect working of the lock, which amazed those who had seen it for the first time. Mr. Emmerson remarked that it was working very satisfactorily and that the leakages had been stopped at a much less cost than he had anticipated. It is now practically free from all leakage.

After leaving the lock the party drove to Lakefield along the road parallel to the Canal, meeting there the Government steamer Sovereign, which was placed at the disposal of the Minister and party. From there they started on their tour of inspection along the kawartha chain of the various dams and booms taken over by the Dominion from the Ontario Government a short time ago. After visiting Lindsay and the new lock at Kirkfield, their itinerary extends to Gamebridge where they will be met by a delegation from Orillia. To-morrow night the Minister will be given a public dinner in Orillia by the Board of Trade.

From there they go up the Severn River towards Georgian Bay, along the possible route of the Trent Valley Canal at its northern terminus.

Woodmen Of The World Honour Departed Brethren

Impressive Ceremony at the Little Lake Cemetery—Monuments Unveiled and Dedicated to the Memories of the Deceased—Address by Rev. E. A. Langfelt—Sacred Music Provided.

A most impressive ceremony took place at the Little Lake Cemetery yesterday afternoon, it being the occasion of the unveiling of the monuments erected to the memories of the late Sovereign Geo. Armstrong, and J. Doughty, of the Woodmen of the World by their fellow brethren. The Sherwood Camp of the Canadian Order of Woodmen assembled at the Lodge room at 2.30 in the afternoon and proceeded from there to the Cemetery. The order of the procession was first the members headed by Organizer R. Copeland, of Millbrook. These were followed by the officers and a deputation from Omemee Camp, No. 54. The rear was brought up by the Head Consul Commander, C. E. Hodgins, M.P.P., of Lucan, Ont., and the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Chaplain of the Order.

Formed in a Wedge.

Arriving at the cemetery the order reversed and proceeded on its winding march among the many head stones to the grave of the late Bro. Armstrong, where the monument was veiled. The procession there lined up in the form of a wedge surrounding the grave. Within the wedge where the imposing ceremony was performed, stood the male quartette close to one corner of the triangle, consisting of Messrs. Walter Wesley, Robert McCollum, J. Miller and Chandler. Also within the human enclosure stood the relatives of the deceased—Mrs. Armstrong, her son George and Mrs. Rickey, sister of the departed Woodman.

The Monument Unveiled.

The ceremony was opened with the prescribed Sacred Ode by the Quartette and at the conclusion of this the unveiling of the monument, the prominent feature of the sacred event, was solemnized. The stone was first dedicated by the Consul Commander, Thos Duncan, by striking it three time accompanied by the words, "Love, Honour, and Remembrance," and sprinkling it with salt as an emblem of preservation. Then came the Advisory Lieutenant Sovereign R. Jones, who also struck the monument three times with an axe using the same words and pouring oil upon it, dedicating it likewise to the memory of the departed. For the third time it was dedicated by the Banker and the Clerk, Messrs. Jas. Kyle and Ainsley, who struck it with wedges, pouring water upon it emblematic of the tears of sorrow and also pouring water on the ground as a libation in honour of all deceased Woodmen.

The Chaplain's Address.

After this came the address by the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who was the orator for the occasion.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt gave the address. He said:

Fellow members of the Woodmen of the World, ladies and gentlemen—We meet to-day for a purpose, that has the dignity and tenderness of funeral rites, without their sadness. It is not a new bereavement, but one which time has softened, which brings us here. We meet not around a newly-made grave, but one which nature has already decorated with the memorials of her love. Above every tomb, her daily sunshine has smiled, her tears have wept; over the humblest she has bidden some grasses nestle some vines creep, and the butterfly — ancient emblem of immortality—waves its little wings above every sod. To nature's sign of tenderness we add our own. Not "ashes to ashes, dust to dust," do we say to-day, but we are gathered here to pay our tribute to the memory of a good and true man. As I stand at this grave, I think of the many months of suffering which our departed brother, George Armstrong, endured, suffering from a malady which from the outset gave no hope of recovery. It was my pleasure, as well as my high privilege, to minister to him in spiritual things, and I rejoice to be able to say that with full trust and faith he committed his soul to his God and Saviour, when death drew near. He was a good father and husband, and passionately fond of his family.

As members of the Woodmen of the World, we fulfil to-day our promise, and place at his grave this stone, that will keep ever alive the memory of a true man. No doubt he had his failings, as we all have, but his later life, and especially the latter years, bore testimony to a true heart and mind, which was inspired by noble ambitions.

I would call upon the members of this Order to keep ever before themselves the noble example of the Saviour Jesus Christ, to prepare for death by an unfeigned faith in the Redeemer, and so to live and so work that Christ will not be ashamed to call you brethren.

The Camp honours were then given and the unique proceedings brought to a close by the Consul Commander.

To Mr. Doughty's Memory.

The procession then marched to the grave of Mr. Doughty where the same ceremony was repeated with the addition of an address by Head Consul Commander Hodgins, the proceedings being closed with a blessing pronounced by the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt.

During the afternoon several sacred selections were given by the quartette. The ceremony concluded the procession moved back to the hall where a brief meeting was held and where votes of thanks were passed for Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, Mr. Hodgins and Mr. Copeland.

A Warm Article.

THE well-authenticated story goes that at a dinner party the other night, after the ladies retired to the drawing room, the hostess, her broad expanse twinkling with diamonds, leaned back in a great tufted chair, and shivered slightly. A footman went in search of the lady's maid.

"Francoise," said the magnificent lady, with languid magnificence; "I feel chilly—bring me another diamond necklace."

MEN OF SOME DISTINCTION

Diversified Fabrics and Styles in the Season's Fashions.

The distinctive individuality in the Semi-ready tailoring does not just happen. It is an achievement, a production which has been wrought by skill, system and experience.

Vital unity, equal strength in all the co-related parts, such as tailoring, designing, fabrics and the minor details — in these Semi-ready establishes its fifteen and twenty dollar suits high above the rest. Every element of Semi-ready is governed in its production by a standard that is far more exacting than the average tailor dreams of.

The series of Semi-ready models for this season show conservative good taste and also include the radically new sack coat of three buttons and an almost straight front. The fabrics are diversified—from the monotone greys, blues and black to the more youthful and daring checks, stripes and mixtures which go as far as good taste permits. The physique type measurements insure a perfect fit for all manner of men—normal or abnormal in girth, chest, or figuration. A. W. Cressman, agent for Peterborough.

What is a Backache?

IT IS NATURE'S WARNING TO WOMEN

Diseases of Woman's Organism Cured and Consequent Pain Stopped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"It seems as though my back would break." Women utter these words over and over again, but continue to drag along and suffer with aches in the small of the back, pain low down in the side, "bearing-down" pains, nervousness and no ambition for any task.

They do not realize that the back is the main-spring of woman's organism, and quickly indicates by aching a diseased condition of the female organs or kidneys, and that the aches and pains will continue until the cause is removed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been for many years the one and only effective remedy in such cases. It speedily cures female organs and kidney disorders and restores the female organs to a healthy condition.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered a long time with female trouble, having intense pains in the back and abdomen and very sick headaches every month. I was tired and nervous all the time and life looked very dreary to me and I had no desire to live until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to get some relief. My recovery was slow but it was sure, and I never regretted the money spent for the Compound as it brought me back to good health.

"It seems to be a medicine especially adapted to the ills of our sex and I am glad to say a good word for it."—Mrs. Albert Mann, 154 Gore Vale Ave., Toronto, Ont.

No other person can give such helpful advice to women who are sick as can Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice free.

PROFESSION AND PRACTICE.

The Examiner has frequently pointed out that when the Whitney Government is looking, and talking, in one direction, it is safe to look for action in the opposite direction. They were, according to their own declarations, to give provincial exploitation to our water powers, and we have such cases as the Healey Falls power deal, in this district, and the Hound's Chute and the Notch water power deals in New Ontario, in which there is reason to believe that public interests, if they have not been sacrificed, have not been adequately protected as was to be expected from a Government which has made such loud professions. We had the most solemn assurances from the leader of the Government himself, that no official would be dismissed without investigation held, and adequate cause disclosed. Yet we have such cases in this district as that of Colonel Brown, Registrar of Northumberland, and no later than a day or two ago the case of Mr. Robertson, Division Court Clerk, at Warkworth, who were, not to mention many other similar cases, dismissed without reference to the conditions upon which, according to Mr. Whitney, dismissals were to be based. The Whitney guillotine has come to be as much an "institution" in its way in Ontario, as ever was its Parisian prototype on the Place de Greve in the reddest days of the French Revolution. The License Department was, we were blatantly assured, to be divorced entirely from political influence and given a strict and rigid enforcement. License Commissioners and Inspectors, who were doing efficient work, have been dismissed by the hundreds, and their places filled with rabid partizans. We hear loud complaints from members of the Methodist bodies of the fact that in parts of the Niagara district, there is the wide-open saloon in violation of the license law; and Dr. Chown, who was outspoken in his approval of the way the law was enforced under the Ross Government, is now complaining that licenses have been issued in New Ontario, which was to be kept free from the liquor traffic, in excess of the number permitted by law — in Fort Frances and Haileybury. This just in passing—the complete list of instances, of looking and talking one way, and acting another, on the part of the Government, could be largely increased. The Whitney Government ran a fairly straight race in the beginning, but it is now zig-zagging in very crooked paths of policy and practice.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Three Medicine Hat surgeons spliced the back bone of a man injured by an accident. They should try their hand on the spine of the Whitney Government — "power" graft won't do.

The Sir John A. Macdonald Memorial statue in Montreal is in such a dilapidated condition that it is in danger of falling down. It would seem that there is a class of Conservatives who have no use for a statesman who is not in a position to distribute offices.

The official figures show an increase of 45 and 50 per cent. over the foreign immigration of last July, that from Great Britain showing an increase of 45 per cent., and that from the United States an increase of 50 per cent. The arrivals from ocean ports were 13,207, and from the United States 4969.

The Australians are adopting Chinese methods. They do not seem to be desirous of trading with the rest of the world. A bill has been passed imposing a fixed duty of $60 each on harvesters, and 25 per cent. duty on other agricultural implements. If the farmers are content to use their franchises to add $60 to the price of their reapers, the affair is their own.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

New Grain Route Much Shorter

Distance From Victoria Harbour to Peterborough Will be 96 Miles.

A Montreal despatch says: It is understood that the Canadian Pacific will use the charter of the Georgian Bay and Seaboard Railway Company, for the construction of its new line from Peterborough to Midland, which Sir Thomas Shaughnessy has announced will form the most important grain route of the company from Georgian Bay to Montreal. The idea is to have the line built by a subsidiary company, and operated under a long lease, the rental paid being equal to four per cent. on bonds issued for the construction of the road. The line from Victoria Harbour to Peterborough will be 96 miles in length, and will reduce the distance from the C. P. R. Georgian Bay lake port from 440 miles to 358 miles. In other words it will be 82 miles shorter than the present route from Owen Sound.

Three Weeks To Prepare A Home

Cook, A Salvation Army Emigrant, Appears Before the Magistrate.

On Saturday afternoon Charles Cook, the Otonabee man, charged with non-support of his wife and family, appeared before Police Magistrate Edmison.

It will be remembered that when County Constable Cochrane arrested Cook, the three children were brought to the Shelter where they have been cared for ever since. The accused has since obtained employment at the Canadian General so that the Magistrate decided to adjourn the case for two weeks, giving him an opportunity to prepare a proper home for them. During that time the children will remain at the Shelter, and if Cook has succeeded then, the charge will probably be dismissed. His wife is now working for a party in Otonabee.

Inquest To Be Held To-night

To Inquire Into Cause of Death of A. N. Randlett.

The adjourned inquest into the cause of the death of A. N. Randlett, of Lowell, Mass., will be held to-night. Examiner readers will remember Mr. Randlett died at the residence of Mr. R. S. Todd some time ago, while on business here. He had been treated under Christian Science methods by Mr. Todd.

UNSEEMLY CONDUCT IN THE CEMETERY

Another instance, if not of ill-breeding, of irreverence, and a lack of respect for the feelings of others, was the Examiner is informed, offered at the Little Lake cemetery yesterday. During the solemn religious ceremonies, attendant upon the unveiling of a monument yesterday, a group of young "ladies," — they would be offended if they were not called ladies — persisted in most offensive, unseemly and irreverent conduct, laughing and talking loudly, to the interruption of the proceedings, the annoyance of the participants, and the wounding of the feelings of weeping relatives. Upon being remonstrated with, they continued their reprehensible conduct, in an increased degree. The cemetery is a public place, and the public are free to conduct themselves with unseemly levity — that is a matter between themselves and their consciences, and a sense of fitness of conduct due to the resting place of the dead; but they should refrain from demonstrations of lightness and conduct which interferes with a religious service, and wounds the feelings of bereaved friends.

Intoxicated Soldiers Cause Riot In Poland

MANY KILLED OR WOUNDED

Troops Attack the Jews After a Massacre of Police and Soldiers — All Sunday Soldiers Attacked Civilians —Jews and Christians, Indiscriminately—Three Streets Devastated, and Access Forbidden.

Siedlie, Russian Poland, Sept. 10.—A massacre of police and soldiers began at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Immediately afterward the troops attacked the Jews.

All yesterday the soldiers have attacked civilians, Christians or Jews, robbing and murdering them without discrimination. Hundreds of persons were killed or wounded. Three streets were devastated.

It is reported that drunken reservists started the massacre.

Troops have surrounded the city and refuse access to it.

Reign of Bomb In Riga.

Riga, Sept. 10.—Three policemen were wounded, one fatally, by a bomb Saturday, thrown at a street railroad car. A patrol of troops was called, and fired a volley into the crowd, which collected, wounding one man mortally and three slightly.

A bomb was left Saturday by an unknown man in the office of The Conservative, a Lettish newspaper. One of the editors caught sight of the burning fuse and at once threw the bomb in a pail of water, thus saving the situation.

The band of revolutionary bank robbers, led by the well-known Lettis writer, Plekshan, who combined the functions of poet, sociologist and the bandit, have succeeded in escaping from the country.

Exiles In Pitiful Plight.

Saratov, Sept. 10.—The police Saturday arrested M. Kutamanoff, a member of the late Parliament, and ordered him forwarded by the Steape system, that is, afoot with a military escort as exiles to Siberia were formerly compelled to travel to jail at Belgorod. At the intercession of the cadet committee, however, he was permitted to travel by railroad.

Letters have been received here describing the privations of a party of 2,000 teachers, railroad men and technological scholars, exiled to Irkutsk. They say they are allowed less than a dollar a month for living expenses, which the most stringent economy amount to $5, and assert clothing of the exiles is in rags, their shoes destroyed and that they are famishing.

M. P. Beaten by Soldiers.

Warsaw, Sept. 10.—M. Ostroffsky, a member of the late Parliament, was arrested Saturday at the Village of Smardvevo, and severely beaten by soldiers.

In front of the Bristol, the principal hotel in Warsaw, troops Saturday killed two peddlers, who were suspected of being terrorists. Previous to this and after an exchange of shots the troops killed two revolutionists in the suburbs of Cracow. A policeman was mortally wounded.

Killed by Revolutionists.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10.—Engineer Feodoroff, a director of a department of the Great Baltic Works, was attacked Saturday night by workmen and so badly wounded that he died a few hours later. The Baltic Works are a nest of revolutionists, and Feodoroff was hated on account of his refusal to countenance their propaganda.

Synagogue a Bomb Factory.

Kertsch, Sept. 10.—A bomb was exploded Saturday in the garret of the principal synagogue here, killing two sons of the watchman of the edifice. Investigation revealed two other bombs and tools for making bombs, and many revolvers and cartridges in the building. The synagogue now is surrounded by troops.

LANDED IN A SWAMP.

Aeronaut Drifts Across Lake Michigan—Exhausted When Landed.

Wolverine, Mich., Sept. 10.—Capt. William Matteray, a Chicago aeronaut, who drifted away from Occonto, Wis., in a helpless airship on Thursday, landed in a swamp six miles south east of here Saturday. He was suffering from exposure and fatigue.

In his flight Matteray traveled a distance of nearly 400 miles, passing over Green Bay, Wis., crossing Lake Michigan, Grand Traverse Bay, and about 15 miles into the State of Michigan before alighting.

Rev. Father Geoghegan Dead.

Hamilton, Sept. 10.—Father Geoghegan, rector of St. Peter's Church, died last evening at 6 o'clock, after a somewhat prolonged illness, from Bright disease. He was one of the most picturesque characters in the city. Though rather unconventional in his style, he was a man of broad sympathies, and was very popular among all classes. He was noted for his charitable work. For about 18 years he has been rector of St. Peter's Church. He was 58 years of age, and was born in the County of Doran, Ireland. A widow and one child survive.

Horses and All Burned.

While a load of sheaves were passing thrashing engine, a spark set fire the load and the horses, taking fright ran away, and cramped the wag which was consumed, together with t animals. The fire also spread to t separator before being extinguished.

Special Session Of The Congress On Sept. 14th

Palma Calls Cuban Congress to Consider Situation.

WHICH IS INTOLERABLE

Pino Guerra's Forces Surround the City of Pinar del Rio, and Wire Communication Was Repeatedly Cut on Saturday—Veterans Seek Peace, But Guerra's Conduct Seems to Indicate Not Soon.

Havana, Sept. 10.—President Palma has issued a call for a special session of congress to convene Sept. 14, in order to consider the disturbed condition of the country and measures for ending the intolerable situation.

The President is weary of the complicated and threatening conditions, and is anxious to divide the responsibilities with congress.

Havana is in a state of modified panic. Everybody is talking of the likelihood of the revolutionists marching in and taking possession of the city.

Insurgents Cut Wires.

The principal features in the revolt Saturday were attempts by the Western Railway to get trains as far towards Pinar del Rio as possible, and the advancement of an armored train with machine-guns and recruits to the country now occupied by the insurgents.

The latter part of these movements is shrouded in mystery, as also is the situation of Col. Avalo's force in Pinar del Rio City, which, for the past two days, has been surrounded by Pino Guerra's insurgents.

Wire communication repeatedly was cut further east Saturday night, and neither the railroad nor the Government is able to communicate beyond Paso Real, 29 miles east of Pinar del Rio City.

Seek Peace.

The veterans, who are searching for a peaceful means of settlement of the difficulties, profess that the Santa Clara and Havana insurrectionists are ready to quit and turn against Pino Guerra if he does not show a similar tendency; but Guerra's conduct, and especially the attitude of the Liberals in Havana, who, supposedly, are members and advisers of the revolutionary junta, totally precludes the probability that peace is at hand.

Train Held Up.

The Western Railway Saturday night received a telegram from Paso Real, saying that the band commanded by the Paise Brothers are still holding up the armored troop train between Herrarula and Consolacion del Sur, and firing was continuous. The despatch adds that Col. Avalos' troops in Pinar del Rio City undoubtedly are surrounded.

MRS. NASH'S DEATH.

Young Exeter Woman's Demise Gives Rise to Peculiar Story.

London, Sept. 10.—The sudden death of Mrs. John H. Nash, two weeks ago, in this city, has given rise to a peculiar story.

It seems that nothing was said of the affair at the time, the body being sent to Exeter, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Fansen, reside. At the hospital, where she died, it was said her decease was due to asthmatic or bronchial trouble.

The late Mrs. Nash, however, was only taken to Victoria Hospital two hours before she died.

It appears now that some of the family say that death was due to poisoning, caused by eating canned thimbleberries. Certain other members of the family were taken ill at the same time, thereby giving rise to the idea that Mrs. Nash was also poisoned.

She was not quite 25 years of age, and, according to a letter sent the day before her death to her parents in Exeter, she mentioned that she had never been in better health.

A. R. KEEFE TAKES POISON.

Receiving Teller Suicides When His Theft Became Known.

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Arthur R. Keefe, receiving teller for the Security Trust Co., committed suicide at his home here Saturday evening by drinking cyanide of potassium. He lived but a few minutes after taking the poison. Mr. Keefe was short in his accounts at the banking house, and it is believed that fear of arrest and the disgrace attending such action prompted him to commit the deed.

The officials of the bank state that Keefe was under bonds in the sum of $10,000, and that his irregularities will be within these figures. The institution will lose nothing.

Worried Over Money Loss, Suicides.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Worried over the loss of some money until completely deranged, Christopher Little, aged 57, of 217 Dalhousie street, shot himself at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Little ended his life in the presence of his wife and of William Thompson, son-in-law, the latter of whom had been called to try and quiet the aged man. Little was a carpenter by trade and a member of the L. O. L. and I. O. F., carrying $3,000 insurance. He leaves a widow and two daughters. An inquest will be held.

Bowmanville Man Was Robbed and Tarred On Highway

Highwaymen Attempt to Murder Richard Ford.

WAS THE MOTIVE REVENGE

The Two Men Surprise Him, Pour Tar on Him, Rifle His Pockets, and Start to Beat and Kick Their Victim—Ford Regains His Feet and Puts His Assailants to Flight—An Arrest May Be Made.

Bowmanville, Sept. 10.—Richard Ford, an Englishman, a farm hand, was terribly beaten by two men who sprang upon him as he was passing under an old bridge of the Grand Trunk Saturday night.

His assailants seized him from behind, tied his hands, blind-folded him and besmeared his head and face with tar. They then went through his pockets, taking all the money he had and then asked if he would leave the country by Monday if they would not kill him.

Ford gave no answer and they began hammering head on a stone, striking him in the face and kicking him most brutally.

Up to this time he had kept silent, but believing they intended to kill him he made a supreme effort and got one leg free, with which he kicked one of the men from him, and, getting on his feet, he struck with his tied hands at his assailants and they turned and ran away, northward.

Bleeding and feeling dazed, Ford ran across the fields to Samuel Allan's where his hands were freed and he was taken to town, where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Tilley.

This is the first case of highway robbery known to have taken place in this part of the country for very many years. Opinion is divided as to the reason for the attack on Ford, but the general opinion is that it is a case of revenge. An arrets is expected to-morrow.

A correspondent drove out three miles to Ford's home Sunday afternoon and found him sitting up, but his face, head and back show the effects of a terrible pomelling and kicking. Ford came with his wife and two young children last spring from Plymouth, Eng., and worked for a few weeks at farming, but owing to some disagreement was discharged by his employer, and has since worked in this town. He says he can identify one of the men and this morning will lay an information with Chief Jarvis, and in all probability an arrest will be made. At the scene of the attack the grass was besmeared with tar. A harvest mit worn by the assailant of Ford while putting tar on and the stick that had been used for stirring the tar were found. Ford also has the rope and handkerchief. A clue to the reason for the attack may be found in the statement of the man who did the talking. Before starting to pound Ford this man said, "If we don't kill you, will you leave the country by Monday." Ford would not promise, and then the brutal treatment began.

14 BADLY BURNED.

Bad Accident In Toronto Gas Works —Great Weals of Raw Flesh on Injured Men.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—While in the act of raising the massive lid of a purifier box at the Consumers' Gas Co.'s plant on Saturday morning about 11 o'clock, a sudden rush of flame caused injuries, more or less serious, to fourteen of the company's employes.

Machinist James Pargeter, who was examining the box to see that it was sound, at the time when the outbreak occurred, escaped without other ill-results than inhaling the fumes. He describes the fire as rushing out in fountain-like volume.

Dr. Chambers, who has the injured men under his charge, says that all will recover. It was fortunate that the flames did not ignite the clothing of the men, otherwise, the burns would probably, in more than one instance, have speedily proved fatal.

As it was, the victims were all burned either about the face, neck, or lower arms, which were exposed to the blast of fire. The men were suffering acutely when brought to the hospital and presented a pitiful appearance. There were great weals of raw flesh showing on faces drawn with suffering. Eyebrows were scorched away by the fierce blast.

Horse's Kick Fatal.

Bright, Sept. 10.—Robert Oliver, a farmer residing about a mile from Bright, was kicked by a horse and died of his injuries Friday night.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—While playing in the street Saturday in front of her home, little two-year-old Alice Chapleau, niece of the late Hon. J. A. Chapleau, met a terrible death, being run over by an express wagon. The little tot was making mud pies in the street, when the horse and wagon dashed over her at a furious rate.

Dog Saves Master.

Merlin, Sept. 10.—W. H. Howe was gored by an infuriated bull the other day, and would probably have been killed but for his faithful dog, which, after repeated attacks, drove the animal away.

Boy Killed on Track.

Uxbridge, Sept. 10.—William Oxtoby, 13 years of age, was run over and killed on the railway track near here yesterday morning. The boy's parents are deaf and dumb.

Body Found on Lake Shore.

Pickering, Sept. 10.—The badly decomposed body of a young man was found on the lake shore yesterday morning. His clothing consisted of an under shirt and drawers only. Three weeks ago a floating boat was picked up in the same locality. It contained a man's outer clothes, gold watch, etc.

Club Man Suicides.

COLORED GOODS.

Maybe you've found it hard to bring your colored clothes out of the wash clean and bright, without fading or running or looking messy.

If you try "SURPRISE" Soap you will see the difference in results. You know, "SURPRISE" is a pure soap, and there's nothing in it to hurt either the color or the fabric. And then no hard rubbing or boiling is necessary, so the colors don't get weakened and smudgy.

Some folks say they would buy and use "SURPRISE" Soap for colored clothes if it cost a dollar a cake, so it's pretty plain why so many people use it when it costs no more than common soap.

EXPLOSION IN BALL ROOM.

Dancers Were In a Few Seconds a Mass of Flames—40 Injured.

New York, Sept. 10.—A cable to The Times from Brussels says:—The village of Chene le Long in the Luxembourg is in mourning. The young people of the commune organized a grand ball. It was held in the ball room of the court house. The room was lit up by coal oil lamps, which shook in their unsteady brackets when the dancing became vigorous. Suddenly one of the lamps fell and exploded with terrific force. The explosion sent others of the lamps crashing to the floor. Dancers and ball room were in a few seconds a mass of flames. There was a mad rush for the door. Women and girls were badly trampled and their condition is serious. Much gallantry was shown by a farm laborer, the lover of a cafe waitress. She was in flames when he rushed to her and put them out and managed to swing her out of a window. He himself was horribly burned and has lost his sight. Five women and three men died from injuries and three other men lost their sight. Forty people were more or less seriously injured.

POISONED THE BABY.

Mrs. Louisa Smith Arrested For Crime at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Louisa Smith, a woman about 60 years old, was arrested last night on a charge of murdering her daughter's baby. The daughter, Lizzie Smith, is weak-minded. She became a mother on Thursday night and the child was cared for by neighbors in the Victoria block, where the mother and daughter have rooms. It was noticed by persons in the building that the babe had disappeared, and the police were notified. The child was found last evening dead in a peach basket hid in some weeds back of H. Thornton's barn in the west end of the city. Mrs. Smith admitted to the police that she gave the babe poison, which killed it, and then she took its body and placed it where found. She told the police where to find it.

Laws Preventing Spread Of The Noxious Weeds

The Weeds That Must Be Destroyed on Farms or on Highways—An Inspector May be Appointed to See That the Law is Kept.

In view of the numerous enquiries which are being received by the Ontario Department of Agriculture respecting the Act to Prevent the Spread of Noxious Weeds, the following synopsis of the laws respecting this has been given out by the Minister of Agriculture, so that they may be more clearly understood:—

The Act to prevent the spread of noxious weeds makes it incumbent on every owner or occupier of land to cut down and destroy, when growing on his land, the following weeds: Canada thistle, ox-eye daisy, wild oats, burdock, as often as is necessary to prevent the ripening of their seed, provided that the destruction of growing grain crops is not involved thereby.

The operations of the Act may be further extended by bylaw to any weed or weeds and to any disease of grain or fruit trees (excepting yellows and black knot in fruit trees.)

In order that the provisions of the Act may be properly enforced, it is provided that the council of any city, town, township or incorporated village may, and upon petition of fifty or more ratepayers shall, appoint at least one inspector for the purpose. The Inspector is required to serve a notice in writing on the owner or occupant of any land within the municipality, or within his division of the municipality if there is more than one inspector appointed, where said noxious weeds are growing, requiring him to cause the same to be cut down or destroyed within ten days of the service of the notice. In the event of neglect to carry out these instructions, the inspector shall enter upon the land and cause such weeds to be cut down or destroyed, unless the land be sown with grain, the cost of doing this work to be charged against the land with the other taxes imposed by the municipality.

Where such noxious weeds are growing upon non-resident lands, (by which is meant "lands which are unoccupied and the owner of which is not resident within the municipality") it is not necessary that the inspector should give any notice before proceeding to cut down or destroy such weeds.

In the event of the land being railway property, the notice shall be given to any stationmaster of the company resident in or nearest the municipality.

The owner or occupier of land is also required to destroy, at the proper time to prevent the ripening of their seed, all noxious weeds growing on any highway—not being a toll road—adjoining his land, from the boundary of such land to the centre line of the road. It is the duty of the overseer or inspector of highways in the municipality to see that the act, as it relates to the keeping of highways clear of weeds, is properly enforced, and in case of neglect after notice has been given to the owner or occupier, the work may be performed by the municipality and the costs added to the taxes against the land. In the event of their being no overseer or inspector of highways the enforcement of the act in this regard falls upon the clerk of the municipality.

Every offence against the act is punishable by fine on summary conviction before any Justice of the Peace, the fine to be paid to the Treasurer for the use of the municipality. Every inspector, overseer of highways or other officer who refuses or neglects to discharge the duties imposed upon him by this act is liable, upon conviction, to a fine of not less than $10.00 or more than $20.00.

Pretty Labour Day Wedding

Peterborough Gentleman Married to a Little Britain Lady.

Examiner Special.

A very pretty wedding occurred at Little Britain on Monday, Sept. 3rd., when Mr. A. Leslie Tremeer, of Peterborough, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Louie E. Jenkins of this village. The day was bright, breezy and beautiful, an ideal day for September month, and a marriage occasion. The Christian Church was the scene of the ceremony, and was very prettily decorated with evergreens and seasonable flowers and plants, and presented a most beautiful appearance. As the time for the ceremony drew near, the church was filled. Messrs. Victor Pogue and John Ferguson, acted as ushers with facility and efficiency. Promptly at three o'clock, the wedding party, conveyed in Mr. A. Jewett's (Lindsay) cab, arrived at the church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. A. Delve, of Blackstock, cousin of the groom. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in point d' esprit, over white taffeta silk, with chiffon trimmings. She wore a bridal veil of tulle, with orange blossoms in her hair, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and chrysanthemums, and looked really charming. The bridesmaid was Miss Agnes Graham, of Toronto, who wore pale blue colienne, over blue taffete, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and chrysanthemums. The wedding march was played by Miss Flossie of Raglan, who rendered Lohengrin's march while the party were coming in and Mendelssohn's march as they left the church. Miss Gracie Greenway, wearing point d' esprit over silk, acted as flower-girl, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The groom was supported by his only brother, Herbert W., of Toronto, who proved an able assistant. After congratulations had been received at the home, about fifty guests sat down to a splendid dejeuner of the most delicate and palatable viands, with desert of ice cream, grapes, bananas and peaches. The wedding presents were of a high order—valuable and suitable—shewing the esteem in which the bride is held. Among the gifts was a sterling silver manicure set from the groom, and a magnificent Gerhard-Heintzman piano from her father. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl ring; to the groomsman a pearl stickpin; and to the flower-girl a bracelet. Near relatives were present from Toronto, Lindsay, Port Perry, Cartwright, Bobcaygeon, Raglan and other points. The bride's going away gown was a plum-coloured shirt waist suit, with trimmings of baby irish lace, and a feather hat of the same shade, and a three-quarter length cream serge coat with lace collars and cuffs. At 7.30 p.m. the happy couple amid showers of confetti, rice and congratulations, were driven to the station, whence they took the train for their future home in Peterborough. They will spend the honey-moon in a trip over the Kawartha Lakes. All join wishing them a most happy and prosperous journey on life's matrimonial highway.—Com.

Band Concert In Victoria Park

Proved to be a Popular Event Sunday Afternoon.

Over three thousand persons occupied the shady places at Victoria Park yesterday afternoon to listen to the band concert given by the 57th Regimental Band. The various selections, which were all of a sacred character, were played with the usual grace of the band, and elicited the silent praise from the big open-air audience. The concert was held at 4 o'clock, at the conclusion of the Sunday school sessions, giving everyone an opportunity of being present.

The large number who attended certainly demonstrated that a Sunday afternoon sacred concert during the summer would be at least a popular event, as it affords a means of spending a few hours profitably during the heat of the day, and would tend to distract attention from questionable Sunday enjoyments.

This conference meeting every 4 years, comprises representatives from the different conferences in the Dominion. Mr. Lewis will conduct the services in one of the Montreal Methodist Churches.

Y.M.C.A. Strangers' Fellowship Club

Held Their First Fall and Winter Session on Saturday.

The first meeting of the fall and winter season of the Y.M.C.A. Strangers' Fellowship Club, held on Saturday evening, was an interesting one. Mr. Jas. Collins was elected Secretary-Treasurer, succeeding Mr. Galley, who has gone to Toronto. Resolutions appreciating the services of the late secretary, as well as those of Messrs. R. J. McClennan and A. M. Bunt were passed. Two new members were introduced.

Committees were appointed for the quarter ending December 31st.

Many helpful suggestions were given for the benefit of the club, which is doing so excellent a work in caring for the scores of strangers coming every month.

The report of the excursion on July 20, under the auspices of the club, to Sandy Point, was read and showed a balance of $1.95 after all expenses were paid.

Board Of Health Does Business

Requests the Appointment of An Inspector of Water Supply and Milk Supply.

A regular meeting of the Board of Health was held in the City Clerk's office, this morning, at which an important resolution was adopted regarding the appointment of an inspector to enforce purity of water supply and to inspect milk.

There were present, Messrs. Wm Eyres chairman, R. Neill, A. Parker, Dr. McNulty and Geo. Schneider.

After routine proceedings a resolution was passed, asking the City Council to appoint an inspector whose duty it shall be to take charge of the enforcement of the Public Health Act and especially in connection with the enforcement of the law in relation to the pollution of the source of city water supply and in connection with inspection of the milk supplied to the city, and also to require that all houses conveniently situated to a sewer shall be connected therewith.

A resolution was also passed calling upon the City Council to construct a sewer on King street between Stewart and Bethune streets as a means of sanitation in the interests of the public health.

It developed during the meeting that the Provincial Health authorities had provided the means for enforcing the requirements of the placards posted in the northern waters, and the local health and city authities have the responsibility of seeing that the law in this regard is enforced.

A special meeting of the Board is called for to-morrow.

Mr. Bernard Quarles Dench Weds Grace Dorothea Hincks.

A most important event took place, says the Mail, in St. James' Church, Ingersoll, on Sept. 4, when the marriage of two daughters of the Rev. Canon Hincks was solemnized. Miss Mary Constance became the bride of Rev. E. F. S. Spencer, of Gore Bay, Manitoulin Islands, and Grace Dorothea (Dora) to Mr. Bernard Quarles Dench, of Lakefied. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Hincks, assisted by the rector, Rev. S. W. Perkins, and Rev. G. W. Spencer. The brides were given away by their brother, Rev. F. H. Hincks, of Blind River. Promptly at 11.30 o'clock the bridal parties entered the church. Miss Constance was gowned in embroidered Swiss with tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Crampron, of Windsor and Miss Charlotte Hincks, who wore gowns of white Brussels net and white Gainsborough hats, with pale blue, and carried pink asters. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Victor Spencer, of Jarvis. The other bride, Miss Dora, wore a Princess gown of cream point d'esprit, with lace veil which had been worn by the mother of the bridegroom. She carried white roses. Her bridesmaids were Miss Alice Hincks and Miss Jessie Dench, of Windsor, who wore dresses of flowered mull, with shepherdess hats, and carried crooks tied with bunches of pink carnations. Mr. Dench was assisted by Mr. Charles Blomfield, of Lakefield, and the ushers were Messrs. Charles Ewans Lewis, of Toronto, and Reginald B. Evans, of Orillia. After the ceremony a luncheon was given, followed by a reception at the home of the brides' parents. The guests from out of town were Rev. G. M. Spencer, the Misses Mabel and Florence Spencer, Messrs. Victor and Launcelot Spencer, and Mr. and Mrs. Howell, of Jarvis; Mrs. Blackwell and Miss Dench, of Lakefield; Miss M. A. Brick Work On New Fire Hall

Was Completed on Saturday by Contractor Jas. Rose.

On Saturday afternoon and yesterday the flag waved over the completed brick work of Peterborough's new firehall on Aylmer street. It was just about five weeks ago that the contract for brick-work on the building was sub-let to Mr. Jas. Rose, who laboured twenty-nine days. The new hall, judging from the portion that is now completed, will be a handsome one, presenting a commanding appearance. About 175,000 brick were used in its erection, including the big tower and chimney, the latter alone consuming 6,000. They were of the finest quality, and purchased from the Curtis Bros.

Mr. Carveth intends to go right ahead with the carpenter work, and in a few days the roof will be excluded wholly from the interior.

Pretty Wedding At Millbrook

Warsaw Young Gentleman Wins a Millbrook Bride.

Examiner Special.

Millbrook, September 6. — A very pretty house wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Richards, Centre street, Millbrook, on Wednesday, September 5th, when her daughter, Mary M. Richards, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony, to Mr. Albert W. Smithson, one of Warsaw's most popular young men.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. R. Clare, the pastor of the Millbrook Methodist church, in the presence of about fifty guests, nearly all relatives and immediate friends of the contracting parties.

The spacious parlour was handsomely decorated by Miss Eva Gillott, a very close friend of the bride. Just before the marriage ceremony began Miss Lilian Smithson, sister of the groom sang in excellent voice, "O Promise Me," Miss May Duncan playing the accompaniment. She also rendered in her usual pleasing manner Mendelssohn's wedding march, as the bridal party entered the parlour and took their places beneath an arch of maple leaves, the groom being ably supported by his brother, Mr. George Smithson.

The bride entered leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Harry Richards, who gave her away. She was accompanied by her bridesmaid, Miss Drucilla E. Oliver, of Toronto, a cousin, and also her niece, Evelyn McKim, as flower girl.

The bride looked beautiful, attired in cream silk, colienne, with chiffin trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid also looked pretty in a costume of cream silk colienne, with touches of Dresden and lace trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of pink asters.

The little flower girl was charmingly pretty in a dress of white dotted Swiss, with pink ribbon trimmings. She carried a basket of pink and white flowers, and maiden hair ferns.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy congratulations of all present were extended to the bride and groom, after which the wedding breakfast was served. The Misses Ilein and May McKim and Gertie and Cordie Richards, nieces of the bride, and all attired in white, were the waiters. The tables were beautifully decorated. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls, to the bridesmaid a pearl crescent, to the groomsman a crescent stick, and to the flower girl a ring with a ruby setting.

The presents to the bride were numerous and costly, an evidence of the high esteem in which she is held by her many friends. Among the large number of presents received might be mentioned a beautiful clock presented by the Methodist Sunday school, and a fancy oak stand from the Methodist church choir.

The bride's going away dress was of blue broad cloth, with hat of Alice blue.

Among the out-of-town guests were noticed: Mr. and Mrs. J. Thorne, South Monaghan; Mr. and Mrs. A. Waterman, Baillieboro; Mr. and Mrs. John Elgar, the Misses Emma, Drucilla E. Oliver, Toronto; Miss Olive M. Richards, Port Hope, Miss M. Eagleson, Baillieboro; Mr. George Smithson, Messrs. S., A. and C. Waterman, and Miss L. Waterman, Baillieboro; Mr. and Mrs. W. Smithson, Peterborough; and Mr. and Mrs S. Smithson, Baillieboro.

Congratulations by telegram were also received from friends who were unable to be present.

The happy couple drove to Cavanville and took the evening train for their future home at Warsaw, followed by the hearty good wishes of a host of friends.

Trent Valley Outlet Announced Next Session

Statement Made by Hon. Mr. Emmerson in Toronto—Intercolonial Railway Business Still Improving.

A despatch from Toronto says:—Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, who spent Sunday in the city, left last night for Peterborough, where he will resume his tour of inspection of the Trent Valley Canal system. After threading the chain of lakes and waterways in the neighbourhood of Peterborough, he intends proceeding through Lake Simcoe and Couchiching. In accordance with the request of the Board of Trade, he will be at Orillia on Wednesday. The report of the surveys will be ready shortly, and at the conclusion of his tour Mr. Emmerson intends, with all the information before him, to take up the important matter of determining where the outlet of the canal shall be and will make an announcement upon the subject at the next session of Parliament.

Speaking of the Intercolonial Railway last night Mr. Emmerson expressed the keenest gratification at the splendid showing for the month of July, when the accounts show that the road was $65,000 ahead on the months' business as compared with the corresponding month of the previous year, when it run behind by $31,000. He anticipated that when the returns for August are finally completed this betterment will be maintained. The record for July is especially satisfactory, inasmuch as the labour and other expenditure, exclusive of the cost of the rails, involved in relaying a large mileage, was charged to revenue account.

Knocked Down By A Vehicle

Mr. Harry Bradburn Received Many Bruises But Was Not Seriously Hurt.

On Saturday evening about 6 o'clock an unfortunate accident occurred to Mr. Harry Bradburn at the corner of George and Hunter streets. Mr. Bradburn was crossing towards Macdonald's drug store, when a vehicle, driven by Mr. Fred Waldie, of Lakefield, struck him as it was turning the corner.

Mr. Bradburn was struck by the shafts and knocked on the road, the front wheels passing over him. He was picked up from under the wheels and taken into Macdonald's drug store, where it was found he was not seriously hurt, but had sustained a number of bruises, causing much pain. He was afterwards taken in the Dan Spence Ambulance to his home on Water street, where his injuries were attended to.

Camp Burned In Their Absence

Outing of Lakefield Boys Was Cut Short.

A party of young men consisting of Messrs. H. Simpson, M. Quigley, H. Lewis, N. Moore and H. Moore, met with a very unpleasant experience at Deer Bay on Sunday last. The party left the village on Saturday to spend a few days fishing at Deer Bay. On Sunday as they were all away from camp and on their return found that the tent together with bedding and provisions had been destroyed by fire. As a result of the fire the outing of the party was brought to a sudden ending.

A Neat Announcement.
—If Mr Henry W. Stock, tailor and draper, makes a fit as neat — and those who know, say he does—as his autumn announcement card, he might well have Beau Brummell on his list. The Examiner printing department has issued for Mr. Stock a strikingly neat and attractive folder, printed in two colours, with a beautiful gold embossed coat of arms surrounded by a wreath of maple leaves, on the title page. This announcement sets forth the means and materials of Mr. Stock's establishment, contributing to the production, in the highest style of sartorial art of "Correct Dress for men."

The sudden death occurred on Saturday morning of Clare Winslow, of the ninth line of Cavan, after a very brief illness. He leaves a wife and two children, Miss Victoria, and Mr. Louis Winslow. The funeral took place at two o'clock this afternoon to St. John's cemetery, Cavan.

FRED C. BELL.
Last night at the residence of his father, Mr. Robert Bell, Smith, the death occurred of his youngest child, Fred C. Bell, aged 3 years . Death was due to meningitis after a short illness. Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bell by their many friends. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

SHOP PILFERING MUST BE CUT OUT

A lad on Saturday night was detected in the Peterborough Bookstore in the contraband exercise of his artistic tastes. He was caught stealing picture post cards and handed over to the police. He was found to be under age and the son of a widow. In view of this fact he was discharged with a severe reprimand and with the warning that if he is similarly detected again, that offence as well as the previous one will be used against him. The retail merchants are determined to hereafter deal severely with any persons caught shoplifting. The practice has become altogether too common and it must cease, if conviction and puunishment of the offenders will lead to such a result.

A PLEA FOR CITY POSTAL DELIVERY

As an evidence that the city has out-grown the capacity of the cramped quarters of the post office building to adequately handle the mail matter received, a citizen to-day left with the Examiner, the cover of a letter. This as shown by the stamps was posted in Montreal on August 23rd, received in Peterborough Aug. 24th, and delivered to the person, to whom it was addressed, street and number plainly written, to-day, September 10th, nineteen days after it was post marked in Montreal at 6 p.m. Peterborough has grown and is growing and the postal conveniences that were adequate when the present post office was built, nearly twenty years ago, are not suitable to a largely increased population and a much more largely increased correspondence.

A PRETTY RACE.

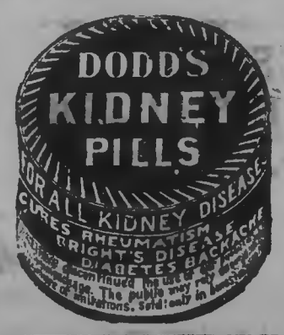
Cambridge Defeats Harvard In International Varsity Boat Race.

Putney, Eng., Sept. 10.—By the decisive distance of two lengths Cambridge won the great international boat race Saturday, stalling off by a steady, powerful stroke all Harvard's desperate spurts.

The light blues got away at the start and had the advantage of the choice of stations, which gave them at least a length to the good, in consequence of the wind-sheltered water on the Surrey side of the river. They were enabled to maintain their lead and increase it as soon as they reached the wind driven water at Chiswick Eyot. It was a pretty race throughout.

Western Fair Opens.

London, Sept. 10.—The Western Fair opened on Saturday. Not in years has there been such a demand for space.



FOSTER WAS NOT THERE.

Conservative Picnic at Truro, Nova Scotia—Mr. Borden Repeats His Sydney Mines Speech.

Halifax, Sept. 10.—The Conservative picnic at Truro on Saturday was attended by about two thousand persons, and there was lots of fun outside of the speaking.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster, who was announced as a star attraction, did not show up. Mr. Borden repeated his Sydney Mines speech; and, although challenged by The Chronicle to declare his policy, made no response.

The other speakers were: C. E. Gregory, J. J. Ritchie, J. M. Baillie and C. E. Tanner.

The feature of the day was a violent attack on Hon. W. S. Fielding by J. J. Ritchie, lawyer, who is conducting the petition against the Minister, and who was defeated twice in Queen's and Shelburne.

DEATH'S CALL WAS SUDDEN.

Mrs. Penrose, Macdonald Succumbs From Heart Failure.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—One of the most familiar figures in the old days in the Government House circles died yesterday, in the person of Penrose Ann Macdonald, widow of the late Colonel G. F. Macdonald.

Death occurred after an illness of only 20 minutes at the residence of her son-in-law, C. E. Brooke, 496 Ontario street. The aged lady, after dinner, was talking reminiscently with a friend when she complained of not feeling well. A doctor was sent for, but before he could arrive Mrs. Macdonald was dead. Heart failure was the cause.

She was a daughter of General Sir John Savage, one-time commander of the troops in Ireland, and a granddaughter of Sir John Savage. Born 83 years ago, in St. Hilliers, Isle of Jersey, she married Colonel George Macdonald of the 6th Regiment, and came to Canada with the regiment at the time of the Trent affair in '66.

She is survived by three sisters—Lady Sophie, McKellie, Monkstown, Dublin; Mrs. Bailey of London, Eng., and Miss Savage, St. Hilliter's, Jersey. She was a sister-in-law of Baron Templemore. Her surviving daughters are: Mrs. Hill, Beverley Hall, Yorkshire, Eng.; Mrs. W. C. Dick, Toronto, and Mrs. Chas. Brooke, Toronto. Two sons—George A. Macdonald, Buffalo, and F. S. Macdonald, Toronto, also survive. Mrs. Dr. Murray MacFarlane, Toronto, and Mrs. Edgar Jarvis, Melfort, Sask., are among the grand-daughters.

Mrs. Macdonald was well-known as a fearless horsewoman. As a child, she would dash ahead of a squadron beside her father.

Her husband, Col. Macdonald, died nine years ago. He was well known in the city as the staff officer of pensions.

London, Sept. 10.—(C. A. P.)—Towns has accepted Durnan's challenge to row for the championship, and the latter will leave Vancouver for Australia Oct. 1, having stipulated that he be allowed £100 expenses.

Great Storm Off Bermuda.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Sept. 10.—A great storm is prevailing off here. There is a heavy southerly gale, which is increasing rapidly. The barometer is 29.74 and falling.

The British battleship Dominion reported by wireless message at 11 o'clock yesterday morning that she was fifty-two miles outside and was unable to reach port.

The Codex Upsal.

The Codex Upsal differs from every other known manuscript in the fact that it was written with silver ink on violet parchment, the initials being of gold. The secret of the manufacture of this silver ink is not definitely known, though it is suspected that some solution of the metal was employed in the writing and then subsequently treated with chemicals to give the metallic luster and effect.

The Vellala.

The vellala, a species of jellyfish, is a natural raft, having a membrane which, when erected and spread, serves as a sail.

Hoarseness.

A bit of borax the size of a small pea allowed to dissolve in the mouth will remove hoarseness for a considerable time and is very useful for those who have to sing or speak in public.

Ancient Wisdom.

Anaxagoras, an Athenian philosopher who lived in the fifth century before Christ, taught that wind was the result of rarefaction; that the rainbow was the result of reflection and refraction; that the moon's light was all borrowed from the sun, and that the fixed stars were of immense size and far beyond the sun.

MODEL TOWN OF MONKS

FAMOUS MONASTERY OF TEPL MANAGES HEALTH RESORT.

Marienbad, Popularized By King Edward, Belongs to the Monastery—Big Wealth in the Springs—Abbot and His Assistants Show a Large Capacity For Business—Industries They Are Engaged In.

No one has done more to popularize the famous health resort at Marienbad than King Edward. The partiality shown by King Edward for the Marienbad waters has been the means of greatly enriching one of the most remarkable and wealthy Roman Catholic institutions in the world—the monastery of Tepl, which was founded as far back as 1193.

The whole of Marienbad and an immense area of land stretching right across Bohemia belong to the monastery. The monks run the entire place. Here and there monks have indulged in industrial specialization with excellent results, as in the manufacture of liqueurs; but nowhere else in the world are such a variety of mundane interests in the hands of men who are supposed to be primarily devoted to affairs that concern the next world.

That, however, does not prevent them from being most excellent men of business. Any commission in search of information as to how to run a town properly could not do better than study the methods employed by the monks of Tepl. Under their guidance the prosperity of Marienbad has increased by leaps and bounds. They have erected magnificient buildings, constructed public promenades, cut down hundreds of trees to make pleasant paths through the forests, and have provided many other attractions for the varied tastes of the visitors from all nations who foregather at Marienbad during the summer. "Graft" among them is unknown. There are no "pulls." Everything is done honestly.

Thoroughness in whatever they undertake always has characterized the abbots and monks of Tepl. During the middle ages, when Bohemia was the scene of so many wars and bloody feuds, the abbot of Tepl was a militant churchman who was quite as ready to mount his charger and lead his retainers to battle as he was to celebrate mass or dictate penance to refractory monks.

The abbots and monks of Tepl are up to date in all things. Their sway is absolutely free from the slightest trace of religious intolerance. They display as much zeal in making heretics comfortable as a few centuries ago they showed in making it hot for them. They welcome representatives of every creed, accept their money for the good of Marienbad, and give them good value for it. They do not let religion interfere with business, or business with religion. They have made presents of land for the erection of places of worship for the large numbers of Anglicans, orthodox Greeks, and Jews who visit the watering place.

All the administrative posts are filled by the monks themselves. One monk is inspector of amusements and conducts his department with a thorough comprehension of the tastes of the gayest visitors, making no effort to impose more sacred music upon them than cosmopolitan worldings usually care to listen to. Another monk is inspector of sanitation and thoroughly enforces the maxim that cleanliness is next to godliness. He is assisted by a staff of doctors and sanitary engineers. One monk is inspector of springs and sees to it that the requirements of the public are properly satisfied in his department. All the bathing establishments are supervised by monks. All the extensive farm lands attached to the monastery are managed by the monks.

Some idea of the dimensions of the business operations conducted by the monks may be gathered from the following figures. During the four or five months of the year when Marienbad is frequented by health seeking visitors an average of 50,000 glasses of the waters of the various springs are handed by uniformed attendants to patients every day. The monastery owns and conducts six large public establishments, including mud baths, iron baths, steel baths, and baths the water of which is charged with carbonic acid gas. Apart from the water which is drunk by patients at Marienbad the monastery exports over a million bottles of water of the Marienbad springs every year to all parts of the world.

Another branch of industry conducted by the monks is the extraction of the salt from the waters, which is then pulverized and crystallized and sold in boxes in the form of pills or powders. The monks have erected and conduct a huge hotel called the Teplerhaus, containing accommodation for several hundred guests, a theatre, concert halls, and a casino. The grounds are beautifully laid out in the centre of shady forests, shooting rangers and other establishments for the provision of popular amusements. The monks hire bands to play on the public promenades which they and their predecessors have constructed. Just recently they have presented a large stretch of land in their possession to the Anglo-American Golf club, and the links are the finest in Europe.

Altogether the reign of the monks is, without exception, beneficial to Marienbad and its inhabitants. There is no oppression or industrial sweating. The employes of the monastery, who act as attendants at the public springs and baths and other establishments, are well fed, well clothed, prosperous individuals. The monastery cares for them in their old age, and supplies them with medical attendance when they are sick. The unemployed are provided with well paid work, and the physically infirm are provided with accommodations in cottage homes.

A large number of pauper patients, who come from all parts of the world, with recommendations from responsible persons in their own homes, are provided with board, lodging, and medical attendance at the expense of the monastery, and it is much to the credit of the monks that a considerable number of the visitors thus gratuitously treated are orthodox Jews from Poland.

The monastery is seven miles distant from Marienbad, and looks prosperous with its huge barns and prize oxen. But among themselves the monks are said to live a life of extreme simplicity, occupying stone cells which are equipped with the most primitive wooden furniture, and subsisting on the most frugal fare. It is only when they bestow their generous hospitality on visitors, so visitors are told, that their table is laden with an abundance of good things to eat and drink.

The abbot of Tepl is an important personage indeed, not only in ecclesiastical, but also in political and social circles in Austria. Ecclesiastically he ranks as a bishop and in church his mitre, staff, and throne proclaim the fact. He is the head of the wealthiest church corporation in Austria and has the appointment of all the parish priests in several hundred Bohemian villages. Politically he is a life member of the Austrian house of peers and exercises great electoral influence over the peasant populace of Bohemia. Many of the candidates who are elected to the Austrian legislature from Bohemia are little more than his puppets. As a member of the Marienbad town council, his vote counts as five, which gives him the balance of power in the municipality, and that, judging by results, is no bad thing for Marienbad. There is nothing better than despotism, Carlyle maintained when it is beneficent. There is no affectation of simplicity about the abbot when he stirs abroad. His gorgeous carriage and pair, with liveried servants, proclaim his high rank and great power. When King Edward arrives at Marienbad the abbot is always among the little crowd of notables which gathers at the station to greet him, and looks by far the most imposing personage there.

MRS. RUSSEL SAGE.

Widow of Financier Who Will Dispose of Millions In Charity.

In marked contrast to the late Russell Sage, as we think we knew him, is his widow, Mrs. Sage, who, it is believed, is about to dispense millions in works of charity.

New England traits predominate in the character of the widow of Russell Sage. She was Miss Margaret Olivia Slocum. She took the name Olivia from her great grandmother, who was a direct descendant of Miles Standish. In appearance she is rather tall, and her walk and her manner, in spite of her seventy-seven years, show nervous energy. Her hair is almost snow-white, which accentuates the benignity and calm of her expression.

Common sense, a sense of proportion and kindliness of heart are blended in the ideals of Mrs. Russell Sage. The work which she is to undertake of distributing the accumulation of half a century will not be managed by any sentimentalist.

Russell Sage freely confessed in his life that he was an accumulator, and giving was not suited to his temperament. He vetoed only such of the benefactions which his wife proposed, however, when he was of the opinion that they were not planned on business principles. Mrs. Sage has been conducting her charities in conformity with the ideas inculcated by her husband.

There came under her notice, for instance, an aged man and his wife, who were in need of assistance. The woman was an excellent cook, and her husband had some knowledge of business. She capitalized for them a restaurant in West 166th street. They are accumulating a competence, and instead of feeling that they are pensioners, are happy and independent.

The Millionaire's Offense.

"That millionaire yonder has cheated me out of a fortune."

"How? Wouldn't he let you marry his daughter?"

"Worse than that. He never had a daughter."

The first instance of collaboration in English literature was that of the plays written by Beaumont and Fletcher.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

THE ANCIENT INCAS.

They Knew Neither Idleness Nor Riches Nor Poverty.

The flocks of llamas belonged to the sun and the Inca. It was death to kill one. At certain seasons of the year they were collected from the hills and shorn. Large numbers were sent to supply food for the court and to be used at the religious festivals and sacrifices. Male llamas only were killed. The wool belonged to the Inca and was stored in the government depositories and dealt out according as the people's wants required. In this way they were provided with warm clothing. When they had worked up enough wool into clothing for themselves they were then employed in working up material for the Inca. The distribution of the wool and superintendence of its manufacture were in the hands of officers appointed for the purpose. No one was allowed to be idle. Idleness was a crime and was severely punished.

All the mines belonged to the Inca and were worked for his benefit. The various employments were usually in the hands of a few and became hereditary. What the father was, that the son became. A great part of the agricultural products was stored in granaries scattered up and down the country and was dealt out to the people as required. It will thus be seen that there was no chance for a man to become rich, neither could he become poor. The spirit of speculation had no existence there.

THE BLACK BALL.

A Clever Scheme That Was Spoiled In the Drawing.

Two young men in a French village were called on to draw for conscription. One only was wanted to complete the number, and of the two who were to draw one was the son of a rich farmer and the other the child of a poor widow.

The farmer ingratiated himself with the superintendent of the ballot and promised him a present if he could find means to prevent his son from going in the army. In order to accomplish this the official put into the urn two black balls instead of one white and one black ball. When the young men came, he said:

"There are two balls, one black and one white, in the urn. He who draws the black one must serve. Your turn is first," pointing to the widow's son.

The latter, suspecting that all was not fair, approached the urn and drew one of the balls, which he immediately swallowed without looking at it.

"Why," said the superintendent, "have you done that?" How are we to know whether you have drawn a black or a white ball?"

"Oh, that's very easy to discover," was the reply. "Let the other now draw. If I have the black, he must necessarily draw the white one."

There was no help for it, and the farmer's son, putting his hand into the urn, drew the remaining ball, which, to the satisfaction of the spectators, was a black one.

Lizards In the Beer.

A well-known implement agent, while on a visit to Dundalk the other day, went out for a drive with a local man and in the course of the jaunt got out at a creek for a drink. In the water he noticed a number of small lizards and succeeded in catching two or three. On returning to town he called for refreshments in the form of lager, and when the white aproned servitor turned his back dropped a lizard into one of the glasses. Just as his friend raised the glass, says The Dundalk Herald, the joker thought he saw something move in it, and asked him if there was anything in his lager. Sure enough a lizard was there and the glasses were emptied in the spittoons. The barkeeper filled them up again and another lizard was slyly slipped into another glass. Consternation reigned supreme when this one was pointed out, and the man behind the bar was in doubts as to whether he saw snakes or thought he saw them. He tore around for awhile vowing vengeance on the brewer and various other things, but after the jokers considered that enough hot air had escaped to effect the thermometer they put him wise.

A Deer and a Man.

In Westboro, Me., Percy M. Arnold saw a deer the other day. The animal allowed the man to approach it. Arnold threw his arms around the deer's neck. The deer sprang off toward the woods at great speed, and the man was afraid to let go. The deer rushed through bushes and over walls in its endeavor to shake off its strange burden. At last the deer brought up against a tree, and as Mr. Arnold had no wind left after meeting the tree he dropped off. Arnold will be forced to buy a new suit of clothes to replace the tattered rags which the bushes left him, when the doctor allows him out once more.

Bottle Making Machine.

Fourteen years ago a bottle manufacturer, Claude Boucher, in Cognac, France, was forced to close his factory by the continuous strikes and exactions of his employees. He then set to work to invent a machine for the manufacture of bottles. This machine is now in use in various parts of the country. One-quarter of a million bottles are turned out by it daily. A single machine produces 35,000 bottles in twenty-four hours, and any one can learn to run it in a week. The bottles are stronger and look better than those made by the blowers.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew of St. Luke's Church, will meet in the vestry at eight o'clock.

The W. A. will resume its meetings on Thursday at 2.30.

MURRAY STREET.

Rev. Mr. Scott conducted both services at the Murray street Baptist Church yesterday, speaking to large congregations on both occasions.

To-night the Young People's regular consecration meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

To-night the Committee of Arrangements regarding the convention of Ontario and Quebec Baptist churches will meet at Rev. Mr. Scott's.

At 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the Ladies' Aid meets.

At 4 o'clock Tuesday the Ladies' Mission Circle will meet. Part of the time will be utilized in a social way. All ladies of the congregation are invited to attend.

To-morrow evening at 8 o'clock the Willing Workers meet.

Wednesday night prayer meeting at o'clock.

ST. JOHN'S.

Yesterday was a busy and eventful day at St. John's. Rev. Canon Davidson is home again, and all branches of church work were actively engaged. Holy Communion at 8.30 a.m., Matins at 10 a.m., a joyful feature of which was the thoroughly responsive character of the service, the congregation taking up reading and singing with hearty earnestness. At the offertory Arthur Horsfield and Cyril Devey sang sweetly in the duet, "O, Saviour Dear," by Marshall.

Sunday school opened at 3 p.m., with a good attendance, followed by a Strangers' Tea at 5 p.m., in connection with the work of St. Andrew's Brotherhood, which has gone on persistently all the summer. Between 60 and 70 attended, the menu being undertaken by the Girls' Guild, under the direction of Miss Bird'e Dawson, most effectively.

At Evensong the rector preached an earnest song on the words of the Prophet Elisha, "Is it well with thee?" The offertory solo was sung with all expression by Mr. Geo. Chandler, tenor. It was entitled, "O Life Everlasting," the unaccompanied refrain being taken up by a well-balanced quartette, Mrs. R. J. Devey, Mrs. Seward, Mr. Chandler, and Mr. Allen.

It being the last Sunday in St. John's choir, of Professor Milner's sons, Charles, Harry and Albert, the choristers subscribed for a beautifully bound "Oxford" edition of the church services, and hymns, with tunes. After a few words of appreciation from the choirmaster, Mr. R. J. Devey, Canon Davidson made the presentation to each of the boys, voicing the regret of all at their departure, and added many kindly wishes for their welfare in their new home in Kingston, Ont.

PARK STREET.

Southerners who live in the south are not afraid of hot weather. This was in evidence at the south-end Baptist church yesterday. Large congregations assembled. The subject of the morning sermon was "The Process by which Brilliants are Produced," from the text, "Patient in Tribulation."

In the evening the subject treated was "A Climax Reached; What Next?" upon the text "Why shouldest thou be as a man astonied, as a mighty man that cannot save, yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of us; we are called by Thy name, leave us not," Jer. 14, 9.

Monday, B.Y.P.U., subject "The Triumphs of Christianity." Young people in charge.

Tuesday, Ladies' Mission Circle, at p.m., in the church. Miss Maggie Mann, president. Report of special offering for Indian Missions.

Wednesday, public service, the pastor in charge.

Thursday, Quarterly business meeting. A large attendance is particularly requested, as business of importance to each member will be brought up.

WEDDING BELLS

HORSMAN—STEIN.

The home of Mrs. Stein, Grand Road, was the scene of a happy event on Wednesday, September 15th, when in the presence of thirty near relatives, her youngest daughter, Martha E., was united in marriage to Mr. Charles L. Horsman, a prominent resident of our town. Exactly at 12 o'clock, while the wedding march was being played by Miss Pearl Nevin, of Havelock, the bride entered the parlour leaning on the arm of Mr. H. M. Frederick, her brother-in-law, and took her position beside the groom, who stood in front of a bank of beautiful flowers. Soon the nuptial knot was tied by Rev. G. H. Copeland, pastor of the Methodist Church, and the happy couple received the usual congratulations. After this the party partook of a dainty dejeuner. The bride was assisted by Miss Annie Edmondson, of Peterborough, and the groom was supported by Mr. Henry Bakes. The bride was costumed in silk moire and carried a bouquet of bridal roses, and the bridesmaid wore cream cashmere and carried asters and carnations. The bride was presented with many beautiful and costly presents. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome silver tea service; to the bridesmaid, a gold chain and locket; to the groomsman, a pearl crescent stick pin. The bride and groom were driven to the G. T. R. station, where they took the afternoon train for Kingston, Ottawa and Montreal.

Among the out of town guests were: Mrs. W. H. Cunningham, Mrs. E. Walton, Miss Annie Edmondson, and Mr and Mrs. B. M. Frederick, of Peterborough.—Campbellford Despatch.

Whooping Cough.

"My three youngest boys had the whooping cough last winter, and we could get nothing to help them until I sent for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It arrested the coughs at once and they kept right on improving until they were cured at the cost of one dollar. That was not a large bill for so distressing and dangerous an ilment."—Mrs. William Ball, Bracebridge, ont.

Zion is the place where the girls are not bashful. Keep on, girls, in the good old way. Go out into the highways and compel the boys to come in and unite with the League and build up Christian character.—Campbellford ent to Port Hope Guide.

All Stars Won From Shamrocks

In Best Game of the Season at Riverside.

The best ball game this season was played on Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park, between the Shamrocks and All Stars and was witnessed by only about half the attendance that the merits of the game deserved. From start to finish the game was hot, well played and interesting. The seemingly invincibles, in a close contest, went down to defeat by one run made by a great steal by Shaw in the eighth innings. The Shamrocks got nine hits and the All Stars of the City League 7. Pilling struck out 12 and Quinlan, for the Shamrocks, 16.

The total score was 6-5 in favour of the All Stars.

H. Roddy very ably umpired the contest.

The teams were as follows:—

All Stars.		Shamrocks.
Lang	Catcher.	Treanor
Pilling	Pitcher.	Quinlan
Heaslip	First Base.	Graham
Sheridan	Second Base.	Callaghan
Kendry	Short Stop.	Green

LAWN BOWLING

Those members who have not yet played in the Scotch Doubles, are requested to either "play the game or announce their default," otherwise the executive may be forced to withdraw this competition for the season.

There is also a nice consolation prize offered by Mr. Huff, the Hunter street tailor, and unless there is better progress made the officials will have to postpone this also for this season.

FOOTBALL

Dante's Wife.

Gemma Donati, Dante's wife, was a dame of portentous physiognomy and a deep, tragic voice. She henpecked him severely, a fact which perhaps explains the absence of her name from his writings.

Pen Slitting.

The center slit in the pen is cut by a machine which seems almost too thick. It consists of two chisels which barely pass each other when the slit is made, and the exact way in which the pen is poised so as to place the chisels in the proper position for cutting is one of the marvels of penmaking.

The Greeks' Failing.

The Greeks, notwithstanding their genius in other matters, having only a glimmering of the use of the arch, could not construct bridges of any size.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, September 10. — Opening prices to-day were generally above Saturday's close being favourably influenced by the higher prices from London. The announcement of the engagement of $12,000,000 gold in London, for import to New York, stimulated the market. A rise of over 3 points in Republic Steel was the feature, while Atchinson was strong, making a new high record. Copper was well bought and looked like going much higher in the future.

We advise our friends to buy Car Foundry; it will sell above 50. The Government crop report made public at three o'clock, showed the condition of spring wheat at 83.4 and corn 90.2. This is quite bullish on wheat. The market continued strong to the end, which was near the high of the day for the active issues, but at recessions on others, which were under profit-taking pressure.

Our Railways.

The average number of passengers in each railroad train in the United States in 1904 was 50.25. This represents a growth from about 39 a train in 1898, but is still far below the development attained abroad. In 1898 Germany carried an average of 71 persons in each train, and India had the large figure of 189. The development of the electric railway in this country and the frequent train service help to keep down the average. On each of the 212,000 miles of railway in 1904 there were carried an average of 104.-193 passengers. That is to say, the aggregate passenger mileage of the country, according to the Railway World, divided by the mileage of the track, gives the figure named. In Germany, as far back as 1898, this figure was 342,000 persons; in France it was 283,000 in 1897, in India 289,000 and in Austria 214,000. The figures for Great Britain are not obtainable.

Absinth in the Class Room.

An amazing discovery has been made in one of the communal schools of Paris. A class master noticed that after 10 o'clock every morning one of his pupils, a little boy of seven, seemed to become a prey to fits of delirium. He thumped his neighbors and when reproved by the master rolled on the floor shrieking and groaning like one possessed. The child was constantly in the habit of asking leave of absence for a minute or two, and the master had him watched. It was found that he carried a small bottle of absinth in his pocket and took a sip as often as he could escape from the class room. It has been proved that the child's mother filled the bottle for him every morning.

How to Prevent Coughing.

Coughing is the worst thing for a cough, and in most instances of cough there is more coughing than is necessary to subserve the purpose of the cough—i. e., to remove offending material. The following conditions will help one minimize coughing in all instances, while in the milder cases it may stop the cough altogether after a little perseverance: When tempted to cough take a deep breath, filling if possible every air cell, holding it until the warming, soothing effect comes or so long as is reasonable, and mark the mollifying result on the cough, which, even when the latter seems unavoidable, will often be found under control.

Fall Suit Remarks

The Suits of the Season suggest stateliness rather than baggy fullness.

Take the coat for instance; though the shoulders are broad, the lines concave toward the waist, then flare out into long skirts, forming what is called the French Back.

Some of these suits have centre vents with creased side seams. The New Big Lapels tend to give the impression of a broad chest.

A noticeable feature of this long coat is the fact that in lends itself equally well to short or tall men.

Arthur Randlett's Death Accelerated By Neglect Of Those Who Attended

Verdict of the Jury Last Night at the Adjourned Inquest—Request to Have Government Memoralized to Put a Stop to Christian Science Treatments—Coroner Denounces the Doctrine in Strong Language—Refuses to Hear Mr. Todd.

The culmination of the circumstances surrounding the death of Arthur N. Randlett, several weeks ago, at the residence of Mr. R. S. Todd, was reached last night when the jury empanelled to look into the cause brought in a verdict of censure upon the Christian Science leader. No further evidence from what had already been given was received, the Crown considering that the question had been dealt fully with at the preceding investigations. The defence, however was represented by Mr. A. P. Poussette, who asked that Mr. Todd be given a hearing, but was refused. The coroner in referring to the case denounced Christian Science in the strongest terms at his command and hoped that it would soon be eliminated by the Government.

The jury consisted of R. McWhinnie, W. J. Morgan, T. Redpor, T. C. Elliott, J. W. Butcher, Harry Morgan, Wm. Shea, F. Allison, J. O'Shea, Norman K. Reid, F. Garden and A. Johnston.

Request to Hear Mr. Todd.

Mr. Poussette appearing on behalf of Mr. Todd stated that from reports of the previous investigations it was easily seen that the evidence for the defence was not as satisfactorily brought out as it should have been owing to restraints. He could see that the Crown had diligently attempted to show that the death of Randlett was due to the treatment by Christian Science methods. Healing practices conscientiously believed by the sect had been used and he thought it a presumption and unfortunate that the death of the gentleman should be attributed to Mr. Todd anymore than the death of a medical doctor's patient should be attributed to him. In view of these assertions he felt that the jury should hear Mr. Todd and the treatment he exercised in dealing with his patient.

A Strenuous Objection.

The coroner emphatically refused and stated in strongest language that the jury had heard enough rot from Mr. Todd. His previous statements that he had offered up prayers to the Almighty and to Mrs. Eddy for $5 per week had been heard and he considered that to listen to it again for even one minute would be more than useless. It was clear to him that Randlett had been taken into the house of Mr. Todd merely to be robbed of his money. He objected listening to him for a moment and even intimated that insanity was the cause of the belief in which they were led to harbour.

Beyond His Rights.

Mr. Poussette thought the cornor had gone beyond his jurisdiction when he spoke so vociferously against Christian Science. The matter of importance to be considered, he said, was the cause of the death of the deceased and not whether the doctrine was right or wrong.

These people, he remarked conscientiously believe in the doctrine of healing by Divine power as well as in the ages long gone by and thought the coroner had no right to denounce their belief so strongly.

"Are they compos mentis?" asked the coroner.

"Well, it's a question whether the coroner is compos mentis, or whether they are," returned the counsel.

They believed that it was just as reasonable for men to heal the sick by Divine power now as well as in the days of Christ. It could be demonstrated, he declared beyond a doubt that many have been healed by Christian Science. There was no doubt those people are conscientious in what they are doing. With regard to the money, stated to be stolen, that was a mere paltry sum, he remarked, and scarcely sufficient to pay for the keeping of the man. He therefore submitted to the jury that no reflection should be cast upon Mr. Todd concerning his death.

Not for a Minute.

There had been evidence that the gentleman was better at one time afterwards than when he came before Mr. Todd for treatment, suggested the counsel.

"Who's going to give that evidence?" asked the coroner.

"I understand it has been given before."

"No, it has not," declared the coroner.

"Go into the box then, Mr. Todd," said Mr. Poussette.

"No, I wouldn't listen to Mr. Todd for one minute," was the final retort.

Nefarious Robbery.

Mr. Poussette went on to demonstrate that medical men and lawyers as well as others make mistakes and in the case of the former very often six feet below the surface of the earth was the result.

But the coroner stood firm in his conviction and characterized such actions as Mr. Todd's as nefarious robbery upon poor innocent people. It was a scandal and a shame, he maintained, to allow such persons at large hypnotising and hoodwinking the public out of their hard earned cash and acting in a manner worse than heathens.

Case of Manslaughter.

If he had locked a man dangerously ill with typhoid fever, in his house for three days giving him no medical attendance and nothing but a few prayers and some food he would have considered it manslaughter in the first degree. He hoped that the Government would act in such a manner to put a sudden stop to such a doctrine and he was certain it would.

The Jury's Verdict.

The case was left in the hands of the jurymen and the chamber was cleared of its large gathering and re-opened over an hour afterwards when the following verdict was read by the clerk :—

We your jury empanelled to find the cause of death of Arthur Randlett, find that the deceased came to his death from hemorrage, caused by Typhoid fever and are of the opinion that the death was accelerated by neglect and want of proper attention by those in charge, and would suggest that the Government be memoralized to enact such legislation as will enable such cases to be properly dealt with.

Bank of Commerce Enlarges Office

Former Canada Life Offices Are Being Taken In.

In a few months time the Bank of Commerce will have a modern and spacious building at the corner where it is at present located. The bank buildings will then include the former offices of the Canada Life, to the west, which company is now occupying the late premises of Mr. Ozias Laplante.

An apartment the full length of the present bank, and about twenty feet wide, will be added, and the whole building will then be fitted up with round counters, ladies' rooms and all modern conveniences.

The work will be completed in the course of three or four months, ready for business with the bank's patrons, and will be one of the most handsome offices to be found in the city.

Bell Telephone Co. To Erect Building

And For This Purpose Has Purchased Forty Feet of the O'Sullivan Property on Hunter Street--A Pretentious Structure Will Be Erected.

A real estate deal, which is of special interest for a number of reasons, has just been completed by Messrs. J. J. McBain & Co. for the Bell Telephone Co., who have purchased forty feet of the property owned by Mrs. O'Sullivan, on Hunter street, west of D. Bellegham's property, and it is understood that the company intends to erect a substantial and handsome structure on the newly-acquired property, in the near future. It is taken to be the intention of the company to erect a new building to be used as a central exchange office, and this now building will be a pretentious structure. It indicates an important advance step on the part of the Bell Company, and assures to the city an improved telephone service.

Messrs. McBain and Son are to be complimented upon having successfully conducted this important transfor, which, with the new building, will greatly enhance the value of the adjoining property. A good price was paid for the land by the purchasing company.

Woodmen Of World Record Initiation

C. A. Hodgins, Head Consul Commander, Paid Visit to Sherwood Camp Last Night--25 Applications for Membership.

Peterborough Woodmen of the world held a field night last night, when twenty-five applications for membership were received and thirteen candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Woodcraft. Mr. C. C. Hodgins, M.P.P., of Lucan, Head Consular, Commander of the Order, was present at the meeting last night and was an interested spectator of the work of the degree team. Mr. Hodgins, in a short address, referred to the progress made by the Order in general, and by the Camp in particular. He complimented the members of Sherwood Camp upon the excellent work done in the past, and congratulated Mr. Copeland, the deputy for Central Ontario, through whose efforts the increase in membership had been secured.

Mr. Copeland also gave an address, in which he expressed his appreciation of the efforts of the local members in assisting him to build up the membership. He referred to the splendid condition of the Order.

Mr. Copeland will spend some time in the city, working in the interests of the Sherwood Camp.

MR. M. W. PORTER ENLARGES HIS BUSINESS INTERESTS

Mr. M. W. Porter's meat business has expanded so rapidly of late that he has found it necessary to secure larger premises, and with this in view he has bought the business of Mr. W. Morgan, with premises directly north of his present meat market. He will run a partition across the present barber shop, and the rear half will be turned into the meat market, while the front half will still be used as a barber shop, and Mr. W. Morgan has been retained as manager for that branch of the business. Mr. Porter is to be congratulated upon his success since he embarked upon the meat business.

Rev. J. G. Brown to Speak at Park Street Church.

Rev. J. G. 103 PUPILS ARE IN ONE ROOM

There are a lot of parents in this city who like to send their children to the South Central school.

Mr. W. H. Hill, of the Board of Education, is authority for the statement, that in one room there are 103 pupils in attendance, and one teacher has to manage this bunch of active humanity. Mr. Hill states that this is just about three times as many children as there should be in one room, and it is pretty safe betting that the teacher is of the same opinion. A goodly number of these 103 children will, when the new school is completed, have to walk from Sherbrooke street, or north, to Romaine street.

Men's Guild Elects Officers

Annual Meeting of St. Luke's Guild Held Last Night.

Last night the annual meeting of the Men's Guild of St. Luke's Church was held in the guild rooms on Hunter street east. The president, Rev. G. F. Warde, presided. A large number of members and several new members were present, and the enthusiasm with which the work of the guild was discussed and entered upon augurs well for a useful and pleasant "bill of fare" during the season. The proceedings were opened with prayer by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who was present.

After reading the minutes of the last meeting, the following gentlemen were appointed a committee to meet to-night at the residence of Mr. Harry Neil, at 8.30 o'clock, to make arrangements for an entertainment to be held in the near future: Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Messrs. J. J. Turner, jr., Harry Neil and Arthur Kingdon.

The rector promised to give, during the season, a humourous and an historical lecture. It was decided that the rooms should be kept open every night from 7 until 11 o'clock, and a caretaker was engaged to look after the keeping and heating of the rooms.

The sidesmen were appointed for the months of September and October, and plans were outlined regarding the social life of the members and adherents of St. Luke's Church.

The election of officers resulted as follows :

Hon. President, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A.
Hon. Vice-Presidents, Col. J. Z. Rogers and Ald. Adams.
Patronesses—Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mrs. G. F. Wardo, and Mrs. T. H. G. Denne.
President, Mr. G. F. Wardo.
Vice-President, Mr. Arthur Kingdon.
Secretary, Mr. Harry Potter.
Treasurer, Mr. Hugh McWha.
Caretaker, Mr. Fred Norris.

The meeting was closed with prayer and benediction by the rector.

Committee Will Discuss The Plans

Two City Bodies Meet To-night --The Isolation Hospital Question.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council will meet to-night at 8 o'clock, when the new fire alarm system will be discussed.

The Board of Health also meets to-night to take up the Isolation Hospital question, which, it is hoped, will be finally settled to-night.

The lot of a Peterborough alderman is scarcely enviable, judging from the number of committee meetings he has to attend during the warm weather.

PURITY OF MILK SUPPLY.

The Examiner is pleased to note that its frequent demands for measures that will permit of official supervision, regulation and inspection of our milk supply, have borne fruit. The action last night of the special committee of the council appointed to deal with the regulation of the city's milk supply, in giving instruction to the city's solicitor to prepare a bylaw, to license and regulate milk vendors, and to provide for efficient inspection, is in every way commendable, though it has not been taken a day too soon. The sad records of our cemeteries bear the names of a large number of infants, popularly assumed to have died from that conveniently general term, "summer disease." It is very probable, and physicians confirm the statement, that the quality of cow's milk, the general food for infants, has no remote connection with these deaths. Purity of our water supply is of great importance, but purity of our milk is of even greater moment. The purity of either can only be ascertained by inspection. If contaminated milk is diluted with contaminated water, the danger is doubled. Considerations of the public health outweigh considerations of gain. They will weigh

As beaten gold or sodden clay
Against the downy covering
That plumes the callow eaglet's wing.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Cobalt's water powers have gone the way of Bradley's Falls. There will soon be nothing left of Mr. Whitney's power policy but wind. Even that has been lessening lately, says The Globe.

The Guillotine Record In East Northumberland

"Resignations" of Liberal Government Officials--Contrast With Practice of Dominion Government.

If Hon. Dr. Willoughy were a full-fledged Minister, instead of a Minister without portfolio, there is no telling how far his slaughter of the innocents — by the grace of the Whitney Government — in East Northumberland, would extend. As it is, this beautiful section of the province, is strewn with the wrecks of "Grit" officials, who have become anathema maranatha.

The summary dismissal of Mr. David Robertson, Division Court Clerk at Warkworth, suggests some reflections as to the record for spoliation in the riding under consideration, a record which demonstrates that the "spoils" system, borrowed from our Yankee cousins, is undisguisedly in full play.

There is a great contrast between the methods of dealing with officials, as practiced by the past Liberal Governments of Ontario, and those of the present Conservative administration.

The predecessor of Mr. Robertson, whose head dropped into the basket only a few days ago, was the late R. P. Hurlbut, who had held the office about thirty-five years, having been appointed by a Conservative Government before even Sir Oliver Mowat came into his long lease of power. During all that time, Mr. Hurlbut was undisturbed in his office, the fact of his being a Conservative not being used as a reason for his dismissal. True, Mr. Hurlbut was a man who attended to his duties, and refrained from politics, a circumstance which should be borne in mind, in reference to Mr. Robertson, to be referred to later. Not only was Mr. Hurlbut not disturbed in his office, but the Liberal Government otherwise treated him kindly, appointing him issurer of marriage licenses, and a notary public. (He was a conveyancer.) Mr. Hurlbut held office till death relieved him, about four years ago.

The Liberal Government naturally appointed a Liberal to fill an office which had been held by a Conservative for thirty-five years. Mr. Robertson had been a teacher, and resigned this position to accept his new office. Since his appointment Mr. Robertson has studiously kept himself aloof from party politics, and has done his duty faithfully and efficiently.

When the Whitney Government came to office, Mr. Robertson received the assurance of local Conservatives that he would not be disturbed. Therefore, on Sept. 1st, Mr. Robertson's dismissal came as a bolt out of a clear sky. He was curtly informed that his "resignation" had been accepted, and his successor appointed. Mr. Robertson had sent in no "resignation," and had no idea that his services were to be dispensed with. He had done his work well; there had been no complaint.

His dismissal came as a surprise to Mr. Robertson, but not to his successor, Mr. H. J. Walker, for whom the way had been paved. Last June, Mr. Walker, who had for years, occupied the position of President of the Conservative Association, resigned. He resigned that position with, as it is fair to infer, an eye to his new position. He has been a rabid partizan. He is in comfortable circumstances, a retired hardware merchant, and does not need the office, in a financial sense, while to Mr. Robertson the office was his living.

East Northumberland is a good place to use to illustrate the difference in methods in dealing with officials, between the Liberal Government, in Ottawa, and the Conservative Government, in Toronto. The Dominion Government has retained Conservative Government officials in office since they themselves took office, while, by contrast, the Whitney Government's term — (not yet two years old) — has so far been marked by a red trail of decapitated "Grit" officials.

The Colborne post office has been occupied by a Conservative — a brother of Mr. Ed. Cochrane, M. P.— for the past fifteen years. He has been undisturbed.

The post office at Hastings has been in the Fowlds family, as it is now, since Hastings was a post office. No "resignation" here.

In Warkworth, Israel Humphries, not a Conservative, but a "dyed-in-the-wool "Tory, has been postmaster for between forty and fifty years, and is still postmaster.

In Campbellford, the post office has been held for years by Mr. Archer, a Conservative.

Against this partial record of the Liberal policy and decent practice of the Liberal Government in dealing with officials, may be set also a partial list of "resignations" —dismissals without cause, except to make places for Conservative "grafters:"

Colonel W. Browne, registrar of East Northumberland, was summarily dismissed upon a patently manufactured charge, a high-handed act, both in itself, and the way of doing it, which produced province-wide indignation.

Mr. E. W. D. Butler, Division Court clerk of Brighton, was made to walk the plank.

Mr. Brintnell of Colborne, Division Court Clerk, had to "resign" his seat for one of the faithful.

Patrick Gallagher, inspector of licences for fourteen or fifteen years, a good officer, against whom there had been no word of complaint, was dismissed to give the office to a man who had been trusted to do "work" for the party for years. He is called "Provincial" Inspector, but his duties are merely local, since he takes the place of a local inspector.

Alexander Wilson of Hastings, a Liberal inspector, a good official, and a man of integrity and above reproach, was dismissed, but even local Conservatives raised such an outcry over the high-handed piece of work that the medical Minister was compelled to recommend his reappointment by the Whitney Government.

It is stated that local Conservatives who are self-respecting and open to appeals to fair play, denounce strongly the application of the spoils system in the case of the latest victim, Mr. Robertson, following, as it does, on a long list of arbitrary dismissals, which, it is evident, were not committed in the interests of the public service, but in the in the interests of partizan politics.

The above facts are presented in order that the impartial public may have means of drawing their own conclusions.

Home From Voyage To Lands Across The Sea

Mr. F. D. Kerr Arrived in the City Last Night—Was Accompanied to the Old Country by His Brother and Mr. Gerald Rackham--Some Impressions and Experiences of the Tour--France Was Also Visited.

After a five weeks' pleasant tour through the Old Lands across the Atlantic, Mr. F. D. Kerr returned to the city last night delighted with his many experiences, unique and interesting as they have been. This morning Mr. Kerr was busily engaged receiving recognitions from many friends after his absence of almost two months from Peterborough. He was accompanied on the long journey by his brother, Mr. W. F. Kerr, of Cobourg, County Crown Attorney of Northumberland and Durham, and Mr. Gerald K. Rackham of this city. The latter, however, intends to remain a short time longer in England so did not return with the rest.

The party left Montreal on July 19th by the Allan Turbine steamer, the Victoria, built scarcely a year ago, and recrossed by the same boat from Liverpool, arriving in Montreal on Saturday last. Both passages were greatly enjoyed, everything being found as comfortable as a person could desire. Climatic conditions throughout the whole itinerary were almost perfect, contrary to the usual ideas regarding them. The journey through the old lands including Ireland, England, Scotland and France, were full of interest and through scarcity of time many of the most interesting were left unvisited.

Home of Lorna Doone.

Among the most beautiful spots in England as well as a place with an historical tinge attached to it, which Mr. Kerr and party visited, was the west coast of Devonshire county, made famous by Blackmore in Lorna Doone. There untamed deer still roam about the moor, making it an ideal location for the hunter. Here also Mr. Kerr met a tenant farmer who tilled 900 acres of soil an extraordinary circumstance there.

English Courtesy.

The courtesy with which they were treated on their tour by all with whom they came in contact could not have been surpassed. One of the most pleasant experiances was the meeting of Major Hamar Greenwood, M. P., for the city of York, Major in the King's Colonists, and an old Whitby boy. Through his courtesy and kindness the party visited the Houses of Lords and Commons, where the prominent legislators of British laws, were pointed out, and their unique characteristics cited. It might also be interesting to mention here that Major Greenwood arrived at his home in Whitby a few days ago, where he as tendered a magnificent reception.

Scotland's Capital.

Paris is certainly a beautiful place, remarked Mr. Kerr, but, in his opinion, it could not surpass the rare picturesqueness of Edinburgh, old

MR. F. D. KERR

Who Returned Last Night From a Trip to the Old Country.

Scotland's capital, where the party spent a few pleasant days.

Peterboro's Canoes

Another unique experience in the itinerary was a couple of canoe voyages on the Thames river in Peterborough canoes. Peterborough is known to Old Countrymen more by its canoes than anything else; Quaker Oats, however, was another important reminder of the city, while the fame of the hydraulic lift lock has scarcely yet travelled extensively in the old country.

Extensive Parks.

Phoenix Park in London, was also among the rare beauty spots along the tour. Mr. Kerr was favourably impressed with the foresight of the people of old London, in procuring and preserving immense breathing spaces by great parks, and he believed that the cities and town of Canada could not do a better thing than take a lesson from their grandparents in this regard.

A Welcome Visitor.

A welcome weekly visitor in London, while Mr. Kerr was there, was the Peterborough Weekly Examiner with the news of all the live topics on the minds of the citizens at home.

Luncheon at Oxford.

A singular feature of the tour was a luncheon at Trinity College Oxford, at which there were present four Australians, two New Zealanders, three Americans and three Canadians. This was given by the President of the College under the auspices of the Atlantic Union with a view to bring together in a social manner the English speaking peoples of the Empire and of the Globe.

Transportation Facilities.

A fact which impressed the party probably most of all was the ease and facility with which large crowds were handled by the railways. The absence of noise and over-crowding around the stations was particularly noticeable. The despatching of trains from London was a subject of admiration. Also the interest of Old Country men in Canada and Canadian development was another source of admiration. Almost every person met with had a more or less near relative residing in Canada.

Canada First.

With all the greatness and historical connections of the old land, yet Mr. Kerr still maintains there is no place like Canada, especially to a Canadian, and was glad to again land upon Canadian soil.

City May Have To Fight The Bell Telephone Co.

Will Not Agree to the Modifications Proposed—Look Upon the Agreement as Changed as Giving a Perpetual Franchise of the Streets.

The negotiations between the city and the Bell Telephone Company, in reference to the latter's burying their wires underground, is not yet at an end.

With the visit of Mr. Smith of the Bell Company, it was thought that the trouble was over, as an agreement that was satisfactory to the council, and apparently so to the company, was then drawn.

Yesterday, however, a letter was received from the company, suggesting modifications to the agreement submitted to them.

A meeting of the committee of the whole council was called last night to discuss the matter, and it was decided not to agree to the changes proposed. It was stated by some of the speakers that if the terms proposed by the company were agreed to by the council, that it would give the Bell Company a perpetual franchise of the streets.

The letter from the Bell Company was as follows.

"The General Manager, Mr. MacFarlane, has suggested that I take up with you direct as solicitor for the city of Peterborough, the question of the proposed contract or agreement between the company and the city.

"I have examined the last draft contract which, in the main, is quite satisfactory to the company, but which contains certain provisions to which exception might, I think, fairly be taken. I notice that the limit of fifteen years, during which the company should have the right to operate its underground work, has been eliminated, and the right is apparently conferred as a perpetual one, subject, of course, to the granting of franchise to any other companies, and to limitation or revision by the Board of Railway Commissioners for cause.

"I find, however, towards the end of page 3 of the agreemnet, certain words are included which would apparently contradict the perpetual nature of this grant. In this clause, after reciting that, provided the company performs and keeps the covenants and agreements assumed, it will have the right of using the specified streets of the city for the purpose of placing ducts or conduits therein to carry on its telephone business, the statement is made that nothing in the contract shall limit or affect any rights which the corporation has or may hereafter have, or which may be conferred on the Board of Railway Commissioners, in or relating to the streets, or the right to limit the rights and privileges of the company, or the terms for which the privileges conferred may be enjoyed.

"It seems to me that if the contract is to be of any real value or assure to the company the right to maintain ducts and conduits placed underground at great expense, the privileges conferred should not be interfered with except upon breach by the company of the contract or some other cause deemed sufficient by an independent tribunal such as the Railway Commission. I think it is only reasonable that the words 'on the terms for which the privileges hereby conferred may be enjoyed as herein provided' should be struck out. I also notice at the end of the agreement a proviso that the rights of the company to maintain its conduits, cables or wires in the city of Peterborough may be terminated or amended by the Board of Railway Commissioners on application of the municipality. The proviso is also objectionable in that it is too sweeping. The company has no objection whatever to appointing the Board of Railway Commissioners as arbitrator or judge to decide any disagreement or dispute which may arise under the the contract with the power to amend, restrict, or even terminate the right granted, if serious violation of the conditions or terms of the agreement be proved, or any valid cause for such charge be shown.

"I would suggest that the following words be added to the last clause of the agreement, 'And proof of the breach by the company of any of the terms and conditions of the present agreement, or for any other cause deemed sufficient by the Board. The company is anxious to meet the wishes of the authorities in every possible manner, and the placing of the wires underground would naturally be much more to the advantage of the citizens than to the company. I think it is only right, therefore, that if the company goes to great expense, as it necessarily will, in doing this work, the maintenance, if properly exercised, should be assured.

"I would be obliged if you would let me know, at your earliest convenience whether the proposed amendments will be satisfatory to yourself and the civic authorities.

LAWRENCCE MACFARLANE."

Mayor Best remarked that the communication practically set aside the agreement made with Mr. Smith. The company wanted the right to take unconditional charge of the streets.

City Solicitor Hall said that to agree to the terms would be giving the company a perpetual franchise of the streets, not to be broken.

Ald. McWilliams said that the company was asking something that the council could not give. It was a request for a perpetual franchise. There was no use expecting the company to agree to a limitation of their claims. The clause in question was a most essential part of the agreement. The council couldn't ask them to give up privileges in Peterborough that they have all over the country, but they shouldn't give them rights here that they have not at present. The council was getting nothing but what was to the company's advantage as well as the city's. The Bell Company was asking for the same rights as the street railway company for an unlimited time.

Mayor Best said that the company was determined to hold on to all they had, and were trying to get more.

Ald. McWilliams stated that he thought the new clause provided that the company could not bury their wires or make any extensions without the consent of the council, and if it were necessary that the city should fight the company before the Railway Commissioners. In order to do this the council should have their agreement in writing.

Mayor Best said that all municipalities were endeavouring to get back the rights they had lost under the charter to the Bell Company.

Acting on the suggestion of the City Solicitor, it was moved by Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the City Solicitor be instructed to notify the Bell Telephone Company that the council cannot agree to the modification suggested by Mr. McFarlane.—Carried.

There were present Mayor Best, in the chair; Ald. Mason, McWilliams, Hicks, Elliott, Graham, Tovey, Ball, Johnston, Wilson and McIntyre.

Does Oil Exist In Ennismore?

Oily Substance Has Been Flowing From Bank All Summer.

Some weeks ago a reference was made in The Examiner to the discovery of oil on the premises of Hickson Bros., of Ennismore. Mr. Hickson called at the office yesterday evening, and in another column of this issue appears an advertisement asking for prospectors to investigate the situation.

The owners of the property, as well as many others who have seen it, believe that petroleum exists there, as during this summer an oily substance hasb een continually running from the side of a high bank on the Hickson farm.

It is quite probable that the place will be investigated in a short time, and if oil should be struck in Ennismore it will certainly be the means of bringing distinction to that section of the county.

Mr. Todd On Jury's Verdict At Inquest

Christian Science Demonstrator Writes Letter to the Press In Reference to the Arthur Randlett Case—Thanks Jury for Mild Verdict.

Editor Examiner.

Now that the inquest, or, perhaps, more properly expressed, mock trial, over the death of Arthur Randlett is over, will you allow me, through your valuable paper, to express my sincere thanks to the jury for their very mild verdict.

While I had no fear of the law, knowing as I do that our beloved British laws only punish wrong-doing, and I had obeyed the laws of righteousness, therefore had nothing to fear.

Yet when we consider the deadly threat and determination of Dr. Gray (occupying the position of a coroner) to make a case against me, I consider the jury brought in a mild verdict. Especially after the strong and vigorous appeal of Dr. Gray for a verdict of manslaughter, and also his refusal to hear evidence from Christian Scientists, we must say that their verdict is mild. There is, it is true, the little insinuation of neglect, which is quite correct owing to the evidence given. I was the principal witness, and as all who were there know, was refused the right or privilege to relate what I know about the case. Had the jury got the facts they would have seen that there was no neglect on the part of those in attendance. As to the "recommendation to Parliament for legislation (to handle Christian Science," I think that is timely, and will be hailed with delight by all Christian Scientists, knowing as we do that a law to handle it will be a law of righteousness, and consequently a law of freedom from the laws that are now hampering and hindering the good work that the Bible insists on being done, and must be done if the Kingdom of Heaven is ever to come on earth, and God's will be done.

Now, sir, I believe it is due to suffering humanity (and all lovers of their fellow men, that they should know that this case has been a straight blow at Christian Science by medical doctors. Dr. Boucher stated under oath that he reported the case because he (Arthur Randlett) was treated by Christian Scientists. If they wanted the truth of the case why did they not summon those of my household? (There were two young men in our house, rooming across the hall from Mr. Randlett) all the time he was there. Both saw him and talked to him the last day. I attended court last night prepared to relate the whole case, and witnesses with me to prove my statement. I could have shown that this man received wonderful help from Christian Science treatment. On Tuesday, in answer to a question, he said, "I feel that I have come through a very heavy sickness in a short time," to all appearances doing well. On Wednesday afternoon he took a bad turn. Thursday, I am sorry to say, he passed out from an exceedingly heavy hemmorrhage of the bowels, which I regret very much.

No one outside of his immediate friends has felt it worse then myself, for I feel that it should not have happened under Science treatment. I have no excuse to make, only to feel and hear the rebuke of the Great Healer, Jesus, to His disciples when they failed "lack of faith," (understanding.) In my sixteen years' practice, this is the first case of fever of any kind to prove fatal, and some cases of typhoid taken out of the care of doctors (what they called typhoid), and they are alive to-day to tell their story. While I have to humbly admit the failure on my part, the medicine which is "Divine Mind," never fails, therefore we must try and do better by rising into higher and holier living. I believe it is but due to myself, family, and the cause I represent, to state in connection with the insinuation that I took the man's money, that I was prepared last night to prove that the money was counted over twice before I took possession of it, and I gave account of every cent I received. I was instructed by the undertaker to take charge of all his things.

In answer to inquiry, I received a letter from a near friend of his in Lowell, Mass., thanking me for the work I had done, and said that he (Randlett) had $15 from last pay, besides what he got from the company, not more than about $50. The hotel clerk cashed a cheque, he said, on Tuesday, for $35, and $15 would aggregate $50. He paid him on Wednesday, leaving to come to my house $13.50. I credited him with $4. This should clear the mist, if there is any.

Now, sir, if you do not think this too lengthy, I would like to make an apology to Dr. Gray and the public for striking back. Jesus said, "when ye (are reviled, revile not again." When Dr. Gray said I confiscated the money, I wrongly struck struck back by saying "that is not true $5 you confiscated." This I admit was wrong, and I apologise for so doing.

I was told by what I considered good authority that the doctor charged Mr. Lombard $5 for certificate and $5 for transportion, which he had no right to do. If this report is not true the doctor can contradict it through the press.

I have been forced to write this owing to having been refused a hearing at the trial.

The public can judge if this has been a proper inquest or not. Men went out of the court room declaring "If this is British law I don't want to live here."

Thanking you for space,

Sincerely,

R. J. TODD.

FARM HANDS IN DEMAND NEAR PETERBOROUGH CITY

Mr. C. Blewett, of the new real estate firm of Blewett and O'Brien, informs The Examiner that recently a strong demand has developed for farm lands in the vicinity of Peterborough, and a number of farms have been sold at good prices. With the progress that this city has made and is making, a farm near here is becoming a very valuable asset, and no trouble is experienced in disposing of any property within reasonable distance, at good prices. Farmers are coming here from all directions, from Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Havelock and Marmora, and are after land near this city.

The Peterborough market is recognized as one of the best farmers' markets in the Province. There is always a good demand for all the produce offered for sale—which fact no doubt has considerable to do with the activity in farm lands.

ROBT. KERR TO OPEN A MANUFACTURERS' AGENCY

Mr. Robt. Kerr left the city this morning for Winnipeg where he will open business as manufacturers agent. He has secured the selling agency for a number of lines of goods and expects to place a force of salesmen on the road, covering the whole of the West. Mr. Kerr is a firm believer in the future of the great West, and expects—and with good reason—to do a big business in his new line.

Mr. Kerr will be greatly missed in Peterborough, where he has lived for a number of years, and gained a host of friends. He was active in curling and lawn bowling, having held many offices in both of these clubs, and was ever ready to give his time to further interests of these and other sports with which he was identified.

He was secretary of the West Peterborough Liberal Association and was prominent in business circles in the city.

CAPTAIN COOK AND AUSTRALIAN NATIVES.

So well did the Australian natives know the medicinal virtues of certain roots and herbs that when first discovered by the great English navigator, Captain Cook, they were practically free from disease.

Australia, that mysterious country — that land of gold — is exceptionally rich in medicinal plants. It was in this wonderful country that Bileans for Biliousness, he great herbal remedy for all liver and stomach disorders, were first discovered and used.

It is well known that liver medicines hitherto in use, mostly contain bismuth, mercury, and other harmful, mineral products, and rely upon these ingredients for their temporary effects. But these mineral constituents are very injurious, if taken for long, and produce such effects as that of loosening the teeth, causing the hair to fall out, etc. Bileans are entirely different and superior. They are purely vegetable, and contain no trace of any such harmful ingredients as the above. In taking them there is no fear whatever of any harmful secondary effects.

Not only are Bileans superior by virtue of their vegetable nature, but being the product of modern scientific research, they are thoroughly up-to-date. They do not merely purge, giving temporary relief only, and leaving the patients weakened, like the out-of-date so-called remedies, of forty or fifty years ago, which, as already stated, contain probably aloes, mercury, and other harmful drugs. Bileans, without the slightest discomfort, prompt the liver and digestive organs, to act in nature's normal way, leaving those organs strengthened and stimulated to continue the performance of their duties. They produce a gentle action of the bowels, curing or preventing constipation, cleansing the stomach, and ridding the system of all impurities.

Bileans are a certain cure for headache, constipation, piles, liver, trouble, indigestion and all digestive disorders, female ailments, skin eruptions, biliousness, sick headache, bad taste in the mouth, foul breath, dizziness, fainting, buzzing noises in the head, feelings of uncomfortable fullness even after a light meal, wind pains, anaemia, debility, etc. They also act as a general tonic, and improve the tone of the whole system. Druggists sell Bileans at 50 cents a box. Our readers are offered the privilege of a free test of this world-reputed medicine. Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and post it with a one cent stamp to pay return postage, to the Bilean Co., 58 Colborne street, Toronto. A free sample box will be mailed you.

A Solitary Case At Police Court

Wave of Morality Passes Over the City.

A wave of morality appears to be passing over the city. Yesterday there were none to answer to charges at the police court, and this mornbut a solitary individual stood before the court. This was Wm. Johnston, an Englishman, who spent last evening in the cells charged with being drunk and disorderly. He pleaded guilty to the magistrate's query, but but informed his Worship it was the first time in many a long year since he was in such a situation and would be much obliged if he were allowed to go this time. Two dollars to be paid forthwith or 10 days in jail, was the salute, and the money was paid.

Good Prospects For Rebekahs

A Flourishing Lodge Will be Instituted Here.

Arrangements are well under way to organize a Rebekah Lodge of Oddfellows in Peterborough, on Tuesday, October 2nd. The committee will canvass for members during the next few weeks, and it is expected that the Lindsay Degree Team will assist at the institution. Prominent members of the Order will also be present, probably including Grand Master Johnston of Toronto. It is expected the new lodge will start with a very large membership, and a successful career is assured.

Half Price For The Coppers

But He Could Not Get Par for Them in Lethbridge.

Coppers don't go in Lethbridge, as the following from the Herald will show:—A man—likely an Easterner—bought 120 coppers for 65 cents last week and tried to get Postmaster Higinbotham to accept them at full value but as coppers don't circulate here the Postmaster wouldn't take them. The speculator doesn't know what to do with his investment now. He had better wait until his next trip east and take them along to have a good time in Ontario.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology Has Proved That Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure, until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally, baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

EVELEEN DUNMORE AND HER POSTAL CARDS.

Miss Eveleen Dunmore, the dainty, pretty prima donna of the C. S. Williams Company's comedy success, "The Arrival of Kitty," which will be seen here on Saturday night, has contracted what is known as the postal card fad, and in the dramatic profession she has been called "the postal card girl." She was probably one of the first to take up the fad of collecting postal cards and she is now the proud possessor of eighty-one thousand four hundred and ninety-five of these postal creations and almost every country in the world is represented.

Miss Dunmore hopes to obtain a sufficient number of cards before the close of the tour of 1906-07 to enable her to hold the record for souvenir postal card collectors. The fad has become so contagious with her many girl friends in the theatrical profession that they vie with each other in sending her cards every day, and her mail has become so large she will soon be compelled to employ a secretary.

A Summer School For Chemong Park

Amalgamation of All Schools in Bay of Quinte Conference Decided on at Last—300 Young People Will Gather at Chemong Park in 1907—An Important Annual Gathering.

There is a strong probability that next year Chemong Park will be chosen as the site for the session of the Summer School. In fact, it has already been chosen, and the school will be conducted there if arrangements can be made.

Recently a meeting of the Conference Executive on Summer Schools of the Bay of Quinte Conference, Methodist Church, was held at Bowmanville, and the question of the amalgamation of all summer schools in this conference was discussed. It was considered advisable to hold one central school for the Conference, and on account of its central location, the beautiful Chemong Park was chosen, and a committee was appointed to ascertain if arrangements could be made to secure the use of the park for the school in 1907.

This year three very successful schools were held at Bobcaygeon, Whitby and Twelve o'Clock Point, and each of these was attended by considerably over one hundred young people, the sessions continuing for about a week, during which the young people camped or occupied cottages at the locations of the schools, and a number of meetings were held, at which addresses were given on matters of special interest to young people connected with Epworth Leagues.

The summer schools are recognized as established institutions in the Methodist Church, and they are becoming each year more successful.

If the school next year is held at Chemong, as it will be if the owners of the park are agreeable, there will be in attendance over three hundred young persons, who will spend about a week, the usual length of the sessions.

The committee appointed to deal with the matter will at once take the matter up with the owners of the park.

Will Build Pavements Where Needed The Most

Board of Works Decides To Adopt That Policy—Extension of Dalhousie Street Was Discussed at Short Session.

The Board of Works Committee of the City Council held a short meeting last night, before the session of the Committee of the Whole. The most important matter that came up was in connection with the building of granolithic sidewalks.

Chairman Hicks stated that sidewalks were being asked for where they were not needed, and suggested that new pavements be built first in the sections where they were absolutely needed.

This suggestion met with the approval of the rest of the Board, and on motion of Ald. Wilson, it was decided that pavements be built on Water street and George street north, where needed, before carrying out the work provided for in the last resolution.—Carried.

A communication was read from W. Harper, complaining of water in the lane near his house on Charlotte street. The matter was referred to the City Engineer, with power to act.

The Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, wrote, asking that a drop in the street, in front of their property on Rink street, should be remedied. The city engineer will be asked to report on the matter.

The Board discussed the opening of Dalhousie street to the river, and of Water street to Dalhousie street, as had been requested by a petition.

It was moved by Ald. Graham, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that the city authorities be instructed to take no action in the matter at present, providing that Messrs. Houdry agree to the plans of the waterfront made by A. J. Cameron.

The members present were Ald. Hicks, chairman; Elliott, Graham, Johnston, Wilson, and Tovey, and Mayor Best.

A New Real Estate Firm In Business

Messrs. Blewett and O'Brien Open An Office on George St.

A new real estate firm has been formed in the city, and Messrs. Blewett and O'Brien have opened an office at 406 George street, where they will conduct a general real estate business. The members of this firm are C. Blewett, who for some time was special agent for A. Brown, time was special agent for A. Browne & Co., and W. O'Brien, formerly with J. J. McBain and Son. They are both experienced real estate men, and those who do business with them may be assured that their interests will be well attended to. Special attention will be paid to the farm branch of the business, a department of the real estate trade which is assuming large proportions. They have, however, a good list of desirable city property, both for sale and to let, and this end of the business will by no means be neglected. The firm states that there is a strong demand for houses to let in the city, and in spite of the fact that a large number of new houses have been erected, there are few empty houses in the city.

Messrs. Blewett and O'Brien are bidding for a share of the real estate business in the city, and there is no doubt that they will get it, their business ability and integrity constituting qualifications which cannot be ignored.

Still Linger At Stony Lake

Some of the Cottages Not Yet Closed—End of the Season Notes.

Special to the Examiner

Stony Lake, Sept. 11.—The beautiful September weather is responsible for a number of the Stony Lake cottages still being kept open, although this week will see all but three or four closed for the season. No better weather has been experienced all season, and the cottagers who still remain at the lake are congratulating themselves upon the fact that they did not go home with the crowd last week. Of course, the pavilion is deserted now, and there are no gatherings at the Store as was the case earlier in the season.

"Star Cottage" is occupied by a jolly crowd, who are having lots of fun and doing some deadly execution with the rod and line. During their stay the party have annexed three fine lunge, and bass too numerous to mention. The camp is composed of the following:—Mrs. N. L. McKee, Master Maxwell McKee, Kansas; Miss Fitzgerald, Brockville; Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, Miss Edith Hall, Miss Lena Hall; Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, Miss Bella Taylor, Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bertram, Master Jack Bertram, Miss Mabel Sperry, Mrs. Sperry, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. F. Hall and children, Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. A. Hall have been spending a few days at Winonah.

Mr. Will Duffield, Norwood, who has been a guest at Yarrowbrae, returned yesterday.

Mrs. Pentland and Misses Viola and Agnes Pentland, who have been spending the summer at Yarrowbrae, returned to the city last evening.

Mrs. J. D. Craig and family, who have been at Upsidon for the past two months, returned yesterday.

Miss Rutherford, of Peterborough, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Craig, at Upsidon, distinguished herself last week by catching two lunge weighing eight and eight and a half pounds respectively.

Mr. J. D. Collins and family closed their cottage for the season and returned to the city yesterday.

Mr. H. P. Lindsay has closed his cottage, Britannia, for the season.

To Estimate Cost Of New Collegiate Institute

Plans in Course of Preparation and Chairman of Building Committee Given Authority to Spend $50 in Securing Estimates of Cost—To Engage New Teacher—Other Business at Board of Education Meeting.

Authority was given to the Collegiate Institute Building Committee at the meeting of the Board of Education last night to spend $50, in having an estimate of cost made on the plans for the new Collegiate Institute building, which the committee says will be of moderate cost.

A new teacher will be engaged for the Institute at once, the principal having reported that it would be necessary to make an addition to the teaching staff.

The members of the committee in charge of the new south ward public school are having more work loaded upon their shoulders. In addition to having the responsibilities of building that school, they are to take charge of the extensions to the north ward school, in accordance with the agreement with the Department of Education. Mr. Dumble was added to the committee, however.

The question of the heating apparatus in the Central School was again up for consideration, on the receipt of an account from Purdy, Mansell & Co., for $150. The Board will decline to pay the bill.

The Business.

Last night a regular meeting of the Board of Education was held. Those present were Messrs. Ferguson, in the chair; Ackerman, Pringle, Morrison, Dr. Burnham, R. Fair, Dumble, Hill and Crane.

Monies Received.

The following statement of monies received was presented:—

City Treasurer	$3,000 00
Debentures	6,000 00
Old Material sold	7 00
Debentures	7,000 00
City Treasurer, on account	500 00

Mr. Dumble brought up the subject of the bricks sold, for which payment had not been made. Referred to Property Committee.

The Inspector's report of the Cadet Corps was received.

Mr. Hill stated that the $50 fee granted for the Cadet Corps by the Government should be given to Mr. Hodgson for his work in this connection. This he moved and the motion carried.

Mr. Dumble asked whether girls were getting physical training. It was explained that since the gymnasium was burned the girls had not had such training. The girls had shown evident good from training.

A communication from the Peterborough Exhibition asking that a half holiday be given the children that they might attend the fair.—Carried.

A communication was received from Purdy Mansell & Co., Montreal, asking that the account of $150.00 be paid. It was moved that the account be paid. Moved in amendment that the secretary write them declining to pay the account. The amendment carried. This account was in connection with the heating system which proved defective.

Mr. Pringle, in reference to payment to contractors, seconded by Dr. Morrison, that payment be made on certificate of architect and chairman of the Property Committee.

Mr. Hill said that in the second form of the Collegiate Institute there were 75 pupils in one room, whilst 70 was the limit. Mr. Feasenden had asked for another teacher. He had had the secretary advertise for one.

Mr. Pringle moved that the appointment of this teacher be left with the Chairman of Committee of Appointments and Mr. Feasenden.

Mr. Pringle brought up the matter of insufficient type writers for the Commercial Form, there only being three machines for sixty-five pupils. He advocated getting two more machines. He advocated getting the Underwood machine, but was no agent for the same and would be glad to give the Board the benefit of his services in getting the machines cheap. It was decided to purchase three new machines, the styles to be decided by the committee.

Dr. Morrison, as chairman of the Collegiate Institute Building Committee, noted that he had had new plans prepared for the building. He wanted to get figures of cost from practical men; this would cost something and he wanted authority for such expenditure. In reply to a question of cost of the building, as to the $40,000 on hand, he proposed, he said "We are having plans prepared for a building of moderate cost. Dr. Burnham moved that as much as $50 be allowed for such purpose.—Carried.

Mr. Dumble gave an epitome of the requirements of the proposed Collegiate Institute and suggested as the appropriation was limited, it would be better to have a cheap sketch plan presented. Dr. Morrison thought he might present the plans in possibly ten days.

Mr. Hill, referring to the north ward school, noted that the building must be ready for operations by next September. He thought it would be wise to have the committee in charge of the south ward school building take charge of the north ward extension, and that they report as soon as possible. Dr. Burnham recommended that Mr. Dumble's name be added. Mr. Hill's motion carried.

Mr. Dumble noted that the building in the north ward would have to go to the west instead of the north and suggested building details.

Architect Belcher here produced plans of the building.

Mr. Pringle brought up the subject of sports and suggested that an appropriation of $25 be made to purchase badges, prizes, etc., for the annual sports.

GERARD—LONG.

A pretty wedding was celebrated this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Chas Long, of Otonabee, when his eldest daughter, Miss Emma, was united in marriage to Mr. James Gerard, of this city. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter in the presence of some twenty-five guests, the relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom. The bride who was unattended was gowned in a handsome cream batiste costume. After the nuptial knot was tied the guests repaired to the dining-room and partook of the tempting wedding dejeuner spread on tables, artistically adorned with various flowers. Many handsome and useful gifts were received by the bride and groom, testifying to their popularity in the city and in Otonabee.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard will leave this evening on the evening C. P. R. train for Ottawa, where they will visit for a few days with the parents and friends of the groom. The bride's going-away dress is of navy blue with hat to match. On their return to the city they will reside on Sherbrooke street.

Want "Pro" Hockey In Belleville Now

Letter Advocates O. H. A. Re-organizing Hockey on Progressive Basis.

It looks like a revival of hockey in Belleville this year. The following letter appeared in the Toronto Globe to day, written by a Belleville man:—

Sporting Editor Globe: Sir,—Hockey enthusiasts in this city as well as other eastern points are deeply interested in the rumor that "the O.H.A. this year will be made professional and if this is true it will meet with popular favour in this city at any rate. Now that lacrosse and baseball are made professional those interested in hockey here are anxious to know where they are at, so that they can govern themselves accordingly, and thus be able to keep their players at home. If there is no truth in the rumor an explanation of the state of affairs will be greatly appreciated. Sincerely, Lover of Hockey.

Belleville, Sept. 10, 1906.

Rugby Prospects Are Very Bright

Provided Financial Backing is Assured.

The prospects before the Peterborough Rugby Club are of the brightest, and provided the proper financial support is given, the season of 1906 promises to be the most brilliant in the history of the club. There is plenty of material for a strong team in the senior series, which will include Toronto Argonauts, Toronto Victorias, Hamilton, Dundas and Peterborough. With such teams as the Hamilton Tigers playing here the gates should be large.

The management are issuing tickets, which will admit the holders to all league games. These will be retailed at $1.50, and it is to be hoped that the sport-loving public will respond to the appeal made to them in this way. A generous response will enable the club to start the season with no financial disadvantage, a position which will help them much in the race for the senior honours. Peterborough had no baseball team and no senior lacrosse. Don't let the Rugby team fail because of lack of support. Help to make the team known as one of the most agressive in the province.

Tecumsehs For The Championship

This is the Way the Montreal Herald Sees It.

The Montreal Herald picks the Tecumsehs as the probable N. L. W. champions this year. That paper said yesterday:—

Five games remain to be played and the greatest season in the history of lacrosse in Canada will conclude, viz.:

Cornwall at Montreal.
Nationals at Montreal.
Capitals at Tecumsehs.
Nationals at Tecumsehs.
Shamrocks at Capitals.

According to form recently displayed, Tecumsehs should win both of their games, making their percentage eight wins and four losses. Capitals should defeat Shamrocks; Montreals should beat Cornwall and Nationals, although the latter is veery uncertain owing to the recent victories of the Frenchmen. If they do win, however, they would then be tie with Tecumsehs for first place. The season should finish then as follows:—

	Won.	Lost.
Tecumsehs	8	4
Montreals	8	4
Capitals	7	5
Torontos	7	5
Cornwall	6	6
Nationals	3	9
Shamrocks	3	9

Toronto Vics Will Play Senior

Annual Meeting of the Club Was Held Last Night.

A large and enthusiastic gathering attended the meeting of the Victoria Rugby Club last night at the Central Y.M.C.A. It was decided to again enter a team in the senior and junior O.R.F.U., and possibly the intermediate, too. In all probability, the seniors will be grouped with Dundas and Peterborough. The juniors, which won the championship last year, with the exception of one or two men, are still intact, and prospects are bright for them landing another championship. It is likely the boys will turn out to practice the last of this week, although nothing definite has been arranged.

Before dispersing a vote of thanks was tendered Joe Hay for the able manner in which he had assisted the club while connected with it.

The following officers were elected:—Hon. President, T. C. Robinette; Hon. Vice-President, W. K. McNaught; President, W. J. Sleet; First Vice-President, Frank Slattery; Second Vice-President, C. Marcy; Third Vice-President, J. Kirk; Secretary-Treasurer, E. C. Waghorne; Manager seniors, J. K. Forsythe; Manager juniors, Thomas Clegg.—Toronto Globe.

Large Amount Of Water Was Used

As High as 2,700,000 Gallons Per Day Was the Figure Reached.

The people of Peterborough seem to be fond of water, at least they have managed to dispose of almost incredible quantities during the summer. Whether the greater part of this was taken in its natural state or whether as a mixer with milk or something stronger, the statistics do not show. This much is certain, however, that during the recent hot weather the average amount pumped through the mains from the pump houuse on the Otonabee in twenty-four hours was 2,500,000 gallons and on several occasions the amount consumed amounted to 2,700,000 gallons. This figure represents, of course, the water used for all purposes, including the watering of the streets.

Improvements To Crowe's Landing

J. R. McKelvie Contemplates Extensive Changes.

Mr. J. R. McKelvie, the proprietor of the store at Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake, is already making preparations for next season, which, from present indications, will be the best in the history of the east end of the lake. He proposes to build a large and modern store and to enlarge his present premises in order to have a commodious boarding house. With these changes and with the pavilion which the East End Cottagers' Association propose to erect, Crowe's Landing will be almost a new place. Work commenced this week.

The Weather To Be Much Cooler

No More Extreme Heat Probable This Year.

For those who have been finding fault with the intense heat of the past few days there is good news in store to-day, for, as far as can be foretold, the temperature is not likely to be again abnormally high this year. This is the view of the Observatory experts.

"Do you think we are at last through with the extreme heat for the rest of the year?" one of them was asked last night.

"Oh, yes; I certainly think so," was the comforting reply.

Yesterday the temperature only reached 84, whilst there were no extreme temperatures in any part of Canada. The weather was fine in most districts, except in Manitoba, where there have been a few showers. The prospects for to-day are fair and warm, with local thundershowers, especially at night.—Globe.

Four Generations At A Baptism

An Interesting Ceremony Performed at St. Luke's.

St. Luke's Parish Magazine for this month says: On Sunday, August 5, we had a very happy event at St. Luke's. It was the baptism of little Roland Marquint Kraut in the presence of his great grandmother, grandmother, and mother. Thus four generations were present at the font. The great grandmother, our good friend, Mrs. Gaskins, sr., did not betray in the least her age, and very few would think that she had attained that venerable age which one usually expects in a great grandmother. We offer to Mrs. Gaskins and Mrs. J. R. Scott our hearty congratulations.

Many Men For Lumber Camp

Cavendish Lumber Company Get 40 More To-day.

This morning Messrs. Turcotte & Cavanagh sent forty men to the north to work for the Cavendish Lumber Company in the woods.

This company has a large number of men at work in woods operations this year and expect to take out a great quantity of timber, which will be cut at the Lakefield mill of the Cavendish Company, and at the Peterborough mill of the Peterborough Company.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York Sept. 11.—The market had quite a re-action to-day. During the early trading Atchison and Republic Steel made new high records, but in other parts of the list stocks were freely offered and under this pressure gradually declined. Penna. and Reading were the weakest features although St. Paul and U .S. sold off rather easily. Mo., Pac. was strong early advancing to 99.

Further gold engagements were announced and call money was easy at 6 per cent. It looked as though the bull interests were working for a good shake-out as prices have been advancing for several days and this re-action was overdue. Purchases on this break should prove profitable, especially of Amal. Copper and Car Foundry. The close was active and heavy.

Young People Of Park Street

The session of the Park street B. Y. P. U. last night, was one of unusual interest. The subject discussed was "The Triumphs of Christianity." Miss Ethel Egelson was introduced for her maiden effort. Her first paper was one of great merit, and she will be heard from again.

She was followed by a heavy, carefully prepared and well rendered paper by Mr. H. Lincoln Brace, and several selections of the Forrey and Alexander songs were sung.

The customary weekly copper collection was taken. Two new members were voted in and a most enjoyable session closed with the "Mizpah" benediction.

Cemetery Rules Must Be Observed

Supt. Wise Reports in Reference to Unseemly Conduct of Visitors to Cemetery—Will Enforce Regulations in Future—Offenders to be Punished.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In reference to the unseemly conduct of certain so-called young ladies in the cemetery, referred to in your Monday's issue, I wish to state that I have time and again had occasion to remonstrate with young men and girls regarding their conduct in the cemetery. In future I intend to enforce the regulations passed by the Cemetery Company, governing the conduct of visitors in the cemetery. It is impossible for me to be in the cemetery at all times, and when there I cannot be in all the different parts at one time, and in view of this fact I ask the public to assist me in enforcing the laws relating to visitors.

These are as follows, quoted from the rules and regulations passed by the company.—Section 46 et seq.:

Visitors.

Visitors are requested to bear in mind that the grounds are sacredly devoted to the interment of the dead, and that a strict observance of that decorum which should characterize their presence in such a place will be required on their part.

Any person found on the grounds after dark will be deemed a trespasser, and liable to arrest.

Visitors are requested to keep on the walks, and under no circumstances to climb the banks or terraces, and to refrain from standing or tramping on any of the graves.

No business except that relating to funerals as herein provided will be transacted on Sunday.

No vehicles or persons on horseback are to pass through the grounds at a rate exceeding four miles per hour. No horse is to be left in the grounds unfastened, nor must the fastening be to any tree, shrub or railing. Owners of horses or dogs will be held responsible for damage done by them. No vehicle or horse is to be left on any road so as to be an obstruction to it, and vehicles are only to be turned on the turnways made for that purpose.

No vehicle or horse shall, upon any pretence whatsoever, be driven upon or over a burial plot or upon any path not intended for horse travel.

Visitors having dogs are requested to fasten them at the gates. Dogs will not be admitted to the grounds, and are liable to be shot if found thereon.

All persons are prohibited from writing upon, defacing or injuring any monument, tomb, or headstone, fence or any other structure in or belonging to the cemetery.

Papers or decayed flowers or rubbish must not be thrown on the roadways, or lots, or walks, but must be removed from the grounds or placed in receptacles provided therefor.

No person shall kill, wound or catch any bird or squirrel, nor remove any bird's nest or eggs that may be in the cemetery.

Children under twelve years of age will not be admitted unless in the charge of parents, guardians or other grown persons, who will be responsible for their conduct.

ANY PERSON DISTURBING THE QUIET DECORUM OR GOOD ORDER OF THE GROUNDS BY NOISE OR OTHER IMPROPER OR UNSEEMLY CONDUCT, or who shall violate any of the foregoing rules, WILL BE COMPELLED FORTHWITH TO LEAVE THE GROUNDS, AND WILL BE SUBJECT TO ARREST AND PROSECUTION THEREFOR.

THE SUPERINTENDENT SHALL HAVE THE CHARGE AND CARE OF THE CEMETERY, AND IS HEREBY AUTHORIZED TO REMOVE ALL PERSONS WHO COMMIT TRESPASS OR VIOLATE ANY OF THESE REGULATIONS.

The superintendent shall have the direction and control of all funeral processions when within the gates of the cemetery, and as incidental thereto, the disposal of troops or societies at public funerals.

The superintendent shall be responsible to the directors for the enforcement of the present and future rules and regulations that may be enacted by the directors, AND THE MAINTENANCE OF BECOMING ORDER AND DECORUM IN THE CEMETERY GROUNDS.

I wish to state further that I will not stop at expulsion from the grounds, but will prosecute the offenders.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am

Yours truly,

FRANK WISE,

Superintendent.

Progress Made In The Crusade For Pure Milk

Ald. McIntyre's Movement Goes Ahead—By-law Will Be Prepared Licensing and Regulating Milk Vendors.

Ald. McIntyre's proposal regarding the licensing and regulating of milk vendors, was discussed at a meeting of the special committee appointed for the purpose last night. It was decided to draw up a bylaw providing for a license fee of $1.00, and for the inspection of milk and the appointment of an official, with the fullest powers, for that purpose. The movement was felt by the council to be a matter of great importance.

It is proposed to appoint an official to inspect milk, who will have authority to take samples from anyone selling in the city. Milk found to be impure, unclean or diluted, will result in heavy punishment to the offender. Inspection of the premises from which milk comes will also be attended to, as the law gives authority for taking this step.

Ald. Ball, who spoke strongly in favour of the movement, moved that a bylaw be drawn up providing for the licensing and regulation of milk vendors. This was seconded by Ald. Wilson and was carried.

The matter will be taken up again, as soon as the bylaw is prepared.

An Ennismore Barn Is Burned With Entire Crop

About noon on Sunday last the barns of Mr. Thomas Murphy, lot 3, con. 3, Ennismore, were totally destroyed by fire, together with the entire contents, including the season's crops, worth, it is estimated, between $800 and $1,000. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is conjectured that it may have been accidentally caused by a child, who was seen to be playing about the barns.

Mr. Murphy's loss was severe, the season's crop being practically his all, he being a tenant, and carrying no insurance. The barn, which was a log structure with frame stables, had a slight insurance.

Diamond Dye

—VERSUS—

COMMON IMITATION DYES

The DIAMOND DYES are the only package dyes admitted to the homes of wise and economical women. Why? Because they have every quality which true home dyes should possess. DIAMOND DYES are, to-day, the only dyes guaranteed to give decided and happy successes. All druggists and general merchants who desire to please their customers sell only the DIAMOND DYES, for the simple reason that they always give complete satisfaction.

Common and adulterated package dyes put up to imitate the DIAMOND DYES are sold by some merchants because of the extra cash profits they yield. These deceptive dyes are, in every case, worthless as colouring agents. They produce weak and blotchy colours, and invariably ruin good garments and materials. Their use has caused grief and loss of money in many homes.

Always use the reliable and popular DIAMOND DYES and you will make the old and faded things as good as new. Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P.Q., for New Direction Book, Diamond Dye Cook Book and Illustrated Booklet, entitled "Diamond Dye Longjoun's Winter and Summer Sports;" all sent free to any address.

Fall Suit Remarks

The Suits of the Season suggest stateliness rather than baggy fullness.

Take the coat for instance; though the shoulders are broad, the lines concave toward the waist, then flare out into long skirts, forming what is called the French Back.

Some of these suits have centre vents with creased side seams. The New Big Lapels tend to give the impression of a broad chest.

A noticeable feature of this long coat is the fact that in lends itself equally well to short or tall men.

Products Of Peterborough Industries At The Fair

Canada Flakes and Brinton Carpets Made a Great Hit in the Queen City.

The Toronto Star of Saturday says: Although the Fair ends to-night, there is no end to "Canada Flakes," the luscious cereal manufactured by the Peterborough Cereal Company, whose exhibit has been the Mecca of countless thousands during the past two weeks in the Manufacturers' Building. "Canada Flakes" were the two words most seen and heard at this years grand Exhibition. Everyone you saw either had a "Canada Flakes" paper "carry-all," or was struggling in the jam in front of their booth to get one. You could not get away from the name, and would not if you ever tasted this delicious product of the Peterborough Cereal Company. It is put up in 25-cent household packages, each containing a valuable piece of exquisitely beautiful and originally decorated china, done by the very best China painters in the business. Ten and fifteen-cent packages are also sold, containing coupons, a certain number of which entitle the bearer to handsome souvenirs of silverware. Be sure and ask your grocer for "Canada Flakes." If he hasn't got it, let the Peterborough Cereal Company know of it. They will see that you are supplied.

Brinton's Carpets.

On one of the side aisles in the north-west section of the Manufacturers' Building there was one of the most magnificent displays of carpets ever show in Canada.

The Brinton Carpet Company of Canada, who are at the present time building their factories in Peterborough, are making this display, and have gone to considerable trouble and expense in order that Canadians could get a clear idea of the high class of carpet that they intend to manufacture in the newly organized factory.

The buildings at Peterborough are ready partly occupied, and the company will be making their carpets for spring delivery within another few weeks.

Realizing the importance of the Canadian National Exhibition, the company immediately took steps to make a display of their fine carpets. Although the space in which they are found is not large, they have shown what can be done in small quarters. In the factory at Peterborough, every branch of the industry will be taken care of in the most modern fashion, as the company are equipping their factory with improved machinery. Behind this they are placing years of experience in the carpet trade (manufacturing,) having the backing of one of the largest carpet manufacturing industries in the world.

The company is importing trained hands from the English mills, and with the best of English machinery, Canadians may be assured that good solid English workmanship will enter into the fabrics that are to be turned out in Peterborough.

Why Wear Glasses?

Just why do your Neighbors—or You—wear Glasses? To see clearly and easily—whether reading, sewing, writing, conversing or walking along the street. Perfect vision, without strain or discomfort, is possible only with perfectly formed eyes. An imperfect eye may see perfectly by exerting great effort. If then you are conscious that you are not seeing easily your eyes are at fault—and, if you are already wearing glasses, they, too, are at fault.

Modern Skyscraper A Probability Now

Statment That One Will be Erected at the Corner of George and Simcoe Streets--Senator Cox Interests Credited With the Intention of Building This New Structure.

Peterborough soon to have a modern skyscraper office building? It begins to look like it now, and while it may be somewhat premature to state definitely that this has actually been decided on, The Examiner learns that there is a strong probability that the northeast corner of George and Simcoe streets will be the site of a large office building, work on the erection of which will, it is asserted, be commenced in the near future.

In support of this statement, it is learned that the tenants of the present building are only occupying their respective premises on leases renewed from year to year, and it is understood that they have been advised of the prospects for the erection of the large building referred to.

The property is owned by the Senator Cox interests, and it would not be at all surprising if that gentleman, with the faith in the progress of the city, of which he has already given evidence, should provide what will undoubtedly be a demand of the near future—a modern office building on the main street.

If the alleged intention is carried out there is no doubt that the structure will be one of which the citizens will have reason to be proud. Peterborough has already become famous for the excellence of its commercial buildings, of which it has a large number, and this latest building, if it materializes, will be a welcome addition to the already creditable structures in the city.

Committee Decided To Advertise For Tenders

For the Fire Alarm System for the New Fire Hall--Town Clock to be Re-painted--Ice For the Water Fountain.

A meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee was held in the Clerk's office last night. The first business taken up was the fire alarm system for the new fire hall. It was time, said the chairman, that something was done in this matter. There are two systems which have been exhibited here — the Anderson System of Toronto, and the Gamewell System, handled by the Bell Telephone Company.

Ald. Duncan said he would move that tenders be advertised for.

He said that the only way to get any plan for putting the system in, was to have each firm send a man here to go over the grounds and submit their plans with prices, and then have an electrician go over the plans.

Ald. Adams suggested that Mr. Heathcote be asked to go over the ground and make the plans, and then advertise for tenders on those plans.

Ald. Ball's opinion was that a practical man, such as Mr. Alexander, do the work and prepare the plans.

It was then decided to call Mr. Alexander to the meeting. Mr. Alexander, however, was not in his office and could not be reached.

Chief Rutherford, said that the best way to do was to advertise for tenders from the outside companies as well as the local companies and that the price include, either overhead or underground systems, the companies to furnish either conduits or poles, and all the apparatus necessary. It was also possible that some of the telegraph companies would tender. He recommended that the advertisement read that the concern putting in the system will find all necessary material, erect it and then hand it over to the city.

Moved by Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Ball, that the city clerk be instructed to advertise for tenders for electric alarm system.

Electric Wiring.

The next matter was putting in electric light in the new fire hall. It was understood by some of the committee that the wiring was included in the building contract, but it was not. The chief said that tenders should be called for at once, as the wiring should be done now, before the carpenter work gets too far advanced.

Chief Rutherford said that the hay mow was very small. There is not enough room for a man to stand up straight. It will hold probably a couple of tons of hay.

Ald. Duncan said there should be a big space for fodder so that everything could be kept up there.

The committee decided to meet there at nine o'clock in the morning.

As to the lighting system, the chief said that he would prefer incandescent lamps, one in each room and two chandeliers with three good lamps on each.

Ald. Duncan said that when the committee went down in the morning they could tell about what lamps were needed. His suggestion was adopted.

Moved by Ald. Elliott, seconded by Ald. Ball, that the chairs in the market building be repaired, and also that the town clock be painted.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Mason and Ball, that the chairman be authorized to order ice from either company, to keep the water fountain at the police station filled with ice, and charge it up to the present contractor, Mr. Rehill, as he has not kept it supplied. — Carried.

Those present were Alq. Adams, chairman; Ald. Mason, Elliott, Duncan and Ball.

Real Work.

"THERE IS TOO MUCH contentment, which is often a euphemism for conceit, says a well known philanthropist. "It is through dissatisfaction, and not through contentment with ourselves that we improve. I heard recently of a gentleman who on being accosted by a beggar, said, 'Why don't you work? Why do you waste your time begging?' The beggar drew himself up, and said, 'Did you ever beg?' 'No, certainly not,' said the man. 'Then,' said the beggar, 'youu don't know what work is!'"

"Ever play marbles?" Uncle Russell asked.

"Couldn't eat them, could you? Couldn't drink them, could you? No use to you, were they? What did you play marbles for?"

New C. P. R. Route Being Surveyed

Represented to Want One Nearer Lake Ontario.

Belleville, Sept. 12.—Mr. Ardagh, of the C.P.R. engineering staff, is in the city, looking over the ground between Belleville and some point on the C. P.R. this side of Vandreuil, with the idea of selecting a through route for the C.P.R. from Toronto to Montreal, and running closer to the St. Lawrence and Lake Ontario. The exact route cannot yet be definitely stated, but will be decided when full reports are made to the management.

Will Revive Cigarette By-law

Ald. Ball Intends to Bring the Matter Up Again.

The cigarette question is not yet yet over, as Ald. Ball is not satisfied with the condition of things, and will endeavour to have another by-law passed. He announced his intention of doing so at the meeting of the whole council on Monday night.

The license fee proposed is $50, just one quarter of the amount required by the bylaw quashed by the courts. Ald. Ball will bring the matter up again at the next meeting of the council. Just what reception it will receive is problematical, but the opinion is expressed that the council have heard enough of the subject and will refuse to pass any more anti-cigarette bylaws.

Record Crowd At Jackson Park

All Cars Were Crowded Last Night.

The intensely hot weather last night was responsible for one of the largest crowds of the season at Jackson Park. Every out-going car until after 9 o'clock was crowded. People hung to the straps and platforms and even the steps were jammed. It was the same story on the way back, and it was nearly eleven before the last of the crowd was back from the park.

Headache

They Hurt You. Use Zutoo.

Don't think because the drug cures for headache do not make your heart palpitate, dull your nerves or upset your stomach just when you take them, that they are not hurting you, for they are.

The magazine "Health" speaks truly when it says: "Every dose of such drugs is at the expense of vitality, and sooner or later the penalty for outraging nature will be exacted."

You can avoid this penalty and cure your headaches just as quickly by taking the vegetable cure, Zutoo.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, chronic kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Lydia E. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for a woman's ills — Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing-down pains, scalding or burning sensations or deposits in the urine, unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back running through the groin, she may infer that her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years with what the doctor called kidney trouble and congestion of the female organs. My back ached dreadfully all the time, and I suffered so with that bearing-down feeling I could hardly walk across the room. I did not get any better, so decided to stop doctoring with my physician and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am thankful to say it has entirely cured me. I do all my own work, have no more backache and all bad symptoms have disappeared.

"I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all women suffering with kidney trouble to try it."

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 626 Third Avenue, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it: and it has cured me when everything else had failed. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from kidney trouble, or any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. Out of the great volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than likely she has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

NONE TOO SOON.

The Peterborough Board of Health was not in any too great hurry in providing for the inspection of milk in Peterborough. That is judging from what has been disclosed in Toronto, where eighty out of 240 samples of milk analyzed during the last month were found to be adulterated, eight-gallon cans containing as much as a gallon of improperly-added water. The amended health Act provides for punishment for watering milk. Now if Toronto the Good thus gold-bricks the milk-consuming public, what can be expected of sinful Peterborough, which makes no Pharisaic claims to unctuous righteousness? The public of the city are not averse to using water, but they prefer it separate from milk, and also prefer getting it at a cheaper rate of price than six cents per quart.

SECURE THE NEW INDUSTRIES

With its transportation and other facilities, Peterborough should soon become what the citizens aim at, and desire, one of the most important industrial centres in the Province. The city authorities, backed by the sentiments of the people at large, have, in the past, pursued a liberal policy of encouragement, and if we are to continue our progress in industrial development we must continue this policy. Our water powers and the electrical development they are capable of, the commercial feasibility of the adaptation of electric energy to iron and steel smelting, the occurrence of large deposits within reasonably easy reach of the city, point to this city as the natural centre of an important iron and steel industry. We have now manufacturers using iron and steel, but we have none producing this metal. The proposed industry, represented by the Peterborough Steel Rolling Mills Company, is a promising beginning, and a most important addition, if we can, as we should do, secure its location in Peterborough. In the beginning it will employ a capital of $200,000, and fifty hands, all adults, which means the addition of fifty families to our population, and a consequent demand for about fifty houses. The company stands to succeed well, for there is a steady, local and outside market for its products—high carbon steels, such as are used for shovels, spades, and allied implements, bed angles, etc., etc., and there is no reason why it should not develop into a most important manufacturing establishment, and a distinct and large benefit to the city, which we cannot afford to have enjoyed elsewhere. It behooves the city authorities and the citizens to make it certain that this industry should locate here. It is in itself a fact; the only thing undecided is its location. It will go where it is made welcome, and preferably it would remain in Peterborough. If conditions are not made favourable for its location here it will assuredly go to Hamilton, or some outside locality. Peterborough offers excellent facilities from a transportation and power standpoint. It remains to be seen whether Peterborough will extend practical sympathy with the undertaking which will make certain the establishment in the city of another important industrial enterprise. That industry and the Rapid Tool and Steel Company, an allied enterprise, in character, would give Peterborough a good beginning in becoming an iron and steel centre. We can afford, and besides, it will pay well, to be reasonably liberal in our attitude of encouragement.

PREACHING AND PRACTICE.

The Mail and Empire is paving the way for another Gerrymander. It says:

Isn't it about time that a measure of redistribution of representation in the province of Ontario came into being? It occurs to us that some such scheme was talked about not many moons ago. In it not time for it to come out from under the eclipse? Toronto awaits the coming of a fair deal in its representation. By the present order thousands of voters practically have been disfranchised, and with an appreciation of the conditions they have become irritable. It is quite probable that the return of Premier Whitney, from abroad will usher in a fairer representation of the people.

The "fairer representation" is another name for a gerrymander. The Whitney Government does not feel safe with even a majority in the House of about forty. Pipes are, therefore, being laid for adding to the strength of the party in the Legislature. The Government knows and feels, that the policy it has practiced, and is practising, will alienate public sympathy, and be certain to wofully thin the Government ranks, in case of an appeal to the electorate. The organ and party leaders have been eloquent, and even obstreperous, in condemning the principle and practice of the gerrymander, so that here we have an instance of the Conservative Government and supporters talking one way and acting another.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Eric Armour of Cobourg, is slated for the position of Assistant, to Crown Attorney Corley of Toronto. This is another instance of rewarding a defeated candidate — another departure from the lofty ground from which the "Grits" have been lectured for transgressing the canons of political virtue by appointments of this character. Mr. Armour unsuccessfully contested West Northumberland against Mr. McColl, and is now to receive the reward of failure.

Mr. M. A. James, of Bowmanville Statesman, May Succeed Late Mr. Fairbairn.

The executive of the Durham Liberal Association is to meet in Bowmanville to-day to choose a man for postmaster, in succession to Jas. B. Fairbairn, who died recently. There are not many applicants, but the fight for the office is very keen, and no effort is being spared to win by the aspirants. The office is worth about $1200 a year, after all the necessary expenses are met.

The applicants are Mr. M. A. James, of the Statesman, and Mr. R. D. Davidson, principal of the public schools. Mr. Carl B. Kent, the present deputy postmaster, who has been seventeen years in the office, it is thought, has desires for the office, too.

Cheese Prices Some Easier

Quotations Were Lower Than a Week Ago.

A Montreal despatch to-day has the following in reference to the condition of the cheese market in that city:—The market for cheese showed further evidence of easiness on Saturday, and prices were lower than a week ago, 12 1-2c being the highest granted, while the bulk of the offerings were purchased below that figure. The result was that to-day it would have been impossible to sell the choicest Ontarios at over 12 3-4c, and even at that figure there was little or none wanted. The market continues very dull, this condition being quite customary on Monday mornings. It is thought, however, that shipments of cheese from here last week were of considerable volume. Quotations of Quebec cheese were 12 3-8 to 12 1-2c, and on townships 12 1-2 to 12 5-8c, being thus the same as at the end of last week. It was claimed that the offerings of Quebec cheese on the wharf this morning were all disposed of at around 12 1-4c. Receipts of cheese reported on the Board of Trade to-day were 9,248 boxes, those of last week being 71,562, against 91,885 the previous week.

Street-gadding Craze.

—The street-gadding, which has been so pronounced in Brantford for many years back, is getting worse all the time. In many instances recently the police have been forced to step in and order young girls to go home at once. Such cases are getting to be of common occurrence.—Brantford Expositor.

Won Signal Honours On The Field Of Music

Mrs. W. J. Morrow Back From a Course of Training in England—Diploma of Fellowship From the National College of Music.

Mrs. W. J. Morrow, Peterborough's well-known exponent of pianoforte and voice culture, returned last night from a course of two months and a half in the National College of Music, London, England, during which she greatly distinguished herself in the field of music, and was rewarded with several diplomas, the receipt of which is a noteworthy recognition of her ability.

While in England Mrs. Morrow studied under such famous musicians as W. J. Moss, one of the best known professors in England; A. F. Tindall, Mrs. Roe and Prof. Alfred Augustus North, late of the Royal Academy. At the conclusion of her studies Mrs. Morrow was presented with a diploma of fellowship, the highest honour in the gift of the college. She received flattering recognition from Mr. Santley, the famous baritone, who presented her with an autograph copy of his works on voice culture, and also from other equally well-known London musical stars.

As a result of Mrs. Morrow's visit to England, her studio, which will be known as the Peterborough College of Music, will be in union with the National College of London. She has a certificate from W. J. Moss, secretary of the National College, stating that she is the sole representative of that institution in Canada, and expressing the opinion that the cause of true art, as exemplified in music, will take a forward step. By her fellowship diploma, Mrs. Morrow is made a professor and a public representative of the college, and is one of the union of properly qualified music teachers in the United Kingdom. Mrs. Morrow has been appointed local secretary of the National College for Peterborough, Norwood, Campbellford, Hastings, Keene, Havelock, Lakefield and Port Perry. She has also the power to open up districts and to appoint managers and professors for the same.

Mrs. Morrow's diploma was given after a course of two and a half months, which is a very remarkable achievement, and one which does credit to Mrs. Morrow's ability. Very few diplomas are given except at the end of a three or four years' course, and that Mrs. Morrow should be able to earn a diploma in such a short time should be a subject of gratification to her and to her friends, and the citizens of Peterborough generally. She has devoted years to the study of music with that aim in view, and now has reaped the reward of her efforts.

Mrs. Morrow brings with her many testimonials of a very flattering nature from those at the head of the National College. Prof. North, whose method of voice culture is employed by Mrs. Morrow, states that she has fully mastered the cardinal points of his system. Prof. Santley stated that he would be delighted to have Mrs. Morrow as a pupil, which is a special mark of distinction from such an eminent vocalist. From Prof. North she received a handsome portrait as a token of his esteem for her.

The National College of Music, in which Mrs. Morrow studied, has as patrons and patronesses the following distinguished persons: The Duchess of Marlborough, Lady Herbert Hampden, Countess of Warwick, Madame Adelina Patti, Madame Melba, Miss Morisia Neville, and the Duke of Norfolk.

Mrs. Morrow, while she had to study hard for her examinations, managed to spend a couple of weeks in sight-seeing. She visited Ireland for a week, and while there saw the home of her mother and father at Thurles. Killarney and Dublin were also visited. Mrs. Morrow also spent a week in Paris, and was greatly impressed with the city, especially with the art galleries, and with the beauty of the Parisian ladies.

Mrs. Morrow returned last night, sailing on the steamship Ottawa. Her studio will re-open for the season on Tuesday next, and will hereafter be known as the Peterborough College of Music.

Mrs. Morrow heard many of the famous bands of England, including the Irish Guards, the Queen's Orchestra, and other well-known musical orchestras, and has good things to say of the local 57th, which compares favourably with these bands.

WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY?

Where is the Historical Society? It has mysteriously disappeared. Those who have an interest in the important work it represents are becoming concerned as to its whereabouts. Memory of its last meeting has become dimmed by time. Now that the season of year has come when renewed activity becomes manifest in all departments of civic, social, educational and religious affairs, the officers of the Historical Society should share in the awakening and not permit the Historical Society itself to pass into history. It is capable, as its past record shows, of too much good service in the matter of its natural work to become an organization with a mere documentary existence. It has a very useful function in Peterborough, and should not be allowed to lapse.

Isolation Hospital Plans Were Discussed

Board of Health Decides to Refer Them to Medical Association—Estimated Cost of the Building is $5,500.

The Isolation Hospital question was the reason for the calling of a meeting of the Board of Health last night. It was a somewhat unusual meeting inasmuch as there was a quorum on hand about the appointed hour, and the business was soon over. The subject before the Board was the inspection and discussion of the revised plans of the hospital as prepared by Architect Blackwell. As a result of the conference it was decided to submit the plans for the consideration of the Central Medical Association, and after their recommendations have been considered, to lay the matter before the council for final action.

The plans submitted by Architect Blackwell, in design, are very little different from those originally prepared. The first plans were of a building, the estimated cost of which was $10,000. In revising his plans, the architect, while reducing the cost by one half, and proportionately cutting down the size of the building, has made very little change in the interior arrangements.

An Isolation Hospital built from the new plans would give accommodation for eighteen or twenty patients, which is considered amply sufficient to meet the requirements. The cost is estimated by Mr. Blackwell at $4,000, with an additional amount of $1,500 for plumbing and heating, which will make the total $5,500, or a little more than half the cost of a building on the lines of the earlier plans.

The building will be 54x30 feet, and will be divided into two parts by a solid brick wall. One side will be used for scarlet fever patients, and the other for diphtheria patients. The second floor will be for female, and the downstairs apartments for male, patients. Provision is made for a kitchen in the basement, and for bedrooms for the nursing staff in the attic. Ventilation has been carefully looked after, and the proper lighting of the building has received the attention of the architect. The building, while not as large as the one originally proposed, it is expected, will be sufficient to accommodate all cases that may arise.

The plans were discussed and approved of by the Board, but it was thought advisable to have them inspected by the Medical Association. It was pointed out that such a building would be in their line, and they would be in a position to know just what arrangements should be made for the accommodation of patients.

On motion, it was decided to refer the matter to the Association, and after their recommendations have been made the Council will be asked to inspect the plans.

The Board will endeavour to have a joint meeting with the Council as soon as possible to deal with the appointment of an official to generally look after the health of the city, and also to arrange for the construction of several sewers which the Board have decided are absolutely necessary.

There were present last night Messrs. Wm. Eyres, chairman; A. Parker, R. Neill, Geo. Schneider, Dr. McNulty, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Bingham, M.H.O., and Architect Blackwell.

Six Months in Central For Burglarizing Store

Sentence Passed Upon Soleiman El Eish by Magistrate Edmison at Norwood Yesterday--The Stolen Money Has Not Yet Been Recovered--Made a Home in the Village Methodist Church--Would Not Speak English.

The Assyrian came down like a wolf in the fold,
And his pockets were gleaming with passbooks and gold.

Yesterday afternoon at County Police Court, Norwood, Allie Silon or more properly Soleiman El Eish, an Assyrian, was given six months in Central Prison for burglary, by His Worship Magistrate Edmison. Silon although he was quite willing to talk English to his fellow inmates, while in jail, previous to the trial, stubbornly refused in court yesterday to use his English tongue. An interpreter Mr. J. E. Aghion, of this city, was taken to Norwood and simplified matters very much.

At first the accused pleaded not guilty, but after some evidence was taken by the Crown Attorney, he admitted his guilt. At the time of the robbery he had been living in the Methodist Church at Norwood, where he had made a home for himself. Some of the goods stolen from Mr. Thomas Isaacs were found concealed around the sacred edifice, probably with the idea that his sins might be overlooked. On his person were found two gold rings, a gold-filled and a brass ring, part of the stolen property.

Took no Money.

Silon stoutly refused to admit he took the $35 which Mr. Isaacs had found missing. But the evidence was so strong against him that the magistrate found him guilty of that theft also.

His Financial Ability.

The prisoner's inability to understand commercial papers was the cause of his arrest. Among the goods taken from the store were a couple of pass books with memoranda of bank deposits, also a couple of drafts which had been paid. Soleiman El Eish took these to the bank knowing they something to do with money. Suspicion, of course, was aroused and he was arrested by Constable Scott.

A Bad Record.

In passing the sentence the magistrate took into consideration the fact that he had been arrested for stealing a horse and buggy down east. The judge let him off with a fine. On another occasion he stole a watch from a gentleman. From his actions he appeared to be demented and it was therefore thought unsafe to have him run at large. He has only been in Canada a few months.

County Constable Cochrane accompanied the prisoner to Norwood yesterday and returned with him last night. He is now lodged on the bill previous to his departure for the Central, Toronto.

Interest Aroused In Peterborough Fair

Reports Indicate That the Attendance Will be Large—Entry List Promises to be Extensive.

The prospects at the present time, according to the president, are that the attendance at the Peterborough Industrial Fair, this year, will be large. Mr. Fair, one of the directors, has been in Millbrook recently, and learned there that a large number of persons from that vicinity would attend the fair here this year. It appears that the fair has aroused considerable interest in that section, and the present prospects are for a good attendance.

The president says that arrangements for the fair are progressing as well as could be expected, and he hopes that there will be no disappointments experienced. The secretary is out of the city, so that the other officers of the society are in the meantime, acting as press agents. With all the attractive features rolled into one day, the fair this year should be a great success, and active preparations will soon be in progress for the fair, which will be held just two weeks from to-day.

The prize lists have been distributed, and from a number of sources it is learned that the list of entries this year will be large.

The Directress Will Be Missed

St. Luke's Parish Paper Says Kind Words of Miss Williamson.

Referring to the departure of Miss Williamson from the city, St. Luke's Parish Magazine says:

"The many friends of Miss Williamson who has been the directress of the Ashburnham Kindergarten, will regret to learn that she has resigned her position, and has gone to Moosejaw, Sask., where she has accepted a similar position. Miss Williamson was a great favourite with the children, who were much attached to her. She will be much missed in Peterborough, where she has been a resident for many years. Her removal to the Northwest will leave a blank in the ranks of Christian activities, which it will not be easy to fill."

THE WEATHER

We have been experiencing some very warm weather, particularly for the month of September, during the last few days. Each day, for a week past, the thermometer has been climbing, notching one or two more than the previous day, and yesterday reached 88 degrees in the shade. To-day is a little cooler, and still cooler conditions are promised very shortly.

LAKEFIELD FAIR

The dates of the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society's Annual Exhibition have been changed to Thursday and Friday, Sept. 27 and 28, to avoid conflict with Peterborough's dates. This year the fair will be held in the new grounds of the Society a block west of the Presbyterian Church in Lakefield. Prize Lists &c., may be obtained from W. Sherin, Secretary, Lakefield

Mission Circle's First Meeting

A Pleasant Re-union at Murray Street.

Yesterday afternoon the first meeting since the summer vacation, of the Ladies Mission Circle, of the Murray street Baptist church, was held at the church, with a large number of ladies in attendance.

The meeting was somewhat in the nature of a social re-union, and the plans of the work for the coming year formed the chief subject of discussion.

The members evidenced a deep interest in the plans for work, and the prospects for a successful year are bright.

Refreshments were served at the close of the business, and a delightful hour enjoyed.

WEDDING BELLS

SWEENEY–HENNESY.

One of the prettiest of September's many weddings was celebrated this morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Miss Margaret E. Hennessey, eldest daughter of Mr. Denis Hannessey, Hunter street, east, became the bride of Mr. Michael J. Sweeney, son of Mr. John Sweeney of Otonabee. The marriage was performed in the presence of many guests by the Rev. Dr. O'Brien at eight o'clock. The bride looked pretty in a handsome grey travelling suit with hat to match and was attended by Miss Aileen Primeau, of East City, attired in a costume of beautiful white Panama cloth also with hat to match. The groom was assisted by Mr. J .E. Sullivan, of Peterborough and Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Maragaret Doherty as the wedding principals advanced up to, and took their places at the altar. The groom's favours were a mother of pearl prayer book to the bride, a gold locket set with a pearl cross to the bridesamid, and a gold tie pin to the groomsman.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 54 Hunter street, east, where the wedding breakfast, spread on tables artistically adorned with chrysanthemums and other flowers, was partaken of and where many beautiful gifts awaited the bride and groom. Among the latter were two handsome plush rocking chairs, gifts of the employees of the Quaker Oats Company, and of the Canadian General Electric Company to the bride and groom, respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney left on the 11.45 G.T.R. train on a wedding tour to Toronto and points west and on their return will reside at 46 Lake street. They are both popular young people of the city and carry with them the best wishes of a great many friends for a long and prosperous wedded life. Among the out-of-town guests present at the happy event were Mrs. English, of Norwood and Mrs. Crowley, of Chicago.

Nelson Nurse Adds To Fish Controversy

He Writes a Letter in Reply to Mr. Scriver—The Question of Hoop Net Licenses Again the Subject of Discussion.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I have read Mr. Scriver's letter of August 11th, and am glad to hear from him as he admits to be the owner of the hoop-nets mentioned, and also the person who operated them. As far as I can understand Mr. Scriver's letter, he is endeavouring to answer my letters in place of Mr. Johnston. Why don't Mr. Johnston answer them himself; or does this "we would have wrote sooner" mentioned in his letter, mean Mr. Johnston and Mr. Scriver?

As to charges made against Overseer Johnston relating to a petition, said petition did not ask for license for Mr. Wedlock and was circulated four months before Mr. Johnston was appointed.

Mr. Wedlock circulated this petition himself, and if it wasn't for himself, who was it for? Was it for Mr. Scriver? The amount of the matter is the license was for Mr. Wedlock or Mr. Scriver, or both, if secured, and when the license was refused, they then went experimenting, as Mr. Scriver terms it. Mr. Scriver has used these nets for years and when he finds himself without a license he goes experimenting. A good excuse. They were simply fishing for the money that was in it. That is all that can be made of it. Mr. Scriver says the party fishing in the river had nothing to do with the Peterborough party coming down, and that he didn't know they were coming. Overseer Johnston had been talking the mud-cat license matter for some time before the Peterborough party came down. He told the Rice Lake Overseers and a number of others that they were coming down in connection with the license matter. He told or sent word to the Rice Lake Overseers to meet the party on a Tuesday at Mr. Wedlock's, but the party was brought down on Monday, the day before the time appointed. Only one Overseer from Rice Lake was present, having heard of their coming. The fishermen didn't invite him to accompany the party to look at the nets. The reason of this was they knew he was strong against it. On the following day the Rice Lake Overseers came along according to agreement only to be fooled. Now, Mr. Wedlock and Mr. Scriver were fishing together and Mr. Wedlock's yacht brought the Peterborough party down and the license matter was at stake, and Mr. Scriver says he didn't know they were coming. Mr. Scriver's memory must be very bad indeed for there are other things he had forgotten; some of them is the rake off mentioned in my letter in the Examiner of July 13th. I will remind Mr. Scriver that this rake-off and license matter go together and he should have denied it, along with other matters. The reason of this is Mr. Overseer Johnston told too many about it—let the cat out of the bag, and exposed the whole scheme. Mr. Scriver tells a story about mud cats and bass living in a lost net from December 4th to March 28th. How does Mr. Scriver know when these fish got in the net—perhaps the day he found the net. This story doesn't correspond very well with the experience a Hiawatha gentleman had with a lost net. This net was lost only two months and when found was full of lunge and bass, rotten and decayed so bad that they fell to pieces when taken out of the net. Mr. Scriver says when he was fishing at the mouth of the river, that only one lunge and not over a dozen bass found their way into his nets. This is a reckless and misleading statement for Mr. Scriver to make, dozens of people saw his nets and know better. These nets were nearly full of lunge and bass every morning. Mr. Scriver says "we are curious to know how Mr. Nurse knows so much about hoop-nets. Did he ever hold a license?" I can inform Mr. Scriver, that I know enough about them to know that he or no other man can take mud cats out of the water by their use without doing an injury to the game fish. I have never held a license nor I don't want one, either. Mr. Scriver talks like as if he is the only person that knows anything about hoop-nets and that nobody else has any right to say anything. Mr. Scriver says that his nets were interferred with frequently. I will agree with him here. I knew of parties taking bass and lunge out of his nets. This is a strong argument against the use of hoop-nets. Any poacher can take fish out of these nets at night if he feels so inclined.

As to license, I did fish on grounds I applied for, and from the papers I held such would be forthcoming. Mr. Scriver held no license and the papers he held were bogus, and he was also ordered to lift his nets and he did so, and then moved into the river to experiment. Mr. Scriver says the net he lost a year last April was stolen from him and is his property. The thieves very likely set it near Duck Creek last January. Here it was discovered, identified, reset and reported to Overseer Johnston. Acting on his information he went in search of net and found it in Mr. Bruce Johnston's drive house. Mr. Scriver and Overseer Johnston differ in their story about finding this net. It will be remembered that Mr. Johnston claimed he got this net set in Rice Lake, near Jubilee Point last January, with 41 bass in it and had it published in the Peterborough papers at that time. Mr. Scriver says we got it in Mr. Bruce Johnston's drive house. Overseer Johnston got it in the drive house, and not in the lake, and Mr. Scriver had nothing to do with it at all. The balance of Mr. Scriver's letter is composed of slang and back-biting. I simply did not expect anything else from a man of his calibre. His insinuations and mud-slinging simply shows the kind of a man he is.

As far as the hoop-nets are concerned, I am not the only man that is against their use. If Mr. Scriver looks into last week's papers, he will find that the Ontario fish and game association held a convention in Toronto about September 1st and this is what they say about hoop-nets:—

"The Committee on Nets favoured the absolute prohibition of trap, hoop and pound nets as very destructive."

Mr. Scriver will see that the whole province is against their use, and the best thing he can do is to store away his nets and go into some other business.

Mr. Scriver being late in writing, I didn't see his letter for two weeks after its publication. I would have written sooner had I seen it in time.

Inspected The New Fire Hall Building

Fire, Water and Light Committee Decided to Have Architect Advertise for Tenders for the Electric Wiring--Hay Loft Left As It Is.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee held a special meeting this morning at the new fire hall, for the purpose of discussing some of the interior arrangements. The chief among these was the electric wiring of the building, which was talked over at the meeting last night.

The members of the committee present were Ald. Adams, chairman; Elliott, Duncan and Mason. They were shown around the building by the contractor, Mr. H. Carveth, and seemed greatly pleased, both with its appearance and accommodation, and with the progress that had been made. The hay mow came in for some discussion. At last night's meeting Chief Rutherford stated that it was too small, and so the committee investigated the matter this morning. While it was felt that the mow was not any too large, it was decided to leave it as it is at present.

In regard to the electric wiring, Ald. Adams expressed opinion that the matter might well be left in the hands of Architect Blackwell, met with the approval of the rest of the committee.

The aldermen in inspecting the building were struck with the fact that considerable cellar room was going to waste. There is a splendid basement to the building and only part of it is used as a furnace room. It was suggested that the remainder might be used as a store place for the corporation tools, and it is very likely that this plan will be carried out.

The visit of the committee revealed the fact that great progress has been made in the building. The brickwork was all completed yesterday, and in honour of that fact, the union jack floats proudly over the building to-day. The carpenter work will be proceeded with at once. The building is a splendid one architecturally and will be a credit to the city, both in utility and appearance.

The aldermen are apparently satisfied with the building, and the statement was made that Peterborough would have one of the finest fire-halls in Canada.

Toronto Suffering From Watered Milk

Dr. Sheard Says Fully One-Third is Adulterated—A Way in Which Farmers are Indirectly Responsible--New Act Provides Punishment for This Adulteration.

The Toronto News of yesterday had the following:—

"Out of 240 samplec of milk that were analyzed during the month of August fully one-third were adulterated," said Dr. Sheard, Medical Health Officer, this morning.

"Were they watered?"

"Let me ask you this. If a cow is put in a field with not enough grass to live on and a running stream close by, what sort of milk would you expect? If the cow waters its milk and it thus contains less than three per cent. of fat, the owner is quite as much to blame as if he poured water into it afterwards. Perhaps the cow adulterated its own milk, but I strongly suspect it is the iron pump handle."

Make up the Quantity.

"Have you fixed the blame?"

"Yes, we experimented in taking the samples and find that the farmers are to blame. They are responsible for a certain amount of milk each day, and seem to pour water in to make up. From our analysis I should judge that one gallon of water would often be thrown into an eight-gallon can of milk. We noticed, too, that as the month progressed and the feed became less that the proportion of water increased. Something important and radical must be done at once."

Until the last session of the Legislature it was impossible to prosecute unless the milk was "unfit for human use," which could hardly be said of "watered milk." The new Act includes adulterated milk of any kind, and the use of water would come under this head.

The local dealers are complaining also about watered milk—as well as their customers.

Crop Prospects Are Pleasing to Farmers

Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P., Tells of the Satisfactory Condition of the Farming Industry—Fall Wheat Seeding is Practically Completed in Otonabee.

The farmers of Peterborough county this year have no complaint to make, according to the statement of Mr. W. Anderson, M.P.P., who was in the city to-day and gave some interesting and pleasant information concerning the crops of his township, particularly. Mr. Anderson stated that the harvest in Otonabee was practically completed, and the majority of the farmers had their fall wheat sown. Of late years this grain has yielded well, and, while comparatively few have thrashed yet, there is good reason to believe that this year will be no exception. In view of this good yield the farmers have gone into fall wheat growing quite extensively, and the results have been most satisfactory. It has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that the land in Peterborough County is capable of growing good wheat, and those farmers who have been trying it for the last four or five years, particularly, have abundant and substantial reasons for their belief.

Threshing in Otonabee is by no means general as yet, the greater number of agriculturalists preferring to get their grain all in and thresh only once, and they like to get their fall wheat sown as early as possible in September, the general impression prevailing that the earlier in this month the wheat is sown the better the prospects are for a good crop.

Mr. Anderson was very optimistic in referring to the prospects for the farming industry, and stated that this year's crops were of an entirely satisfactory character.

Rev. Dr. Symonds Glad To Come

Pleased at Prospect of Again Visiting Peterborough.

Referring to the coming visit of Rev. Dr. Symonds, the Parish Magazine of St. Luke's says:

"Another event of importance, as well as of great pleasure to us all, will be the coming visit of our beloved friend, Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Montreal. No one is more heartily welcome to St. Luke's church and parish, than our former rector, and we are sure that he will meet with a royal welcome. Dr Symonds, upon invitation from the rector, consented to come. He said in his letter: 'I need scarcely say how greatly I shall hope to come. I do not know whether it is really wise to ask me within a year of my previous visit, but it will be most pleasant for me and, I hope, profitable, for you.' He has since written, announcing his visit for Sunday, October 28th."

Cruel Flames Wrap Around A Young Girl

Candle Ignites Benzine With Which She Cleaned Dress.

POISONING OE MRS. LABATT

Inquest Was Commenced But Was Enlarged For a Week, No Evidence Being Taken—Nux Vomica Given In a Prescription by Drug Clerk by Mistake, and the Unfortunate Victim Died From Effects.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Annie Priest, the 5-year-old daughter of Joseph Priest, fruit dealer, 720 West Queen street, is in St. Michael's hospital, suffering so severely from burns, that her recovery is doubtful.

The girl was cleaning her dress with benzine yesterday afternoon, when it became ignited from the flames of a candle, by the light of which she was carrying on her task. She was at once removed to the hospital.

The shock has proved very acute and it is feared she may succumb.

Child Burned to Death.

Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—Permanence Beauchman, aged four years, daughter of Bernard Beauchman, was burned fatally Monday. She had been playing with matches. It was expected that the little girl would recover, but the dreadful nature of her burns prevented it, and she died yesterday morning.

MRS. LABATT'S DEATH.

Due to Nux Vomica Given In Mistake by a Drug Clerk.

London, Sept. 12.—The death of Mrs. John Labatt, which occurred at the family residence, Queen's avenue, Monday evening, was due to an unaccountable mistake on the part of a clerk in a local drug store.

Mrs. Labatt, who was the wife of the well-known brewer, had been under the care of her physician for a few days, and Monday evening a prescription was sent to the druggist's for her. A clerk who has had eight years' experience and was considered very careful and reliable undertook to fill it, but in the place of a non-poisonous ingredient he used nux vomica, the result being that Mrs. Labatt died in three-quarters of an hour after taking a dose of the medicine.

Coroner MacLaren and Crown Attorney MacLaren were notified, and an inquest was commenced yesterday morning. No evidence was taken, an adjournment being made for a week.

The act of the clerk is considered to be purely a mistake, and it is not at all likely that he will be prosecuted.

Mr. Labatt is at present in Sault Ste. Marie, and he will not reach London until this morning.

ACOSTA A REBEL.

Joins Cuban Insurgents With 100 of His Followers.

Havana, Sept. 12.—On Sept. 14 congress will take up a stringent bill for the enforcement of public order.

It is learned that the proposition submitted to the Government by the rebels was that half of the Senators and half the representatives resign, and that new elections be held to fill these vacancies. President Palma and the members of the Cabinet were to hold their positions. New general elections also were to be held and new municipal laws were to be provided for.

All the men remaining in the towns of San Jose and Las Ojas, near Cienfuegos, have joined the rebels.

Baldomero Acosta, a prominent resident of Havana, whose loyalty to the Government has been questioned at various times, and who denied his disloyalty, joined the rebels yesterday with 100 followers.

The rebels under Guzman have been breaking telegraph apparatus in railroad stations in Santa Clara Province. They have also seized a train of foodstuffs.

So far as war developments went, yesterday was one of the quietest since the outbreak of the insurrection. The Government's outright declaration that the war will be prosecuted to a finish was everywhere the sole topic of conversation.

WILL SAFEGUARD PEOPLE.

Premier Whitney Makes a Statement on the Power Question.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Premier Whitney was in consultation yesterday with Attorney-General J. J. Foy, Col. Matheson, Hon. W. J. Hanna, Dr. Pyne, J. P. Downey and Deputy Minister A. H. U. Colquhoun, respecting the Healey Falls matter. The following statement was given out yesterday afternoon by the Premier:

"I believe the public mind is grasping the true phase of the question. There can be no surer safeguard than that the rates are under the control of the Government, and you must remember that the Government has never declared its intention to take hold and develop power.

"I think the whole matter will be satisfactorily cleared up in a day or so."

The Premier's left hand, which he accidentally severely cut on Monday, has given him much trouble. It commenced bleeding freely again yesterday morning, and he had to have the wound dressed and bound.

Text Book Samples.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, brought back with him complete sets of text books in use in England, Scotland and Ireland, with prices in each case and information regarding them.

He will assist the text book commission with information gathered upon his trip.

He found that in the old country the local boards prescribed the text books, and that this stimulated competition among the publishers.

Pine Forests on Fire.

Detroit, Sept. 12.—Smoke from forest fires is making navigation exceedingly hazardous in the upper ends of Lake Huron and Michigan, and the Mackinaw and Soo Channels. Fires are raging in the pine forests on both sides of the Straits of Mackinaw, and are constantly spreading. No rain has fallen in this vicinity for several weeks, and the woods are like tinder.

Robbery and Arson.

Orangeville, Sept. 12.—About midnight Monday evening a fire broke out at the residence of Mrs. Patterson, John street. The building, which was a frame one, was almost totally destroyed. Mrs. Patterson is an aged widow, living alone, and little of her furniture was saved, upon which there was no insurance. Her cash box was rescued, but was found to have been broken into and the contents abstracted, some $25. A fire inquest will likely be held.

Embezzled Lodge Funds.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Harry E. Griffiths, formerly secretary of the Ancient Order of Foresters, from whom it is charged that he has appropriated over $1,000. Griffiths has been missing since last Tuesday, and the police are trying locate him.

Douks Won't Pay School Taxes.

Night Attack by Pulajanes.

Manila, Sept. 12.—Lieut. R. E. Treadwell of the Philippine Scouts was killed Monday night by Pulajanes six miles north of Barauen. He was in command of a small detachment of scouts, whose bivouac was attacked during the night by 100 Pulajanes.

JEWISH DEAD IN STREETS

By Actual Count 140 Were Picked Up and the Cellars Contain as Many More of the Dead — Utmost Brutality Characterized Conduct of the Undisciplined Soldiery —Fears Outbreak In Warsaw.

Warsaw, Sept. 12.—With an armed guard, an Associated Press correspondent visited Siedlce yesterday.

Shops were closed, and the people were panic-stricken fearing slaughter. Soldiers were everywhere.

By actual count, 140 corpses were picked up in the streets, and it is stated that as many more bodies are hidden in cellars.

Only one Christian is known to have been killed, and so far as can be learned, no soldier was killed.

Trainloads of fugitives are leaving Siedlce for the south.

Soldiers Very Brutal.

The undisciplined soldiery acted with the utmost brutality all through the troubles.

Here in Warsaw there are some fears of an outbreak.

Soldiers last night searched the Jewish quarter. Several conflicts resulted, and two Jews were killed and eleven seriously wounded.

Forty-two supposed revolutionists have been arrested here, and will be tried by a field court-martial.

A military officer was killed here last night by terrorists.

Children Terrorists Agents.

Warsaw, Sept. 12.—In a search for terrorists, made here Monday night, some 200 houses located in different parts of Warsaw were ransacked by troops. About 1,000 arrests were made, and most of the prisoners are Jews.

Many children were taken into custody. They are employed by the terrorists to execute attempts upon Government officials because the movements of children do not awaken suspicion, and they are not liable to capital punishment.

Bombarded by Artillery.

Stavropol, Sept. 12.—It is reported here by telegraph that the Village of Shulgati has been bombarded by artillery in consequence of disorders, which commenced there following the arrest of M. Onipho, the peasant leader of the outlawed Parliament, who is to be triad by court-martial for complicity in the rising at Cronstadt last July. The inhabitants of the village fled, and their houses were destroyed. The artillery, according to report, is now moving against the Village of Petroffskala.

Revolutionist Outburst.

Kamyshin, Sept. 12.—The arrival here of the governor and a strong force of troops from Saratov has resulted in the subduing of the uprising.

The town had been given over for two days of fighting between the police and the mob. Taking advantage of the absence of most of the garrison to suppress disorders in Nicholalevke, the revolutionists organized a revolt on Sunday. They freed a number of political prisoners and threw barricades across streets, which they held with success against the police.

Dundas Traveler Runs Amuck.

Detroit, Sept. 12.—Without any warning or provocation Wallace Cameron, a young man from Beamsville, Ont., traveler for a Dundas, Ont., firm, buried the blade of his pocket knife in the back of William Lucking, who was walking off the Windsor ferry boat on the Detroit side Monday night. Cameron had raised his arm to strike again when he was placed under arrest on the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. Lucking was able to go home after having the wound, a cut two and a half inches deep, and an inch long, dressed.

Bail Refused Ford's Assailants.

Bowmanville, Sept. 12.—The trial of William Terry and Charles Wilmot, charged with assaulting and robbing Richard Ford, began yesterday morning before Magistrate Horsey. Ford's face still shows the result of the battering he received. He swore positively to the two as his assailants. No evidence was offered for the defence. Magistrate Horsey said that from the enormity of the offence, the worst of the kind he had ever known in the township, he would not accept bail, and committed the prisoners to jail for trial.

Zam-Buk

The old Roman charioteers, and heroes wounded by wild beasts in the now ruined Colosseum at Rome, anointed their wounds with secret balms made from the roots and herbs of the field. Instinct tells us to rub a place that hurts, and in Zam-Buk, the great herbal balm, is found the ideal substance with which to rub. Zam-Buk differs from ordinary salves, ointments, etc., in the important fact that it contains no trace of any mineral substance, and is also free from animal oil or fat. It is composed of the finest herbal essences and juices, and is so refined that the most delicate skin can absorb it with beneficial effect. It is at one and the same time healing, soothing and antiseptic. It does more, does it better, and does it in less time than any other known balm.

ECZEMA, SCALP SORES AND ERUPTIONS CURED.

Mr. Henry Harvey, of Cataraqui, Ont., says:—"I am glad to state that Zam-Buk in my case has done all it was recommended to do. I had some sores on the scalp, which at times caused me such acute pain that I could not bear to touch the part. This continued for nearly two years, and defied all remedies I tried. Zam-Buk was recommended to me and, after a fair trial, I am glad to report the sores are quite cured. I can strongly recommend Zam-Buk for scalp diseases.

Mr. T. Bull, of Cookaville, Ont., says:—"I consider Zam-Buk splendid value. I have used it on Burns, Pimples, Cuts and Sores, and have found it to contain more healing qualities than any preparation used before, and can recommend it."

Mrs. Nellie Campbell, of Inverary, Ont., writes:—"I think Zam-Buk a splendid healer. I had a bad spot of Eczema on one of my fingers that bothered me terribly. I obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and, to my delight, it healed the Eczema very speedily. I shall keep a supply of Zam-Buk handy, as I think it such an excellent remedy. I would not be without it in the house."

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES:

Cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, eczema, pimples, running sores, sore feet, poisoned wounds, festering sores, piles, bad legs, diseased ankles, abscesses, boils, ringworm, sore backs, scrofula, itch, sore breasts, barber's rash, and all injured or diseased conditions of the skin. A Hot Contest In The Intercollegiate Rugby

Kingston Whig Says the Varsity Team Will Not Have an Easy Thing of it This Year.

Referring to the Intercollegiate Rugby situation the Kingston Whig says:—"Just who will win the Intercollegiate championship in rugby it is hard to say, and any attempt to pick the top notchers before the academic year begins may be a little premature. However, at this early date it looks as though the race for the pennant will not be the one-sided affair of last year, when despite the fine matches and stubborn opposition, Varsity won a record. There is one thing about the Intercollegiate League and that is the spectator is sure of seeing good open football and a hard-fought through clean game. This is the case no matter which of the three teams compete.

The team which won for the Toronto University the proud title of champions of Canada, will be sadly crippled this season. It has been stated that ten of the old guard will be missing, when the whistle blows for the line-up this fall. This should not be too heavily banked on, however, and at any rate the back division will probably consist of two or three of the old timers and that in itself will make the team dangerous. It should not be forgotten either, that Varsity has always a number of fairly strong players waiting a chance to break into senior company.

Advises Belleville To Stay With Amateurs

Toronto Telegram Thinks O. H. A. Has No Inclinations Towards Professionalism.

The Toronto Telegram, referring to the letter in the Globe from Belleville, advocating placing hockey on a professional standing, says:

There is nothing particularly new in the Belleville man's ideas. His town has had those dreams for a long time past, and it isn't so long ago as to be out of memory that these same notions down there ran counter to th O. H. A. amateur principles, and they bear it in mind there yet. It is evidently in the air in and about Belleville.

O.H.A. Stands.

Meanwhile the Belleville man had better turn his eyes in the Federal direction, for the O.H.A. has no more leanings towards professionalizing its senior series this year than they ever had. The amateur plan would seem to be too strong for Belleville, whose neighbours evidently turn out a better class of athlete, either in actual performance or in the stay-at home habit. But they can import men in the Federal.

Same in Any Case.

As a matter of fact, if the O.H.A. senior series were professionalized, Belleville would be left even further behind than under the amateur plan. They would not hope to play salaries with the bigger cities, and would be early relegated to second-rate going. Belleville had better stick to the amateur game.

Miss Paisley Won At Kinmount

Came First in the .28 Class and 2nd in Free-for-all.

Yesterday was the final, and important, day of the Kinmount Fair. A number of Peterborough people attended, and report that the crowd present was the largest in the history of Galway township fairs.

The stock and farm products exhibited were of an excellent quality and everything united to make the affair a success, which it was in every respect.

The speeding in the afternoon was the feature of the day. Mr. H. A. Cook's fast horse, Miss Paisley, won the honours in the .28 class by captruing first place. She also took second in the free-for-all, stepping 6 heats in almost a foot of sand in fine style. She was the admiration of the big crowd.

Dundas Will Not Play Senior Rugby

Four Teams Will Be Found in the Senior Series.

Secretary J. B. Hay of the O.R.F.U. received word from Dundas to-day to the effect that they will not have a senior team this year, but will again be found in the intermediate series.

This will leave a four-cornered series, with Hamilton, Argonauts, Victorias and Peterborough as members. A compact schedule could be arranged with home-and-home games.

The championship season will begin on Saturday, October 6.

RUGBY.

Peterborough's rugby team will probably have a find in H. C. Hill, of Montreal's senior team. He intends turning out with the locals this fall and will no doubt be a forcible acquisition.

FOOTBALL

A full practise of the Quakers is called for to-night at 6.30 on Riverside Park. The entire team as well as any others who wish to chase the wind-bag are requested to turn out.

Kirkfield Lift Lock Ready In Two Weeks

Minister of Railways and Canals Inspected Progress of the Work—Surveys for Outlets Completed—Mr. R. R. Hall Returns From Trip to Gambridge.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., returned last night from Gamebridge to which point he accompanied the Minister of Railways and Canals and his Deputy, on their trip of inspection over the Trent Canal. Mr. Hall stated to the Examiner that Mr. Emmerson expressed himself as pleased with the progress of the work on the new lift lock at Kirkfield, which will be open for traffic in about two weeks, when the canal will be completed from Healey's Falls to Lake Simcoe.

It is learned that work on the surveys for the outlets are practically completed, and that the report will be ready for the opening of parliament.

Mr. Hall was satisfied that the estimates would contain appropriations for the prosecution of work on the completion of the canal.

The fact that Mr. Emmerson has taken such a deep interest in the canal and that he has paid it an annual visit of inspection — the first Minister of Railways and Canals to do this — is gratifying to the advocates for canal completion, and inspires them with confidence in this belief that Mr. Emmerson is a strong supporter of the Trent Canal.

Last night the Minister and his party left for Orillia, where Mr. Emmerson was tendered a banquet by the citizens of that town.

Juryman Takes Back Statement

That Mr. Todd Attended Mrs. Hanna in Hospital.

The juryman who made the statement at the inquest a few weeks ago that Mr. R. J. Todd had attended Mrs. Hanna while she was ill in the hospital wishes to retract it, as he says he was misinformed. He has later found out that Mr. Todd had nothing to do with the affair at all.

Promotion For Harry Kingscote

Head Accountant For Prominent Rochester Firm.

Quite frequently the Examiner has recorded the creditable advancement of Peterborough boys away from home. A letter received by Mr. Alf. Kingscote from his son, Harry, now of the city of Rochester, N. Y., stated that he had been promoted on the first of September to the position of head accountant of the extensive firm of Messrs. Vanberg, Schofield and Company of that city. This firm has its factories and head-offices in Rochester, with branches in Chicago and New York. Harry Kingscote was well known and respected in Peterborough before leaving for the United States, and his friends will regard his promotion with pleasure.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Rally Meeting Of The Society

W. F. M. S. of George Street Had An Interesting Programme.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the George street Methodist church, held a rally meeting yesterday afternoon, to revive the meetings after the summer vacation. There was a very large attendance of members, and much interest was manifested in the affairs of the Society. The president, Mrs. James Kendry, occupied the chair.

There was an interesting and enjoyable programme rendered during the afternoon. Miss Mabel Chasty gave a solo in excellent voice and Miss Audrey Bennett displayed clever elocutionary ability in a recitation. Mrs. Robert Mann contributed an interesting address, her subject being the Island of Madagascar, it was handled in an able manner and proved most fascinating.

The society decided this year to form a study class to take up "Christus Liberator," the fourth book of the missionary series. This will be studied in the homes of the various members on alternate Tuesdays.

Fishing Party Had Good Luck

Rob Roy Carried Jolly Crowd to Burleigh Falls.

The Rob Roy took a jolly party up the canal and through the lakes to Burleigh Falls on Monday afternoon. The night was spent at the Falls, and in the morning consternation reigned amongst the finny tribe when rods and lines were produced. The pary succeeded in catching a goodly number of bass, and were well pleased with the trip, which was pronounced by everyone as a most enjoyable outing.

The party was composed of Messrs. A. Laidlaw, Walter Phelan, Pittsburgh, William Gould, C. G.. Graham, R. Gibbs, H. Stapleton, Bob Black, Kentucky, Jas. Lewis, John Mervin, J. M. Brooks, F. Hughes. They returned to the city yesterday afternoon.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Sept. 12.—The bears got an awful drubbing to-day. Opening prices were slightly lower than last night, and the bulls encouraged the bears a little by letting Reading and Copper down a fraction further. Half an hour later the market was taken in hand, and from then until the close the upward procession was uninterrupted, shorts falling all over themselves to get back the stocks they had sold yesterday and this morning. As a result of the day's trading, Southern Pacific and Distillers made new high figures, while U. P. and St. Paul fell very little short of it. Mo. Pac. touched par on a continuation of the move started yesterday, while Copper was bought in huge lots at advancing prices.

S. P. and U. P. sell ex-dividend Friday. It is said they will be put higher, together with Atchison. Our information on Copper and Car Foundry is very strong, and we advise purchases of these two. The close was active and strong at the best of the day.

New Lock And Dam As Result Of The Visit

Of Hon. H. R. Emmerson to Lindsay—Promises to Have These Works Constructed at an Early Date—Local Gentlemen Who Accompanied the Minister.

The Lindsay Post, referring to the visit of the Minister of Railways and Canals, to that town, says:

Mr. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, and his efficient Deputy, Mr. J. M. Butler, arrived in town last evening about 10 o'clock, from the lower waters on a visit of inspection. The trip was made on the Government steamer Sovereign. The Ministers were accompanied by Mr. J. H. McClellan, Superintendent of the Trent Canal, Mr. Grant, Superintending Engineer, and other members of the party were Mr. S. Stewart, of Dorchester, N.B., Mr. Murphy, and Mr. McCourt, of Ottawa, and Mr. C. B. Robinson, private secretary to Hon. Mr. Emmerson.

The Ministers and officials were met here by Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., for West Peterborough, Hon. Senator McHugh, R. J. McLaughlin, K.C., Mr. Thomas Stewart, and some members of the Lindsay Board of Trade, including chairman John Carew, and Messrs. T. Brady, J. D. Flavelle, G. H. Wilson, William Flavelle and Ald. J. O'Reilly.

The Ministers spent the night at the comfortable Benson House, and this morning bright and early they repaired to the lock and dam, and spent about an hour in the vicinity. It was freely admitted by the Minister, the Superintendent, and the Engineer that both works were in a sad state of decay, and the promise was made that both would be replaced by substantial structures at an early date. The swing portion of the Lindsay street bridge was also inspected, the verdict being that it would last for a few years longer when a steel swing would be put in.

The party continued their way up the canal, going as far as Kirkfield.

Young Men Claim Church's Attention

Probability of New Department Being Added to the Methodist Church—Matter Under Discussion at the General Conference Now Meeting in Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—A new department will probably be added to the Methodist Church.

This announcement may be made as the result of the meeting of the General Sunday School and Epworth League Board, which was held today at Dominion Square Methodist Church.

The proposed new department is that of Young Men's Clubs and Associations.

This subject occupied the chief part of the discussions of the Board at the morning session. Varied points of view as to the details of the matter were represented and were put before the meeting clearly and forcibly.

At the close of the discussion a resolution was adopted that "in the opinion of the Board the time has come when provision should be made for the recognition of young men's organizations by the Church."

This declaration of the opinion of the Board will come before the General Conference during the sessions which open to-morrow. It will carry with it the weight of the experience of the men in charge of the young people's branch of the church work, and is likely to be adopted. It will then be the duty of the Conference to adopt legislation amending the discipline organizing the new department.

Summer Schools, etc.

Dr. F. C. Stephenson reported on the summer schools. He stated that about twenty schools had been held during the past season for the study of the Bible and Missions. They had been increasing in attendance and efficiency.

Fall Suit Remarks

The Suits of the Season suggest stateliness rather than baggy fullness.

Take the coat for instance; though the shoulders are broad, the lines concave toward the waist, then flare out into long skirts, forming what is called the French Back.

Some of these suits have centre vents with creased side seams. The New Big Lapels tend to give the impression of a broad chest.

A noticeable feature of this long coat is the fact that in lends itself equally well to short or tall men.

Lamented Death Of John H. McColl

Passed Away at Homestead in Northumberland—Father of Rev. Father McColl.

One of Northumberlandd County's pioneer settlers passed away last Thursday in the person of John H. McColl, at the age of 75 years—one of the oldest and most respected respected residents of the township in which he was born and lived his life. The late Mr. McColl was born in Murray township, Northumberland County within one concession of the place where he died.

He is survived by his wife and eight of a family, Rev. Father McColl, of Peterborough; J. B. McColl, M.P., of Cobourg; Eunice, Francis, Oscar, Bruce, Mrs. Regan, of Northumberland, and Mrs. J. F. Galvin, Peterborough.

The funeral was held at 10.30 on Saturday, when there were present, Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Lindsay; Dr. O'Brien, Peterborough; Father McKiernan, Frankford, and Father M. J. McGuire, pastor at Wooler. Requiem mass was sung by Father McColl, son of the deceased while Archdeacon Casey was deacon of the mass, and Dr. O'Brien, the sub-deacon. After the mass Archdeacon Casey preached a strong sermon on the doctrine of purgatory and prayers were said at the grave by Rev. Father McGuire.

By the death of Mr. McColl a pioneer who had laboured long for his country has been removed, to the general regret of the residents of Murray township among whom he spent his life, as well as of other townships where he was known.

Attendance At Churches Small

As a Result of Exodus to the North West.

The complaint is frequently heard nowadays that the exodus to the Northwest is seriously hurting the smaller places in Ontario. It is said that several places in Peterborough County have suffered recently to a heavy extent; and such a very heavy extent, in fact, that the population, instead of increasing, is going back. Of late years this has been particularly noticable.

The chief complaint heard is in regard to the churches. The attendance, naturally, has fallen off in many cases, and the result is that the financial aspect has not improved any.

Old Theft Case Partly Settled

Alfred Cooney Considers Himself an Easy Mark for Local Officers.

The police court case regarding the theft of money from John Sullivan's hotel yard some weeks ago, was cleared up this morning so far as the boys implicated in the affair who appeared before the magistrate were concerned. These were O'Toole, Sullivan and Lando, who were prepared to pay over some $18 to reimburse Mr. Sullivan for his loss of $12, and also as part of the expenses.

The money was paid over and the magistrate gave the boys some kind advice and discharged them.

The other two boys Downey and Gorman are still absentees. Downey is in Chicago and the latter is working near Ottawa so that as far as they are concerned no judgment was given.

An Easy Mark.

A well known figure appeared before the magistrate this morning in the person of Alfred Cooney. It was some time last June since he was present before, but this was probably due to the fact that he spent a part of the intervening time in Toronto.

"You didn't want to forget us, did you Cooney?" remarked the magistrate.

"It don't look like it your honour," returned the man in the prisoners' box.

"Have you ever been in police court in Toronto?"

"No, you honour, but I'm an easy mark for the fellows around here," was the response.

He had been working he stated, and promised to continue if he was only allowed to go. The magistrate assented and he left the boy "very much obliged, your honour."

Medicine Hat, Sept. 12.—James R. Glover, engineer, who was hurt in the great wreck of August 30, died yesterday. He was operated upon and a portion of the spinal cord replaced with a section taken from the back of a dog, but his injuries were of too severe a nature for medical science to overcome.

More Houses Near The Carpet Factory

Toronto Savings and Loan Co. Will Build Six.

From present indication, next spring will see a very large amount of building going on in the neighbourhood of the Brinton Carpet Factory. A number of houses have already been built near there, and many more will be built.

At present there are no houses on the property purchased by Hon. Geo. A. Cox, which has been laid out in streets. It was the intention of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company to build six houses on the property this fall, but in view of the amount of building being done by the company, it is hardly likely they will proceed with the work until next spring. These houses will cost from $1,500 to $2,000.

Hastings Will Support By-law

On Monday evening a public meeting was held in Hastings, at which the subject of discussion was the bylaw to assist the Peterborough Radiator Company in establishing the works of the Company in that town.

It is understood that the feeling in the town is decidedly favourable to the proposition, and the prospects are that on September 24th when the bylaw is voted on, it will be carried by a good majority.

Passengers On Limited Tell Of Awful Wreck

Only the Presence of a First Car, Which Acted as Buffer, Saved Passengers on Limited in Azilda Wreck—Details Being Told Now.

Examiner Special.

Toronto, September 13. — A number of passengers from the Imperial Limited, which crashed into the Canadian Pacific harvesters excursion train at Azilda, near Sudbury, yesterday, arrived in the city this morning. They were all in one of the sleepers, and beyond getting a shaking up, sustained no injuries. It appears from their stories that it was raining heavily at the time of the accident, and Mrs. Thatcher, of Morpeth, one of the returning passengers, says she heard the engineer say the rain prevented the brakes from working. Next to the engine of the Imperial Limited, was a fish car, and this in the opinion of the passengers saved the Imperial Limited, acting as a buffer. The fish car was completely destroyed and the fish scattered in all directions. Mr. A. McKellar of Hibbert township, says he heard the brakes grip the wheels, and Mr. Coward, of London, Eng., and Mrs. Evans, Euclid avenue, this city, say the same thing.

Mr. McKellar states that the Imperial Limited had got 100 feet past the switch when the collision occurred. The baggage car of the excursion train piled right up over the first passenger coach where all the fatalities occurred and crashed down on the passengers beneath. It was necessary to chop through the roof of the baggage car and throw out the trunks to get out the passengers.

Drowned, Fishing At Rice Lake Yesterday

Thomas George Ashe, of Hamilton Township, Met His Death Near Margaret's Island Yesterday—Was Fishing With Student Minister Near Coldsprings—Deceased Was Prominent Contractor.

Examiner Special

Hastings, Sept. 13.—Another drowning accident occurred at Rice Lake yesterday, and the victim was Mr. Thos. Geo. Ashe, a prominent farmer and contractor living in Hamilton Township, near Cold Springs. It appears that yesterday morning Mr. Ashe, accompanied by a Presbyterian student minister, who has been supplying the Congregational Church at Cold Springs, went out trawling for lunge near Margaret's Island, in Rice Lake. They were successful in hooking a fish, but their good fortune proved to be the cause of Mr. Ashe's death. He was holding the line, upon which he had hooked a good-sized lunge, and in the excitement the canoe capsized, and the two men were thrown into the water. The student could swim, an accomplishment which his companion, unfortunately, had not acquired, and while every effort was made to save him, it was without avail. When the student saw that he could not hope to save Mr. Ashe, he tied the fishing line to the latter's wrist and swam ashore for assistance. The floater on the line indicated the presence of Mr. Ashe's body, and as quickly as possible the student returned with a skiff, and, with the help of some men whom he had called, the body of Mr. Ashe was recovered about an hour after the upset. It was, of course, too late for the efforts at resuscitation to prove effective, but in spite of the knowledge of this fact, they worked with him for some time until they found that the body had been in the water too long for their efforts at resuscitation to be successful.

Dr. Hayden, of Roseneath, was also on the spot, but he could do nothing.

The late Mr. Ashe was 60 years of age and was a very highly respected gentleman in the community in which he lived.

The scene of the drowning is about 10 miles from this village, to which news of the tragedy was brought this morning.

New C. P. R. Line Gives This City The Go-By

Mr. Leonard States That Peterborough Will Not be Touched by Georgian Bay Grain Line—$5,000,000 to be Spent on Its Construction—Warsaw Will Benefit by it—The Route for the New Line.

This city is to lose the new C. P. R. line after all, if the statement credited to Mr. J. W. Leonard, is correct.

It appears to be a question of grade, and by striking the main line east of the city a better grade can be obtained.

This decision on the part of the C. P. R. will be learned with deep regret by the citizens of Peterborough, by whom it was confidently expected, that this city would have been made the terminal point of the new line, and fond hopes were also entertainted that the divisional point would have been located here.

Referring to the decision of the company in this respect, the Toronto News last night said:

"That Mr. J. W. Leonard, superintendent of the construction department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is having a busy time of it in providing for new lines in Ontario is evident from his statements in an interview with the News reporter.

Will not Touch Peterborough.

"The new C. P. R. line from Victoria Harbour, will probably not touch that town, but pass a few miles north and pass the main line between there and Havelock. We find that by making this change we can shorten the road and get better grades. That is the reason the tenders which were all in on July 7, have not yet been decided upon. The surveys for the altered route will be through in about ten days, and then we can go ahead.

"The maximum grade will be 3-10 per cent., which means that one of our 180 per cent. freight engines will haul 2,600 tons. The same engine on the present road from here to Havelock, can haul only 1,100 tons.

"This line when completed, will be the best grain road leading from the lakes. It will cost $5,000,000, including the terminals and elevators, which will form a large part of the expense.

"The western part of the road will require a lot of heavy work, and will be proceeded with all winter."

A Perfect Road.

The evident intention of the company is to spare no expense to make this branch of the road as efficient as possible, evidence of this fact is furnished by the statement that engines which on this division of the main line haul 1,100 tons, will be able to handle 2,800 tons on the branch.

The Probable Route.

While this city itself may not secure connection with this new branch and the benefits incidental to it, there are some parts of the county which will be more fortunate. The survey for the line shows that the road will pass a short distance south of Chemong Park. It will cross the Otonabee River between Nassau and Lakefield, with a swing bridge, and passing through Douro and Dummer it will run close to Warsaw, which village will be given railway connection and will hail with delight the announcement that the road will touch it.

The Indian River will be crossed near Quarry Lake, from which point the railway will take a south-easterly course, connecting with the main line near Havelock.

While the news road, will not, according to the information furnished by Mr. Leonard, touch this city, Peterborough will reap considerable incidental advantage from its construction, in which such a large sum will be expended.

New Montreal Line.

Referring to the new line between Toronto and Montreal, the News reports Mr. Leonard as saying:

"The new road from Montreal to Toronto will leave the present line at a point near Kemptville Junction, run to Brockville and from there follow the St. Lawrence river and the north shore of Lake Ontario to Toronto. It will pass through all the towns on the route, instead of running along the water a mile or a mile and a half from the towns. The 3-10 grade will be the maximum, and we hope to have a good fast service. It will be six or eight months before the surveys of the new Montreal-Toronto road are completed and tenders can be called for."

Uniting To Overthrow Reign Of Terrorism

Examiner Special.

Omemee Pastor Goes To Toronto

Rev. J. M. Whitlaw Likely To Accept Invitation.

A despatch to The Examiner from Omemee states that Rev. J. M. Whitelaw, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of that village, is likely to accept an invitation from a church in Toronto, and that he will probably leave Omemee to go to the Queen City.

Rev. Mr. Whitelaw is quite well known in this part of the Province as the Supreme Chaplain of the Orange Order.

THE RUINED WOOLEN TRADE.

Opponents of the Dominion Government, are eager in denouncing the British preference, because, it the Canadian woollen trade. The injustice, and unwarranted character of this charge, has many times been is asserted that it is the ruin of practically demonstrated, but never more forcibly than by a recent big financial deal, by which a cool four millions of dollars is invested in a woollen manufacturing business. When Mr. Stewart of the Sovereign Bank, Montreal, set out to get control of the Penman Woollen Company, it had a capital of $700,000, upon which annual dividends at the rate of eight per cent.—certainly not a very ruinous rate of profit—were being paid. It appears that another bank was after the property, and, therefore, some of the shareholders of the Penman Company stood out for a high figure, and it was discovered that between $346 and $350 had been paid for $100 shares of the company, operating an industry that was being ruined by the British preference. After negotiations, Messrs. Yuile, Black & Co., of Montreal, made an offer to purchase the entire plant of the company. The deal has just been completed, and the new company will have a capitalization of $4,000,000. A reckless company might easily venture $40,000, or even $400,000, in an industry with a problematical future, but there must be a great future for the woollen industry in Canada when a syndicate of hard-headed business men are willing to invest in it the comparatively enormous sum of four million dollars — nearly enough to run the province of Ontario for a year—before the Whitney Government got access to the money bags.

BLOOD THICKER THAN WATER

Those misguided temperance people who, at the last general Provincial elections, "turned down" Hon. Mr. Ross and fixed their hopes on Mr. Whitney as a promising prophet of temperance reform, are, it is to be hoped, happy over the result. Doubtless they are, for their temperance interest was, in thousands of cases, only a mask for political activity. Hon. Mr. Whitney must work his "funny-bone" overtime in laughing in his sleeve over the deft way in which Ross was knifed, and must regard with complacency the fulminations of the executive of the Moral Reform Department of the Methodist Church over the breach of his promise not to issue any further licenses in New Ontario. He knows he can count on the votes of some political temperance people, no matter how he may bedevil the temperance interest. Blood (political) is thicker than water. (temperance).

ENCYCLOPEDIC JOURNALISM.

The Manitoba Free Press is more than a newspaper—it is an encyclopaedia—especially of information as to the resources and progress of its beloved West. It is its yearly practice to make an investigation, "off its own bat," of the crop yield; and the results tally very closely with its estimates, based upon such investigations. This year, it is stated, five staff correspondents covered the country as far west as Calgary and Edmonton. Ninety-three towns were visited, and each correspondent drove through the wheat fields contiguous to each town. The distance covered (with horse and buggy) aggregated 1,415 miles, and the estimate built on the information thus attained is 90,250,000 bushels. This is based on an average of 19 bushels to the acre or an acreage of 4,750,000. The extreme hot weather just before harvest caused, according to the Free Press, a shrinkage of one bushel to the acre. If the enterprise of the Free Pras is a measure of that of its occidental constituency, the West must be a "hummer."

BRITISH TRADE EXPANDING.

Manitoba Free Press: The British Board of Trade figures on England's foreign trade for June complete the half-year, and give the following remarkable record of expansion:—

Imports from.	1906	1905
Foreign countries	£230,508,800	£211,832,637
British possessions	69,979,600	61,290,865
Total imports	£300,573,400	£273,123,502
Exports to
Foreign countries	123,343,900	101,983,268
British possessions	57,249 600	53,842,593
Total exports	£180,593,500	£155,706,221

The noteworthy increase in the exports is thus analyzed by a London reviewer:—

"The figures relating to the export trade indicate increased demand from more of our principal customers. The value of Germany's purchases from us increased by £2,190,000, and those of France by just over two millions. There was also a large increase in our shipments to Italy. Our exports to China show a decline for the half-year from £6,938,642 to £6 326,868, but the value of our consignments to Japan amounted to £7,846,666 as compared with £4,459,012 in the corresponding period. An increase of nearly two millions is also recorded in exports to the United States, while the value of our shipments to the Argentine Republic rose enormously, the total for the half year amounting to £9,273,464, as compared with £5,335,320 in the corresponding period of 1905. Shipments to Australia increased to the extent of about a million and a half, and there were substantial improvements in the case of India and Canada."

LAWYERS AND WITNESSES.

Toronto News.

It is declared on authority which we are bound to respect that twenty years ago no such arraignment as that formulated by Inspector Stark against certain lawyers in this Province could have been made. The evil practice of endeavouring to discredit a witness out of his own mouth by unfair, malicious and insinuating questions as to character, has been copied from the "shyster lawyers" in the American cities. Even there its condemnation by respectable members off the profession is as pronounced as it is by the best lawyers in this country. From the highest court in Great Britain to the Police Court no counsel would attempt to insult a witness in the box, or endeavour to discredit his evidence by the means which have been described. If counsel had the temerity to try the experiment the judge's reproof would be so stinging and emphatic as to last a lifetime. It is contended by authoritative spokesmen for the legal profession that only a "shyster" will descend to conduct in cross-examination which would not become a gentleman, and that no judge fit to sit upon the Bench will permit counsel to insult or bully a reputable, truth-telling witness. It is insisted that it is just as much a miscarriage of justice to permit the abuse of a witness as it is to permit the introduction of incompetent evidence, and that a case should be as freely reversed on the one ground as on the other. It is fair to add that gross abuse of witnesses by counsel is by no means common in the Canadian courts and is not generally tolerated by the judges.

HEALEY FALLS SCHEME.

The Ottawa Journal says: The Rebecaygeon Independent gives the final coup to the Toronto Globe's latest "scandal." It will be remembered that on the Ontario Government granting a power lease to a private company of the Healey Falls, the Globe declared that the Government had disregarded its avowed policy of public ownership and had ignored the Hydro-Electric Commission in granting this lease. As the Globe does not believe in public ownership, and has no reason to feel sorrow had the Hydro-Electric Commission been ignored, it is difficult to know why it should put up such a cackle on these points. But the great desire of the hour is to endeavour to show that the honest and above-board policy of the Ontario Government is really two-faced and dishonest, or at the very least that the conduct of the Government's affairs is inconsistent with its professions. The Rebecaygeon Independent is published in the district affected by the Hydro-Electric power "scandal." It is not particularly friendly to the Whitney Government, but this is what it says:

"This Healey Falls scheme was in the hands of the promoters long before the Commission was thought of, and the clever manipulators of the scheme got the mayors, councillors, county councillors, wardens, reeves, the official representatives of the people concerned in the development of this power, to personally interview the Government and urge upon it the leasing of the power to these promoters. At that meeting Hon. Mr. Cochrane was apparently aghast at the folly of these public officials and asked them why in the world they did not ask to have this power given to themselves for public control and public utility. Possibly these men were some way hypnotized by skilled promoters; but the Government can scarcely, in fairness be blamed for doing, after definite warning to the petitioners, what the people themselves urgently request."

The above, the Journal adds, disposes of every point in the Globe's case, and the "scandal" may now be expected to fade out of sight.

The Journal rises to a very small fly in its eagerness to excuse the breach of faith, breach of promise and violation of principle on the part of the Government in alienating a public franchise, and in demonstrating in another way its facility in talking one way and acting in another. The circumstance of the Globe being friendly or hostile to the principle of public ownership does not affect the standing of the facts it presents. Is it good reasoning for the Journal to claim, as it does, that the request of a few inexperienced civic officials justifies the Government in violating a principle for which it has practically declared? The Government might, by such reasoning, justify its action in yielding to the request of a handful of persons from some corner of the Province, in reversing any other policy to which it is committed. The manner in which the Independent speaks of the "deal" shows in what light it regards it—"the clever manipulators of the scheme" the Independent knows, gold-laced "the mayors, councillors, county councillors, wardens and reeves," and the action of the Government permitted "the clever manipulators" to succeed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Tribune, the organ of the Labour interests of Ontario, has the following to say regarding Mr. Robert Glockling, of the Labour Bureau, who was frozen out of his position by the apathy and indifference of of the Whitney Government to labour interests: "The Ontario Government will need very powerful magnifying glasses to find another such man in or out of the ranks, who has obtained the enviable reputation of Mr. Robert Glockling, or one that will be able to go in the vacant office and re-organize a department that was already well run, until the Government frost set in, when, naturally, things were congested, not having the natural protection it should have."

Refused Policy But Pay Policy

And Now They Want to Recover Money.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"We understand that one of our local insurance agents will be called upon to appear at the first sitting of the Division Court and the case promises to be a very interesting one. The defendants in the case are two young men of this town, brothers, who claim that the agent misrepresented the policy to them and when it arrived they refused to accept it. The agent then garnisheed their wages in the File and Ideal faoctories and the young men have now commenced action to recover their money, Crown Attorney Kerr of Cobourg, is looking after their interests. Considerable interest is centred on the case and there is likely to be a lively time when it comes up for hearing."

—The Belleville Intelligencer says: "Peterborough merchants have started a crusade against shop-lifters. Which reminds us that some Belleville young men, who should know better, seem to think it clever to appropriate fruit which is in front of stores. It is stealing, just the same, and might mean an ugly chapter in a boy's history if he were detected."

Maybe the Liver Is at Fault

It is customary for many people to blame the stomach when the liver is responsible for the troubles of digestion.

Such symptoms as headache, coated tongue, disgust for food, vomiting, feelings of weight and soreness, dull pain near shoulders, muddy complexion, constipation, alternating with looseness of the bowels, irritability of temper, are sure indications of biliousness or torpid liver.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are marvellously prompt and certain as a cure for sluggish action of the liver. While awakening the liver they also regulate the bowels and invigorate the kidney action.

In this way the filtering and excretory systems are thoroughly cleansed of all poisonous impurities and the cause of pain, sickness and suffering removed.

In every family there is need of just such a medicine as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to cure constipation, backache, biliousness, indigestion and prevent dangerous and fatal diseases of the kidneys and bowels. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co.,

Jackson Park Popular As Ever

Big Crowd Out Last Night Although Band Was Not There.

Although the evening entertainments at Jackson Park have been running six nights a week for three months, the place continues as popular as ever, and no decrease in the size of the crowd can be noticed yet. It seems the only cool place in the city on a hot night.

Last night, despite the fact that the band was not present, the crowd was quite large, and the moving pictures, especially the "Servant Girl Problem," were greatly enjoyed and caused much amusement.

The ocean wave machine seems to have just caught on with the crowd, and last night was well patronized all evening. The restaurant was also a popular place, the hot weather being responsible for an alarming raid on ice cream and soft drinks.

Warsaw, Sept. 13.—This village has decided upon a new departure in connection with the work on the streets, and in future the statute labour system for the village will be abandoned and the amount collected in taxes in lieu of it will be expended on the streets. This fall it is the intention to construct $125 worth of concrete sidewalks in the village, and this will be followed next year by more walks of the same material.

Brisk Season On The Otonabee

Boating, Fishing and Hunting Are Still in Vogue.

Boating on the Otonabee has not yet been brought to a close for the season and the river is used by many every afternoon and evening. Crawford's grove is not yet deserted and a number of tents still remain among the pines to show that the summer has not yet departed.

A large number of the fair sex are camping along the banks and it is a familiar scene to see them take their daily plunge in the Otonabee in circus-like costumes.

The fishing now appears to be on the decline as very few enthusiasts of the rod and line have been reported to be successful. Mr. Thos. Stoner has been labouring hard for three or four days in the hope of landing a prize but—with the usual results—a two-ounce perch is the maximum catch. Many others are failing likewise.

Duck shooting still continues to furnish amusement for the experts of the trigger and a few of the feathery creatures have been bagged.

On the whole the season on the Otonabee has been a brisk one with all prospects for a still better one during 1907.

Pandora Range

It is comparatively easy to build a range that will make a lot of heat, but it requires the exact science of Pandora Range building to produce a range that will use all the heat in the coal without waste.

If you use a Pandora Range you can be certain that your coal money is not wasted, but used.

Mayor Best's Opinion Of The C. P. R. Grain Route

Believes It Will Touch the City—Ald. McWilliams Says Mr. Leonard Would First Confer with the City Before Deciding the Course—Will Communicate With That Official To-day.

Mayor Best was seen by the Examiner this morning, with reference to the proposed grain route from Victoria Harbour to Havelock, and in his opinion the C.P.R. short line would touch Peterborough notwithstanding the declaration made by Mr. Leonard to the News reporter yesterday. He did not care to make a positive assertion he said, but he did not consider it likely that the line would pass through the county north of the city.

"Probably the company could not get a satisfactory grade here," suggested the reporter.

"Oh, yes," he returned, "the original survey was quite satisfactory to them."

An Alderman's Idea.

Ald. McWilliams, chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee, was also interviewed this morning. He had read the story in the News containing Mr. Leonard's assertion, and intended to communicate with him to-day, it be possibly could be found. He did not consider, however, that the statement was final as Mr. Leonard had promised to consider the question with the city before arriving at conclusions and this he has not yet done. In any case the line will run this side of Chemong Park and he thought that by touching Peterborough, 25 miles of road at least would be saved by utilizing the present line to Havelock. Going through the county north of the city would mean a great expense to the C.P.R. as Smith, Dummer and Belmont townships would have to be traversed.

The chief problem which the company must consider before all others, said the Alderman, was that of grading, and upon this the whole question was pivoted. The C.P.R. want a road upon which their engines can haul 2,300 tons as against the 1,100 which they are now able to do.

Ald McWilliams thought it very important that the city should have the railway and he intends to call a meeting of the committee soon to discuss the question, which discussion will depend upon the answer he obtains from the C.P.R. official to-day.

New Warehouse Considered A Most Modern Building

Kinnear & Co's Structure is Almost Finished—Fine, Modernly Constructed Warehouses Built in Peterborough.

A building that is a credit alike to its owners, the architect who designed it, the contractors who built it, and to the people of Peterborough generally is the new warehouse for T. Kinnear & Co., wholesale grocers, at the corner of George and Dalhousie streets. The building, which is almost completed, is not only modern and commodious, but is marked by a handsome exterior, a fact which makes it an admirable structure for the prominent position which it occupies.

Since starting in business a few years ago at the corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets, the trade of Kinnear & Co. has increased to such an extent that more storage accommodation was absolutely necessary, hence they decided to build a large and thoroughly modern warehouse.

That they have succeeded in their aim is the verdict of all who have examined the building. In every particular it is thoroughly modern; in fact, it is the first warehouse on modern lines of architecture to be erected in Peterborough. Its exterior appearance has been made the subject of much favourable comment. The front is of red pressed brick, with galvanized iron upper and storey cornices, and the firm name in large letters of the same metal.

The building, which, when completed, will have cost about $9,000, is 75x30 feet, and is three storeys high. It is of solid brick, with stone foundations extending four feet above the ground.

There is a splendid basement in the building with a solid concrete floor and a ceiling eight feet in height. In the basement are situated the necessary lavatories and plumbing and heating apparatus which will, of course, be of most modern construction.

The front portion of the ground floor, running back 23 feet, will be used as the offices of the company. This part of the floor will be fitted out in the best manner possible in quartered oak. There will be a vault and all necessary office fixtures. The windows and vestibule will be plate glass. The floor will be of maple.

The rear part of the ground floor and the two upper storeys will be devoted to the storage of merchandise. The building is equipped with a first-class electric elevator running from basement to roof. This was installed by a Toronto firm, and power will be supplied by the Peterborough Light & Power Company. Ample provision has been made for the bringing in or taking out of goods, there being three large doors to the building, all easy of access.

Rutherford Bros. were the contractors for the building, and are being congratulated upon their excellent wrok in connection with the structure, which is certainly a credit to the workmanship. The brick work was done by J. J. McPherson, but the whole contract was in the hands of Rutherford Bros.

The new building will be ready to be occupied about September 15, although the offices will not be completed before that time. It is the intention of the company to begin to utilize the place as a warehouse as soon as possible.

Horse Stolen From A Local Liveryman

Man Named Moore Took One From Dr. McKercher's Stable on Monday--Has Not Been Returned Yet--Warrant Out for His Arrest.

Dr. McKercher, the Hunter street liveryman, had a valuable horse stolen on Monday. A man named Moore, who has been employed as an hostler about one of the local hotels came to the stable early on Monday morning, and ordered a horse and buggy, stating that he wanted to go eight miles out in the country. He was given a grey mare, about 15 hands high, and eight years old, with nickel-mounted harness, and a covered buggy, with black gear. He set out, promising to return the rig the same day, a promise which, however, he failed to keep, and the horse and buggy are still out.

The matter has been reported to the police and nearby towns have been communicated with. Advertisements have been inserted in the Toronto papers with a view of locating the horse, which is a valuable one, and if Dr. McKercher could get it, he would not be so particular about the buggy.

Moore has been hanging around the City Hotel for the last year and a half and it was not thought risky to allow him to take the horse and buggy out. Any one who buys this horse from Moore will of course do so at his own risk.

Mr. R. J. Todd Asks For Some More Retractions

Another Letter From Christian Science Demonstrator in Which he Asks the Coroner to Correct Statements—The Randlett Case Again Referred To.

Editor Examiner:

Dear Sir,—It is gratifying to see by your issue of last evening that the juryman, had manliness enough to retract his statement when he learned he was mistaken. This he was going to do three weeks ago, but the Crown Attorney would not allow it while the case was pending. It would no doubt be interesting to the public if our worthy Attorney would tell us why it would be wrong for a juryman who falsely accusses a witness under oath, and he learns his mistake, to retract it, while the case is pending, if he was desirous to have the jury and public get the facts in connection with the investigation.

This Mrs. Hannah, I was hastily called to when she was supposed to be dying, and which I had to pull from the jaws of death while under my severest struggle with Arthur Randlett.

The Coroner brought this case up and made all the capital out of it that he could make to suit his case. When I attempted to give what I knew about it, the Crown refused to hear it. When I stated that Dr. Gray had been attending the case he, (the doctor,) denied it and said he didn't have the case. On Monday evening we had a man in court to swear that his statement was false. He had the last bottle of medicine in his pocket with Dr. Gray's label on it. Now, sir, I want to ask our coroner, Dr. Gray, if he has became sufficiently "compos mentis" (using his own words) to be responsible for what he says, to follow the example of his juryman, and retract his denial of my statement when giving evidence. I shall give him until Saturday night, Sept. 15th, to retract.

And also to our young man Mr. Engele, clerk at the National Hotel, who in evidence stated that "I had visited the said hotel nearly every day while Mr. Randlett was there, and further swore that the said Arthur Randlett had in his possession in cash over $45.00 (forty-five dollars) when he left there to come to my house. This I am now in a position to state is false, and it may be to his interest and credit to retract his statements. All of which I ask in the interest of truth and justice. We may not be "compos mentis," in fact we have learned enough through the teaching of Christian Science to know that we are not.

There never was but one man "compos mentis," and that was Christ Jesus, He didn't have to study either law or medicine, but He healed the sick. And we as Christian Scientists are but students (or disciples) striving to gain that higher consciousness. This change of mind, Paul tells us in Romans 12th chap., 1st and 2nd verses, is what transforms the body, or in other words, heals the sick, and this can be gained to-day by an intelligent study of the Bible and Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Rev. Mary B. G. Eddy, who is devoting her whole life to the service of God, and of whom the Hon. Henry Robinson, ex-Mayor and Postmaster of Concord, N. H., where Mrs. Eddy has been known from childhood, and where she now resides, has said, in writing of the great women of the ages, says:

"But as a happy combination of modesty, simplicity, culture, of good-heartedness, of noble endeavour, of remarkable mental force, of intellectual depth and spiritual insight, of indomitable mysterious power and influence, coupled with a gentle disposition and a guileless heart, Mary Baker Eddy is believed by hundreds of thousands to wield the sceptre as earth's queen. Hers is a tiara of living diamonds."

Thanking you for space.

Sincerely yours,

R. J. TODD.

Visitors Pleased With Peterborough

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morse, of Battle Creek Here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morse, late of Melbourne, Australia, have been visiting their sister, Mrs. H. I. Morse-Farnum, and their father, Mr. Washington Morse, at "Cozy Cottage," College street. Mr. and Mrs. Morse are at present connected with the Mammoth Battle Creek, Mich., Sanitarium, which has a well-merited world-wide fame. Mr. Morse is an experienced and talented journalist, being temporarily associated with that high-class magazine, "Good Health," at the sanitarium, pending permanent residence in Florida. Mrs. Morse is matron of East Hall, where one hundred of the one thousand sanitarium patients are located. Mr. Morse thought the lift look the most ponderous of the many public works visited in different localities, and was pleased with Peterborough's progress during the decade since a former visit.

Proprietors Are Well Satisfied

Season at the Victoria House Has Been a Profitable One.

Messrs. Freeman and Carveth, proprietors of the Victoria House, McCracken's Landing, were in the city to-day, and although the season is not yet closed there, the visitors are rapidly taking their departure. At the Victoria House there are yet some seven or eight, and twenty or more are expected in a few days.

The fishing at Stony Lake has not been of the best lately, but still a few are lucky with the rod and line.

The season at the Victoria has been much more profitable than the proprietors anticipated, considering it was their first at the lake. Next year they are certain of a still better season.

A second bus will leave the same place and post office at 3 o'clock sharp.

Knocked Down By A Vehicle

Commissioner Evans While Rendering Assistance Was Run Over.

The cement mixer on London street near the corner of Bethune was responsible for the scaring of a farm horse yesterday and the cause of injuries to Mr. Harry Evans, street commissioner. A farmer and presumably his wife were driving east along London street, when the horse became frightened at the sand pile. Mr. Evans kindly took the animal by the bridle to lead it past when the cement mixer loomed up large in its eye and a sudden bolt knocked Mr. Evans down. The wheel of the vehicle passed over him and he emerged from the dusty road with a badly bruised arm. Although the injury caused severe pain for a time it is not considered very dangerous. The party in the buggy escaped unhurt.

Building Near Carpet Factory

Mr. Jas. Skippen Erects Handsome Residence in Spare Hours.

Building operations are going ahead rapidly in the south end of the city and in the vicinity of the carpet factory. Among others Mr. Jas Skippen, foreman carpenter at the carpet factory is erecting a handsome residence on the old Smith property to the south of the Exhibition Grounds. Great credit is due Mr. Skippen for his enterprise and the rapidity with which the building is going up, considering he had done the work in spare hours and on Saturday afternoons. Several other houses will soon be commenced and house erecting in the vicinity will soon become general.

THE GIRL AND THE BEE

A Story of the Ignorance of a City Girl.

The city girl coming down to breakfast at the farm house, and observing a plate of honey on the table, said, 'Oh, I see you keep a bee."

That's about the way some people talk about the blight of baldness—just as if a bald head was something one got all at once, instead of being the result of long depletion by an insidious germ which thrives upon the roots of the hair and succombs to only one known remedy, Newbro's Herpicide.

Many Local Oddfellows Will Attend The Gathering

Will Visit Soverign Grand Lodge Meeting Next Week--Special Train Will Carry Peterborough Contingent.

The prospects are that a large delegation of Peterborough Oddfellows will go to Toronto on Wednesday of next week to attend the big parade in connection with the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge.

Arrangements have been made for a special train on that date, starting from Norwood, and the Peterborough contingent will be a large one.

In connection with the gathering the Globe says:

The parliament buildings will be at the disposal of the delegates for many of their meetings, while other minor sessions will be held in the hotels and other public buildings The exhibition park will also be at the service of the members for drills, parades, etc., where some brilliant functions will be held.

Welcome by City and Province.

At 9.30 on Monday morning business will commence in real earnest. The delegates will assemble in the legislative chamber of the Parliament buildings, Joseph Oliver, P.G.R., presiding.

The afternoon will be given over to prize drills by cantons at the Exhibition Park, subordinate lodge degree competitions in the assembly hall of the Temple Building, encampment degree competitions in Victoria Hall, exhibition drill by the Detroit Battallion Patriarchs Militant, a reception by the Rebekahs of Ontario to sisters and lady visitors at the I.O.O.F. Hall, and a dress parade of Cantons, and reception to General M. A. Raney, general commanding at Camp Wright. At 8 o'clock there will be a reception by the grand sire at the King Edward Hotel, and at 8.30 exemplifications of Patriarchs Militant degree and Rebekah Degree at Exhibition Park.

The session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge will open at 9 o'clock, and during the morning the subordinate lodge and encampment detree competition and prize drills by cantons, will be continued. At 2.30 there will be a dress parade of Patriarchs Militant and inspection by General M. A. Raney at the Exhibition Park. Prize drills of cantons will take place from 3.30 to 5.30, and at 5 p. m. the conferring of decoration of chivalry will be conducted by Col. W. S. Johnston, department commander of Ontario, and staff. The Past Grand Representatives' re-union will take place in Massey Hall at 7.30.

The Parade.

Wednesday morning will be devoted to the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and prize drills by cantons. In the afternoon will take take place what is likely to be to the general public the most interesting event of the week. This will be the grand parade which promises to be a most interesting affair. It will be divided into five sections, the starting point being from the corner of College and Bathurst streets. The route taken will be a long one and will terminate on Queen's avenue, where the column will be reviewed by the officers and members of the Sovereign Grand Lodge. A large reviewing stand will be erected on Queen's avenue for the occasion, admission being by ticket. In the evening the conferring of the Grand Decoration of Chivalry will be conducted by General M. A. Raney and staff, and there will also be subordinate encampment and Rebekah degrees conferred.

Ticket Agents Visit Toronto

Local Men Take Part in Pleasing Function.

Mr. W. McIlroy and Mr. W. Bunton have returned from Toronto, where they participated in a pleasing event, told of in the following, from the Star, of that city:—

At the King Edward Hotel yesterday afternoon about forty friends of Mr. J. J. Brignall, principally members of the C. P. R. passenger department, with a sprinkling of representatives of other transportation companies, gathered to show in a tangible form their appreciation of the prospective bridegroom's worth as a man, and good fellow. Mr. C. B. Foster, Mr. Brignall's chief, read a happily-worded address, expressing cordial best wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Brignall's future happiness and welfare.

The address was accompanied by the gift of a magnificent grandfather's clock. Brief speeches were made by Mr. A. J. Taylor, Canadian agent, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway; W. T. Dockrill, representing the outside ticket agents of the C.P.R.; John Pool of the Pennsylvania Railway, Buffalo; Lem Atkinson of the C. P. R., Newmarket; W. Bunton, of the G. T. R., Peterborough; Burton Bennet, general agent of the Chicago and North-Western Railway; A. Werner of Elmira; A. J. Rose, of Berlin; J. O. Goodsell of the Union Pacific; John Yorrick, of the Burlington Railway; representatives of the Toronto press, and others.

Mr. William McIlroy, of the C.P.R., Peterborough, was chairman.

Popular Actor Weds In Hamilton

O. T. Burke, Who Played With Summers Stock Co.

The principals referred to in the following from the Hamilton Times are quite well known in the city, where the Summer's Stock Company played last winter, and their romance will be read with interest. The Times says:—

A nice little romance which has been in progress on the mountain during the past few months, is to have its climax to-morrow in the marriage of Mr. Orrin T. Burke, leading man of the Summers Stock Company, and Miss Gertrude Stanley, soubrette of the company. It is a case of "Because she loved him so" being reciprocated.

Picture Post Card Business Is Growing

A Local Studio Has Turned Them Out at Rate of Thousands Each Week--The Business Had Its Origin in Germany.

It may be a surprise to many persons in Peterborough to learn that in this city there is a concern which turns out picture post cards at the rate of several thousand a week. The Roiy Studio has had a particularly busy summer in this branch of their business as well as in portrait work, and, as has been stated, Mr. Roy has been producing picture post cards at the rate of several thousand a week. Mr. Roy states that he was unable to keep the rate of production up to the demand. He has secured copyrights on a number of his best views, in order to protect himself from persons who want to reproduce them without credit.

Picture post cards were invented in Germany about a decade ago, and for some years they remained a German specialty, at which foreigners were inclined to smile as an ephemeral fad. To-day these cards are made in enormous quantities in England, France and other countries, but Germany still remains their headquarters.

Last year about 1,200,000,000 of them were mailed in the post offices of that country. They represented a value of over $22,000,000, and at least thirty different occupations are benefitted thereby. If any fresh stimulus had been needed, it would have been supplied by the extraordinary interest of the Kaiser in these cards. The other day he spent two hours in having a series of photographs taken of himself in his diverse uniforms, to be reproduced in colours. This was done at his own suggestion. He also ordered a series of views illustrating his last Mediterranean cruise.

Carpenters Want To Prevent Strikes

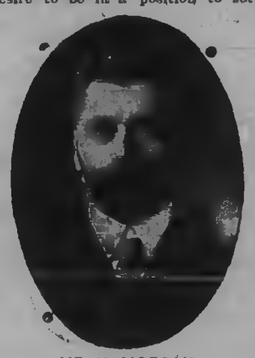
This Will be One of Important Matters Considered at Annual Meeting at the Falls—Mr. H. Morgan Left Today to Attend Meeting--The Union of Two Bodies Also Considered.

This morning Mr. H Morgan left the city to attend the convention of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, of America, which will be held in Niagara Falls, N.Y., opening on Monday, Sept. 17th. In the interval between this and the opening of the meeting, Mr. Morgan will visit his sister.

There will be in the neighbourhood of 600 delegates in attendance on this meeting, which will be a most important gathering. The question of the proposed union with the Amalgamated Society will be taken up, and in view of the fact that the referendum vote taken by the locals in the both societies resulted in a majority of 10,000 in favour of the union, it is quite probable that the proposal will be carried through.

In the United Brotherhood there are 1,892 locals, with a membership of about 200,000.

It is expected that the meeting will continue for about two weeks, and one of the important matters to be considered is the proposal to appoint a Board of Arbitrators, the object of which will be to prevent all strikes. It is hoped that this feature will be carried out, the members of the Brotherhood expressing their strong desire to be in a position to settle all differences without resorting to strikes.



MR. H. MORGAN,

Who left to-day to attend the Annual Meeting of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, at Niagara Falls.

Farewell Of One Of The Bandmen

Was Given at League of Mercy Meeting Last Night.

The Salvation Army Barrack was the scene of a stirring time last night, it being the occasion of the farewelling of Bandsman Clithero, and the monthly meeting of the League of Mercy. The meeting was a public one, and a large number were present and listened, first to the very gratifying report of Sergt.-Major Mrs. Lloyd, the leader of the League of Mercy.

During the month the League visited the Nicholls Hospital several times, the County jail, the Protestant Home a couple of times, and 141 persons in various families in the city. At the Home, they gave the old folks a treat on one occasion to fruit, etc., and distributed copies of the War Cry there, as well as in the other institutions which they visited — 100 copies in all.

Clothing was given to many families in need, and such acts of charity as washing and ironing performed in many cases, showing that the League of Mercy is an industrious society, and that it is doing good work where it is most needed in Peterborough.

At the conclusion of the meeting Bandsman Clithero bade his final good-bye, reading the lesson in connection with the farewell. He left to-day for Toronto, where he enters the Salvation Army Training College for a three years' course, and his departure is regretted by all in connection with the local corps.

How to Start Off the Day

Thinking people are giving more and more earnest thought as to how to start off each new day so as to put themselves in the best possible physical and mental condition for the work of the day. It is an interesting subject, so interesting indeed that it has attracted the attention of a host of the world's leading scholars and authors on hygiene and many different opinions have been written for the guidance of the people. On one point, at least, all are agreed. This is that the right kind of a breakfast is essential. A perfect breakfast is impossible without Malta-Vita, that delicious, crisp, vitalizing, whole-wheat food.

In making Malta-Vita the whole of the wheat, after being cleaned, is thoroughly steamed and cooked in absolute purity and then mixed with malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, which converts the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar. Maltose is great food and the weakest stomach digests and assimilates it without effort. After being rolled into thin, wafer-like flakes the malted wheat is baked under such intense heat that it comes from the ovens crisp and brown—positively the most delicious, most healthful food in the world. Always ready to eat. All grocers, now 10 cents.

Quadrennial Conference At Montreal Now In Session.

STRICTLY ROUTINE SO FAR

Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent, Delivered His Quadrennial Address, and Gave an Interesting Tabulated Statement of Figures Showing Condition of Church—Rev. T. A. Moore Is Secretary.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Yesterday's proceedings at the Methodist general conference were singularly barren of striking features, a disposition to get business done in a practical and prosaic fashion, perhaps, being due to the heat which prevails. Consequently the organization of the conference has been of a strictly routine character, and the only approach to the enthusiasm occurred when Rev. S. F. Collier of Manchester, England, fraternal delegate of the British Wesleyan conference, was presented.

Rev. T. A. Moore General Secretary.

There were 228 delegates on the first ballot for general secretary, and Rev. T. Albert Moore got 104. Rev. J. S. Ross, Oakville, 25; James Allen, 13, and George Steel, 12, were next in the running. On the second ballot Mr. Moore received 206 votes. Rev. J. J. Rae, Picton; S. E. Clement, Brandon, and W. B. McCoy, Halifax, were appointed assistants, and Rev. G. H. Cornish, LL.D., journal clerk.

The honors were passed around at the opening service as far as possible. Rev. George Steel read scripture passages, and Rev. Dr. Heartz, Yarmouth, N. S., and Justice MacLaren offered prayer. John Torrance, the Montreal millionaire, welcomed the conference to the city.

Dr. Carman's Address.

Rev. Dr. Carman, general superintendent, delivered his quadrennial address and was attentively listened to. Applause broke out two or three times. This was most marked at a reference to the ministers, who are "allured to secular ventures and pursuits." In the course of his address, Dr. Carman gave the following statistical summary of the quadrennium:

Air Brakes Failed Causing Bad Wreck

Twelve Were Killed in C. P. R. Wreck Near Sudbury—Harvester's The Victims—Eastbound Express Train Ran Into Harvesters' Excursion—Victims Were All in One Car Which Was Telescoped—Most of Them Killed in Their Berths—Forty Persons Were Seriously Injured.

Sudbury, Sept. 13.—Twelve dead and three-score injured, many of them seriously, and some, perhaps, fatally, is the toll of a collision on the C. P. R. early yesterday morning near Azilda station, six and one-half miles west of Sudbury.

Failure of the brakes on the fast-going express bound east is held to be responsible for the collision which caused the first colonist car of the third section of harvester train No. 1 to be telescoped. All the dead and injured were in this car.

The accident occurred about 7.15 yesterday morning. The third section of train No. 1 going west, which left Toronto yesterday afternoon, and the second section of No. 2, coming east, had orders to cross at Azilda station.

The harvester train was to take the siding and had slowed up within 75 yards of the switch when the express plunged into it.

A Tremendous Crash.

There was a tremendous crash, a rendering of metal and wood, the hissing of stream, and then the air filled with the cries, shrieks and groans of passengers of both trains.

There were fifteen coaches on the harvester train with over 900 people on board. The eastbound train was also well-filled, but these passengers suffered only from the severe shaking up.

Luckily, fire did not break out among the wreckage, and the work of rescue was facilitated considerably. Those who were unhurt joined in the task of removing the injured and dead. Word was sent to Sudbury and four doctors were soon attending the wounded, who were later brought here and taken to the hospital and to local hotels.

The dead were also brought here, and preparations for an inquest are under way.

The Dead.

As announced by the C. P. R. officials at Montreal:

F. Blackwell, policeman, 55 Bellevue avenue, Toronto.
Charles Palmer, Toronto.
J. J. Noble, Barrie.

Louis Pfaff, New Hamburg, Ont.
Percy Baker, Stayner, Ont.
H. F. Milne, N. W. T.
William Puddicomb, New Hamburg, Ont.
Viola Schade and Olive Schade, Monkton, Ont. These were two children, 12 and 10 years of age, respectively. Their parents were also very seriously injured, and are now in the hospital at Sudbury.

Besides these there is still one body which has not been recognized.

Dead, as Given In Despatches.

Herbert Williams, Toronto.

William Rowe, Frankfort, feet and internal injuries.
Herbert Williams, Toronto, cuts and bruises; doing well.
Sheldon Moran, Frankfort, fractured leg.

Jacob Meisenger, Hanover, arms and head injured; not seriously.
C. Hamilton, Harper's Corners, Ont., slightly injured.
George Rose, Frankfort, slightly injured.

THE OFFICIAL ACCOUNT.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Last night General Manager McNicoll of the C. P. R. gave out the following report of the wreck at Sudbury:

"As far as the meagre despatches we have of the accident go to show, it was caused by the failure of the brakes on the express to act. The harvesters' train was standing on the main line waiting, while the brakeman ran ahead to turn the switch, so that it might be sidetracked to allow the passage of the east-bound express. Before he could get the switch in position the express arrived and plunged head-on into the train, smashing the first colonist to fragments and killing or injuring over half the people in it.

"The engineer of the east-bound express was not killed, and he later claimed that the accident was caused through the failure of the brakes on his train. A hasty examination of the train proved the correctness of this assertion. A little back of the middle of the express an 'angle cock' on the air brake tubes had been turned, which shut off the latter half of the train, where the heavy sleepers and diner were, from the front end. The result was that when the engineer applied the brakes from the front, half of the train was affected, and the weight of the latter half forced it on into the standing train.

"Had the brakes not been applied at all there would have been a much greater accident, as the harvesters' train was crowded with passengers."

A Drastic Investigation.

Regina, Sasks., Sept. 13.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., and the annual inspecting party of directors of the line, arrived in the city shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. They had already heard of the terrible accident near Sudbury, by which 13 harvesters are reported killed.

The president and individual members of the party expressed themselves as greatly shocked at the deplorable catastrophe, and the president said: "You may rest assured that the most thorough and drastic investigation will ensue."

Saw Mother and Wife Killed.

London, Ont., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Hinsley of 356 Dufferin avenue, was killed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Dundas and Colborne streets, while crossing the street car tracks. Her husband and two children were with her at the time.

Moterman Drowns.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Stewart McInnes, aged 28, a motorman on the Toronto Street Railway, was drowned about 3 p. m. yesterday in the lake near the western gap. McInnes was an excellent swimmer. It is thought that the fact of his going in bothing soon after eating was the cause of cramps. He was about 28 years of age and came from near Guelph, where his sister lives. Two brothers are in the Northwest.

Orders Overlapped—Seven Killed.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 13.—Freight trains Nos. 8 and 18, on the Western and Atlantic Railroad, collided at Ring Gold, Ga., early yesterday and seven trainmen were killed. The accident was due to the overlapping of orders by the engineer of No. 8. The engines were demolished.

Juries Find Two Guilty.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Robert Morrison, over 60 years of ago, was yesterday found guilty of attempting to assault Violent Skinner, aged 7. Morrison was tried before Judge Winchester in the general sessions. The jury brought in a strong recommendation for mercy. Accused was a G. T. R. watchman at the Eastern avenue crossing. The crime took place on July 4.

William Maynard, charged with "shooting with intent," also faced his honor and a jury. The jury returned a verdict of wounding without intent, with a strong recommendation to mercy. Maynard and his wife had been on bad terms for some time. She went to live with her father, James Sheard. Maynard went to see her, there was a quarrel, and it is then the shooting took place. The accused admitted firing the revolver, but did not intend to shoot his father-in-law.

Big Rugby Practice Called For Saturday

Team Will Play Senior--Some New Men That Should Strengthen the Line-up.

There will be a full practise of the rugby team on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at Riverside Park, at which it is important that all members should be present, as the team must get into shape as soon as possible. The club wired secretary J. B. Hay, of the O. R. F. U. that they would play in the senior series. To be in the running for the championship against such strong teams as the Argonauts and Hamilton Tigers, the boys will have to be in the best of condition. There is material for a winning team; all that is needed is practise. The following are asked to be out on Saturday:—Captain Hurtubise, Crowley, Dillon, Regan, Meagher, Mulhern, Gillespie, Hill, Poe, Sherwood, Ross Craig, Ford, Dickson, Hall, and any others intending to play rugby this season.

Several new men have come to Peterborough since last season and should greatly strengthen the line-up. One is Arthur Poe, of the Quaker Oats Company, a member of the Princton team which won the Intercollegiate championship some years ago. His name is on the rolls of football fame in the United States as making the longest drop kick in the history of the game and also one of the best runs, carrying the pigskin through the entire Yale team for a touch. Mr. Poe has promised to turn out, and if he doesn't play, will coach the team. His services will be invaluable to the team.

Another acquisition is H. C. Hill of the senior Montreal team. He is a centre half with a great reputation as a punter and is slated to fill Doc Shaw's place on the half line.

Sherwood, formerly of the R. M. C. half line will also turn out with the team. He was one of the best men on the Cadets' team some years ago and should help the team along.

Some Hockey Gossip From Western Towns

Many Senior Teams Will Play in the O. H. A. This Season —Galt, Stratford, Berlin and Woodstock Probably in Senior Ranks.

They say that up in Berlin the natives have been hanging around the ice house all summer talking hockey. The Galt Reformer says:—"The preseason stories from Berlin are to the effect that Rosekat will replace 'Pete' Charleton at point on the champion team, and that it is a question whether Goosse will be in the game again, and that Goldie Cochrane has declared himself out of it. The younger Cochrane boys are about fast enough for any of them, but it is a safe bet that when the senior O.H.A. season for 1906 opens Berlin will present both Grosse and Charlton on their Robertson cup holders' team.

"Galt will place a senior team in the O.H.A. again this winter. Stratford will also be in the same circle, and possibly Woodstock, although it is doubtful about the latter. Since there is some talk of putting in a roller rink in the present skating rink, the Galt team will have a good opportunity to get into condition by the time the season opens."

Roller Skating Rink Latest Amusement Place

Charlotte St. Rink Will be Used for this Purpose--250 Pairs of the Latest Style of Roller Skates Will be Used.

Peterborough people will this fall have an opportunity of enjoying a new pastime or rather the revival of an old one on modern lines. A roller skating rink is now on the tapis and a company of local men have secured a lease of the Charlotte street rink for this purpose. The season will last until December 1st.

Work will begin to-morrow on a splendid hard floor for the centre part of the building and it is expected that the contract will be finished in time to allow of a formal opening on a week from Saturday. The company will start with 250 pairs of roller skates of the most modern type. They will be of steel with ball bearings and are most comfortable and easy to skate with. These improved skates are mainly responsible for the revival in roller skating all over the country. Some years ago the pastime was very popular, but the interest waned and until the present season the sport has been practically dead. The invention of the new skate has, however, greatly increased the pleasure of the pastime and its popularity wherever revived, has been great from the start.

Peterborough's rink will be as large and as modern as any in Toronto and will no doubt be a popular amusement place this fall. The opening will be marked by the presence of the band which will be present frequently during the season.

Fair Directors Are Working Hard Now

And the Prospect for Successful Exhibition are Excellent Finances in Good Shape—R. R. Hall's Offer to Donate Cup Accepted.

A meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair was held last night in the office of the President, when a number of matters of importance in connection with the exhibition were discussed.

The list of judges was completed, and their names will be published in a short time.

The different sub-committees reported, and it was found from the report of the committee having charge of the finances that the society was in good shape, so far as this feature is concerned. The citizens to whom appeals have been made were generous in their responses, and the prospects for the success of the fair are excellent, provided, of course, the weather is favourable.

The offer of Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., to donate another cup for competition among the football teams of the county was submitted and gratefully accepted by the directors.

THE AFTERNOON SESSIONS ARE UNSATISFACTORY

To The Examiner.

May I use your columns to call the attention of the School Board to the unsatisfactory arrangement made in the East Ward Kindergarten, which holds its session now in the afternoons. Everybody knows that the little ones have their sleep after dinner, and, instead of being at school, ought to be in bed. Sleepy children will not derive any benefit from teaching. Again, the morning hours are more suitable from a parental point of view. Mothers are busy in the morning with household cares, and are glad to have their little ones at the school in the forenoon, and the afternoon can be far better used for looking after them. Besides, it is unfair to the two assistant teachers who have to teach at their kindergartens. This fact solely is responsible for the unsatisfactory arrangement. Let the Board procure three assistants instead of making a cheap convenience of the two, who have enough to do in their respective work without being burdened with teaching at places for which they are neither engaged nor paid.

PARENT.

Football Contest At Exhibition

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Has Generously Donated Another Trophy.

A very important feature of the Exhibition this year will be an Association football match, and probably more than one, for the Peterborough County championship. Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., has kindly donated a handsome silver trophy for the competition which will no doubt be a keen one as at least Bridgenorth and the Quakers will be represented by teams. It will be remembered Mr. Hall donated the last silver cup for the same competition which the Bridgenorth team now passes, having won it in 1904 by default and in 1905 retained in a tie game.

All entries for the competition must be made to secretary F. J. A. Hall on or before Saturday, September 22nd. The game or games will probably be played on September 26th, in the afternoon although final arrangements have not yet been made.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Sept. 13.—The stock market recovered further to-day under the leadership of the specialties, and then reacted a little with irregularity afterward. The tone was good. We see no reason for changing the position heretofore recommended, that of conservative neutrality, with watching for special aggression, for we do not believe insiders will, under present conditions, attempt a broad bull market. There seems to be no danger of a serious decline, as repeatedly stated, but plenty of recessions.

Southern Pacific made a new high to-day, while Union Pacific touched its former high of 195 3-8. In the late trading profit-taking caused a little reaction, with some bear pressure in spots. The close was irregular.

No Artificial Ice Rink Yet

Toronto Will Have Present Mutual Street Rink Another Year.

It is absolutely certain, now that there will be no artificial ice rink in Toronto this winter. Owing to the impossibility of securing the steel supplis necessary for the construction of the proposed new Mutual street rink, the management of Toronto's present hockey arenna have found it necessary to postpone building operations till next year at least.

O. H. A. Amateur Principles Stand

So Declares President Darroch in Winnipeg.

Said President D. L. Darroch in an interview at Winnipeg:—"The O.H.A. will continue as a strictly amateur association this coming winter, though it is possible that Toronto may have a professional team to play in the Eastern League, which Mr. Darroch thinks will declare for out and out professionalism this winter."

RUGBY.

With four teams, Hamilton Tigers, Toronto Vics, Toronto Argos and Peterborough, a compact and cosy senior series can be formed. The season opens on October 6th and the meeting of the O.R.F.U. will be held on Tuesday of next week. Peterboroughs chances in the senior series look good although in the Hamilton Tigers they will have most formidable opponents.

Kingston, Ont.—A shocking accident occurred at Marlbank. A fireman named Conrita Henass was beneath the locomotive checking the fire, when the engineer, without knowing of the fireman's position, pulled the throttle, and as the engine began to move, Henass attempted to get from under and in doing so had both legs cut off at the thighs. The man came from Montreal, was 25 years of age, and was on the road about four years.

Church Union Is Great Issue At Triennial Conference

Principal of Wesleyan Theological College Believes It Will Be Effected—Limited Pastoral Term—Card Playing, Dancing and Theatre Going Will be Put in the Back-Ground—Movement Will Probably Spread.

Montreal Sept. 12.—The great issue to come before the Methodist General Conference, which opened in St. James' Methodist Church to-day, is the union negotiations now in progress between the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches. Dr. W. I. Shaw, principal of the Wesleyan Theological College, is confident that these proposals will meet with a favourable reception by the Conference.

"I have no doubt," said the Doctor, "that the union proposals will receive a cordial and overwhelming vote and let me emphasize these words, one even equal to that given in the recent General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in London, Ont. Of course, the testing time is ahead, when the question goes down to all the lower church courts, but I think that the majority of them will approve.

"The movement has gone so far that I think that if any of the churches concerned, now rejet it, it will be at their own risk of suffering a loss in the general favour of the people."

"The questions of limiting the pastoral term, and a change in the discipline in regard to such amusements as dancing, theatres and card playing, will not," continued Dr. Shaw, "largely occupy the attention of the Conference as they will be put in the background by the union movement."

Stone Throwing In City Must Be Curtailed

Boy Accused and Convicted in Police Court This Morning--Midnight Quiet at Central Park Disturbed by Man With a Razor--Fined $5 For Committing an Assault.

Business at the Police Court is beginning to look up again, and this morning three cases occupied the Magistrate's attention, and $7 was the amount by which the city was enriched.

A Disturbance Charge.

A number of the nightly visitors at Central Park, in the neighbourhood of McDonel street, were startled last night by a disturbance caused by Edward Lee, who was somewhat intoxicated, and with an open razor in his hand. P. C. Meharry soon put in an appearance on the scene, and Lee fled to Aylmer street, and threatening to use the weapon if the officer ventured to near. He was nevertheless taken into custody and spent the night in the cooler, and this morning pleaded guilty to the disturbance charge, although he scarcely remembered all the proceedings of the eventful night. He was fined $2, to be paid in ten days.

Assaulted Little Boy.

Francis Peters, a little boy about 14 years of age, appeared before the Magistrate with a badly disfigured face, which he has been carrying for a couple of days.

Charles Humber, a young man, was charged with the assault, and although absent, pleaded guilty. Young Peters testified that the other night he spoke to Humber, saying "How are you, Charles P" Another young fellow called out, "Let her go, Humber." This ended the proceedings on that evening, but next day the boy was accused with using the latter remark, and a quarrel resulted, ending in Peters' eye being decorated. The accused was fined five dollars, to be paid in five days.

Missile Throwing Must Stop.

"This stone throwing is an abominable nuisance," declared the Magistrate, as he fined a little boy this morning for breaking a pane of glass in a front door. Jimmy Pearson was the boy, the information being laid by Mrs. Henrietta Fair, the sufferer from the stone.

Pearson disclaimed relationship to the act, and Mrs. Fair gave evidence that on Saturday afternoon while she was upstairs, a terrible fusilade was heard against her door and verandah was heard. Descending she noticed several boys in front of her residence, one of whom — Jimmy Pearson, she stated — ran away. She then cleared the stones, cucumbers and apple cores, from the verandah floor, and did some sentinel duties, catching Pearson in the act, and declares he broke the window. Three boys who were present gave the same evidence.

Young Pearson told a different story. He stated that all were throwing stones and other missles, and that Albert Price broke the pane of glass. Price was first accused by Mrs. Fair, and afterwards he himself came in for the blame.

The Magistrate took the former evidence as correct, and fined the accused $1 for compensation, and $3.35 costs, to be paid in five days.

Mrs. Fair on hearing the verdict could not suppress a smile which Mrs Pearson took exception to.

"You needn't laugh or throw slurs," she said; "I would not believe any of those boys on their oath."

"You'd have a better boy if you were only a little wiser," remarked the Magistrate.

WEDDING BELLS

CALDWELL—FORD.

Belleville, September 13th. — A very pretty house wedding took place at 11 o'clock this morning, at the residence of Mrs. Ford, Bridge street, when her daughter, Miss Lena Alberta, became the wife of Dr. Thomas Wilfrid Caldwell, of Yorkton, Province of Saskatchewan. The interior of the house was very tastefully decorated with potted plants and flowers for the occasion.

Rev. A. H. Drumm, pastor of the John street Presbyterian church, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Ernest Ford, of Peterborough. She was attired in a beautiful gown of pattern lace over chiffon and duchesse satin and wore the customary bridal veil. Her bouquet consisted of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid was Miss Della Ford, sister of the bride, her dress being of white silk trimmed with real lace, and carried a bouquet of red roses. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was partaken of.

The young couple are both well known and popular in this city. The groom is a son of Dr. Caldwell and spent the greater portion of his life here.

This afternoon Dr. Caldwell and his bride left for the west, and after a visit to some places of interest will proceed to their home at Yorkton.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful gifts.

CROWE—EDMISON.

Kingston, Sept. 12.—A quiet wedding took place at the Presbyterian manse at Cheltenham this morning, when Miss Caroline M. Edmison, of Kingston, formerly of Peterborough, was married to Mr. Thomas James Crowe, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. Henry Edmison, M.A. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Rev. J. H. Edmison, was gowned in white silk trimmed with lace. Dr. and Mrs. Crowe left on a trip to Niagara, Buffalo and other places west, previous to taking up their residence at 246 Beatrice stret, Toronto.

The Brotherhood Plans Its Work

St. Luke's Branch Will Hold Cottage Meetings.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew's of St. Luke's church, met last night, and entered on its work in an enthusiastic manner. Plans were made as to its usefulness in helping the rector, who will during the winter hold cottage meetings in which he will be assisted by the members of the Brotherhood. The first pew in the church hereafter will be reserved for the members, and will be designated "The Brotherhood Pew."

The officers of the Brotherhood are:

Director—Mr. A. Kingscote.
Vice-Director — Mr. Arthur McCollum.
Sec.-Treas.—Mr. M. Bennett.

The rector was present and gave some helpful and encouraging words.

A Disturbance At Jackson Park

Vanished Over the Cliff at the Appearance of the Police Officer.

A little rowdyism at Jackson Park last night tended to spoil the evening for some of the park frequenters. A young man who had imbibed too much from the golden goblet began using profane language and interfering with the serenity of the evening. The police were informed but when an officer arrived on the scene the misconduct had ceased and the cause of the disturbance rapidly disappeared over the steep bank and vanished among the shrubs in the ravine.

The name of the disturber was made known to the officer and a vigilant eye will be kept upon him hereafter.

Foresters Will Attend Church

Court Chemong Members to Parade to St. Andrew's.

On Sunday night the members of Court Chemong, I.O.F., No. 530, will attend divine service at St. Andrew's church. They will meet at this hall, George street at 6 o'clock, and will parade to St. Andrew's, where a sermon will be preached by Rev. J. G. Potter.

German Club's First Meeting

Of the Season Was Held Yesterday at Y. M. C. A.

At a meeting of the German Conversation club held yesterday at the Y.M.C.A. parlours, it was decided to begin again the study of the German language under the leadership of Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, on Thursday, October 11th, the meetings to be held every Thursday evening.

The annual picnic will be held at Omemee on Saturday, September 29.

OUR LOCAL TALENT COLEMAN BROS.

All specially interested will be pleased to learn that Mr. C. E. Coleman and his brother, W. J. Coleman, who used to assist at local entertainments in the city, are now being established as confectioners under the firm name of Coleman Bros. Besides being practical pastry cooks and bakers, they enjoy giving a night in character and ballad singing. Two winters ago they appeared on several occasions before Peterborough audiences, and those who heard them were pleased with their singing. Mr. C. E. Coleman has some tempting offers last winter to take to the vaudeville stage in the United States, being offered engagements both in and out of New York. However, in the spring he left New York for London, where he improved his repertoire of songs, and last July he arrived in Peterborough again to join his brother in the confectionary business. He now wishes it to be understood that he is always ready to do what he can to help in any event where his services may be appreciated.—Com.

No More Coal Bills; Central Steam Heat

Is What Will Overcome That Source of Annoyance to the Householder—A Company Will Probably be Formed to Furnish Steam for Central Station—A System in Operation For Last Twenty-eight Years.

Peterborough is getting all the frills incidental to a big city. Now it's a central steam heating system which will in all probability be installed in the near future. To-day Mr. A. H. Brintnell, representing the Dominion District Steam Heating Company, Limited, is in the city, and to a reporter of this paper unfolded the plans which he has in view for providing the citizens of Peterborough with a new means of heating their homes and business places, by the simplest of methods. With the district steam plant in operation our heat will be measured out by meter like the water, gas and electricity at the present time, and there will be no more getting up in the morning to turn on the furnace—or perhaps to light it some cold morning, when the husband was out late the night before and forgot to add the coal to the fire at night.

The scheme is a pretentious one and embraces the establishment of a steam generating plant in the centre of the city, from which steam is conducted to the various buildings through mains laid in the streets along with the water and gas pipes.

Mr. Brintnell's mission here is to form a local Company which will probably be capitalized at $100,000, subscribed by local capitalists, a number of whom have already been seen by Mr. Brintnell who states that, everywhere his proposition seems to be meeting with distinct favour. It is probable that while the capital stock of the Company will be the figure named, not more than $40,000 to $50,000 of it will be paid up, that sum being considered sufficient to meet the initial expenditure, while the extensions to the system may be made by issuing new stock, or from the profits of the Company, which Mr. Brintnell claims will be large right from the start.

This fact will, however, not be resented by the public who are patrons and not shareholders for it is stated that the heat by the new system will not cost any more than by the present systems, while the dust and dirt incidental to heating buildings with stoves and furnaces will be obviated.

A number of these systems have been and are being installed in Ontario. Chatham has had one in operation for about a year, and, it is asserted, with satisfaction. Hamilton has granted a franchise to a local Company while Galt Council is about to take similar action. Steps are under way to install a plant in Brantford, where the Waterous people are behind the proposal. It will be somewhat of a surprise, no doubt to many to learn that this is not a new scheme, but one which has stood the test for twenty-eight years, and there are now 250 plants in operation. Mr. Birdsall Ilally was the inventor of the system of underground steam distribution which bore his name, and this system has been adopted and improved until it has reached its present stage of development. Lockport, N.Y., was the city in which the first system was installed in 1877, and that year five stores, seven residences and two churches were connected with the system. During the twenty-eight years since that time the number of customers has been steadily increasing, until at the present time steam is being furnished to more than 350 customers, in both the residence and business blocks, who are connected with the six miles of mains, and it is stated that at no time during this period in the heating season, has there been a failure to supply a sufficient amount of steam to every customer, or is there a single building not now connected with the mains, that once took the steam for heating, which fact is an evidence of the efficiency and satisfactory nature of the service.

It is asserted that the methods of insulation have become so perfect that practically none of the steam is lost through condensation, in conducting it to the various parts of the city, where it is being used.

Mr. Brintnell expects to remain here for some time, and until he has formed the company, which, he says, will probably be organized, and in operation, in time to have the system in working order for this winter.

Sudbury Wreck Worse Even Than Reported

Mrs. Dr. Milburn, of MacLeod, Who is Visiting Her Parents Here, Tells of the Azilda Disaster—Scene Was Indescribable.

Mrs. (Dr.) Milburn, of Macleod, Alta., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Metheral, Murray street, was a passenger on the next east-bound express after the train which crashed into the harvesters excursion train on Wednesday morning at Azilda, near Sudbury, on the C.P.R., killing twelve and injuring twenty-five people. Mrs. Milburn, whose train passed through Azilda, on Wednesday evening, to an Examiner representative to-day stated that the wreck was even worse than had been reported. The injured were being taken care of in the cars at the scene of the accident when her train passed through, and there was a big crowd around the scene of the accident. The track had been cleared but the debris of the wrecked cars and smashed-up locomotives had not been taken away. Three cars were smashed into kindling wood. The dead and wounded must have been buried under tons of debris. Both engines were of the largest type and were firmly locked together. One of the three cars that was smashed was loaded with fish from British Columbia, and its contents were scattered broadcast on both sides of the track. The scene was indescribable.

A BRIGHT SERVICE THAT WAS HELD IN DARKNESS

Last night at the special thanksgiving service of Evensong in St. John's, just at the beginning of the service, the electric lights went out suddenly to the temporary dismay of the clergy, choir and congregation. A few oil lamps, obtained from the school house, were pressed into the service of the choir, and the gas jets lighted, but the result did not justify the remark that "the people which sat in darkness saw a great light," for the gas lights were of a sickly, smoky brown, which yielded just about enough glow to render them visible, and were of little assistance to the congregation, which, in respect of the use of service and hymn books, was compelled to worship "by faith, and not by sight." The light that failed gave rise, as can easily be fancied, to great inconvenience, and prevented a view of the harvest decorations, which usually, on such occasions, are seen and admired after the service. The cause of the interruption was the failure of a transformer fuse.

No Sentiment There.

SOON after the first baby was born the young wife went upstairs one evening and found her husband standing by the side of the crib, gazing earnestly at the child.

As she stood still for a moment, touched by the sight, she thought, "Oh, how dearly Charley loves that boy!"

Her arms stole softly around his neck as she rubbed her cheek caressingly against his shoulder. The husband started slightly at the touch.

"Darling," he murmured dreamily, "it is incomprehensible to me how they can make such a crib as that for fourteen and six pence."

PROUD OF ITS PARENTAGE.

A Canadian Cloth Which Can Compete With British Goods.

When the Ottawa Free Press was under the management of the former proprietor, a young man who had ideas, the Canadian woollen men asked for higher protection. The editor at the time told the woollen men that their failure was caused by the tremendous profits exacted by the middlemen and by their allowing their best product to be sold as imported British tweeds and serges. "Blunoz" serge was pointed out as an example of what might be done. It was the first serge which proudly proclaimed its Canadian parentage. Alive to business, the Semi-ready Company agreed to take every yard of Blunoz worsted serge which the woollen mills could produce. They have a monopoly of the best serge made in Canada, and they are putting this famous cloth in their $20 blue and black serge worsted suits. A. W. Cressman, agent for Peterborough.

RIGHT OF WAY.

The decision of Judge Choquet, of Montreal, that in the streets, the pedestrian has the right of way, should be of interest, and constitute a warning to the drivers of vehicles, and especially of automobiles. This decision does not involve any new condition of the law, for it has long been enacted that the right-of-way belongs to the foot passenger. But this knowledge has not been generally possessed, or the meaning of the law has been ignored. It is a common thing every day in the week, to see pedestrians frantically attempting escape from being run down by reckless drivers of horse vehicles, and automobiles, and even bicycles. According to the law, as it exists, and, as Judge Choquet has recently interpreted it, it is the driver whose look out it is to avoid collision with foot passengers, for, in case of injury, the driver is responsible. But, as a rule, drivers of vehicles, bicycles and automobiles, act as if the streets were made for their use alone, and that pedestrians have no rights thereon, and only use them at their own risk. This latter is very true, and it is time that the persons mentioned learned, and acted upon, the fact that, primarily, the streets are made for the use of pedestrians, and that, so far as the position of the law is concerned, the former are the trespassers, and that they are responsible for any mishap or injury that comes of their ignoring, either intentionally or through carelessness, the rights of foot passengers. A foot passenger making his or her way over a street crossing, should not stop or retrace their steps to avoid an on-coming vehicle. The law requires that the vehicle should do the stopping, or turning back, if any is to be done. While dealing with this matter it might be well to call the attention of the authorities to the dangerous practice of drivers of vehicles turning corners, or issuing from archways, at a rapid rate, especially on much frequented streets. There is danger to both life and limb from the practice.

"MADE IN CANADA."

The trustees of Queen's University, do not trouble themselves with the "Made-in-Canada" idea. They have appointed William Blair Anderson, a graduate of Aberdeen and Cambridge Universities, professor of Latin in Queen's University. Mr. Anderson's nationality is not mentioned, but it is to be presumed that he is not a Canadian. There must be scores of graduates of Canadian Universities, capable of filling such a position, and available besides. It would be a strong proof of the confidence of Queen's trustees in the efficiency of their university if they should appoint one of their own graduates to the professorship of Latin.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The report of a committee of the British War Office of its investigation of Chicago canned meats, doesn't much change the situation. The statement that the quality of the meat is good, but that the conditions under which it is prepared are "very insanitary," means much the same as the old-time saying — "the Lord sends meats, and the devil sends cooks."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Policy Abandoned And Beck Rebuffed

Whitney Government's Explicit Commital to Public Ownership and Operation—Commission Recommends Government Operation and Advises Against Leasing to Private Corporations.

The following from the Brockville Recorder convicts the Whitney Government of violating the principle and letter of their declared policy of Government exploitation of electric energy, by leasing the Healey Falls power to a private corporation, and sets forth the real ground of criticism:—

The Montreal Gazette does not or will not see the real objection taken to the lease by the Ontario Government of the Healey Falls power proposition to a company. To discuss the terms of the lease would have been in order under ordinary conditions. But the conditions are extraordinary, and one has to go back of the terms to ascertain the real ground of criticism.

The present members of the Ontario Government and their followers, laid down a platform when in Opposition on this power question, and they appealed to the people on this platform. Here it is:

The Declaration.

"On February 5th, 1902, it was moved by Mr. A. Mosscampbell, seconded by H. Carscallen, that "In all future agreements made between the Commission of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park, and any other person, or persons, power shall be reserved by the Provincial Government to at any time put a stop to the transmission of electricity and pneumatic power beyond the Canadian boundary. And that in the opinion of this House the waters of the Niagara River and and its tributaries, as well as the waters of other streams, when necessary, should at the earliest possible moment, and subject to existing agreement, BE UTILIZED DIRECTLY BY THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT IN ORDER THAT THE LATTER MAY GENERATE AND DEVELOP ELECTRICITY AND PNEUMATIC POWER FOR THE PURPOSES OF LIGHT, HEAT AND POWER, AND FURNISH THE SAME TO THE MUNICIPALITIES IN THIS PROVNCE AT COST."

The Tory papers and the Ontario Government may talk till doomsday about the details of the bargain, but they cannot get away from the fact that in making this bargain they have forsaken the policy laid down by themselves in the Legislature, and reiterated time and again during the election.

Commission and Healey Falls Power.

Following this up last session, amid the blare of trumpets, the burning of red fire, and the pounding of the big drum, a bill was put through the Legislature purporting to provide a way for carrying out this platform by which the people were told the Government would provide power to them at cost price. Under this act the Hydro-Electric Commission was continued, with Hon. Adam Beck as chairman.

This commission, Hon. Adam Beck chairman, made a report concerning this very power at Healey Falls and in it is this paragraph:

"Experience shows that, where the distribution is controlled by private corporations the distribution area remains restricted, and from the information obtained by your commissioners they are able to say that the trend of affairs with private corporations has been not to compete for business, and thus keep down prices to consumers, but to amalgamate or otherwise destroy competition, and then to fix prices according to the slight saving which they may be able to induce particular customers to make."

Here is a straight recommendation against leasing to a "private corporation" by a Government commission, with two Cabinet Ministers as members of it, and one of these chairman. This recommendation was in exact harmony with the announced policy of the Government, too. Yet in the face of all this, the Government lease this power to a company.

In this report it is said that, "an immediate market for at least 10,000 horse power can be obtained within a working radius of Healey's Middle or Ranney's Falls on the Trent River, and that this demand would be increased to 15,000 within five years." Hon. Adam Beck as commissioner adds:

For Government Development.

"It would appear advisable that a unified development should take place in this district, which would simplify matters and cheapen the cost of power, provided such is carried out on the basis of a return upon the cost of operating. If, however, development takes place on behalf of various interests and distribution is carried out by these interests, it can be confidently predicted that not only will the cost of power be greater, but the consumption of electrical power be very much restricted in area and quantity, so that the consumer will not receive any appreciable benefits therefrom."

Choking the Commission.

Here is Cabinet Minister and Commissioner Beck preparing and submitting a report urging public ownership as the only safe thing for the people, and doing so in accordance with the party's promise both on the platform, in the press and in the Legislature. But right in the face of this the Government makes a lease to a private party, takes control of rates out of the hands of the commission, and ignores completely its own platform and promises.

The apologists for this action on the part of the Government are endeavouring to obscure the issue by discussing details of the bargain, while the fact is that the making of such bargain, in any shape, is an abandonment of the Whitney policy, and a direct rebuff to Hon. Adam Beck and the Hydro-Electric Commissioners.

L'Envoi.

The Ontario Government lamented that they were hampered in putting their great power policy into operation by the acts of their predecessors in regard to Niagara. Yes, but their predecessors had no acts so far as Healey Falls power was concerned, and the Government went right off and leased it to a company, the very thing which they abused their predecessors for doing.

—Here's a tip for brides-to-be. At a marriage at Blackpool, England, recently, the Rev. S. Palmer, who performed the ceremony, omitted the word "obey" in addressing the bride at the altar. Subsequently at the wedding breakfast he defended his reason for not formally binding the bride in his promise. The omission he said, was not illegal, and if the bride made the other promises with sincerity there was no question of disobedience.

It was built by the Gruse-Kemper Company, of Philidelphia, Pa., the construction being under the supervision of Mr. Halcombe, of Wilkesbarre, Pa. POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to communicate suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

I suppose if this were Chicago the dog which was killed on the street car track early Wednesday morning or Tuesday night, would have been consigned to Packingtown before this, and would have been transformed into some of the canned delicacies, instead of being allowed to remain lying on the street as it was. The odour from the decaying body is to say the least, not pleasant, and still the city authorities have taken no steps to remove it. Will the Health Officer, or someone, please take it away?

SURPRISE

A PURE HARD SOAP

SOME PEOPLE WASH FLANNELS with common laundry soap. The rubbing and boiling to get the dirt out makes all the wool fibres contract, and the flannel shrinks until much smaller each way.

When you use "SURPRISE" Soap it isn't necessary to boil or rub hard. "SURPRISE" loosens up the dirt so that it drops right out. The flannel doesn't have any excuse for shrinking.

Everybody who dreads washday should try "SURPRISE" Soap. It doesn't cost any more than common soap.

Wolves Reported To Be Plentiful At Burleigh

Several Sheep Devoured—Bears and Deer Also Seen Near Stony Lake.

A gentleman who has just returned from a trip, from the northern part of Peterborough county, reports that the settlers there are being seriously annoyed by wolves. A man named Spencer, who lives in Burleigh, about three miles north of Stony Lake, had sheep destroyed by wolves a few nights ago, and other cases of damage done by the animals, are reported.

Wolves have been very scarce in Peterborough county of late years and their presence is explained by the fact that the forest fires now raging in the north have driven them down into these regions.

Bears, too, have been making their appearance, and five bruins have been seen around Burleigh vicinity. The scarcity of berries this season has forced them to come closer to the settlements in an effort to get something to eat.

Deer have also been seen around Stony Lake. A little over a week ago one was seen in the water near Young's Bay, and now two have been seen on the Burleigh shore, near Hoscobel, the American camp at Boshink.

Anyone wishing to take in Lindsay Fair may stop off, as the trip to Port Perry will occupy three days. This will be a fine sail and a fine outing, and everyone is invited to attend.

Fare to Port Perry only $1.00. To Lindsay 50 cents. The best excursion of the season.

Safety Deposit Boxes New Feature Of This Office

Messrs. Hall and Hayes Make Improvements and Renovations in Their Establishment—30 Boxes Have Been Installed.

"Progress," is the watchword of Peterborough. This is already emphasized by the improvements being made in all lines of business establishments throughout the city.

Messrs. Hall & Hayes have evidently thought that law offices should not fall behind, and they have made extensive improvements to their establishment on Hunter street, which make it modern in every particular.

Chief among the improvements is the installing of safety deposit boxes in the vault, a feature that should be greatly appreciated by the clients of the firm. These boxes, which are thirty in number, will be used by customers, as a safe storing place for valuable papers. Each customer will be supplied with a key of his own, and may at any time obtain access to his documents. For those who wish to look over their papers a part of the office has been fitted up and will always be at the service of clients. Duplicates of the keys of the safety deposit boxes will also be placed in the Bank of Montreal. The boxes were installed by the Office Specialty Manufacturing Company, of Toronto.

Renovations have been made throughout the suite of offices which greatly add to its appearance and utility. A new hardwood floor has also been put in. The partitions have been constructed of oak and ash, and present a very neat and handsome appearance. The interior of the building has been artistically painted and papered. In fact the offices have been renovated and transformed throughout.

The changes will no doubt be appreciated by the clients of the firm, especially the safety box department, which should prove of great service in providing for the security of valuable papers.

Farmer Bombards The Auto Bus With Stones

Lies in Wait at Gateway Prepared for its Reception—Rock Comes Perilously Near the Chauffeur—They Have No License To Travel, He Says.

The farmers who utilise the road, upon which the auto-bus travels, may break out in open rebellion against it any day. In fact, they have a leader already in the field, who came very near taking the life of a chauffeur the other day.

Mr. Hanna was driving the auto towards Chemong Park, on Wednesday, when he noticed a vehicle coming towards him driven by a farmer. The latter was immediately filled with apprehension and indignation, and drove into a gateway to prevent the horse from being frightened at the big "demon."

When the auto arrived on the scene the farmer was stationed on the ground besides his property prepared for a vigorous defence. He grasped tightly several dangerous-looking "rocks," which immediately shot from his hand as the machine drew alongside.

One of the missles of undue proportions, came perilously near the chauffeur's face, passing within a few inches of him. Mr. Hanna stopped the bus and went back to inquire the cause of the fusilade.

"Them things have no right to travel on this road," vehemently declared the enraged farmer.

It was useless to debate the question with him, so the chauffeur was compelled to travel on towards his destination, wondering when and from where the next bombardment against him and his machine would greet him.

Mr. Emmerson Sees The Northern End

Of The Trent Canal—Visited Orillia and Was Banquetted by Board of Trade—Looked Over the Proposed Outlet for the Northern End.

Orillia, Sept. 13.—The Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, arrived here on Tuesday evening on a tour of inspection. After visiting several canals and public works in Western Ontario, he started at the eastern end of the Trent Valley Canal, travelled over the portions already finished, and the route it is proposed to follow on the unfinished sections.

On his arrival at Gamebridge, near Beaverton, where the canal enters Lake Simcoe, Mr. Emmerson was met by a number of Orillia's business men who returned to town with him on the steamer Geneva, which called for the party on her way back from her regular trip to Barrie.

On Wednesday morning a start was made for the Georgian Bay by way of the Severn River. The party consisted of Hon. H. R. Emmerson; Mr. M. J. Butler, the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, and other officials who have accompanied him on the tour.

The following Orillians also went: Mayor Miller, Mr. D. G. Gibson, President of the Board of Trade; County Councillor Jupp; Councillor Goffatt; Mr. R. D. Gunn, K.C.; Messrs. T. G. Evans, R. O. Smith, A. B. Thompson, J. B. Henderson, H. T. Blackstone, F. L. McGeehon, T. W. Robbins, S. H. Hale, J. T. Morris, George Thomson, and Mr. C. R. Sayer, Secretary of the Provincial Committee of the Y.M.C.A., who has been in Orillia all summer in connection with the Association Summer Institute.

The trip from Orillia to the Bay had been arranged and organized by the Board of Trade, who invited Mr. Emmerson to come, and the Town Council.

At the Ragged Rapids the party inspected the power plant owned and operated by the town.

Mayor Finlayson, of Midland, invited the party to go to that town, but Mr. Emmerson was unable to remain over the night.

Mr. Emmerson expressed himself delighted with the trip to Orillia.

Women At Perrytown In Fistic Encounter

An Interesting Story of a Scrap in Which Two Women Indulged—One Punched the Other's Face—What it Was All About.

The Parrytown correspondent to the Port Hope Times has the following: We understand that there have been three set-tos there in one week, two of which were at close range, and in one two ladies took an active part, one getting a good gunen in the mouth and the other being touched up with a broom. This case will be ventilated in the police court as some of the names used are not found in the New Testament. The last combat was of a more modern nature, being at long range. They must have used some powerful explosive because the air was blue for some time. The Elizabethville boys have formed a gun club, but the guns have not arrived, and we understand they have ordered them to be sent to the front immediately. People are inquiring what is the cause of all the war, and what they fight each other for. Some say it is all caused by the hot weather, while others, who are better posted, claim that the fire water ran out for a few hours one day, and the supply since has not been equal to the demand.

TRINITY COLLEGE SCHOOL HAS RECORD ATTENDANCE

The Christmas term of Trinity College School began yesterday, says the Port Hope Times.

The school has now the largest number of boys in its history. There are 145 pupils, which is forty more than last term. The school is filled, and several applications for admission have been necessarily refused on account of lack of space. In every respect the school is now in a most prosperous condition.

During the holidays the school buildings have been much improved. The handsome new ceiling in the chapel is nearly finished and adds greatly to the beauty of the interior. The dining-room and dormitories have been repaired and improved. The class rooms have also been renovated and the desks altered. The laundry has been enlarged and its conveniences added to it. In the gymnasium a gallery range has been installed for rifle practices when the outdoor butts are not available.

Party From the City Were Guests of Mr. Walter Dawson

Choir Enjoyed Drive To Millbrook

Where Miss Clarry Entertained Them Very Pleasantly.

Last night the members of the Charlotte street Methodist church choir enjoyed a delightful outing. To the number of about thirty-five they drove to Millbrook, where they were most pleasantly entertained by the choir leader, Miss Clarry, at whose invitation they took the trip. Two 'busses, filled with members of the choir and their wives or husbands left the church about six o'clock and after a three hours' drive arrived at the home of their hostess, where they spent the evening in a most delightful manner. Miss Clarry was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. L. F. Clarry, of Hastings, and Misses Gertrude, Augusta and Bertha Clarry. Solos were sung during the evening by members of the choir and refreshments served. Before starting on the return trip a vote of thanks to Miss Clarry was heartily passed. The city was reached this morning at a seasonable hour, and the outing voted a huge success by those who participated in it.

Was Fined For Fast Driving

One Prisoner and Two Cases At Police Court.

The prisoner's box this morning at the police court was not deserted. One lonely character occupied the ancient seat, and he was there on the old charge of being drunk and disorderly. Alexander Ross was his name, and he stated that he hailed from Mount Pleasant, where he had a good job. He pleaded guilty and was assessed $2 and costs, amounting to $4.60, or ten days in jail.

For Fast Driving.

Joseph Rickerby was charged with immoderate driving on George street but he was very conspicuous by his absence. P. C. Newhall testified that Rickerby was driving at a very fast pace and in a zig-zag course on George street, using the whip on the horse the whole time. He was fined $2 and costs, amounting to $4.60, to be paid in five days, or 15 days in jail.

Two Omemee Residents Dead

Two of the Earliest Settlers Have Passed Away.

Special to The Examiner

Omemee, September 13. — William Adams, one of the earliest settlers, and best known farmers of this district, passed away last night, after a lingering illness. The deceased, who was seventy years of age, was a member of the Board of License Commissioners for East Victoria, and was an ex-county councillor, and had always been very active in municipal affairs. He was a life-long Conservative, and a consistent member of the Anglican church. His death will be mourned by a large circle of friends. A widow, two daughters, and a son, survive him, as does a brother now residing in Winnipeg. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. to the Emily cemetery.

Death's call came to another resident of the district last night in the person of Mr. Parrington, who passed away at the age of eighty-four years. The deceased was one of the first settlers in the county. He was a staunch Reformer, and a member of the Presbyterian church. Three sons and three daughters survive.

Zam-Buk Cures Piles

A Case of 12 Years Standing Cured.

That painful ailment, piles, is cured by Zam-Buk, both speedily and permanently. Mrs. A. E. Gardner, of Cataline, writes: "For twelve years I have been troubled with blind, bleeding and protruding piles, and have been using various kinds of ointments, etc., but never came across anything to equal Zam-Buk. You are at liberty to do what you will with these remarks. And that they may be the means of helping some of those who are suffering from piles to try Zam-Buk, is the wish of one who has found great relief."

For eczema, ulcers, ringworm, sores on children's heads, abscesses, etc., Zam-Buk is equally efficacious. It differs from other ointments and salves in being purely of vegetable composition, containing no trace of animal fat, or mineral colouring matter. It is at the same time, both healing, soothing and antiseptic. It kills disease germs and prevents wounds from festering, etc. A doctor recently applied it in an extreme case of eczema on which ordinary prescriptions had entirely failed. It effected a complete cure, and the doctor, who does not want his name to appear publicly, but who has no objection to it being stated in private—says, "I shall have no hesitation in prescribing it in future." Of all druggists, at 50c a box, or direct from the Zam-Buk Company upon receipt of price. (Six boxes for $2.50.)

Particulars Of Mr. Ash's Death

His Companion Remained With Him Until Help Came.

Further particulars have been received in connection with the death of Geo. H. Ashe at Rice Lake on Wednesday. It appears that Mr. Ashe was fishing with the Rev. Mr. Tippett, Congregational clergyman, and that when the canoe upset the latter did not leave Ashe to go for help, as stated in a Hastings despatch to The Examiner. On the contrary, he succeeded in holding on to Mr. Ashe until the latter became unconscious, and then succeeded in getting him moored to the canoe. It is said that Mr. Ashe's death was due to heart failure, resulting from shock, and not to drowning.

He was an ex-school teacher, and had taught in Brighton, Grafton and other places. Mr. Arthur Ashe and Mrs. J. H. Greer, of this city, are cousins of the deceased, and with Mr. Greer, attended the funeral this morning.

The Itinerary System; Has It Had Its Day?

Methodist General Conference Said to be on Eve of Abolishing Time Limit to Pastorates—Many Delegates Believed To Favour Proposal.

Is the old established prerogative of the Methodist minister—the right, in fact, the necessity of changing his place of residence once every three or four years—to be removed? It looks very much like it, according to the following from the report of the General Conference now being held at Montreal:—

The question of the pastoral time limit is yet in the throes of committee discussion, but several projects are under consideration, and are causing keen debate. Memorials are before the General Conference from five conferences and from St. James' Church Quarterly Board dealing with the subject. All of these favour the complete removal of the time limit, and in three cases—the Manitoba, Alberta, and Japanese Conferences—the annual conference has accepted or adopted the memorial. The London and British Columbia Conferences merely forwarded the memorial, without comment. This shows a majority of conferences out of those which send in memorials to be favourable to removal, but as there are some 13 conferences in the connexion, the vote by conferences would still seem to be strongly against this proposal. The present limit of the pastoral term is four years. In the old days, before the agitation for its abolition commenced in the Methodist Church, every minister moved every three years. Eight years ago the limit was extended to five years, with three years as a practical lower limit, the longer terms being in response to invitations. At the last General Conference the issue was again on the tapis, and the upper limit was cut down to four years.

There are now some three proposals before the Committee on Itinerary and Transfer, which has the issue under consideration. The first is that the term be left as at present, the second that it be extended to five years, and the third that it be extended to five years, with an additional five years upon a three-fourths vote by the quarterly official board of the church issuing the invitation for the extension of the term.

A delegate connected with the committee stated to-day that he believed that when the affair came before the conference the time limit might be altogether removed, as there seemed to be a strong feeling among members of the committee in favour of such action, and a motion to that effect had been made.

Deer Roams About Fenelon Falls Streets

An Interesting Spectacle Seen on the Streets of That Village Recently.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette this week says:—Some time in the spring Mr. Henry Austin bought a pair of tame deer from Mr. Jackson, of Coboconk, and turned them loose on Grand Island. The doe is there yet, but about two months ago the buck swam over to Rosedale and then made its way to the Cameron Lake summer resort, where it remained until Tuesday night, when it came to the Falls and was seen on Francis street at about 2 o'clock on Wednesday morning. At getting-up time it was at the Hotel Kawartha where Miss Brown fed it on sugar and other good things which deer in their native wilds never get a taste of, but which it ate with avidity. It is coming two years old and has horns several inches in length, which it promptly points at anybody who tries to take hold of it. As far as we know, it is still "running at large" in the village, though it will of course be captured and taken back to its disconsolate mate on the island. Leaving the hotel grounds, it spent some time in Dr. Wilson's stable yard, and when last seen was making tracks for the country, with a bunch of useless dogs seconding its motions.

How The Y. M. C. A. Helps A Man To Earn More

The Industrial Classes of the Association Increase Men's Commercial Value—The Classes This Year—Many Different Subjects to be Taken Up.

So many inquiries are coming in, in regard to the Y.M.C.A. Evening Classes, that one is obliged to anticipate the tenth annual announcement by a few days and outline what will be done in the Y.M.C.A. this fall and winter in connection with the educational work. The aim of the whole work is to help the whole man to attain all-round development.

The special mission of the Association is to help those young men who have left school too soon, or who have been denied the privileges of early education, to improve their positions. Better men means better work, and better work is sure to bring a raise in wages, or a better position.

Last year there were 36,826 different students in the Y.M.C.A.s. of North America, representing students in the largest variety of courses.

The local Y.M.C.A. has a strong Educational Committee, composed of Messrs. Richard Lees, M.A., chairman; Andrew McFarlane, E. Doidge, W. Shiner and A. W. Cressman.

Each of these gentlemen have particular charge of a section of the educational work, and under their direction the work promises to be better than ever before. The courses are practical, the teachers experts in their line, and the instruction will be individual.

The classes and clubs open on Oct. 1st.

The Mechanical Drawing and Architectural Drawing will be in charge of Mr. E. Doidge of the Wm. Hamilton Co., and will be conducted two evenings a week.

The Electricity Class, which got so excellent a start last year, will again be in charge of Mr. R. Lees, M.A.

Mr. E. Serigley of the Collegiate Institute, will have charge of the Shop Arithmetic and Geometry.

The Employed Boys' Course in Arithmetic, Writing and Spelling, will be in charge of Mr. J. C. Smith, under whom this class in the membership have made such excellent progress during the past years.

An expert telegrapher will have charge of the class in Telegraphy.

A Show Card Class will be conducted, also one in First Aid to the Injured, in charge of Dr. M. McClelland.

The Debating Club will continue, and a Shaksperian Club will be a new feature.

A Male Chorus will be instructed by Mr. W. E. McCann of the George street church, and the Orchestra will also continue.

The class fee in the majority of the subjects will be $3 for the course.

Fuller information will be given in the folder and other advertising matter which will be issued in a few days.

The General Secretary of the Association would be glad to be consulted with at any time in reference to any of the classes.

It costs less money to run a "HAPPY THOUGHT" a year than any other Range for nine months

Actual working tests have proved that the "Happy Thought" uses 1-3 less fuel than any other range yet invented.

Cases Impending In Police Court

Magistrate Edmison Has Committed None For Trial This Year.

Several important matters will soon be considered in the County Police Court, by Magistrate Edmison, although dates of the cases have not finally been decided upon. Some of these are of a non-support nature and may prove of an interesting character. So far this year there has not been a single person committed for trial at the Fall Assizes, all having elected to be tried summarily by His Worship Magistrate Edmison. This circumstance, of course, has been most favourable to the county, which would otherwise be called upon to expend large sums of money at the Assizes.

Reach and Tongue Were Both Broken

And a Driver for A. McDonald Estate Had Narrow Escape.

This morning a somewhat peculiar mishap befel one of the delivery rigs of A. McDonald. A teamster with a load of cedar posts was crossing the G.T.R. tracks on Charlotte street when the horses becoming frightened, bolted and the result of the sudden jolt was that the reach was broken. This made the rear half of the wagon unmanagable and further frightened the horses, and to add to the driver's troubles, the tongue of the wagon broke, and the load was upset. Fortunately the driver and the horses were unhurt.

Father Found Daughter in Jail

Angeline Regan Wandered Away From Her Haliburton Home.

Searching for his daughter, Angeline, aged about 25 years, Mr. W. H. Regan, a well known resident of Haliburton county, came to the city yesterday. The young woman left her home to visit friends in Kinmount, and instead of going there came on to Toronto. Miss Regan had been of unsound mind at intervals, and was in a pitiable condition when found by the police on Wednesday night. Yesterday with the help of Police Constable Chapman of the morality Department, Mr. Regan found his daughter at the jail, where she was awaiting mental examination. She will go home with her father.—Toronto Globe.

Schedules On The Tariff For Next Session

Trade Returns and Estimates to Be Ready For Parliament.

OUR NEW CUSTOMS TARIFF

Will Thus Probably be Submitted Early In the Session—Flat Preferential Rate Will Disappear, But No One Can at Present Predict How It Will Be Replaced — Maximum and Minimum Tariff.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—The budget speech will be delivered and the new customs tariff submitted to Parliament soon after the opening of the session. With this object in view, the Ministers of Finance and Customs are daily giving consideration to proposed new schedules and orders have gone out to the statistical staff, Customs Department, to work at night so that trade and navigation returns embodying details of Canada's commerce for the last fiscal year may be completed and issued in printed form by November 1st.

With the tariff schedules ready and the trade returns and estimates also in hand, there will be nothing to prevent the Government from enlightening the country as to their fiscal program within a very few days after the speech from the throne. The debate will then go on from day to day and should be completed by the time the adjournment for the Christmas holidays takes place. If Parliament meets on November 15th, or even the 8th, over a month will be allowed for the budget debate, which ought to be ample.

Minimum and Maximum Tariff.

The fact that the tariff will contain maximum and minimum schedules and a third schedule for preferential rates to British goods has already been announced. The flat preferential rate of 33 1-3 per cent. is to disappear, and while no one can at present predict how it will be replaced, the presumption seems reasonable that each class of imports will be considered with reference to domestic conditions and the possibility of increasing our trade with Great Britain. This is an object which every Canadian is anxious to promote. If the foreigner is supplying us with goods which we could easily procure from Britain, the necessary diversion into British channels can be brought about. In one case we might apply the maximum tariff and in the other levy a rate which would insure competition in the Canadian markets. The minimum tariff, of course, could be extended to such countries as favored us with equivalent concessions. The British self-governing countries and colonies would doubtless enjoy Canadian preferential rates by reciprocal action.

REFUSED TO SEE PRIEST.

Girl Slayer of Gen. Min Mounts Scaffold With Firm Steps—Gave Life, All She Had, For the Cause.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 14.—"Long live the social revolution for land and liberty."

These were the last words of Zenaide Konoplianikovo, the girl who assassinated Gen. Min last month, and who was sentenced to death by a court-martial. They were uttered as the rope was placed around her neck.

She refused to see a priest prior to the execution. She mounted the scaffold with firm steps and would not be aided. On a photograph sent to her sister she wrote the words: 'My life was all I had to give."

The resumption of telegraphic communication with Siedlce has enabled the press of St. Petersburg for the first time to present a picture of the conditions in the ravaged town.

Agitation at Odessa.

Odessa, Sept. 14.—Anti-Jewish agitation is rife. Wall spaces, the sides of houses, and telegraph poles throughout this city have been plastered with a proclamation issued by the Union of Russian People, "urging patriots to combine to exterminate the Jews." This action has aroused grave apprehension among the peacefully inclined, both Jews and Christians.

It is reported here that the Jewish town of Koepin, in the district of Kamenetz, has been burned down by peasants from the surrounding country.

Warned That He Will Die.

Mitau, Russia, Sept. 14.—Not less than five drumhead courts-martial have been instituted by the governor, exclusively for the trial of robbers and persons perpetrating attacks upon officials.

The revolutionists have notified the successor of Pastor Zimmerman, in the Riga district, that he has been condemned to death. Zimmerman and his wife were murdered at Lennenwarden, Sept. 1.

Officers Won't Be Judges.

Odessa, Sept. 14.—The military authorities are experiencing the greatest difficulty in constituting field courts for the trial of revolutionaries. Almost all the officers originally selected to act as judges prefer to retire from the service. The names of six officers who have accepted are kept with the greatest secrecy, for fear of attempts on their lives.

New Russian Torpedo Boats.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 14.—After successful trials, ten torpedo boats, built in Germany, have been added to the navy. They are of 375 tons each, and can make 28.5 knots.

THE C. P. R. WRECK.

Fourteen People Killed and 75 Injured Might Have Been Saved by 60 Seconds of Time.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—James F. Kennedy, a farmer, and his daughter Eva, residing near Lindsay, reached the city last night. They were among the excursionists bound for the Northwest, who were in the train wreck, and although seven coaches back from the colonist, which was hit, received a bad shaking up.

Mr. Kennedy made a statement which may have an important bearing on the causes of the wreck. It is stated that had there been one minute's more time at the switch the accident would not have occurred.

Mr. Kennedy says that a man and his son, who had ridden near him and talked with him, had intended to get off at Sudbury, but somehow missed getting off at that depot. When a couple miles or so beyond the place, the man appealed to the conductor to let them off. The train was stopped, and it seemed that it had hardly gotten up full speed again when the crash came.

Contributory to Wreck.

The arrival here last night of a number of passengers on the special gave information to show that a drizzling rain, which caused slipping rails, was partly responsible for the inability of the engines on the eastbound train to check its speed sufficiently to avert dreadful consequences, while the official statement of the railway sets forth that but for a defect in the air-brake valve there would have been no collision independent of the condition of the rails.

One more death was added to the list yesterday — Samuel Kingston of Frankford.

The last of the unknown victims has been tentatively identified as E. May of Winfield, Ont.

PITIFUL N. S. TRAGEDY.

Berry Pickers Upset From Old Boat and Only One Is Saved.

White Head, N.S., Sept. 14.—A drowning accident occurred at Port Felix yesterday, by which five young people lost their lives—Minnie, aged 15; John, aged 11, and Maggie, aged 9 children of Frank Fougere, postmaster of East Port Felix. Accompanied by their three cousins Clara, aged 18, Maggie, aged 14, and Martin, aged 12 children of Joseph King, Port Felix they left their homes yesterday morning to pick blueberries, and about six miles back of Port Felix they attempted to cross a lake in an old, leaky, flat bottomed boat.

They succeeded in reaching a small island in the lake by going two at a time in the boat, but on returning the six got in, and when about two-thirds of the way across the boat filled and turned bottom up.

Minnie Fougere caught the boat and managed to paddle ashore, and was the only survivor of the party of six.

United States Army Goes To Cubans Help

Yankee Sailors Land At Havana From the Denver.

FRENCH PROPHECY ON CUBA

Washington Promptly Orders the Sailor to Return to Their Ship—Progress of the Revolution — Ranks of the Insurgents Augmented, and Santa Clara Province Towns Are In Their Hands—Rebels Active.

Havana, Sept. 14.—The rebellion looms stronger to-day than ever.

All the smaller towns in Santa Clara Province appear to be absolutely in the control of the insurgents. Cienfuegos is in a state of alarm. Railroad, river and steamboat communication has been stopped. The rebels outside of Cienfuegos continue to receive reinforcements. Things are more normal at Santa Clara city. Trains over the lines of the united companies are running without interruption, except occasional hold-ups. Both Santa Clara and Cienfuegos are prepared to resist invasion, but the number of rebels before these cities is vastly superior to the Government forces.

Marching Towards Havana.

Reports that the force under Pino Guerra is marching toward Havana, coupled with the very much increased concentration of rebels outside the city, is causing uneasiness here. All the troops which can possibly be spared from duty in Havana Province are being brought into the city proper.

Depredations along the lines of the Western and Cuban Central Railroads continue. Trains on other lines are not molested, other than to be fired upon by small bands of rebels.

Insurgents Active.

Cienfuegos, Sept. 14.—After destroying the bridge on the line of the Cuban Central, near Las Lajas Wednesday, the insurgents captured a train, burned a railroad station and destroyed the telegraph instruments. They then went on to Cruces, where they took the cash in the municipal treasury. Rebels are seizing American property at Manicaragua, Santa Clara Province.

A Prophecy.

Paris, Sept. 14.—The Journal des Debats, in a discussion of the Cuban situation, says:

"Should the insurgents not disarm, or not be disarmed after the arrival of American cruisers, we will see American soldiers going to Cuba, and after that numerous and plausible reasons will arise to postpone the re-embarkation as these foreign preservers of order in the island."

More Vessels Ready.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 14.—In conformity with plans put in execution several days ago, the United States navy department is quietly preparing several other vessels to join those already ordered to Cuba.

While the navy is preparing its ships, the army is being carefully studied by the responsible ranking officers with the view to quick, sharp and effective action in case its services are needed.

"Old Glory" In Cuba.

It was officially announced here late last night that 120 sailors, who, with artillery, landed at Havana from the American cruiser Denver, have been ordered to immediately return to their vessel, save for a small guard which will be left at the American legation.

Fight With Machetes.

Havana, Sept. 14.—In a fight near Ranchuelo, in Santa Clara Province, Capt. May, in command of 80 rural guardsmen and 140 militiamen, led a machete charge against a rebel force under Sabine Caballero. Three rebels were killed and one was wounded. Seven prisoners were taken.

Calls Doctor Too Late.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—To-night an inquest into the death of Mrs. George Pepper, a Christian Science patient, which occurred at Lambton on Saturday night last, will be begun by County Coroner Bull. Crown Attorney Drayton will conduct the investigation. The case has aroused much excitement in the neighborhood. It is claimed a doctor was called too late to save the woman's life.

Ill; Cuts His Throat.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 14.—In a moment of insanity William J. Davidson, who was a patient at the general hospital for nervous troubles, cut his throat, causing death yesterday. Deceased was a storekeeper for the Lake Superior Corporation and well known in town. He leaves a widow and one child.

City League Meeting Called For Monday

Executive of Club and Representatives of Various Teams Will Hold Conference to Form a League.

A meeting of the Executive of the Peterborough Rugby Club and of all those interested in the formation of a City League, especially representatives of teams, is called for 8.30 on Monday night at "Mac's" cigar store. It is important that there should be a large attendance as it is necessary in order to be a success that the league should be gotten under way as soon as possible. Prospects are bright for a strong league which should create a lot of interest in the game and incidentally develop a lot of material of senior calibre. Last year's champion Peterborough team contained a number of players who won their spurs in the City League that existed some years ago. No better argument in support of a City League, could be found than that fact.

All teams intending to enter the City League are asked to have representatives present at Monday night's meeting.

Tim Alert Won Free-for-all At The Belleville Fair

Chas. Martin's Fast Horse Carried Off the Money From a Good Field—Miss Paisley Got Third Money.

Tim Alert, Mr. Chas. Martin's fast pacer added another race to his list when he annexed the free-for-all at Belleville from a large field. A despatch says:—

Belleville, Sept. 13.—The second and last day of the East Hastings Fair drew the largest crowd in the history of the association, and the directors are jubilant. Exhibits in all classes were very large and of a high order. There came near being a fatal accident during the last heat of the free-for-all. Dennis Lake, of Napanee, owner and driver of Maud Wilkes, was leading coming down the home stretch, when the animal stumbled and fell. Lake was thrown headlong over the horses head, alighted on his face. The crowd rushed to the scene, expecting to see both dead, but in a few minutes man and horse were able to walk about, although Lake is badly bruised. It was a miraculous escape for both. Following is a summary of the speeding events:—

Free-for-all:—

To Draw Schedule On Tuesday Night

O. R. F. U. Notified of Peterborough's Intention to Play Senior.

The Toronto News last night said:—The Peterborough Rugby Club have officially notified Secretary J. B Hay, of the O.R.F.U., that a team will be entered in the senior series, and a meeting of the Executive has been called for Tuesday night next at 8 o'clock at the King Edward Hotel to draw up the schedule.

The chances are that the first game will be played on October 6th. Owing to the unseasonable weather which has prevailed of late the meeting will probably decide to start the junior series on the same day, which is about a week later than usual.

Full Practice Of Rugby Team

Called for 3:30 To-morrow at Riverside.

All those intending to play rugby this year are asked to be out for practice to-morrow afternoon at Riverside Park at 3.30. The weatherman has handed out a sample of the real brand of rugby weather and there is no excuse now for not turning out and getting into shape as soon as possible. The senior series will open Saturday, October 6th so that the team has just three weeks from to-morrow to get ready. The time is not any too long and should be fully taken advantage of by the players.

MINNIE KESWICK WON AT OTTAWA

The races at Ottawa yesterday were very keen and witnessed by a large crowd. Dr. Johnston's horse, Harry Direct, made a sensational finish with Minnie Keswick in the 2nd mile. The Ottawa Citizen, in referring to the race says:—

The 2.17 pace and 2.15 trot for a purse of $400 was the first event pulled off, and resulted in a win for Minnie Keswick in straight heats. The second mile in this event was a terrific race, and Keswick and Harry Direct went under the wire as though harnessd together. Keswick had it by half a head. Havelock Hopes To Win The Mug

Baseball Team Has Not Given Up Hopes Yet

A Havelock despatch says: The announcement in the daily papers that Campbellford had won the championship of the Trent Valley League, and incidentally the Fowler Challenge Trophy, is not correct. The Hastings ball team have yet to play the locals, and if Havelock can beat them, Campbellford will be tied for first honours. The game with Hastings will probably take place early next week.

FOOTBALL

The Quaker football enthusiasts will kick to-night on Riverside Park at 6.30. There will also be a practise to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

• • • •

The conditions under which the R. R. Hall trophy for the county championship in Association Football is to be played for, are that the cup must be won two years by one team. Defaulted or tie games will not count. If either of these conditions exist the cup remains the property of the Fair Association until actually won by a competing team.

Warsaw Pleased At Prospect Of Railway

New Line Will Pass Within Short Distance of Village--Large Quantity of Shipping Done From This Section.

Examiner Special.

(Warsaw, Sept. 13.—Warsaw learned with pleasure this morning that the C. P. R. had decided to build the new Georgian Bay line on the survey which runs quite close to this village, instead of taking the more southerly route and connecting with the main line at Peterborough.

If the statements credited to Mr. Leonard are correct, and the new survey is adopted, the line will pass to the north of this village about one and one-half miles, crossing the Indian River, and then turning south, will go within half a mile of the village to the east, which will give Warsaw its long-looked-for railway connection. It will be a great boon to the business men of this section. There is a great quantity of merchandise shipped to and from this village and vicinity and at the presen' time a long haul to Peteborough or Lakefield is necessary to reach a railway line. Mr. Wm. Wason, who operates saw and flour mills will benefit greatly by the new railway. It will enable him to secure his wheat more easily, while the manufactued product can be much more cheaply conveyed to the markets.

To the cheese factories, of which there are a large number in this vicinity, too, the railway will be a boon.

The residents of this section will await with interest the advan' of the railway here.

The Harvest Festival Of St. John's Church

Hearty Thanksgiving Services in Recognition of the Bounty of the Giver of the Harvest—Beautiful Church Decoration — Tuneful and Timely Music — A Good Honest Gospel Sermon.

Lord of the harvest, once again
We thank Thee for the ripened grain
For crops safe garnered sent to cheer
Thy servants through another year;
For all sweet holy thoughts supplied
By feed time and by harvest-tide.

The Harvest Festival was observed yesterday at St. John's by two services, at 10 a.m., when Holy Communion was celebrated, and at Evensong, at 8, both of which services were largely attended.

The church was decorated with a lavish profusion, in keeping with the bounty of the harvest, of trophies of the field, garden and parterre—fruits, vegetables and flowers. Those responsible for the decoratting displayed much taste in the labour expended, and the effect was beautiful, not merely in the decorative result, but in the votive character of the offerings. The sloping sills of the side windows were tastefully overlaid with fruits and vegetables, miniature sheaves of oats appeared at the pew ends in all the aisles. The pulpit, lectern, the holy table and the rood screen base were brightened with flowers, and at the opening of the centre aisle, near the entrance door a magnificent gothic arch, composed of thousands of vari-coloured blooms, formed a splendid decoration, constituting the chef-d'oeuvre of a pleasing and effective scheme of adornment. The decorations of the church will remain in place till next Sunday, when the harvest festival services will be continued.

The service of Evensong, which included special lessons, prayers, thanksgivings, psalms and hymns, was conducted by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's, and Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's. The music was of a joyous ringing character, consisting of the harvest hymns and the Old Hundredth. The choir was of full strength, and splendidly lead the hearty congregational singing. The anthem, Barnby's, "Ye shall dwell in the Land," was sung with fine joyous spirit, and good musical effect.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Canon Baldwin of All Saints' church, Toronto. It was no attempt at showy eloquence, but a plain, direct earnest and simple presentation of the Gospel on the general line of true thanksgiving, being based upon love for the Author of our salvation and the Giver of all good things:

The Sermon.

Rev. Canon Baldwin took as his text part of the 29th verse of the 5th chapter of St. Luke—"Levi made him a great feast in his own house"; and his sermon, though delivered in the simplest of words, was an impressive one, telling for what and why we should be thankful. If ever there was a lonely man, he said, it surely was Jesus Christ, misunderstood and deserted as He was by His fellowmen. It was therefore sweet to read that Levi had given Him a great feast in his own house, just as citizens in modern times honour great characters and political leaders on their various visits, to demonstrate with what respect they are considered. No person, continued the speaker, ever deserved more respect and honour than our Saviour—He should come before all men, even before ourselves and most intimate friends in the disposition of the better gifts. Well might Levi give a great feast to the blessed Master, for had he not been saved and given light?

To that feast, said the speaker, we owe one of the sweetest expressions in the New Testament, "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance," and we should thank God for it with all our hearts. The Gospel itself puts us immediately in debt with God, as we have witnesses from it that God has given us salvation. He thanked God for the parents who cared more for their children than for their dress, and for the parents who diligently exercised a spiritual influence over them. The gospel, said St. Paul, bringeth forth fruit. Some, however, are so easily disheartened, are so eager to give up—a circumstance which is not in the Christian creed. To the true Christian, difficulties only induce an intensity of work.

It is one of the strangest things of the day, said Canon Baldwin, that thanksgiving appears to have gone out. How seldom it is heard, and yet no one can be a Christian without having the spirit of thanksgiving in his creed. We should thank God for that marvellous thing—religious freedom; for the prosperity of our country, and for the outlook of its future prosperity. Our harvest has been great, a fact for which all should be thankful. When we think of the growth of our Dominion, the prosperity of the church, the nobleness of our King, the peacemaker, and the blessed and glorious gospel which God has given to us, we should feel grateful to Him who has provided all these things for the benefit of His creatures.

The offertory was devoted to what the rector described as "the noblest work of all," that of Canadian missions.

Can C. P. R. Get Desired Grade By Touching Here?

They Want a Grade Equivalent to Drop of 16 ft. Per Mile—Street Railway Company Give Connections—Mayor Best Not Afraid of Losing the Line.

There is nothing new in the C.P.R. short grain line question to-day. Ald. McWilliams endeavoured to get into telephone communication with Mr. Leonard, but that gentleman was not in Toronto. The chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee has, however, written, asking for an appointment.

It is said that if the C.P.R. intend to maintain the grade mentioned by Mr. Leonard, which is equivalent to a drop of 16 feet in a mile, it was impossible for it to touch Peterborough. There is a difference in level between Chemong Lake and Peterborough of 185 feet, and as the line must necessarily pass quite close to Chemong Lake, to reach Peterborough there would have to be a drop of 185 feet in six miles. One way out of the difficulty, suggested, is that the C.P.R. should keep extra engines here for the purpose of pulling freight up the heavy grade at this point.

The grade difficulty seems to be the only reason why the line should not touch Peterborough. By connecting with the main line here the construction of 25 miles of line would not be necessary.

It is said that should the C.P.R. carry out the programme outlined by Mr. Leonard that the Peterborough Radial Railway Company will extend its lines to give connection with the C.P.R. and will handle their freight.

Mayor Best is confident that the line will not give Peterborough the go-by. To the Examiner he said that the C.P.R. simply could not afford to pass Peterborough.

"How about the grade question? Wont that drop of 185 feet between Chemong Lake and Peterborough prevent the line touching here?" asked the reporter.

"It doesn't matter if there was a 500 feet drop, they wont turn Peterborough down; I'll bet you a hat they wont," remarked his Worship as he turned away.

The reporter did not take him up.

A White Crow Latest Freak

One Has Been Shot Near Fenelon Falls

Mr. Wes. Wagar, who lives near Hall's crossing, four miles east of here shot a white crow on his farm on Friday last. The bird is a beautiful large specimen and is pure white. White sparrows are becoming quite common in this section, but this is the first time we have heard of a white crow.—Fenelon Falls Star.

Finances Reported In Good Condition

Satisfactory Quarterly Meeting at Park Street Church

The quarterly business meeting of the Park Street Baptist Church was held last night, with Rev. A. H. Brace in the chair. The meeting opened with devotional exercises by Deacons Barrie and Gillespie.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the church clerk, Mr. Geo. Sloan. The secretary's report followed. The treasurer's report revealed a most satisfactory state of the church's finances, all liabilities being met, and a balance in the treasury.

Mrs. Jas. Johnston read a report of the Mission Circle, showing a busy quarter.

On motion, it was decided that the windows be re-frosted.

Foreign mission offerings are to be taken on September 23, and harvest home thanksgiving, with presentation of special offerings for building fund, will be held on November 4. A committee of arrangements was appointed in view of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec being held in the city next month.

PEDAGOGUE GETS RAISE IN SALARY

A special meeting of the Port Hope school board, was held to consider a communication from Mr. Gillies, asking for an increase of salary, for the following reasons:

(1) The increased cost of living.
(2) His uniform success with the pupils at the High School entrance examinations.
(3) General increase in teachers' salaries in other parts of the province.

He will get $100.00 more.

The Itinerary System, It's Changes And Benefits

Rev. H. M. Manning Tells Why it Should be Retained—Believes in triennial Charge—System is as Old as Methodism—Instituted by John Wesley.

One of the most prominent questions before the Methodist General Conference at Montreal is the Itinerant system, which now places the pastoral time limit at four years. It might probably be interesting to many Examiner readers to know the origin and growth of the Itinerant system as well as the opinion of local men on the desirability of its elimination from the Methodist creed. In consideration of this, The Examiner interviewed the Rev. H. M. Manning, pastor of Charlotte Street Methodist Church, yesterday evening with a view to obtaining his opinion on the subject, as well as the history of its origin.

Mr. Manning was very much in favour of the limited pastorate. He had made a study of the length of time which the preachers in the various conferences generally remain in their churches, and found that for more than twelve years not more than from a quarter to a third occupied their pastorate for more than three years, when they might have remained another under certain conditions. So that even at the present time the majority of preachers seem to prefer a three-year term rather than stay the maximum number.

Want a Change.

There was not any doubt, considered Mr. Manning, but that the congregations preferred the system which has been in vogue since the foundation of Methodism. The people are generally desirous for a change, and the interest in the church work is greater. He would not express his opinion as to the probable issue of the consideration of the great question by the representatives to the Conference at Montreal.

A Bit of History.

The Itinerant system began with John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, in the eighteenth century, and about th eyear 1739. It originated at Oxford University, in which Wesley was a student, and where he received his early education. He had been a member of the Church of England, and when he began preaching the doctrine of Methodism he was shut out of all churches, and consequently had to conduct services wherever he could collect an audience. Wesley was, therefore, compelled to go about from place to place, in each of which he formed a society, placing at its head some person whose spiritual character permitted him teaching the gospel. These various societies became the nucleus of the church he intended to make, and he found it necessary to have others in charge. These leaders, of course, were not all cultured men, so that for variety of preaching they had to exchange places frequently. They were not far enough advanced in their education to be able to assume permanent charges and settle in a permanent pastorate. They became exhausted of their stock of knowledge and methods of teaching more forcibly, than if they had been qualified by years of study. For those reasons the teachers of the many classes moved about frequently exchanging their locations.

List of Changes.

At first the pastorate limit was only half a year. Eventually it was increased to one year, and finally three years became the term. The latter condition remained in existence until some sixteen years ago, when the General Conference decided for a four year limit, and five if congregation and minister were jointly satisfied. At the last Conference it was fixed at four years under certain conditions, and that is where the question now stands, previous to its discussion before the representatives of Methodism at Montreal.

The preachers are divided on the question of change, concluded Mr. Manning, but, on the whole, he believed that the three-year limit was the best, as it was the most satisfactory.

WEDDING BELLS

KENNEDY—MacLAREN.

The Sarnia Observer has the following report of the wedding of Mr. Marvin Kennedy, of this city :

A very pretty event occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. MacLaren, Moore Township, September 12, at 4 p.m., when their eldest daughter, Mabel A., became the bride of Mr. Marvin S. Kennedy, of Peterborough. The bride was dressed in white silk trimmed in Duchess lace. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Frances, who was becomingly attired in cream silk voile. Mr. John Comstock, Peterborough, assisted the groom. Little Miss Vera LaPointe, of Sarnia, was flower girl.

Rev. A. E. Moorehouse, of Putman, performed the ceremony. Only near friends of the bride and groom were present.

The groom's present to the bride was a sunburst of pearls, to the bridesmaid a crescent of pearls, to the flower girl a locket and chain, and to the groomsman a signet ring.

The bride was the recipient of many very costly present.

Miss Kathleen MacLaren played the wedding march.

Handsome Cottage On Jacob's Island

Rustic Stone Chimney An Interesting Feature.

One of the handsomest cottages on the Kawartha chain is that of Mrs. F. H. Bates, of New York City, which is situated on Jacob's Island, Pigeon Lake. The building is now almost completed, and will, it is estimated, cost in the neighbourhood of eight or nine thousand dollars. A unique feature about it is the great rustic chimney built of stone from the island. The chimney is six feet square at the base, and extends into the air 50 feet. It contains a double fireplace, one on either side, and has been erected in the centre of the cottage. A spacious verandah encircling the building also adds a handsome and comfortable appearance to it.

The contract was in the hands of Mr. Abel Hendren, of Lakefield, the plumbing being done by one of the local firm. Mr. R. H. Smith, of Peterborough, was also one of the workmen on the building.

Lindsay Rejoices, It's On G. T. R. Grain Route

With Completion of Link West of that Town, Line to Midland Will be Shortened—Part of Grand Trunks' Plan to Improve Midland Line.

The Lindsay Post says :—For the past few months the Grand Trunk has been building a short link just west of the town, and running from Lindsay to the old G.T.R. track at a point about five miles out of town. This road joins the Toronto track just west of the roundhouse, and runs north-west till it strikes the old G.T.R. track. It is just 3 3-5 miles long and was built in about three and one half months, work having commenced on June 7th.

The contractor, Mr. W. O. Johnson, says the road was slow in being built, owing to the inclemency of the weather. He had a steam shovel working on the road, and employed fewer navvies than are generally used. The track is expected to be completed and ready for freight in a couple of weeks. A gang of about thirty navvies are working on the road now, completing the grading and ballasting. They are camped just outside of the town and are at present on a cut just behind O'Halloran's farm.

This road, when completed, will form part of the G.T.R. grain route to Midland. It is being built to avoid the heavy grade on Victoria avenue, and it shortens the route by about two miles. Lindsay is now on the direct grain route between the western grain fields and the ocean port at Montreal.

Trail Of Escaped Prisoner Dogged By Sheriff's Pose

Wm. Payne Made Good His Escape by Jumping Through Hospital Window Disguesed by Various Unmated Articles of Clothing---Will Soon be Behind the Bars.

Examiner Special

Detroit, Sept. 15.—Hunted by the police of two cities and every available deputy that Sheriff Burns has been able to spare, William Payne, the Negro who escaped from Deputy Sheriff McInerney in Emergency Hospital, early Saturday morning, is still at large. He has been "sighted," however, and Sheriff Burns hopes to have him back in custody within the next 24 hours.

Payne was seen at 5.30 Saturday morning near the corner of Porter and Vermont avenues. He was clad in his night shirt and his head was bound in bandages. On Porter street he entered a vacant house and remained until about 6.30, when he reappeared with a tin pail and started west down the Michigan Central tracks.

From all accounts Payne has secured a make-up that would rival a typical hobo. Somewhere in the vacant building he discovered a cast-off bandmaster's coat, which he donned on top of his night shirt. In the barn he found a girl's cap, sizes too small, the neighbours say, and later paid a woman ten cents for a pair of old gray trousers. People in the neighbourhood say they saw him wandering about, but thought some family was moving into the vacant house.

Acting on this tip, the sheriff's men have been sent out along the railroad, and three special deputies went to Toledo Saturday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff McInerney's explanation of his prisoner's escape has a very plausible side, although he admits he was wrong in unhandcuffing his man against the strict orders of Sheriff Burns. McInerney says Payne asked to go to the resting room, which is next to the ward, and as he was in his night shirt and the window was barred by heavy wire netting, the deputy thought there was no chance of escape. To make it doubly safe, McInerney moved his chair from the other side of the room and leaned against the wall, ordering Payne to leave the door ajar.

"He hadn't been in there five minutes, I know," said McInerney on Saturday night. "I didn't hear a sound, but got suspicious and looked through the crack to see if he was still there. Then I saw the room empty and the wire burst through. The man was nowhere to be found."

"McInerney has always been a very careful deputy," said Sheriff Burns. "It was just one of these accidents which might happen any time, and McInerney was partially to blame, but I don't think he deserves dismissal. Doctors say Payne can't go far without medical aid, and as he has several prominent marks upon him, I think we will have him soon."

The theory that Payne was aided from outside the hospital is now given up, as it is evident that he ran down the alley back of Porter street to Vermont avenue. There is no doubt that the Negro seen there is the prisoner, for he left a number of his head bandages in the vacant house, to which he forced an entrance.

The Daily Grind Of Police Court

Three Occupied The Well Worn Seat This Morning.

Three prisoners nicely filled the old stand in the police court this morning, all being there on drunk charges.

Chas. Davis declared he wasn't abusive nor drunk, but was a little the worse of liquor. His plea was of no use, and he was assessed $2 with ten days in which to pay it.

Edward O'Brien was found drunk in a public place. He had come into the city yesterday from Otonabee, where he lived, and a badly-decorated eye, with an egg-shaped bulb on his brow, was his pet this morning. He looked, as the Chief suggested, as if he had come through a threshing machine. He paid his fine of $2.

Jos. Rickorby, who was fined yesterday for fast driving on George street, although he was absent, was one of the three in the box to-day with two more charges against him. These were for the obstruction of pedestrians on the street, loitering and catching hold of ladies. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded, as well as on a drunk charge, until next Thursday.

Says Her Lover Swindled Her

Caused He and His Father To Be Arrested

Examiner Special.

Marshall, Mich., Sept. 15.—W. A. McMann, aged 60, and his son, Bert, aged 35, were arrested in Muskegon, charged with obtaining $600 from Mrs. Ida A. Ashley, of Battle Creek, under false pretences. The complaint under false pretences. Complainant avers that Bert McMann made love to her and pressed his suit for her hand. She says that she let him have the money, and that he left town and was located in Western Michigan. She charges that the father assisted the son in bunoeing her.

Kept The Cow In The Kitchen

Housewife Made Bread at Other End of Table.

Cleveland, Sept. 15.—Domestic arrangements in the kitchen of Jacob Metz, of 2360 Woodland avenue, S. E., were rudely disturbed by Health Officer Webster, who stepped in unannounced. At one end of the table, says Webster, Mrs. Metz, with her sleeves rolled up, was kneading the week's supply of bread. At the other end of the table "Sukey", the family cow, was munching away at a dainty luncheon of green cucumbers.

"Horrors!" cried Webster.

"What of it?" asked Mrs. Metz.

Webster had Metz arrested for violating the health ordinance by keeping the cow in the kitchen. Jacob was discharged to-day.

Young People To Hold A Reception

To the Strangers at St. Andrew's Church.

The Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Church will, on Monday, September 24, hold a reception in the church parlours to the young people who have joined the congregation during the summer. There have been a large number of young; has been a large number of young people coming to the church this summer, and the society wishes to get in touch with them, and this means is being taken.

THE MANAGER'S MESSAGE.

The manager of the Semi-ready Wardrobe says that the success of the Semi-ready does not need his heralding, for its universal adoption is proven by the many imitations and counterfeits which are offered to the public. Every real Semi-ready garment has the trademark and price sewn on the inside pocket. There is no excuse for the man who allows himself to be deceived.

"I am sending in special orders for suits every week. These are Semi-ready garments made by actual measurement, and they are tailored as no merchant tailor can possibly tailor clothes. Ten days is the usual time taken to fill orders for specials."

"I wish I could take my patrons to see the Semi-ready tailor shops. They are on the side of Mount Royal, far away from the crowded factory district, and 400 expert tailors are at work there throughout the year." A. W. Cressman, agent for Peterborough.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Nights, too.

"YES, SIR, these are the Niagara Falls," proudly remarked the American. "Magnificent, aren't they?"

"Very fine," assented the tourist from Scotland. "Send down millions of gallons every minute," said the American, "and an incalculable number of millions every day." "I see," said the Scot; "and does it run all night, too?"

Followed Instructions.

A WINDSOR business mad had a lot of rubbish which he wanted to dispose of and employed a carter, who was a Frenchman, to take it to the dump on the bank of the Detroit River. The carter followed directions. Next day the business man was served with notice that the stuff had been dumped on private property on which a warning sign was posted, and that he must come and take the garbage away. He sent for the carter.

"They tell me," he said, "that you dumped that rubbish on another man's land and covered up the sign board telling you to keep off."

"No! No! Not so," cried the man, very vehemently. "There was no signboard telling me keep off. That sign says :

No Re-fuse Here,'
'DUMP,
an' I dumped."

BY FRED M. WHITE

What the lady of the Grange was like nobody could say. She had arrived late one night accompanied by a niece, and from that moment she had never been beyond the house. None of the large staff of servants ever left the grounds unless it was to quit altogether, and then they were understood to leave at night with a large bonus in money as a recompense for their promise to evacuate Sussex without delay. Everything was ordered by telephone from Brighton, and left at the porter's lodge. The porter was a stranger, also he was deaf and exceedingly ill-tempered, so that long since the village had abandoned the hope of getting anything out of him. One rational human being they saw from the Grange occasionally, a big man with an exceedingly benevolent face and mild, large, blue eyes—a man full of Christian kindness and given to largesse to the village boys. The big gentleman went by the name of "Mr. Charles," and was understood to have a lot of pigeons of which he was exceedingly fond. But who "Mr. Charles" was, or how he got that name, it would have puzzled the wisest head of the village to tell.

And yet, but for the mightly clamour of that hideous bell and that belt of wildness that surrounded it, Longdean Grange was a cheerful-looking house enough. Any visitor emerging from the drive would have been delighted with it. For the lawns were trim and truly kept, the beds were blazing masses of flowers, the creepers over the Grange were not allowed to riot too extravagantly. And yet the strange haunting sense of fear was there. Now and again a huge black head would uplift from the coppice growth, and a long, rumbling growl come from between a double row of white teeth. For the dogs were no fiction, they lived and bred in the fifteen or twenty acres of coppice round the house, where they were fed regularly and regularly thrashed without mercy if they showed in the garden. Perhaps they looked more fierce and truculent than they really were, being Cuban bloodhounds, but they gave a weird color to the place and lent it new terror to the simple folk around.

The bell was swinging dolefully over the stable-turret; it rang out its passing note till the clock struck eight and then mercifully ceased. At the same moment precisely as she had done any time the last seven years the lady of the house descended the broad, black oak staircase to the hall. A butler of the old-fashioned type bowed to her and announced that dinner was ready. He might have been the butler of an archbishop from his mien and deportment, yet his evening dress was seedy and shiny to the last degree. His patent leather boots had long lost their lustre, his linen was terribly frayed and yellow. Two footmen in livery stood in the hall. They might have been supers playing on the boards of a traveling theatre, their once smartly cut and trimmed coats hung raggedly upon them.

As to the lady, who was tall and handsome, with dark eyes and features contrasting strangely with hair as white as the frost on a winter's landscape, there was a far-away, strained look in the dark eyes, as if they were ever night and day looking for something, something that would never be found. In herself the lady was clean and wholesome enough, but her evening dress of black silk and lace was dropping into fragments, the lace was in rags upon her bosom, though there were diamonds of great value in her white hair.

And here, strangely allied, were wealth and direst poverty; the whole place was filled with rare and costly things, pictures, statuary, china; the floors were covered with thick carpets, and yet everything was absolutely smothered in dust. A thick, white, blanketey cloud of it lay everywhere. It obscured the china, it dimmed the glasses of the pictures, it piled in little drifts on the heads and arms of the dingy statues there. Many years must have passed since a housemaid's brush or duster had touched anything in Longdean Grange. It was like a palace of the Sleeping Beauty, wherein people walked as in a waking dream.

The lady of the house made her way slowly to the dining-room. Here dinner was laid out daintily and artistically enough—a gourmet would have drawn up to the table with a feeling of satisfaction. Flowers were there, and silver and cut-glass, china with a history of its own, and the whole set out on a tablecloth that was literally dropping to pieces.

It was a beautiful room in itself, lofty, oak panelled from floor to roof, with a few pictures of price on the walls. There was plenty of gleaming silver glowing like an argent moon against a purple sky, and yet the same sense of dust and desolation was everywhere. Only the dinner looked bright and modern.

There were two other people standing by the table, one a girl with a handsome, intellectual face full of passion but ill repressed; the other the big fair man known to the village as "Mr. Charles." As a matter of fact, his name was Reginald Henson, and he was distantly related to Mrs. Henson, the strange chatelaine of the House of the Silent Sorrow. He was smiling blandly now at Enid Henson, the wonderfully beautiful girl with the defiant, shining eyes.

"We may be seated now that madam is arrived," Henson said, gravely.

He spoke with a certain mocking humility and a queer wry smile on his broad, loose mouth that filled Enid with a speechless fury. The girl was hot-blooded—a good hater and a good friend. And the master passion of her life was hatred of Reginald Henson.

"Madam has had a refreshing rest?" Henson suggested. "Pardon our anxious curiosity."

Again Enid raged, but Margaret Henson might have been of stone for all the notice she took. The far-away look was still in her eyes as she felt her way to the table like one in a dream. Then she dropped suddenly into a chair and began grace in a high, clear voice.

". . . . And the Lord make us truly thankful. And may He, when it seemeth good to Him, remove the curse from this house and in due season free the innocent and punish the guilty. For the burden is sore upon us, and there are times when it seems hard to bear."

The big man played with his knife and fork, smilingly. An acute observer might have imagined that the passionate plaint was directed at him. If so it passed harmlessly over his broad shoulders. In his immaculate evening dress he looked strangely out of place there. Enid had escaped the prevailing dilapidation, but her gown of grey homespun was severe as the garb of a charity girl.

"Madam is so poetical," Henson murmured. "And charmingly sanguine."

"Williams," Mrs. Henson said, quite stoically, "my visitor will have some champagne."

She seemed to have dropped once again into the commonplace, painfully exact as a hostess of breeding must be to an unwelcome guest. And yet she never seemed to see him; those dark eyes were looking, ever looking, into the dark future. The meal proceeded in silence save for an oily sarcasm from Henson. In the dense stillness the occasional howl of a dog could be heard. A slight flush of annoyance crossed Henson's broad face.

"Some day I shall poison all those hounds," he said.

Enid looked up at him swiftly.

"If all the hounds round Longdean were poisoned or shot it would be a good place to live in," she said.

Henson smiled caressingly, like Petruchio might have done in his milder moments.

"My dear Enid, you misjudge me," he said. "But I shall get justice some day."

Enid replied that she fervently hoped so, and thus the strange meal proceeded with smiles and gentle words from Henson, and a wild outburst of bitterness from the girl. So far as she was concerned the servants might have been mere automatons. The dust rose in clouds as the latter moved silently. It was hot in there, and gradually the brown powder grimed like a film over Henson's oily skin. At the head of the table Margaret Henson sat like a woman in a dream. Ever, ever her dark eyes seemed to be looking eagerly around. Thirsty men seeking precious water in a desert might have looked like her. Ever and anon her lips moved, but no sound came from them. Occasionally she spoke to one or the other of her guests, but she never followed her words with her eyes. Such a sad, pathetic, pitiable figure, such a grey sorrow in her rags and snowy hair.

The meal came to an end at length, and Mrs. Henson rose suddenly. There was a grotesque suggestion of the marionette in the movement. She bowed as if to some imaginary personage and moved with dignity towards the door. Reginald Henson stood aside and opened it for her. She passed into the dim hall as if absolutely unconscious of his presence. Enid flashed a look of defiance at him as she disappeared into the gloom and floating dust.

Henson's face changed instantly, as if a mask had fallen from his smug features. He became alert and vigorous. He was no longer patron of the arts, a wide-minded philanthropist, the man who devotes himself to the good of humanity. The blue eyes were cold and cruel, there was a hungry look about the loose mouth.

"Take a bottle of claret and the cigars into the small library, Williams," he said. "And open the window, the dust stifles me."

The dignified butler bowed respectfully. He resembled the typical bad butler of fiction in no respect, but his thoughts were by no means pleasant as he hastened to obey. Enid was loitering in the hall as Williams passed with the tray.

"Small study and the window open, miss," he whispered. "There's some game on—oh, yes, there is some blessed game on again to-night. And him so anxious to know how Miss Christiana is. Says she ought to call him in professionally. Personally I'd rather call in an undertaker who was desperately hard up for a job."

"All right, Williams," Enid replied. "My sister is worse to-night. And unless she gets better I shall insist upon her seeing a doctor. And I am obliged for the hint about Mr. Henson. The little study commands the staircase leading to my sister's bedroom."

"And the open window commands the garden," Williams said, drily.

"Yes, yes. Now go. You are a real friend, Williams, and I will never forget your goodness. Run along—I can actually feel that man coming."

As a matter of fact, Henson was approaching noiselessly. Despite his great bulk he had the clean, dainty step of a cat; his big, rolling ears were those of a hare. Henson was always listening. He would have listened behind a kitchen door to a pair of chattering scullery-maids. He liked to find other people out, though as yet he had not been found out himself. He stood before the world as a social missioner; he made speeches at religious gatherings and affected the women to tears. He was known to devote a considerable fortune to doing good; he had been asked to stand for Parliament, where his real ambition lay. Gilead Gates had alluded to Reginald Henson as his right-hand man.

He crept along to the study, where the lamps were lighted and the silver claret-jug set out. He carefully dusted a big arm-chair and began to smoke, having first carefully extinguished the lamps and seen that the window leading to the garden was wide open. Henson was watching for something. In his feline nature he had the full gift of feline patience. To serve his own ends he would have sat there watching all night if necessary. He heard an occasional whimper, a howl from one of the dogs; he heard Enid's voice singing in the drawing-room. The rest of the house was quite funeral enough for him.

In the midst of the drawing-room Margaret Henson sat still as a statue. The distant, weary expression never left her eyes for a moment. As the stable clock, the only one going on the premises, struck ten, Enid crossed over from the piano to her aunt's side. There was an eager look on her face her eyes were gleaming like frosty stars.

"Aunt," she whispered; "dear, I have had a message!"

"Message of woe and desolation," Margaret Henson cried. "Tribulation and sorrow on this wretched house For seven long years the hand of the Lord has lain heavily upon us."

She spoke like one who was far away from her surroundings. And yet no one could look in her eyes and say that she was mad. It was a proud, passionate spirit, crushed down by some bitter humiliation. Enid's eyes flashed.

"That scoundrel has been robbing you again," she said.

"Two thousand pounds," came the mechanical reply, "to endow a bed in some hospital. And there is no escape no hope unless we drag the shameful secret from him. Bit by bit and drop by drop, and then I shall die and you and Christiana will be penniless."

"I daresay Chris and myself will survive that," Enid said, cheerfully. "But we have a plan, dear aunt; we have thought it out carefully. Reginald Henson has hidden the secret somewhere and we are going to find it. The secret is hidden not far off, because our cousin has occasion to require it frequently. It is like the purloined letter in Edgar Pole's wonderful story."

Margaret Henson nodded and mumbled. It seemed almost impossible to make her understand. She babbled of strange things, with her dark eyes fixed on the future. Enid turned away almost despairingly. At the same time the stable clock struck the half-hour after ten. Williams slipped in with a tray of glasses, noiselessly. On the tray lay a small pile of tradesmen's books. The top one was of dull red with no lettering upon it at all.

"The housekeeper's respectful compliments, miss, and would you go through them to-morrow?" Williams said. He tapped the top book significantly. "To-morrow is the last day of the month."

Enid picked up the top book with strange eagerness. There were pages of figures and cabalistic entries that no ordinary person could make anything of. Pages here and there were signed and decorated with pink receipt stamps. Enid glanced down the last column, and her face grew a little paler.

"Aunt," she whispered, "I've got to go out. At once; do you understand? There is a message here; and I am afraid that something dreadful has happened. Can you sing?"

"Ah, yes; a song of lamentation—a dirge for the dead."

"No, no; seven years ago you had a lovely voice. I recollect what a pleasure it was to me as a child; and they used to say that my voice was very like yours, only not so sweet or so powerful. Aunt, I must go out; and that man must know nothing of it. He is by the window in the small library now, watching—watching. Help me, for the love of Heaven, help me."

The girl spoke with a fervency and passion that seemed to waken a responsive chord in Margaret Henson's breast. A brighter gleam crept into her eyes.

"You are a dear girl," she said, dreamily; "yes, a dear girl. And I loved singing; it was a great grief to me that they would not let me go upon the stage. But I haven't sung since—since that——"

She pointed to the huddled heap of china and glass and dried, dusty flowers in one corner. Enid shuddered slightly as she followed the direction of the extended forefinger.

"But you must try," she whispered. "It is for the good of the family, for the recovery of the secret. Reginald Henson is sly and cruel and clever. But we have one on our side now who is far more clever. And, unless I can get away to-night without that man knowing, the chance may be lost for ever. Come!"

Margaret commenced to sing in a soft minor. At first the chords were thin and dry, but gradually they increased in sweetness and power. The hopeless, distant look died from the singer's eyes; there was a flush on her cheeks that rendered her years younger.

"Another one," she said, when the song was finished, "and yet another. How wicked I have been to neglect this balm that God sent me all these years. If you only knew what the sound of my own voice means to me! Another one, Enid."

"Yes, yes," Enid whispered. "You are to sing till I return. You are to leave Henson to imagine that I am singing. He will never guess. Now then."

Enid crept away into the hall, closing the door softly behind her. She made her way noiselessly from the house and across the lawn. As Henson slipped through the open window into the garden Enid darted behind a bush. Evidently Henson suspected nothing so far as she was concerned, for she could see the red glow of the cigar between his lips. The faint sweetness of distant music filled the air. So long as the song continued Henson would relax his vigilance.

He was pacing down the garden in the direction of the drive. Did the man know anything? Enid wondered. He had so diabolically cunning a brain. He seemed to find out everything, and to read others before they had made up their minds for themselves.

The cigar seemed to dance like a mocking sprite into the bushes Usually the man avoided those bushes. If Reginald Henson was afraid of one thing it was of the dogs. And in return they hated him as he hated them.

Enid's mind was made up. If the sound of that distant voice should only cease for a moment she was quite sure Henson would turn back. But he could hear it, and she knew that she was safe. Enid slipped past him into the bushes and gave a faint click of her lips. Something moved and whined, and two dark object bounded towards her. She caught them together by their collars and cuffed them soundly. Then she led the way back so as to get on Henson's tracks.

He was walking on ahead of her now, beating time softly to the music of the faintly distant song with his cigar. Enid could distinctly see the sweep of the red circle.

"Hold him, Dan," she whispered. "Watch, Prance; watch, boy."

There was a low growl as the hounds found the scent and dashed forward. Henson came up all standing and sweating in every pore. It was not the first time he had been held up by the dogs, and he knew by hard experience what to expect if he made a bolt for it.

Two grim muzzles were pressed against his trembling knees; he saw four rows of ivory flashing in the dim light. Then the dogs crouched at his feet, watching him with eyes as red and lurid as the point of his own cigar. Had he attempted to move, had he tried coercion, they would have fallen upon him and torn him in pieces.

"Confusion to the creatures!" he cried, passionately. "I'll get a revolver; I'll buy some prussic acid and poison the lot. And here I'll have to stay till Williams locks up the stables. Wouldn't that little Jezebel laugh at me if she could see me now? She would enjoy it better than singing songs in the drawing-room to our sainted Margaret. Steady, you brutes! I didn't move."

He stood there rigidly, almost afraid to take the cigar from his lips, whilst Enid sped without further need for caution down the drive. The lodge-gates were closed and the deaf porter's house in darkness, so that Enid could unlock the wicket without fear of detection. She rattled the key on the bars and a figure slipped out of the darkness.

"Good heavens, Ruth, is it really you?" Enid cried.

"Really me, Enid. I came over on my bicycle. I am supposed to be round at some friend's house in Brunswick Square, and one of the servants is sitting up for me. Is Reginald safe? He hasn't yet discovered the secret of the tradesman's book?"

"That's all right, dear. But why are you here? Has something dreadful happened?"

"Well, I will try to tell you so in as few words as possible. I never felt so ashamed of anything in my life."

"Don't tell me that our scheme has failed!"

"Perhaps I need not go so far as that. The first part of it came off all right, and then a very dreadful thing happened. We have got Mr. David Steel into frightful trouble. He is going to be charged with attempted murder and robbery."

"Ruth! But tell me. I am quite in the dark."

"It was the night when—well, you know the night. It was after Mr. Steel returned home from his visit to 219, Brunswick Square——"

"You mean 218, Ruth."

"It doesn't matter, because he knows pretty well all about it by this time. It would have been far better for us if we hadn't been quite so clever. It would have been far wiser to have taken Mr. Steel entirely into our confidence. Oh, oh Enid, if we had only left out that little sentiment over the cigar-case! Then we should have been all right."

"Dearest girl, my time is limited. I've got Reginald held up for the time, but at any moment he may escape from his bondage. What about the cigar-case?"

"Well, Mr. Steel took it home with him. And when he got home he found a man nearly murdered lying in his conservatory. That man was conveyed to the Sussex County Hospital, where he still lies in an unconscious state. On the body was found a receipt for a gun-metal cigar-case set with diamonds."

"Good gracious, Ruth, you don't mean to say——"

"Oh, I do. I can't quite make out how it happened, but that same case that we—that Mr. Steel has—has been positively identified as one purchased from Walen by the injured man. There is no question about it. And they have found out about Mr. Steel being short of money, and the £1,000, and everything."

"But we know that that cigar-case from Lockhart's in North Street was positively——"

"Yes, yes. But what has become of that? And in what strange way was the change made? I tell you that the whole thing frightens me. We thought that we had hit upon a scheme to solve the problem, and keep our friends out of danger. There was the American at Genoa who volunteered to assist us. A week later he was found dead in his bed. Then there was Christiana's friend, who disappeared entirely. And now we try further assistance in the case of Mr. Steel, and he stands face to face with a terrible charge. And he has found us out."

"He has found us out? What do you mean?"

"Well, he called to see me. He called at 219, of course. And directly I heard his name I was so startled that I am afraid I betrayed myself. Such a nice, kind handsome man, Enid; so manly and good over it all. Of course he declared that he had been at 219 before, and I could only declare that he had done nothing of the kind. Never, never have I felt so ashamed of myself in my life before."

"It seems a pity," Enid said, thoughtfully. "You said nothing about 218?"

"My dear, he found it out. At least, Hatherly Bell did for him. Hatherly Bell happened to be staying down with us, and Hatherly Bell, who knows Mr. Steel, promptly solved, or half solved, that side of the problem. And Hatherly Bell is coming here to-night to see Aunt Margaret. He——"

"Here!" Enid cried. "To see Aunt Margaret? Then he found out about you. At all hazards Mr. Bell must not come here—he must not. I would rather let everything go than that. I would rather see auntie dead and Reginald Henson master here. You must——"

In the distance came the rattle of harness bells and the trot of a horse.

"I'm afraid it's too late," Ruth Gates said, sadly. "I am afraid that they are here already. Oh, if we had only left out that wretched cigar-case!"

Will be continued next Saturday.

Pandora Range

SAVES FUEL AND HELPS TO PAY FOR ITSELF.

It is not the price you pay for a range which makes it cheap or expensive, but the fuel it consumes after you get it.

If you buy a range which costs $5 to $7 less than a "Pandora" and it burns a ton, or only half a ton of coal more in a year, what do your gain? Nothing, but you actually lose money, besides putting up with all the inconveniences, troubles and extra work which are a certainty with a poor range.

The "Pandora" is equipped with many fuel-saving features which are not found on any other range. Hot-air flues are constructed so that all the heat from the fire-box travels directly under every pot-hole and around the oven twice—every atom of heat is used, and only the smoke goes up the chimney.

Malta-Vita

"The Perfect Food"

Same Big Package
Same High Quality

Now 10 cts.

Malta-Vita "The Perfect Food," malt life, as its name implies, stands for that intense vitality that results from the daily use of a food skilfully prepared from the whole of the wheat, of which, after being cooked, each kernel has been subjected to the searching digestive action of the diastase and other enzymes of barley malt. This makes it a "predigested" food of highest nourishment value, which explains the remarkable results obtained in cases of nervous debility, deranged stomachs and constipation. Besides, it is the best food to eat.

"We have used several boxes of Malta-Vita and think it the finest food we have tried yet. Having used different kinds, we find Malta-Vita has a flavor which excels all others. We had almost despaired to find something our baby could eat without being distressed. He had, since birth, been a constant sufferer from constipation and a general derangement of the stomach and bowels. Since we began feeding him Malta-Vita he has improved wonderfully in health and is entirely cured of constipation. In fact, myself and husband realize a great benefit since using the food, as we have suffered from general debility. We find it gives life and tone to the entire system." Name given on request by Malta-Vita Pure Food Co.,

MALTA-VITA is a food with a "taste." It does not belong to the tasteless variety of "flaked foods" and too great credit cannot be claimed for Malta-Vita on account of the fact that it contains its own sweetening agent—maltose always being present in a proportion exceeding eight per cent and sometimes ten per cent. This is a healthy, digestible sugar, formed by the action of the malt diastase upon starch and it causes the stomach no inconvenience. This is not the case with flaked foods that are sweetened by cane sugar, beet sugar, maple sugar, boiled cider, glucose or grape sugar, as all these cause acidity in the stomach and are seriously injurious.

Brown Was Shocked To Hear Of His Wife's Babies

Never Knew of Her Relations With Sully the Railroad Magnate—Mrs. Brown Seeks Privacy.

Examiner Special

New York, Sept. 15.—William Sanderson Brown, the Broadway merchant, who recently discarded his beautiful bride of two years, Mrs. Kathryn Ballou Watrous Brown, of No. 647 Madison avenue, professed to be immeasurably shocked yesterday when he learned that Mrs. Brown had had a most romantic career.

The recital of Mrs. Brown's love affair fifteen years ago with Alfred Sully, the railroad magnate, gave Brown a decided surprise. When he appeared at his office his face was flushed and he was greatly excited. "I didn't know all this," he exclaimed. "The idea of that woman travelling over the country as she did never occurred to me. She seemed to be so demure and innocent that I never suspected she could have been the mother of two babies. When I met her she never told me about them."

Brown would not say what he would do, but one of his friends intimated that a suit for divorce would be the probable outcome.

Seeks Privacy.

Mrs. Brown shut herself yesterday in her flat and refused to talk. She communicated with her lawyers, Hays & Hershfield, early in the day, and it was said that her advice to them was to go slow in the proceedings which she has contemplated against Brown for desertion.

She does not relish the notoriety she has brought upon herself and will now wait until the sensation blows over. Mrs. Brown did not realize all the fuss she was making when she went to a newspaper office early in the week with an advertisement announcing her wedding to Brown. Her only idea was to scare him into returning to her.

After leaving the advertisement she telephoned Brown, and he induced her to withdraw the announcement. But the secret of their marriage was out. Now Brown swears he never will live with her again. He says she is too impulsive, and besides he does not relish the way his name has been dragged into the limelight.

Greatly Surprised.

The staid residents of Hackettstown, N.J., where Sully lived with the woman years ago, were amazed when they learned of the liaison. Many of them remember the brown-eyed young woman who was Sully's housekeeper. They often saw the couple driving about the streets of the village, and many were the comments on the San Francisco girl's fetching looks.

When the girl, in 1889, left for Switzerland it was given out that she was going abroad to have her voice cultivated. No one in Hackettstown ever dreamed when she returned two years later for a brief visit, that she had in the meantime become a mother. The baby boy, who was called Charles Robert Bishop, was left in New York, while Sully's inamorata made the trip to his home. She remained only a few weeks, and then took a flat in New York, where Sully continued his lovemaking.

Maybe the Liver Is at Fault

It is customary for many people to blame the stomach when the liver is responsible for the troubles of digestion.

Such symptoms as headache, coated tongue, disgust for food, vomiting, feelings of weight and soreness, dull pain near shoulders, muddy complexion, constipation, alternating with looseness of the bowels, irritability of temper, are sure indications of biliousness or torpid liver.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are marvellously prompt and certain as a cure for sluggish action of the liver. While awakening the liver they also regulate the bowels and invigorate the kidney action.

In this way the filtering and excretory systems are thoroughly cleansed of all poisonous impurities and the cause of pain, sickness and suffering removed.

In every family there is need of just such a medicine as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to cure constipation, backache, biliousness, indigestion and prevent dangerous and fatal diseases of the kidneys and bowels. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Hair Pulled Out By The Roots

Feminine Battle in Which Women Are Badly Bruised

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 15.—Two women had their heads cut open in from two to eight places, and another had most of her hair pulled out by the roots in a fight, participated in by five women, which occurred here this afternoon.

Mrs. Herman Wilhelm sustained eight cuts in her scalp; her daughter Elsie two cuts, and Mrs. Charles Klawson lost much of her hair.

Mrs. Wilhelm occupied a house owned by Mrs. Klawson. She was requested to vacate as the house had been sold, but she had nowhere to go. It was in Mrs. Klawson's home that the trouble assumed a riot form.

On one side was ranged Mrs. Wilhelm, her daughter and Mrs. Gustie Welska; on th eother, Mrs. Klawson and her daughter, Mrs. Albertina Putzen.

Mrs. Klawson was overcome with nervous prostration, following the losing of her hair, and for a time it was thought she would die.

ENGLAND

A remarkable story of a search for hidden treasure comes from Wendron, Cornwall. Nearly half a century ago an old lady named Varker, lived in a cottage at Lower Boidlly, in the parish of Wendron, which had the reputation of being haunted by ghosts. One night she declared that two pixies had paid her a visit, and told her that vast treasure was hidden beneath the cottage. With the reputation which the humble dwelling had for being haunted, the story was received with considerable credence in the district. It made such an impression on her two sons that they immediately commenced to excavate for the treasure. Taking up the floor of one of the rooms they sank a shaft to the depth of several fathoms. Water invaded the shaft, and pumps and other appliances were erected for draining and hauling. The premature death of one of the brothers led to the abandonment of the operations without any treasure being discovered. Now, after the lapse of 40 years, the search for the supposed hidden treasure has been resumed by Mr. W. H. Varker, a resident of Goldsmithey, and a grandson of the old lady who held communion with the pixies. In the interval the cottage has been demolished, but Mr. Varker has located the site, and with the help of another man from the neighbourhood, is engaged in sinking a shaft. The excavations already extend to a depth of 24 feet, of which 17 feet are vertical, and the remainder on an incline. Pumps and machinery are in course of erection, and the explorer is sanguine of success.

A favourite visiting place for Americans in England is Austerfield, North Lincolnshire, the home of the Pilgrim Fathers. One of the chief objects of interest there is the old parish church, in which some of the Pilgrim Fathers worshipped, and in which one of them, William Blandford, was baptized. The old font is pointed out to visitors as the one from which the water was taken for the baptism. Evidence has now been adduced that the so-called font is not the one used at that baptism, and that it is nothing more nor less than a farmer's cattle trough. About fifty years ago the parish sexton, whose name was Milner, was ordered to remove several pieces of rubbish from the church and sell them. Milner included in his rubbish the old Norman font which had such historical associations, selling it to a local farmer named John Jackson. After a few years the font passed on to Jackson's son, named Willism, who placed it in his garden as an ornament, and on retiring in 1895 it was included among the fixtures, and was duly paid for by the new tenant, Mr. W. E. Fielding, who subsequently made a present of the font to his mother. She passed it on for safe keeping to the trustees of the little Primitive Methodist Chapel at Lound, near Retford, where it still remains.

A remarkable christening recently occurred in a remote part of Derbyshire, Harborough Hill, in the western portion of the county, is said to have been a haunt of the Druids, and apparently it was used both for worship and as a place of burial. Some years ago a number of human skulls, which had been compactly buried there in some distant century, were unearthed at the summit of this lofty ridge, which commands a view over six counties, the peak of Snowdon being easily visible on a clear day. The hill briatles with fantastic dolomite crags, some of which were, it is supposed, shaped by the Druids for ceremonial purposes. A big block of limestone has been carved into a capacious chair; another rock, with a flat top, appears to have been used as an altar, and an adjacent monolith, in which a semi-circular bowl has been scooped out, looks like a rude font. It was with water from this ancient rock bowl that the child, the daughter of a farmer in the district, was lately christened. The little girl, three months old, was carried up to this wild, bleak spot, accompanied by numerous relatives, and the godfather and godmother, and baptism was administered by a lay reader.

A policeman ran amuk with a truncheon in one of the principal thoroughfares of Liverpool recently. The constable was on duty, and suddenly began to act in a peculiar manner, evidently affected by the great heat. The thoroughfare was crowded at the time, many people returning from their work, and the constable's antics attracted general attention. Finding himself surrounded by a large crowd, the officer drew his truncheon, which he flourished round his head in a menacing manner. He then proceeded to clear the streets with as much vigour as though the Riot Act had been read. There was a general rush for the nearest shelter. All the shops in the vicinity were crowded in a few moments, and in some cases the doors were closed. Several persons, not so agile as others, got nasty knocks, but nobody was seriously injured. For a short time the policeman held undisputed possession of a good stretch of the street, the crowd watching developments from shop windows and tram cars. Ultimately several other constables appeared on the scene, and the demented officer was overpowered by a strategic movement and deprived of his baton.

SCOTLAND

Three brothers and their two girl cousins, who, with a friend had gone for a row, were drowned off the Banffshire coast a few days ago. The names of the drowned were Charles Bruce, Adam Bruce, Thomas Bruce, Mary Anderson, and Elizabeth Urquhart. George Fordyce, who accompanied them, was rescued. The party had been spending the day at Keith Cattle Show, and on the return journey to Buckie one of the girls proposed that they should go for a row in the evening. The sea was calm, the night fine, though cold, and the six young people rowed well out from land. They were perhaps two miles from the village when, in changing places, the boat capsized. None of the party could swim. One of the men grasped the oars, and was carried away by the tide. He was never seen again. The five others by a great effort reached and clung to the boat. At first they felt secure; they were sure help would arrive if only they shouted loud enough for the fishermen of Buckie to hear them. So they shouted again and again, but no help came, and the coldness of the water gripped them more fiercely every minute. For hours they clung to the floating boat till one by one the lights of the little village went out. Then one of the brothers Bruce, weakened by cold and fatigue, relaxed his hold, and after a brief struggle, sank. His death unnerved the others, and a few minutes later the third Bruce and his cousin Elizabeth Urquhart dropped from the boat and sank, and only Mary Anderson and Fordyce remained. The girl and the young man cried again and again for help, and then when almost unconscious with the cold, they heard answering cry and the sound of oars. The night had grown very dark, and the rescuers could not see the small bulk of the floating boat on the water. They called, but the two people clinging to the boat were by this time beyond crying out, and for a long time the fishermen rowed here and there searching in vain. Then at last they saw the boat and rowed hard towards it. Fordyce, clinging mechanically by one hand, was alone. Mary Anderson had disappeared.

Sir Allan Mackenzie, of Glenmuick, Ballater, who died a few days ago, was one of the King's Bodyguard for Scotland. The story of the rise of the Mackenzies of Glenmuick is a peculiarly interesting one, for Sir Allan's father was the son of a small drygoods shopkeeper in Aberdeen, and rejoiced in the name of James Thompson. In the early forties he went in search of fame and fortune in India. Fortune he found by means of indigo-planting and judicious money-lending and then he came back to the old country for fame. In his many dealings with the astute Oriental he had mastered the art of making money, and though rich when he came back from India, he soon became doubly so in the city, for those were the days when company promoting and foreign loans had not been overdone by competition. He was the first to invent the trust company, which should provide the investor with good securities. His entrance into society was assisted by his generous purse, and by the happy readiness with which he lent a large sum of money to finance the Marlborough Club in London. He was at once elected a member, and this gave him an entree into the "Marlborough House set," where his wealth and amiable character made him a favourite. He felt his social obligations in this direction, for in a codicil to his will he directed that Glenmuick should not be let "to a cad or one who would damage it, or be disagreeable to the royalties from whom I have always received the greatest kindness."

Jackson, a one-armed chimney-sweep, of Dundee, who fled recently from his home, where his wife was found dead in suspicious circumstances, was captured in a field, largely owing to the intelligence of a police sergeant's wife. A farmer brought news to the police officer there that a man answering the description of the one-armed sweep had been seen. The sergeant was absent, engaged on the hunt in another part of the district, but his wife asked thee farmer to keep an eye on the suspect while she sent a telephone message to the police in Dundee. Meanwhile Jackson for he it proved to be, becoming aware that he was watched, took to a cornfield, imagining no doubt that he would be able to hide there. The field was closely searched by the police, at first without result. Men were then posted outside to intercept the fugitive should he make a rush, but the precautions were unnecessary. Jackson, worn out by the experiences of the night, was found lying face downwards among the corn. He was too exhausted to offer any resistance to arrest.

On a sunken reef 350 ft. distant from Stornoway (Ross.) Lighthouse is a remarkable beacon, which warns mariners with the help of a light which is only apparent. The beacon is a cone of cast-iron plates, surmounted with a lantern containing a glass prism. This prism derives its light from refracting the rays emitted from the lighthouse, and the optical delusion is marvellous. Mariners naturally suppose that there is a lighted lamp on the beacon itself, and many of them would not believe otherwise. But the object of the beacon is attained when the navigator sees the reflected light, which indicates the perilous rock below. This beacon in the north of Scotland has been in use more than half a century, and since it was fixed in position others have been placed in other neighbourhoods to make clear points of danger. It is an ingenious and very effective safeguard against perils of the coast.

IRELAND

An extraordinary escapade by two sailors, named Lonscombe and King, belonging to the battleship New Zealand, of the Atlantic Fleet, has been exercising the minds of the naval authorities and the energies of the Irish police for some days past. Recently the men left their ship, which was then lying in Lough Swilly with other vessels of the Atlantic fleet, with the object, it was presumed, of going ashore at Buncrana. At the time a stiff offshore breeze was blowing, which would make the task of reaching shore very troublesome, and the possibility of the men succeeding in so doing was rendered practically hopeless, as the boat had neither mast, sail, nor oar. For that reason the gravest fears were entertained of the sailors' safety, and when the next day the New Zealand signalled ashore to the Buncrana coastguards that no account of the missing men was forthcoming, their fate was considered hopeless. The missing boat was discovered at a spot twenty miles along the coast from Buncrana, but no trace of the men could be found. The constabulary, who had been apprised of the occurrence from the first, were energetic, however, in making inquiries along the coast, and eventually their search was rewarded with success. In the little village of Milford, about ten miles from Rathmullen, the missing sailors were surprised by a couple of policemen, who took them into custody and conveyed them to Buncrana Station, where they will be detained until taken over by a naval escort from their ship. The men presented a very weatherbeaten and battered appearance, for they had been wandering about the Donegal mountains for several days before reaching Milford.

That evictions are now happily rare things in Ireland is shown by the Parliamentary Paper recently issued. During the June quarter of this year there have been only forty evictions in all Ireland at the suit of landlords. In 18 counties there has not been a single eviction. Munster had 18, Ulster 9, Connaught 8, and Leinster 5. In the previous quarter the number of evictions in all Ireland was 36. Evictions not at the suit of landlords, for mortgages or debts, numbered 20 for the same period. Ulster, curiously enough, contributed the majority of these, the number being 12; Leinster and Connaught had three each, and Munster only two. In the previous three months those evictions numbered six for all Ireland. This is a remarkable testimony of solvency having regard to the fact that there are about half a million of tenants of all classes in Ireland.

The eccentricities of poor law administration have been vividly illustrated in Dublin. A poor woman recently asked the guardians to relieve her husband temporarily of an order under which he contributed (with two brothers) towards the maintenance of his father, a bed-ridden inmate of the workhouse. The guardians agreed to excuse the payments until such time as the husband, who, is ill, should be able to work again. It happened that the woman, grateful for this consideration, made up her mind to visit the workhouse, and see the old man, who had not been inquired after by his sons for some time. She discovered on calling that he had been dead and buried since April. By some error neither his family nor the warrant officer had been apprised of his death.

A pathetic sequel to the grounding of the packet steamship Lady Wolseley off Falmouth, was reported recently from Dublin. Mrs. Jones, the wife of one of the sailors, was nursing her two-days-old baby at home, when her eldest boy, a boy of 14, ran in and told his mother, the news that he had heard on the street. The poor woman immediately concluded that her husband was in danger and collapsed. Despite medical aid she died from shock, being in a delicate state of health at the time. Her baby also exxpired in its mother's arms. Seven young children are left in the father's hands. His life of course was never in danger; his vessel was easily got off the beach by tugs.

The ownership of a hearse which was seized by the sheriff of Dublin under a judgment debt has recently been before the vacation judge on an interpleader motion. The hearse, having been taken by the sheriff, and the supposed owner having gone into bankruptcy court, the official assignee in turn seized the vehicle from the sheriff. Then the debtor's wife claimed the hearse as her property. Counsel for the creditors said that the usual order of things had been reversed in this case. The hearse usually conveyed the man; here the man conveyed the hearse. The judge made no rule on the motion, but gave costs against the lady, remarking if he could, he would make an order against the hearse.

In the event of the Donegal County Council's decision to sell the old Lifford Prison being confirmed by the Local Government Board one of the most historic gaols of Ireland will disappear. Within its walls were once confined many notable prisoners, including persons concerned in the Irish rebellion and a number of French prisoners who were captured in the sea fights of the mouth of Lough Swilly. Napper Tandy, rendered famous by the lines in "The Wearing of the Green," was incarcerated in this old prison.

In the case of two men, William Connolly and Patrick Cantwell, who were drowned recently by the upsetting of a float on the Grand Canal near Tullamore, King's county, remarkable coincidences are recordedd. The two men were born on the same day, 38 years ago, they were baptized in the same water, they were drowned together in the Grand Canal; and after a joint funeral they were buried together at Rahan, King's county.

SUBMISSION.

I do not ask, O Lord, that life may be
A pleasant road;
I do not ask that thou wouldst take from me
Aught of its load.

I do not ask that flowers should always spring
Beneath my feet;
I know too well the poison and the sting
Of things too sweet.

For one thing only, Lord, dear Lord I plead;
Lead me aright,
Though strength should falter and though heart should bleed,
Through peace to light.

Joy is like restless day; but peace divine
Like quiet night;
Lead me, O Lord, till perfect day shall shine,
Through peace to light.

ASPIRATIONS.

In reflecting on the little we have achieved, let us take comfort from the consciousness that we have aspired greatly. The humblest duty faithfully discharged and done, the earnest purpose, the desperate struggle, the heroic endurance or devotion on some lowly stage, in some obscure corner, the fidelity to principle, the holier impulse quickened by some word or influence of ours in another soul—these things are not measurable in terms of quantity, but of quality, and in quality immortal. Apparently ended of themselves, they do not end thus, but survive in their eternal charm and beauty, and in some forthgoing from them, in some contribution from them to the world, however imperceptible.—Rev. S. A. Tipple.

S. S. LESSON.

Lesson XII., September 16. — Jesus silences the Pharisees and Sadducees. —Mark 12: 13-27.

Render to Caesar the things which are Caesar's and to God the things which are God's."—Mark 12: 17.

BETWEEN THE LESSONS.

Jesus entered Jerusalem in triumph on Sunday of Passion Week, Sunday night he spent at Bethany. On Monday he came from Bethany to Jerusalem. As he drew near the city, he saw a fig tree. Being hungry, he went to it to get something to eat. Finding nothing but leaves, he said to the tree, "No man eat fruit from thee hence-forward forever." He afterwards cleansed the temple, and received the praises of children. At evening he again retired to Bethany. On Tuesday morning, Peter called Jesus' attention to the fig tree which had withered to its roots. This led to an exhortation concerning faith. In the city the Sanhedrim demanded Christ's authority for his works and teachings. He replied by a question and then gave the parables of the Two Sons, the Wicked Husbandman, and the Marriage of the King's Son. In order to get him to say something that could be used to accuse him, three hostile questions were asked the Master: one by the Pharisees and Herodians, one by the Sadducees, one by a scribe, whom Jesus declared to be "not far from the Kingdom of God." The first and second of these questions form the basis of our lesson study.

CRITICAL NOTES.

13. Herodians. Partisans of Herod, tetrarch of Galilee, and supporters of him in his ambitious designs. That they might catch him in talk. "So as to deliver him up to the rule and to the authority of one (Roman) governor." Luke 20: 20. Hence the question was a political one.

14. Tribute. The poll tax, not the toll or customs duty. The money went to the emperor's exchequer, Caesar. The title of the Roman Emperor.

15. Shall we give or shall we not give? If Jesus answered, "Yes", the Pharisees could argue him of apostasy from God and disloyalty to his own people. If he answered, "No," the Herodians might charge him with rebellion against Rome. A denarius. It was the tribute money, the coin in which the tax was made. Matt. 22: 19.

17. Render unto Caesar . . . and unto God. Jesus recognizes the distinction between the two spheres of duty and the consistency of the duties with each other.

18. There come. . . Sadducees. On the same day. Matt. 22: 23.

23. In the resurrection whose wife shall she be of them? The Sadducees imagined that by this case they had reduced the doctrine of the resurrection to an absurdity. The woman cannot belong to the seven, for that would be contrary to the law; and she must belong to one of them. That she must belong to one is an assumption; and in making it they erred.

24. Ye know not the Scriptures, which teach the resurrection. Job 19: 26; Dan. 12: 2; compare Ezek. 37. Nor the power of God, which is sufficient to secure the resurrection of the body and to maintain it under new conditions.

25 Jesus denies their assumption. Mark 1: 221. He also, as on other occasions, declared the existence of angels, which the Sadducees denied. Acts 23: 8.

26 Jesus argues that according to the Scriptures, the forefathers of Israel are still alive. I . . . the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. In the omission of the copula the quotation corresponds exactly to the original Hebrew. Luke also places no emphasis on the verb: "Moses . . . calleth the Lord the God of Abraham." Luke 20: 37. It was the understanding of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and accordingly the basis of the covenant into which Jehovah entered with them, that their souls continued in existence after the death of the body and that God remained their God in the other world. This belief in the future life was shared by those to whom th words of Ex. 3: 6 were addressed. The divine declaration was not made in deception. It was intended to convey an impression. God purposed that it be interpreted, and it was interpreted, in accordance with the faith that Jehovah was still in covenant relation with the patriarchs of Israel.

27. Accordingly on his own representation Jehovah is the God . . . of the living. In establishing the soul's immortality Jesus sufficiently answered the objection of the Sadducees to the resurrection of the body; for their denial of the resurrection was based on a denial of the immortality of the soul.

Pastor Built His Own Church In Winnipeg

Probably Only House of Worship of its Kind in America.

Probably the only church in America that was built entire'y by its pastor's own hands stands to-day as one of the architectural curiosities of Winnipeg, on one of its main streets and on a lot of land worth many times over the value of the building, writes Aubrey Fullerton in the Christian Endeavour World. Probably, too, it is the oddest church edifice in America; certainly it is the smallest and crudest aspiring to the dignity of a cathedral. For it is the cathedral of the Greek Orthodox Church, and it was Bishop Seraphim who built it.

A carpentering bishop was a novelty, even in a city where strange sights are frequent. His methods and his materials were still more novel; but he persisted in his work of love, against many difficulties, until the structure was completed about the beginning of last year. Then he presented it to his congregation as a gift literally from his own hands.

The sids of the building are of old pieces of lumber, fence-boards, plank-ends, and bits of packing-cases; the roof is made of rusted pieces of sheet-tin; the doors and windows have done duty before; and for ornamentation a remarkable collection of odds and ends has been nailed along the top.

The interior is even more miscellaneous in character. The floor is of old tin, covered with scraps of carpet; the walls and ceiling are hung with paper of many patterns; the furnishings are chiefly coloured pictures. There is accommodation for a congregation of only about forty persons at a time, and the building is proof against neither rain nor cold.

A very humble church, with a pretentious name; yet it tangibly illustrates a chapter in religious history, and all such history has a value. Bishop Seraphim was originally a professor in the St. Petersburg College, but after seven years in a Jerusalem monastery he was made a bishop and sent to America in 1903, to be head of the Greek Church on this continent, with Winnipeg as his headquarters. Soon after his church divided and he was left with a remnant of only about two hundred, for whom the new "cathedral" was built. They retain the orthodox name, and Seraphim is still their bishop. The church and its appointments are strange, but the struggles of the little flock mean something because they are the brave effort of a people to keep faith as they understand it. If this is Russian character, it is a pleasing phase of it, that a man who was once a scholar among scholars, but now fallen upon harder times, should persevere, even to the point of inviting ridicule, for conscience' sake.

Once a year, in January, the bishop and his people observe a unique ceremony in commemoration of the baptism of our Lord. At four o'clock in the morning the congregation gathers at the little cathedral, where a religious service is held until ten o'clock. A procession then forms, and marches to the Red River, which borders the city. A mass of ice is cut from the river in the shape of a cross, and set up on end; then the water is blessed by the priest and sprinkled upon the congregation. Each member takes a quantity of the water home in a vial or gourd, and carefully keeps it until the next year's ceremony. This midwinter blessing of the ice-bound river is one of the quaintest of the religious ceremonies that have been brought from the Old World to the New, and it is observed with unquestionable sincerity and devotion.

Water Power At Warsaw Now

Latest Proposition is to Develop the Water Falls at Quarry Lake Near the Village.

Local Promoters and Capitalists Likely to Take Matter Up Seriously at Once.

Special Staff Correspondent.

Warsaw, Sept. 15.—With a steam railway as good as assured, it would seem that Warsaw was doing pretty well without again springing into the limelight by the announcement that there is a strong probability of the water power at Quarry Lake, where it is claimed several hundred horse power, possibly even thousands, can be developed at a comparatively low cost, being exploited by a company composed of and promoted largely by local capitalists.

Matter of Evolution.

It is understood that this matter is one which has been under consideration for some time, and it is being taken up seriously. Recently, with the establishment of the Board of Trade, the residents of this village have began to sit up and take notice, and, judging by the results which have followed, what has all the earmarks of a genuine commercial awakening, their action in taking themselves seriously, is likely to prove a boon to the surrounding country.

Business Men Certain.

It is asserted that for some little time the members of this Board of Trade have known, or at least felt assured, that the C.P.R. had decided to adopt the survey running near this village. This much is certain, they expressed no surprise at the announcement of the decision of Mr. Leonard to run the new line i. the survey north of the city of Peterborough, instead of connecting with the main line at Peterborough.

Double Enterprise.

There is a statement too, to the effect that the knowledge that the railway was to touch the village had considerable to do with the decision to develop the water power at Quarry Lake, which is within a very short distance of the town, and it is believed that the two enterprises will work in well together.

Possibilities not Appreciated.

The possibilities of water power on the Indian River between this village and Stony Lake, and especially that part of it in the vicinity of Warsaw, seems to have not been appreciated by anyone until recently, and even now by comparatively few persons, but the fact remains that within a few miles of Warsaw, and easily accessible are water-falls, which, if controlled would yield thousands of horse power in electric energy, and that at last some, at least of these powers are to be developed, and made to serve the interests of commerce, is a fact which will be learned with considerable ill-concealed satisfaction not only by the residents of Warsaw but by the surrounding country as well. It is understood that further developments may be expected along this line in the near future.

Trenton Route Will Be Adopted, And On 8 Foot Waterway

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—Authority will be taken from Parliament at its approaching session for the immediate completion of the Trent waterway from Lake Simcoe through to Georgian Bay, and it is hoped that by the spring of 1908 an eight-foot waterway will be available from Georgian Bay and the Upper Lakes down as far as Peterborough. This will involve an outlay of something like half a million dollars. There is already a water route open from Peterborough to Lake Simcoe, so what remains is the deepening of the Severn River at any points where there is less than eight feet of water. The lower end of the Trent waterway from Peterborough to Lake Ontario is still being surveyed, but it seems to be almost certain that the outlet will be at Trenton. A survey is also being made of the Port Hope route, but the other seems to be approved, both as the natural line physically, and from the commercial point of view.

Draft Of Milk By-law Approved By Committee

Will be Submitted for Ratification of Council, and if Passed Will Go Into Force on Dec. 1st—Crusade for Pure Milk Conditions Has Taken Definite Shape and Progress Has Been Made.

THE MILK BY-LAW.

All milk vendors in Peterborough must have a license, the fee for which is $1. Licenses are granted only on certificate that premises of the applicant are in clean condition. Sanitary Inspector or Medical Health Officer may inspect milk and destroy any found adulterated or impure. No unclean or unwholesome milk or skim milk is to be sold. The penalty for offences against the by-law is a fine not exceeding $50, with alternative of not exceding six months in gaol.

Ald. McIntyre's crusade for pure milk took definite shape last night when the special committee appointed by the council approved of the draft bylaw prepared by City Solicitor Hall, regulating and licensing milk vendors.

The bylaw was passed after very little discussion, the committee feeling that it thoroughly carried out the ideas they had advanced regarding the question. The members were unanimous in the opinion that Peterborough's milk supply should be kept as pure and as clean as it is possible to be. If carried out fully, the bylaw will provide for this state of affairs.

The bylaw as submitted by the solicitor, last night, provides that every person selling milk in Peterborough must have a license, the fee being placed at one dollar per annum. Before this license is granted it will be necessary for the applicant to secure a certificate from the secretary of the Board of Health, to the efect that his premises have been inspected by the Medical Health Officer, or Sanitary Inspector, and have been declared in a clean and sanitary condition by either of these officers.

The bylaw also enacts that all milk offered for sale in Peterborough shall be subject to examination at any time by the Medical Health Officer, or Sanitary Inspector, who is given power to enter vehicles, and also shops during business hours, and to inspect milk; and to seize and destroy any adulterated milk he may find. All milk vendors shall, if required, supply the officer with samples of the milk they are offering for sale. No milk vendor shall offer for sale adulterated or unwholesome milk, or milk diluted with water, or any other substance, or "skim" milk. Skim milk, may, however, be sold, if the persom to whom it is sold understands that it is skim milk.

The penalty provided for an infraction of the terms of the bylaw is a fine not exceeding $50. In case the fine is not paid distress may be levied, and in default of dist ss the penalty is imprisonment in the common jail for a term not exceeding six months.

On motion of Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Ball, the committee approved of the draft bylaw.

The bylaw will be submitted for the ratification of the council at the next meeting.

It was decided, on motion of Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Ball, that the bylaw should come into force on December 1. The solicitor pointed out that it would be impossible for the measure to take effect before that time, as before a license could be issued it would be necessary to have all premises inspected.

The question of appointing a sanitary inspector to look after such matters as these was discussed, but it was left over without any action being taken until a joint meeting of the Board of Health and the Council is held.

There were present Ald. McIntyre, chairman; Ald. Wilson, Johnston, Elliott and Ball.

Big Bear Bagged At Black Duck

Was Laid Low by Mr. Jack Blewett, of Lakefield.

A big black bear was on exhibition to-day at the T. W. Brightman & Company's tannery on Aylmer street. Bruin, of course, is dead, the result of a shot from the trusty gun of Mr. John Blewett, Lakefield, who is well known in the north as one of the best hunters and fishermen in that district.

"Jack," as he is known by his numerous friends, was after the bear last night at Black Duck, a point near Lovesick Lake and not far from Burleigh Falls, when Bruin was finally driven from his lair and corralled by the gunner.

It was brought to the city to-day by Mr. John MacFarlane, who resides near by, and is as fine a specimen as Peterborough citizens have seen in a long time. The animal tipped the scales at 225 pounds. A shot gun brought him to earth.

New Season Of Peterborough Conservatory

Increased Attendance Has Caused the Addition of Four New Members to the Faculty.

The Peterborough Conservatory of Music enters upon its second year with the brightest prospect that the very gratifying record of success of the initial season will be greatly improved upon.

The increased attendance registered this year has made it necessary to strengthen the faculty. Four important additions have been made in the piano, vocal and violin departments. Miss Lora Newman, concert pianiste and teacher, late of Vienna, has been engaged to fill a prospective vacancy, caused by the retirement of a clever lady pianiste. Miss Newman was a pupil of the world-famed, Lechetisky, who trained Paderewski, Mark Hambourg and other great pianists. Her success as a teacher has been great and her appearance in concert has won for her the applause of her audiences and the commendation of the ablest critics.

Miss Pollock the favourite pupil here of Mr. H. M. Field and very highly praised by him for her conscientious industry and thorough musical temperament and teaching capacity, has also been added to the teaching staff of the Conservatory, and will contribute in a marked degree to the strength of the faculty.

The violin department has been strengthened by the addition of Miss Lina Adamson, of Toronto, who is not only a concert artist of well deserved reputation and proficiency, but also a most successful and capable teacher.

Mr. George Collea, a well known baritone, who has pursued a diligent course of european study, and achieved large concert success, is warmly spoken of by Herr Wilhelmj as a well qualified vocal teacher.

The Conservatory with its well equipped facilities in respect to both staff and premises, is assured of another properous season.

BAPTISTS TO GATHER —TO NUMBER OF ABOUT 500— IN PETERBOROUGH

One Month from To-morrow Annual Convention of Ontario and Quebec Baptists Opens Here.

Question of Importance to be Considered is that of Dominion Convention--Some Prominent Men Here.

In the Murray street Baptist church, from October 17th to 23rd, an important gathering will be held. It will be the annual convention of the Baptist churches in Ontario and Quebec, and it is understood that between 350 and 500 delegates will be in attendance at the sessions, which this year will be particularly important, in view of the fact that the question of holding a Dominion convention will be discussed. It is some years now since a gathering of Dominion Baptists was held, and it is probable that at this convention representatives from the various provincial bodies will be present to take part in the discussion on this question.

During their week's stay in Peterborough the visitors will be billetted, arrangements for this being in progress at the present time. It is probable that other denominations will be asked to assist in this, as is the case with the Methodist conferences. It is also quite within the range of probability, too, that the pulpits of a number of the other churches in the city will be occupied with the visiting clergymen on Sunday, October 21st.

Rev. D. Laing of Kingston, is the retiring president, and until the election of his successor, will preside at the meetings. Other prominent members of the church who will be present, and who will address the convention, are: Rev. J. J. McNeil, Walmer Road; Rev. J. L. Gilmour, Montreal; Rev. Dr. Cameron, Ottawa; and Rev. Dr. Perry of Toronto.

The General Committee of the local churches, charged with making the arrangements for the convention, met on Thursday night last and got their work well under way. Mr. George Cochrane is chairman of the committee.

One of the features of the convention will be the banquet of the McMaster Alumni, which will be held on the evening of Education Day, Friday, in the basement of the Murray street church. This will be an interesting gathering, and will no doubt be largely attended.

The programme has been practically arranged, although it is possible that some minor changes may be made in it between now and the the date of the meeting. The programme as published by the Canadian Baptist is as follows:

Wednesday, Oct. 17th.

8.00 p.m.—Devotional, Rev. A. N. Frith. Appointment of Nominating Committee, scrutineers, etc.
Address of retiring president, Rev. D. Laing.

MR. GEO. COCHRANE

Chairman of the General Committee Arranging for the Great Baptist Gathering Next Month.

ABOUT THE EXAMINER

With this issue the Examiner resumes its four o'clock edition on Saturday. For the last four months this paper has been issuing at one o'clock on Saturday, and it is believed that the readers have appreciated its enterprise in originating this feature in the city. With the arrival of fall the circumstances which made it desirable to issue at one o'clock are removed, and it now resumes issue at the normal time, four o'clock.

Two Roller Rinks A Probability Now

In all probability there will be two roller rinks in this city, instead of one.

Mr. S. J. Sheridan, the head of the syndicate which has leased the Charlotte street rink, and is fitting it up for a roller rink, is negotiating for a lease of the Brock street rink for the same purpose.

Mr. Sheridan does not intend to do anything with the Brock street rink this fall, even if he secures a lease, but if he comes to an agreement with the directors, a meeting of whom, the president states, will be held shortly, he may fit the rink up next spring, and run it during the summer as a roller rink. A hardwood floor would of course have to be laid over the central portion, which would give a much larger space than at the Charlotte street rink.

50 Children A Year Refused At The Shelter

A Startling State of Affairs As Revealed By Children's Shelter Officers.

Girls Want to Leave Infants There--Regulations Forbid It --Where Do They Go?

"We have from forty to fifty applications every year from persons who wish to unload infants on us, which we cannot take," said Mr. William Henry, of the Children's Shelter, to the Examiner to-day.

This remark was called forth by the incident recorded in another column of this paper, in which the one night's detention of the child at the Shelter is recorded.

Child Rearing by Proxy.

It appears, according to Mr. Henry, that scarcely a week passes that requests are not made for the admission of infants, the great majority of them illegitimate, to the Shelter. It is understood that no later than yesterday the agent of the Society had to refuse to admit a two months old child in whose behalf its mother, a girl living in the city, made an appeal for admission to the Shelter.

In many cases the mothers of the girls go to the Shelter, and Mr. Henry states that recently a woman came to the Shelter with a two days old child, and insisted upon leaving it there in spite of the statement of the matron and Mr. Henry that no children under twelve months of age were accepted. It was only after she had been forcibly ejected from the place that she awoke to a realization of the fact that she would have to go elsewhere with the undesired offspring.

Society's Rules.

The Society makes a rule not to accept children under twelve months of age, and only this regulation saves the institution from being swamped with infants.

What becomes of them when they are refused admission to the Shelter, few know, but the majority are disposed of somehow, and the world, in the majority of cases, knows nothing of them.

It will be a painful surprise to the citizens of Peterborough to learn that in this city on an average of one child a week is refused admission to the Shelter because of the fact that they are under the age limit. They are not taken into the Shelter, and the question naturally arises is, where do they go, and what disposition is finally made of them?

Toronto News — "Thousands were delighted with the playing of the Black Dike Band." Toronto Star—"The Black Dike Band will stand comparison with any band that has ever appeared here."

Lindsay Police Found Horse After Five Days

Dr. McKercher's Animal Recovered in Lindsay Hotel Stable —Had Been There Since Last Monday.

The police of Lindsay are not particularly swift, but if they are given plenty of time, perhaps they'll accomplish something.

On Monday last Dr. McKercher lost a horse and buggy. It was found that the man, Moore, who took the outfit went to Lindsay, and as a consequence when Chief Rossel was notified of the theft he telephoned the Lindsay chief, and asked him to be on the lookout for the horse.

It was to-day, however, before the police of that town got wise to the fact that the horse was there, and had been in one of the hotel stables since Monday afternoon.

Dr. McKercher sent a man on the noon train to-day to identify the animal and bring it back.

After driving the horse to Lindsay, Moore stayed one night at one of the hotels, and the next morning, leaving his horse in the stable, and stating that he would return for it, he took the train remarking that he was going to Port Perry.

The chief has communicated with the police at Port Perry, and if Moore can be found, he will be brought back to the city.

Deserted Babe Found In A Basket At City Store Door

Deserted by its unwed mother a little babe of only two weeks old was found last evening about 6 o'clock at the door of a city shop on Simcoe street between George and Water. The infant which was wrapped up snugly, was lying quietly, but full of life in a small fruit basket, which bore a note with the inscription "Mr. Jack Lelave, Peterborough." A number of gentlemen were in the shop at the time and noticed a woman rather up in years, stop at the door, look in and then lay down her charge. She was dressed in a long black cloak, but more than this the witnesses of the action could not determine. She disappeared mysteriously and although the police have heard who she is supposed to be, their efforts last night to locate her, were unavailing.

Laundry, They Thought.

The gentlemen who noticed the lady leave the basket at the threshold of the door concluded immediately it contained laundry and thought that she was too bashful to enter. The child which is a healthy babe of some two weeks, was taken by a police officer to the Children's Shelter, where it remained over night, but from where it will have to be removed as children under twelve months are not allowed in that institution.

Upon Investigation.

The police in their enquiries into the case learned last night that Jack Lelave had been a former employee in the store where the infant was left. About two weeks ago he left the city and although it is supposed he is across the border, the facts are not definitely known. It will be remembered he was one of the jurymen empanelled on the Randlett case and before leaving asked to have his name cancelled from the list stating he had secured a situation in Rochester which he did not care to abandon. He was refused this request by the Coroner, but, nevertheless, vacated the city and probably the country.

A Millbrook Girl.

The young girl in whose ruination he assisted is now supposed to be at her home in Millbrook. At one time she worked in Peterborough and is known by many here. The supposition is that her mother brought the babe to the city last evening, as she was seen getting off the 5.30 train.

The police guarded the outgoing trains last night but no trace of the woman with the dark cloak could be found.

Later.

The sensational side of the incident was somewhat spoiled this morning by the appearance of Mrs. Donnely, the mother of the young girl, at the police court. In the meantime she had reconsidered the course she had taken and voluntarily gave herself up.

In the absence of Magistrate Dumble, City Clerk Armstrong occupied the chair and the case was conducted by Crown Attorney Wood, who was disposed to act leniently.

Mrs. Donnelly was charged with having unlawfully abandoned and exposed a child, with unknown name, under two years of age, whereby the life of the child was in danger.

A Melancholy Scene.

The charge heard, the lady burst into tears saying she was not aware of the criminal character of the offence she had committed. She would willingly do anything that was right and it was in a thoughtless moment when she determined to seek revenge in the manner she had done. In a pitiful tone she reiterated how Lelave had given his promise to marry her daughter; how she had come to him four weeks ago and asked him to do what was fair. He then told her that marriage was impossible on account of difference of faith, but promised to assist in her daughter's maintenance.

She left him at that time with his promise to go to Millbrook the following day. But she had waited in vain for his appearance and received no answer to her letters. To get revenge she had in a moment of frenzy brought the child to Peterborough and left it at the door where she supposed he was working.

The Attorney did not care to press the charge in consideration of her repentant feelling and agreed to drop it providing Mrs. Donnelly took the babe home and took care of it. This she very willingly agreed to do and left for home on the noon train.

Young Man With Survey Party Has Disappeared

An Ottawa Youth, Cousin of Rev. Father Keilty, Six Days Lost Without Food.

Ottawa, September 12. — News has been received in the city by relatives that Gerald Kirwan, aged 18, has been lost in the woods up in the Temiskaming district. The young man is a son of Mr. Philip T. Kirwan, of the Secretary of State Department, who resides at 240 Charles street. He was a graduate of the Ottawa University.

Kirwan left Ottawa about two months ago with one of Dr. Barlow's parties, in charge of Mr. M. E. Wilson, Montreal. The party was at work near Ste. Isodore on September 5th, when Kirwan disappeared. News of the missing youth reached Ottawa on September 10, five days later, Rev. Father Paradis, the parish priest at Ste. Isadore, wiring to Rev. Father Murphy, rector of Ottawa University. Rev. Father Murphy communicated with Mr. Kirwan, father of the young man, and he left last Tuesday for Ste. Isodore. Whether or not the young man has since been found is not known.

Gerald Kirwan is well known in the city, and was very popular with his teachers and class mates at the University.

Local significance is given the above paragraph by the fact that the young man referred to is a cousin of Rev. Father Keilty, Douro, who has since received word by private wire, that the young man was lost from the 4th to the 10th, and when found was all right, except his weakness from his practical fast of six days. He must, like his relative in Douro, be of stuff of the right quality.

Minster's Absence Spoiled The Plans

For in the Meantime Issuer of Marriage Licenses Got Wise That Would-be-Bride Was Already Married—She Was a Native of Manvers.

Port Hope, Sept. 14.—George W. Lawrence and Lillian Brown, respectively 28 and 23 years of age, residents of Oakfield, Genesee County, N. Y., came to Port Hope yesterday. A marriage license being secured the couple sought the Methodist parsonage. The reverend gentleman not being home they were compelled to wait till this morning, when they again repaired to the clergyman's house. Missing him they returned to have another clergyman's name inserted. The issuer of marriage licenses in the meantime, however, received word that the prospective bride has a husband and two children living in the States. Post haste a messenger was despatched to the parsonage annulling the certificate.

When the groom-to-be applied for insertion of another minister's name he was dumbfounded at the news awaiting him.

The girl is said to have hailed originally from Manvers Township, Durham County, but has been living in the States for some years.

ONTARIO FIRST.

Many Ontario journals are given to singing the praises of the West, as a field for settlement; and the comparatively easy conditions of becoming comfortably established as farmers, are a great temptation to the young men of Ontario, who have not the will, if, indeed, they have the stamina, to undergo the hardships their fathers underwent, in hewing a home out of the forest. The lure of the West has been responsible for so much depopulation of parts of Ontario, that the problem of dealing with the situation thus created, has become a serious one. Within a fairly recent period as many as a hundred good settlers have removed from the townships of Burleigh, Anstruther, Chandos, Harvey and Galway, and as a result, there are hundreds of acres of deserted lands with vacant houses, the latter going to ruin, and the former growing up with weeds. If we have lost these settlers, should not something be done to utilize these lands? They may not be very greatly adapted for profitable farming, but they can profitably be devoted to forestry purposes. The guardians of provincial interests should discuss some means of checking this drain of population. One cannot be accused of being narrow and sectional in insisting upon some relief from the depopulation under which Ontario is suffering, by the loss of the cream of our young men. This year this province has suffered severely by the inroads made by harvest excursions to the Northwest. The Ontario press, with no evil intention, is contributing to the drain, by quoting the high prices paid for labour in the western harvest fields, thus not only helping to deprive us of our young men, but helping to evoke in the latter hopes that will not be fully realized. These young men forget that the high wages quoted, last only for a month or so, and that, on the whole, they will not do as well, nor enjoy as comfortable conditions, as if they had remained on Ontario farms, at a lower, but more continuous, scale of wages. The glamour of western conditions is liable in some cases, to prove a mirage, representing something less substantial than what they had left behind. The get-rich-quick microbe infects many of the young men on our farms, as it does the speculator and the capitalist, and, sometimes there is success, and, sometimes, disappointment — mingled in such proportions, as to counsel to caution in leaving fairly comfortable conditions, for possible betterment, or no change for the better that would justify deserting the home circle and the home province. Ontario journals owe their first duty to this province. The West is big enough, and fertile enough, to act as a tempting lure to our young men, without the roseate pictures of Ontario newspapers. The West will grow—is growing—in population, from other sources, and Ontario needs all her own resources of population to cope with the industrial conditions which the expansion of the West creates. We all wish the West success, for the more populous it becomes the better for the industrial enterprises, which so largely engage our urban population, to the advantage of a home market for farm products, and the consequent advantage of Ontario farmers.

MR. BORDEN AND GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

Just at present the people of Canada are not interesting themselves very much in politics; but they would sit up and listen, suggests the Manitoba Free Press, if Mr. Borden, in his speech-making tour in the Maritime provinces, would come down from the clouds, and say in good plain, understandable English, what he actually means by all his vague talk about the Government ownership of railways. What is his plan? What railways would he nationalize? How would he administer them? Has he any figures as to what it would cost? These are some of the things that Mr. Borden will have to deal with frankly before he can hope to make any impression on the public; his present course of indulging in vague generalizations is doing him no good, but harm, as tending to confirm the impression, which was responsible for his defeat two years ago, that he is only a talker, who believes the hard-headed electors can be bamboozled by mere words.

If we are ever to have Government ownership of railways in Canada, the first corporation to be nationalized will be the Canadian Pacific Railway. It crosses and covers the whole Dominion; make it a publicly-owned road—if there is any virtue in the Government ownership of railways—the Government will have complete control of the entire business of transportation in Canada. Now, if Mr. Borden, in place of talking at large about the beauties of state ownership, will come down to business and declare that if given the power, he will expropriate the whole C. P. R. system from St. John to Vancouver, and will run it with such assistance as he can get from Hon. Mr. Haggart, Mr. S. Baker and other railway experts in his following, the electors will have something to think about. At present they are quite unimpressed by Mr. Borden's airy platitudes. Government ownership of railways may in the abstract be a very taking subject; but if it is to be a factor in politics, it must take concrete form. Give us your programme, Mr. Borden.

POLICIES AND RESULTS.

It was expected that at the Sydney Mines meeting held almost within sight of the spot where Sir Charles Tupper, twenty-eight years ago, announced the National Policy, that Mr. Borden would make some statesmanlike deliverance. But, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, not even the historic surrounding gave him an inspiration. Apart from his unsubstantiated allegations of corruption, the only statement made by the Conservative leader worthy of serious reply was that in which he declared the great iron and steel industries which have grown up at Sydney were founded on the National Policy. How absolutely incorrect this claim is is proven in the fact that up to the year 1896 when the Liberal party came into power eighteen years of the National Policy had only resulted in the creation of one iron and steel industry—the Nova Scotia Company at Trenton. The company two years later offered to sell its entire holdings for $1,250.000. It sold its iron areas for one million dollars, therefore the balance of its property including furnaces, steel making plant, and everything else was only worth $250,000. This latter sum represents the net result of the growth of the steel industry in Nova Scotia during the eighteen years the National Policy was in force.

The marvellous growth of the iron and steel industry has altogether taken place under the Fielding tariff. The number of iron and steel making enterprises, says the Halifax Chronicle, has grown from one to nine or ten with an aggregate capacity of 1,100,000 tons, the production of pig iron from 68,755 tons in 1898 to more than 300,000 tons last year, while the manufacture of steel has assumed enormous proportions. The policy of the Liberal Government with respect to the iron and steel industry came into force in 1898.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

THE MILK BYLAW.

Milk consumers will be pleased, and honest milkmen will not complain, over the adoption by the Special Committee of the City Council of a bylaw providing for licensing, with a nominal fee of $1, milkmen who wish to do business in Peterborough. The protection to the consumers begins at the beginning. No milkman can get a license who cannot show a certificate from the proper officers that his premises are in a cleanly and sanitary condition. Hereafter, milk must be not only milk, but must be clean, and under this condition the addition of water is regarded as uncleanly. Skim milk must be sold as skim milk. The cream of the cow must, in all cases, accompany the milkman's milk to the consumer's tin or pitcher. The use of the separator will not only, separate the cream from the milk, but will also separate the offender from a big slice of his illicit gain—to the possible extent of $50; or, if the $50 does not turn up, separate the milkman from his liberty, and make him familiar with the inside of the jail. The bylaw will be passed by the City Council at its next meeting, October 1, and become law, on December 1. This bylaw, if properly enforced, will represent one of the most beneficial acts of our City Fathers during the course of the year.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A correspondent asks where Hon. Dr. Willoughby gets his pull. Will the fact of his being an ardent horseman throw any light on the subject?

Mr. Whitney will learn that his rotund declarations, that the people will receive electricity "at the lowest cost," will not fill the bill — the people want electric power, not wind power.

That is one thing about the old Tory party,—you can always tell where it is at, and when its leaders advocate a policy they never fail to carry it into effect.—Ottawa Citizen.

Especially the policy of the Ontario Conservative Government in regard to Government development and distribution of electric energy.
